Interview with Carlo Bonini; Interview with Bea Arthur. April 26, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825866].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter CARLO BONINI (‘BO-nee-nee’) of La Repubblica newspaper in Rome. He broke the story about the Italian intelligence agency SISMI's involvement in forging and planting documents which stated that Iraq secured uranium from Niger. Those documents helped Bush make the case for invading Iraq. BONINI's new book (with Giuseppe D'Avanzo) is 'Collusion: International Espionage and the War on Terror' (Melville). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actress BEATRICE ARTHUR. She's best known for her starring role in the TV sitcom 'Maude' by producer Norman Lear (in the 1970s), and for her co-starring role in 'The Golden Girls' (in the 1980s and 90s). The first season of 'Maude' is now out on DVD. On stage ARTHUR was Lucy Brown in the 1954 Off-Broadway revival of Kurt Weill's 'Threepenny Opera,' and was Yente the Matchmaker in the 1964 premiere of 'Fiddler on the Roof' on Broadway.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Drummer PAUL MOTIAN (like 'motion'). He has over 50 years in music. MOTIAN has played in many different settings, most notably with the Bill Evans trio with bassist Scott LaFaro. Their recordings include the classics 'Sunday at the Village Vanguard' and 'Portrait of Jazz.' MOTIAN also played with Thelonious Monk, Lee Konitz, Paul Bley, and a long collaboration with Keith Jarrett. Lately he plays with three of his own groups: his trio with guitarist Bill Frisell and saxophonist Joe Lovano; Trio 2000 + 1, with the bassist Larry Grenadier and the saxophonist Chris Potter (plus Japanese pianist Masabumi Kikuchi) and the Paul Motian Band which includes three guitarists, two tenor saxophonists, bass and drums. His latest album is 'Time And Time Again' (ECM) with Bill Frisell and Joe Lovano. (REBROADCAST from 3/13/06) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Playwright NEIL SIMON. His plays and movies include, "Barefoot in the Park," "The Odd Couple," "The Goodbye Girl," "The Out-of-Towners," and "The Sunshine Boys." He won a Pulitzer Prize for his play "Lost in Yonkers." There's a new DVD collection, 'The Odd Couple: The First Season' (Paramount) of the TV show based on his play. (REBROADCAST from 10/17/96)(3.) Film critic
DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Private Fears in Public Places' the new film by the 84-year-old French director Alain Resnais. (‘Al-LAN Reh-NAY’).

Interview with Matthew Perry and Harris Goldberg; Interview with Sarah Polley. April 30, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825859].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MATTHEW PERRY. The star of 'Friends' and 'Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip) is starring in the new film 'Numb.' He plays a screenwriter who is plagued by feelings of anxiety, detachment, and panic. He bounces around from psychiatrist to psychologist and is 'numb' to everything around him. The story is based on a autobiographical script by Harris Goldberg who also made his directing debut with the film. (2.) Actress SARAH POLLEY ('POLLY'). She is making her directing debut with the new film 'Away From Me' based on a short story by Alice Munro. It's about a woman who develops Alzheimers. Julie Christie stars in it. POLLEY has acted professionally since the age of six. She starred the Atom Egoyan films 'Exotica' and 'The Sweet Hereafter' and in the films 'My Life Without Me' and a remake of the cult horror film 'Dawn of the Dead.'

Interview with Kevin Merida and Michael Fletcher; Interview with Philip Zimbardo. May 1, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039322].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Washington Post reporters KEVIN MERIDA ('MER-i-duh') and MICHAEL FLETCHER. Their new book is 'Supreme Discomfort: The Divided Soul of Clarence Thomas' (Doubleday). The book grew out of their article for the Post, 'The Lonely Stand of Clarence Thomas' which they say was their first attempt at 'exploring both the racial vehemence that has hounded Thomas and the roots of his ascension to the judicial mountaintop.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Psychologist PHILIP ZIMBARDO. He is the author of the new book, 'The Lucifer Effect: Understanding How Good People Turn Evil' (RandomHouse). ZIMBARDO is best known for creating the landmark Stanford Prison Experiment ? in which a group of college students volunteers were placed in a mock prison environment, and divided randomly into 'guards' and 'inmates.' The study was abandoned in a week after ordinary students were transformed into brutal sadistic guards or emotionally broken prisoners.
In 2004 he was expert witness in the court-martial hearings of one of the American army reservists accused of criminal behavior in the Abu Ghraib prison. ZIMBARDO is professor emeritus of psychology at Stanford University.

---

Interview with George Tenet; Interview with John Ridley. May 2, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039323].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former CIA Chief, GEORGE TENET. He has a new memoir 'At the Center of the Storm: My Years at the CIA' (HarperCollins). (2.) JOHN RIDLEY. His comic book series, 'The American Way,' has just been collected into a graphic novel (Wildstorm, 2007). Created with Georges Jeanty and Karl Story, the series takes place in 1961, when the government has created a team of super-heroes to battle foreign super-villains. But it's all just a show, created to pacify the public. RIDLEY previously wrote the screenplay for 'Three Kings,' and the novel 'Conversations with the Mann.'

---

Interview with Michael Chabon; Interview with Jon Savage. May 3, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039242].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MICHAEL CHABON (SHAY-bon). Chabon won a Pulitzer Prize in 2000 for his novel 'The Amazing Adventures of Kavalier and Clay.' His new novel is 'The Yiddish Policemen's Union: A Novel' (HarperCollins). His other books include 'The Mysteries of Pittsburgh,' and a collection of stories called 'Werewolves in Their Youth.' He has also written for many publications including The New Yorker, Harpers, and Esquire. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF) (2.) British writer JON SAVAGE is the author of the landmark book on the punk era, 'England's Dreaming.' His new book 'Teenage: The Creation of Youth Culture' (Viking) is about the 'prehistory of the Teenager.' The commonly held notion is that teen culture emerged in the mid 1950s but SAVAGE finds that it begins much earlier. One of the things he finds is that the first bestselling memoir of teenage angst was published in 1875. And along the way are J.M. Barrie's 'Peter Pan,' Oscar Wilde's 'Dorian Gray,' Booth Tarkington, Rudolph Valentino, Judy Garland, and Leopold and Loeb.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian RAYMOND ARSENAULT. In his book 'Freedom Riders: 1961 and the Struggle for Racial Justice,' Arsenault recounts how in 1961 an integrated group of self proclaimed freedom riders, challenged segregation, by riding together on buses through the deep south. They demanded unrestricted access to segregated buses, as well as bus terminal restaurants and waiting rooms. The freedom riders were pledged to nonviolence, and kept that pledge even when attacked and bloodied by their racist opponents. 'Freedom Riders: 1961 and the Struggle for Racial Justice,' is out now in paperback. (REBROADCAST from 1/12/06). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS tells us about what he considers the greatest film about L.A. 'Killer of Sheep' an independent film made in the late '70s by Charles Burnett. It's on the Library of Congress' National Film Registry and will be on DVD in September. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Spiderman 3,' the new film based on the Marvel Comics series.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actor GARRY SHANDLING. His 1992-1998 HBO show 'The Larry Sanders Show,' a parody of talk-shows, is now out on a four-DVD box. It's called 'Not Just the Best of The Larry Sanders Show' and features eight hours of extras, including taped essentially unedited conversations with stars who appeared on the show. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Twelve' the new recording of other people's songs by Patti Smith. (3.) MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews "The Ministry of Special Cases."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Presidential historian MICHAEL BESCHLOSS. His new book is 'Presidential Courage: Brave Leaders and How They Changed America 1789-1989' (Simon & Schuster). Beschloss takes a look at the crucial moments when a President risked his political career for the good of the country, often by taking an unpopular or controversial stand. BESCHLOSS is the author of a number of books including 'The Conquerers: Roosevelt, Truman and the Destruction of Hitler's Germany.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Lafayette Gilchrist 3' (Hyena) featuring jazz pianist Lafayette Gilchrist's trio.

Interview with Jerry Seinfeld; Interview with Jackie Mason; Interview with Jack Viertel. May 9, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039120].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) This year marks the 20th anniversary of Fresh Air as a national show. We will replay some of the interviews from 1987, the first year of our broadcast. In the first half of this broadcast. We begin with JERRY SEINFELD. This interview was recorded before his "Seinfeld" fame. The hit TV show, 'Seinfeld' which catapulted the comedian to fame, won six Emmy Awards before ending its run in 1999. The 2002 documentary 'Comedian,' which followed Seinfeld on a stand up tour, is available on DVD. (REBROADCAST FROM 9/2/87) (2.) Comic JACKIE MASON. His comic beginnings were in the Borscht Belt. His 1996 one-man Broadway show, "The World According to Me" earned Jackie Mason a Tony Award, an Outer Critics Circle Award, an Ace Award, and an Emmy Award, and it toured successfully in America and Europe for two years. He's had five other Broadway shows and an HBO special "Jackie Mason on Broadway.' His latest show "Freshly Squeezed" which opened in 2005 is still touring the world.(REBROADCAST from 9/29/87) (3.) JACK VIERTEL ('Veer-tel') is the Artistic Director of New York City Center's Encores! They revive vintage Broadway musicals in a very limited-run performances, with minimal staging and actors reading from scripts. Their new production 'Stairway to Paradise: 50 Years of Broadway Revue in Review' stars Kristen Chenoweth and runs May 10-14th.
VIETEL has a long career in the theatre. He brought 'M Butterfly' to the Jujamycn in New York, and went on to help stage 'Jelly's Last Jam,' 'Angels in America,' the plays of August Wilson, and 'The Producers.'

Interview with Oliver Sacks; Commentary on Fats Waller; Interview with Tom Wolfe; Interview with Larry Adler. May 10, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039121].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Twenty years ago this month Fresh Air began our national daily broadcast. We are rebroadcasting interviews from our first year. We begin with neurologist and writer OLIVER SACKS. He is perhaps best known for his collection of case histories, 'The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat,' in which he describes patients struggling to live with conditions ranging from Tourette's Syndrome to autism, parkinsonism, musical hallucination, phantom limb syndrome, schizophrenia, retardation and Alzheimer's disease. Since then he's written become a well-known chronicler of the odd and fascinating world of neurology. He's written nine books, and received a Guggenheim Fellowship. SACKS is also a regular contributor to The New Yorker. (REBROADCAST from October 1, 1987) (2.) MARTY GROSZ plays the music of Fats Waller. Grosz is a German jazz guitarist and singer. (Rebroadcast from June 26, 1987) (3.) Writer TOM WOLFE. His best selling books include Bongire of the Vanities, A Man in Full, The Right Stuff and The Electric Kool-Aid Acid Test. His most recent novel is the 2004 'I am Charlotte Simmons,' available in paperback. He began his career as a journalist, writing for the Washington Post, Rolling Stone, New York magazine and Esquire magazine. (Rebroadcast from October 29, 1987) (4.) Harmonica player Larry Adler. He performed with entertainers such as Fred Astaire, George Gershwin, and Jack Benny. Adler moved to England after being blacklisted during the McCarthy hearings. Adler died in August 2001. (Rebroadcast from June 19 1987)
Interview with Sam Charters; Interview with Dr. John; Interview with Robert Murphy; Interview with Richard Price. May 11, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039505].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We continue our look back at Fresh Air's guests of 1987 with novelist and blues record producer Sam Charters. During the 1950s, Charter traveled the South making field recordings of neglected and previously unknown musicians and singers. Charters is a Grammy award winner and his latest books are last year's 'New Orleans: Playing a Jazz Chorus,' and the 2004 collection 'Walking a Blues Road: A Selection of Blues Writing, 1956-2004.' (Original airdate: 7/3/87) (2.) We hear a song from New Orleans musician DR. JOHN, aka MAC REBENNACK, from May 1987. (3.) Anthropologist ROBERT MURPHY. In 1972 his body began to twinge with muscle spasms that wouldn't go away. Eventually doctors discovered a debilitating tumor growing on his spinal chord. Murphy was a professor of anthropology at Columbia University at the time his illness first appeared. As his condition worsened his interest in the social and cultural consequences of paralysis deepened. He became the subject of his own field research. (4.) RICHARD PRICE

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinarian MELINDA MERCK. She is a pioneer in the field of veterinary forensics and works for the ASPCA. She is the author of 'Veterinary Forensic Investigation of Animal Cruelty: A Guide for Veterinarians and Law Enforcement.' In June she will publish a textbook, 'Veterinary Forensics: Animal Cruelty Investigations.' She lives and works in Georgia. (A warning: parts of this interview are disturbing). (2.) Veterinarian and animal behaviorist NICHOLAS DODMAN. He is the best-selling author of a number of books including 'The Dog Who Loved Too Much,' and 'The Cat Who Cried for Help.' His new book is 'Puppy's First Steps: The Whole-Dog Approach to Raising a Happy Healthy, Well-Behaved Puppy.' (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new DVD box set of early Doris Day musicals. It's called 'The Doris Day Collection, Vol. 2' and includes Romance on the High Seas, My Dream Is Yours, On Moonlight Bay, I'll See You in My Dreams, By the Light of the Silvery Moon and Lucky Me (Warner Bros).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MICHAEL CHIKLIS. He stars as rouge cop Del Vik Mackey in the FX channel drama series, 'The Shield.' The Peabody award-winning show is now in its sixth season. Previously, CHIKLIS starred in 'The Commish.' Over the years, he's also had guest appearances on 'Seinfeld,' 'L.A. Law,' 'Miami Vice,' and 'Wise Guy.' (2.) Songwriter BOBBY BRADDOCK. He's won many top country awards for his songs which include, 'He Stopped Loving Her today,' 'D-I-V-O-R-C-E,' AND 'Did You Ever.' He has a new memoir, 'Down in Orburndale: A Songwriter's Youth in Old Florida.' (Louisiana State University Press).

Interview with Charlie Savage; Interview with Jeffrey Brauch; Obituary for Jerry Falwell; Review of Don DeLilo's novel "Falling Man." May 16, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039503].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer prize-winning journalist CHARLIE SAVAGE of the Boston Globe. He's been writing about the Christian law school whose graduates have become influential in the Justice Department. The school is the Regent University School of law in Virginia Beach, which was founded by televangelist Pat Robertson. One of those graduates is Monica Goodling, the former top aide to Attorney General Alberto Gonzales. SAVAGE writes that Goodling has 'drawn a harsh spotlight to the administration's hiring of officials educated at smaller, conservative schools with sometimes marginal academic reputations.' (2.) Dean of the Regent University School of Law, JEFFREY BRAUCH ('Browck'). (3.) Reverend JERRY FALWELL. He died yesterday at age 73. Falwell was an outspoken leader of the Religious right. We remember Falwell with an interview recorded in the early days of Fresh Air's national broadcast. Falwell was the founder and pastor of Lynchburg's Thomas Road Baptist Church for more than 50 years. In 1979 he founded the Moral Majority and was a catalyst for bringing the republican party to power with the presidencies of Ronald Reagan, George Bush senior and George H.W. Bush. Falwell also founded Liberty University, an evangelical institution believed to be the largest of its kind. His operations were headquartered in Lynchburg, Virginia. (Original airdate 3/14/86) (4.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews Falling Man by Don DeLillo.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Shock rock icon ALICE COOPER. During his heyday in the early 1970s he appeared on stage dressed like a ghoul with a gaunt face and mascara streaked eyes, performing cartoonish violent stunts. His hits included 'I'm Eighteen,' 'School's Out,' and 'Welcome to My Nightmare.' Over the years he's had friendships with such legends as Groucho Marx, Salvador Dali, and Peter Sellers. COOPER has a new memoir about his life and how he replaced his addiction to drinking, with an addiction to golf. It's called 'Alice Cooper: Golf Monster: A Rock 'n' Roller's 12 Steps to Becoming a Golf Addict' (Crown Publishers). (This interview continues throughout the entire show.)

Interview with Guillermo Del Toro; Review of the film "Shrek the 3rd." May 18, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039438].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director GUILLERMO DEL TORO. He grew up in Mexico. His film (which he wrote and directed) 'Pan's Labyrinth' won 3 Academy Awards. It is now out on DVD. DEL TORO also wrote and directed the films 'Cronos,' 'Hellboy' 'The Devil's Backbone.' He directed the film 'Blade II,' and 'Mimic.' DEL TORO also helped his fellow Mexican directors on the films 'Y tu Mama Tambien' by Alfonso Cuaron, and 'Amores Perros' by Alejandro Gonzales Inarritu. (REBROADCAST from 1/24/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Shrek the 3rd.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fresh Air celebrated its 20th year as a national daily show on May 11th. Today we will feature snippets of some of the shows we remember here at Fresh Air, with some comments by the producers. They include actress and acting coach Uta Hagen, comic Jon Lovitz, singer Dion, writer and boxer FX Toole, Father Greg Boyle, singer Arthur Alexander, journalist Dexter Filkins, comic and actor Sacha Baron Cohen, cop and rapper Eric Davis, Tendzin Choegyal (Dalai Lama's brother), writer Robert Sullivan and singer Susannah McCorkle.

Interview with Don Rickles; Interview with Huw Cordey; Review of Robbie Fulks album "Revenge." May 22, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039337].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic DON RICKLES. He's known for insulting his audiences on stage, but he doesn't consider himself an insult comic. His heyday was in the 1950s and 60s, on TV in Vegas. Frank Sinatra was an early fan, and helped get him noticed. RICKLES has a new memoir, 'Rickles' Book: a Memoir' (Simon & Schuster) (2.) Documentary producer HUW ('Hugh') CORDEY of the BBC series 'Planet Earth: The Complete Series.' The series was five years in the making and was shot on every continent in 62 countries. It was also broadcast on The Discovery Channel. It's now available on DVD. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Revenge,' a new 2-CD set of live performances from alt country musician Robbie Fulks.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARCUS STERN is part of The San Diego Union-Tribune 2006 Pulitzer Prize winning team who uncovered the bribery scandal of former U.S. Congressman Duke Cunningham. He funneled tens of millions of dollars in post-9/11 contracts in exchange for millions in bribes. STERN and his team have written the new book 'The Wrong Stuff: The Extraordinary Saga of Randy 'Duke' Cunningham, The Most Corrupt Congressman.' (PublicAffairs)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Bug, the new psychological thriller from director William Friedkin, starring Ashley Judd and Michael Shannon. (3.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Mi Sueno, the posthumous album from Cuban singer Ibrahim Ferrer, who made a name for himself in his later years as a member of the Buena Vista Social Club. Ferrer died at age 78 in 2005.

Interview with David Talbot; Interview with Kevin Costner. May 24, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039489].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) (DD) Writer and editor DAVID TALBOT. He's the founder of the online journal Salon.com. He's written a new book about John and Robert Kennedy, and it's called 'Brothers: The Hidden History of the Kennedy Years.' Talbot was Editor in Chief of Salon from 1995 to 2005. Currently, he is Chairman of the Board of the Salon Media Group. (2.) (DD) Actor KEVIN COSTNER. His new film is Mr.Brooks. He plays a loving family man who is also a serial killer. Costner is both an actor and director. He has two Academy Awards for directing the film Dances With Wolves. Costner's first big film was The Big Chill. He plays the friend who commits suicide and brings the group together. Ironically, all of his speaking scenes were cut from the film, so all we see of Costner is a shot of his hand peeking out from beneath a sheet. Costner's other films include Field of Dreams, Tin Cup, Waterworld, Bull Durham and The Upside of Anger.
Interview with Nicholas Wade; Interview with Marc Lawrence; Interview with Dick Dale. May 25, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039336].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) NICHOLAS WADE is a science reporter for The New York Times. In his new book he examines what we've learned about our human ancestors using the latest techniques in DNA analysis. His book 'Before the Dawn: Recovering the Lost History of Our Ancestors' is now out in paperback (Penguin) (REBROADCAST from 4/19/06) (2.) Film director MARC LAWRENCE, wrote and directed the film 'Music & Lyrics' starring Hugh Grant and Drew Barrymore. It's now out on DVD. He also directed the film 'Two Weeks' Notice,' and co-wrote and produced the comedy, 'Miss Congeniality.' Previously LAWRENCE was a staff writer on the NBC sitcom 'Family Ties.' (REBROADCAST from 2/28/07) (3.) The man known as "the King of the Surf Guitar," DICK DALE. He launched surf rock in 1960 with his band, the Deltones. He described the surf sound in a 1963 article as "a heavy staccato sound on the lowkey guitar strings, with a heavy throbbing beat--like thunder, or waves breaking over you." It's also played loud and with plenty of reverb. DALE defined the California sound, and influenced The Ventures, The Beachboys, and Jan and Dean. He also influenced later groups like Sonic Youth. Four of DALE's early albums are being re-released by Sundazed records: King of the Surf Guitar, Checkered Flag, Mr. Eliminator, and Summer Surf. (REBROADCAST from 7/26/93)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ABC news Chief White House correspondent MARTHA RADDATZ. She's been to Iraq 13 times since the beginning of the American invasion. She has a new book about one of the battles that was a turning point in the war: the battle in Sadr city in April 2004 when American troops realized they were facing an insurgency. Her book 'The Long Road Home: A Story of War and Family' (Putnam) is about the soldiers who fought that battle and their families. One of the soldiers in the battle was Casey Sheehan, the son of antiwar activist Cindy Sheehan. (REBROADCAST from 3/1/07)(2.) Navy doctor Commander RICHARD JADICK (‘JAH-dick’). He earned a Bronze Star with a V for valor for his service during the Battle of Fallujah. JADICK volunteered to go to Iraq and in November 2004 he accompanied the first Battalion, Eighth Marine Regiment there. As a battalion surgeon he lead 54 navy medical corpsmen assigned to the battalion. He and other doctors developed the concept of forward aid stations to care for casualties on the front lines instead of having to transport the wounded for miles to aid stations. They treated the wounded during the Battle of Fallujah, the worst street fighting Americans had faced since Vietnam. His new memoir is 'On Call in Hell: A Doctor's Iraq War Story' (NAL) (written with Thomas Hayden) (REBROADCAST from 3/7/07)

Interview with Dion DiMucci; Commentary on Alan Furst's spy novels. May 29, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039338].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer Songwriter DION. His acoustic CD is 'Bronx in Blue' which he said was inspired by his visit to Fresh Air. In the late 1950s, Dion and his band the Belmonts topped the chart with several pop hits, earning him the status of teen idol. Dion split amicably with the band in 1960 and continued to write Top 10 hits until the British Invasion changed the pop preference. Now, he continues to produce, write and sing new material. He lives in Boca Raton, Florida. (REBROADCAST from 1/6/06)(2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS on why he's a fan of the bestselling historical spy novels of Alan Furst.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reports back from his trip to the Cannes Film Festival. (2.) YANAR ('EE-nar') MOHAMMED is an internationally renowned Iraqi activist and founder of the Organization of Women's Freedom in Iraq. The organization fights to stop atrocities against women and advocates for women's rights. The new constitution in Iraq denies women the civil and social rights of men, and is based on the Islamic Sharia law system. MOHAMMED and her organization have set up a network of women's shelters and the underground railroad to protect women who have been abused or become targets of 'honor killing' in Iraq. During the 1950s through the 1970s women enjoyed an egalitarian-like society in Iraq. Women could wear what they wanted, could go to work, university, get married or divorced.
Interview with Judd Apatow and Seth Rogen; Review of Amy LaVere's album "Anchors and Anvils"; Review of Arnold Rampersad's biography "Ralph Ellison." May 31, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039406].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director JUDD APATOW (pronounced AAH-puh-tao) and actor SETH ROGAN. APATOW wrote and directed the new comedy 'Knocked Up' and ROGAN stars in it as a slacker who becomes a father after a one-night stand. APATOW also wrote and directed the comedy hit '40 Year Old Virgin.' APATOW also worked on the Emmy award winners 'Freaks and Geeks' (as did ROGAN) and 'The Ben Stiller Show.' He was a writer for 'The Larry Sanders Show.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Anchors and Anvils' the second album by singer and actress Amy LaVere, produced by Jim Dickerson who also worked with Bob Dylan, The Rolling Stones and The Replacements.(3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews a new biography of Ralph Ellison by Arnold Rampersad (Knopf).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist PHILIP ROTH. The Pulitzer Prize winning author's twenty-seventh book 'Everyman'is now out in paperback (Vintage). It's a novel about a 71 year old divorced, successful advertising man and his response to his physical decline and approaching death. The man - who is never given a name - has no religion or philosophy to cling to. Reviewer Gail Caldwell of the Boston Globe writes that the book is 'swift, brutal novel about a heartbreakingly ordinary subject, and it is also testament to Roth that the book leaves you a little breathless and not at all bereft.' (REBROADCAST from 5/8/06) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Knocked Up.' (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI is a big Beatles fan. For the 40th anniversary of the release of 'Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band Club' BIANCULLI pulls out his favorite cover-versions of the songs from the album.
Interview with Win Butler and Regine Chassagne; Interview with Steven Bach. June 4, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039409].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) WIN BUTLER and REGINE CHASSAGNE (Reh-JEAN Cha-SAHN) are the husband and wife team who lead the band Arcade Fire. The art-rock band hails from Montreal. They have two albums to their credit 'Neon Bible' and their 2004 debut album 'Funeral.' The band is made up of seven performers whose instruments include at times: dobro, hurdy-gurdy, piano, sax, violin, harpsichord, xylophone and the Caribbean steel drums. (2.) (interview by Dave Davies) STEVEN BACH is the author of the new biography 'Leni: The Life and Work of Leni Riefenstahl' (Knopf). Her films 'Triumph of the Will' and 'Olympiad' celebrated the Nazi ideal and created the Third Reich's iconic images. In his new biography, BACH writes about Riefenstahl's ruthless and opportunistic ambition, analyzes her 'self-righteous entitlement,' and examines her relationship with Hitler, Goebbles, and Albert Speer. Reviewer Richard Schickel says 'What emerges is a compulsively readable and scrupulously crafted work.'

Interview with Larry Wilmore; Commentary on Wikipedia. June 5, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039377].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The Daily Show with Jon Stewart's 'Senior Black Correspondent,' LARRY WILMORE. Before getting the gig on the hit Comedy Central fake news show, Wilmore was a writer on 'In Living Color, and 'The PJ's.' He created and was executive producer of 'The Bernie Mac Show,' for which he won an Emmy and a Peabody Award. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the strengths and limitations of the online encyclopedia Wikipedia.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT SHANE has been writing about terrorism and the C.I.A.'s interrogation techniques for The New York Times. His most recent article is about how the U.S. has adopted techniques once used by the Soviets, 'Soviet-Style 'Torture' Becomes 'Interrogation.'" (June 3, 2007) (2.) TARA MCKELVEY is the author of 'Monstering: Inside America's Policy of Secret Interrogations and Torture in the Terror War.' She interviewed former prisoners from Abu Ghraib for her book. MCKELVEY is senior editor at The American Prospect and a research fellow at the NYU School of Law's Center on Law and Security.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, comedian, producer and writer DENIS LEARY. His show 'Rescue Me' on FX begins season four next week. LEARY plays the highly dysfunctional and macho firefighter Tommy Gavin. LEARY also starred in the short lived but critically acclaimed ABC comedy series, 'The Job.' And he's known for his work in films such as 'The Thomas Crown Affair' and 'The Ref.' Leary has completed over 20 feature films, several cable specials, a book, a CD, and he has had an international hit song. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) MICHAEL HEARST is one of the founders of the band One Ring Zero. His new CD is 'Songs for Ice Cream Trucks' a collection of new songs HEARST wrote just for fun. But he's been getting calls from ice cream truck drivers who want to use the songs. The titles include 'Where Do Ice Cream Trucks Go in the Winter,' 'The Sprinkle Twinkle,' 'Tones for Cones,' and 'The Popsicle Parade.' Some of the instruments you'll hear on the collection include glockenspiel, electronic chord organ, melodica, theremin, guitar, bass, drums, and other things.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Creator and executive producer of the HBO hit series 'The Sopranos,' DAVID CHASE. The show's last gasp is Sunday night, when the final episode of their seven year run is broadcast. (REBROADCAST from 6/22/00) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Ocean's 13.'

Interview with Eddie Angel, Danny Amis, and Big Sandy; Review of the television show "The Sopranos." June 11, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039378].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A concert and conversation with LOS STRAITJACKETS. Joining us in the studio are guitarist EDDIE ANGEL, founder and guitar player DANNY AMIS and guest vocalist ROBERT 'BIG SANDY' WILLIAMS. The indie rock band's new CD is called Rock En Espanol, Vol. 1, featuring vocals by Big Sandy and Little Willie G. The album contains Spanish language versions of rock and roll hits from the 1960s. Tracks include De Dia Y De Noche (All Day and All Night), popularized by the Kinks, La Hiedra Venenosa (Poison Ivy), made famous by the Coasters, and many more. The band performs wearing Mexican wrestling masks. (This interview continues into the second half of the show.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the final episode of the Sopranos, which aired last night on HBO. Spoiler alert: David tells us how the episode, and the series, concludes.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Middle East Ambassador DENNIS ROSS. He served as U.S. Envoy to the Middle East from 1988 to 2001, during the elder Bush and Clinton administrations. His new book is Statecraft: How to Restore America's Standing in the World. Ross now the Counselor and Ziegler Distinguished Fellow for the Washington Institute for Near East Policy (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Crazy Ex-Girlfriend, the new album from country music singer Miranda Lambert.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Photojournalist ASHLEY GILBERTSON. The award winning photographer has spent much of the past five years in Iraq, taking incredible photographs for the New York Times and other publications. Born in 1978, Gilbertson has traveled to some of the most dangerous places in the world to capture his award-winning images. A book of his work, Whiskey Tango Foxtrot: A Photographer's Chronicle of the Iraq War, will be published in the Fall of 2007 by the University of Chicago Press. His website is HYPERLINK "http://www.ashleygilbertson.com" www.ashleygilbertson.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) AUGUSTUS RICHARD NORTON is a Professor of International Relations and Anthropology at Boston University. His new book is 'Hezbollah: A Short History' (Princeton University press). He has been writing about Lebanon for 25 years and is an expert on the Shiite political movements, including Hezbollah. His books include 'Amal and the Shi'a: Struggle for the Soul of Lebanon and 'Civil Society in the Middle East.' NORTON is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Interview with Josh Rushing; Interview with Jemaine Clement and Bret McKenzie; Commentary on expletives on television. June 14, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039389].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Marine Captain JOSH RUSHING was the media liaison officer at Central Command, or Centcom in the early days of the Iraq war. His job was to represent the Marines to the worldwide media covering the war in Iraq, including the Arab TV network Al-Jazeera. He was featured in the documentary 'Control Room.' After retiring from the Marines he took a job as a correspondent with the Arab network Al Jazeera International, reporting from Washington D.C. His new memoir is 'Mission Al Jazeera: Build a Bridge, Seek the Truth, Change the World.' (Palgrave Macmillan). (2.) Music-comedy duo JEMAINE
CLEMENT and BRET MCKENZIE of the group 'Flight of the Conchords.' They hail from New Zealand and were named Best Alternative comedy Act at the 2005 U.S. Comedy Arts Festival. They now star in a new HBO series 'Flight of the Conchords' which debuts Sunday, June 17th (at 10:30 ET/PT). It's about two transplanted New Zealanders who live in New York City's Lower East side. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG has some thoughts on the recent ruling by the Court of Appeals that the FCC couldn't fine the FOX network for indecency for broadcasting a 'fleeting expletive' during an awards show.

Interview with Eric O'Neill and Billy Ray; Interview with Mariane Pearl; Review of the film "Fido." June 15, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039385].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former FBI agent ERIC O'NEILL and film director/screenwriter BILLY RAY. The two collaborated on the film 'Breach' based on the true story about FBI operative Robert Hanssen who was found guilty of treason and the FBI agent (O'NEILL) who was assigned to Hanssen to draw him out of deep cover. The film is now out on DVD. BILLY RAY also wrote and directed the critically acclaimed feature 'Shattered Glass.' 'Breach' stars Chris Cooper, Ryan Phillipe, and Laura Linney. (REBROADCAST from 1/31/07) (2.) Journalist MARIANE PEARL. She is the widow of Wall Street Journal reporter Daniel Pearl, who was kidnapped then killed by militant Islamists in 2002. Before Daniel Pearl was abducted, the Pearls were both foreign correspondents, reporting from Pakistan. Pearl was working on a story when he disappeared while going to a meeting in Karachi. There's a new film based on Mariane Pearl's book, "A Mighty Heart: The Brave Life and Death of My Husband, Danny Pearl" (Scribner). It stars Angelina Jolie. Mariane Pearl is an award-winning documentary film director who produced and hosted a daily radio show for Radio France International and has written for Telerama. (REBROADCAST from 10/1/03) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new zombie satire film 'Fido.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights LOUISE ARBOUR (like 'Arbor' as in 'arboretum'). ARBOUR is a Canadian. She was Chief Prosecutor for the International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda from 1996 to 2000. She indicted former Serbian President Slobodan Milosevic for war crimes and crimes against humanity. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Memory Almost Full' the new album by Paul McCartney. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has some suggestions for summer reading: 'Summer Reading' by Hilma Wolitzer (Ballantine Books), 'Be Near Me' by Andrew O'Hagan (Harcourt), and 'On Chesil Beach' by Ian McEwan (Doubleday).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Washington Post Senior Pentagon correspondent and Pulitzer Prize winning journalist THOMAS RICKS. He'll discuss his recent trip to Iraq. RICKS is the author of the bestselling book 'Fiasco: The American Military Adventure in Iraq.' Before his position at the Post, he wrote for the Wall Street Journal. His other books are 'Making the Corps' and 'A Soldier's Duty.' (2.) Former Navy Petty Officer STEPHEN BENJAMIN. Trained as an Arabic translator, he was headed to Iraq when he was dismissed from the Navy under the 'don't ask, don't tell policy.' BENJAMIN is gay. His supervisors knew he was gay, and most of his peers also knew, and he says he was always accepted as a member of the team. Two other gay Arab translators were also dismissed. A group of U.S. Congressmen and women have asked the chairman of the House Armed Services Committee to hold hearings on the ousted linguists stating that the continued loss of such 'capable, highly skilled Arabic linguists continues to compromise our national security during time of war.'
Interview with Laura Rozen; Interview with Russ Parsons; Review of Michael Brecker's album "Pilgrimage." June 20, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039384].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LAURA ROZEN. She reports on national security and foreign policy from Washington, D.C as a senior correspondent for The American Prospect and a contributor to the Washington Monthly, the Boston Globe, The Economist, the Forward, USA Today, Wired magazine other publications. She also writes a political blog, HYPERLINK "http://www.warandpiece.com" www.warandpiece.com. She talks about the philosophical split within the Bush administration on how to curb nuclear proliferation in Iran. Part of the administration believes in regime change, while the other part advocates for behavior change. (2.) Food and wine columnist RUSS PARSONS. His new book is called How to Pick a Peach: The Search for Flavor from Farm to Table. He writes that we are almost encouraged not to know very much about the fruits and vegetables we buy. Parsons goes in search of top quality produce and looks at the reasons why supermarket produce is not always the best. The book is a guide to picking, storing and cooking fruits and vegetables. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Pilgrimage, the posthumous recording from tenor sax player Michael Brecker, who died earlier this year due to leukemia. The album features jazz greats like Herbie Hancock and Pat Metheny.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JEFF GOODELL. His book Big Coal: The Dirty Secret Behind America's Energy Future is now out in paperback. Goodell says we are more dependent on coal than ever. GOODELL is a contributing editor at Rolling Stone magazine and also writes for the New York Times Magazine. He is also the author of Our Story: 77 Hours That Tested Our Friendship and Our Faith, based on the account of nine miners trapped underground. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic JON POWERS reviews a new DVD box set of Sergio Leone films. The Sergio Leone Anthology includes A Fistful Of Dollars, For A Few Dollars More, The Good, The Bad And The Ugly and Duck, You Sucker.
Interview with Jack White and Meg White; Interview with Brian Cox; Review of the film "A Mighty Heart." June 22, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039144].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Guitarist and vocalist JACK WHITE and drummer MEG WHITE of the band the White Stripes. Their new album is called Icky Thump. It is their sixth LP. The duo has tried to keep its relationship a mystery, claiming to be, variously, brother and sister, and husband and wife. The truth, confirmed by numerous sources, is that they are a divorced couple. One reviewer writes, 'The White Stripes are grounded in punk and blues, but the undercurrent to all of their work has been . . . striving for simplicity, a love of American folk music, and a careful approach to intriguing, emotional and evocative lyrics. . .' (Original airdate: 6/9/05) (2.) Actor BRIAN COX. The Emmy award winner appears on the HBO series 'Deadwood.' The show's third season is now out on DVD. He's been in over a hundred films and TV shows over the past 40 years. Movies include 'Match Point,' 'The Bourne Identity' and 'The Bourne Supremacy' and 'Rushmore.' Cox was a regular guest on 'Frasier,' and he won his Emmy for his role as Reichsmarschall Hermann Wilhelm Goring on the TNT channel's original movie 'Nuremberg.' (Original Airdate: 6/26/06) (3.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews A Mighty Heart, starring Angelina Jolie.

Interview with Jarvis Cocker; Review of books for summer reading; Review of the album "Marsalis Music Honors Alvin Batiste." June 25, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039390].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British musician JARVIS COCKER. He's just released The Jarvis Cocker Album, his first solo effort. Cocker founded his band Pulp at age 15. Over the years, the band's style evolved, but the same remained the same. Cocker made headlines in 1996 when he stormed the stage in protest at a Michael Jackson concert in London at the BRIT awards. The resulting attention caused sales of the band's album to soar. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has some non-fiction summer reading suggestions: Warm Springs: Traces of a Childhood at FDR's Polio Haven by Susan Richards Shreve; Dog Days by Jon Katz; and The Perfect Summer: England 1911, Just Before the Storm by Juliet Nicholson. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Marsalis Music Honors Alvin Batiste, a new album released in April of 2007, just a month before the New Orleans clarinetist's death in May of this year.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Teachers FRANK BURD and ED KLEIN. They are Philadelphia public school teachers who were attacked on the job. They talk about the difficulties of teaching in inner city schools. Frank Burd's neck was broken. Ed Klein's jaw was broken. Burd is a math teacher at Germantown High School. Klein is a music teacher at West Philadelphia High School. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Big Dog Daddy, the new album from country singer Toby Keith. The album debuted and remains number one on the Billboard Top 200 Albums chart.

---

Interview with Jeff Gammage; Interview with Asra Nomani; Review of Balkan Beat Box's album "Nu Med." June 27, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039145].

Description of show segment(s)

tells us about the music of Balkan Beat Box, a New York City band founded by two Israelis that brings together a cross-cultural crew of musicians. Their new album is called Nu Med.

Interview with Tim Weiner; Interview with Brad Bird and Patton Oswalt; Review of Ruby Elzy's album "Ruby Elzy In Song June 28, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039457].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TIM WEINER. His new book is Legacy of Ashes: The History of the CIA. The Pulitzer Prize winning New York Times correspondent did extensive archival research and conducted interviews with CIA insiders, including former chiefs Richard Helms and Stansfield Turner. (2.) Director/writer BRAD BIRD and comedian/actor PATTON OSWALT. Weiner directed and Oswalt stars in the new film Ratatouille, the animated feature from Pixar about a foodie rat who becomes a chef in a top Paris kitchen. BIRD also directed and wrote The Incredibles and the Iron Giant. In addition to acting, OSWALT is a writer and stand-up comedian who has had his own comedy specials and appeared in the TV shows The King of Queens and Reno 911! His second comedy album is called Werewolves and Lollipops and will be released in July 2007. (3.) Classical music critic Lloyd Schwartz profiles the soprano Ruby Elzy. There's a new CD called Ruby Elzy in song: Rare Recordings (1935-1942).

Interview with Paul Simon; Interview with John Peterson; Review of the films "Ratatouille" and "Sicko." June 29, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039455].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter and guitarist PAUL SIMON. The Grammy winner's latest album is called The Essential Paul Simon, a CD and DVD retrospective. Simon is also the recipient of the first annual Library of Congress Gershwin Prize for Popular Song.?Simon began his career in 1964 as half of the sixties folk-rock duo Simon & Garfunkel, with classic hits like sounds of Silence and Mrs. Robinson. He went on to a successful solo career, with hits including Graceland, 50 Ways to Leave Your Lover, and Me and Julio Down by the Schoolyard. Simon was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame both as a solo artist and as Simon & Garfunkel. The pair also received a Lifetime Achievement Grammy. Simon has written film soundtracks and has also done some acting. More info at HYPERLINK "http://
JOHN PETERSON is an Illinois farmer. He is the subject of the documentary 'The Real Dirt on Farmer John' by filmmaker Taggart Siegel. PETERSON grew up on the farm, took it over after his father's death, and lost most of it in the 1980s when the bank foreclosed on his loans. Later during the 90s, PETERSON remakes his place into a community supported agriculture farm, producing organic food. The documentary includes family home movies, and photographs from John's life and the life of the farm. The documentary aired last year on PBS and is now being shown in limited release in theaters across the country. (Original airdate: 6/7/06)

Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two films now in theaters: the animated feature Ratatouille, and the Michael Moore documentary Sicko.

Interview with Matthew Brzezinski; Obituary for Timothy White; Review of the film "Mr. Deeds." July 1, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825646].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MATTHEW BRZEZINKSI ('Brez-IN-ski'). He wrote about the global narcotics industry in the June 23, 2002 issue of the The New York Times Magazine. His cover story is 'Heroin: The Sleek New Business Model For The Ultimate Global Product.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember TIMOTHY WHITE, the editor in chief of Billboard Magazine. He died Thursday at the age of fifty. He was in his office at the time. (Original airdate: 1/12/95) (3.) Film critic Henry Sheehan reviews 'Mr. Deeds,' starring Adam Sandler and Wynona Ryder.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) (DD intv.) Journalist LINDA GREENHOUSE. She'll tell us about the current Supreme Court. Greenhouse is a Pulitzer Prize winning reporter for the New York Times. She'll talk about issues facing the court and cases coming up in the future. She's been covering the court since 1978. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer FRANKIE VALLI. There's a new 4 CD box set of Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons called Jersey Beat. Valli helped bridge fifties doo-wop and sixties rock and roll with two dozen top 40 hits including Big Girls Don't Cry, Sherry and Walk Like a Man. Jersey Boys is also the name of a Tony award winning Broadway musical based on the lives of the Four Seasons. Valli and the Four Seasons were inducted into the rock and Roll Hall of Fame in 1990. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Comedian and actor PATTON OSWALT. He stars in the new film Ratatouille, the animated feature from Pixar about a foodie rat who becomes a chef in a top Paris kitchen. Oswalt's new comedy album is called Werewolves and Lollipops and will be released July 10 2007. In addition to acting, OSWALT is a writer and stand-up comedian who has had his own comedy specials and appeared in the TV shows The King of Queens and Reno 911!. (3.) book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews New England White by Stephen L. Carter.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer MARY WEISS. She first found fame as a member of the Shangri-Las, with hits like Leader of the Pack, Remember (Walking in the Sand) and Give Him a Great Big Kiss. In March of this year, she recorded her first album of new material since 1965. It's called Dangerous Game. (original airdate: 3/6/07) (2.) Songwriter/singer NEIL SEDAKA. This year marks his 50th in the music business. He was part of the original creators of the Brill Building Sound of the late fifties and early sixties. His early songs Stupid Cupid and 'Where the Boys Are' were hits by Connie Francis. He wrote the Puppet Man and Workin' on a Groovy Thing recorded by The 5th Dimension. Later SEDAKA went on to perform his songs The Diary, Calendar Girl, Breaking Up Is Hard to Do and Laughter in the Rain. SEDAKA has been inducted into the Songwriter's Hall of Fame. He also has a recent collection of songs called The Definitive Collection. More information and tour dates at www.neilsedaka.com. (Original airdate: 4/16/07)

Interview with Carol Muske-Dukes; Interview with Bryan Ferry. July 5, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039454].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and professor CAROL MUSKE-DUKES. Her new novel is 'Channeling Mark Twain' (Random House). Fellow author Mary Karr wrote this about the book, 'a riveting story about women in prison, with language that scorches the page and characters you won't be able to live without. . . .she's given us a true hero in Polly, who's unforgettable as Huck Finn.' MUSKE-DUKES is founder of the PhD. Program in literature and creative writing at the University of Southern California and a recipient of the Guggenheim fellowship. She is the author of three novels and seven poetry collections. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) British singer-songwriter BRYAN FERRY. He's best known as the frontman for Roxy Music, the experimental synth-pop band he founded in 1971. Over the years in between his Roxy music he's recorded albums devoted to songwriters he admires. FERRY has a new album of his interpretation of Bob Dylan songs. It's called 'Dylanesque' (Virgin).

Commentary in Beverly Sills; Obituary for Beverly Sills; Review of the film "Rescue Dawn"; Interview with Werner Herzog. July 6, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039297].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ pays tribute to opera singer Beverly Sills who died Monday at the age of 78 from lung cancer. (2.) We feature a 1985 interview with BEVERLY SILLS. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Rescue Dawn' the first Hollywood feature film by Werner Herzog. (4.) Filmmaker WERNER HERZOG. His new film "Rescue Dawn" is his first Hollywood feature and is a dramatic retelling of the story he told in his 1997 documentary "Little Dieter Needs to Fly." It's the true story of Dieter Dengler, the only U.S. pilot to have successfully escaped from a North

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN OBERLANDER is a political scientist with an expertise in health politics and policy. He'll discuss the problems with our health care system, and consider how other countries handle health care. He'll also give us a critique of Michael Moore's new documentary 'Sicko.' OBERLANDER is associate professor of social medicine and health policy and administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Classic Chu Berry Columbia and Victor Sessions' (Mosaic box). Chu Berry, otherwise known as Leon Berry, was a tenor saxophonist who during the 1930s backed singers like Billie Holiday and Mildred Bailey, and jammed with Fletcher Henderson's and Cab Calloway's bands. He died at the age of 33 in a car accident.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. NORA VOLKOW (pronounced 'VOLK-off') is director of the National Institute on Drug Abuse and one of the country's leading addiction researchers. Her research has helped demonstrate that addiction is a disease of the brain, and that all addictions (drugs, alcohol, tobacco, sex, gambling and even food) are more alike than was previously thought. VOLKOW is the great-granddaughter of Russian revolutionary Leon Trotsky. She grew up in Mexico City in the house where her famous ancestor was assassinated. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Food scientist MASSIMO MARCONE ('Mar-CONE-aa'). He travels to the world's remote places to investigate bizarre food 'delicacies' which include: coffee brewed from coffee beans extracted from the feces of a cat-like creature, and cheese infested with squirming maggots. His new book is 'In Bad Taste? The adventures and Science Behind Food Delicacies' (Key Porter Books). MARCONE is an adjunct professor of food science at the University of Guelph. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists DOUGLAS FARAH ('Fair-ah') and STEPHEN BRAUN. The two have collaborated on a new book about Russian weapons supplier Victor Bout ('Boot'). Bout emerged out of the Cold War, with easy access to the massive inventories of weapons and ammunition built up by the Soviets. He's armed Islamic extremists, and sold weapons to some of the Third World's most abusive and murderous dictators and warlords. And he's known for fueling both sides of conflicts. FARAH's and BRAUN's new book is 'Merchant of Death: Money, Guns, Planes, and the Man Who Makes War Possible' (John Wiley & sons). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the fifth Harry Potter film, 'Harry Potter & the Order of the Phoenix.'

Interview with Timor Goskel; Interview with Kasi Lemmons. July 12, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039417].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TIMOR GOKSEL is former spokesperson and senior advisor for the United Nations Peacekeeping force in Lebanon. He now teaches at the American University of Beirut. He'll discuss life in Lebanon and the unintended consequences of the war between Isreal and Hezbollah which began one year ago. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film director KASI ('KAY-see') LEMMONS. Her new film 'Talk to Me' is about the radio DJ, television personality and activist Ralph Waldo 'Petey' Greene Jr. He was a driving force in the black community of Washington D.C. (Actor Don Cheadle plays Petey in the film). Also DEWEY HUGHES, the program director for the radio station WOL-AM in D.C. who first hired Petey.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet NATASHA TRETENWEY. She was just awarded the Pulitzer-Prize for her new collection of poetry 'Native Guard.' TRETENWEY grew up bi-racial in Mississippi and her mother was murdered by her stepfather. These are recurring themes in her poetry. So is the South. The title of her new collection 'Native Guard' refers to a regiment of African-American soldiers who fought for the Union in the Civil War. This is her third collection. She teaches creative writing at Emory University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews a new DVD set of two masterpieces by French filmmaker Chris Marker, 'La Jetee' (1962), and 'Sans Soleil' (1984). 'La Jetee' is a science fiction story set in post-apocalyptic Paris. Except for two seconds of motion, the entire film is done in still photographs. 'Sans Soleil' has a woman narrator who tells viewers about the letters she's received from a globetrotting friend, which is accompanied by footage from around the world. POWERS says it is filled with brilliant perceptions.

Interview with Steven Erlanger; Review of Teddy Thompson's album "Up Front and Down Low." July 18, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039413].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The New York Times Jerusalem Bureau Chief STEVEN ERLANGER. He'll discuss the Palestinian power struggle and the fighting between Hamas and Fatah. And he'll tell us how it's affecting life in the West Bank and Gaza. ERLANGER has reported from all over the world, serving in Moscow, Bangkok, Prague and other cities. Prior to his tenure at the Times, he wrote for the Boston Globe. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Up Front and Down Low, the new album from Teddy Thompson. His parents are the folk rock duo Richard and Linda Thompson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, choreographer and exec producer ADAM SHANKMAN. His newest work is Hairspray, the film version of the Broadway musical. Hairspray was originally a John Waters film before its adaptation to the stage. Shankman's previous directing credits include Cheaper By the Dozen 2 and The Wedding Planner. He has choreographed many films and TV shows including Boogie Nights, Scream 2 and several episodes of Buffy the Vampire Slayer. Shankman is also a dancer and actor.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Filmmaker JOHN WATERS. We listen back to a 1988 interview from the Fresh Air archives when the original film Hairspray hit the theaters. Waters has been a frequent guest on the show. His most recent project was the CD A Date With John Waters, released in February of 2007. Waters' trashy filmography includes Pink Flamingos, Desperate Living, Polyester, Cry Baby, Pecker and Hairspray. He is also the host of the Court TV show 'Til Death Do Us Part. He has a cameo role in the new film version of Hairspray. (Original airdate: 2/9/88)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet SEKOU SUNDIATA (SAY-coo SOON-de-ah-ta). He died this week at age 58. The cause was heart failure. Sundiata was considered one of the fathers of the spoken word movement. He taught literature at New York City's New School University for many years. He wrote the plays Blessing the Boats, The Circle Unbroken is a Hard Bop, The Mystery of Love, Udu, and The 51st Dream State. His albums include Longstoryshort and The Blue Oneness of Dreams.(Original airdate: 5/11/94, 4/16/97) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Hairspray.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES BENNET of the New York Times. He's the paper's Jerusalem Bureau Chief. He's been in the Middle East covering how the crisis there is affecting both Israelis and Palestinians. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Mohammed Hafez; Obituary for Tammy Faye Messner; Review of the television shows "Saving Grace" and "Damages." July 23, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039476].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MOHAMMED HAFEZ is the author of the book 'Suicide Bombers in Iraq: The Strategy and Ideology of Martyrdom' (United States Institute of Peace Press). HAFEZ finds that the over-whelming majority of suicide bombers in Iraq are non-Iraqi volunteers, and he says the war has unleashed a new generation of Muslim militants who care little about national boundaries and are driven by the ideal of defending Muslims whoever and wherever they are. HAFEZ is a visiting professor of political science at the University of Missouri in Kansas City. And he is also the author of 'Manufacturing Human Bombs: The Making of Palestinian Suicide Bombers.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember TAMMY FAYE MESSNER (previously BAKKER). She died Friday at the age of 65 from cancer. We will rebroadcast an excerpt from her 2004 interview. (1/15/04) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new cable shows featuring strong female leads: 'Saving Grace' starring Holly Hunter as a troubled detective (on TNT); and 'Damages' starring Glenn Close as a powerful and ruthless attorney (on FX).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in-studio performance and interview with British singer/songwriter NICK LOWE. His best known songs include 'What's So Funny 'Bout) Peace, Love and Understanding,' 'Cruel to be Kind,' and 'The Beast in Me' (which Johnny Cash recorded). LOWE's new album is 'At My Age.' In the early 1970s LOWE played London's pub rock scene in the band Brinsley Schwarz. After the band broke up in 1975, he produced five albums for Elvis Costello. Lowe worked with Dave Edmunds and the group Rockpile. In 1992 he was one quarter of the band "Little Village" with John Hiatt and Ry Cooder. Since 1994 he's released a number of solo albums. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD on the story of soul singer Lorraine Ellison whose big hit was the song 'Stay With Me.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) German filmmaker WERNER HERZOG. His new film is 'Rescue Dawn' based on his 1997 documentary "Little Dieter Needs to Fly." It's the true story of Dieter Dengler, the only U.S. pilot to have successfully escaped from a North Vietnamese-controlled prison. Dieter is played by Christian Bale in the new film. HERZOG's most recent film is the documentary is 'Grizzly Man.' Herzog is associated with the German New Wave film movement. He's produced, written and directed more than 40 films, including 'Wings of Hope,' 'Aguirre, Wrath of God,' and 'Fitzcarraldo.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Maureen Corrigan reviews Min Jin Lee's novel "Free Food for Millionaires."
Interview with Al Jean; Interview with Nancy Cartwright. July 26, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039475].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Executive producer and writer AL JEAN of the Simpsons. He's been with the show since it began, first as writer than as executive producer. He has said the new Simpsons movie is about 'what happens when a man doesn't listen to his wife.' Previously JEAN worked with the tv shows 'Alf' and 'It's Garry Shandling's show.' (2.) Actress NANCY CARTWRIGHT. Her work is well-heard and loved, but not many people know it's her. She does the voice of Bart Simpson on The Simpsons. This week The Simpson movie hits the theatres.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The Memphis soul label Stax records is celebrating its 50th anniversary. A series of tribute concerts are being held, and PBS airs the documentary 'Respect Yourself: The Stax Records Story' next week. We feature interviews with musicians who were a big part of the Stax sound. First, guitarist, songwriter, and producer STEVE CROPPER. He's best known for his playing with Booker T & the MGs He co-wrote such hits as "In the Midnight Hour," "Soul Man," and Otis Redding's "(Sittin' on) The Dock of the Bay." (REBROADCAST from 9/18/90) (2.) ISAAC HAYES is a renowned soul musician, who rose to the top of the charts in the 1970's on the Stax label, a soul record label. He released his first solo album, "Presenting Isaac Hayes," in 1968. His next album, "Hot Buttered Soul," became a gold record in the 1970's. His 1972 soundtrack to the movie "Shaft," went platinum and won an Oscar for "Theme From Shaft." HAYES is also an actor. (REBROADCAST FROM 7/28/94) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The Simpsons Movie.'
Interview with Frank Owen; Interview with Robyn Meredith; Interview with Liv Ullman. July 30, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039394].

Description of show segment(s)

(3.) Actress LIV ULLMAN talks about working with filmmaker INGMAR BERGMAN, who died today at age 89. He made over 50 films, including the Seventh Seal, Cries and Whispers, and Fanny and Alexander.

Interview with Paul Rudd; Review of the Claudia Quintet's and Massacre's albums "For" and "Lonely Heart." July 31, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039396].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and producer PAUL RUDD. He produced and stars in the new independent film The Ten, which is a series of irreverent vignettes that reinterpret the Ten Commandments for a modern audience. Rudd is also in the film Knocked Up, and he stars in the upcoming movie I Could Never Be Your Woman with Michelle Pfeiffer. Rudd's other films include Clueless, The 40 Year Old Virgin, Anchorman, and The Cider House Rules, among others. Rudd had roles on the TV shows Friends and Reno 911. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews the new albums from the bands Massacre ('lonely heart') and the Claudia Quintet ('for').
Interview with Mark Olsen and Will Scheffer; Interview with Kerry Emmanuel. August 1, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039393].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV producers MARK OLSEN and WILL SCHEFFER. They co-created the HBO series Big Love, now in its second season. It's about a man (Bill Paxton) and his three wives (Chloe Sevigny, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Amanda Seyfried). They have broken from the Mormon Church and still practice polygamy. Olsen and Scheffer are credited as writers and producers on the series. This year, they won a Writer's Guild Award for their work on Big Love. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Climatologist KERRY EMMANUEL. He is a professor at MIT's Department of Earth, Atmospheric and Planetary Sciences. He's the author of Divine Wind: The History and Science of Hurricanes (2005). In 2006 Time Magazine called him one of the world's 100 most influential people. Emmanuel says that global warming is causing stronger hurricanes. Emmanuel was quoted in the New York Times as saying that warming has occurred 'much too fast to ascribe to any natural process we know about.' More information at HYPERLINK "http://wind.mit.edu/~emanuel/home.html" http://wind.mit.edu/~emanuel/home.html.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer PEGI YOUNG. She's just released a self-titled debut album after singing backup for her husband, Neil Young, for many years. Pegi wrote many of the songs on the album. Her main focus in life has been the creation of the Bridge School for special needs children like her son Ben, who was born with cerebral palsy. For appearances and more information, go to HYPERLINK "http://www.pegiyoung.com/" http://www.pegiyoung.com/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Indian Summer: The Secret History of the End of An Empire by Alex von Tunzelmann.
Interview with Khaled Hosseini; Review of Fred Katz's album "Folk Songs for Far Out Folk"; Interview with Geoffrey Eugenides; Review of the television show "Masters of Science Fiction." August 3, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039391].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Afghani-born physician and author KHALED HOSSEINI. His new novel is A Thousand Splendid Suns, and it is currently at the top of the New York Times Bestseller List. His debut novel, The Kite Runner, about a young man who returns to Afghanistan after a long absence, has been on the bestseller list for 2 years as both a hardcover and paperback. Fellow novelist Isabel Allende says of that book, 'This is one of those unforgettable stories that stays with you for years.' HOSSEINI, like the protagonist in The Kite Runner, left Afghanistan when he was boy and didn't return for decades. HOSSEINI was 11 when his family left, before the Soviet invasion. His father was a diplomat, and the family was granted political asylum in America. (Original airdate: 8/11/05) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new reissue of Folk Songs for Far Out Folk, a 1958 album created by jazz musician Fred Katz. (3.) Novelist GEOFFREY EUGENIDES. His book Middlesex has been on the bestseller list since its publication. It is available in paperback. Eugenides won the Pulitzer prize for Middlesex. He is also the author of The Virgin Suicides, which was adapted into a feature film. (Original airdate: 9/24/02) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews a new four week anthology series called Masters of Science Fiction, airing on ABC Saturday at 10 PM. He says it's a modern day Outer Limits.

Interview with Carl Hulse; Review of the film "Interview." August 6, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039395].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CARL HULSE. He reports on the U-S Congress for the New York Times. He'll give us details on congressional doings, including the Gonzalez hearings, eavesdropping laws, ethics reform and Iraq. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Interview, a new feature directed by and starring Steve Buscemi.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Filmmaker JEFFREY BLITZ. He wrote and directed the new film Rocket Science. It's a partly autobiographical coming of age tale about a teenage boy who joins the high school debate team. Blitz won the Dramatic Directing Award at the 2007 Sundance Film Festival. Blitz also directed the 2002 Oscar-nominated documentary Spellbound, and he has directed several episodes of the hit NBC television series The Office. More info about the new film at (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Law professor ELYN SAKS. She is the Associate Dean and Orrin B. Evans Professor of Law, Psychology, and Psychiatry and the Behavioral Sciences at the University of Southern California. Her new book is called the Center Cannot Hold. It's a memoir of her struggle with schizophrenia. Saks was 8 when she was diagnosed with the condition, and went on to academic excellence, attending Yale Law School and Oxford University. Saks also teaches at the Institute of Psychiatry and the Law at the Keck School of Medicine at USC and is an adjunct professor of psychiatry at the University of California, San Diego. More info at HYPERLINK "http://law.usc.edu/contact/contactInfo.cfm?detailID=300" http://law.usc.edu/contact/contactInfo.cfm?detailID=300.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Baseball enthusiast ZACK HAMPLE. His new book is called Watching Baseball Smarter: A Professional Fan's Guide for Beginners, Semi-Experts, and Deeply Serious Geeks. Hample is an obsessive baseball fan who has turned his devotion into a career, giving tours of stadiums, appearing on TV and radio, and writing books. He has a blog at HYPERLINK "http://snaggingbaseballs.mlbblogs.com/" http://snaggingbaseballs.mlbblogs.com/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Journalist MALCOLM MACPHERSON. His new novel is called Hocus Potus, and it's written from the point of view of an American journalist in Baghdad. The book is based on MacPherson's own career as a foreign correspondent for Time and Newsweek Magazines, during which time he reported from Baghdad, covering the Coalition Provisional Authority. MacPherson has written 13 books. His most recent is Roberts Ridge. He also served in the Marine Corps prior to beginning his writing career.

Interview with Ayub Nuri; Interview with Matt Weiner. August 9, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039441].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AYUB NURI. He was working with foreign journalists in Iraq as a fixer -- an interpreter, guide, source finder and occasional lifesaver in the war zone. Nuri worked with increasing autonomy until became a reporter with his own byline. He wrote an article about his experiences for the Sunday New York Times Magazine on July 29, 2007. Nuri is now based in New York City.(2.) TV writer and producer MATT WEINER. His new show is Madmen, a series the AMC cable network. Set in 1960 New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. Weiner also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and director FLORIAN HENCKEL VON DONNERSMARCK from Germany. His film 'The Lives of Others' won an Oscar for Best Foreign Language Film. It's coming out on DVD August 21, 2007. It's a spy film set in former East Germany in 1984. It won seven Lola awards in Germany (the equivalent of the Academy Awards) and awards at the Telluride Film Festival and the Toronto International Film Festival. DONNERSMARCK writes that his film is 'a human drama about the ability of human beings to do the right thing, no matter how far they have gone down the wrong path.' (Original airdate: 2/7/07) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Stardust, the new film starring Michelle Pfeiffer and Robert DeNiro. It's a supernatural story based on the Neil Gaiman novel.(3.) Actor DAVID DUCHOVNY. He stars in the new Showtime series Californication, which is basically about a lot of sex. Duchovny plays a novelist with a taste for lots of women. He is best known for his role as Agent Fox Mulder in the popular TV show 'The X-Files.' DUCHOVNY earned an undergraduate degree from Princeton University and and a graduate degree in English Lit at Yale University. (Original airdate: 4/20/05)(4.) Musician BEN VAUGHN. He talks with Fresh Air producer Amy Salit about singer and songwriter LEE HAZELWOOD, who died Saturday at age 78. Hazelwood is best known for writing Nancy Sinatra's hit 'These Boots are Made For Walkin'. Hazelwood also had a solo career of his own, and his songs were recorded by many pop stars including Elvis Presley, Nick Cave and Courtney Love. BEN VAUGHN is a singer, songwriter, producer and composer who has scored many network TV shows and films in addition to recording 12 albums of his own. His latest album is Designs in Music.

Interview with Frances Harrison; Review of the television program "Californication." August 13, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039325].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist FRANCES HARRISON. She's been the BBC Tehran correspondent for the past 3 years. She tells us about increasing strictures in place under the ultra-conservative Islamic government. Conditions have gotten worse, especially for women. Harrison's husband is Iranian. Prior to her posting in Iran, Harrison reported for the BBC from Sri Lanka, Dhaka and Kuala Lumpur. She's now back in the UK. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new Showtime cable series 'Californication' starring David Duchovny.

Interview with Samuel L. Jackson; Commentary on Hector Lavoe. August 14, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039469].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor SAMUEL L. JACKSON. In his new film 'Resurrecting the Champ' he plays a homeless brokendown former heavyweight contending boxer. It's based on the true story of 'Battling Bob Satterfield.' JACKSON's films include 'Black Snake Moan,' 'Pulp Fiction,' 'Jungle Fever,' 'Coach Carter,' 'Freedomland,' and 'Unbreakable.' JACKSON studied dramatic arts at Morehouse College in Atlanta and after he graduated he originated roles in two of August Wilson's plays at Yale Repertory Theatre. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES considers the celebrated salsa singer Hector Lavoe, the subject of the new film El Cantante.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) EUGENE HUTZ is the charismatic front man of the 'gypsy punk' band, Gogol Bordello. The group includes a violinist, guitarist, accordion, and bass. HUTZ hails from Ukraine. Their new album is 'Super Taranta!' (on SideOneDummy). HUTZ also was in the film 'Everything is Illuminated' with Elijah Wood. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) MICHAEL HARVEY is the executive producer and creator of the cable channel A&E's 'Cold Case Files' a documentary series which follows the efforts of forensic experts and detectives to investigate murder cases which had been left unsolved. HARVEY also has a debut novel 'The Chicago Way' (Knopf) featuring private investigator Michael Kelly.

Interview with Peter Fonda; Commentary on sarcasm. August 16, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039468].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor PETER FONDA. He is the son of actor Henry Fonda, and is best known for his role in the cult classic "Easy Rider." His new film, "3:10 to Yuma," is a western and a remake of the 1957 film of the same name. It's based on the 1953 Elmore Leonard short story "3:10 to Yuma." The film also stars Russell Crowe and Christian Bale. He's also the author of the memoir, "Don't Tell Dad." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(2.) Linguist Geoff Nunberg comments on the use of sarcasm in American English.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director MIKE WHITE. His films include 'Nacho Libre,' 'The School of Rock,' 'Orange County,' and 'Chuck & Buck.' He also directed three episodes of the critically acclaimed TV show, 'Freaks
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

(1.) Comedian, writer, producer and director DAVID STEINBERG. His new memoir is called The Book of David. Steinberg, who hails from Canada, was very popular on the stand-up circuit back in the 1960s and 70s, appearing on The Tonight Show with Johnny Carson over a hundred times. He also hosts the TV Land series Sit Down Comedy with David Steinberg, in which he interviews other comedians. Steinberg went on to a career in TV production, directing episodes of Seinfeld, Mad About You and Friends. More info at HYPERLINK "http://davidsteinberg.tv" http://davidsteinberg.tv. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) (Terry's interview) Saxophonist HARRY ALLEN and singer EDDIE ERICKSON. The two have collaborated on the new CD 'The Harry Allen-Joe Cohn Quartet perform music from Guys and Dolls' (Arbors Records). EDDIE ERICKSON is a guitarist who is a featured guest on the CD as a singer, along with Rebecca Kilgore.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Songwriters MARILYN and ALAN BERGMAN. The husband and wife team have been working together for 50 years. Their songs include 'Nice & Easy' (recorded by Frank Sinatra), 'In the Heat of the Night' (Ray Charles), 'That Face' (Fred Astaire), 'You Must Believe in Spring' (Tony Bennett), 'The Way We Were' (Barbara Streisand) and 'What Are You Doing the Rest of Your Life?'). The two have been included in the Songwriters' Hall of Fame. ALAN BERGMAN has recorded a new album of their songs accompanied by the Berlin Radio Orchestra. It's called 'Lyrically.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Circling My Mother' (Pantheon) the new memoir by Mary Gordon.

Interview with Connie Schultz; Interview with Geoffrey Nunberg. August 22, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039471].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CONNIE SCHULTZ. She was awarded the Pulitzer Prize for commentary in 2005 as a columnist for The Plain Dealer in Cleveland. Pulitzer judges praised her for writing "pungent columns that provided a voice for the underdog and underprivileged." She has a new memoir about being the wife of a political candidate. Her husband Sherrod Brown was an Ohio Democratic congressman when he decided to run for the U.S. Senate. SCHULTZ took a sabbatical from her job and helped him campaign. Her book is '. . . and His Lovely Wife: A Memoir from the Woman Beside the Man' (Random House). Brown won the election and is now in the Senate. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW A conversation Fresh Air's linguist, GEOFF NUNBERG, on the language of the recent presidential debates. His most recent book is 'Talking Right: HYPERLINK "http://www.amazon.com/Talking-Right-Conservatives-Latte-Drinking-Hollywood-Loving/dp/1586483862/ref=sr_1_4/103-3583934-7961400?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1187791055&sr=8-4" How Conservatives Turned Liberalism into a Tax-Raising, Latte-Drinking, Sushi-Eating, Volvo-Driving, New York Times-Reading, Body-Piercing, Hollywood-Loving, Left-Wing Freak Show.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) NPR's Baghdad Bureau Chief JAMIE TARABAY. She's been living in and covering Iraq since December 2005. TARABAY is Australian by birth, and Lebanese by heritage. For three years as a child she lived in Beirut during the bombings. Before joining NPR she was an AP correspondent, reporting from Southeast Asia, Jordan, Lebanon and Egypt. She is also the author of the book, "A Crazy Occupation: Eyewitness to the Intifada." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, comic, and Howard Stern Show cast member ARTIE LANGE. He's co-producer, co-writer, and star of the film "Artie Lange's Beer League' which makes its network television premiere on Comedy Central. He will also host 'Friday Night Stand-up' on Comedy Central. (Both shows on Friday, Aug 24th). LANGE was a regular on Fox's sketch comedy show Mad TV, and he's appeared in a number of comedy films, including "Old School" and "Elf." His personal life--namely his binge drinking and eating--is often fodder for Howard Stern and the rest of the cast on the daily Sirius Radio program. (REBROADCAST from 9/14/06)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer GRACE PALEY. She died Wednesday. She was 84 and had battled breast cancer. GRACE wrote short stories and poems and much of her writing was inspired by the people she knew growing up in New York, the daughter of Russian Jews. Her first collection of stories 'The Little Disturbances of Man: Stories of Men and Women at Love' was published in 1959. Her other collections included 'Enormous Changes at the Last Minute' and 'Later in the Same Day' (1985). (REBROADCAST from 1985). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The Nanny Diaries' based on the bestselling novel of the same name and starring Laura Linney and Scarlet Johanssen.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Canadian journalist PAUL WATSON. He won the 1994 Pulitzer Prize for his photograph of a dead American soldier being dragged through the streets of Mogadishu in Somalia. WATSON has also reported from Rwanda, Kosovo, Afghanistan and Iraq. Because of his work in war zones he suffers from chronic post-traumatic stress, and he says the photograph he took of the dead soldier in Somalia still haunts him.
WATSON earned three National Newspaper Awards for foreign reporting and photography while at the Toronto Star. He was recently posted to head The Los Angeles Times' Southeast Asia bureau in Jakarta. He has a new memoir, 'Where War Lives' (McClelland & Stewart). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Bill Flanagan; Review of the television shows "Friday Night Lights" and "Heroes"; Interview with Teddy Thompson. August 28, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039180].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Author and TV executive BILL FLANAGAN. He is executive vice president of MTV Networks. His new novel 'New Bedlam' (Penguin Press) skewers the cable TV business. FLANAGAN is also the author of 'A&R' (another funny book) about the music industry. 2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two first season DVD sets for 'Friday Night Lights' and 'Heroes.' Both boxes are released today. 3.) British singer-songwriter TEDDY THOMPSON. On his third album, 'Up Front & Down Low' he covers some classic country songs, including 'She Thinks I Still Care,' '(My Friends Are Gonna Be) Strangers,' and 'I'm Left, You're Right, She's Gone.' He performed his own songs on his previous albums 'Teddy Thompson' and 'Separate Ways.' THOMPSON is the son of British folk-rock duo Richard and Linda Thompson.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) We're beginning a series of hard rock and heavy metal. We start with Judas Priest lead singer ROB HALFORD. The band, originally from Birmingham, England, was most popular in the 1970s and 80s, and pioneered the heavy metal sound. Their name comes from the title of the Bob Dylan song, 'The Ballad of Frankie Lee and Judas Priest.' HALFORD left the band in 1991, citing internal tension. In 1998, HALFORD came out of the closet during an interview on MTV. HALFORD, whose nickname is the Metal God, returned to Judas Priest in 2003. The band's most popular songs include 'Breaking the Law,' 'Hell Bent for Leather,' and 'Livin' After Midnight.' (REBROADCAST from 6/21/05) 2.) Founding guitarist and vocalist JAMES HETFIELD of the metal band, 'Metallica.' HETFIELD also co-writes many of the songs for the group which has been around since the 1980s. The new 'Metallica: Some Kind of Monster' captured the band at a time of crisis, when their bass player quits and the group hires a 'therapist and performance-enhancement coach' to help them sort things out. Also during the filming, HETFIELD storms out and enters rehab. (REBROADCAST from 11/9/04)

Interview with Robert Plant; Interview with Steven Tyler and Joe Perry. August 30, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039419].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former lead singer of the band Led Zeppelin, ROBERT PLANT, the most influential pioneer of heavy metal music. PLANT co-wrote (with Jimmy Page) one of the most popular and parodied hard rock ballads, 'Stairway to Heaven.' Led Zeppelin formed in 1968 and broke up in 1980. (REBROADCAST from 1/22/04)(2.) STEVEN TYLER and JOE PERRY, two of the original members of the band Aerosmith. The 1970s band had such hits as 'Dream On,' 'Walk This Way,' and 'Sweet Emotion.' Tyler and Perry became famous for their drug and alcohol abuse, earning the nickname the toxic twins. Drugs, sex and self-destruction were a part of their image, part of their attraction. In 1997 the band collaborated on the book 'Walk This Way' which traced their rise from the music scene in New England to become one of the most successful rock bands in America. (REBROADCAST from 9/10/97)

Interview with Christopher Guest; Interview with Michael McKean; Interview with Melissa Cross; Interview with Gene Simmons; Interview with Michael McKean. August 31, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039179].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, screenwriter, musician and actor CHRISTOPHER GUEST. He co-wrote the rock parody "This Is Spinal Tap," (and the other mockumentaries, 'Best in Show' and 'A Mighty Wind') and he was a writer and regular performer on Saturday Night Live. (REBROADCAST from 9/14/89)(2.) Actor, comedian, composer and musician MICHAEL MCKEAN. He's best known for co-starring in the spoofs 'This is Spinal Tap,' 'Best in Show' and 'A Mighty Wind.' He got his start playing Lenny in the 1970s sitcom 'Laverne and Shirley.' (REBROADCAST from 2/21/06) (MORE OF HIS INTERVIEW LATER IN THE SHOW). (3.) Vocal coach MELISSA CROSS. She's otherwise known as the 'Scream Queen' for her work teaching metal, punk and hardcore performers how to use their voice without ruining their vocal chords. She teaches them how to growl, bark, bellow and scream. CROSS is classically trained. She has an instructional DVD, 'The Zen of Screaming: Vocal Instruction for a New Breed.' (REBROADCAST from 12/8/05)(4.) Leader and bassist of the band Kiss, GENE SIMMONS. The band rose to prominence and popularity in the mid 1970s. They were known for their Halloweenish face paint, black-leather outfits, eight-inch platform heels and grandiose stage shows where SIMMONS spit out blood, belched fire, and stuck out his seven-inch tongue. (REBROADCAST from 2/4/02)(5.) MICHAEL MCKEAN cont'd.

Interview with Alice Cooper. September 3, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825867].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Shock rock icon ALICE COOPER. During his heyday in the early 1970s he appeared on stage dressed like a ghoul with a gaunt face and mascara streaked eyes, performing cartoonish violent stunts. His hits included 'I'm Eighteen,' 'School's Out,' and 'Welcome to My Nightmare.' Over the years he's had friendships with such legends as Groucho Marx, Salvador Dali, and Peter Sellers. COOPER has a memoir about his life and how he replaced his addiction to drinking, with an addiction to golf. It's called 'Alice Cooper: Golf Monster: A Rock 'n' Roller's 12 Steps to Becoming a Golf Addict' (Crown Publishers). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Interview with Stephen Walt; Interview with Abraham Foxman; Obituary for Michael Jackson. September 4, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825860].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN WALT is the co-author (along with John Mearsheimer) of the book 'The Israel Lobby' (Farrar, Straus & Giroux). The book grew out of their controversial article which was published in the London Review of Books in March 2006. The two examine the impact of the Israel lobby on U.S. foreign policy, and argue that the support for Israel cannot be fully explained on either strategic or moral grounds. WALT is Professor of International Affairs at the John F. Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. (2.) ABRAHAM FOXMAN is the author of 'The Deadliest Lies' which is his response to 'The Israel Lobby.' FOXMAN argues that the article 'serves merely as an attractive new package for disseminating a series of familiar but false beliefs about Jews, Israel.' And it perpetuates the myths of Jewish conspiracies, power, self-interest and control. FOXMAN is national director of the Anti-Defamation League.(3.) We remember MICHAEL JACKSON the well-known beer expert. He died last Thursday at the age of 65 of a heart attack. He wrote the 'Pocket Guide to Beer (The Connoisseur's companion to over 1000 Beers of the World)', 'The Great Beers of Belgium' and 'The World Guide to Beer'. He also starred in the documentary series 'The Beer Hunter.' JACKSON lived in England. (REBROADCAST from 4/16/91)

Interview with Charlie Savage; Review of Bill Evans' and Phineas Newborn's albums "Everybody Digs Bill Evans" and "We Three." September 5, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825865].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLIE SAVAGE of the Boston Globe. He received the 2007 Pulitzer Prize award for National Reporting for his series of articles in the Globe about revelations that President Bush often used "signing statements" to assert his controversial right to bypass provisions of new laws. SAVAGE has written a new book which describes how the Bush Cheney administration has expanded executive power. It's called 'The Return of the Imperial Presidency and the Subversion of American Democracy.' (Little, Brown and Company). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD review two new re-reissues from the fall of 1958. They are 'Everybody Digs Bill Evans' featuring pianist Bill Evans, and 'We Three' featuring pianist Phineas (FINE-ess) Newborn.

Interview with Jeff Garlin and Susie Essman; Obituary for D. James Kennedy. September 6, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825862].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Executive producer and co-star JEFF GARLIN and actress SUSIE ESSMAN from the HBO comedy series 'Curb Your Enthusiasm.' He plays Larry David's affable best friend and agent. She plays GARLIN's wife and as such is known for her vitriol, no-nonsense attitude, and foul-mouth. 'Curb Your Enthusiasm' begins a new season on Sunday, September 9th. GARLIN also wrote, directed, and stars in the new film
'I Want Someone to Eat Cheese With.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) We listen back to an interview with Evangelist minister and broadcaster D. JAMES KENNEDY. He died yesterday at the age of 76. He played a critical role in the rise of conservative Christianity. KENNEDY founded the Coral Ridge Presbyterian Church in Coral Ridge, Florida, and his radio and TV shows were broadcast around the world. Coral Ridge is considered a megachurch, with 10,000 members. KENNEDY stated that one of his goals was to 'reclaim America for Christ,' closing the gap between church and state that is written into the constitution. (REBROADCAST from 5/18/05)

---

Interview with Jack Goldsmith; Review of the film "3 September 7, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825863].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former head of the Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel JACK GOLDSMITH. The office advises the president on limits of executive power. GOLDSMITH resigned after nine months. During his tenure he battled the Bush White House on the infamous 'torture memos' and issues of surveillance and the trial of suspected terrorists. GOLDSMITH witnessed the scene at Attorney General John Ashcroft's hospital room, when Alberto Gonzales and Andrew Card, the White House chief of staff, demanded that an ailing Ashcroft approve a secret program that was about to expire. GOLDSMITH objected to the program. He's speaking publicly for the first time about why he resigned in the new memoir, 'The Terror Presidency' (W.W. Norton). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews '3:10 to Yuma' starring Russell Crowe and Christian Bale, a remake of a 1957 movie which was in-turn based on an Elmore Leonard short story. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews a new series, a new special and season premiere on HBO this weekend. They are respectively: 'Tell Me You Love Me' about a therapist and the couples she counsels; 'Alive Day Memories: Home from Iraq' about injured soldiers from Iraq. It features actor James Gandolfini, interviewing 10 war vets. And 'Curb Your Enthusiasm' which begins season six.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and historian BURTON HERSH. He has chronicled the Kennedy family for over 35 years. His new book is 'Bobby and J. Edgar: The Historic Face-Off Between the Kennedys and J. Edgar Hoover that Transformed America' (Avalon books) HERSH writes that as attorney general, Robert Kennedy tried to keep his FBI director on a short leash -- but Hoover's knowledge of Kennedy family secrets gave him the upper hand. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.]

Interview with Robert Reich; Interview with Charles Reynolds. September 11, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825864].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former secretary of labor under President Clinton, ROBERT REICH. His new book is 'Supercapitalism: The Transformation of Business, Democracy, and Everyday Life' (Knopf). In the book he considers these questions: 'Why has capitalism become so triumphant and democracy so enfeebled? Are these two trends connected? What, if anything, can be done to strengthen democracy?' (2.) CHARLES REYNOLDS is professor of psychiatry, neurology, and neuroscience at the University of Pittsburg School of Medicine. And he is director of the NIMH-funded Intervention Research Center for Late-Life Mood Disorders. He's co-authored a new book about depression in the elderly and how to treat it: 'Living Longer Depression Free: A Family Guide to Recognizing, Treating, and Preventing Depression in Later Life' (John Hopkins University Press).
Interview with Thomas Ricks; Commentary on the work of Derek Robinson. September 12, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825875].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Washington Post Senior Pentagon correspondent THOMAS RICKS. He'll talk about the testimony before Congress of General David Petraeus and Ambassador Ryan Crocker. RICKS is a Pulitzer prize winning journalist and the author of the bestselling book Fiasco: The American Military Adventure in Iraq. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS tells us about the war time novels of British writer Derek Robinson who served in the Royal Air Force. His novels include 'Goshawk Squadron,' 'Damned Good Show,' 'A Good, Clean Fight,' and 'Piece of Cake.'

Interview with David Cronenberg and Viggo Mortensen; Review of Sonic Youth's album "Daydream Nation"; Commentary on the words "civility" and "incivility." September 13, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825874].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director DAVID CRONENBERG and actor VIGGO MORTENSEN. The two have teamed up for the new thriller 'Eastern Promises.' The film takes place in London and is about the underworld sex-trafficking industry. It was written by Steve Knight, who wrote the screenplay for 'Dirty Pretty Things.' Previously CRONENBERG & MORTENSEN teamed up for the acclaimed 2005 film 'A History of Violence.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) Music critic MILO MILES considers the work of the art-punk band Sonic Youth. Their 1988 album 'Daydream Nation' has just been reissued in a deluxe edition double CD. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers how we use the words civility and incivility.
Interview with Joe Henry; Interview with Elvis Costello; Review of the film "In the Valley of Elah." September 14, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825872].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, songwriter, singer, producer JOE HENRY. His newest album is 'Civilians.' As performer HENRY released nine albums between 1986 and 2003. He's had a sort of cult-following for his work. His songwriting has been compared to Bob Dylan and Tom Waits. His songs include 'Richard Pryor Addresses a Tearful Nation' and 'Don't Tell Me' which was recorded by his sister-in-law, Madonna. On his 2001 album 'Scar' he collaborated with jazz musicians Ornette Coleman and Brad Mehldau. HENRY has also produced albums for Soloman Burke, and Aimee Mann. (REBROADCAST from 1/18/06)(2.) British rock star ELVIS COSTELLO. He debuted with his album 'My Aim is True' thirty years ago. And there's a 30th anniversary version of the album. COSTELLO got his start with the band The Attractions, before going solo. Since then he has performed and recorded with such artists as The Brodsky Quartet, jazz guitarist Bill Frisell, and collaborated with Burt Bacharach. (REBROADCAST from 2/28/89)(3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'In the Valley of Elah' which stars Tommy Lee Jones as a former military MP and father of a young soldier who has gone AWOL after returning from active duty in Iraq. The film was written and directed by Paul Haggis.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) EGIL 'BUD' KROGH was one of the 'President's men' in the Watergate era. He was co-director of a Special investigations Unit known as 'the plumbers' which was tasked by President Nixon with stopping leaks of top-secret information. Believing that leaks were a matter of national security, KROGH approved a covert operation to break in and burglarize the psychiatrist's office of Daniel Ellsberg ? the person who had leaked the Pentagon papers to the New York Times. KROGH pled guilty to criminal conspiracy and served time in prison. He now has a new memoir, 'Integrity: Good People, Bad Choices and Life Lessons from the White House' (PublicAffairs). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Jeffrey Toobin; Interview with David Barboza. September 19, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825664].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Legal analyst JEFFREY TOOBIN. He is a staff writer for The New Yorker. He is also a legal analyst for CNN. His new book is about the internal wrangling on the Supreme Court, 'The Nine: Inside the Secret World of the Supreme Court' (Doubleday). His other books include, 'Too Close to Call' (about the 2000 Presidential election), 'A Vast Conspiracy,' (about the Clinton sex scandals) and 'The Run of His Life' (about the O.J. Simpson trial). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) Journalist DAVID BARBOZA is a foreign correspondent for The New York Times, covering business and culture in China. He'll discuss the series of recalls and product safety scandals coming out of China.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author DANIEL MENDELSOHN. His book 'The Lost: a search for six of six million' (Harper Perennial) is about investigating what happened to his great uncle's family. As a child, old Jewish relatives told stories of family members killed in the Holocaust. Mendelsohn undertook a worldwide search for surviving members of his family's town. Mendelsohn discovered letters from the family begging their relatives in the U. S. to help them get out of their Ukranian town. MENDELSOHN teaches at Bard College. (REBROADCAST from 11/08/06) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews 'The War,' the new documentary series about World War Two by Ken Burns, which premiers on PBS Sunday night. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Into the Wild,' the new film directed and adapted by Sean Penn from the best seller 'Into the Wild' by Jon Krakauer.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian DEMITRI MARTIN. His new DVD is called Person, and it's his one-hour Comedy Central special that aired earlier this year. Martin is best known for his appearances on The Daily Show with John Stewart. He's also written for the Conan O'Brien Show, for which he garnered an Emmy nomination.(2.) Actor ANTHONY ANDERSON. He stars as a traumatized cop in the new Fox TV series K-Ville. The drama is set in post-Katrina New Orleans, and it's gotten critical acclaim and high ratings. The series is filmed on location in New Orleans, and airs Mondays at 9 PM. Anderson has appeared in many films, including Hustle and Flow, The Departed, and Big Momma's House; his TV credits include Law & Order: SVU, The Bernie Mac Show and The Shield.

Interview with Philip Roth; Interview with Kevin Smith and Ray Wise; Review of Tegan and Sara's album "The Con." September 25, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825870].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist PHILIP ROTH. His new novel 'Exit Ghost' is his ninth and final Nathan Zuckerman book. He began the series in 1979 with 'The Ghost Writer.' In all ROTH has written 28 novels. There's also a new Library of Congress compendium of the series, 'Zuckerman Bound.' ROTH has been the recipient of numerous awards: The National Book Award (for 'Goodbye Columbus,' and 'Sabbath's Theatre'); the Pulitzer Prize for 'American Pastoral' in 1997; the PEN/Faulkner Awards (for 'Operation Shylock' and 'The Human Stain'); and the American Academy of Arts and Letters' prestigious Gold Medal for Fiction.(2.) Writer/director KEVIN SMITH and actor RAY WISE. They are working together on the new TV show 'Reaper' on the CW network. (It premieres Tuesday, September 25th). The show is about a 21 year old slacker, Sam, who discovers that when he was born his parents sold his soul to the devil. Now Sam must be the devil's bounty hunter and help return evil-doers to hell. WISE plays the devil. WISE has been on the TV shows 'Twin Peaks,' '24' and in the film 'Good Night & Good Luck.' SMITH wrote and directed the films 'Chasing Amy,' 'Clerks,' and 'Silent Bob Strikes Back.' (THIS INTERVIEW IS CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI). (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'The Con' the new album by the Canadian twins Tegan and Sara Quin. Their music has been used in a number of American TV shows including, 'Grey's Anatomy,' 'The L Word,' and 'Medium.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Haitian-born writer EDWIDGE DANDICAT. She was raised in Haiti by her Uncle until the age of 12 when she came to New York to live with her parents who had immigrated to the U.S. She's the author of a number of novels 'Breath, Eyes, Memory,' 'The Farming of Bones,' 'The Dew Breaker,' and the short story collection, 'Krik? Krak!' DANICAT has a new memoir about the birth of her daughter and the death of her father and uncle all in the same year. It is 'Brother, I'm Dying.' (Knopf). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'McCoy Tyner Quartet' (Half Note label) featuring pianist McCoy Tyner, saxophonist Joe Lovano, bassist Christian McBride, and drummer Jeff 'Twain' Watts.(3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has some thoughts on the watching the 40th anniversary edition DVD of the film 'The Graduate.'

Interview with Bliss Broyard; Interview with Yaroslav Trofimov. September 27, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825770].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BLISS BROYARD has written a new family memoir 'One Drop: My Father's Hidden Life?A Story of Race and Family Secrets' (Little, Brown & Co.). Her father was the literary critic Anatole Broyard who died in 1990. BLISS, who was raised as white in Connecticut, was 24 when she learned that her father concealed his black heritage. In her book she embarks on a search for her father's mixed racial lineage. BROYARD is also the author of the short story collection 'My Father, Dancing.'(2.) Journalist YAROSLAV TROFIMOV (YAR-i-slov TRAHF-i-mov) is a staff foreign correspondent of The Wall Street Journal. In his new book 'The Siege of Mecca' (Doubleday) he traces the beginning of the global jihad to an incident that occurred on November 20, 1979. It was first morning of the new Muslim century and hundreds of gunmen seized Islam's holiest shrine, the Grand Mosque in Mecca. The men came from dozens of countries. TROFIMOV is also the author of 'Faith at War: A Journey on the Frontlines of Islam, from Baghdad to Timbuktu.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director JUDD APATOW (pronounced AAH-puh-tow) and actor SETH ROGAN. APATOW wrote and directed the hit comedy 'Knocked Up' which is now out on DVD. ROGAN stars in it as a slacker who becomes a father after a one-night stand. APATOW also wrote and directed the comedy hit '40 Year Old Virgin.' APATOW also worked on the Emmy award winners 'Freaks and Geeks' (as did ROGAN) and 'The Ben Stiller Show.' He was a writer for 'The Larry Sanders Show.' (REBROADCAST from 5/31/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.)

Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Revival' the new solo album by John Fogerty. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The Darjeeling Limited' the new film by Wes Anderson.

---

Interview with Wes Anderson and Jason Schwartzman; Review of new television shows; Review of Lee Morgan's album "Lee Morgan, Volume 2 October 1, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825771].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director/writer WES ANDERSON and actor JASON SCHWARTZMAN. Their new film is 'The Darjeeling Limited' (which also stars Owen Wilson, and Adrien Brody). It's about three estranged brothers who go to India on a spiritual quest. ANDERSON's other films include 'The Royal Tennenbaums,' 'Bottle Rocket' and 'Rushmore.' SCHWARTZMAN made his acting debut in ANDERSON's 'Rushmore.' His other films include 'Marie Antoinette,' 'Shopgirl,' and 'I (Heart) Huckabees.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new TV season and in particular 'Aliens in America' a sitcom that premieres tonight on the CW network, and 'Pushing Daisies' the comedy-drama that premieres Wednesday night on ABC. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a reissue of music recorded by jazz trumpeter Lee Morgan at the age of 18: 'Lee Morgan, Volume 2: Sextet' (Blue Note).

---

Interview with Seymour Hersh; Interview with Barry Sonnenfeld and Bryan Fuller; Review of Ann Patchett's novel "Run." October 2, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825927].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist SEYMOUR Hersh is a regular contributor to The New Yorker magazine. He has written in depth about the Bush administration. His article in this week's edition ('Shifting Targets') is about the administration's shift in position on Iran, redefining the war in Iraq as a strategic battle between the U.S. and Iran. HERSHEY exposed the Abu Ghraib prison scandal in 2004, in a series of articles published in the magazine early in 2005. He has been the recipient of the Pulitzer Prize, five George Polk Awards, two National Magazine Awards, and a dozen other prizes. He is also the author of eight books including 'Chain of Command' about Abu Ghraib. (2.) Co-executive producers BARRY SONNENFELD and BRYAN FULLER of the new comedy/drama 'Pushing Daisies' on ABC. The show combines romance, fantasy and mystery and is about a guy who can bring the dead back to life with a mere touch. FULLER created the series and also created the TV series 'Dead Like Me' and was a writer and executive producer on 'Heroes.' SONNENFELD directed the 'Men in Black' films and the 'Addams Family' films. He also was executive producer of the TV show 'The Tick.' (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Run' (HarperCollins) the new novel by Ann Patchett.

Interview with Sarah Silverman; Interview with Tom Parker Bowles. October 3, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825926].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actress SARAH SILVERMAN. The second season of her The Sarah Silverman Show begins tomorrow on Comedy Central (Wednesdays @ 10:30). SILVERMAN's one-woman off-broadway show 'Jesus is Magic' was made into a film. Silverman's satire is ribald and rude, controversial, and almost nothing is off limits with jokes about September 11th, AIDS and the Holocaust. Silverman has also appeared in a number of films including 'The Aristocrats,' 'School of Rock' and 'There's Something About Mary.' She was a cast member of Saturday Night Live for the 1993-4 season. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) TOM PARKER BOWLES is a British food critic who has columns in 'The Mail on Sunday,' 'Night and Day,' and 'Tatler.' He is also the son of Prince Charles's wife Camilla. His new book is 'The year of Eating Dangerously: A Global Adventure in Search of Culinary Extremes.' (St. Martin's press).
Interview with Garry Wills; Interview with Devra Davis. October 4, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039435].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer prize winning historian GARRY WILLS. His new book is about the separation of church and state written into the constitution by our founding fathers, and the challenges to it thru the rise of evangelical fervor over the years. His new book is 'Head and Heart: American Christianities' (Penguin Press). WILLS says that contrary to popular notion, the separation of church and state is 'the great protector of religion, not its enemy.' WILLS is the author of the books 'Lincoln at Gettysburg,' and 'What Jesus Meant.' He is a Professor of History Emeritus at Northwestern University. (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Epidemiologist DEVRA DAVIS is the author of the book, 'The Secret History of the War on Cancer' (Basic Books). In the book she argues that we are ignoring dozens of cancer-causing chemicals like asbestos, benzene, vinyl chloride, and dioxin. DAVIS writes that ? like the tobacco companies ? the chemical industry has managed to obfuscate the carcinogenic dangers of chemical and other toxic waste. DAVIS is the Director of the Center for Environmental Oncology at the University of Pittsburg Cancer Institute, and Professor, Department of Epidemiology, Graduate School of Public Health.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer SHALOM AUSLANDER (OWs-lan-der) is the author of the memoir, 'Foreskin's Lament' (Riverhead Books) about growing up in a strict, socially isolated Orthodox Jewish community, and his attempt to break free of it. Tom Perrotta (author of 'Little Children') describes the book as a 'scathing theological rant, a funny, oddly moving coming-of-age memoir.' AUSLANDER has also written for The New Yorker, Esquire, and The New York Times Magazine. And he is the author of the short story collection, 'Beware of God.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) A.J. JACOBS is the editor at large of Esquire. His latest year long experiment resulted in the book, 'The Year of Living Biblically: One Man's Humble Quest to Follow the bible as Literally as Possible' (Simon & Schuster). He is also is the author of a book 'The Know-It-All' about the year he spent reading the entire 'Encyclopedia Britannica.'

---

Interview with Stephen Colbert. October 9, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039369].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN COLBERT ('Col-BEAR') host of Comedy Central's 'The Colbert Report' (pronounced 'Re-pore'). The show is modeled to parody The Bill O'Reilly show. In fact in a New Yorker review, Nancy Franklin writes, 'Colbert resembles nobody more than he does Bill O'Reilly, and like O'Reilly, he conveys fake humility and easy rage toward inappropriate targets.' COLBERT is the former fake senior correspondent on Comedy Central's The Daily Show with John Stewart. COLBERT has a new book, 'I am America (And So Can You!)' (Grand Central Pub). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Gretchen Morgenson; Interview with Adam Fierro, Stuart Herrington, and David Danzig. October 10, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039364].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Business columnist GRETCHEN MORGENSON has covered the financial markets for The New York Times since 1988. And she won the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for her 'trenchant and incisive' coverage of Wall Street. She is also assistant business and financial editor for the Times. She's been covering the sub prime loan crisis in her columns and its effect on the markets and the economy. (2.) TV producer ADAM FIERRO, intelligence expert RETIRED COLONEL STUART HERRINGTON and human rights advocate DAVID DANZIG discuss TV violence. This year, the Human Rights First Award for Excellence in Television will be given to a show that depicts torture in a realistic way. According to interviews with military leaders, the TV portrayal of torture has changed interrogation techniques in the field. Adam Fierro is a producer for The Shield. Stuart Herrington is a military intelligence specialist. Human rights First's David Danzig is the Director of the Prime Time Torture Project, and he's created a 14 minute video intended to teach the difference between TV and actual interrogation methods. Shows nominated for the award include Lost, Criminal Minds, The Closer and The Shield. The winner will be announced October 15 2007.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ROBERT SATLOFF is the author of the book 'Among the Righteous: Lost Stories from the Holocaust's Long Reach into Arab Lands' (now in paperback, PublicAffairs). It's about the Arabs who protected or aided Jews in North Africa where Nazi Germany, Vichy France, and fascist Italy exported anti-Semitic policies during World War Two. SATLOFF is executive director of the Washington Institute for Near East Policy. (REBROADCAST from 12/14/07)(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the first solo album 'Is It News' by Texas blues and rock & roll drummer, frontman and songwriter Doyle Bramhall. Previously his played in his own band the Chessman and in Stevie Ray Vaughn's band. (3.) Actor, producer, writer, director GEORGE CLOONEY. He's starring in the new thriller 'Michael Clayton.' He also recently starred in 'Syriana' for which he won an Academy award for best supporting actor. Before that he co-wrote, directed, and co-starred in the film "Good Night, and Good Luck' about the showdown between legendary journalist Edward R. Murrow and Senator Joseph McCarthy The film is receiving much critical acclaim. CLOONEY made his directing debut with the film 'Confessions of a Dangerous Mind.' His acting/producing credits include 'Ocean's Eleven,' 'Ocean's Twelve,' 'The Jacket,' 'Full Frontal,' and 'Welcome to Collinwood.' He also starred in the Coen brothers' 'O Brother, Where Art Thou?' CLOONEY became a household face and name with his role on NBC's 'ER.' CLOONEY is also the nephew of the late singer Rosemary Clooney. (REBROADCAST from 10/18/05)(4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Michael Clayton' the new thriller starring George Clooney.
Interview with Mark Ruffalo; Review of the album "Rockin' Bones October 11, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039499].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MARK RUFFALO. His new film is Reservation Road. He plays a divorced lawyer who accidentally kills a child and then speeds away. It's based on the novel of the same name. The film is directed by Terry George, whose last feature was the acclaimed Hotel Rwanda. Ruffalo has had roles in many films including Zodiac, Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind, You Can Count on Me, and 13 Going on 30. (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the Rhino Records box set Rockin' Bones: '50s Punk and Rockabilly.

Interview with Al Gore; Review of Richard Russo's novel "Bridge of Sighs"; Interview with Thom Yorke; Review of the film "We Own the Night." October 12, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039366].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Vice President AL GORE. He's just been given the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize along with the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change for fighting global warming. His Academy Award winning documentary 'An Inconvenient Truth' aims to get the message out to the masses. There is also a book of the same name (published by Rodale Press). (Original airdate: 5/30/06)(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Bridge of Sighs, the new novel from bestselling author Richard Russo.(3.) THOM YORKE (pronounced 'TOM YORK') is the lead singer and songwriter for the band Radiohead. This week the band made headlines by allowing their fans to download their new album In Rainbows through their website for whatever price listeners deemed fair. Spin Magazine named Radiohead's album 'OK Computer' the number one album of the past twenty years. (Original airdate: 7/12/06)(4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews We Own the Night, starring Joaquin Phoenix and Mark Wahlberg.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ALICE SEBOLD. Her new book is called The Almost Moon. It's about a middle aged woman who murders her ailing elderly mother. Sebold is also the author of Lucky, an account of her own rape, and The Lovely Bones, about a 14-year-old girl looking down from heaven after her own rape and murder. The Lovely Bones is about to be made into a film directed by Peter Jackson. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Magic,' Bruce Springsteen's first studio album with the E Street band in five years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Host of NPR's news quiz, 'Wait, Wait. . .Don't Tell Me' PETER SAGAL (pronounced 'SAY-gul'). For his new tome, 'The Book of Vice: Very Naughty things (And How to Do Them),' (HarperEntertainment) Sagal visited strip clubs, casinos, swingers clubs, and porn sets to get a perspective on the indulgences of others and report back to the rest of us. (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews some classic Hollywood musicals that have recently been released on DVD. Titles include The Pirate, Words and Music, Royal Wedding and The Gang's All Here.

Interview with Oliver Sacks; Review of Fiery Furnaces' album "Widow City." October 17, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039496].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist OLIVER SACKS. His new book is 'Musicophilia: Tales of Music and the Brain.' It's a series of case histories that examine the relationship of music and the mind. Sacks has written eleven books; the most famous are 'Awakenings,' which was made into a film starring Robert DeNiro and Robin Williams, and 'The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat.' Sacks is a clinical professor of neurology. at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and adjunct professor of neurology at the NYU School of Medicine. Sacks has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for his work on Tourette's Syndrome, and has received many other accolades and honorary degrees. More information at HYPERLINK "http://www.oliversacks.com" www.oliversacks.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF SHOW).(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Widow City' the new album by the brother-and-sister team, the Fiery Furnaces.

---

Interview with Junot Díaz; Commentary on Norman Mailer's book "Armies of the Night"; Review of the album "The Roots of Chicha/Psychedelic Cumbias from Peru." October 18, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039497].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist JUNOT DÍAZ (pronounced 'JUNE-oh DEE-ahz'). His new book is The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao. The highly acclaimed novel tells both a family and a political story set in the Dominican Republic and the United States. The narrative trips along in a slangy style that mixes Spanish and English. Michiko Kakutani, writing about Diaz in the New York Times, said Oscar Wao is 'a book that decisively establishes him as one of contemporary fiction's most distinctive and irresistible new voices.' Diaz previously penned the short story collection Drown, published 11 years ago. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS tells us how the three day March on the Pentagon, which took place 40 years ago in October 1967, inspired Norman Mailer to write his great book Armies of the Night. Powers says that while one could not consider the march a turning point in America's opposition to the Vietnam War, it served to galvanize the opposition.(3.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews 'The Roots of Chicha/Psychedelic Cumbias from Peru.' It's a new anthology of a previously obscure rock style. (Chicha is pronounced 'CHEE-cha.') Interview with Ben Karlin; Interview with Rob Corddry; Interview with Larry Wilmore; Interview with Stephen Colbert; Review of the film "Rendition." October 19, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039500].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Daily Show and Colbert Report executive producer BEN KARLIN. He left the world of fake news on Comedy Central last year to concentrate on family. Before working as an Emmy award winning producer for The Daily Show, KARLIN was an editor of the satirical weekly newspaper, 'The Onion.' He also collaborated with Jon Stewart on his material for The Academy Awards show. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/4/06)(2.) Comedian ROB CORDDRY. He is a correspondent on The Daily Show with Jon Stewart. Rob left the show for a while to star in his own short lived sitcom called The Winner. He's also had roles in recent comedy movies, including The Heartbreak Kid, I Now Pronounce You Chuck and Larry, Failure to Launch and Blades of Glory. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 3/8/07)(3.) The Daily Show Senior Black Correspondent LARRY WILMORE. Before getting the gig on the hit Comedy Central fake news show, Wilmore was a writer on 'In Living Color, and 'The PJ's.' He created and was executive producer of 'The Bernie Mac Show,' for which he won an Emmy and a Peabody Award. (Original airdate: 6/5/07)(4.) STEPHEN COLBERT ('Col-BEAR'), host of Comedy Central's 'The Colbert Report' (pronounced 'Re-pore'). The show is modeled to parody The Bill O'Reilly show. In fact in a New Yorker review, Nancy Franklin writes, 'Colbert resembles nobody more than he does Bill O'Reilly, and like O'Reilly, he conveys fake humility and easy rage toward inappropriate targets.' COLBERT is the former fake senior correspondent on Comedy Central's The Daily Show with John Stewart. COLBERT has a new book, 'I am America (And So Can You!)' (Grand Central Pub). (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/9/07)(5.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Rendition, starring Jake Gyllenhaal.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Guitarist, songwriter and actor DAVE GROHL of the band Foo Fighters. Previously he was the drummer for the grunge band Nirvana; he formed Foo Fighters after the death of Kurt Cobain in 1994. The band has a sixth album 'Echoes, Silence, Patience & Grace.' It includes a song he wrote in tribute to two minors trapped in a mine collapse in Australia. When the men were trapped they requested an iPod with Foo Fighers songs sent down to them. GROHL heard about the request, sent them a note, and then later met with one of the miners. GROHL also performed as a drummer on Tenacious D's debut album, and later appeared in the 2006 movie, 'Tenacious D in The Pick of Destiny.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former undercover CIA agent VALERIE PLAME WILSON. Her new memoir is 'Fair Game: My Life as a Spy, My Betrayal by the White House' (Simon & Schuster). She was outed as an undercover agent by columnist Robert Novak in 2003. This was shortly after her husband former ambassador Joseph Wilson had written an op-ed piece contradicting Bush's contention that Saddam Hussein had tried to procure yellowcake uranium from Niger. Scooter Libby, Vice President Cheney's chief of staff, was indicted and given a 30-month sentence for revealing PLAME's identity to the press. His sentence was commuted by President Bush. PLAME and her husband still have a case in civil court in an attempt to unravel who started the leak. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Steve Carell; Review of Mickey Heart and Zakir Hussain's album "Global Drum Project," and Loop 2.4.3's album "Batterie." October 24, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039429].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor STEVE CARELL ('Cab-RELL'). He's starring in the new comedy film 'Dan in Real Life.' CARELL is best known for his role as Michael Scott in NBC's 'The Office.' His other film roles include 'The 40 Year Old Virgin,' and 'Little Miss Sunshine.' He rose to fame as a correspondent on 'The Daily Show with Jon Stewart' where he was part of the team from 1999 to 2004. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews two recent albums that are centered on percussion: 'Global Drum Project' (on the Shout! Factory Label) by Grateful Dead drummer Mickey Heart and tabla master Zakir Hussain; and 'Batterie' (Music Starts From Silence label) the debut album by the duo Loop 2.4.3.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist STEVE LEVINE ('VEEN') has been a foreign correspondent for 18 years, with posts in the Soviet Union, Pakistan and the Philippines. He's reported for The Wall Street Journal,' 'The New York Times,' and 'The Washington Post.' In his new book 'The Oil and the Glory: the Pursuit of Empire and Fortune on the Caspian Sea' (Random House) he writes about the high-stakes political gamesmanship to get access to and control the rich oil resources in the Caspian Sea. (2.) New Orleans trumpeter and composer TERENCE BLANCHARD. His new recording is 'A Tale of God's Will' (Blue Note) which is a requiem for Katrina. Portions of the recording were used in Spike's Lee's HBO documentary 'When the Levees Broke.' BLANCHARD has scored a number of Spike Lee films including 'Inside Man,' '25th Hour,' 'Mo' Better Blues,' 'Malcom X,' and 'Bamboozled.' And he has also scored the films 'Talk to Me,' 'Eve's Bayou,' 'Barbershop,' 'Soul of the Game' and 'Clockers.' BLANCHARD got his start with Art Blakey's Jazz Messengers. He is artistic director for the Thelonious Monk Institute at the University of Southern California.

Interview with Chuck Close; Commentary on MOTown Records in 1965; Interview with Richard Gere; Review of the film "Before the Devil Knows You're Dead." October 26, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039102].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist CHUCK CLOSE. He's been called "the most methodical artist that has ever lived in America" and the "reigning portraitist of the Information Age." He creates jumbo size faces on canvas (8 or 9 feet high), copying them from photographs. They are painted in a dotted faux pointillist style. In 1989 CLOSE suffered a stroke which left him paralyzed from the neck down, gaining partial use of his hand with a brace, he learned to paint all over again. He is the subject of a new comprehensive book 'Chuck Close: Work' (Prestel Publishing) by Christopher Finch. And he's the inspiration for a new dance portrait 'C to C (Close to Chuck)' which makes its world premiere on Oct 27th during the American Ballet Theatre's fall season at City Center in New York. It's includes music composed by friend and frequent subject Philip Glass. (REBROADCAST from 4/14/98)(2.) Rock historian ED WARD profiles Motown Records in 1965.(3.) Actor RICHARD GERE. He has almost 40 films to his credit, including 'Days of Heaven,' 'American Gigolo,' 'An Officer and a Gentleman,' 'The Cotton Club,' 'Looking for Mr. Goodbar,' and 'Chicago.' In his latest film 'The Hoax' GERE plays a scam artist who gets a major book publisher to pay him a seven figure publishing deal. It's based on the true story of Clifford Irving who claimed to be a Howard Hughes biographer. It's now out on DVD. (REBROADCAST from 4/4/07)(4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Before the Devil Knows You're Dead, directed by Sidney Lumet, starring Phillip Seymour Hoffman and Ethan Hawke.

Interview with Garry Kasparov; Interview with Casey Affleck. October 29, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039467].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Chess master and politician GARRY KASPAROV (pronounced 'kas-PAR-ov'). He's running for president of Russia in 2008 as the leader of an opposition coalition known as The Other Russia. He's also published a new book, called How Life Imitates Chess: Making the Right Moves, from the Board to the Boardroom. In 2005, Kasparov formed the United Civil Front party, with the mission of working to preserve electoral democracy in Russia. In the mid 1980s, Kasparov became the youngest ever world chess champion. He was the highest rated chess player in the world from 1985 to his retirement in 2005. He has written several books on chess and contributes to the Wall Street Journal, Time magazine and Forbes. More info on The Other Russia at HYPERLINK "http://www.theotherrussia.org/" http://www.theotherrussia.org/. (2.) Actor CASEY AFFLECK. He stars in the new film Gone, Baby, gone, directed by his brother, Ben Affleck. The movie is based on the novel by Dennis Lehane. Casey is a Boston-based blue collar private investigator. Casey has also been in the Oceans films (11, 12 and 13), American Pie I and II and Good Will Hunting.
Interview with Jerry Seinfeld; Interview with James Fallows. October 30, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039427].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic and actor JERRY SEINFELD. He stars in Bee Movie, an animated feature. Seinfeld began his career as a stand up comic, and went on to star in the NBC hit television show Seinfeld, which ran from 1989 to 1998. He won a Golden Globe and Emmy for his work on the show. (2.) Journalist JAMES FALLOWS. He's living in China, and writes for The Atlantic Monthly. He'll talk about Chinese factories, the subject of his recent article, 'China Makes, the World Takes.' Fallows has written for The Atlantic Monthly for 25 years. His website is HYPERLINK "http://jamesfallows.theatlantic.com/" http://jamesfallows.theatlantic.com/.

Interview with Peta Thornycroft; Interview with James Weinstein; Review of the album "I'm Not There." October 31, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039431].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PETA THORNYCROFT. She recently received a Lifetime Achievement Award from the International women's Media foundation for her reports from Zimbabwe. During a 2001 crackdown on journalists in Zimbabwe, Thornycroft renounced her British citizenship and became a Zimbabwean citizen so that she could remain in the country and keep reporting. She's one of the few remaining independent reporters left in that country. She helped to create the Media Monitoring Project, an independent trust that works to promote responsible journalism in Zimbabwe, as well as the Public Broadcasting Initiative to train journalists. (2.) Orthopedic surgeon JAMES WEINSTEIN, MD (pronounced 'wine-styne'). He is the Chair of the Department of Orthopedic Surgery at Dartmouth College and is considered one of the nation's leading experts on low back pain. He'll tell us about the outcome of a multi-year study examining surgical vs. non-operative treatment for lumbar disk herniation. He says that there is little difference in outcomes, and that surgery is not necessarily the best choice. Weinstein is an advocate of conservative, non-invasive treatment. The study was published in JAMA last year and can be found at HYPERLINK "http://jama.ama-assn.org/cgi/content/full/296/20/2441" http://jama.ama-assn.org/cgi/content/full/296/20/2441. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new soundtrack album for the Bob Dylan biopic I'm Not There. The movie does not open until November 21, but the 2-disc soundtrack is already available. It features 34 Dylan songs covered by artists including My Morning Jacket and Sonic Youth.

Interview with Clive Stafford Smith; Interview with Pat McCarthy. November 1, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039461].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Attorney CLIVE STAFFORD SMITH. He represents dozens of prisoners held in the United States detention facility at Guantanamo Bay. His new book is called Eight O Clock Ferry to the Windward Side: Seeking Justice in Guantanamo Bay. It's a first hand, independent account of the activities inside the prison camp known as Gitmo. SMITH is the Legal director of the UK Charity Reprieve, and in addition to his work at Guantanamo, he has spent nearly two decades representing death row inmates in the southern United States.(2.) Attorney CAPTAIN PAT MCCARTHY. He is the chief counsel for the U.S. government in Guantanamo Bay. He offers an alternate view of the prison.

Interview with Kevin Costner; Review of DVD releases of the television shows "Twin Peaks," "Seinfeld," and "My So-Called Life"; Interview with Brad Bird and Patton Oswalt; Review of the film "American Gangster." November 2, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039463].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor KEVIN COSTNER. His latest film, Mr.Brooks, is now out on DVD. He plays a loving family man who is also a serial killer. Costner is both an actor and director. He has two Academy Awards for directing the film Dances With Wolves. Costner's first movie role was in The Big Chill. He plays the friend who commits suicide and brings the group together. Ironically, all of his speaking scenes were cut from the film, so all we see of Costner is a shot of his hand peeping out from beneath a sheet. Costner's other films include Field of Dreams, Tin Cup, Waterworld, Bull Durham and The Upside of Anger. (Rebroadcast. Original airedate: 5/24/07)(2.) TV Critic DAVID BIANCULLI tells us about three big box DVD sets of the shows Twin Peaks, Seinfeld, and My So-Called Life. All are filled with bonus materials, including lost and deleted scenes, documentaries, and other features.(3.) Director/writer BRAD BIRD and comedian/actor PATTON OSWALT. Weiner directed and Oswalt stars in the film Ratatouille, the animated feature from Pixar about a foodie rat who becomes a chef in a top Paris kitchen. It's now out on DVD. BIRD also directed and wrote The Incredibles and the Iron Giant. In addition to acting, OSWALT is a writer and stand-up comedian who has had his own comedy specials and appeared in the TV shows The King of Queens and Reno 911! His second comedy album is called Werewolves and Lollipops and was released in July 2007. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 6/28/07)(4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews American Gangster, starring Russell Crowe and Denzel Washington.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Scientist J. CRAIG VENTER. He's been working to decode the human genome, and has published an autobiography called My Life Decoded/My Genome: My Life. Venter has also just published his own genetic code. It's the first time a diploid genome from one individual has been made public. Venter's work has sparked controversy over the years. For a long time, he ran a privately funded parallel version of the Human Genome Project through the company Celera Genomics, with the intention of using the information for profit. Venter founded The Institute for Genomic Research in 1992, and he is the president of the J. Craig Venter Institute. Venter is working on creating artificial life, now that he has unlocked the genetic code.(2.) Aliens in America TV writers/producers DAVID GUARASCIO ('gar-AH-see-oh'), MOSES PORT, and SAMEER GARDEZI ('gar-DAY-zee'). Guarascio and Port are co-creators and exec producers, and Gardezi is a writer for the new sitcom that airs Monday nights on the CW network. It's about a Midwestern family that takes in a Pakistani Muslim exchange student. Guarascio and Port also worked together on the sitcoms Just Shoot Me and Mad About You.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AHMED RASHID. He'll tell us about the latest developments in Pakistan, since President Musharraf declared emergency rule over the weekend. Rashid has published several best selling novels and also writes for the Washington Post, the International Herald Tribune, the Daily Telegraph (London) and other publications. Rashid was born in Lahore and is based in Pakistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Terror Dream: Fear and Fantasy in Post 9/11 America by Susan Faludi.

---

Interview with Percy Carey, a.k.a. MF Grimm; Obituary for Mary Lillian Ellison; Review of the film "L'avocat de la terreur." November 7, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039236].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rapper PERCY CAREY, AKA MF Grimm. He's in a wheelchair, after surviving several murder attempts. He's just published an autobiographical graphic novel called Sentences: The Life of MF Grimm. He's also released a new LP, his sixth; The Hunt for the Gingerbread Man. Carey grew up on the Upper West side of Manhattan. His neighbor Morgan Freeman got him a job as a child actor on Sesame Street, where he worked for four years. He served time in jail for conspiracy of distribution and sales of narcotics. His other albums include American Hunger, Scars and Memories, and Special Herbs and Spices Volume I. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Wrestler MARY LILLIAN ELLISON, AKA The Fabulous Moolah, and film director RUTH LEITMAN (LIGHT-man). Ellison died Friday at age 84. She was a wrestler, promoter and trainer on the women's circuit for more than 50 years. Ellison got her nickname because when asked why she wanted to wrestle, replied it was for the money: "I want to wrestle for the moolah." For the 1950s to the 1980s, The Fabulous Moolah held versions of the Women's Wrestling Championship, save for brief periods. She made a comeback in 1999. At age 76, Moolah beat opponent Ivory in Cleveland and was again proclaimed champion. Ruth Leitman's 2005 documentary, "Lipstick and Dynamite," takes a look at the world of lady wrestling, a phenomenon that started in the 1930s as a form of entertainment and sport. Ellison's 2002 autobiography, written with Larry Platt, is entitled "The Fabulous Moolah: First Goddess of the Squared Circle." (DAVE DAVIES interviews. Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/18/05)

(3.) Film critic John Powers reviews the documentary "Terror's Advocate (L'Avocat de la Terreur)." Directed by Barbet Schroeder, it's about the French lawyer Jacques Verges, best known for defending terrorists, war criminals and militants.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer KATHA POLLITT. Her new book is Learning to Drive: And Other Life Stories. It's a collection of personal essays. Pollitt is best known for her feminist, left of center political commentary, such as the regular column 'Subject to Debate' in The Nation, where she's been writing since 1980. Her work has also appeared in The New York Times, the New Yorker, Harper's, The Atlantic Monthly, and many more publications. She won a National Book Critics Circle Award for Antarctic Traveller, a volume of poetry. Her website is http://www.kathapollitt.blogspot.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the DVD release of The Three Penny Opera from 1931.

Interview with Jemaine Clement and Bret McKenzie; Interview with Reynolds Price; Review of the film "No Country for Old Men." November 9, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039402].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Music-comedy duo JEMAINE CLEMENT and BRET MCKENZIE of the group 'Flight of the Conchords.' They hail from New Zealand and were named Best Alternative comedy Act at the 2005 U.S. Comedy Arts Festival. The first season of their hit HBO series 'Flight of the Conchords' is now out on DVD. It's about two transplanted New Zealanders who live in New York City's Lower East side. (Original airdate: 6/14/07)(2.) Writer REYNOLDS PRICE. His book is 'Letter to a Godchild (Concerning Faith)' is now out in paperback. Price has penned a total of 37 volumes of fiction, poetry, plays, essays and translations. His 1962 book 'A Long and Happy Life' won the William Faulkner Award for a best first novel. Price has taught at Duke University since 1958, and has won numerous awards and honors for his work. (Original airdate: 6/19/06)(3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews No country for Old Men, directed by Joel and Ethan Cohen, adapted from the book by Cormac McCarthy.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN remembers the literary giant NORMAN MAILER, who died on Saturday at age 84. (2.) Author NORMAN MAILER. We'll listen back to a 1991 interview. Mailer made his reputation with his debut novel The Naked and The Dead, published in 1948, and he wrote 17 books in all, including Pulitzer Prize winners The Executioner's Song and The Armies of the Night. He turned his book Tough Guys Don't Dance into a film which he directed. Mailer fostered a cult of the personality as a tireless self-promoter. His final work was The Castle in the Forest, published earlier this year. (Original airdate: 10/8/91)(3.) Writer ROBERT KUTTNER. His new book is called The Squandering of America: How the Failure of Our Politics Undermines Our Prosperity.' Kuttner is founder and co-editor of The American Prospect magazine, a Senior Fellow at the Demos Public Policy Center, and a regular contributor to the Boston Globe. He wrote a column for BusinessWeek for 20 years, and he is a regular radio and TV commentator.

Interview with Adrian Levy and Catherine Scott-Clark; Review of the television show "Quarterlife"; Review of Robert Plant and Alison Krauss's album "Raising Sand." November 13, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039400].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British investigative journalists ADRIAN LEVY and CATHERINE SCOTT-CLARK. Their new book is 'Deception: Pakistan, the United States, and the Secret Trade in Nuclear Weapons.' (Walker & Co.) It's about Pakistan's clandestine nuclear network, and America's role in condoning and aiding Pakistan's nuclear ambitions. LEVY and SCOTT-CLARK are both senior correspondents for the Guardian; previously they worked for the Sunday Times of London. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new show by Marshall Herskovitz and Ed Zwick, the creators of 'Thirtysomething' and executive producers of 'My So-Called life.' It's called 'Quarterlife' and is not on TV but on the internet. BIANCULLI's new website is TVworthwatching.com(3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Raising Sand' the album that teams up Led Zeppelin's Robert Plant with bluegrass performer Alison Krauss.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film maker BRIAN DE PALMA. His films include 'Carrie,' 'Scarface,' 'The Untouchables' and 'Casualties of War.' His new film 'Redacted' is about a U.S. army squad who raped and murdered a 14 year old girl in Iraq. It's based on reports he saw on the internet about the incident. DE PALMA uses a raw, cinema verite technique in the film, using soldier's blogs, video diaries and online testimonials. (2.) Army chaplain REV. JOHN BARKEMEYER. He previously was pastor of St. Cajetan Church in Chicago's Morgan Park. BARKEMEYER has completed two tours of Iraq; when he was serving in Anbar he was the only Catholic chaplain in the province. He would often travel by convoy from outpost to outpost, administering last rites, holding mass, or comforting soldiers. While in Iraq his journal entries were published in the Daily Southtown.

Interview with John Daly; Interview with Matthew Diffee; Commentary on Swamp Dogg. November 15, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039234].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pro golfer JOHN DALY. He has two new books, a memoir, 'My Life in and out of the Rough: The Truth Behind All That Bull* You Think You Know About Me' and a golfer's guide, 'Golf My Own Damn Way: A Real Guy's Guide Chopping Ten Strokes Off Your Score.' (2.) Cartoonist MATTHEW DIFFE has edited a new book about the cartoons that didn't make it into The New Yorker magazine. It's called 'The Rejection Collection, Vol2: The Cream of the Crap.' (3.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the long career of songwriter, producer and performer Jerry Williams, Jr. otherwise known as Swamp Dogg.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PHILIP WINSLOW. He has worked for the Christian Science Monitor, the Toronto Star, ABC radio news, and CBC radio. He also served in two United Nations peacekeeping missions and spent nearly three years living in the West Bank. His new memoir 'Victory for Us is to See You Suffer: In the West Bank with the Palestinians and the Israelis' (Beacon Press). It's about the time he spent working with the United Nations Relief and Works Agency in the West Bank. It was during the second Palestinian intifada, and WINSLOW transported aid across checkpoints to villages and refugee camps. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer/director TODD HAYNES. His films include, 'Safe,' 'Velvet Goldmine,' and 'Far From Heaven.' His latest film 'I'm Not There' is about Bob Dylan. Six different actors play the singer.

Interview with Nellie McKay; Review of the television show "Project Runway." November 21, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039380].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer songwriter NELLIE MCKAY (rhymes with 'high'). She joins us for a concert and conversation. Her new album is called Obligatory Villagers. It's got jazz and cabaret influences, with sassy lyrics that cover the areas of feminism and zombies. McKay has also worked as an actress and stand-up comedian. Her debut CD was called Get Away From Me, a play on the Norah Jones album title Come Away With Me. More information at HYPERLINK "http://www.nelliemckay.com/" http://www.nelliemckay.com/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS tells us why he loves the TV show Project Runway, now in its fourth season on the Bravo cable network.
Interview with Eddie Angel, Danny Amis, and Robert "Big Sandy" Williams; Review of Nat King Cole's album "Welcome to the Club / Tell Me About Yourself." November 22, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039484].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A concert and conversation with LOS STRAITJACKETS. Joining us in the studio are guitarist EDDIE ANGEL, founder and guitar player DANNY AMIS and guest vocalist ROBERT 'BIG SANDY' WILLIAMS. The indie rock band's latest CD is called Rock En Espanol, Vol. 1, featuring vocals by Big Sandy and Little Willie G. The album contains Spanish language versions of rock and roll hits from the 1960s. Tracks include De Dia Y De Noche (All Day and All Night), popularized by the Kinks, La Hiedra Venenosa (Poison Ivy), made famous by the Coasters, and many more. The band performs wearing Mexican wrestling masks. (Original airdate: 6/11/07) (This interview continues into the second half of the show.)

(2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Welcome to the Club and Tell Me All About Yourself, a double CD from a new series of Nat King Cole albums from the 1950s and early 1960s reissued by Collectors' Choice Music.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director MIKE NICHOLS. Today's show is a tribute to the 1967 film classic The Graduate. There is a new 40th anniversary collector's edition DVD. NICHOLS directed The Graduate, for which he won an Oscar. He also directed the big screen classics Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf, Silkwood, Working Girl, and Primary Colors, the cable movie Wit, and the miniseries Angels in America. He has won two Emmys and many other industry awards for his work. Before he became a film director NICHOLS was known for his popular comedy improvisations with Elaine May. (Original airdate: 3/21/01)

(2.) Actor DUSTIN HOFFMAN. He starred in The Graduate. His current film in theaters is Mr. Magorium's Wonder Emporium. Hoffman's turn as Benjamin Braddock in The Graduate was a breakout role, and he was nominated for an Oscar. Hoffman won two Oscars later in his career for Kramer Vs. Kramer and Rain Man. His other films include Tootsie, Wag the Dog, Midnight Cowboy and Meet the Fockers. (Original airdate: 4/19/99)(3.) Actor, comedian and writer BUCK HENRY. Henry co-wrote the script for the The Graduate and played the role of the hotel clerk. He was screenwriter for the film version of Get Smart with Mel Brooks, Catch-22, What's Up Doc, and other films. He was a frequent host with the original cast of Saturday Night Live. (Original airdate: 2/24/97)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(4.) Singer songwriter PAUL SIMON. Along with partner Art Garfunkel, Simon wrote most of the songs used in The Graduate, including The Sounds of Silence, Mrs. Robinson and Scarborough Fair. They won a Grammy for Best Original Score Written for a Motion Picture. After Simon and Garfunkel split in 1970, SIMON continued writing songs and took up a solo singing career. His albums include The Essential Paul Simon, Still Crazy After All These Years, Graceland, and Rhythm of the Saints. (Original airdate: 12/11/00)(5.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS COMMENTS ON watching the 40th anniversary edition DVD Interview with Mark Schapiro; Review of Stewart O'Nan's novella "Last Night at the Lobster." November 26, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039486].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter MARK SCHAPIRO. His new book is called 'Exposed: The Toxic Chemistry of Everyday Products, and What's at Stake for American Power.' Schapiro is the editorial director of the nonprofit Center for Investigative Reporting in San Francisco. His work has appeared in many publications including Harper's, The Nation, Mother Jones and The Atlantic Monthly. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novella 'Last Night at the Lobster' (Viking) by Stewart O'Nan.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PETER GLEICK (pronounced like 'Click') is the cofounder of the Pacific Institute, one of the nation's leading centers for assessing water conservation and efficiency potential. GLEICK is also a MacArthur Fellow, and a member of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences. He is also the editor of the report 'The World's Water.' (2.) Writer/director TAMARA JENKINS. She wrote and directed the new film 'The Savages' about two siblings in their 40's who now have to deal with their elderly father who has dementia. The film stars Philip Seymour Hoffman and Laura Linney. Previously JENKINS wrote and directed 'The Slums of Beverly Hills.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Sharon Jones and Gabriel "Bosco Mann" Roth; Review of Britney Spears's album "Blackout." November 28, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039485].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer SHARON JONES and producer GABRIEL 'BOSCO MANN' ROTH. JONES heads the old-school Funk and Soul band 'Sharon Jones & the Dap-Kings.' ROTH is a producer, songwriter, and cofounder of Daptone Records, the label behind Sharon Jones and her band. He's also the band's bass player. They have a new album, their third, '100 Days, 100 Nights.' They've been touring and recording since 2005. The Dap-Kings can also be heard on Amy Winehouse's album 'Back to Black.' JONES recently was part of the cast touring with Lou Reed as part of the live production of 'Berlin.' And she can be seen in the upcoming Denzel Washington film 'The Great Debaters.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock Critic KEN TUCKER on the new BRITNEY SPEARS album 'Blackout.' It's her first studio album since 2003.

Interview with Andrea Elliott; Interview with Joel Hafvenstein; Review of Dewey Redman's album "The Struggle Continues." November 29, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039483].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter ANDREA(on-DRAY-uh)ELLIOTT talks about her recent New York Times Magazine cover story. She explains how the small Moroccan neighborhood of Jamaa Mezuak (Ja-MA mez-WOK) has bred terrorists responsible for a number of recent high profile attacks. Some were involved in the Madrid train bombings, some went to Iraq. She won a Pulitzer Prize this year for her series 'An Imam in America.' (2.) JOEL HAFVENSTEIN (HAF-ven-stine) worked in Afghanistan for a year trying to convince Afghan opium poppy farmers to give up what he calls "the perfect crop." Working for a private company funded by the United States Agency for International Development, it was Hafvenstein's job to provide Afghan farmers with small jobs like building canals and roads and hopefully, convince them to give up their alliance to the former Taliban government. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the Dewey Redman reissue 'The Struggle Continues' (ECM)

---

Interview with John C. Reilly and Jake Kasdan; Review of the film "The Other Side of the Mirror."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOHN C. REILLY and director JAKE KASDAN talk about their new film 'Walk Hard: the Dewey Cox story'. JAKE KASDAN woke up in the middle of the night a couple years ago and had an idea that his next film would be a fake music biopic called Walk Hard. He went on to cast JOHN C. REILLY as Dewey Cox, the fake music legend at the heart of the story who has trouble with women and drugs and who tries on a multitude of musical personalities. The film also features Jenna Fischer from NBC's The Office and was co-written and produced by Judd Apatow. Apatow and Kasdan worked together previously on the critically acclaimed TV show Freaks and Geeks. Walk Hard will be released on December 21.

(2.) ED WARD reviews the Bob Dylan concert film 'The Other Side of the Mirror.' It chronicles Dylan's performances at the Newport Folk Festivals from 1963 to 1965.

---

Interview with David W. Blight; Interview with Ruth Washington, Barbara Anne Hinksman, and Maureen Ramos.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian DAVID W. BLIGHT. He is director of Yale University's Gilder Lehrman Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolition and a professor of American history. His new book 'A Slave No More: Two Men Who Escaped To Freedom: including their own Narratives of Emancipation' (Harcourt Inc.) is based on the first hand accounts - recently uncovered - of Wallace Turnage a teenage field hand on an Alabama plantation and John Washington, an urban slave in Virginia. Using genealogical material BLIGHT reconstructed their childhoods and eventual escape from slavery. Later we will hear from their descendants. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) The descendants of John Washington: RUTH WASHINGTON is 89 and his granddaughter; BARBARA ANNE HINKSMAN, 71, is great-granddaughter; and MAUREEN RAMOS, 45, is his great-great granddaughter.

---

Interview with David Wilcove; Interview with Dorothy Cheney and Robert Seyfarth. December 5, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039430].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID WILCOVE is a professor of ecology, evolutionary biology and public affairs at Princeton University. He is one of world's leading experts on endangered species. His new book is 'No Way Home: The Decline of the World's Great Animal Migrations' (IslandPress). (2.) Husband and wife team DOROTHY CHENEY ('CHEE-nee) & ROBERT SEYFARTH (SYE-firth). She is a professor of biology and he is a professor of psychology at the University of Pennsylvania. For their new book 'Baboon Metaphysics: The Evolution of a Social Mind' (U of Chicago Press), they studied a group of baboons in Botswana, observing in particular their social organization. The two are also the authors of the book 'How Monkeys See the World.'

---

Interview with Jason Reitman and Diablo Cody; Review of Gene Watson's album "In a Perfect World." December 6, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039432].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director JASON REITMAN ('RIGHT-man') and screenwriter DIABLO CODY. They are behind the new film 'Juno' about a tough, sardonic 16 year old girl who gets pregnant and gives the baby up for adoption to a couple she finds in the Pennysaver. REITMAN also directed the film 'Thank You For Smoking.' CODY is the author of the memoir, 'Candy Girl: A Year in the Life of an Unlikely Stripper.' (Gotham Books). THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album by country singer Gene Watson. It's called 'In A Perfect World.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author RICHARD POWERS talks about his novel 'The Echo Maker.' In the book, a 27 year old man is in a car accident and emerges from a coma with a rare neurological disorder. He can recall most everything about his life, but he believes his family members and closest friends are imposters. 'The Echo Maker' won the National Book Award for fiction in 2006 and has just been released in paperback. (Original airdate: 12/12/06) (2.) Documentary director ELEANOR COPPOLA. She was shooting her own footage during the tortuous and chaotic filming of her husband FRANCIS FORD COPPOLA's film 'Apocalypse Now.' That footage became the raw material for the documentary 'Heart of Darkness' which debuted on Showtime in 1991. The film also incorporates interviews with the cast and crew and has just been released on DVD for the first time. (Original airdate: 1/24/92) (3.) Film Critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews director Jason Reitman's new film Juno.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former NPR reporter SARAH CHAYES (pronounced 'chayze'). She reported on the fall of the Taliban in 2001 for NPR. After that she decided to stay and help rebuild the country. She provides a first person account of how the Taliban are using fear and persuasion to expand their power in Afghanistan. In 2005 she established the Arghand Cooperative, HYPERLINK "http://www.arghand.org/" http://www.arghand.org/, to sell local fruit crops used in perfumes, soaps and foods. Her article about that project is in the December issue of The Atlantic. Chayes is the author of the 2006 book HYPERLINK "http://www.amazon.com/Punishment-Virtue-Inside-Afghanistan-Taliban/dp/B000NA1XSK/ref=sr_1_1?ie=UTF8&s=books&qid=1197044429&sr=1-1" The Punishment of Virtue: Inside Afghanistan After the Taliban. [THIS INTERVIEW RUNS THE ENTIRE SHOW]
Interview with Levon Helm; Obituary for Jane Rule; Commentary on DVD gifts for television lovers. December 11, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039465].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Drummer LEVON HELM formerly of The Band. When The Band joined up to back Bob Dylan in 1965, TIME magazine described the combination as 'in some ways, the most decisive moment in rock history.' They went on to record their own highly influential albums 'Music From Big Pink' and 'The Band' in 1968 and 1969. The band split up 30 years ago. Since then HELM has performed solo and with other musicians, and has acted. He was Loretta Lynn's father in the biopic 'Coal Miner's Daughter' and was cast in 'The Three Burials of Melquiades Estrada.' HELM was diagnosed with throat cancer in 1996, received surgery and radiation, and for a time couldn't sing. HELM has a new album, his first solo studio album in 25 years. It's called 'Dirt Farmer' (Vanguard). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).(2.) We remember Canadian author JANE RULE. She died November 27th at the age of 76. The cause was complications of liver cancer. RULE was one of the best known and most widely read lesbian writers. She is best known for her 1985 novel 'Desert of the Heart,' which was later adapted into the movie "Desert Hearts." She also wrote Memory Board. (Originally aired 1/29/88)(3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI has some holiday gift suggestions for the television viewers on your list.

Interview with Ahmed Rashid; Review of books for the holidays; Review of Darlene Love's and Raul Malo's albums "It's Christmas, Of Course" and "Marshmallow World and Other Holiday Favorites." December 12, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039098].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AHMED RASHID. He'll tell us about the latest developments in Pakistan and his country's upcoming election. Rashid has published several best selling novels and also writes for the Washington Post, the International Herald Tribune, the Daily Telegraph (London) and other publications. Rashid was born in Lahore and is based in Pakistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has some book recommendations for the holidays: Arthur Conan Doyle: A Life in Letters by Jon Lellenberg, Daniel Stashower and Charles Foley; The Gift: Creativity and the Artist in the Modern World, 25th Anniversary Edition, by Lewis Hyde; and four titles from The Feminist Press 2X2 Series: Here and Somewhere Else: Grace Paley and

- Page 3129 -

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film producer RICHARD ZANUCK. He produced the new film Sweeney Todd, based on the Broadway musical Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street. The film stars Johnny Depp and Helena Bonham Carter, and is directed by Tim Burton. Richard Zanuck is an Academy award winning producer whose many credits include Driving Miss Daisy, Jaws, Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, The Verdict and Rules of Engagement. He's the son of the legendary producer Darryl F. Zanuck, who founded and ran Twentieth Century Fox studios in Hollywood's golden era. He'll talk about growing up on the lot. Richard also ran Twentieth Century Fox for a short time. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF).(2.) TV producer, and writer MARSHALL HERSKOVITZ. He and his working partner Edward Zwick created and produced the critically acclaimed shows 'thirtysomething,' 'My So Called Life,' and 'Once and Again.' Their new collaboration is 'Quarterlife,' a show aired in eight minute segments on a website. It's about a group of twenty-somethings coming of age in the digital world. The website has user forums and functions as a platform for social networking. NBC recently announced that they've acquired the rights to air Quarterlife in 2008. (THIS INTERVIEW IS CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GEORGE CRILE (CRY-I) was a producer for 60 Minutes and 60 minutes II. He died in 2006. We'll listen back to an interview with Crile about his book 'Charlie Wilson's War: The Extraordinary Story of the Largest Covert Operation in History.' A film based on the back will be released this month. During the 1980s billions of rounds of ammunition and hundreds of thousands of weapons were smuggled into Afghanistan for the Afghan mujahideen in their fight against the invading Soviet Union. Charlie Wilson was the congressman from east Texas who took up the cause of the Afghan fighters, funneling money their way thru his position on the House Appropriations Committee and with the help of a CIA operative. In the second half of the show, we'll hear from CHARLIE WILSON himself. He has since retired from congress and is now a lobbyist.(Original airdate: 5/13/03)(2.) R & B musician IKE TURNER died this week. He was 76. Turner was responsible for shaping early rock n' roll, co-writing and playing piano on the 1951 song 'Rocket 88' with his band Jackie Brenston and his Delta Cats. Turner's legacy as a songwriter and bandleader was tarnished when his ex-wife TINA TURNER revealed that their thirteen year marriage was marred with drug abuse and domestic violence. IKE TURNER discovered singer Anna Mae Bullock in 1958 and renamed her TINA TURNER. Soon after, she joined his renamed band, the Ike and Tina Turner Revue. (Original airdate: 8/22/96)

---

Interview with Bettye Lavette; Obituary for Allan Berube. December 17, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039464].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Soul singer BETTYE LAVETTE. She's been singing for decades, though hasn't been well known. She recorded her first hit, 'My Man - He's a Lovin' Man,' at the age of 16. She toured with Ben E. King, Barbara Lynn, and Otis Redding. She spent six years on Broadway and touring with Cab Calloway in the musical 'Bubbling Brown Sugar.' Lavette later worked the European festival circuit. She's being crowned the Comeback Queen for the recent albums she recorded, including 'I've Got My Own Hell to Dream' (2005), and her newest 'The Scene of the Crime.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(2.) Historian ALLAN BERUBE (pronounced BEH-ruh-bay). He died this past Tuesday at age 61. Berube wrote what is considered the definitive history of gay men and lesbians in the military. Coming Out Under Fire was published in 1990 and a documentary based on the book was released in 1994. The idea for the book sprang from a box of letters recovered from a dumpster. Correspondence between a group of gay soldiers led to dozens of interviews about homosexual life in the military. Berube came out in 1969 and went on to found the San Francisco Lesbian and Gay History Project. He was awarded a MacArthur genius grant in 1996.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz saxophonist FRANK MORGAN. He died this past Friday at age 73. He was known for his bebop style, modeled after Charlie Parker. After early success, Morgan succumbed to a heroin addiction, leading to thirty years of crime, imprisonment and an absence from the stage. While in jail, he did play with other inmates; most famously, he and Art Pepper were incarcerated at San Quentin and formed a small ensemble. The Washington Post reports: 'Once asked why so many jazz musicians became addicts, he replied: 'It's about being hip. Jazz musicians would rather be dead than not be hip.'" (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 8/27/87)(2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN. Fresh Air's arbiter of filmic taste joins us for his annual year-end wrap up of movies. His top ten list has eleven entries, as the number nine slot features a tie. Here is the list:The Diving Bell and ButterflyAway From HerThere Will Be BloodSweeney Todd The SavagesNo Country for Old MenNo End in SightMichael ClaytonRatatouille & Persepolis (TIE)Grace is Gone

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director PAUL THOMAS ANDERSON. His new release is There Will Be Blood. It's based on an Upton Sinclair novel and stars Daniel Day Lewis as an oil prospector in the earliest days of the industry. Anderson's other films are the Oscar nominated films Boogie Nights and Magnolia, and Punch Drunk Love, starring Adam Sandler. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN gives us her year end round-up. Her favorite titles of 2007 in fiction are: Bridge of Sighs by Richard Russo, Min Jin Lee's Free Food for Millionaires, Paula Spencer by Roddy Doyle, Last Night at the Lobster by Stewart O'Nan, The Other Side of You by Salley Vickers, On Chesil Beach by Ian McEwan, Wash This Blood From My Hands by Fred Vargas, Run by Ann Patchett and Exit, Ghost by Philip Roth. In non-fiction, Maureen recommends The Mistress' Daughter by AM Homes, Thomas Hardy by Clare Tomalin, and Ralph Ellison: A Biography by Arnold Rampersad. For more info check our website at http://freshair.npr.org. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER runs down the best pop music of 2007, which he calls The Year in Rehabilitation. His picks are: Rehab by Amy Winehouse, Piece of Me by Britney Spears; Aly & AJ, Closure; Fiery Furnaces, Navy Nurse; Miranda Lambert, Crazy Ex Girlfriend and Teddy Thompson, Change of Heart. For more info check our website at http://freshair.npr.org.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Gospel music historian ROBERT DARDEN. He's written over 24 books. He is the former gospel music editor for Billboard magazine and is a professor of English at Baylor University, where he runs the Gospel Music Restoration Project. He'll play some examples of rare recordings. Darden is also a Baptist deacon and a drummer for an R & B band. His books include Reluctant Prophets and Clueless Disciples: Introducing the Bible by Telling Its Stories, People Get Ready! A New History of Black Gospel Music, and Mad Man in Waco. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)(2.) Film director RIDLEY SCOTT. It is the 25th anniversary of his classic Blade Runner. There's a new DVD of the film called Blade Runner: The Final Cut. We'll also talk about his most recent film American Gangster. His other films include the Oscar nominated movies Gladiator, Thelma & Louise, and Black Hawk Down.

Interview with David Cronenberg and Viggo Mortensen; Commentary on gifts for jazz lovers; Obituary for Joel Dorn; Review of holiday films. December 21, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039353].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director DAVID CRONENBERG and actor VIGGO MORTENSEN. The two teamed up for the thriller 'Eastern Promises.' It's about to be released on DVD 12/23/07. The film takes place in London and is about the underworld sex-trafficking industry. It was written by Steve Knight, who wrote the screenplay for 'Dirty Pretty Things.' Previously CRONENBERG & MORTENSEN teamed up for the acclaimed 2005 film 'A History of Violence.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/13/07).(2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD has holiday gift suggestions for jazz fans. He recommends two smaller box sets and some historical jazz on DVD. The titles are: A Life in Time: The Roy Haynes Story (Dreyfus); The Best of Von Freeman on Premonition (Premonition); and the Jazz Icons DVD series (Jazz Icons).(3.) Grammy winning record producer JOEL DORN. He died Monday at age 65 of a heart attack. Dorn worked with Roberta Flack, Bette Midler, Max Roach, Herbie Mann, the Allman Brothers and many more. He worked as an in-house producer at Atlantic Records before going out on his own, and in the late 1980s he repackaged back catalogs for the major record labels. He founded or co-founded several independent labels. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/3/91)(4.) Film critic DAVID EDELESTEIN has holiday movie recommendations for the winter break. Titles include I Am Legend, Atonement, The Kite Runner, Charlie Wilson's War, Walk Hard: The Dewey Cox Story, Sweeney Todd, and There Will Be Blood.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fresh Air critic at large JOHN POWERS tells us about the top ten cultural trends of 2007. He comments on political campaigns, Iraq movies failing at the box office, the end of the HBO hit series The Sopranos, stories about hitting the road, the TMZing of America, jocks gone wild, hip sentimentiality, the nightly ideological news, atheist chic and the writers strike. John Powers is Fresh Air's pop culture critic/critic-at-large, after serving as film critic for six years. He's covered film for Vogue and L.A. Weekly. He is the author of Sore Winners (and the Rest of Us) in George Bush's America. (2.) Fresh Air TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI. He'll tell us his picks for the best television programs of 2007. Bianculli has contributed to many newspapers and magazines, and recently left The New York Post to begin his own website, HYPERLINK "http://www.tvworthwatching.com" http://www.tvworthwatching.com. Bianculli's books include Teleliteracy: Taking Television Seriously and Dictionary of Teleliteracy: Television's 500 Biggest Hits, Misses, and Events. He is working on his next book, Dangerously Funny: The Uncensored Story of The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. He is frequently a guest host on Fresh Air. (PARTIAL AUDIO)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOHN C. REILLY and director JAKE KASDAN talk about their new film Walk Hard: the Dewey Cox Story. JAKE KASDAN woke up in the middle of the night a couple years ago and had an idea that his next film would be a fake music biopic called Walk Hard. He went on to cast JOHN C. REILLY as Dewey Cox, the music legend at the heart of the story who has trouble with women and drugs and tries on a multitude of musical personalities. The film also features Jenna Fischer from NBC's The Office, and was co-written and produced by Judd Apatow. Apatow and Kasdan worked together previously on the critically acclaimed TV show Freaks and Geeks. (Original airdate: 12/03/07)(2.) Songwriter HUGH MARTIN. Along with Ralph Blaine, he wrote 'Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas.' The song was made famous in the 1944 film Meet Me in St. Louis, but since then, many different versions have been recorded with changes in lyrics. Martin also wrote music for Broadway productions including Best Foot Forward, Look Ma, I'm Dancin' and the stage version of Meet Me in St. Louis. Martin is 95. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 12/22/06)

Interview with Steve Carell; Interview with Jeff Garlin and Susie Essman. December 26, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974038991].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor STEVE CARELL ('Cah-RELL'). He is best known for his role as Michael Scott in NBC's 'The Office.' His other film roles include 'The 40 Year Old Virgin' and 'Little Miss Sunshine.' He rose to fame as a correspondent on 'The Daily Show with Jon Stewart' where he was part of the team from 1999 to 2004. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/24/07)(2.) Executive producer and co-star JEFF GARLIN and actress SUSIE ESSMAN from the HBO comedy series 'Curb Your Enthusiasm.' He plays Larry David's affable best friend and agent. She plays GARLIN's wife and as such is known for her vitriol, no-nonsense attitude, and foul-mouth. 'Curb Your Enthusiasm' begins a new season on Sunday, September 9th. GARLIN also wrote, directed, and stars in the recent film 'I Want Someone to Eat Cheese With.' (Rebroadcast: Original airdate: 9/6/07)
Interview with Ahmed Rashid; Interview with Mark Ruffalo; Review of the album "Maria Callas December 27, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039351].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pakistani journalist AHMED RASHID. He will comment on today's assassination of former Pakistani Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto. The attack occurred at a political rally near the capital of Islamabad. News reports indicate that the attacker used a combination of gunfire and a suicide bombing. At least 14 people have died in the assault. Bhutto was pronounced dead at a hospital in Rawalpindi at 6:16 pm. Ahmed Rashid has published several best selling novels and also writes for the Washington Post, the International Herald Tribune, the Daily Telegraph (London) and other publications. Rashid was born in Lahore and is based in Pakistan. (2.) Actor MARK RUFFALO. His latest film is Reservation Road. Ruffalo has had roles in many films including In the Cut, Zodiac, Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind, You Can Count on Me, and 13 Going on 30. (Original airdate: 10/11/07. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ looks at the career of opera legend Maria Callas. EMI has just released a 70-disc collection called Maria Callas: The Complete Studio Recordings, and there is a new DVD compilation of the soprano's work called The Eternal Callas.

Interview with Al Jean; Interview with Nancy Cartwright; Commentary on Nils Lofgren. December 28, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039355].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Executive producer and writer AL JEAN of the Simpsons. He's been with the show since it began, first as writer than as executive producer. The Simpsons Movie is now out on DVD. Jean has said the Simpsons movie is about 'what happens when a man doesn't listen to his wife.' Previously JEAN worked with the TV shows Alf and It's Garry Shandling's Show. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/26/07) (2.) Actress NANCY CARTWRIGHT. Her work is heard and loved by millions, but few people know it's her. She does the voice of Bart Simpson on The Simpsons. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/26/07) (3.) Music critic MILO MILES looks at the career of Nils Lofgren, who's been a longterm guitarist for Bruce Springsteen. He's also had a solo career and he founded the mid-1970s band Grin. There are several reissues of his work: 1+1, All Out (Acadia), Nils Lofgren and Back It Up!! (Hip-O Select) Interview with David Sedaris; Interview with Cheryl Hines; Review of Madeleine Peyroux's music album "Careless love." December 28, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885144].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress CHERYL HINES. She co-stars in the HBO series 'Curb Your Enthusiasm' as Larry David's wife. She used to be a member of the theater troupe 'The Groundlings' in LA. The comedy group spawned many comedy stars, such as Lisa Kudrow, Phil Hartman, and Laraine Newman. Hines says 'Curb Your Enthusiasm' is almost all improv, so her days with The Groundlings were an important preparation for her role. She still does improv when she has a chance. (Original airdate: 11/8/04) (2.) Humorist and NPR commentator DAVID SEDARIS. He's the author of the best-selling collections 'Barrel Fever,' 'Naked,' and 'Me Talk Pretty One Day.' His latest collection is 'Dress Your Family in Corduroy and Denim' (Little, Brown). SEDARIS' essays appear regularly in Esquire, GQ and The New Yorker. His radio pieces can be heard on This American Life. In 2001 he became the third recipient of the Thurber Prize for American Humor. (Original airdate: 6/15/04) (3.) Jazz critic Kevin Whitehead reviews "Careless Love," the CD from singer Madeleine Peyroux ("pay-ROO").

Interview with Bret McKenzie and Jemaine Clement; Interview with Nellie McKay; Interview with Danny Amis, Eddie Angel, and Big Sandy. December 31, 2007. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039449].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Interview with Bret McKenzie and Jemaine Clement of the tv show "The Flight of the Conchords." This interview first aired on June 14, 2007.(2.) Nellie McKay in concert. This interview first aired on Nov. 21, 2007.(3). Interview and performance by Danny Amis, Big Sandy, and Eddie Angel of Los Straitjackets.
Interview with Nick Lowe; Review of Sarah Johns' new country music album "Big love in a small town." January 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503671].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in-studio performance and interview with British singer/songwriter NICK LOWE. His best known songs include '(What's So Funny 'Bout) Peace, Love and Understanding,' 'Cruel to be Kind,' and 'The Beast in Me' (which Johnny Cash recorded). LOWE's new album is 'At My Age.' In the early 1970s LOWE played London's pub rock scene in the band Brinsley Schwarz. After the band broke up in 1975, he produced five albums for Elvis Costello. Lowe worked with Dave Edmunds and the group Rockpile. In 1992 he was one quarter of the band "Little Village" with John Hiatt and Ry Cooder. Since 1994 he's released a number of solo albums. (rebroadcast from 7/24/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Big Love in a Small Town' the new debut country album by Sarah Johns.

Interview with Denzel Washington; Review of Judith Freeman's new book, ?The long embrace

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Actor and director DENZEL WASHINGTON. He directs and acts in the new film 'The Great Debaters' inspired by the true story of Wiley College's winning debate team of the early 1930s. The film also stars Forest Whitaker. WASHINGTON made his directorial debut with the film 'Antwone Fisher.' He won an academy for acting in the films 'Training Day,' and 'Glory.' His other films include 'Mo' Better Blues,' 'Cry Freedom,' 'John Q,' 'Man on Fire,' 'Devil in a Blue Dress,' and 'Malcolm X.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Long Embrace: Raymond Chandler and the Woman He Loved' by Judith Freeman.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer prize-winning journalist DAVID CAY JOHNSTON. He's an investigative reporter for The New York Times. In his new book, 'Free Lunch: How the Wealthiest Americans Enrich Themselves at Government Expense (and Stick You With the Bill)' (Portfolio) CAY JOHNSTON explores how government subsidies and new regulations have quietly funneled money from the poor and middle class to the rich and politically connected. CAY JOHNSTON's previous book 'Perfectly Legal' was a bestseller. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF]. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI on the fifth and final season of The Wire. The critically acclaimed HBO series has its season premiere this Sunday.

Interview with David Grohl; Review of late night television talk shows. January 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503574].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Guitarist, songwriter and actor DAVE GROHL of the band Foo Fighters. Their latest album 'Echoes, Silence, Patience, & Grace' is nominated for a Grammy for album of the year. Previously GROHL was the drummer for the grunge band Nirvana; he formed Foo Fighters after the death of Kurt Cobain in 1994. Their new album, their sixth, includes a song he wrote in tribute to two minors trapped in a mine collapse in Australia. When the men were trapped they requested an iPod with Foo Fighters songs sent down to them. GROHL heard about the request, sent them a note, and then later met with one of the miners. GROHL also performed as a drummer on Tenacious D's debut album, and later appeared in the 2006 movie, 'Tenacious D in The Pick of Destiny.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 10/22/07) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI on the return of the late night talk shows: Leno's, O'Brien's, Ferguson's and Kimmel's.
Interview with Bob Sullivan; Review of Rhino's new music collection, "Love is the song we sing." January 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503669].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Columnist BOB SULLIVAN covers Internet scams and consumer fraud for MSNBC.com and appears regularly on NBC Nightly News. His new book is about the hidden fees found in many phone, cable, credit card and other bills. It is 'Gotcha Capitalism: How Hidden Fees Rip You Off Every Day-And What You Can Do About It' (Ballintine Books). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD remembers 1965 and the summer of love in San Francisco, thru the new collection 'Love is the Song We Sing' a four-disc set from Rhino.

Interview with Mark Bowen and Dr. James Hansen; Interview with Paul Dano. January 8, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503672].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Dr. JAMES HANSEN is one of NASA's leading climate scientists. He says that the Bush administration has attempted to silence him since he began speaking out about global warming. We'll also hear from writer and scientist MARK BOWEN. His recent book about Dr. JAMES HANSEN is called, 'Censoring Science: Inside the Political Attack on Dr. James Hansen and the Truth of Global Warming.' (2.) Actor PAUL DANO. He plays a rural preacher who confronts the oilman at the center of PAUL THOMAS ANDERSON'S new film, 'There Will Be Blood.' His previous work includes 'Little Miss Sunshine' where he played the teen who was an elective mute.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DREW GILPIN FAUST is president of Harvard University, where she holds the Lincoln Professorship in History. In her new book she writes about how the deaths - both in number and manner - during the American Civil transformed the nation. Her new book is 'This Republic of Suffering: Death and the American Civil War.' (Knopf). She writes that the rate of death during the Civil War and its incidence in comparison with the size of the American population was 'six times that of World War II.' She writes 'for those Americans who lived in and through the Civil War, the texture of the experience... was the presence of death. At war's end this shared suffering would override persisting differences about the meanings of race, citizenship, and nationhood to establish sacrifice and its memorialization as the ground on which North and South would ultimately reunite.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) DR. RICHARD SHANNON is a pioneer in the national movement to reduce hospital acquired infections. He is Senior Vice Chair for Clinical Affairs at the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine. His work on patient safety was featured in the PBS documentary 'Remaking American Medicine.' And he sits on the Governor's Special Panel on Patient Safety.

---

Interview with David Rieff; Interview with Mark Bittman. January 10, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503642].

Description of show segment(s)

---

Interview with Peter Fonda; Review of Los Zafiros' new music album, "Music from the edge of time." January 11, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885352].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor PETER FONDA. The western '3:10 to Yuma' is now out on DVD. The film is a remake of the 1957 western based on an Elmore Leonard story. It features Fonda as a hard-bitten bounty hunter named Byron McElroy. Some of Fonda's other films include the counterculture classic 'Easy Rider,' 'Ulee's Gold,' and 'The Limey.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.)
Rock historian ED WARD reviews the new DVD 'Los Zafiros: Music From the Edge of Time' about the band that was bigger than the Beatles in Cuba. The band is Los Zafiros or the Sapphires.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID KIRKPATRICK is a correspondent in the Washington bureau for The New York Times. He covered the conservative Christian movement in the 2004 election, and has been following the Huckabee presidential campaign. (2.) National immigration correspondent for The New York Times, JULIA PRESTON. She'll discuss the un-intended consequences of the border crackdown, and how the battle over immigration is affecting communities across the country. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'People of the Book' by Geraldine Brooks.

Interview with Astrid Kirchherr; Commentary on Vee-Jay records; Commentary on language. January 15, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503395].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) German photographer ASTRID KIRCHHERR (KIRH-HER). She met the Beatles in 1960, before they were famous, when they came to perform in Hamburg, Germany. She took some of the earliest photographs of the group and was engaged to Stu Sutcliff the original bassist for the Beatles. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock Historian ED WARD tells how Vee-Jay Records was destroyed by its own success. One of America's most prominent mid-century record labels, Vee-Jay fell victim to legal problems. There's a new four disc box set re-issue of the label's greatest hits in collaboration with Shout! Factory Records. It's called Vee-Jay: The Definitive Collection. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the use of the C-word in current electoral rhetoric. That word is change, and it's what all the candidates promise.
Interview with lieutenant Colonel John Nagl; Interview with Ali Allawi; Interview with Michael Rose; Interview with Kanan Makiya; Interview with Peter Galbraith. January 16, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885353].

Description of show segment(s)

We begin a two-day series of interviews on Iraq: when we should get out and how we should do it. (1.) US Army LIEUTENANT COLONEL JOHN NAGL. He commands the 1st Battalion, 34th Armor at Fort Riley, Kansas. He served in Operation Desert Storm and was the operations officer of a tank battalion task force in Operation Iraqi Freedom. He helped author the US Army's Counterinsurgency Field Manual. (2.) Former Iraqi government official ALI A. ALLAWI. He served as Minister of Trade and Minister of Defense under the Interim Iraq Governing Council from 2003 to 2004, and then Minister of Finance in the Iraqi Transitional Government between 2005 and 2006. He currently teaches at Oxford and has written The Occupation of Iraq: Winning the War, Losing the Peace. (3.) Retired British Army GENERAL SIR MICHAEL ROSE. He was best known as the Commander of UN Protection Force in Bosnia in the 1990s. In 2006, he called for the impeachment of Tony Blair for leading England into war in Iraq under false pretenses. (4.) Professor KANAN MAKIYA. He is an Iraqi-born professor of Islamic and Middle Eastern Studies at Brandeis University. He was one of the leading Arab intellectuals who called for the removal of Sadam Hussein and he advised the Bush Administration before the invasion of Iraq. (5.) PETER GALBRAITH is a former US Ambassador to Croatia. He's a Senior Diplomatic Fellow at the Center for Arms Control and Non Proliferation. Among his many books are The End of Iraq and After Iraq: Cleaning Up After America's Biggest Foreign Policy Mistake.

Interview with Lawrence Wilkerson; Interview with William Kristol; Interview with Carl Conetta; Interview with Yanar Mohammed; Interview with Lawrence Wright. January 17, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885350].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) COLONEL LAWRENCE WILKERSON was former Secretary of State Colin Powell's Chief of Staff. He became an outspoken critic of the Bush administration after leaving the State Department in January 2005. Wilkerson is a veteran of the Vietnam War. He also served in Korea, Japan, and Hawaii and participated in military exercises throughout the Pacific. Moreover, Wilkerson was Executive Assistant to US Navy Admiral Stewart A. Ring, Director for Strategy and Policy (J5) USCINCPAC, Interview with Sidney Poitier; Review of the television show, "Breaking bad;" Interview with Chuck Norris; Review of the film, "Cloverfield." January 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885351].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor SIDNEY POITIER. He was the leading African-American actor of his generation. His Academy Award winning classic film In the Heat of The Night is now out in a 40th anniversary edition DVD. It won Best Picture. Poitier was the first African American to win the Academy Award for Best Actor in 1963 for his performance in Lilies of the Field. His other films include, The Defiant Ones, A Patch of Blue, Guess Who's Coming to Dinner, and To Sir, With Love. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/18/2000) (2.) TV critic (and today's host) DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new series Breaking Bad. It premieres on the AMC cable network this Sunday January 20th 2008 at 10PM/9c. (3.) Actor and political supporter CHUCK NORRIS. These days, he's most often seen standing behind Republican presidential candidate Mike Huckabee. Norris made his name as a martial arts champion, seventies film star and lead in the 1990s TV show Walker, Texas Ranger. During the recent Iowa caucus, when camera zoomed in on Mike Huckabee, Norris was clearly visible over Huckabee's left shoulder. It's been said that Norris position as an unofficial running-mate offers a jolt of manliness to the campaign. Norris got his big break in the 1972 Chinese martial arts film Return of the Dragon. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 1/26/88) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Cloverfield, a disaster film featuring a monster that attacks Manhattan captured by shaky Blair Witch style camera work.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and director CLARK JOHNSON. He directed the pilot and several episodes of the critically acclaimed HBO series The Wire. He also appears on camera this season. Johnson directed episodes of the cop shows The Shield and Homicide: Life on the Street. Johnson got his start in 1981, appearing in feature films including Wild Thing, Adventures in Babysitting, and Nowhere to Hide. Johnson was part of the original cast of Homicide. Johnson's other directing credits include the films The Sentinel and S.W.A.T., and the TV shows Sleeper Cell, Third Watch, and Law and Order: SVU. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two albums from pianist and singer Andy Bey: the newly issued live album It Ain't Necessarily So (12th Street Records), and a re-issue from Andy and the Bey Sisters, 'Round Midnight (Prestige).

Interview with Michael K. Williams; Commentary on the Butler brothers. January 22, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503515].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MICHAEL K. WILLIAMS. In the HBO series 'The Wire,' he plays Omar Little, one of the toughest guys in East Baltimore who robs the drug dealers of their money. WILLIAMS has also appeared in the films 'Gone, Baby, Gone,' and 'Lakawana Blues.' On TV he's appeared on 'Law & Order,' 'CSI,' and 'Boston Legal.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the intertwined fates of the Impressions, Jerry Butler, and his brother Billy.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pakistani journalist AHMED RASHID. He is currently in Switzerland attending the World Economic Forum. He'll report on the aftermath of the assassination of former Pakistani Prime Minister Benazir Bhutto. RASHID has published several best selling novels and also writes for the Washington Post, the International Herald Tribune, the Daily Telegraph (London) and other publications. Rashid was born in Lahore and is based in Pakistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the novel 'The Senator's Wife' (Knopf) by Sue Miller.

Interview with Jacob Weisberg; Interview with Sean Michael Flynn. January 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503519].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Editor in chief of Slate, JACOB WEISBERG. His new book about the downfall of George W. Bush's presidency is 'The Bush Tragedy' (RandomHouse). Joe Klein of Time magazine writes that it is a 'scorching, powerful and entirely plausible account.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) SEAN MICHAEL FLYNN was company commander of New York City's National Guard's Fighting 69th Infantry Regiment from 2001 to 2006. The regiment had been neglected and become slipshod until the events of September 11th, propelled the them to transform themselves into battle-ready soldiers. FLYNN's new book is 'The Fighting 69th: One Remarkable National Guard Unit's Journey from Ground Zero to Baghdad' (Viking).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The late writer and editor WILLIAM MAXWELL. In honor of the centennial of his birth, and his contribution to American writing, the Library of America is publishing a two-volume collection of his novels and short stories. The first, which collects his early work, is out now. MAXWELL'S novels include 'They Came Like Sparrows,' 'The Folded Leaf,' 'So Long, See You Tomorrow,' and 'Time Will Darken it.' MAXWELL was also fiction editor for the New Yorker from 1936-1976 and worked with such authors as J.D. Salinger, John Cheever, John Updike, Eudora Welty and others. MAXWELL died at the age of 91 in August 2000. (REBROADCAST from 3/29/95). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new live release by opera soprano Patricia Brooks. Recorded in 1971, it's a rare document of her New York recital debut. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the Romanian film '4 Months, 3 Weeks, and 2 Days.' It's set in 1987, two years before the fall of dictator Nicolae Ceausescu (NIK-o-lie chow-CHES- cue).

Interview with Randall Balmer; Review of the musical group, Fleshtones, new recording "Take a good look;" Review of the television show "In treatment." January 28, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885269].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RANDALL BALMER is professor of American religious history at Barnard College, Columbia University, and visiting professor at Yale University Divinity School. And he is editor-at-large for Christianity Today. His new book is 'God in the White House: A History: How Faith Shaped the Presidency from John F. Kennedy to George W. Bush' (HarperOne). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Take A Good Look' the new recording by The Fleshtones. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews 'In Treatment' the new HBO series about a psychotherapist and his patients. It stars Gabriel Byrne as the therapist.
Interview with Mick Jones and Tony James; Review of the album "Look directly into the sun." January 29, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503394].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICK JONES former lead guitarist of The Clash and TONY JAMES formerly of Generation X. In 2002 they came together to form the band Carbon/Silicon. Using rock samples and dance beats and inspired by the creative potential of the cyberspace, they release their first experiments as free downloadable MP3s, and later their first recordings as well. Now they have a new album 'The Last Post' which is their first official hard copy CD. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews 'Look Directly Into the Sun' the new anthology of the music of underground bands in China reminiscent of the late '70s and early '80s. it was compiled by British drummer and producer Martin Atkins.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SUZANNE GEFFEN MINTZ is president and co-founder of the National Family Caregivers Association. She is a caregiver to her husband who has Multiple Sclerosis. And she is the author of the book, 'A Family Caregiver Speaks Up: It Doesn't Have to Be This Hard.' (Capital Books). (2.) Journalist PETE EARLEY and former Russian spy SERGEI TRETYAKOV (TRET-ya-kof). EARLEY's new book is 'Comrade J: The Untold Secrets of Russia's Master Spy in America After the End of the Cold War' (Putnam). TRETYAKOV ran Russia's post-Cold War spy program in America from 1997 to 2000. He defected in 2000; in fact he had been a double agent for the FBI. EARLEY is a former reporter for The Washington Post and the author of eight works of nonfiction and three novels. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).
Interview with David Rohde; Interview with Adrian Tomine; Review of the television program "Lost." January 31, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503641].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID ROHDE is a professor of political science at Duke University. This year's primary race has a renewed focus on the delegate system. Delegates, superdelegates, penalized states with zero or half their delegates. What does it all mean? ROHDE will join us to talk about the primaries and how John Edwards and Rudy Giuliani withdrawals will affect the campaign. (2.) Comic book artist ADRIAN TOMINE. TOMINE is Asian American and many fans and critics have wondered when he would address race in his work. He finally does in his new book 'Shortcomings' (Drawn and Quarterly). Ben Tanaka, the graphic novel's main character, is a movie theater owner who is having trouble with his long-term girlfriend Miko Hayashi. She suspects that he's attracted to white women. She's right, but he won't admit it. TOMINE's previous work includes 'Scrapbook' and 'Summer Blonde.' He began his career with a series of ongoing comics called 'Optic Nerve.' (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI looks at the new season of LOST. The show has its season premiere tonight.

Interview with Tom Petty; Review of the new music album "Distortion." February 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503697].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rock and roll singer/songwriter TOM PETTY. This weekend he and the Heartbreakers will perform during halftime at the Superbowl. And this spring the band goes back on tour. PETTY also has a recurring role in Fox TV's animated show 'King of the Hill.' (REBROADCAST from 7/27/08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Distortion' the new album by the band The Magnetic Fields.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter for The New York Times, PHILIP SHENNON ('SHEE-nun'). In his new book he looks into the missed evidence and the ignored clues as well as the political considerations that interfered with the 9/11 Commission's work. His book is 'The Commission: The Uncensored History of the 9/11 Investigation' (Twelve). He also uncovers new information about the inner workings of the commission and its relationship with the Bush White House. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JOHN DIIULIO, JR. was the first director of the White House Office of Faith Based and Community Initiatives, appointed by George W. Bush. In his new book he argues for middle ground in the debate about the separation of church and state. His new book is 'Godly Republic: A Centrist Blueprint for America's Faith-Based Future.' (University of California Press). DIIULIO is a professor of politics, religion, and civil society and a professor of science at the University of Pennsylvania.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter SHERYL CROW. She performs in the Fresh Air studio solo, and with her band. Her new album is 'Detours' (Interscope records). This is her sixth studio album. It's also the most politically and personally outspoken record of her career. The first single from the album is 'Shine Over Babylon.' She describes the song as a 'battle song in the face of fear' over the complicated and troubled times we are in. CROW has had an eventful last few years. She split from her partner Lance Armstrong, battled breast cancer, and adopted a baby boy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'A Person of Interest' (Viking) the new novel by Susan Choi.
Interview with Fred Kaplan; Interview with Bryan Cranston; Review of a new collection of director Ernst Lubitsch's early films. February 6, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971501816].

Description of show segment(s)

(2.) Actor BRYAN CRANSTON. For seven years he played the beleaguered father in the FOX tv show 'Malcolm in the Middle.' He's now starring in the AMC show 'Breaking Bad' about a chemistry teacher diagnosed with cancer who begins producing crystal meth to provide for his family after he's gone. CRANSTON has appeared on many television shows, and had a recurring role as dentist Tim Whatley on 'Seinfeld.' He has also been in the films 'Saving Private Ryan,' 'Little Miss Sunshine,' and 'That Thing You Do.' (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI).

(3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new collection of director Ernst Lubitsch's early almost forgotten films on DVD (Criterion). They are operettas, and include the films 'One Hour With You,' 'Monte Carlo,' 'The Smiling Lieutenant,' and 'The Merry Widow.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Romanian film writer-director CRISTIAN MUNGIU ('Chris-TEE-on Monn-JEW'). His film '4 Months, 3 Weeks, and 2 Days' is about a young woman who gets an illegal abortion during the final days of the communist Ceausescu regime. The film won the Palme d'Or prize at the 2007 Cannes Film Festival, the top prize. The film has received much critical acclaim for it. Critic Manohla Dargis in The New York Times calls the film 'ferocious, unsentimental, often brilliantly directed.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)
Interview with Mark Wahlberg; Interview with Colin Firth; Review of the film "Taxi to the dark side." February 8, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885200].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MARK WAHLBERG. He was nominated for an academy award for best supporting actor for his role as a police sergeant in the film 'The Departed.' WAHLBERG was one of the initial members of the pop bubblegum group New Kids on the Block (with his brother Donnie) but left before the group became famous. Later with his brother's guidance he created Marky Mark and the Funky Bunch and recorded the album 'Music for the People' from which came the hit 'Good Vibrations.' WAHLBERG went on to record one more album, and appeared in a number of Calvin Klein underwear commercials. After a number of smaller film roles, he broke thru with his role as a porn star in 'Boogie Nights.' His other films include 'The Perfect Storm,' 'Three Kings,' 'The Italian Job,' and 'Invincible.' His film 'We Own the Night' is now out on DVD. (REBROADCAST from 2/8/07)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) British actor COLIN FIRTH. He's probably best known for his role as Mr. Darcy in the BBC/A&E production of 'Pride & Prejudice.' The film turned him into a heart-throb. It's being rebroadcast Sunday Night on PBS as part of a Jane Austen series. His other films include 'Bridget Jones's Diary' based on the book of the same name which borrows from the storyline of 'Pride & Prejudice.' His other films include 'Love Actually,' 'Girl with a Pearl Earring,' 'Valmont,' 'Another Country,' 'The English Patient,' 'Shakespeare in Love,' and 'Fever Pitch.' FIRTH showed off his writing in the book edited by Nick Hornby, 'Speaking with the Angel.' (REBROADCAST from 5/7/01). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary 'Taxi to the Dark Side,' which sounds like a horror film, and - David says - actually is. It's been nominated for an Academy Award.

Interview with David Kirkpatrick; Interview with David Bianculli. February 11, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503339].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID KIRKPATRICK is a correspondent in the Washington bureau for The New York Times. He covered the conservative Christian movement in the 2004 election, and has been following the Huckabee presidential campaign. He'll discuss the conservative response to Romney's exit from the race, and McCain's emergence as the probable Republican nominee. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI talks with the Terry about the writer's strike.

---

Interview with Jonathan Oberlander; Interview with Mark McKinney. February 12, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503618].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN OBERLANDER is a political scientist with an expertise in health politics and policy. He'll discuss the problems with our health care system, and tell us how each of the presidential candidates approaches the issue of health care. OBERLANDER is associate professor of social medicine and health policy and administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Canadian actor and comic MARK MCKINNEY. He's best known for his work with the sketch comedy troupe, 'The Kids in the Hall.' He was with Saturday Night Live from 1995 to 1997. The critically-acclaimed mini-series that he wrote and starred in 'Slings and Arrows' is now out on DVD. It's about a dysfunctional Shakespearean theatre troupe. A reviewer with the Philadelphia Inquirer says about it the series, 'Sweet, SMART and seriously ADDICTIVE.'

---

Interview with Gretchen Morgenson; Review of the DVD "The rise and fall of the city of Mahoganny." February 13, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503698].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Business columnist GRETCHE MORGENSON has covered the financial markets for The New York Times since 1988. She won the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for her 'trenchant and incisive' coverage of Wall Street. She is also assistant business and financial editor for the Times. She's been covering the sub prime loan crisis in her columns and its effect on the markets and the economy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a DVD of The Rise and Fall of The City of Mahoganny (pronounced 'ma-ha-GO-nee'), a new release of a lesser known Kurt Weill opera (EuroArts DVD).
Interview with Martha Weinman Lear; Interview with Scott Bittle and Jean Johnson. February 14, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885199].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author MARTHA WEINMAN LEAR. Her new book is called Where Did I Leave My Glasses? The What, When and Why of Normal Memory Loss. She explores the increasingly common phenomenon among baby boomers of memory loss associated with aging. She is also the author of the best selling memoir Heartsounds. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Authors SCOTT BITTLE and JEAN JOHNSON. Their new book is called Where Does the Money Go? Your Guided Tour to the Federal Budget Crisis. Bittle and Johnson are the co-editors of the website Public Agenda Online (http://www.publicagenda.org/).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director MILOS FORMAN. The Museum of Modern Art in Manhattan is presenting a two week complete retrospective of Forman's films from 1963 to the present, including One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest, Amadeus, and Ragtime. Forman grew up in Czechoslovakia, where he helped to create Czech New Wave cinema before emigrating to the United States in 1969. Forman's latest film, Goya's Ghosts, will be released on DVD February 26. Forman won Academy Awards for best direction in 1975 for One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest and in 1984 for Amadeus. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/4/1994 THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF).

(2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the thriller Jumper, starring Hayden Christensen and directed by Doug Liman, whose other films include The Bourne Identity and Mr. and Mrs. Smith. (3.) DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the edited-for-CBS version of the dark Showtime drama "Dexter."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAN KOEPPEL has written stories for National Geographic Adventure, Wired, Audobon, and Popular Science. He'll talk about the world's most popular fruit?the banana. His book, 'Banana: The Fate of the Fruit That Changed the World,' tells how banana companies brought the banana from Central America to the United States and how an epidemic is threatening the future of the fruit. Koeppel is also the author of the memoir, 'To See Every Bird on Earth.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'The Irrational Numbers' by jazz bass player Drew Gress (Premonition).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Religion scholar BART D. EHRMAN (pronounced 'ERR' as in 'BURR'). He chairs the Department of Religious Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill. His new book is 'God's Problem: How the Bible Fails to Answer Our Most Important Question ? Why We Suffer' (Harper One). He is the author of the bestseller 'Misquoting Jesus: The Story Behind Who Changed the Bible and Why.' His other books include 'Peter, Paul, and Mary Magdalene: The Followers of Jesus in History and Legend,' and 'Lost Christianities: The Battle for Scripture and the Faiths We Never Knew.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL SPECTER is a staff writer for The New Yorker where he writes about science and technology. In the current edition (Feb 25th) of the magazine he writes about the difficulties of measuring carbon footprints. His article is 'Big Foot: In Measuring Carbon Emissions, it's Easy to Confuse Morality & Science.' (2.) Journalist EDWARD LUCAS has covered Eastern Europe for The Economist for over twenty years. His new book is 'The New Cold War: Putin's Russia and the Threat to the West' (Palgrave). In the book he notes that repression in Russia is matched by aggression abroad and he goes on to say that the New Cold War is fought with cash, natural resources, diplomacy, and propaganda. He also says the West is unwilling to admit what is happening. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a set of recordings by the Canadian pianist Glenn Gould: 'Glenn Gould: The Complete Original Jacket Collection' (on Sony).
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Irish journalist PATRICK COCKBURN (pronounced 'Co-burn') is Iraq correspondent for the Independent in London. He has been visiting Iraq since 1977. He is the author of the book, 'The Occupation: War and Resistance in Iraq' (Verso, paperback). His forthcoming book 'Muqtada: Muqtada A-Sadr, the Shia Revival, and the Struggle for Iraq' (Scribner) will be published in April. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

---

Interview with Paul Thomas Anderson; Interview with David Croneberg and Viggo Mortensen; Interview with Brad Bird and Patton Oswalt; Interview with Tamara Jenkins; Interview with Diablo Cody and Jason Reitman; Review of the film "Be kind rewind." February 22, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884723].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director PAUL THOMAS ANDERSON. His newest release, There Will Be Blood, is up for 8 Oscars, including Best Picture, Best Actor and Best Director. The film is based on an Upton Sinclair novel and stars Daniel Day Lewis as an oil prospector in the earliest days of the industry. Anderson's other films are the Oscar nominated films Boogie Nights and Magnolia, and Punch Drunk Love, starring Adam Sandler. (Original airdate: 12/19/07) (2.) Film director DAVID CRONENBERG and actor VIGGO MORTENSEN. The two teamed up for the Oscar nominated thriller 'Eastern Promises.' The film takes place in London and is about the underworld sex-trafficking industry. It was written by Steve Knight, who wrote the screenplay for 'Dirty Pretty Things.' Previously CRONENBERG & MORTENSEN teamed up for the acclaimed 2005 film 'A History of Violence.' (Original airdate: 9/13/07) (3.) Director/writer BRAD BIRD and comedian/actor PATTON OSWALT. Bird directed and Oswalt stars in the film Rataouille, the animated feature from Pixar about a foodie rat who becomes a chef in a top Paris kitchen. It's nominated for five Oscars, including Best Animated Feature. BIRD also directed and wrote The Incredibles and the Iron Giant. In addition to acting, OSWALT is a writer and stand-up comedian who has had his own comedy specials and appeared in the TV shows The King of Queens and Reno 911! His second comedy album is called Werewolves and Lollipops and was released in July 2007. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 6/28/07) (4.) Writer/director TAMARA JENKINS. She wrote and directed the film 'The Savages,' about two siblings in their forties who now have to deal with their elderly father who has dementia. The film stars Philip Seymour Hoffman and Laura Linney, and is up for two Academy Awards. Previously JENKINS wrote and directed 'The Slums of Beverly Hills.' (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 11/27/07) (5.) Director JASON REITMAN ('RIGHT-man') and screenwriter DIABLO CODY. They are behind the film Juno. It's Interview with Zac and Ethan Holtzman; Review of the 80th Annual Academy Awards and return of "Saturday Night Live." February 25, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884724].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musicians ZAC and ETHAN HOLTZMAN. Their band is Dengue Fever. They have a new album, Venus on Earth. Their music is inspired by Cambodian pop of the sixties and seventies, which itself was inspired by American pop played over U-S Armed Forces Radio during the Vietnam War. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two live network television events from this past weekend. Both the 80th Annual Academy Awards telecast on ABC and a new episode of Saturday Night Live on NBC were able to proceed because the writers' strike ended. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Fanon: A Novel (pronounced 'fa-NON') by John Edgar Wideman.
Interview with David Sheff and Nic Sheff; Review of the Austrian film trilogy "Where to and back." February 26, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503653].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author DAVID SHEFF and his son NIC SHEFF. They have both written memoirs. David's new book is called Beautiful Boy: A Father's Journey Through His Son's Addiction. Nic's book is called Tweak. Nic became addicted to meth and was in and out of rehab. David and Nic join us to talk about doing drugs, getting over them, and the effect on family. The book is based on David's article My Addicted Son, which appeared in the New York Times Magazine. Sheff is a contributing editor of Playboy Magazine and has written for many publications. He has published several books including Game Over and China Dawn. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at Large John Powers reviews Where to and Back, a newly released DVD trilogy from the late Austrian director Axel Corti. The three films included in the set are God doesn't Believe in Us Anymore (1982), Santa Fe (1985) and Welcome in Vienna (1986). The trilogy is released by the National Center for Jewish Film, based at Brandeis University. More info at www.jewishfilm.org.

Interview with Brett Morgen; Review of self-titled debut album from Vampire Weekend. February 27, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503649].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Filmmaker BRETT MORGEN. His new film is the hybrid documentary/animated feature Chicago 10. Morgen used a combination of archival footage, animation, and music to tell the story of eight anti-war protesters who were put on trial following the 1968 Democratic National Convention. Chicago 10 features the voices of Hank Azaria, Dylan Baker, Nick Nolte, Mark Ruffalo, Roy Scheider, Liev Schreiber, and Jeffrey Wright. Morgen's previous films are The Kid Stays in the Picture, the biopic about Robert Evans, and On The Ropes, a documentary about young boxers. More info at http://www.brettmorgen.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews the self-titled debut album from the band Vampire Weekend.
Obituary for William F. Buckley; Interview with Stew and Heidi Rodewald; Review of Mark Miller's "High hat, trumpet, and rhythm" February 28, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503648].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Conservative WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY died Wednesday. Buckley is often cited with bringing conservative thought into the mainstream in liberal post-war America. He was the founder of the conservative magazine the National Review and for many years, the magazine's editor-in-chief. His popularity as a public intellectual increased through his television appearances, particularly as the host of the long-running television show Firing Line. Buckley was the author of more than 50 books. We'll listen back to our 1989 interview with Buckley. (2.) Musicians STEW and HEIDI RODEWALD speak with Fresh Air TV critic David Bianculli. They're the founders of the band The Negro Problem. Their new musical Passing Strange is an autobiographical look at Stew's journey through music and is on Broadway now. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Mark Miller's High Hat, Trumpet, and Rhythm' a new biography of singer and trumpet player Valaida Snow (val-AID-a).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter RAY DAVIES. DAVIES first became known as the leader of the band The Kinks. Songs like, All Day and All of the Night, You Really Got Me, Tired of Waiting for You, and Waterloo Sunset made the Kinks one of the great and enduring British bands that came out of the 60s. Ray Davies first solo record, 'Other People's Lives' was released in 2006. While recording the album in New Orleans, Davies was shot in the leg by a man who stole his girlfriend's purse. Ray Davies new album 'Working Man's Cafe?' (New West Records) was released this month. (From two interviews, original airdates: 10/17/95 and 4/3/06) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The Other Boleyn Girl.'
Interview with Jan Egeland; Interview with Chris Cooper. March 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924927].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAN EGELAND (Yahn EGG-uh-lind) is former United Nations Undersecretary-General for Humanitarian Affairs and former UN Emergency Relief Chief. He's written a new memoir about his experiences negotiating with tyrants and murderers and addressing the humanitarian crisis around the world. His new book is 'A Billion Lives: An Eyewitness Report from the Frontlines of Humanity' (Simon & Schuster). (DD intv) (2.) Actor CHRIS COOPER. He won an Academy Award for his performance as John Laroche in the film 'Adaptation.' His latest project is the film 'Married Life' about infidelity in a marriage set in the 1940s. Cooper's other films include 'Breach,' 'American Beauty,' 'Seabiscuit,' and 'Lone Star.' (DD intv) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist & screenwriter RICHARD PRICE. His new novel is 'Lush Life' about the repercussions of a shooting on the Lower East side. PRICE has also written for HBO's 'The Wire' which ends a five year run on Sunday. PRICE's other bestselling novels include, Clockers about life in the inner city world of drug dealing (which was made into a film); Freedomland which was inspired by the real life incident in which a woman alleged a black man carjacked her and took her two children; and Samaritan about a man who returns to the New Jersey town where he was raised and to teaching, and the bad consequences of his good intentions. PRICE also is a screenwriter with such notable films: "Sea of Love," "Ransom," and "The Color of Money." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with David Simon; Review of Jane Ira Bloom's, "Mental Weather" March 6, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924268].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID SIMON is the creator and executive producer of HBO's acclaimed series 'The Wire.' He also wrote many of the episodes. The series finale of The Wire airs on Sunday. Some of the story lines from the series come from Simon's work as a police reporter for the Baltimore Sun who moved to television and wrote for the show 'Homicide: Life on the Street' which was based on his book of the same name. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Mental Weather' (Outline) the new recording by soprano saxophonist Jane Ira Bloom.

Interview with Richard Dawkins; Interview with Francis Collins; Review of the film "Paranoid park." March 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924265].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British scientist RICHARD DAWKINS. He is a Professor of the Public Understanding of Science at Oxford University. The New York Times Book Review has hailed him as a writer who 'understands the issues so clearly that he forces his reader to understand them too.' In his latest book he writes about the irrationality of a belief in God, examines God in all his forms, and sets down his arguments for atheism. His book 'The God Delusion' is now out in paperback. (REBROADCAST from 3/28/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Geneticist FRANCIS COLLINS. He is director of the National Human Genome Research Project. Previously, as head of the National Genome Project, he helped decode the human genome. COLLINS is also an evangelical Christian, and author of the book 'The Language of God: A Scientist Presents Evidence for Belief' which is now out in paperback. (REBROADCAST from 3/29/07) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Gus Van Sant film 'Paranoid Park' about a slacker skateboarder based on a young adult novel by Blake Nelson.
Interview with Bassam Aramin and Zohar Shapira; Interview with Lorin Maazel. March 10, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884943].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BASSAM ARAMIN (Bah-SAAM AR-ah-mean) and ZOHAR (Zo-HARR Sha-PIER-ah) SHAPIRA are the cofounders of the Combatants for Peace, a group of Israeli and Palestinian individuals who were once involved in the cycle of violence in their area. ARAMIN was a member of the Fattah movement, and at the age of 17 began a seven year sentence in an Israeli prison. He now works as a clerk at the Palestinian National Archives. SHAPIRA served for 15 years in an elite unit of the Israeli army as combatant and commander. He now is a teacher in a Waldorf school in Israel. Combatants for Peace (C4P) is an organization of more than 550 Palestinians and Israelis. (2.) Conductor and composer LORIN MAAZEL (Ma-ZELL). He recently led the New York Philharmonic in their historic trip to Pyongyang, North Korea at the invitation of the North Korean government. The program consisted of Dvorak's New World Symphony and Gershwin's 'American in Paris' and they encored with 'Arirang' a Korean folk song. A senior U.S. diplomat told MAAZEL that the concert 'could well have done more for U.S.-North Korean relations than 30 years of diplomatic efforts.'

Interview with Steven Waldman; Review of Donita Sparks and the Stellar Moments debut album "Transmiticate." March 11, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924266].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author STEVEN WALDMAN. His new book is called Founding Faith: Providence, Politics and the Birth of Religious Freedom in America. He explores the roots of free worship in the United States by looking at the religious views of five founders and the development of a religious philosophy for the nation. Waldman is editor in chief of the website Beliefnet.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Transmiticate, the debut album from Donita Sparks and the Stellar Moments. Sparks co-founded the punk-grunge band L7.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian ROBERT SCHIMMEL. His new memoir is called Cancer on {dollar}5 a Day (chemo not included): How Humor Got Me Through the Toughest Journey of My Life. While the circumstances of Schimmel's life are grim...he was diagnosed with cancer, went through chemotherapy, married and divorced the same woman three times, and lost a son to leukemia, he has managed to find the humor in it all. Schimmel was named one of Comedy Central's 100 Greatest Comics, has had his own stand up specials on HBO and Showtime, and he has appeared regularly on Howard Stern and Conan O'Brien. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews The Mande Variations ('MAN-day'), the new CD from the African kora player Toumani Diabate ('too-MON-a dee-uh-ha-TAY'). Diabate is from Mali and claims to descend from 54 generations of griots, traditional song-storytellers (Nonesuch Records).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Music journalist ELIOT VAN BUSKIRK. He writes the online column Listening Post for Wired News (http://blog.wired.com/music/). He'll talk about how the music industry is rapidly changing as people discover, hear, share and buy music via online peer to peer networks, mp3, MySpace, YouTube and other alternatives to traditional albums. Van Buskirk has also contributed to CNet and CNN, and he has written two books about digital music: Burning down the House and iPod and iTunes Quick Steps. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Author DAN KENNEDY. His new book is called Rock on: an Office Power Ballad. Kennedy was Director of Creative Development at Atlantic Records. Rock On is a humorous memoir of his time in the biz. He is a regular contributor to McSweeney's. His previous book is called Loser Goes First.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, producer, arranger, and composer QUINCY JONES. He celebrates his 75th birthday on March 14, 2008. In his fifty seven year career he's worked with just about anyone who is anybody in the music business. As a teenager he played backup for Billie Holiday, along with his 16 year old friend, Ray Charles. At 18 he began playing the trumpet in Lionel Hampton's band beside Clifford Brown. He went on to work with Count Basie, Frank Sinatra, Dinah Washington, Sarah Vaughn, Lesley Gore and many others. He wrote the theme songs for the TV shows 'Sanford & Son' and 'Ironsie,' and music for the films 'In Cold Blood,' 'The Color Purple,' and 'Get Rich or Die Tryin'. His biggest commercial success was producing and arranging Michael Jackson's 1982 hit album 'Thriller.' Jones has 27 Grammys and 40 platinum records. He's opening Q's Juke Joint in Las Vegas. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 11/5/01) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews HBO's new series on John Adams, produced by Tom Hanks. (3.) Jazz pianist MARIAN MCPARTLAND. She celebrates her 90th birthday on March 20th 2008. Though British-born, white and a woman, McPartland has played nearly 50 years in a world that is largely male and black. She is heard on many National Public Radio stations in her popular series, Marian McPartland's Piano Jazz (http://www.npr.org/templates/rundowns/rundown.php?prgId=24). She also has a new CD called Twilight World on the Concord Jazz label, which has released over 50 of McPartland's albums. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate 9/8/87) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Funny Games starring Naomi Watts and Tim Roth, and directed by Michael Haneke.

Interview with Aram Roston; Commentary on language. March 17, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924797].

Description of show segment(s)

SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG recounts the larger than life language of the late William F. Buckley.

Interview with Charles Sennott; Review of the television show "The riches." March 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924264].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Foreign correspondent CHARLES SENNOTT. He has just returned from Iraq, where he was an embedded reporter with the Army's 28th Infantry Regiment. They're part of the surge that brought a new tactical playbook to Baghdad. While the soldiers of the surge have seen their share of action, they're also engaging in peace talks to create coalitions between Sunni and Shiite factions. Sennott is currently with the Boston Globe, but he's leaving the paper in April of 2008 to create Global News Enterprises, where he will be executive editor, co-founder and vice president of the new foreign news website. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews season two of the HBO series The Riches.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist SCOTT SPENCER. His new book is called Willing. The main character is a journalist who goes undercover and takes an all expenses paid international sex tour. Spencer is a best selling author whose titles include A Ship Made of Paper and Endless Love. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film director, playwright and screenwriter ANTHONY MINGHELLA. He has died at the age of 54 of a hemorrhage following surgery for cancer of the tonsils and neck, according to his agent. Two of his films won Academy Awards: The English Patient received 9 Oscars and Cold Mountain was given one. His other movies include Truly, Madly, Deeply and The Talented Mr. Ripley. He was set to premiere his film adaptation of The No. 1 Ladies Detective Agency on British television this week. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 11/7/96)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinary surgeon NICK TROUT. His new book is called Tell Me Where it Hurts: A Day of Humor, Healing and Hope In My Life As An Animal Surgeon. Trout is a staff surgeon at the Angell Animal Medical Center in Boston, Massachusetts. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Sixes and Sevens, the new album from singer-songwriter Adam Green. He co-wrote the song Anyone Else But You for the movie Juno, and he co-founded the New York folk music group The Moldy Peaches. This is his fifth solo album.

Interview with John Dominic Crossan; Interview with Levon Helm. March 21, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924652].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Professor Emeritus of biblical studies at DePaul University in Chicago JOHN DOMINIC CROSSAN (CROSS-in). A native of Ireland, and ordained as a priest in the U.S., he left the priesthood in 1969. CROSSAN is a founding member of the Jesus Seminar, a group of scholars who meet to determine the authenticity of Jesus' sayings in the Gospels. CROSSAN wrote the books, "Jesus: A Revolutionary Biography," "The Historical Jesus," "Who Killed Jesus: Exposing the Roots of Anti-Semitism in the Gospel Story of The Death of Jesus," and the most recent 'God and Empire: Jesus against Rome, Then and Now.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/1/2004). (2.) Musician LEVON HELM. He's most famous as the drummer and occasional vocalist for The Band. He sang lead on The Weight. HELM was diagnosed with throat cancer in 1996, received surgery and radiation, and for a time couldn't sing. Helm's recent album, Dirt Farmer, won a Grammy this year in the Best Traditional Folk category. It is his first solo studio album in 25 years. When The Band joined up to back Bob Dylan in 1965, TIME magazine described the combination as 'in some ways, the most decisive moment in rock history.' They went on to record their own highly influential albums 'Music From Big Pink' and 'The Band' in 1968 and 1969. The band split up 30 years ago. Since then HELM has performed solo and with other musicians, and has acted.
He was Loretta Lynn's father in the biopic 'Coal Miner's Daughter' and was cast in 'The Three Burials of Melquiades Estrada.' (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 12/11/07)

Interview with Meg Wolitzer; Interview with Michael Kirk. March 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924570].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist MEG WOLITZER ('WAHL-it-zer'). Her new book 'The Ten-Year Nap' (Riverhead) is about a group of women who abandon their promising careers in favor of fulltime motherhood, and the affect of that decision ten years later. Her other books include 'The Wife,' (which was a New York Times Notable Book) and 'The Position' about a 1970s era couple who write a Joy of Sex style book, complete with illustrations of them making love; then their teenage children get a hold of it. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Frontline producer MICHAEL KIRK. His two-part documentary 'Bush's War' takes a look at the Iraq war, the lead up, and the justification for war. It airs on PBS's Frontline, March 24th and 25th.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Commediene and actress TRACEY ULLMAN. She begins a new sketch comedy series on Showtime on March 30th. It's called 'State of the Union' and features her playing fictional characters as well as real people, including House Speaker Nancy Pelosi, and Tony Siricio who played Pauli Walnuts on 'The Sopranos.' Her previous series was 'Tracey Takes On' which aired on HBO. ULLMAN is a native of England. She got her start in the U.S. with The Tracey Ullman Show, and has since won several Emmys and Cableace awards. She's also appeared in the films "Ready to Wear." "Bullets Over Broadway", and "Plenty." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews 'The Brit Box' (on Rhino) a four-CD collection of popular music over the last 20 years from Great Britian. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the DVD collection 'Forbidden Hollywood Collection, Vol. 2' of five pre-code movies. The films are 'The Divorcee,' 'A Free Soul,' 'Night Nurse,' 'Three on a Match,' and 'Female.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PICO IYER (PEE-co EYE-er). He has known the Dalai Lama for 30 years, and is author the new book, 'The Open Road: The Global Journey of the Fourteenth Dalai Lama' (Knopf). IYER is the son of an Indian-born academic, and grew up in Britian and California. He first met the Dalai Lama when he was a teenager and his father took him to meet the spiritual leader. IYER is a regular essayist for Time magazine and has written a number of books including 'Sun After Dark,' 'Flights Into the Foreign,' and 'Video Night in Kathmandu: and Other Reports from the Not-so-far- East.' [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Music critic MILO MILES on the Russian rock group Auktyon (AUC-tion). The band is part of the Russian underground rock culture that was allowed to flourish after the introduction of glasnost. They are currently on a U.S. tour.

Interview with Blake Nelson; Interview with Zoey Deschanel. March 27, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924573].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author BLAKE NELSON. His book, Paranoid Park, has been adapted into a film of the same name, directed by Gus Van Sant. It's now in theaters. It's about a skateboarder who accidentally kills a security guard. Nelson's published a total of 8 books. His other titles include They Came From Below, Girl, Exile, User and The New Rules of High School. More info available at www.blakenelson.com. (2.) Actress and singer ZOOEY DESCHANEL. She has released a new album with indie rocker M. Ward called She & Him. Deschanel made her film debut in the 1999 feature Mumford, and has also been in many films including Almost Famous, The Good Girl, and Elf. More info about the album available at the Merge record label website: http://www.mergerecords.com/store/store_detail.php?catalog_id=530.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and Director PAUL THOMAS ANDERSON. This year his latest film, There Will Be Blood won Oscars in the Best Actor and Best Cinematography categories. The film stars Daniel Day Lewis and follows the rise of a turn of the century oilman and his descent into greed. It will be released on DVD on April 8th. Anderson's other films include Punch Drunk Love, Magnolia, and Boogie Nights. [THIS INTERVIEW ORIGINALLY AIRED 12.19.07] (2.) Actor PAUL DANO. Dano first gained attention for his role in Little Miss Sunshine as the elective mute who's the brother of the child beauty pageant contestant. In last year's film There Will Be Blood he played twin brothers Paul and Eli Sunday. Eli is a young preacher in the small town that the oilman played by Daniel Day Lewis plans to exploit for its resources. Their clash for control over the town and each other is the film's central conflict. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF AND ORIGINALLY AIRED 1.8.08] (3.) Film director ARTHUR PENN. There is a new 2 disc collector's edition of his 1967 classic Bonnie & Clyde, starring Faye Dunaway and Warren Beatty. They play a pair of bank robbing lovers who meet with a violent end. Penn talks about choreographing the famous death scene, and he'll also discuss making some of his other films, including Little Big Man, the Miracle Worker and Alice's Restaurant. Bonnie & Clyde was nominated for ten Oscars and won two, for cinematography and supporting actress. Arthur Penn is 85 and lives in Manhattan. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 9/29/89) 4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Stop-Loss. It's the first film in nine years for director Kimberly Peirce who made the acclaimed indiefilm Boys Don't Cry. Stop-Loss stars Ryan Phillippe and focuses on the military policy that keeps soldiers in active duty beyond their original deployments in times of crisis.

Interview with Reverend James Cone; Interview with Dwight Hopkins; Review of Jhumpa Lahiri's new novel "Unaccustomed earth" March 31, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924717].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) REVEREND JAMES CONE. He is the founder of Black Liberation Theology, a movement that has its roots in 1960s civil rights activism. The idea is to make the gospel relevant to the life and struggles of African Americans. Cone drew inspiration from Martin Luther King and Malcolm X. He is the Distinguished Professor of Systematic Theology at Union theological Seminary in the City of New York. Cone comments on remarks made by Barack Obama's former minister, Reverend Jeremiah Wright, who is a proponent of Black Liberation Theology. Cone's books include Black Theology and Black Power, God of The Oppressed, and Risks of Faith. (2.) Theologian DWIGHT HOPKINS. He is a professor of theology at the University of Chicago and an ordained Baptist minister. He has written many books on Black Liberation Theology. The latest is Walk Together Children: black and womanist theologies, church and theological education. He will also address Black Liberation Theology and provide a historical perspective. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Unaccustomed Earth, the new collection of short stories from Jhumpa Lahiri (Joom-pah La-HERE-ee).

Interview with Steve Coll. April 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924719].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist STEVE COLL. His new book is The Bin Ladens: An Arabian Family in The American Century. Coll is a two time Pulitzer Prize winning journalist who has written for The Washington Post (where he was also Managing Editor) and The New Yorker. Coll won a Pulitzer for his book Ghost Wars, and another for his reporting on the Securities and Exchange Commission. He is now president and CEO of The New America Foundation, a non-partisan think tank based in Washington DC. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Interview with Eric Lichtblau; Obituary for Jules Dassin. April 2, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924648].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter ERIC LICHTBLAU (LISHT-blau, rhymes with cow). He tells us how the Bush administration tried to talk the New York Times out of publishing the story of the NSA's secret warrantless wiretap program. Lichtblau is one of the two reporters who broke the story. He's written a new book called Bush's Law: The Remaking of American Justice. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film director JULES DASSIN (DASS-sin). He died on Monday at the age of 96 in Athens. His 1955 film noir masterpiece 'RIFIFI' was re-released in 2000. It was virtually unseen at the time of its release because Dassin was blacklisted. He left the U.S. in the early 1950s. He met and married Greek actress Melina Mercouri, and went on to collaborate with her in the hit films 'Never on Sunday' and 'Topkapi,' the inspiration for 'Mission: Impossible.' Dassin also acted and was a screenwriter. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate 10/8/01)

Interview with Michael Greenberger; Commentary on language. April 3, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884782].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Law professor MICHAEL GREENBERGER. He will explain current challenges in the U.S. economy, such as the sub-prime mortgage crisis, credit defaults, the shaky future of other types of loans, and what we can expect from the U.S. financial markets. Greenberger is the Director of the Center for Health and Homeland Security (CHHS) at the University of Maryland and a professor at the School of Law. In the late 1990s, Greenberger served as Director of the Division of Trading and Markets at the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. Prior to that appointment, Greenberger worked for the U.S. Attorney General. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist Geoff Nunberg reflects on the term 'national conversation' following Barack Obama's speech on race in Philadelphia a few weeks ago.

Interview with Taylor Branch; Interview with Michael Honey. April 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924574].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author TAYLOR BRANCH. He'll tell us about the last three years of Martin Luther King's life. Today marks the 40th anniversary of King's assassination at the Loraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee. Branch won the Pulitzer for the first of his three part biography of Martin Luther King Jr. In 2006, he completed the third volume, 'At Canaan's Edge.' It covers the last three years of King's life, and begins with the pivotal voting-rights march from Selma, moves thru King's opposition to the Vietnam War, King's efforts to bring the civil rights movement to the North, and his assassination in 1968. Volumes one and two of BRANCH's biographies are 'Parting the Waters,' and 'Pillar of Fire.' (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 1/16/06) (2.) Martin Luther King Jr. was in Memphis in 1968 rallying for fair treatment and pay of African-American sanitation workers when he was assassinated. American history professor MICHAEL HONEY joins Fresh Air to discuss his book on the labor campaign King was leading at the time of his death. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Shine a Light, the new film about the Rolling Stones directed by Martin Scorsese.

Interview with Julie Andrews; Obituary for Charlton Heston. April 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885205].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and actress JULIE ANDREWS. She's written the new book 'Home: A Memoir of My Early Years' (Hyperion). She writes about growing up in a vaudeville family in England, and living thru the London Blitz of World War II. Even at a young age, ANDREWS had a powerful singing voice. In 1948 she became the youngest solo performer ever to participate in a Royal Command Performance before the Queen. ANDREWS originated the role of Eliza Doolittle in 'My Fair Lady' opposite Rex Harrison. But it took the films 'Mary Poppins' and 'The Sound of Music' to make her a star. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember actor CHARLTON HESTON. He died Saturday at the age of 84. We listen back to an excerpt of our 11/30/90 interview with him.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARC GARLASCO ('gar-LASS-co') was a senior analyst in the Pentagon for seven years and was Chief of High Value Targeting during the invasion of Iraq. As such he helped plan the targets of laser-guided bombs. Now he works for Human Rights Watch going to war zones where he assesses the damage being done to civilians by bombs. GARLASCO has lobbied for greater deliberation in the military's use of air power, and has argued for smaller bombs that have less impact on surrounding areas. GARLASCO would like to see the military create an office to examine the human costs of airstrikes. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic
MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two new novels: 'The Philosopher's Apprentice' (William Morrow pub) by James Morrow and 'The Soul Thief' (Pantheon) by Charles Baxter. Both books feature 'highly educated main characters' who discover that too much knowledge is a dangerous thing.

Interview with Michael Stipe, Peter Buck and Mike Mills; Review of Ang Lee's new film, "Lust, Caution." April 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924501].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) From the band R.E.M., singer MICHAEL STIPE, guitarist PETER BUCK, and bassist MIKE MILLS. The band has their first album in four years 'Accelerate.' Critics have been describing the album as a 'comeback' and the band members as playing with 'the urgency and insurgency they did in their early years.' The album include 11 songs and is 34 minutes in length. This is their fourteenth album. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has been watching 'Lust, Caution' the new film by Taiwanese director Ang Lee. The film has just come out on DVD, in two versions NC-17, and R-rated. POWERS says in 'Lust, Caution' Lee pushes against Chinese taboos.

Interview with Paul Salopek; Review of Waco Brothers' live album "Waco express." April 10, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885206].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Two-time Pulitzer-prize winning journalist PAUL SALOPEK. In 2006, while traveling in Africa for National Geographic, he was taken by a pro-government militia in Darfur, then charged with spying, interrogated, and imprisoned for 34 days. He was there reporting on the culture and history of the Sahel, a desert region which crosses northern Africa. He writes that some '50 million of the world's poorest, most disempowered, most forgotten people hang fiercely on to life there.' SALOPEK returned to the region to finish his reporting. The result is the cover story of this month's edition of National Geographic. SALOPEK is a foreign correspondent with the Chicago Tribune. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new Waco Brothers album, 'Waco Express: Live and Kicking at Schubas Tavern'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning novelist PHILIP ROTH. He turned 75 years old this year. The National Book Foundation is celebrating his birthday with a special event (Friday, April 11th at the Miller Theater @ Columbia University in NYC, from 4-6 PM) and an online exhibit featuring Roth's work. ROTH been the recipient of numerous awards: The National Book Award (for 'Goodbye Columbus,' and 'Sabbath's Theatre'); the Pulitzer Prize for 'American Pastoral' in 1997; the PEN/Faulkner Awards (for 'Operation Shylock' and 'The Human Stain'); and the American Academy of Arts and Letters' prestigious Gold Medal for Fiction in 2001. (REBROADCAST from 9/27/05) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Flight of the Red Balloon' by 51 year-old Taiwanese filmmaker Hou Hsiao Hsien. The film is in French and stars Julie Binoche. It was inspired by the classic 1956 film 'The Red Balloon' which will be released for the first time on DVD later this month.

Interview with Michael Klare; Interview with David Javerbaum and Adam Schlesinger; Commentary on language. April 14, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924431].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL T. KLARE. His new book about how access to energy resources are changing the international balance of power is 'Rising Powers Shrinking Planet: The New Geopolitics of Energy' (Metropolitan books). KLARE is also the author of 'Blood & Oil' and 'Resource Wars.' He is also a contributor to Harper's, Foreign Affairs, and the Los Angeles Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Songwriters DAVID JAVERBAUM and ADAM SCHLESINGER wrote the songs for the Broadway musical 'Cry-Baby' which opens on Broadway, April 24th. It's based on the 1990 John Water's movie-musical of the same name. JAVERBAUM is executive producer of 'The Daily Show' on Comedy Central, and ADAM SCHLESINGER is the bassist and songwriter for the band Fountains of Wayne. This is the first time they've teamed up to write songs. (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY OUR MUSIC CRITIC KEN TUCKER). (3.) Linguist Geoff Nunberg gives us his thoughts on the little word, "um."
Interview with Uma Thurman; Review of ?Boogie woogie and blues piano.? April 15, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924505].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress UMA THURMAN. She starred in three Quentin Tarantino films, 'Pulp Fiction' and 'Kill Bill' (volumes 1 & 2. Her other films include 'Mad Dog & Glory,' 'Sweet & Lowdown' and 'Dangerous Liaisons.' In her new film 'The Life Before Her Eyes,' she plays a wife and mother who is haunted by an incident fifteen years earlier when a student opened fire on students and teachers at her highschool. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new 3-CD box set by Mosaic Select: 'Boogie Woogie and Blues Piano.' It includes Chicago's Jimmy Yancy, Meade Lux Lewis and Pete Johnson. And it collects solos, duos, pianists accompanying singers, and blues-and-boogie small bands led by Lionel Hampton, Benny Carter, Harry James and Red Allen.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bishop GENE ROBINSON. Four years ago he became the first openly gay Bishop to be consecrated in the Anglican Church. He is Bishop of New Hampshire. ROBINSON has a new book, 'In the Eye of the Storm: Swept to the Center by God' (Seabury Books). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews three new deluxe reissues on the Universal Music label: This Year's Model from Elvis Costello, Odelay from Beck and Lynyrd Skynyrd's Street Survivors.
Interview with Dave Davies; Interview with Lincoln Chafee. April 17, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924436].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter DAVE DAVIES. He's a senior writer for the Philadelphia Daily News in addition to his role as a guest host of Fresh Air. He's been covering the Pennsylvania Primary for the paper as the race heats up in the state. He'll talk about how the campaigns are spinning the local press at a potentially pivotal moment in the race for the Democratic nomination. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) U.S. Senator LINCOLN CHAFEE ('chay-fee'). The senator from Rhode Island is currently registered as an Independent, but he was formerly a Republican, and was the only senator in his party to vote against a number of controversial issues, including the Iraq War and same sex marriage. He's been called the most liberal Republican in the senate. His new book is called 'Against the Tide: How a Compliant Congress Empowered a Reckless President.'

Interview with John C. Reilly and Jake Kasdan; Review of the film "The Life Before Her Eyes." April 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924433].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOHN C. REILLY and director JAKE KASDAN talk about their film 'Walk Hard: the Dewey Cox Story.' It is now out on DVD. JAKE KASDAN woke up in the middle of the night a couple years ago and had an idea that his next film would be a fake music biopic called 'Walk Hard.' He went on to cast JOHN C. REILLY as Dewey Cox, the music legend at the heart of the story who has trouble with women and drugs and tries on a multitude of musical personalities. The film also features Jenna Fischer from NBC's The Office, and was co-written and produced by Judd Apatow. Apatow and Kasdan worked together previously on the critically acclaimed TV show Freaks and Geeks. (REBROADCAST from 12/03/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Life Before Her Eyes, starring Uma Thurman and Evan Rachel Wood.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885336].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor KYLE CHANDLER. He's gearing up for the third season of the hit TV show Friday Night Lights. He plays Coach Eric Taylor. Chandler was also on Gray's Anatomy as Dylan Young, an Emmy nominated role. His big screen credits include 'King Kong' (2005), and 'Mulholland Falls.' (DAVID BIANCULLI interviews.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Relentless Pursuit: A Year in the Trenches with Teach for America (Knopf) by Donna Foote. (3.) TIM FITZGERALD is a marine scientist in the Oceans Program at the Environmental Defense Fund. He'll discuss their tips for selecting healthy and environmentally-friendly seafood. Their 'Seafood Selector To-Go' is available online and in pocket size guide. (4.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Jazz Pictures at an Exhibition of Himalayan Art' (Smalls records) by the Chris Byers Quartet.

Interview with Steve Lopez; Commentary on language. April 22, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924435].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEVE LOPEZ is a columnist for the Los Angeles Times. Three years ago he met a homeless musician on skid row in LA. The man turned out to be a once-promising musician by the name of Nathanial Ayers who years ago dropped out of Julliard in large part because of his schizophrenia. LOPEZ develops a true friendship with Ayers, works to get him off the street and in an apartment, and into treatment for his mental illness. Ayers was the subject of many of the columns by LOPEZ, and now is the subject of his new book 'The Soloist.' There's also an upcoming movie version of their story starring Robert Downey Jr, and Jamie Foxx. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers a phrase that's been bandied about during the presidential primaries, 'under the bus.'
Interview with Paul Polak; Interview with David and Anton Treuer; Review of the new Was (Not Was) album, "Boo!" April 23, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924503].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PAUL POLACK ('Poe-lack') is the founder of International Development Enterprises which currently assists rural farmers in Bangladesh, Cambodia, Ethiopia, India, Myanmar, Nepal, Vietnam, Zambia, and Zimbabwe. He has spent 25 years working to eradicate poverty in the developing world. He thinks government subsidies for the rural poor often makes things worse. He's helped farmers living on a dollar a day climb out of poverty with ideas as simple as a foot-operated water pump for irrigation. Last year his organization received {dollar}13.4 million grant from the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation. POLACK'S new book is 'Out of Poverty: What Works When Traditional Approaches Fail' (Berrett-Koehler) (2.) DAVID and ANTON TREUER ('TROY-ur') are brothers and members of the Ojibwe ('Oh-JIB-way') tribe from the Leech Lake Reservation in northern Minnesota. The two are working to preserve their language, one of the few Native American languages still in use. DAVID teaches literature and creative writing at the University of Minnesota and is author a number of books including the new novel 'The Translation of Dr. Apelles' (Vintage); ANTON is assistant professor of Ojibwe at Bemidji State University, editor of Oshkaabewis Native Journal, and 'Omaa Akiing' a collection of Ojibwe tales by Leech Lake elders. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews a new album 'Boo!' by the band Was (Not Was) which hasn't had an album since 1993.

Interview with Helen Hunt; Interview with Charles Barber. April 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924500].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress HELEN HUNT. 'Then She Found Me' is the new film which she adapted from a novel by Elinor Lipman. HUNT makes her feature film directing debut with it, and also stars in the film. HUNT had been trying to make the film for ten years. HUNT won an Academy Award for her role in the James Brook film 'As Good As It Gets.' She's earned an Emmy four times for her work on the TV series 'Mad About You.' HUNT has been acting since she was nine years old. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) CHARLES BARBER is a lecturer in psychiatry at the Yale School of Medicine, and has spent years working with mentally-ill homeless people. His new book is 'Comfortably Numb: How Psychiatry is Medicating a Nation' (Pantheon). He is also the author of the memoir 'Songs from the Black Chair,' about his own battle with obsessive and compulsive disorder.

Interview with Casey Affleck; Commentary on language; Interview with Jerry Seinfeld; Review of "Standard operating procedure." April 25, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885111].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor CASEY AFFLECK. He starred in the film 'Gone, Baby, Gone,' directed by his brother, Ben Affleck. The movie is based on the novel by Dennis Lehane. Casey is a Boston-based blue collar private investigator. He also in 'The Assasination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford.' Both films are now out on DVD. Casey other films include the Oceans films (11, 12 and 13), American Pie I and II and Good Will Hunting. (REBROADCAST from 10/29/07) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the evolution of the meaning of the 'e-word' ? elite. (3.) Comic and actor JERRY SEINFELD. He began his career as a stand up comic, and went on to star in the NBC hit television show Seinfeld, which ran from 1989 to 1998. He won a Golden Globe and Emmy for his work on the show. He wrote and starred in the animated feature 'The Bee Movie.' (REBROADCAST from 10/30/07) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Standard Operating Procedure' the documentary by Errol Morris about the military personnel on duty at Abu Ghraib prison in Iraq in 2003.

Interview with Nick Cave; Review of the anime "Death note." April 28, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924701].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Australian singer NICK CAVE. He and his band The Bad Seeds are best known for his angry, twisted ballad-like lyrics. They have a new album "'Dig, Lazarus, Dig!'" (Anti-records). CAVE says the inspiration for the album is the Lazarus story from the Bible. This is CAVE's fourteenth studio album. Also, recently CAVE composed the soundtrack for 'The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford, and wrote the screenplay and soundtrack for the film 'The Proposition.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS tells us about the Japanese animated series Death Note. Volume 4 is just coming out on DVD, and the show airs during Adult Swim on Cartoon Network. Death Note is based on a manga series of the same name published by Shonen Jump, and it has an international following.

---

Interview with Lloyd Schwartz; Interview with Dan Gottlieb. April 29, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885337].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ. He's the co-editor of Elizabeth Bishop: Poems, Prose and Letters (Library of America). Lloyd is Fresh Air's classical music critic and regular commentator, and classical music editor at the Boston Phoenix. (2.) Psychologist DAN GOTTlieB. His new book is called Learning from the Heart: Lessons on Living, Loving, and Listening. Gottlieb hosts the weekly call in therapy show Voices in the Family. He is quadriplegic, having been confined to a wheelchair after a near fatal car accident in 1979. More info at www.drdangottlieb.com.

---

Interview with Glen Hansard and Marketa Irglova; Interview with Chiewetel Ejiofor. May 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924609].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musicians and actors GLEN HANSARD and MARKETA IRGLOVA. They star in and wrote the music for the film 'Once.' It's out now on DVD. They won an Oscar this year for Best Original Song for the song 'Falling Slowly.' 'Once' is about two musicians who fall in love while writing songs together. HANSARD and IRGLOVA fell in love in a similar fashion and are currently dating. HANSARD was also featured in the 1991 film 'The Commitments' and is a founding member of the Irish rock band The Frames. In 2006 HANSARD and IRGLOVA released an album under the name, 'The Swell Season.' They're currently on tour. (2.) Actor CHIWETEL EJIOFOR (CHEW-ee-tell EDGE-ee-o-four). He plays a martial arts instructor in the new David Mamet film 'Redbelt.' EJIOFOR was a prominent stage actor in England before going on to star in such films as 'Dirty Pretty Things,' 'Children of Men,' 'Talk to Me' and 'American Gangster.' He was nominated for a Golden Globe in 2007 for his performance in 'Kinky Boots.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist JUNOT DIAZ (pronounced 'JUNE-oh DEE-ahz'). His book 'The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao' (pronounced 'wow') won this year's Pulitzer Prize for fiction. The highly acclaimed novel tells both a family and a political story set in the Dominican Republic and the United States. The narrative trips along in a slangy style that mixes Spanish and English. Michiko Kakutani, writing about Diaz in the New York Times, said Oscar Wao is 'a book that decisively establishes him as one of contemporary fiction's most distinctive and irresistible new voices.' Diaz previously penned the short story collection 'Drown,' published 11 years ago. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST from 10/18/07) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD takes a look at the career of Chuck Berry on the occasion of the release of his entire record output from the 1950s in a four-disc set from Hip-O-Select. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews "Iron Man" the new film based on the comic book super hero. It stars Robert Downey Jr, Gwenyth Paltrow, Gwyneth Paltrow, Jeff Bridges, and Terrence Howard. Directed by Jon Favreau.?

Interview with Charles Ardai; Interview with Cornelius Eady. May 5, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885194].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHARLES ARDAI (R-DIE) is the founder of Hard Case Crime, which reprints classic crime fiction and publishes new pulp fiction in paper-back editions with seamy, seedy cover art from the heyday of the genre. ARDAI also writes for the imprint under the name Richard Aleas. Two of his books ? Little Girl Lost? and ?Songs of Innocence? feature private investigator John Blake. ARDAI is also the founder and CEO of Juno, an internet service provider. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Poet CORNELIUS EADY (E-dee). His new book is Hardheaded Weather: New and Selected Poems. His previous collection "Brutal Imagination" was a finalist for the 2001 National Book Award in Poetry. EADY has collaborated with jazz composer Deidre Murray in the production of several works of musical theatre including "You Don't Miss Your Water" and "Running Man" which was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in Drama in 1999.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Vice President AL GORE. His book 'The Assault on Reason' has just been published in paperback (Penguin). He writes about the loss of civilized discourse and debate in our country and the way it threatens our democracy. Last year GORE was awarded the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize along with the United Nations Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change for fighting global warming. His documentary 'An Inconvenient Truth' on the danger and effects of global warming won the academy award last year. He has a book of the same name. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Trouble In Mind' the new album by country music singer Hayes Carll. The 32-year old Texan says his music is inspired by Beat poetry, Bob Dylan, and singer-songwriter Townes Van Zant.

Interview with Retired Lieutenant General Ricardo Sanchez; Review of Kate Summerscale's "The Suspicions of Mr. Whicher." May 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924700].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Retired LT. GENERAL RICARDO SANCHEZ, former commander of Coalition Forces in Iraq. His new memoir is 'Wiser in Battle:A Soldier's Story' (Harpercollins). He commanded troops in Iraq from 2003 to 2004, and it was on his watch that the Abu Ghraib prison scandal took place. He has been critical of the Bush administration's 'catastrophically flawed, unrealistically optimistic war plan.' SANCHEZ retired in 2006. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Suspicions of Mr. Whicher: Murder and the Undoing of A Great Victorian Detective' (Walker & Co.) by Kate Summerscale about a real murder in England in 1860 that helped catapult British mystery fiction into being.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ADAM LIPTAK is national legal correspondent of The New York Times. He also writes the 'Sidebar' column for the paper. His recent special series 'American Exception' takes a look at the ways the American justice system is unique - including high incarceration rates, the awarding of punitive damages, felony murder liability for accomplices, and commercial bail bondsmen. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW AND WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) JONATHAN PASKOWITZ is a professional surfer and one of nine children of Dorian 'Doc' Paskowitz, a doctor and surfer who quit his practice in the 1950s to take up the nomadic life of a surfer. He and his wife and their children lived in a 24 foot camper. The children were home-schooled and the family traveled to beaches in Southern California, Hawaii, Mexico, and Israel. The now 85 year-old Doc and his family is the subject of the new documentary 'Surfwise' (directed by Doug Pray, JONATHAN PASKOWITZ is one of the producers). 'Surfwise' was an official selection at the Toronto Film Festival.

Interview with Emmanuel Jal; Review of films films "Redbelt" and "Turn the river;" Interview with Charles Granata. May 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924699].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rapper EMMANUEL JAL ('Jawl'). This international star, has an unlikely background. Born in Sudan, he was orphaned and displaced during the civil war and became one of the so-called lost boys. By the age of 8 he was carrying a gun as a conscripted soldier in the Sudan People's Liberation Army. After four years in the army, he was smuggled into Kenya with the help of a British aid worker. He's lived in Kenya since. Now he sings about peacemaking. On his 2005 CD 'Ceasefire' he raps in four languages: Arabic, English, Swahili, and Nuer. His new CD 'Warchild' will be released next week. (REBROADCAST from 10/10/05). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Redbelt' the new martial-arts film written and directed by David Mamet and starring Chiwetel Ejiofor. (3.) Next week a new stamp honoring Frank Sinatra goes on sale. CHARLES GRANATA is record producer, Sinatra historian and author of the award-winning book, Interview with Padraig O'Malley & Mac Maharaj; Obituary for Nuala O'Faolain. May 12, 2008.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924697].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Professor PADRAIG O'MALLEY and South African politician MAC MAHARAJ. They both participated in last year's closed door peace negotiations in Helsinki between Sunnis and Shiites seeking to negotiate a future for Iraq. PADRAIG O'MALLEY is the John Joseph Moakley Professor for International Peace and Reconciliation at the University of Massachusetts Boston. Originally from Ireland, O'Malley is a veteran peace activist who worked to find a peaceful solution to the conflict in Northern Ireland. He was also involved in South Africa's delicate transition from apartheid to democracy. O'MALLEY is the author of the book 'Shades of Difference: Mac Maharaj and the struggle for South Africa.' MAC MAHARAJ was a political activist who worked with Nelson Mandela on anti-apartheid issues. He was detained, charged with terrorism, and spent four months on Robben Island. He went on to be democratic South Africa's first Minister of Transport.

(2.) Late Irish journalist and author NUALA O'FAOLAIN (oh-FWAY-lawn). She died Friday in Dublin of lung cancer at the age of 68. We'll listen back to Terry's 2001 interview with O'FAOLAIN. A radio and television broadcaster, O'FAOLAIN was well known as an opinion columnnist for The Irish Times before her first memoir 'Are You Somebody?' made her a best-selling author. Published in 1996, her memoir chronicled her childhood, growing up poor in Ireland during the 1940s and 50s, the second of nine children. She went on to write 'Almost There,' a sequel to her memoir, and 'My Dream of You,' a novel about an Irish travel writer.

Interview with Kasra Naji; Interview with Deborah Kanafani. May 13, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924698].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Iranian journalist KASRA NAJI. He's the author of the new biography of Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, 'Ahmadinejad: The Secret History of Iran's Radical Leader' (University of California Press). Ahmadinejad had been mayor of Tehran before he was elected president in 2005, but he was relatively unknown
Internationally, NAJI says that insiders in Iran recognize that the election of Ahmadinejad marks the rise of a younger generation of right-wing Islamic hardliners intent on strengthening Iran's military power. NAJI worked as a journalist in Tehran during Ahmadinejad's rise to power, but fled after the Iranian government continually denied his applications for a press card. He has reported for CNN, ABC, the Guardian, and the Los Angeles Times. He now works for the Persian Service of the BBC World Service and lives in London. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) DEBORAH KANAFANI is the author of 'Unveiled: How an American Woman Found Her Way Through Politics, Love, and Obedience in the Middle East' (Free Press). As a Lebanese American graduate student she met the Palestinian diplomat Marwan Kanafani at the United Nations. He later became senior advisor and spokesperson for Yasser Arafat. She and Kanafani married, but the marriage ended in divorce. KANAFANI has been director of international productions for the Palestinian Broadcasting Corporation. And she serves on the boards of several Israeli-Palestinian peace organizations. She currently lives in New York and Los Angeles.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist TIM SHORROCK. His new book is about the outsourcing of U.S. intelligence to the private sector. Corporations such as Booz Allen, Hamilton, Lockheed Martin, and IBM are being paid to do things the CIA, the National Security Agency and the Pentagon usually do. It includes analysis, covert operations, electronic surveillance and reconnaissance. And it's become a $50 billion a year industry. SHORROCK's new book is 'Spies for Hire: The Secret World of Intelligence Outsourcing' (Simon & Schuster). SHORROCK has written about the intersection of business and national security for over twenty-five years. He has written for The Nation, Mother Jones, Salon and other publications. (2.) SUZE ROTOLO (Sooze RO-to-loe) is the author of the memoir 'A Freewheelin' Time: A Memoir of Greenwich Village in the Sixties' (Broadway Books). She was Bob Dylan's girlfriend in the early 1960s for four years. And she's best known as the woman walking with Dylan on the album cover 'The Freewheelin' Bob Dylan.' ROTOLO is an artist and she teaches at the Parsons School of Design in New York City. Reviewing the book for Salon, Stephanie Zacharek writes, 'This is an honest book about a great love affair, set against the folk music revival of the early 1960s, but its sense of time and place is so vivid that it's also another kind of love story: one about a very special pocket of New York.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Scott McCartney; Review of Madonna's "Hard Candy" and Robyn's "Robyn." May 15, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924808].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT MCCARTNEY. He follows the Airline industry and writes the weekly column "The Middle Seat" for the Wall Street Journal. His column "The Middle Seat" appears every Wednesday. He's the WSJ's Travel Editor and Deputy Bureau Chief in Dallas, TX. (DAVE DAVIES is conducting the interview, TERRY GROSS hosts the show) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews two new albums by two women: Madonna's 'Hard Candy,' and Swedish pop singer Robyn's 'Robyn.'

---

Interview with Gershom Gorenberg; Interview with John Hagee; Obituary for Chris Gaffney; Review of the film "Reprise." May 16, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924952].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GERSHOM GORENBERG is former associate editor and columnist for the Jerusalem Report. He is the author of the book, 'The End of Days: Fundamentalism and the Struggle for the Temple Mount' (Oxford University Press). (REBROADCAST FROM 9/18/06) (2.) JOHN HAGEE is the founder of the Christian Zionist group, Christians United for Israel. He is the senior pastor of Cornerstone Church an evangelical church in San Antonio, Texas. He made the news recently for his controversial comments in light of his endorsement of Republican presidential candidate John McCain. (REBROADCAST from 9/18/06) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) We remember musicians CHRIS GAFFNEY of the band The Hacienda Brothers with a 2006 interview with him and fellow band member DAVE GONZALEZ. GAFFNEY died last week from liver cancer. He was 57. The Hacienda Brothers is a Tuscon, Arizona based band which blends country and R&B. (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Reprise' the first feature film by Norwegian writer/director Joachim Trier.

Interview with Carol Pickett; Review of summer fiction reading picks. May 19, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924950].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reverend CARROLL PICKETT. From 1982-1995 he was the death house chaplain to the Walls prison unit in Huntsville, Texas. He was there for the world's first lethal injection. In all he ministered to 95 inmates who were put to death by lethal injection. Now he is an opponent of the death penalty. He wrote the memoir 'Within These Walls' (2002, St. Martin's press). And he is the subject of a new documentary 'At the Death House Door' which premieres on the IFC network, May 29th. The documentary is by Steve James & Peter Gilbert, the award-winning filmmakers of the documentary 'Hoop Dreams.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN gives her summer fiction round-up: 'Lady of the Snakes' (Harcourt) by Rachel Pastan; 'The Sister' (Knopf) by Poppy Adams; 'The People on Privilege Hill' (Europa Editions) by Jane Gardam; 'Exiles' (FSG) by Ron Hansen.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SENATOR JIM WEBB. He is also a decorated marine who served in the Vietnam War, former Assistant Secretary of Defense and Secretary of the Navy during the Reagan administration. And he is the author of nine books, including the cultural history 'Born Fighting' and the novel 'Fields of Fire.' His new book is 'A Time To Fight: Reclaiming a Fair and Just America' (Broadway). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews DVD collections of British TV shows. Some are shows that have been televised in the U.S., some have not. The never before telecast DVDs include: 'Fortysomething' (Acorn Media) a six-part comedy series starring Hugh Laurie, the star of 'House,' and 'Helen Mirren at the BBC,' a collection of nine TV productions featuring Mirren from 1974 to 1982.

Interview with Rick Perlstein; Interview with Mark Evanier. May 21, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924978].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian RICK PERLSTEIN. His new book is 'Nixonland: The Rise of a President and the Fracturing of America' (Scribner). He takes a look at the chaotic years between the landslide Democratic victory in 1964 of Lyndon Johnson to Nixon's lopsided Republican reelection eight years later. One reviewer writes, 'equal parts Walter Winchell and Hunter S. Thompson?-that's true to the times.' PERLSTEIN is senior fellow at the Campaign for America's Future where he writes the blog The Big Con. He previously wrote a biweekly column for The New Republic Online. PERLSTEIN's writing has appeared in Slate, the Village Voice, Newsday and The Nation and other publications. His first book was 'Before the Storm: Barry Goldwater and the Unmaking of the American Consensus.' (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV and comics writer MARK EVANIER ('eh-van-NEAR'). He's written a new biography of influential comic artist Jack Kirby who co-created (along with Stan Lee) the Marvel characters the Fantastic Four, the Hulk, and X-Men. But more importantly Kirby is credited with changing the look of comics in the forties, away from visuals that aped what was being done in syndicated newspaper strips. EVANIER was once an assistant to Kirby. His book is 'Kirby: King of Comics' (Abrams). Novelist Michael Chabon says of Kirby, 'the entire Marvel universe and the entire DC universe are pinned or rooted on Kirby's concepts. (THIS INTERVIEW IS CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI).
(4/08/08) (2.) PATRICK CREED & RICK NEWMAN are the authors of the new book, 'Firefight: Inside the Battle to Save the Pentagon on 9/11' (Ballantine Books). They tell the story of the people inside the Pentagon when American Airlines Flight 77 crashed, the rescue efforts that followed, and the battle to extinguish the flames. It took three days to put the fire out. Fire fighters faced unique circumstances: many of the structural reinforcements built to safeguard the Pentagon against attack, like blast-proof windows and a roof covered by a foot of concrete, only hampered their progress. CREED is an amateur historian, volunteer firefighter, and U.S. Army reserve officer. NEWMAN is a staff writer for U.S. News & World Report. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

Interview with Michael Chabon; Review of the film "Indiana Jones and the kingdom of the crystal skull;" Interview with Neil Diamond; Review of the film "Recount." May 23, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924949].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MICHAEL CHABON (SHAY-bon). Chabon won a Pulitzer Prize in 2000 for his novel 'The Amazing Adventures of Kavalier and Clay.' His new novel, 'The Yiddish Policemen's Union: A Novel,' is just out in paperback. Chabon's other books include 'The Mysteries of Pittsburgh,' and a collection of stories called 'Werewolves in Their Youth.' He has also written for many publications including The New Yorker, Harpers, and Esquire. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 5/3/07) (2.) Film critic JOHN POWERS reviews Indiana Jones and the Kingdom of the Crystal Skull, starring Harrison Ford. (3.) Singer, songwriter and musician NEIL DIAMOND. His new album, Home Before Dark, is number one on the charts, and it is his first chart-topper in a career that has spanned nearly 5 decades. Diamond has teamed up with producer Rick Rubin, who is known more for his work with groundbreaking rap acts. DIAMOND's classic sing-a-long-able hits include 'Sweet Caroline,' 'Cracklin' Rosie,' and 'Cherry Cherry.' (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 12/13/05) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI (and today's host) reviews the HBO TV movie Recount, about the 2000 presidential election, starring Kevin Spacey, Laura Dern and Tom Wilkinson.
Interview with Jim Sheeler; Review of nonfiction picks for the summer; Review of the a five-DVD set of Crawford films "The Joan Crawford Collection May 26, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924976].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JIM SHEELER and Marine Colonel STEVE BECK. Sheeler won a Pulitzer Prize in 2006 for his story in the Rocky Mountain News about a Marine major who helps the families of comrades killed in Iraq cope with their loss. Now it's the subject of his new book 'Final Salute: A Story of Unfinished Lives' (Penguin books). And we hear from Marine Colonel STEVE BECK whom SHEELER wrote about. Col. BECK is one of the officers who notifies families of the loss of their loved one, helps them in their grief, and stands by them during the funeral and after. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF. Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/30/08] (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN gives us her non-fiction Summer Reading List. Titles include: Inventing Niagara by Ginger Strand, Minders of Make-Believe by Leonard S. Marcus, The Greatest Thing Since Sliced Bread by Don Robertson; and The Importance of Music to Girls by Lavinia Greenlaw. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ looks at The Joan Crawford Collection, Volume 2, a new 5 DVD box set of classic Joan Crawford movies. He says one of the films is famous for the wrong reasons.(Warner Home Video)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film critic JOHN POWERS. He joins Terry in the studio to talk about his trip to the Cannes Film Festival. In addition to his duties as Fresh Air's critic at large, Powers is also film critic for Vogue Magazine, LA Weekly and The Village Voice. His most recent book is called Sore Winners (and the rest of us) in George Bush's America. His website is www.sorewinners.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film director SYDNEY POLLACK. He died yesterday at age 73. The writer, actor, director and producer was known for his many films and film roles. He directed Tootsie, and his film Out of Africa won an Academy Award for Best Picture. His early films include The Swimmer and They Shoot Horses, Don't They? His last film was Sketches of Frank Gehry, and he had two movies in post-production: Margaret and The Reader. He also had a role in the recent Michael Clayton. Pollack also produced many noted films, along with the late Anthony Minghella, including The Talented Mr. Ripley and Cold Mountain. Pollack, born in the Midwest, moved to New York, was involved with The Actors Studio, had several roles on Broadway, directed early television shows, and then moved into feature films, collaborating with Robert Redford many times. He was also in the Woody Allen film Husbands and Wives, and had recurring roles on the TV shows Will & Grace, The Sopranos and Frasier. His last role was in the feature film Made of Honor, now in theaters. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 12/11/90)

Interview with Bob Morris; Commentary on language. May 28, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924980].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer BOB MORRIS. His new book is called Assisted Loving: True Tales of Double Dating with My Dad. When Morris' 80 year old father decided to start dating again, guess who had to sort through the personals and find the right woman? While Bob was helping his father, Bob was also looking for his own match on gay Internet dating sites. MORRIS is a contributor to the New York Times Sunday Style Section. His Age of Dissonance column ran for 8 years in the Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the changing definitions of love and marriage.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musical act GNARLS BARKLEY. The band, made up of Cee-Lo Green (Thomas Callaway) and Danger Mouse (Brian Burton), has a new album called The Odd Couple. Gnarls Barkley is best known for its 2006 hit Crazy on the award winning debut album St. Elsewhere. The duo came out of the Atlanta hip hop scene; both members had their own music careers prior to teaming up. Gnarls Barkley won two Grammy awards in 2007 for Best Urban/Alternative Performance and Best Alternative Music Album. (2.) Former White House counter terrorism expert RICHARD CLARKE. His new book is called Your Government Failed You: Breaking the Cycle of National Security Disasters. Clarke is a former White House counter terrorism expert. He worked for the government for 30 years, under several presidents, including Ronald Reagan, the elder George Bush, and Bill Clinton. His 2004 memoir about his years in the government is called Against All Enemies.(DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS CLARKE.)

---

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Actor, comedian, producer and writer DENIS LEARY. Season four of his show 'Rescue Me' comes out on DVD June 3 2008. The show airs on the FX network. LEARY plays the highly dysfunctional and macho firefighter Tommy Gavin. LEARY is also in the HBO film Recount, which premiered on May 25 2008. LEARY starred in the short lived but critically acclaimed ABC comedy series, 'The Job.' And he's known for his work in films such as 'The Thomas Crown Affair' and 'The Ref.' Leary has completed over 20 feature films, several cable specials, a book, a CD, and he has had an international hit song. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/7/07. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'PresentTense' the new CD by saxophonist James Carter. 3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Sex and the City, the big screen version of the HBO series.

---

Interview with John McClellan; Review of Ashton Shepherd's album "Sounds so good." June 2, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924762].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Former White House Press Secretary SCOTT MCCLELLAN. His new book is called What Happened: Inside the White House and Washington's Culture of Deception. The memoir of McClellan's years on the Bush campaign trail and as Press Secretary from 2003-2006 has stirred up controversy. McClellan discusses the Bush Administration's actions regarding the Iraq War, Hurricane Katrina, and the Valerie Plame scandal. McClellan is now a senior adviser to a global technology firm and communications strategist. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2.)
Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Sounds So Good' the debut album by country music singer Ashton Shepherd.

Interview with Jenna Fischer; Interview with Anne d'Harnoncourt. June 3, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503122].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress JENNA FISCHER. She's best known for her role as Pam, the receptionist on NBC's 'The Office.' She played opposite John C. Reilly in the film 'Walk Hard: The Dewey Cox Story,' and with Will Ferrell in 'Blades of Glory.' She's appeared in several Judd Apatow projects including 'The 40 Year Old Virgin' and the TV series 'Undeclared.' Her new film 'The Promotion' is released this Friday. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF]. (2.) Museum director ANNE D'HARNONCOURT (DARN-an-court). She died Sunday at the age of 64. When she was named the director of the Philadelphia Museum of Art in 1982, she became the first woman to lead a major American museum. Her tenure, which included the renovation of 20 of the museum's galleries and a build-up of its modern art collection, brought new prominence to the museum. We'll listen back to a 1987 interview with d'Harnoncourt.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Crime writer TJ ENGLISH. His new book is Havana Nocturne: How the Mob Owned Cuba and the Lost it to the Revolution. English writes about the pre-Castro era of Havana, when mobsters like Meyer Lansky ran the casinos, hotels and nightclubs, making huge profits and creating an atmosphere of debauchery, with a soundtrack of Afro-Cuban rhythms. English is a true crime writer whose other books include Paddy Whacked: The Untold Story of the Irish American Gangster and Born to Kill: America's Most Notorious Vietnamese Gang. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Sports writer MICHAEL SOKOLOVE. His new book is called Warrior Girls: Protecting Our Daughters Against the Injury Epidemic in Women's Sports. Sokolove is a contributing Interview with Pete Hamill; Interview with Jack Newfield; Interview with Maxwell Taylor Kennedy. June 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924889].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PETE HAMILL remembers Robert F. Kennedy. This date marks the 40th anniversary of Robert Kennedy's assassination. HAMILL was friends with Kennedy, helped convince him to run for president, and was with him the night he was killed. HAMILL also has written an essay for the book 'A Time It Was: Bobby Kennedy in the Sixties' a collection of photographs by Bill Eppridge who followed Kennedy's campaign and was there the night he was assassinated. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) JACK NEWFIELD wrote the highly acclaimed 1969 book "Robert Kennedy: A Memoir by Jack Newfield." Newfield was a political columnist for The New York Post. He died In 2004. (REBROADCAST from 6/4/98) (3.) MAXWELL TAYLOR KENNEDY is the youngest son of Robert F. Kennedy. He edited a collection of his father's private journal entries called "Make Gentle The Life of this World: The Vision of Robert F. Kennedy." (Harcourt Brace) (REBROADCAST from 6/4/98)

Interview with Joe Nocera; Interview with Ahmed Rashid; Review of Lionel Loueke's new album "Karibu." June 6, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924763].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times business columnist JOE NOCERA ('no-SAIR-uh'). His Saturday column, Talking Business, covers a diverse range of topics, touching on topics of both international and personal importance. Nocera also contributes to NPR's Weekend Edition. He's worked at Fortune, GQ, Newsweek and Esquire magazines, among other publications. He's won several journalism awards and was a Pulitzer finalist this year. (2.) Journalist AHMED RASHID. His new book is called Descent into Chaos: The United States and the Failure of Nation building in Pakistan, Afghanistan and Central Asia. Rashid is based in Lahore, Pakistan, and writes for The Daily Telegraph (London), The Washington Post, The International Herald Tribune and other publications. He appears regularly on CNN, BBC and NPR. Rashid Interview with Sheryl Crow; Review of the film "You don't mess with the Zohan." June 6, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503474].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter SHERYL CROW. She performs in the Fresh Air studio solo, as well as with her band. Her newest album is Detours (Interscope records). Released in February of this year, it is her sixth studio album. It's also the most politically and personally outspoken record of her career. CROW has had an eventful last few years. She split from her partner Lance Armstrong, battled breast cancer, and adopted a baby boy. Crow has won a total of 9 Grammys. She is currently on the Detours world tour. More info and concert dates at http://www.sherylcrow.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/5/08. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews You Don't Mess with the Zohan, starring Adam Sandler.

Interview with David Sedaris; Interview with Anton Corbin. June 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924764].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Humorist DAVID SEDARIS. His new book is called When You Are Engulfed in Flames. His other books include the bestsellers Me Talk Pretty on Day, Dress your Family in Corduroy and Denim, Naked and Barrel Fever. Sedaris first became known for the Santaland Diaries, broadcast on NPR in the early 1990s. He is a frequent contributor to This American Life, Esquire and The New Yorker. Currently, he lives in France and England with his partner, Hugh Hamrick.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film director and photographer ANTON CORBIJN (core-BINE). His acclaimed 2007 film, Control, has just come out on DVD. It is a profile of Ian Curtis, vocalist and lyricist for the band Joy Division. Curtis committed suicide at age 23. Control won many awards internationally, including 3 prizes at Cannes. Corbijn is also a photographer, and has directed many music videos for bands including Depeche Mode, Nirvana and U2. Control is Corbijn's first feature length film.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Epidemiologist ELIZABETH PISANI (’piz-AH-nee’). Her new book is called The Wisdom of Whores: Bureaucrats, Brothels and the Business of AIDS. Pisani travels the world to talk to sex workers such as Indonesian transsexuals and Chinese streetwalkers. She also looks at the bureaucracy surrounding AIDS research and treatment, and offers an alternative for the future. (2.) Actress JULIANNE MOORE. Before starring roles in films like Boogie Nights, Magnolia, Far From Heaven, The Big Lebowski, and Short Cuts, she appeared as identical half-sisters, one of whom was evil, in the soap opera As the World Turns. She won a Daytime Emmy in 1988. She has been nominated for an Oscar three times for her film work. In her new film, Savage Grace, MOORE plays the wife of the heir to the Bakelite plastics fortune. It's in limited release now.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer CATHERINE RUSSELL. Jazz critic Nat Hentoff has called her 'the real thing.' Her newest album is called A Sentimental Streak. Her father, Luis Russell, was Louis Armstrong's musical director. Russell released her debut album, Cat (2006), to rave reviews. (2.) Writer RON HANSEN. His new novel is called Exiles. It's based on the life of poet and Jesuit priest Gerard Manley Hopkins. Hansen was recently ordained as a deacon. He's also the author of the novel the Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford which was adapted into a film last year. He also wrote Mariette in Ecstasy.
Interview with Nathan Hodge and Sharon Weinberger; Review of the "Family tradition" exhibit; Obituary for Wayne Conner. June 12, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924887].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Defense reporters SHARON WEINBERGER and NATHAN HODGE. The husband and wife team co-authored the new book 'A Nuclear Family Vacation: Travels in the World of Atomic Weaponry.' Sharon Weinberger is a contributing writer for Wired's national security blog, Danger Room. Nathan Hodge writes for Jane's Defence Weekly. He's also written for Slate, the Financial Times, Foreign Policy, Details and many other publications. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews an exhibit at the Country Music Hall of Fame, 'Family Tradition: The Williams Family Legacy' about Hank Williams and his family. (3.) Remembering our colleague WAYNE CONNER.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor STEVE CARELL ('Cah-RELL'). He's starring in the new film "Get Smart" based on the 60's comedic TV show created by Mel Brooks and Buck Henry. CARELL plays secret agent Maxwell Smart. CARELL is best known for his role as Michael Scott in NBC's 'The Office.' His other film roles include 'The 40 Year Old Virgin,' 'Little Miss Sunshine,' and "Anchorman." From 1999 to 2004, he was a correspondent on 'The Daily Show with Jon Stewart.' "Get Smart" will be released June 20, 2008. (REBROADCAST from 10/24/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews "Evil Urges," the new album by the Louisville, Kentucky rock band My Morning Jacket. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews three new documentaries. Wernog Herzog's Antarctic exploration "Encounters at the End of the World," Guy Madden's examination of his hometown "My Winnipeg," and Guido Santi and Tina Mascara's "Chris and Don" about the love affair between writer Christopher Isherwood and Don Bachardy.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and actress KELLI O'HARA. She's currently starring in the Broadway revival of Rodgers & Hammerstein's 'South Pacific' in the role of Nellie Forbush, and was nominated for a Tony award. She also has her first solo album, 'Wonder in the World' a collection of pop music and music from the American songbook, arranged & orchestrated by Harry Connick Jr. O'HARA made her Broadway debut in 'Jekyll & Hyde,' and went on to perform in 'Sondheim's Follies,' 'Sweet Smell of Success,' and 'The Pajama Game.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JENJI KOHAN is the creator and executive producer of the Showtime series 'Weeds.' Season four begins on June 16th. It's a story about a widowed mother in suburban L.A. who sells pot to sustain her lifestyle. KOHAN also was a producer and writer for 'Gilmore Girls.' Her other writing credits include for the TV shows 'Will & Grace,' 'Mad About You,' 'Boston Commons,' and 'The Fresh Prince of Bel-Air.' KOHAN was raised in L.A. and comes from a TV-biz family. Her father was a comedy writer; her mother an actress and novelist. Her brother is the creator of 'Will & Grace.' (3.) Tribute to TIM RUSSERT.

Interview with Sean Combs; Review of the film "Operation Filmmaker." June 17, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924874].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SEAN COMBS, otherwise known as Diddy, P. Diddy, Puff Daddy and Puffy is a rapper, record producer, clothing designer, entrepreneur, and actor. He had roles in the films 'Monster's Ball,' and 'Made.' COMBS starred in the 2004 Broadway revival of 'Raisin in the Sun.' He also was the executive producer of the three-hour film version which aired on TV. Now there is a DVD version of the production. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews the new documentary 'Operation Filmmaker' by Nina Davenport about a young Iraqi film maker and good intentions gone awry.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Attorney PHILIPPE SANDS. He is an international lawyer at the firm Matrix Chambers, and a professor and director of the Centre of International Courts and Tribunals at University College London. He just wrote an article in the May 2008 issue of Vanity Fair called The Green Light, about torture at Guantanamo Bay and what will happen if some Bush Administration officials are held accountable under international law. His latest book is 'Torture Team: Rumsfeld's Memo and the Betrayal of American Values.' He'll tell us how lessons learned from Britain's handling of the IRA could teach Americans how to proceed with the aftermath of Gitmo. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Say You're One of Them' the short story collection by Nigerian writer Uwem Akpan ('Ooom AHK-pahn').

Interview with Eva Marie Saint; Interview with Robert Towne and Faye Dunaway; Interview with Kirk Douglas and Tony Curtis; Interview with Peter O'Toole; Review of the film "Get smart." June 20, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924943].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress EVA MARIE SAINT. She starred opposite Marlon Brando in the 1954 film 'On the Waterfront,' and won an academy award for her portrayal of his convent-reared girlfriend. Later she and Cary Grant teamed up for Alfred Hitchcock's 'North by Northwest.' SAINT studied at the famed Actors Studio where Brando, Paul Newman, Marilyn Monroe and Dennis Hopper also did. (REBROADCAST from 11/30/00) (2.) Film director and screenwriter ROBERT TOWNE. Towne is one of Hollywood's most successful and critically acclaimed screenwriters. He wrote the scripts for the films "The Last Detail," "Shampoo" and "Chinatown," which won the Academy Award for the best screenplay. He debuted as a director with the 1982 film "Personal Best." (Rebroadcast from 12/15/88). (3.) Actress FAYE DUNAWAY. She was nominated an Oscar as Best Actress three times, and won it for her role in "Network." DUNAWAY's films include "Bonnie and Clyde," "Chinatown," "Three Days of the Condor," "Mommie Dearest" and "Barfly." (REBROADCAST FROM 1/11/96) (4.) Actor KIRK DOUGLAS. The star of "Lust for Life," "Paths of Glory," "Champion" and Stanley Kubrick's epic, "Spartacus," the story of a slave uprising during the Roman Empire. (REBROADCAST FROM 8/22/88). (5) Actor TONY CURTIS. In 1960 he starred in "Spartacus." A restored version of the film was released in 1991 that includes previously cut scenes, including one where Lawrence Olivier --as a general-- tries to seduce his slave, played by CURTIS. (REBROADCAST FROM 4/19/91). (6.) Actor PETER O'TOOLE. The star of "Lawrence of Arabia," "The Lion in the Winter," "My Favorite Year," and Venus. He's had multiple Oscar nominations but so far, no statue to call his own. (REBROADCAST from 4/16/93) (7.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Get Smart, the big screen version of the vintage 1960s television series. Steve Carell stars as Agent Maxwell Smart.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember GEORGE CARLIN - the comic whose seven dirty words routine was the center of a famous obscenity case in the 1970s. He died Sunday at the age of 71. The cause was heart failure. Just recently CARLIN was named the recipient of the Mark Twain Prize for American Humor. He was to receive the ward at the Kennedy Center in November. CARLIN released half a dozen comedy albums including the million-record sellers "Class Clown," "Occupation Foole," and "An Evening with Wally Lando." CARLIN's books included: "When Will Jesus Bring the Pork Chops?" "Napalm & Silly Putty," and "Brain Droppings." He had many HBO comedy specials including the 2005 special 'Life is Worth Living' a parody on life, death and suicide. (REBROADCASTS from 6/1/90 and 11/1/04) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews "Lay it Down" the new album by Al Green.

Interview with Brent Stirton; Review of George Schuller's "Like before, somewhat after." June 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885272].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Photojournalist BRENT STIRTON has covered the conflict in the Democratic Republic of Congo (DRC), both in terms of the loss of human and animal life. In July 2007 he photographed the body of rare mountain gorilla who was murdered in the Virunga National Park in the DRC. It was one of six gorillas who were killed. One of the gorillas was pregnant. STIRTON's photographs were smuggled out of the country, and shocked the world. Only an estimated 720 of these primates remain in the world. This is the same region where scientist Dian Fossey studied the mountain gorillas, and battled poachers 40 years ago. The new special 'Gorilla Murders' (premieres on the National Geographic channel, Tuesday, July 1) investigates who killed the gorillas and why. STIRTON is a senior staff photographer for Getty images and is from South Africa. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Circle Wide' (Playscape) the new recording by drummer George Schuller's quintet which salutes the music of pianist Keith Jarrett's American quartet of the 70s.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurological researcher JILL BOLTE TAYLOR. Her new book is 'My Stroke of Insight: A Brain Scientist's Personal Journey.' Taylor is a Harvard trained neuroanatomist who suffered a stroke at age 37. She became her own experimental subject. She was named one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People in the World for 2008. She is affiliated with the Indiana University School of Medicine in Indianapolis. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with James Glanz; Review of the television show 'Hopkins.' June 26, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924877].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES GLANZ is Baghdad Bureau chief for the New York Times, and has been for four years. He's currently in the states and has just reported on a government study criticizing the Bush administration for broadly overstating certain gains in Iraq. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews 'Hopkins' the new documentary series on ABC about life and death inside the ER at Johns Hopkins University Hospital in Baltimore. It premieres tonight.
Interview with Martin Scorsese; Interview with Michael Imperioli; Interview with Mario Puzo; Interview with John Lasseter; Interview with Rudy Behlmer; Review of the film "Wall-E." June 27, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825626].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director, producer, writer and actor MARTIN SCORSESE interviewed by film critic ROGER EBERT. We'll hear a 1997 live interview held at the Wexner Center for the Arts in Columbus, Ohio. They discuss the making of Raging Bull. Scorsese has been nominated many times for Academy Awards and won his first for The Departed in 2006. His other films include The Aviator, Goodfellas, Gangs of New York, After Hours and Taxi Driver. His most recent film is Shine A Light, featuring live footage of the Rolling Stones in concert. Roger Ebert is a Pulitzer prize winning film critic for the Chicago Sun-Times and for many years hosted a popular movie review TV show. His column is syndicated in over 200 newspapers, and he has written many books about film. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate 3/24/97) (2.) Actor MICHAEL IMPERIOLI. He played Spider in the film Goodfellas, best known for getting shot in the foot by Joe Pesci's character after failing to get a drink. Imperioli is best known for his Emmy-award winning role as Christopher Moltisanti in the TV series The Sopranos. He also had a recurring role on the TV show Law & Order. His other films include Jungle Fever, Malcolm X, and the upcoming The Lovely Bones. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 7/25/96) (3.) Writer MARIO PUZO. He wrote the novel and the screenplay for The Godfather, for which he won an Oscar. He also won an Oscar for Godfather II, and he wrote Godfather III. Puzo also wrote the screenplays for Superman and Superman II, Earthquake, and The Cotton Club. Puzo was an acclaimed novelist as well. He died in 1999. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 7/25/96) (4.) Pixar Chief Creative Officer and founder JOHN LASSETER. The award winning animator created Toy Story, the first fully computer generated animated feature. He's also the executive producer of the new film Wall-E. Lasseter's other films include Cars, Monsters Inc., Finding Nemo and Ratouille. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 6/08/06) (5.) Film historian RUDY BEHLMER (BEL-mur). He talks about the making of King...

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist SEYMOUR HERSH. He talks about covert military operations funded by congress conducted in Iran by the United States. His article about the subject appears In the July 7 edition... of the New Yorker Magazine. Hersh is a regular contributor to the magazine on matters of security and the military. The Pulitzer Prize winning writer is based in Washington, DC. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

| Description of show segment(s) |
| (1.) Harvard Law Professor ELIZABETH WARREN. She'll talk about credit scores. Warren is an expert on bankruptcy and is an outspoken critic of consumer lenders. She's appeared before the Senate Banking Committee to discuss the abusive lending practices by credit card companies. She considers the interest charges and late fees imposed by credit card companies to be a hidden tax on cardholders. WARREN is also the author of 'The Two-Income Trap: Why Middle Class Mothers and Fathers Are Going Broke.' (2.) Actor JASON BATEMAN. He co-stars in the new film Hancock, which opens in theaters Wednesday July 2. Bateman plays a PR executive who is rescued by the superhero Hancock, played by Will Smith. Bateman is probably best known for his work on the TV show Arrested Development, for which he won a Golden Globe award. He played Michael Bluth. Bateman got his start as a child actor in the early 80s sitcom Silver Spoons. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Wanted, starring Morgan Freeman and Angelina Jolie. |

| Description of show segment(s) |
| (1.) Vocalist, composer and performance artist THEO BLECKMANN. His latest album is called Berlin: songs of love and war, peace and exile. It's in collaboration with pianist Fumio Yasuda. Bleckmann grew up in Germany, and came to the US in 1989. He became a U.S. citizen in 2005. He's well known in the downtown New York music scene, having worked with artists like John Zorn, Anthony Braxton and Meredith Monk. Bleckmann has garnered much critical acclaim. His Refuge Trio is set to release a new album later this year. Meanwhile, Bleckmann is on tour this summer in the U.S. and Europe. Check his | website for details: http://www.theobleckmann.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Law Professor ELIZABETH WARREN. She's back today to talk about how credit card debt is becoming more costly, with increased fees and interest rates. Warren is an expert on bankruptcy and is an outspoken critic of consumer lenders. She's appeared before the Senate Banking Committee to discuss the abusive lending practices by credit card companies. She considers the interest charges and late fees imposed by credit card companies to be a hidden tax on cardholders. WARREN is also the author of 'The Two-Income Trap: Why Middle Class Mothers and Fathers Are Going Broke.' (3.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews the novel Netherland, by Joseph O'Neill.

---

Interview with Bobby Womack; Review of Carole King's classic album "Tapestry;" Commentary on George Carlin. July 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925024].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Soul singer, composer and musician BOBBY WOMACK. Womack's song It's All Over Now was covered by the Rolling Stones; his theme from the film Across 110th Street was also used in the films Jackie Brown and American Gangster. There's a new collection of Womack's recordings from the soul years which has turned up as a favorite for many critics. Womack and his brothers started out singing gospel. Sam Cooke discovered Womack and convinced him to sing secular music. Just three months after Sam Cooke was murdered, Womack married his widow. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 11/24/99. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Music historian MILO MILES looks at Carole King's classic album Tapestry. It's just been reissued as a 2-disc Legacy Edition by Sony. The package includes a disc of live performances, extensive liner notes, photos, and a remastered original. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG reflects on the life and language of the late comedian George Carlin.
Interview with Teresa Ghilarducci; Review of the first season of "Mad men." July 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925019].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist TERESA GHILARDUCCI ("GILL-are-DU-chee"). She'll talk about 401Ks and traditional pension plans and offer her new proposal for retirement security. Ghilarducci's new book is 'When I'm Sixty-Four: The Plot Against Pensions and the Plan to Save Them.' Ghilarducci is the Bernard and Irene Schwartz Chair of Economic Policy Analysis and the director of the Schwartz Center for Economic Policy Analysis at the New School for Social Research. Previously, she taught at the University of Notre Dame for 25 years. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the DVD release of the first season of the show "Mad Men" on the AMC channel.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Financial reporter PAUL MUOLO ('MAW-loe') is Executive Editor of National Mortgage News. He is co-author (with Mathew Padilla) of the new book, 'Chain of Blame: How Wall Street Caused the Mortgage and Credit Crisis' (Wiley). They tell the story through that of Angelo Mozilo, founder and CEO of Countrywide Financial, America's largest home mortgage lender. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) STEPHANIE SHAIN is Director of Outreach, companion animals for The Humane Society. She'll discuss their efforts to rescue and find homes for many of the pets who are abandoned by families whose homes have been foreclosed upon. SHAIN rescued two dogs herself.
Interview with Don Bachardy; Interview with Thomas Disch. July 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925025].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist DON BACHARDY. His thirty-year relationship with British writer Christopher Isherwood is the subject of a new documentary 'Chris & Don.' The two met on a Santa Monica beach in 1952. BACHARDY was a teenager and Isherwood in his late 40s. Later they began a love affair. Isherwood encouraged BACHARDY to pursue his art career. Their relationship lasted until the end of Isherwood's life in 1986. The documentary 'Chris & Don: a love story' was a favorite at the Telluride film festival and has received critical acclaim. It was made by film makers Guido Santi and Tina Mascara. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember novelist, poet and critic THOMAS DISCH. He died Friday at the age of 68. He shot himself. He was best known for his science fiction novels? 'Camp Concentration' and '334.' Disch was also the author of several acclaimed children's books including 'The Brave Little Toaster' DISCH's criticism appeared in 'The Nation,' 'The New York Daily News,' and 'The New York Sun.' His last novel 'The Word of God: Or, Holy Writ Rewritten' was told in the voice of God. (REBROADCAST from 7/21/88). (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS on the fictional Detective Inspector John Rebus, created by Ian Rankin. He's the United Kingdom's bestselling crime writer. And Rebus is the star of a popular British TV series, 'Rebus.' Episodes are now out on DVD.

Interview with Andrew Stanton; Commentary on language. July 10, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925018].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Animator, director and writer ANDREW STANTON. He co-wrote and directed the new Pixar animated film 'Wall-E.' Stanton also wrote and directed 'Finding Nemo,' which was awarded an Oscar for Best Animated Feature Film in 2004. STANTON also co-wrote 'Monster's Inc,' 'Toy Story,' and 'A Bug's Life.' STANTON joined Pixar in 1990 and was the company's second animator and ninth employee. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on why he's not worried that new technologies? like text messaging, and instant messaging? will have a permanent effect on the language.
Interview with Zooey Deschanel; Review of the film "The Wackness;" Interview with Bob Kane; Review of the television show "Generation kill." July 11, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925021].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress and singer ZOOEY DESCHANEL. Her band is She & Him with indie rocker M. Ward. The band goes on tour later this month. DESCHANEL made her film debut in the 1999 feature Mumford, and has also been in many films including Almost Famous, The Good Girl, and Elf. She also has had a part in Showtime's series Weeds. (REBROADCAST from 3/27/08) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Wackness, starring Ben Kingsley. (3.) Batman creator BOB KANE. He drew Batman from its inception in 1939 to the late 60s. The new Batman film The Dark Knight opens in theatres next week. (REBROADCAST FROM 3/23/90) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Generation Kill, the new HBO miniseries by David Simon and Ed Burns who also brought us the acclaimed series The Wire. The miniseries is based on Evan Wright's bestselling book about the 1st Reconnaissance Battalion during the six-week assault on Baghdad in 2003.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA ("LIZ-ah"). He is the Washington correspondent for the New Yorker Magazine. He's been following the Obama campaign. His new article, entitled Making It: How Chicago Shaped Obama, in the July 21 2008 edition of the magazine explores Obama's roots in Chicago politics. Lizza was previously senior editor of The New Republic and has contributed to many other publications. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist JANE MAYER (‘MAY-er’ rhymes with 'HAY-er’). She's a staff writer for the New Yorker. Her new book is called The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned Into a War on American Ideals. Among the revelations in The Dark Side is that the International Committee of the Red Cross issued a secret report last year that described some CIA interrogation techniques as torture. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Authors ROSS DOUTHAT and REIHAN SALAM. Their new book is called Grand New Party: How Republicans Can Win the Working Class and Save the American Dream. Douthat and Salam are both editors at The Atlantic magazine. New York Times columnist David Brooks called the book "the best single roadmap of where the party should and is likely to head" (DOUTHAT is pronounced 'DOW-thut,' like the ou sound in mouth; also, 'RYE-hahn sah-LAHM'). (2.) Animal stage trainer BILL BERLONI ('ber-LOW-nee'). His new memoir is called Broadway Tails: Heartfelt Stories of Rescued Dogs Who Became Showbiz Superstars (co-written with Jim Hanrahan). Berloni has been training animals for show business for over 30 years. He started in acting and happened to get into animal training when asked to find a dog for the show Annie.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Alt-country singer and guitar player RHETT MILLER. He joins us in the studio with his guitar for a concert. In addition to his solo career, Miller is the lead singer for the band Old 97's. The band has a new album called Blame it on Gravity. Miller's solo albums are The Instigator and The Believer. Miller is on tour this summer. Check his website for details: www.rhettmiller.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Dark Knight. It's the latest Batman movie, with stars Christian Bale and the late Heath Ledger.

Interview with Matt Weiner; Interview with Jo Stafford; Obituary for Janwillem van de Wetering; Review of the new documentary film "Gonzo." July 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924175].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writer and producer MATT WEINER (why-ner). He created the show Mad Men, a series the AMC cable network. Set in 1960s New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. The show won a Golden Globe and has just received 16 Emmy nominations. Season two of Mad Men premieres Sunday July 27th 2008 at 10 PM ET. Season one is now out on DVD and is also available on AMC's website at http://www.amctv.com/originals/madmen/. Weiner also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 8/09/07. DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS. ) (2.) Jazz singer JO STAFFORD AND pianist/husband RANDY WESTON. Jo Stafford has died at age 90. She was a favorite entertainer of soldiers during World War II. Her greatest success was from the 1930s to the 1960s. Stafford and Weston also performed a bad cabaret act as their alter egos, Jonathan and Darlene Edwards. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 3/24/88) (3.) Mystery novelist Janwillem van de Wetering (pronounced Yon-VIL-em VAN de VETering). He died July 4, 2008 at age 77. Born in Rotterdam in 1931, Wetering was once a motorcycle gang member in South Africa, an aspiring monk in Kyoto, Japan, and a policeman in Amsterdam. He is currently living in Maine. The Dutch author's colorful past led him to be known as an eccentric and hypnotic storyteller whose novels include The Hollow-Eyed Angel, The Blond Baboon and The Maine Massacre. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 1/13/97.) (4.) Film critic JOHN POWERS reviews the new documentary Gonzo: The Life and Work of Dr. Hunter S. Thompson.
Interview with Carol Levine; Interview with Christian Bale and Christopher Nolan; Review of Coleman Hawkins' album "The hawk flies high." July 21, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924769].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Home health care advocate CAROL LEVINE ('le-VEEN'). She is the Director of the Families and Health Care Project of the United Hospital Fund. For seventeen years, from 1990 to 2007, Levine took care of her housebound husband who had been seriously injured in a car accident. He died in 2007. She will tell us what her life has been like since her husband passed away last year. Levine says it was as if she lost her husband twice: once in the accident, and once when he actually died. Ms. Levine also directs The Orphan Project: Families and Children in the HIV Epidemic, which she founded in 1991. (2.) The Dark Knight star CHRISTIAN BALE and director/writer CHRISTOPHER NOLAN. The Dark Knight is the latest in the Batman series of films. The duo previously teamed up for Batman Begins. Christopher Nolan made a name for himself with the Oscar nominated low budget hit Memento. Christian Bale has also been in the films 3:10 to Yuma, I'm Not There, The Prestige and The Machinist. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS.) (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new reissue of The Hawk Flies High, a 1957 Coleman Hawkins album.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Counterinsurgency expert Colonel JOHN NAGL (NOG-el). He is a Senior Fellow at the Center for a New American Security. Nagl is a retired US Army officer. He led a tank platoon in Operation Desert Storm and served as the operations officer of a tank battalion task force in Iraq. A West Point graduate and Rhodes Scholar, Nagl earned his doctorate from Oxford University, taught national security studies at West Point, and served as a Military Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Defense. Nagl was on the team that wrote the military's latest counterinsurgency manual. He is the author of 'Learning to Eat Soup with a Knife: Counterinsurgency Lessons from Malaya and Vietnam.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Soldier and poet BRIAN TURNER. His debut book of poems 'Here, Bullet' won the 2005 Beatrice Hawley Award, the New York Times 'Editor's Choice' selection, and the 2006 Pen Center USA 'Best in the West' award. The poems in his book are a first-person account of the Iraq war. TURNER served in the U.S. Army for seven years, including one year as infantry team leader in Iraq.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actors WILL FERRELL and JOHN C. REILLY, and writer/director ADAM MCKAY. The three have teamed up for the new comedy 'Step Brothers' about two underemployed, underachieving middle-aged men who each live with their single parent until they are forced to be step brothers when their parents marry. The three teamed up for the comedy 'Talladega Nights: The Ballad of Ricky Bobby.' MCKAY and FERRELL also worked on 'Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Lookout Mountain, Lookout Sea' the new album by the group the Silver Jews, led by singer-songwriter poet David Berman. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two insider books about China: 'The Last Days of Old Beijing' (Walker & Co.) by Michael Meyer, and 'Serve the People: A Stir-Fried Journey Through China' (Harcourt) by Jen Lin Liu.

Interview with Douglas Holtz-Eakin; Interview with Jason Furman; Interview with Len Burman. July 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924176].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist DOUGLAS HOLTZ-EAKIN is the senior economic advisor for John McCain. He is Senior Fellow, at the Peterson Institute for International Economics. And he is former Director of Congressional Budget Office. He also served on the President's Council of Economic Advisors for George H.W. Bush, and for George W. Bush. (2.) Economist JASON FURMAN is senior economic advisor for Barack Obama. He is a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution (where he is now on leave), and a visiting scholar at New York University's Wagner Graduate School of Public Service. FURMAN served as special assistant to the president for economic policy in the Clinton Administration and served on the President's Council of Economic Advisors. (3.) Economist LEN BURMAN is a senior fellow at the Urban Institute and Director of the Urban-Brookings Tax Policy Center. The Urban Institute is a non-partisan economic and social policy research organization. They have just issued their revised report, 'An Updated Analysis of the 2008 Presidential Candidates' Tax Plan.' The report is a combined effort of the Urban Institute and the Brookings Institution. It is available on their website. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Robert Smigel; Review of the film "Man on wire;" Interview with Don Rickles; Review of the second season of "Mad men." July 25, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924770].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT SMIGEL (SMY-gull) is a writer and creator of animated comic episodes for Saturday Night Live, including 'X-Presidents' and 'The Ambiguously Gay Duo' and is the creator of Triumph the insult comic dog. His Comedy Central series 'TV Funhouse,' is described as a broken kid's show for adults. The Funhouse combines real animals, puppet animals, short films and animation. It's now available on DVD. Smigel wrote for SNL from 1985-1993, and he was the original headwriter and producer of Late Night With Conan O'Brien. (REBROADCAST from 12/19/00) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Man on Wire' the new documentary about high wire artist Philippe Petit. In 1974 he made an illegal high wire walk between the twin towers of the World Trade Center. The film is directed by James Marsh. (3.) Comic DON RICKLES. He's known for insulting his audiences on stage, but he doesn't consider himself an insult comic. His heyday was in the 1950s and 60s, on TV in Vegas. Frank Sinatra was an early fan, and helped get him noticed. RICKLES' memoir, 'Rickles' Book: a Memoir' is now out in paperback (Simon & Schuster). (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI) (REBROADCAST from 5/22/07) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews 'Mad Men.' Season two of the popular and multiple Emmy award nominated series begins on Sunday night on AMC.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neuroscientist MICHAEL GAZZANIGA (pronounced 'gah-ZAH-ni-gah where the ZAH sounds like Zack without the CK). He is one of the pioneers of split-brain research, and has been studying the way the left and right brain work individually for 45 years. He is the director of the University of California-Santa Barbara's SAGE Center for the Study of the Mind. He also serves on the President's Council on bioethics. His new book is 'Human: The Science Behind What Makes Us Unique' (Harper Collins). (2.) TOM VANDERBILT is the author of the new book, 'Traffic: Why We Drive the Way We Do (and What It Says About Us)' (Knopf). His book is based on research and interviews with driving experts and traffic officials around the world. VANDERBILT writes about design, technology, science, and culture for Wired, Slate, The New York Times, and other publications. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a recent performance of the ballet Romeo & Juliet. This particular show has an intriguing twist: it is based on a forgotten manuscript recently discovered in Russia, and differs significantly from the more familiar version. Mark Morris choreographed the ballet, set to Sergei Prokofiev's score, and the performance premiered at Bard College on July 4, 2008. The work will tour to Berkeley, California; London UK; Urbana and Chicago, Illinois; Norfolk, Virginia; and Lincoln Center in New York during the 2008-09 season.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist J. PETER SCOBLIC ('SKOH-blick'). His new book is called 'Us vs. Them: How Half a Century of Conservatism has Undermined America's Security.' Scoblic is the Executive Editor of The New Republic. Formerly he was the editor of Arms Control Today. He wrote his new book while a visiting scholar at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and a visiting researcher at Georgetown University's Center for Peace and Security Studies. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor RAINN WILSON ('RAIN'). He's best known for his portrayal of Dwight Schrute in NBC's 'The Office.' Before that he played Arthur Martin, the intern at the Fisher family funeral home in 'Six Feet Under.' Now he's starring in the new film 'The Rocker' as a former drummer in an eighties band, who was kicked out just before the group made it big. Now, as a 41 year old he's getting his second chance at stardom in his teenage nephew's band. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews Parallel Play, the new album by Sloan. The Canadian favorites are hoping to attract an American following with this release. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Lincolns: Portrait of a Marriage' by Daniel Mark Epstine, 'Alfred & Emily' by Doris Lessing and 'Furious Improvisation' by Susan Quinn.

Interview with Seth Rogen; Commentary on the music of the guitarist Lonnie Mack. July 31, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924177].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and writer SETH ROGEN. He co-wrote and is co-starring in the new film 'Pineapple Express' an action-comedy about two stoners inadvertently caught up in a murder. The film is co-written and produced by Judd Apatow. The two also worked together on the film 'Knocked Up,' 'The 40 Year-Old Virgin,' 'Superbad' and the TV series 'Freaks and Geeks.' Before his film career, ROGEN was a staff writer on the final season of Sacha Baron Cohen's 'Da Ali G Show.' ROGEN got his start doing standup comedy in Vancouver, B.C. where he was born and raised. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers Lonnie Mack, from Cincinnati, a guy who could sing soul, country and play a mean guitar. He's been in and out of the music business since the early 1960s. Now he has his own website: lonniemack.com.

Interview with Neil Patrick; Interview with Paul Anka. August 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825823].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor NEIL PATRICK HARRIS. He was recently nominated for an Emmy for his supporting role in the CBS sitcom 'How I Met Your Mother.' He's currently starring in the Joss Whedon internet musical series Dr. Horrible's Sing-Along Blog. In the early 1990s TV series 'Doogie Howser, MD,' he played a teenage doctor. Harris also played a parody of himself in the film 'Harold and Kumar Go to White Castle' (now out on DVD.) Harris made his film debut in two 1988 films: 'Purple People Eater' and 'Clara's Heart.' He is also a singer, and performed in the musicals 'Sweeney Todd' and 'Rent.' (REBROADCAST from 11/17/05) (2.) Singer PAUL ANKA. Last month he was awarded the 2008 Johnny Mercer Award by the Songwriters Hall of Fame. (Some of Mercer's songs are: 'Autumn Leaves,' 'Black Magic,' 'I Thought About You,' 'Laura,' 'Moon River,' and 'Too Marvelous for Words.') ANKA Canadian-American singer-songwriter began his career at age 14 and skyrocketed to fame at the age of 16 with the hit single 'Diana,' one of the best selling 45s in music history. He also wrote some of the greatest songs in American popular music, including Frank Sinatra's 'My Way,' and Tom Jones' 'She's A Lady.' He also had an acting career and was one of the first pop singers to perform in Las Vegas. (REBROADCAST from 8/8/05 and 8/10/05). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Thomas Frank; Interview with John Darnton. August 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825824].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist THOMAS FRANK is the author of the bestseller "What's the matter with Kansas: How the Conservatives Won the Heart of America." His new book is 'The Wrecking Crew: How Conservatives Rule.' FRANK is the founding editor of the zine 'The Baffler,' a cultural-criticism journal, and a contributing editor at Harper's. He received a Lannan award and been a guest columnist for The New York Times. He also writes The Tilting Yard column for The Wall Street Journal's online Daily Political Newsletter. (2.) Journalist and novelist JOHN DARNTON. He has worked for forty years as a reporter, editor, and foreign correspondent for The New York Times. He was awarded two George Polk awards for his coverage of African and Eastern Europe. He received a Pulitzer Prize for his stories smuggled out of Poland during martial law. He is the author of a number of books, including 'Neanderthal' and 'The Darwin Conspiracy.' His new book is a mystery set in the newsroom, 'Black & White and Dead All Over.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actor BEN KINGSLEY. The beknighted actor received an academy award for his title role in the film 'Ghandi' which was his first major role. His other films include 'Schindler's List,' 'House of Sand and Fog' and 'Sexy Beast.' He got his start with the Royal Shakespeare Company in 1967. He is currently in two new films which were recently screened at Sundance: 'Elegy' in which he plays an aging college professor in love with one of his students, and 'The Wackness' in which he plays a pot-smoking psychiatrist befriends his client, a teenage drug dealer. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Harps and Angels' the first album of new songs by Randy Newman in nine years.

Interview with Mike Chinoy; Review of the film "Pineapple express." August 6, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924387].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MIKE CHINOY joins us to talk about North Korea's development into a nuclear power. In his new book, Chinoy details North Korea's motivations and movements for developing nuclear weapons and how the Clinton and Bush administrations moved to try to stop them. Chinoy is a Senior fellow at the Pacific Council on International Policy and formerly CNN's senior Asia correspondent. His new book is 'Meltdown: The Inside Story of the North Korean Nuclear Crisis' (St. Martin's Press). [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new stoner-action comedy, 'Pineapple Express' starring and co-written by Seth Rogen.
Interview with Ron Suskind. August 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924991].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Pulitzer prize winning journalist RON SUSKIND. In his new book 'The Way of the World' (Harper Collins) he presents new allegations about the Bush administration's conduct in the lead up to the war in Iraq. He writes about a secret meeting in early January 2003 in which British and American intelligence officials were told by Iraq's intelligence chief Tahir Jahil Habbush that Saddam Hussein had no weapons of mass destruction; but the White House "buried" the report. SUSKIND also alleges the Bush White House faked a letter from Habbush linking Iraq with the 911 attacks. Two of SUSKIND's sources for the story of the faked document are now denying what they told him. SUSKIND is also the author of "The One Percent Doctrine." And he is the former senior national affairs writer for The Wall Street Journal. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Skaggs; Interview with Zack Hample; Review of the film "American teen." August 8, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825837].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Country and bluegrass musician RICKY SKAGGS. On his new CD 'The High Notes' he plays bluegrass renditions of his own country hits. Skaggs started performing as a young child. He was considered a prodigy. His first number one single was 'Crying My Heart Out Over You' in 1981, and he continued to have a string of hits throughout the eighties. But he fell out of favor for most of the next decade, coming back in 1997 with 'Bluegrass Rules!' recorded with his backup band Kentucky Thunder. Skaggs has won many Grammy and Country Music Association awards. (REBROADCAST from 7/21/03)

2.) Baseball enthusiast ZACK HAMPLE, author of the book 'Watching Baseball Smarter: A Professional Fan's Guide for Beginners, Semi-Experts, and Deeply Serious Geeks.' Hample is an obsessive baseball fan who has turned his devotion into a career, giving tours of stadiums, appearing on TV and radio, and writing books. He has a blog at http://snaggingbaseballs.mlblogs.com/. (REBROADCAST from 8/8/07)

3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary 'American Teen' about a group of seniors at a highschool in Warsaw, Indiana. It was directed by Nanette Burnstein.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) AUGUSTUS RICHARD NORTON is a Professor of International Relations and Anthropology at Boston University. He has been writing about Lebanon for 25 years and is an expert on the Shiite political movements, including Hezbollah. His books include 'Amal and the Shi’a: Struggle for the Soul of Lebanon and 'Civil Society in the Middle East.' NORTON is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Actor MATT DILLON. He's currently starring in 'You & Me & Dupree.' He was nominated for an Oscar for his performance in the film 'Crash.' His other films include 'There's Something About Mary,' 'The Outsiders,' 'Drugstore Cowboy' (in which he played a drug addict), and 'My Body Guard' (he played a highschool bully.)

Obituary for Isaac Hayes; Obituary for Bernie Mac. August 11, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924993].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter, producer and actor ISAAC HAYES. He died yesterday at age 65. The cause of death is not yet known. He is probably best known for the Grammy and Academy Award winning soundtrack of the classic blaxploitation film Shaft (1971). Early in his career, he was a songwriter for Stax Records. He co-wrote many hits, including Soul Man and Hold On I'm Comin'. He was also a performer. His albums included Presenting Isaac Hayes and Hot Buttered Soul. Hayes acted in more than three dozen films. More recently, he was the voice of Chef on the animated series South Park, a role he left in 2006. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 7/28/94) (2.) Comedian and actor BERNIE MAC. He died Saturday at age 50. The cause of death is complications from pneumonia. Mac was one of the original Kings of Comedy in the 2000 documentary. He went on to star in his own award winning sitcom, The Bernie Mac Show, and had a role in the film Ocean's Eleven. Mac was born Bernard Jeffrey McCullough. In 2004 he published his memoir, Maybe You Never Cry Again, about his upbringing in a poor family in Chicago. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 11/27/01)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID CARR. His new memoir is called Night of the Gun. Carr uses his reporting skills to reconstruct his former life as a crack addict and thug. Carr is a columnist and reporter for The New York Times. His beat is media and culture. He's written for The Atlantic Monthly and New York magazine.
(2.) Private military contractor JOHN GEDDES. His new book is called Highway to Hell: Dispatches from a Mercenary in Iraq. It's an account of his experiences in the private military beginning in May 2003. Geddes is a former warrant officer in Britain's elite Special Air Service, and veteran of numerous wars.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES TRAUB. He joins us to talk about the latest developments in the conflict between Georgia and Russia. Traub is a contributing writer to the New York Times Magazine and author of seven books, including The Freedom Agenda: Why America Must Spread Democracy (Just Not the Way George Bush Did), to be released September 2008.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Real Animal, the new album from Alejandro Escovedo.

Interview with Paul Weiland; Interview with Glen Campbell. August 14, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924995].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Filmmaker PAUL WEILAND ('WAY-land'). His new movie is called Sixty Six. It's loosely based on Weiland's Bar Mitzvah trauma. In 1966, on the day of Weiland's Bar Mitzvah, the World Cup Final was also scheduled. No one came to Weiland's event and the day was a disaster. The film stars Eddie Marsan and Helena Bonham-Carter. Weiland has directed many TV shows and films, including episodes of the British TV program Mr. Bean, as well as the recent film Made of Honor. (2.) Singer GLEN CAMPBELL.
He has a new album called Meet Glen Campbell. He's been in the music business for fifty years, and his hits include Rhinestone Cowboy, Galveston and Southern Nights. He has released over 70 albums. Campbell won a Grammy and two Golden Globes. He was also an actor and had his own TV variety show, the Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour.

Interview with David Simon; Interview with Ted Solotaroff; Review of two films "Brand upon the brain!" and "My Winnipeg." August 15, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924992].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID SIMON is the creator and executive producer of HBO's acclaimed series 'The Wire.' He also wrote many of the episodes. Season 5 of The Wire is now out on DVD. Some of the story lines from the series come from Simon's work as a police reporter for the Baltimore Sun who moved to television and wrote for the show 'Homicide: Life on the Street' which was based on his book of the same name. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 3/6/08) (2.) Critic and editor TED SOLOTAROFF ('so-lah-TAR-off'). He died this week at age 79. Solotaroff was a senior editor at the book publisher Harper and Row. He founded New American Review, an influential literary journal. He worked with many of the great writers of our time and wrote widely on the current state of writing and publishing. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/14/87) (3.) Film critic JOHN POWERS looks at the recent work of Canadian screenwriter and director Guy Maddin. His film Brand Upon the Brain is now out on DVD, and his movie My Winnipeg is in theaters with availability on IFC On Demand.

Interview with David Schwartz; Obituary for Jerry Wexler; Review of the documentary film "Thank You Mr. President August 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885357].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Chief Curator DAVID SCHWARTZ of the American Museum of the Moving Image. In anticipation of the Democratic and Republican conventions, we listen back to some of the earliest and most influential presidential campaign ads. Schwartz is also a lecturer in the Cinema Studies program at Purchase College. More information about the museum at http://www.movingimage.us/site/site.php. (2.) Record producer
JERRY WEXLER. The legendary hitmaker died on Friday at age 91. Wexler began as a music journalist for Billboard magazine, where he coined the term Rhythm & Blues. Wexler moved on to become a partner at Atlantic Records in the early 1950s. He was responsible for creating the careers of some of the greatest musicians of the time, including Ray Charles, Aretha Franklin and Led Zeppelin. Wexler then moved to Warner Bros. in the 1970s, and worked with Bob Dylan, Dire Straits, Etta James and many others. (Recorded live at the Public Radio Conference in Washington DC; originally broadcast 5/7/93) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews tonight's HBO documentary about White House reporter Helen Thomas, who's been on the job since 1961. The profile, titled Thank You Mr. President: Helen Thomas at the White House, was produced and directed by Rory Kennedy, the youngest child of Robert F. Kennedy.

Interview with Michael Beschloss; Interview with Mort Sahl. August 19, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924994].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Presidential historian MICHAEL BESCHLOSS. He transcribed tapes, edited and provided commentary for the book Taking Charge: The Johnson White House Tapes, 1963-1964. When Johnson took office, he began recording his daily private conversations. The book covers the aftermath of the Kennedy Assassination, the creation of the Warren Commission, the civil rights bill, and the Tonkin Gulf attack, and his thoughts about the Vietnam War. Beschloss has written several other books. His latest is Presidential Courage: Brave Leaders and How They Changed America 1789-1989. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/8/97) THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. (2.) Political comedian MORT SAHL. He wrote jokes for JFK, was a friend of Ronald Reagan, and his satire skewered presidents from Eisenhower through George W. Bush. Sahl broke ground back in the late 1950s and early 1960s as a stand-up. Rather than relying on one-liners, he looked to the day's headlines for his routines. More info at his website: www.mortsahl.com. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 12/23/03)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian DORIS KEARNS GOODWIN. She talks about how President Abraham Lincoln turned his political rivals into allies and cabinet members. Her 2005 book on the subject is 'Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln.' Goodwin, who won the Pulitzer Prize for her previous book 'No Ordinary Time,' recounts the life and work of our 16th president, as well as the work of the principal characters of his administration. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/8/05) (2.) Religion scholar RANDALL BALMER. He is a professor of American religious history at Barnard College, Columbia University, and visiting professor at Yale University Divinity School. And he is editor-at-large for Christianity Today. His newest book is God in the White House: A History: How Faith Shaped the Presidency from John F. Kennedy to George W. Bush (HarperOne). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Little Book by Selden Edwards.

Interview with Marlin Fitzwater; Interview with Joe Lockart; Interview with Ari Fleischer; Interview with Scott McClellan. August 21, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924990].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former White House press secretary MARLIN FITZWATER. He worked for Presidents Reagan and GHW Bush. Fitzwater spent 17 years as a government employee before being appointed to his position in the Reagan White House. We listen back to a 1995 interview on the occasion of the publication of his memoir, 'Call the Briefing!' Reagan and Bush, Sam and Helen: A Decade with Presidents and the Press. FITZWATER writes about the relationship between the press secretary, the White House, and the press. Fitzwater is now retired, and frequently lectures and consults around the country. Franklin Pierce College in New Hampshire houses the Marlin Fitzwater Center for Communication. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate 10/26/95) (2.) Clinton White House press secretary JOE LOCKHART. He held the post during Clinton's impeachment trial. Currently, Lockhart lives in Washington DC and is president of the consulting firm Glover Park Group. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 1/16/01) (3.) Former White House press secretary ARI FLEISHER. He served under current president George W. Bush from 2001 to 2003. He acted as the Bush administration's primary spokesperson during and after the events of September 11th, and at the beginning of the Iraq War. Previously, Fleischer served as senior communications advisor and spokesman for the Bush-Cheney presidential campaign. He also worked for Elizabeth Dole's presidential campaign and the House Committee on Ways and Means. His 2005 memoir is 'Taking Heat: The President, the Press, and My Years in the White House' Fleischer now runs his own communications company geared toward sports, and has consulted with several football teams including the 49ers and the Green Bay Packers. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 3/8/05) (4.) Former White House press secretary SCOTT MCCLELLAN. His book, published earlier this year, is 'What Happened: Inside the White House and Washington's Culture of Deception.' The memoir of McClellan's years on the Bush campaign trail, and as Pre

Interview with Rick Perlstein; Interview with Bret Morgen; Commentary on Manny Farber. August 22, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924488].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian RICK PERLSTEIN. His new book is 'Nixonland: The Rise of a President and the Fracturing of America' (Scribner). He takes a look at the chaotic years between the landslide Democratic victory in 1964 of Lyndon Johnson to Nixon's lopsided Republican reelection eight years later. One reviewer writes, 'equal parts Walter Winchell and Hunter S. Thompson?-that's true to the times.' PERLSTEIN is senior fellow at the Campaign for America's Future where he writes the blog The Big Con. He previously wrote a biweekly column for The New Republic Online. PERLSTEIN's writing has appeared in Slate, the Village Voice, Newsday and The Nation and other publications. His first book was 'Before the Storm: Barry Goldwater and the Unmaking of the American Consensus.' (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (REBROADCAST from 5/21/08) (2.) Filmmaker BRETT MORGEN. His new film is the hybrid documentary/animated feature Chicago 10. Morgen used a combination of archival footage, animation, and music to tell the story of eight anti-war protesters who were put on trial following the 1968 Democratic National Convention. Chicago 10 features the voices of Hank Azaria, Dylan Baker, Nick Nolte, Mark Ruffalo, Roy Scheider, Liev Schreiber, and Jeffrey Wright. Morgen's previous films are 'The Kid Stays in the Picture,' the biopic about Robert Evans, and 'On The Ropes,' a documentary about young boxers. 'Chicago 10' will be available on DVD August 26th. More info at http://www.brettmorgen.com. (REBROADCAST from 2/27/08) (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS remembers the film critic and artist Manny Farber who died Monday at the age of 91.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAN GILGOFF. He is politics editor for Beliefnet.com. His blog God-o-Meter (pronounced Gah-DOM-meter) measures the rate of God-talk among the candidates. GILGOFF is also the author of 'The Jesus Machine: How James Dobson, Focus on the Family, and Evangelical America are Winning the Culture War.' He is also former political correspondent for U.S. News & World Report. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) RYAN LIZZA is Washington correspondent for The New Yorker. He writes about the strategy among Democratic party officials to make inroads in the West rather than the South, in states like Colorado, Nevada and New Mexico. His article in the current (Sept 1, 2008) issue of the magazine is 'The Code of the West: What Barack Obama can Learn from Bill Rittner.' (Rittner is the Democratic governor of Colorado).

Interview with Jonathan Oberlander; Interview with Pam Brady and Andrew Fleming. August 26, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924491].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN OBERLANDER is a political scientist with an expertise in health politics and policy. He's written the new report in 'The Partisan Divide?The McCain and Obama Plans for U.S. Health Care Reform' which is published in the New England Journal of Medicine (Aug 21). It's also available online. OBERLANDER is associate professor of social medicine and health policy and administration at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Director/writer ANDREW FLEMING, and co-writer PAM BRADY discuss their new film 'Hamlet 2.' It was a hit at the Sundance Film Festival. It's about a failed actor and overzealous drama teacher played by British actor Steve Coogan, who wants to mount a musical sequel to Shakespeare's 'Hamlet.'
Interview with James Thurber; Interview with Don Cheadle. August 27, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924428].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Political scientist JAMES THURBER. An expert in campaign conduct and lobbying, he's testified before congress about lobby reform. He's Director of the Center for Congressional and Presidential Studies at American University, where he also serves as a professor. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Actor DON CHEADLE. His latest movie is Traitor. Early in his career he gave memorable performances in Devil in a Blue Dress as a charming but trigger happy killer named Mouse, and in Boogie Nights as a country music-loving porn actor. His other films include Traffic, Crash, Hotel Rwanda the Ocean's Eleven, Twelve and Thirteen films, Talk to Me, and Reign Over Me (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with Joshua Green; Interview with Katha Pollitt; Interview with Mark Sawyer. August 28, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924490].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JOSHUA GREEN. He is a senior editor at The Atlantic magazine. His beat is politics. He'll talk about last night's activities at the Democratic National Convention in Denver. Green has also published articles in many other magazines including The New Yorker, Esquire, and Rolling Stone. Green started his career as an editor at the satirical weekly, The Onion. (2.) Writer KATHA POLLITT. She is at the Democratic National Convention, and will talk about the historic significance of Hillary Clinton's bid for the presidency. Pollitt's award winning Subject to Debate column appears every other week in The Nation. She's also contributed to many magazines, including The New Yorker, The Atlantic, and the London Review of Books. Pollitt is considered a voice for the left, and has won numerous awards for her columns and essays. Her poetry won her a National Endowment for the Arts grant and a Guggenheim Fellowship. (3.) Political scientist Mark Sawyer. He addresses issues of race in the Obama campaign. Sawyer is an Associate Professor of African American Studies and Political Science at UCLA and the Director of the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity and Politics.
Interview with Michael Beschloss; Obituary for Del Martin; Review of the film "Trouble the water." August 29, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924554].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Presidential historian MICHAEL BESCHLOSS. His most recent book is Presidential Courage: Brave Leaders and How They Changed America 1789-1989 (now in paperback). Beschloss takes a look at the crucial moments when a President risked his political career for the good of the country, often by taking an unpopular or controversial stand. BESCHLOSS is the author of a number of books including 'The Conquerers: Roosevelt, Truman and the Destruction of Hitler's Germany,' and two volumes documenting the secret White House tapes of Lyndon B. Johnson: Reaching for Glory and Taking Charge. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 5/8/07) (2.) Lesbian activist DEL MARTIN. She died this past Wednesday at age 87. She is survived by her longtime partner Phyllis Lyon. We play back a 1992 interview with Del and Phyllis. Martin and Lyon were the founders of the Daughters of Bilitis, (Beh-LEE-tis) the first-ever lesbian organization. They started the group in the 1950s way before any gay liberation movement, and during a period of conformity to social norms. Shortly after that, they began publishing, "The Ladder," the first Lesbian magazine. Their landmark book, "Lesbian/Woman," was published in 1972. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 12/29/92) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Trouble the Water' the new documentary with footage shot by residents of New Orleans during Katrina. It won the Jury prize for documentaries at this year's Sundance film festival.

Interview with Andrew Stanton; Interview with John C. Reilly, Will Ferrell and Adam McKay; Commentary on "The staple singers." September 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924551].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Animator, director and writer ANDREW STANTON. He co-wrote and directed the Pixar animated film 'Wall-E.' Stanton also wrote and directed 'Finding Nemo,' which was awarded an Oscar for Best Animated Feature Film in 2004. STANTON also co-wrote 'Monster's Inc,' 'Toy Story,' and 'A Bug's Life.' STANTON joined Pixar in 1990 and was the company's second animator and ninth employee. (REBROADCAST from 07.10.08). (2.) Actors WILL FERRELL and JOHN C. REILLY, and writer/director ADAM MCKAY. The three have teamed up for the comedy 'Step Brothers' about two underemployed, underachieving middle-aged men who each live with their single parent until they are forced to be step brothers when their parents marry. The three teamed up for the comedy 'Talladega Nights: The Ballad of Ricky Bobby.' MCKAY and FERRELL also worked on 'Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy.' (REBROADCAST from 07.23.08) (3.) Rock historian ED WARD tells the story of the Staples Singers.

Interview with Peter Baker; Interview with Steve Coll; Review of the final season of "The Shield." September 2, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924550].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PETER BAKER is a contributing writer for The New York Times Magazine and he is writing a book on the Bush presidency. His article in this week's magazine is 'The Final Days: As he hands over control of his party to John McCain, what does George Bush really think about his former rival, the fall campaign and his own presidential legacy?' He'll discuss the relationship between Bush and McCain. (2.) STEVE COLL is staff writer at The New Yorker magazine. Previously he spent 20 years as a foreign correspondent and senior editor at The Washington Post. He is the author of six books including 'Ghost Wars: The Secret History of the CIA, Afghanistan and Bin Laden from the Soviet Invasion to September 10, 2001.' He profiles General David Petraeus in the current edition of The New Yorker (Sept 8th) 'The General's Dilemma: David Petraeus, the pressures of politics, and the road out of Iraq.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI considers the impact on today's TV landscape of the FX drama series 'The Shield.' The popular show about a rogue cop begins its seventh and final season Tuesday.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists TOM HAMBURGER, an investigative reporter covering Congress and the executive branch for the Los Angeles Times, and PETER WALLSTEN who covers the White House for the Los Angeles Times. WALLSTEN is at the Republican National convention. HAMBURGER is in Anchorage where he is investigating the Sarah Palin story. The two are authors of the book, 'One Party Country:

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Actor MICHAEL CHIKLIS. He stars as rouge cop Del Vik Mackey in the FX channel drama series, 'The Shield.' The Peabody award-winning show is now in its seventh and final season. Previously, CHIKLIS starred in 'The Commish.' Over the years, he's also had guest appearances on 'Seinfeld,' 'L.A. Law,' 'Miami Vice,' and 'Wise Guy.' (REBROADCAST from 5/15/07) (2.) Creator and executive producer of 'The Shield,' SHAWN RYAN. His other credits include co-producing and writing the CBS drama 'The Unit' (along with David Mamet). He also wrote for the show 'Nash Bridges' starring Don Johnson. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 3/14/06) (3.) Actress C.C.H. POUNDER. She's best known for her portrayal of Detective Claudette Wyms on the FX TV show 'The Shield.' . Her film credits include' Bagdad Cafe?,' 'Postcards from the Edge,' 'Benny & Joon,' and 'Face/off.' She's also had numerous TV appearances on 'L.A. Law,' 'ER,' and 'Law & Order.' POUNDER is a member of the group 'Artists for a New South Africa' which is involved in AIDS outreach and education. (REBROADCAST from 6/5/06) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews
'True Blood' the new HBO series about vampires in a small Louisiana town by Alan Ball, whose previous HBO hit show was 'Six Feet Under.' 'True Blood' is based on a series of novels by Charlaine Harris.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) THOMAS FRIEDMAN is foreign affairs columnist for The New York Times. In his new book 'Hot, Flat, and Crowded: Why we need a green revolution-and how it can renew America' (Farrar, Straus & Giroux) he writes that the U.S. should take the lead on the finding solutions to global warming, and offers reasons why it could help revive America abroad and at home. FRIEDMAN is a three-time Pulitzer Prize winner. His other books include 'From Beirut to Jerusalem,' and 'The World is Flat.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) J.J. ABRAMS is the co-creator, writer, executive producer, and director of the hit TV show 'Lost.' He also created and wrote the show 'Alias.' His latest new show is 'Fringe.' ABRAMS also composed the theme music for 'Alias,' and the opening theme for 'Lost.' (THIS IS A DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEW).

Interview with Bob Woodward; Review of Bobby Hutcherson's reissued album "Head on." September 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924919].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist BOB WOODWARD. His new book 'The War Within: A Secret White House History 2006-2008' (Simon & Schuster) is his fourth book chronicling the Bush administration. Some of the revelations in the book: that the Bush administration was not in agreement over the strategy in Iraq, including the surge. He also writes that the Bush administration spied on the Iraqi prime minister. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the reissue of 'Head On' (Blue Note/EMI) the 1971 session recorded by vibraphonist Bobby Hutcherson.
Interview with Alan Ball; Review of I'm Not Jim's album "You are all my people." September 10, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503546].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ALAN BALL wrote the popular HBO series 'Six Feet Under,' and the screenplay for the film 'American Beauty' (for which he received the 1999 Academy Award for Best Original Screenplay). His new HBO series 'True Blood' is about a small Louisiana town, and the modern vampires who go mainstream with the invention of a synthetic blood product. It's based 'Southern Vampire' the best-selling goth-romance tales of Charlaine Harris. BALL is also making his feature film directorial debut with the film 'TowelHead' based on the novel by Alicia Erian. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album 'You Are All My People' by the band I'm Not Jim. The band is a collaboration between novelist Jonathan Lethem and musician Walter Salas-Humara of the Silos.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Retired army colonel ANDREW BACEVICH (BAY-suh-vitch). His new book is The Limits of Power: The End of American Exceptionalism (Metropolitan Books). It is a critique of the American penchant for empire and entitlement. He doesn't just blame the military or the Bush administration; he blames the citizens for our empire of consumption. BACEVICH fought in Vietnam and also lost a son in Iraq. Currently he is a professor of history and international relations at Boston University. His writing has appeared in many publications, including The Atlantic Monthly, Foreign Affairs, and The New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews a new anthology called Classic African American Gospel. interview with Maurice Sendak; Interview with B.B.King; Review of the film "Burn after reading." September 12, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924914].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist and writer Maurice Sendak. He is the author of many classic children’s books including Where the Wild Things Are and In the Night Kitchen. Sendak celebrates his 80th year on Monday with a benefit at the 92nd street Y in Manhattan. In 2003, Sendak collaborated with playwright Tony Kushner to write an English version of the Czech children’s opera Brundibar. Sendak’s book of Brundibar received critical acclaim. A live action film of Where the Wild Things Are directed by Spike Jonze is scheduled to open in 2009. (Rebroadcast of two interviews. Original airdates: 9/22/93 and 10/30/03) (2.) Blues musician B.B. KING. The grand opening of the B.B. King Museum is tomorrow (Saturday September 13) in Indianola, Mississippi. The blues guitarist and singer-songwriter was born in the Mississippi delta. Over the course of his 60 year career, he’s come to be considered a blues legend. In the 1950s, he had a string of hits including You Know I Love You, Woke Up This Morning, Please Love Me, Whole Lotta Love, You Upset Me Baby, Every Day I Have the Blues, and Bad Luck. In the 60s he had a huge hit with The thrill Is Gone. While In the ensuing decades, King has recorded less, but he continues to perform live. King has received many awards, including a Lifetime Achievement Grammy and the Presidential Medal of Freedom. The B.B. King Museum website is http://www.bbkingmuseum.org/html-site/index.htm. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/22/96) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Burn After Reading, directed by the Coen Brothers and starring Brad Pitt, George Clooney and Frances McDormand.

Interview with Geoffrey Canada and Paul Tough; Obituary for David Foster Wallace. September 15, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924913].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Social activist GEOFFREY CANADA and journalist PAUL TOUGH. Tough is an editor for the New York Times Magazine. His new book is Whatever it Takes: Geoffrey Canada's Quest to Change Harlem and America. In the late 1990s, Geoffrey Canada entered into a grand scale social experiment to end poverty and educate poor children. He created the Harlem Children's Zone, a 97 square block area in which 3000 children live. Canada and Tough talk about the ideas underlying the creation of the Zone. More info on the Harlem Children's Zone website at www.hcz.org. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Writer DAVID FOSTER WALLACE. He died Friday at age 46. According to police his death was suicide by hanging. Wallace was a highly acclaimed writer whose dense books include the novels Infinite Jest and Broom of the System, a book of essays called A Supposedly Fun Thing I'll Never Do Again, and three collections of short stories: Girl With Curious Hair, Brief Interviews With Hideous Men, and Oblivion: Stories. This year, he published McCain's Promise: Aboard the Straight Talk Express with John McCain and a Whole Bunch of Actual Reporters, Thinking About Hope. Wallace was a contributor to many magazines. He was also a professor at Pomona College in Claremont, California, where he lived.(REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/5/97)

Interview with Barton Gellman; Commentary on language. September 16, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924798].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Washington Post reporter BARTON GELLMAN. His new book is called Angler: The Cheney Vice Presidency. The book expands on his Pulitzer Prize winning series of articles about Cheney for the Washington Post, co-written with Jo Becker. Gellman is a special projects reporter on the national staff of The Washington Post. Gellman shared the Pulitzer in 2002 with Washington Post staff for post 9/11 reporting, as well as in 2008 for his investigative writing about Cheney. 'Angler' is one of Dick Cheney's nicknames. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG examines the phrase 'lipstick on a pig,' used by Obama in a speech last week, the McCain campaign's reaction, and the larger media and political effect of the phrase.

Interview with Michael Greenberger; Review of Andy Zwerling's "Hold up the sky." September 17, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924800].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Law professor MICHAEL GREENBERGER. He will explain current challenges in the U.S. economy, following bankruptcy filings of major players in the financial sector, and what we can expect going forward. Greenberger is the Director of the Center for Health and Homeland Security (CHHS) at the University of Maryland and a professor at the School of Law. In the late 1990s, Greenberger served as Director of the Division of Trading and Markets at the Commodity Futures Trading Commission. Prior to that appointment, Greenberger worked for the U.S. Attorney General. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Hold up the Sky, Andy Zwerling's first album in 27 years.

Interview with Jane Mayer; Interview with Maher Arar and Maria Lahood. September 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885343].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter JANE MAYER. Her bestselling book is called The Dark Side: The inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned into a War on American Ideals. In the book, she includes a piece on Maher Arar that was originally published in the New Yorker magazine. She will talk about extraordinary rendition. Mayer is a staff writer for the New Yorker. (2.) Former prisoner MAHER ARAR ('MAY-er ar-AR'). He was arrested and deported to a Syrian prison under laws of extraordinary rendition. Arar is an innocent man who was locked up in the equivalent of a grave for almost a year and beaten, and might still be there if not for the protests of his wife. Arar is a telecommunications engineer with dual Canadian and Syrian citizenship. He was detained at JFK airport In September 2002 on his way home to Canada from a vacation in Tunisia. (3.) MAHER ARAR and attorney MARIA LAHOOD (rhymes with 'WOOD'). Lahood is a senior staff attorney for the Center for Constitutional Rights. Her case is Arar v. Ashcroft, a federal lawsuit that will be heard by the Second Circuit Court of Appeals in December 2008. It charges the plaintiffs with violating Mr. Arar's constitutional right to due process, his right to choose a country of removal other than one in which he would be tortured, as guaranteed under the Torture Victims Protection Act, and his rights under international law. Lahood specializes in international human rights litigation, seeking to hold government officials and corporations accountable for torture, extrajudicial killings, and war crimes abroad.

Interview with Barry Sonnenfeld and Bryan Fuller; Interview with Mike Meyer; Review of films "Towelhead" and "Hounddog." September 19, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924918].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Co-executive producers BARRY SONNENFELD and BRYAN FULLER of the comedy/drama 'Pushing Daises' on ABC. The first season is now out in DVD. The show combines romance, fantasy and mystery and is about a guy who can bring the dead back to life with a mere touch. FULLER created the series and also created the TV series Dead Like Me and was a writer and executive producer on Heroes.
SONNENFELD directed the Men in Black films and the Addams Family films. He also was executive producer of the TV show The Tick. (DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEW. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/2/07). (2.) Comedian, screenwriter and actor MIKE MYERS. His film The Love Guru is now out on DVD. He plays Guru Pitka, charged with reuniting a famous hockey star with his estranged wife and lead the team to the Stanley cup. He was a long time cast member of Saturday Night Live, where his best loved caracters were Wayne Campbell of Wayne's World; Dieter the sexually ambivalent German talk show host; and Coffee Talk hostess Linda Richman. MYERS made three Austin Powers films, and was the voice of Shrek in the Shrek films. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/18/08) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Towelhead, directed by Alan Ball (Six Feet Under, American Beauty) and starring Aaron Eckhart and Toni Collette, and Hound Dog, directed by Deborah Kampmeier and starring Dakota Fanning and David Morse.

Interview with Matthew Weiner, Jon Hamm, and John Slattery; Commentary on Emmy awards; Interview with James Crumley. September 22, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http:// www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924799].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Mad Men executive producer MATTHEW WEINER, and cast members JON HAMM and JOHN SLATTERY. Mad Men made history at the 60th annual Emmy Awards last night as the first basic cable show to win an Outstanding Drama Series award. While the show, now in its second season on the AMC channel, has a relatively small viewership, Mad Men has garnered much critical acclaim. MATT WEINER also won an Emmy for Outstanding Writing in a Drama Series. Weiner was a writer and producer on HBO's The Sopranos. JON HAMM plays Don Draper. He was awarded this year's Golden Globe. JOHN SLATTERY plays Roger Sterling. Both men were nominated for Emmys this year. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI recaps last night's Emmy Awards on ABC and looks ahead to the new TV season. (3.) Crime novelist JAMES CRUMLEY. He died last week at age 68. Crumley's books included The Wrong Case, Bordersnakes and The last Good Kiss. His detective tales were filled with sex, drugs, liquor, violence and profanity, and inspired comparisons with Dashiell Hammett, Raymond Chandler and Ross MacDonald. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 6/26/87)

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Financial reporter GRETCHEN MORGENSON. She is assistant business and financial editor and a columnist at the New York Times, and she writes the Market Watch column in the Sunday Money & Business section of the paper. In 2002, Morgenson won a Pulitzer Prize for her beat reporting on Wall Street. She'll talk about the recent Wall Street bailout, and potential conflicts of interest. Morgenson was a stockbroker early in her career before moving into finance journalism. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo by Steig Larsson ('STEEG LAHR-suhn').

Interview with Charlie Haden's family; Review of the television program "Dexter." September 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924482].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Bassist CHARLIE HADEN and family. His new album is Rambling Boy. It's a departure from his usual style. Haden is known as a great jazz musician, but he grew up performing on his family's country music radio show. Haden returns to roots music with Rambling Boy. Haden's family joins him for the interview. We'll hear from his wife Ruth, his son Josh, his daughters Rachel, Petra and Tanya, and his son-in-law, the actor Jack Black. More info at http://www.charliehadenmusic.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the third season of Dexter, beginning Sunday night on Showtime.
Interview with Hoomahn Majd; Review of the film "It happened in Brooklyn." September 25, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924563].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer HOOMAHN MAJD ("HOO-mahn, with the "Ma" in Majd as in "map"). His new book is The Ayatollah Begs to Differ: The paradox of modern Iran. Majd was born in Tehran and now lives in the U-S. He's the grandson of an ayatollah and served as translator to Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad on his recent visit to the U-N. His new book looks at politics and culture in Iran. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews 'It Happened in Brooklyn,' an early Frank Sinatra movie that is now out on DVD.

Interview with Nick Cave; Interview with Bryan Cranston; Review of the film "Miracle at St. Anna." September 26, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924480].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Australian singer NICK CAVE. He and his band The Bad Seeds are best known for angry, twisted ballad-like lyrics. Their 2008 album is ""Dig, Lazarus, Dig!" (Anti-records). They are currently on tour. CAVE says the inspiration for the album is the Lazarus story from the Bible. This is CAVE's fourteenth studio album. Also, recently CAVE composed the soundtrack for 'The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford, and wrote the screenplay and soundtrack for the film 'The Proposition.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/28/08) (2.) Actor BRYAN CRANSTON. For seven years he played the beleaguered father in the FOX tv show 'Malcolm in the Middle.' He's now starring in the AMC show 'Breaking Bad' about a chemistry teacher diagnosed with cancer who begins producing crystal meth to provide for his family after he's gone. CRANSTON has appeared on many television shows, and had a recurring role as dentist Tim Whatley on 'Seinfeld.' He has also been in the films 'Saving Private Ryan,' 'Little Miss Sunshine,' and 'That Thing You Do.' (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/6/08). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Miracle at St. Anna, from director Spike Lee.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Technology writer STEPHEN BAKER. He's a senior writer at BusinessWeek where he covers technology. His new book is called The Numerati. It's about entrepreneurial mathematicians who try to guess everything from your bargain hunting habits at the supermarket to the location of possible terrorists by gathering huge amounts of data from electronic transactions.

(2.) Actor MICHAEL CERA. He stars in the new film Nick and Norah's Infinite Playlist, opening October 3. He had lead roles in the films Juno and Superbad, and he played George-Michael Bluth on the TV show Arrested Development.

(3.) Actor PAUL NEWMAN. He died on September 26 at age 83 of complications from lung cancer. Newman starred in dozens of hit films including Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid, The Hustler, the Sting, Road to Perdition, Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, and the Emmy award winning HBO miniseries Empire Falls. He was nominated for Oscars 9 times and won Best Actor for The Color of Money. He won an honorary Oscar in 1986. In 1994, he won a third Oscar, the Jean Hersholt Humanitarian Award, for his charitable work. Newman was also a producer and director. His interests outside Hollywood included founding the food company Newman's Own, and he also was a race car enthusiast. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/2/03)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director LARRY CHARLES and satirist BILL MAHER ('mar'). Their new film is Religulous. It's a look at the world's religions. Bill Maher is the host of the HBO show Politically Incorrect. Larry Charles also directed the film Borat, and his TV credits include Seinfeld and Curb Your Enthusiasm. In a recent New York Times article about Religulous, Maher described religion as 'the ultimate hustle,' and that his role is to be Toto in the Wizard of Oz pulling back the curtain.

(2.) Beliefnet.com founder and Editor-in-Chief STEPHEN WALDMAN. His website is subject to parody as part of the new film Religulous, which has created www.disbeliefnet.com, a nondenominational website devoted to helping people find their faith in a variety of religions. Prior to founding beliefnet, Waldman was National Editor of US News & World Interview with Steve Fraser; Review of the television show "Friday night lights." October 1, 2008.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924565].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian and author STEVE FRASER is the author of 'Wall Street: America's Dream Palace' (Yale University Press) which chronicles the financial institution from the first Wall Street panic of 1792 to the dot-com bubble-and-bust of our own time. FRASER also looks at America's different attitudes toward Wall Street. FRASER's other books include 'Labor Will Rule: Sidney Hillman and the Rise of American Labor,' and 'Every Man A Speculator: A History of Wall Street in American Life.' FRASER is a senior lecturer at the University of Pennsylvania and has written for The New York Times, Los Angeles Times, and Nation. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the return of 'Friday Night Lights' the NBC show about a small Texas town and its high-school football team. Instead of returning to NBC tonight, the show will be broadcast on DirecTV. They won't be shown on NBC until early 2009.

Interview with Robert Baer; Review of Fight the big bull's new album "Dying will be easy." October 2, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924636].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former CIA operative ROBERT BAER ('Bear'). His bestseller 'See No Evil' about his years as a CIA agent was the basis of the film 'Syriana.' BEAR is considered an expert on the Middle East. His new book is 'The Devil We Know: Dealing with The New Iranian Superpower' (Crown Publishers). In it he writes that a war between the U.S. and Iran would 'already [be] half-won by Iran.' And he continues, 'The sooner we understand the Iranian paradox?who they are, what they want, how they want to both humble us and work with us?the sooner we'll understand how to come to terms with the new Iranian superpower.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN Interview with Oliver Sacks; Obituary for J.L. Chestnut; Review of the film "Rachel getting married." October 3, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924566].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist OLIVER SACKS. His new book is 'Musicophilia: Tales of Music and the Brain.' It's a series of case histories that examine the relationship of music and the mind. Sacks has written eleven books; the most famous are 'Awakenings,' which was made into a film starring Robert DeNiro and Robin Williams, and 'The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat.' Sacks is a clinical professor of neurology at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine and adjunct professor of neurology at the NYU School of Medicine. Sacks has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship for his work on Tourette's Syndrome, and has received many other accolades and honorary degrees. More information at www.oliversacks.com. (REBROADCAST from 10/17/07) (2.) Civil rights activist and attorney J. L. CHESTNUT, Jr. He died Tuesday at the age of 77. The cause was kidney failure. CHESTNUT was Selma, Alabama's first black attorney. He fought for voting rights for blacks. In the 60s he helped free many jailed civil rights activists in Selma. Chestnut wrote a moving autobiography (with reporter Julia Cass) called "Black In Selma," about his life in the civil rights movement. (REBROADCAST from 8/9/90) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Rachel Getting Married' the new film by Jonathan Demme.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Presiding Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the United States, KATHARINE JEFFERTS SCHORI. She began her nine year term in November 2006. The Anglican church is facing a crisis with at least one diocese seceding from the American branch of the church, and others threatening. The church has been split over theological differences, including the ordination of the first openly gay Bishop. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'American Lightning: Terror, Mystery, the Birth of Hollywood, and the Crime of the Century' (Crown) by Howard Blum.

Interview with Antonio Juhasz; Interview with Francine Prose. October 7, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924481].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) ANTONIO JUHASZ ('YOO-hoss') is a leading expert on oil industry, international trade, and finance policy. She is a fellow with Oil Change International and the Institute for Policy Studies. Her new book is 'The Tyranny of Oil: The World's Most Powerful Industry?And What We Must Do to Stop It' (William Morrow). She says that the Commodity Futures Modernization Act deregulation that is partially to blame for the current economic crisis also loosened up regulation on the trading of oil futures. Juhasz writes, 'The futures market has replaced OPEC as the principal determinant of the priced of crude oil. It is largely unregulated and prone to excessive speculation and manipulation.' [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Novelist FRANCINE PROSE. Her work includes the novels 'A Changed Man,' 'Blue Angel,' and the nonfiction book, 'Reading Like a Writer.' Her newest novel 'Goldengrove,' is about a young, thirteen year old girl dealing with the loss of her older sister.

Interview with David Iglesias; Interview with Zach Stalberg; Interview with Tova Wang; Commentary on language. October 8, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924568].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former New Mexico U.S. attorney DAVID IGLESIAS (eee-GLAY-see-uhs). He's one of seven U.S. attorneys who were fired by the Justice department in late 2006. IGLESIAS was fired after refusing to follow through on pressure from state Republican activists to prosecute alleged voter fraud cases. Last week, an internal Justice Department investigation concluded that the firings were driven by political pressure. Nora Danahey, the Acting U.S. attorney in Connecticut, was appointed to continue the investigation. IGLESIAS's account of the controversy, 'In Justice: Inside the Scandal That Rocked the Bush Administration,' was released earlier this year. (2.) ZACH STALBERG is the president of the watch dog group Committee of Seventy in Philadelphia. He'll discuss the fliers that went up in black Philadelphia neighborhoods last week meant to discourage voters by warning them that anyone with outstanding warrants or unpaid parking tickets could be arrested if they show up at the polls. (3.) Electoral reform expert TOVA WANG (TOE-va WANG). She's the Vice President of the nonpartisan advocacy organization Common Cause. They've just released a report titled, 'Voting in 2008: 10 Swing States.' The report examines a variety of problematic practices that have repressed voters in previous elections. (4.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the history of the term 'Main Street' which has been bandied about in this election.

Interview with Ronnee Schreiber; Interview with Jonathan Demme and Jenny Lumet. October 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925090].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RONNEE SCHREIBER is a Political science professor at San Diego State University, where her expertise is women and politics. She is author of the book 'Righting Feminism: Conservative Women and American Politics.' SCHREIBER writes about prominent conservative women's groups including the 'Independent Women's Forum,' 'Concerned Women for America,' and the 'Clare Booth Luce Policy Institute.' She says that McCain chose Sarah Palin as his running mate because he wanted to energize Republican women and bring 'undecided women who like the way conservative women speak to them into McCain's camp.' (2.)Director JONATHAN DEMME and screenwriter JENNY LUMET. Their new film is 'Rachel Getting Married.' Demme's previous films include 'Philadelphia,' 'Beloved,' and 'Married to the Mob.' JENNY LUMET is the daughter of SIDNEY LUMET. 'Rachel Getting Married' is her first screenwriting credit.

Interview with Louis C.K.; Review of Raphael Saadiq's, ?The way I see It;? Interview with Sarah Silverman; Review of the film "Body of lies." October 10, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925089].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic and actor LOUIS C.K. ('see-kay'). He has a new Showtime special titled 'Chewed Up.' He created and starred in the HBO comedy series 'Lucky Louie.' His birth name is Louis Szekely (pronounced 'see-kee'). Louis has been a writer for David Letterman, Conan O'Brien, Chris Rock and Saturday Night
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Live. He also wrote, produced and directed the film 'Pootie Tang.' He's descended from Jewish Hungarians and Catholic Mexicans. (REBROADCAST from 6/15/06) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album by Raphael Saadiq, 'The Way I See It.' KEN says it's an homage to earlier eras of R&B. (3.) Comedian and actress SARAH SILVERMAN. The third season of The Sarah Silverman Show premiered on Comedy Central this week (Wednesdays @ 10:30). SILVERMAN's one-woman off-broadway show 'Jesus is Magic' was made into a film. Silverman's satire is ribald and rude, controversial, and almost nothing is off limits with jokes about September 11th, AIDS and the Holocaust. Silverman has also appeared in a number of films including 'The Aristocrats,' 'School of Rock' and 'There's Something About Mary.' She was a cast member of Saturday Night Live for the 1993-4 season. (REBROADCAST from 10/3/07) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Body of Lies' the new Ridley Scott thriller starring Leonardo DiCaprio as a CIA operative who attempts to infiltrate and destroy an Al Qaeda cell.

Interview with Josh Brolin; Interview with Curtis Sittenfeld. October 13, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925073].

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Michael Carey; Commentary on language. October 15, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885315].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Alaska journalist MICHAEL CAREY. For the past decade, he's been the editorial page editor for the Anchorage Daily News, where he is also an editorial writer and columnist. Additionally, CAREY hosts Anchorage Edition, a weekly public affairs program on Alaska Public Broadcasting. He will describe the differences between Sarah Palin the governor and Palin the republican VP candidate. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES ONTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG comments on authenticity, and how politicians speak in order to make personal connections with voters.

Interview with Ryan Lizza; Interview with Larry Charles. October 16, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885209].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA. His article in the New Yorker Magazine (Oct. 20 2008 edition) is called Biden's Brief. It's about Biden's relationship with Barack Obama, and about Biden's views of the vice presidency. Lizza is the chief political correspondent for the New Yorker magazine (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Director, writer and producer LARRY CHARLES. He directed the film Religulous, starring Bill Maher, now in theaters. He also directed Borat: Cultural Learnings of America for Make Benefit Glorious Nation of Kazakhstan. Charles was a staff writer on the Emmy Award winning NBC sitcom Seinfeld, and he directed many episodes of HBO's Curb Your Enthusiasm, starring Larry David. His other TV credits include Mad About You, Entourage, Dilbert and The Tick.

Interview with Charles Ardai; Obituary for William Claxton; Review of the film "W." October 17, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925131].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHARLES ARDAI (R-DIE) is the founder of Hard Case Crime, which reprints classic crime fiction and publishes new pulp fiction in paper-back editions with seamy, seedy cover art from the heyday of the genre. ARDAI also writes for the imprint under the name Richard Aleas. He was just awarded the 2008 Shamus Award for Best Paperback Original by the Private Eye Writers of America for his book songs of Innocence, published under his pen name. That book and another of his titles, Little Girl Lost, feature private investigator John Blake. ARDAI is also the founder and CEO of Juno, an internet service provider. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/5/08). (2.) Photographer WILLIAM CLAXTON. He died this week at age 80. Claxton made a name for himself taking pictures of jazz musicians. He preferred to take his subjects out of smoky clubs and into natural settings like the beach and the woods. He took many shots for album covers, and he was also called upon to take pictures of celebrities, including Fred Astaire, Steve McQueen and Judy Garland. His 1967 film Basic Black was considered the first fashion video. Claxton published over a dozen books over his 60 year career.(ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 1/11/88) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews W, about George W. Bush, starring Josh Brolin, and directed by Oliver Stone.
Interview with Michael Pollan; Review of the film, "Boogieman October 20, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925088].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL POLLAN (like Pollen). A week ago Sunday (Oct 12th) he wrote an open letter in The New York Times Magazine section to the next President-Elect about the health of the nation's food systems. Pollan's books include, "The Omnivore's Dilemma: A Natural History of Four Meals" which followed industrial food, organic food, and food that consumers procure or hunt for themselves, from the source to the dinner plate. It also examines the importance of corn in all of our food products. POLLAN is a Professor of Science and Environmental Journalism at University of California at Berkeley. His previous books include "The Botany of Desire" and "A Place of My Own," and he's a frequent contributor to the New York Times Magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new documentary,'Boogieman: The Lee Atwater Story' by Stefan Forbes. Atwater was the Republican political strategist who inspired Karl Rove.

Interview with Paul Krugman; Review of B.B.King's new album, "One kind favor." October 21, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925092].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist and New York Times columnist Paul Krugman ('KROOG-man'). He is a professor of Economics and International Affairs at Princeton University. He just recently was awarded the Nobel Prize for Economics. His books include: 'The Conscience of a Liberal,' 'The Great Unraveling: Losing Our Way in the New Century,' 'The Return of Depression Economics.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES considers the great blues guitarist B.B. King, who at 82, is still recording. His latest album 'One Kind Favor' is his highest ever debut on the Billboard charts.
Interview with Steve Martin; Review of quintet TV on The Radio's new music album "Dear science." October 22, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925091].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Charlie Kaufman; Interview with Clint Eastwood. October 23, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925093].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director CHARLIE KAUFMAN. He wrote the films 'Being John Malkovich,' 'Confessions of a Dangerous Mind,' 'Adaptation,' and 'Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind.' He is making his directoral debut with the new film 'Synecdoche ('Sih-NECK-doh-kee') New York.' It stars Philip Seymour Hoffman. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Director and actor CLINT EASTWOOD. He directed the new film 'Changeling' starring Angelina Jolie and John Malkovich. EASTWOOD's acclaimed film 'Flags of Our Fathers' followed the stories of the American soldiers who raised the flag in one of World War II's most enduring images. And his film 'Letters from Iwo Jima' examined the battle from the perspective of the Japanese soldiers who fought it. The actor once best known as a western and action star has directed a number of great films, including 'Unforgiven,' 'Mystic River,' and 'Million Dollar Baby.'
Interview with Jane Mayer; Interview with Drew Gilpin Faust; Review of the film, "Happy-go-lucky." October 24, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925130].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist JANE MAYER (‘MAY-er’ rhymes with 'HAY-er'). She's a staff writer for the New Yorker. She's been nominated for a 2008 National Book Award for nonfiction for her book 'The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned Into a War on American Ideals.' Among the revelations in The Dark Side is that the International Committee of the Red Cross issued a secret report last year that described some CIA interrogation techniques as torture. (REBROADCAST from 7/15/08) (2.) DREW GILPIN FAUST is president of Harvard University, where she holds the Lincoln Professorship in History. She's also been nominated for a 2008 National Book Award for nonfiction for her book 'This Republic of Suffering: Death and the American Civil War.' (Knopf) about how the deaths - both in number and manner - during the American Civil transformed the nation. She writes that the rate of death during the Civil War and its incidence in comparison with the size of the American population was 'six times that of World War II.' She writes 'for those Americans who lived in and through the Civil War, the texture of the experience... was the presence of death. At war's end this shared suffering would override persisting differences about the meanings of race, citizenship, and nationhood to establish sacrifice and its memorialization as the ground on which North and South would ultimately reunite.' (REBROADCAST from 1/9/08) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Happy-Go-Lucky' the new film by British director Mike Leigh.

Interview with Forrest Church; Interview with Farnaz Fassihi; Review of Elizabeth McCracken's new novel, ?An exact replica of a figment of my imagination.? October 27, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924784].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Unitarian minister FORREST CHURCH. For almost three decades he was senior minister, and is now Minister of Public Theology at All Souls Unitarian Universalist church in New York City. He has written or edited23 books, including 'So Help Me God: The Founding Fathers and the First Great Battle Over Church and State.' His new memoir is about his diagnosis of terminal esophageal cancer. It is 'Love & Death: My Journey Through the Valley of the Shadow' (Beacon Press). (2.) Journalist FARNAZ FASSIHI ('Far-NAZ Fah-SEE-he'). From 2002 to 2006 she reported from Iraq for The Wall Street Journal. Her new book 'Waiting for An Ordinary Day: The Unraveling of Life in Iraq' (Public Affairs) is an intimate portrait of ordinary Iraqis and an account of what it was like to be a reporter covering the war. Some of it is based on emails she sent to friends while covering the war. FASSIHI is Iranian-born, and American-educated. She is now the Wall Street Journal's deputy bureau chief for the Middle East and Africa.

(3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'An Exact Replica of a Figment of My Imagination' the new memoir by Elizabeth McCracken about the devastating loss of her stillborn baby.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ROBERT DRAPER wrote the New York Times Magazine section cover story this week about the McCain campaign. It's titled, 'The Making (and Remaking) of McCain.' DRAPER is a correspondent for GQ and the author of 'Dead Certain: The Presidency of George W. Bush.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JONAH GOLDMAN, director of the National Campaign for Fair Elections, in the Lawyers Committee for Civil Rights Under Law's Voting Rights Project. The campaign will staff a national voter hotline and field thousands of lawyers on election day to answer voters questions and respond to problems. (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES).

---

Interview with Seth Meyer; Review of the new season of "30 rock;" Commentary on language. October 29, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924623].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) SETH MEYERS is head writer for Saturday Night Live, and co-anchor of their Weekend Update. He'll discuss the program's spoofing of the presidential election. MEYERS has been with the show since 2001. Previously he was with the traveling troupe Boom Chicago Theatre. And he performed with Chicago's Improv Olympic. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews '30 Rock.' Season three begins tomorrow night. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the McCain campaign's use of the 'S' word.
Interview with Cynthia Gorney; Obituary for Tony Hillerman; Review of Bob Dylan's 'Tell-Tale Signs October 30, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924786].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CYNTHIA GORNEY is a contributing writer for the New York Times, and is the author of 'Articles of Faith: A Frontline History of the Abortion Wars.' She has been following the abortion wars for twenty years. She also teaches at the graduate school of journalism at the University of California, Berkeley. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Mystery writer TONY HILLERMAN. He died Sunday from pulmonary failure. He was 83. He was a best-selling author who was also respected by critics and other authors. His novels, such as 'Skinwalkers' and 'People of Darkness,' evoked the Najavo culture of the American southwest. He won the Edgar Allan Poe Award for best mystery novel for his book 'Dance Hall of the Dead.' Later he also won the highest honor by the Mystery Writers of America, the Grandmaster Award. (REBROADCAST from 7/7/88) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Tell-Tale Signs: The Bootleg Series, Vol 8' ? the latest in Columbia records officially-released collection of previously unreleased or alternate tracks by Bob Dylan. These recordings are from the years 1986 to 2006.

Interview with Christopher Plummer; Interview with Colin Meloy; Review of the film "Changeling." October 31, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924783].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor CHRISTOPHER PLUMMER. His memoir 'In Spite of Myself' will be released next week. PLUMMER may be best remembered as Baron Von Trapp in 'The Sound of Music.' He was a frequent cast member on many of television's earliest productions from Kraft Television Theater and the Hallmark Hall of Fame. His films include 'A Beautiful Mind' and 'Twelve Monkeys.' Plummer has also done a lot of voiceover work, including the video game Grand Theft Auto: San Andreas. Plummer has won two Emmys. (REBROADCAST from 11/20/07) (2.) Lead singer, songwriter, guitarist COLIN MELOY of the indie pop quartet The Decemberists. The group hails from Portland, Oregon. MELOY, is known for using '10-dollar words' in his songs and for 'creating character studies that wouldn't sound out of place in a Victorian novel.' The Decemberists fourth album, 'The Crane Wife' was their first on a major label. It was released in 2006. One reviewer writes 'It ...rocks harder than anything they've done previously, a watershed moment for a band as much noted for its idiosyncrasies as its songs.' The band has been holding get-out-the vote performances at college campuses. They began a month long tour yesterday, and they have a new single, 'Always a Bridesmaid.' (REBROADCAST FROM 1/29/07) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Changeling' the new film directed by Clint Eastwood and starring Angelina Jolie.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, writer and actress Tina Fey. She is former head writer for Saturday Night Live. With John McCain's nomination of Sarah Palin as vice presidential candidate, FEY was handed a just about a once in a lifetime chance at impersonation, because of her resemblance to the candidate. FEY returned as a guest star to SNL to play Palin. This week '30 Rock' the Emmy Award winning show she created, stars in, and writes many episodes for, returned to NBC. FEY also wrote the screenplay for and co-starred in the film 'Mean Girls.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Rock historian EDWARD reviews Volume Six of the Hip-o-Select's set of Motown recordings. This collection is from 1966.

Interview with Carolyn Bernstein; Interview with Dion. November 4, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924782].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist CAROLYN BERNSTEIN teaches at Harvard Medical School, is on staff at the Cambridge Health Alliance, and founded the Women's Headache Center at the Alliance. Her new book is 'The Migraine Brain: Your Breakthrough Guide to Fewer Headaches, Better Health' (Free Press). (2.) Singer Songwriter DION (DE-on ). His new CD 'Heroes' is his tribute to the giants of early guitar rock, including Chuck Berry, Elvis Presley, Richie Valens, and Buddy Holly. DION knew many of them. In the late 1950s, Dion and his band the Belmonts topped the chart with several pop hits, earning him the status of teen idol. Dion split amicably with the band in 1960 and continued to write Top 10 hits until the British Invasion changed the pop preference. Now, in his 50s, he continues to produce, write and sing new material.

Interview with Bill Moyer; Interview with Mickey Edwards; Interview with Mark Sawyer. November 5, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924625].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist BILL MOYERS. He has three decades in broadcasting, producing many award-winning series for PBS. He currently is host of the weekly public affairs series 'Bill Moyers Journal' on PBS. Before he entered broadcasting he was White House press secretary for President Johnson. (2.) MICKEY EDWARDS is a former Republican Congressman from Oklahoma (1977-92), and a veteran conservative founding trustee of the Heritage Foundation. EDWARDS is a lecturer at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. His new book is 'Reclaiming Conservatism: How a Great American Political Movement Got Lost?And How It Can Find Its Way Back' (Oxford). (3.) Political scientist MARK SAWYER is an Associate Professor of African American Studies and Political Science at UCLA and the Director of the Center for the Study of Race, Ethnicity and Politics.

Interview with Robert Kuttner; Review of Jay Parini's "Promised land November 6, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924781].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT KUTTNER is co-editor of The American Prospect and Distinguished Senior Fellow at the think tank Demos. His new book is 'Obama's Challenge: America's Economic Crisis and the Power of a Transformative Presidency' (Chelsey Green). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Promised Land: Thirteen Books That Changed America' (Doubleday) by Jay Parini.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author, oral historian, radio host, STUDS TERKEL. He died October 31st at the age of 96. TERKEL dedicated his life to capturing the lives of ordinary Americans thru the oral histories he conducted. He won the Pulitzer Prize in 1985 for his book, 'The Good War: An Oral History of World War II.' His other books include 'Hard Times,' oral histories of the Great Depression, and 'Division America' about urban conflicts in the 1960s. For decades he was the host of a popular radio show in Chicago. We listen back to a 1985 interview with him. (REBROADCAST 4/30/1985) (2.) Creator of the TV series 'Law & Order' DICK WOLF. It's the longest running drama on network television. It's also inspired other series: 'Law & Order: Special Victims Unit' and 'Law & Order: Criminal Intent.' As well as a large photography book of the show's crime scenes, - 'Law & Order: Crime Scenes.' NBC is moving the show back to Wednesday nights after a poor Friday night showing. (REBROADCAST FROM 10/22/03) (3.) We remember cultural critic JOHN LEONARD. He died Wednesday at the age of 69, from complications of lung cancer. He was Fresh Air's book critic, and for many years he was cultural critic for 'CBS Sunday Morning.' In the 1970s he was editor of The Times Book Review. His work was also found in The New York Review of Books, The Atlantic Monthly, The Village Voice, and The Washington Post Book World. He also wrote many books and was an early champion of the writers Mary Gordon, Maxine Hong Kingston, Toni Morrison, and Gabriel Garcia Marquez. (REBROADCAST from 9/14/88)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA ("LIZ-ah"). He's the Washington correspondent for The New Yorker Magazine. He followed the Obama campaign. In the upcoming issue of The New Yorker he writes about the winning organization of the Obama campaign. Lizza was previously senior editor of The New Republic and has contributed to many other publications. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) DAVID KIRKPATRICK is a correspondent in the Washington bureau for The New York Times. Throughout the presidential campaign he profiled John McCain in a series of articles for the paper. He'll discuss the campaign now that the election is over, and the future of the Republican party. During the 2004 election, KIRKPATRICK covered the conservative Christian movement. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with Artie Lange; Review of the band The Pretenders' new album "Break up the concrete." November 11, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924245].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, comic, and Howard Stern Show cast member ARTIE LANGE. His personal life--namely his binge drinking and eating--is often fodder for Howard Stern and the rest of the cast on the daily Sirius Radio program. He has a new memoir, 'Too Fat to Fish' (Spiegel & Grau). Lange was a regular on Fox's sketch comedy show Mad TV, and he's appeared in a number of comedy films, including "Old School" and "Elf." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Break Up The Concrete' the ninth studio album by The Pretenders. It features founder Chrissie Hynde with a new group of Pretenders.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Scientist IRENE PEPPERBERG is a pioneer in the study of animal cognition. Over 30 years ago she bought an African gray parrot by the name of Alex. She eventually taught him a vocabulary of 100 words. He could add. And he understood concepts like bigger, smaller, more, fewer, and none. He died prematurely in Sept 2007. His final words to her were 'You be good. I love you.' PEPPERBERG has written a new book, 'Alex & Me' (Collins). She is an adjunct associate professor at the Dept. of Psychology, Brandeis University. She is also a lecturer and research associate at Harvard University. (2.) British director DANNY BOYLE. His new film 'Slumdog Millionaire' is about an orphan boy in India who becomes a millionaire thru the game show 'Who Wants to be a Millionare.' The film was shot in Mumbai, India. BOYLE's other films include 'Trainspotting,' 'Shallow Grave' and the zombie flick '28 Days Later.' "Slumdog Millionaire" won the Toronto International Film Festival's People's Choice Award an honor previously bestowed on "American Beauty" and "Chariots of Fire." (THIS INTERVIEW WAS Conducted by Dave Davies). (3.) Critic-at-large John Powers on the international comeback of Italian culture. He tells us about two crime novels, 'Clash of Civilizations over an Elevator in Piazza Vittorio' (Europa Traditions) by Amara Lakhous, and Sicilian Tragedee (Farrar Strauss & Giroux) by Ottavio Cappellani. Both have been translated into English and are available here.

Interview with Gretchen Morgenson; Review of Bebo Valdez and Javier Colina's new live recording, "Live at the village vanguard." November 13, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924244].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Financial reporter Gretchen Morgenson. She is assistant business and financial editor and a columnist at the New York Times, and she writes the Market Watch column in the Sunday Money & Business section of the paper. In 2002, Morgenson won a Pulitzer Prize for her beat reporting on Wall Street. She's been on Fresh Air before to talk about the financial crisis, and the Wall Street bailout. This time she'll discuss how America's most famous brokerage house, Merrill Lynch, collapsed. She wrote about it in the New York Times on Sunday, November 9th. And we'll ask what the Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP) looks like now that the Treasury Department is no longer planning to buy up those 'toxic' troubled assets. 2.) Jazz critic Kevin Whitehead reviews 'Live at the Village Vanguard'(Calle 54) the new recording featuring Cuban jazz pianist Bebo Valdes (Bay-bo val-DEZ), with bassist Javier Colina (HA-vee-yare co-LEE-na). Valdes was 86 when the album was recorded. It's his first live recording.

Interview with Don Byron; Review of the James Bond film "Quantum of solace." November 14, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924243].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz clarinetist and composer Don Byron. The New York club, the Jazz Standard, is celebrating Byron's 50th birthday with a four-night series of concerts. We'll listen back to excerpts of Fresh Air interviews with Byron covering his projects playing klezmer music and the music of Lester 'Prez' Young. We'll also hear selections from the 1997 performance he recorded in the Fresh Air studio. Byron's most recent album 'Do the Boomerang' was released by Blue Note records in 2006. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF AND CONTAINS EXCERPTS OF INTERVIEWS ORIGINALLY AIRED on 6.6.90, 1.23.97, 2.21.05, and 11.1.06) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Quantum of Solace,' the latest James Bond film. Daniel Craig returns as 007 and the film is directed by Marc Foster, whose credits include 'Stranger Than Fiction' and 'Monster's Ball.'
University of Illinois at Chicago, in the College of Education. (This interview continues throughout the entire show.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and talk show host STEPHEN COLBERT. He'll tell us about his upcoming holiday special, 'A Colbert Christmas: the Greatest Gift of All.' It’s a take-off on all the old Christmas TV specials of yore hosted by the likes of Bing Crosby and Andy Williams. Colbert welcomes special guests Feist, Toby Keith, John Legend, Willie Nelson and Jon Stewart. It premieres Sunday November 23rd at 10 pm on Comedy Central. A DVD of the special will be available on November 25th. Colbert's regular show, The Colbert Report, airs nightly at 11:30 PM on Comedy Central. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Novelist ANN LEARY. Her new book is Outtakes from a Marriage. It's about a woman who is married to a TV star who may be cheating on her. In real life, Leary is the wife of comedian and actor Denis Leary. Leary says that while the main character of the novel bears a resemblance to her own life, the book is not entirely based on fact. Leary is also the author of the book An Innocent, a Broad.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter and producer DUSTIN LANCE BLACK. He wrote the screenplay for the new film Milk, based on the life and death of Harvey Milk, the first openly gay man to be elected to public office. Milk served as a San Francisco supervisor for just under a year, from 1977 until his assassination in 1978. He was shot along with Mayor George Moscone by fellow supervisor Dan White. Milk was known as the Mayor of Castro Street, and has become a gay rights icon. DUSTIN LANCE BLACK, who was raised in a Mormon family, was also a writer and producer on the HBO series Big Love. The film Milk is directed by Gus Van Sant and stars Sean Penn in the title role. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews A-Square (Of Course), a new collection from Michigan's 60s indie rock label A-Square (Big Beat Records). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Slumdog Millionaire, directed by Danny Boyle.

Interview with Earl Scruggs; Review of the new season of "24;" Interview with Barney Rosset; Review of the film "Twilight." November 21, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925033].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bluegrass musician EARL SCRUGGS. His first solo headlining concert at Nashville's Ryman Auditorium has been released on CD (Rounder Records). The Ultimate Collection/Live at the Ryman was recorded in 2007. Scruggs originated the staccato three-finger, five-string banjo technique that became known as the 'Scruggs style.' He got his start playing with Bill Monroe's band in the 1940s, and then teamed up with guitarist Lester Flatt (fronting The Foggy Mountain Boys). The two penned and recorded the tune 'Foggy Mountain Breakdown' which was used on the Bonnie and Clyde film soundtrack and was one of the first crossover hits of the genre. They also recorded 'The Ballad of Jed Clampett,' the theme song for the sitcom The Beverly Hillbillies. It topped the charts in 1962. SCRUGGS is 84 years old now. In 2001 he released his first album in 17 years, 'Earl Scruggs and Friends' featuring his work with Elton John, John Fogerty, Dwight Yoakum and others. SCRUGGS teamed up with Doc Watson and Ricky Skaggs for the new CD, 'The Three Pickers.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/16/03)

(2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new season of 24. It premieres Sunday November 23rd 2008 at 8E/7C with a 2 hour special on the Fox network. (3.) Publisher BARNEY ROSSET. He was just awarded the Literarian Award for outstanding service to the American literary community by the National Book Foundation. As founder of Grove Press, Rosset published such controversial works as "Tropic of Cancer" and "Last Exit to Brooklyn." In the late 1980s he was forced out of Grove and started his own publishing house, Blue Moon. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/9/91) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Twilight, the new vampire film based on the bestselling book by Stephenie Meyer.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JAMES FRANCO. He plays Harvey Milk's longtime companion in the new film Milk, starring Sean Penn in the title role. Franco got his big break on the short lived but critically acclaimed TV show Freaks and Geeks. He went on to play Harry Osborn in all three Spiderman films. Prior to Milk, he was in Pineapple Express, and he's going to play Alan Ginsburg in the upcoming film Howl. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A Mercy, Toni Morrison's new novel. Maureen says it's being hailed as a sort of prequel to Beloved.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AHMED RASHID. He joins us to talk about the latest political developments in Pakistan, and also to consider changes in the US foreign policy for the region once Barack Obama takes office. His latest book is called Descent into Chaos: The United States and the Failure of Nation building in Pakistan, Afghanistan and Central Asia. Rashid is based in Lahore, Pakistan, and writes for The Daily Telegraph (London), The Washington Post, The International Herald Tribune and other publications. He appears regularly on CNN, BBC and NPR. Rashid is a frequent guest on Fresh Air. His previous books include Jihad and Taliban. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews a trio of new pop singles: Crush from David Archuleta; So What by Pink; and Beyonce's Single Ladies (Put a Ring on It).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producers, writers and musicians KENNY GAMBLE and LEON HUFF. They founded the legendary record label Philadelphia International and created the Philadelphia Soul sound. Gamble and Huff wrote and produced over 170 gold or platinum records, including Love Train, Me and Mrs. Jones, The Rubberband Man, The Love I Lost, Back Stabbers, If You Don't Know Me By Now, and TSOP. They have a new 4 CD box set called Love Train: The Sound of Philadelphia (Columbia/Legacy). In March of 2008, the duo was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Milk, the biopic directed by Gus Van Sant and starring Sean Penn as Harvey Milk.

Obituary for Dave McKenna and interview with Jean McKenna O'Donnell. November 27, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924956].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz pianist DAVE MCKENNA. He died this past October at the age of 78. He's always been a Fresh Air favorite, and his music is often featured on the show. We pay tribute to McKenna by listening back to a 1988 in-studio concert and interview. McKenna began his career playing with jazz greats Gene Krupa, Zoot Sims and Stan Getz, and went on to a critically acclaimed solo career. (REBROADCAST. Original airdate: 12/29/88) (2.) Dave McKenna's younger sister and retired schoolteacher JEAN MCKENNA O'DONNELL. We wanted to find out more about Dave, so we called Jean. We found out that back in 1965, Jean considered a singing career, and she enlisted Dave as her accompanist. We'll play an excerpt of her demo tape from that session. Last year, at age 70, Jean finally made her first album, and she's been performing at clubs in her home state of Rhode Island, where she and Dave grew up. (THERE WILL BE MORE OF THIS INTERVIEW IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW AFTER ANOTHER EXCERPT FROM OUR 1988 DAVE MCKENNA CONCERT.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Music journalist and filmmaker ROBERT GORDON. The new film Cadillac Records opens December 5 2008, and it's the story of Chess Records, the home of great blues musicians like Muddy Waters and Etta James. Gordon wrote Can't Be Satisfied: The Life and Times of Muddy Waters, a biography of the blues legend credited with inventing electric blues and creating the template for the rock and roll band. GORDON also produced and directed an accompanying documentary of the same name. GORDON's other books are It Came From Memphis and The King on the Road. He also produced the Al Green box set Anthology. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/3/02. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Blues singer ETTA JAMES. Her music is chronicled in the new film Cadillac Records. James has been honored many times, with four Grammys and induction into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. One of her best known songs is At Last, which has been used in commercials, films and TV shows. She was a teenager when she was discovered by bandleader/talent scout Johnny Otis, who helped her record her first single, "Dance with Me Henry." She began recording with Chess Records in 1960. Her career took off in the sixties, until she battled a drug addiction at the end of that decade. Her most recent album was All The Way, released in 2006. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/24/94)

Interview with Don Rickles; Interview with Jeffrey Wright. December 1, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924958].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian DON RICKLES. His new book 'Rickles' Letters' (Simon & Schuster) is a collection of imaginary letters written by the original insult comic to a variety of historical and contemporary figures. We'll talk to RICKLES about the origins of his comedy and how his early audiences responded to his act. RICKLES is also the author of the memoir 'Rickles' Book.' (2.) Actor JEFFREY WRIGHT. He plays Muddy Waters in the new film Cadillac Records, which is the story of Chess Records. WRIGHT's recent films include Quantum of Solace, W, and Casino Royale. He had the title role in the film Basquiat, and was a recurring character in Homicide: Life on the Street. Wright got his start on the stage, winning a Tony for his portrayal of a gay nurse in Tony Kushner's Angels in America. He later won an Emmy for the HBO adaptation of the play.

---

Interview with Richard Cizik; Interview with Stephen Waldman; Review of Roberto Bolano's new novel "2666." December 2, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925005].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Evangelist RICHARD CIZIK (pronounced SIZE-ick). He is the Vice President for Governmental Affairs of the National Association of Evangelicals, a powerful lobbying organization that represents 45,000 churches. He is a conservative Christian who preaches the message of environmentalism from a pro-life perspective. He talks about creation care in relation to the threat of global warming.
2. Beliefnet.com founder and Editor-in-Chief STEPHEN WALDMAN. We'll talk with WALDMAN about the place of religion in post-election politics. He'll tell us about the state of the religious right and how the coalition of religious groups that united in support of Barack Obama may fracture over specific issues. Prior to founding beliefnet, Waldman was National Editor of US News & World Report, National Correspondent for Newsweek in the Washington bureau and editor of the Washington Monthly.
3. Critic at large John Powers looks at the Chilean-born writer Roberto Bolano, whom he calls the current literary It boy. Bolano's newest novel is 2666.

---

Interview with Christiane Amanpour; Interview with Randall Stross. December 3, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924957].

Description of show segment(s)

1. CNN Chief International Correspondent CHRISTIANE AMANPOUR. It's the 60th anniversary of the UN Genocide Convention that followed the Holocaust. Amanpour's upcoming special, Scream Bloody Murder, is a 2 hour documentary about genocide and the people who are working to end mass killing worldwide. Amanpour travels through Europe, Asia and Africa looking for answers. Scream Bloody Murder premiers December 4th 2008 at 9 ET. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)
2. Journalist RANDALL STROSS. His new book is Planet Google: One Company's Audacious Plan to Organize Everything We Know. Stross, who writes the Digital Domain column for the New York Times, had unique access to Google's Silicon Valley headquarters, known as the Googleplex.

---

Interview with David Kaplan; Review of Taylor Swift's new album "Fearless." December 4, 2008.

[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924716].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID KAPLAN is editorial director for the Center for Public Integrity. Over his 30-year career, he has investigated organized crime, terrorist groups, corporate polluters, corrupt law enforcement officials, neo-Nazis and more. KAPLAN is currently investigating the link between organized crime and terrorist groups. He'll discuss how that played out in the recent attacks in Mumbai. Previously KAPLAN was chief investigative correspondent for U.S. News & World Report. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Fearless' the second album by country-music singer/songwriter Taylor Swift.

---

Interview with Dorothy Cheney and Robert Seyfarth; Review of James Moody's new Jazz album "Our delight;" Interview with Anthony Anderson; Review of the film "Frost/Nixon." December 5, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924960].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Husband and wife team DOROTHY CHENEY ('CHEE-nee) & ROBERT SEYFARTH (SYE-firth). She is a professor of biology and he is a professor of psychology at the University of Pennsylvania. For their book 'Baboon Metaphysics: The Evolution of a Social Mind' (U of Chicago Press in paperback), they studied a group of baboons in Botswana, observing in particular their social organization. The two are also the authors of the book 'How Monkeys See the World.' (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Our Delight' (IPO recordings) by veteran jazz musicians saxophonist James Moody and piano player Hank Jones. (3.) Actor ANTHONY ANDERSON. He starred as a traumatized cop in the Fox TV series K-Ville. The drama was set in post-Katrina New Orleans, and got critical acclaim and high ratings. Anderson has appeared in many films, including Hustle and Flow, The Departed, and Big Momma's House; his TV credits include Law & Order: SVU, The Bernie Mac Show and The Shield. He's currently starring... as Detective Kevin Bernard on 'Law & Order.' (REBROADCAST from 9/24/07) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Frost/Nixon.'

---

Interview with Dorothy J. Gaiter and John Brecher; Review of holiday books. December 8, 2008.

[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924955].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Wine critics DOROTHY J. GAITER & JOHN BRECHER write the 'Tastings' column for The Wall Street Journal. They are also wife and husband. They are also the authors of 'Wine for every day and every occasion' and 'The Wall Street Journal Guide to Wine' as well as the memoir, 'Love by the Glass: Tasting Notes from a Marriage.' They'll talk about buying wine on a budget, and more. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN gives her 2008 holiday reading recommendations: 'The Tribes of America: Journalistic Discoveries of Our People and Their Cultures' by Paul Cowan (The New Press); 'American Crucible: Race and Nation in the Twentieth Century' by Gary Gerstle (Princeton University Press); 'Hunger of Memory' by Richard Rodrigues (Dial Press-paperback); 'The Wordy Shipmates' by Sarah Vowell (Riverhead Books).

---

Interview with Frank Schaeffer; Review of three films "Still life," "The world," and "24 city."

December 9, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924959].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer FRANK SCHAEFFER. He grew up in an evangelical community in Switzerland founded by his parents Francis and Edith Schaeffer. They were best-selling evangelical authors and were instrumental in linking the evangelical community with the anti-abortion movement. After coming of age as an evangelist and helping to organize religious fundamentalists politically, SCHAEFFER had a crisis of faith and a change of heart. He wrote the memoir 'Crazy for God: How I Grew Up As One of the Elect, Helped Found the Religious Right, and Lived to Take All (or almost all) of it Back.' (DaCapo press-paperback). SCHAEFFER voted for Barack Obama. He is pro-life but also believes abortion should remain legal. Shortly after the election SCHAEFFER wrote an open letter (on The Huffington Post) urging the president-elect caution in how he deals with the issue of abortion, and asking him to come out strongly for a program aimed at reducing the number of abortions, and providing care for pregnant women and their children. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS considers the films of Chinese film maker Jia Zhangke (Zheeh JOHNG-kuh). JOHN says his beautifully shot films register what's getting lost in China's transformation 'a sense of place, a sense of community, a sense of social equality.' Zhangke's films include 'Still Life' (just out on DVD), 'The World,' and '24 City.'

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Actor PHILIP SEYMOUR HOFFMAN. He is starring in the new film 'Doubt' based on the Pulitzer prize winning play, as a Priest whose attentions toward a young student become suspect. HOFFMAN is a versatile, and popular character actor. His films include 'Synecdoche, New York,' 'The Savages,' 'Charlie Wilson's War,' 'Capote' (he played Capote), 'The Talented Mr. Ripley,' 'Magnolia,' and 'Boogie Nights.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Historian, journalist and novelist JAMES RESTON JR. His book 'The Conviction of Richard Nixon: The Untold Story of the Frost/Nixon Interviews' inspired a play and now the new film 'Frost/Nixon.' At the time of the historic confrontation between Frost and Nixon, RESTON helped prepare David Frost for the Watergate portion of his interviews with Nixon. RESTON's other books include 'Galileo: A Life,' 'Collision at Homeplate: The Lives of Pete Rose & Bart Giamatti,' and 'Fragile Innocence: A Father's Memoir of his Daughter's Courageous Journey.' (Interview conducted by Dave Davies).

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) ELIZABETH WARREN is an expert on bankruptcy and commercial law. She is Leo Gottlieb Professor Law at Harvard Law School. WARREN is currently chair of the oversight committee appointed by Congress to monitor how the {dollar}700 billion bailout money is being spent. The committee just issued its first report - http://www senate.gov/general/common/generic/COP_redirect.htm. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic
LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new CD of Scott Wheeler's opera 'The Construction of Boston.' The opera is based on a 1962 hymn to Boston by New York poet Kenneth Koch which was performed as a poetic theatre piece. The CD captures the live performance of the Boston Cecilia choral society's production of the opera under musical director Donald Teeters.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director and actor CLINT EASTWOOD. He directed and stars in the new film 'Gran Torino.' He also directed the recent film 'Changeling' starring Angelina Jolie and John Malkovich. EASTWOOD's acclaimed film 'Flags of Our Fathers' followed the stories of the American soldiers who raised the flag in one of World War II's most enduring images. And his film 'Letters from Iwo Jima' examined the battle from the perspective of the Japanese soldiers who fought it. The actor once best known as a western and action star has directed a number of great films, including 'Unforgiven,' 'Mystic River,' and 'Million Dollar Baby.' (REBROADCAST from 10/23/08) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI has some thoughts on the announcement this week that Jay Leno will begin a new nightly prime-time talk show on NBC next year, and the final episode of 'Boston Legal.' (3.) We remember actor ROBERT PROTSKY who died Monday at the age of 77 from complications from a heart procedure. PROTSKY was a character actor and perhaps his best known role was the big-hearted desk sergeant Stanislau Jablonski on 'Hill Street Blues.' (REBROADCAST from 11/7/88) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Doubt.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor RICHARD JENKINS. He's probably best known as the deceased patriarch of the Fisher family in the HBO series 'Six Feet Under.' He was killed in the first episode and returned as a ghostly presence. JENKINS has appeared in supporting roles in over 50 films and has worked with the Farrelly brothers ('There's Something About Mary' and 'Me, Myself, & Irene') and the Coen brothers ('Intolerable Cruelty' and 'Burn after Reading'). He recently made his debut as a leading man in the film 'The Visitor' which is now out on DVD. (2.) Food historian ANNE MENDELSON. Her new book is called Milk: The Surprising Story of Milk through the Ages. She'll tell us how varieties of animal milk have been processed and consumed in world cultures from ancient times to the present. Mendelson is also the author of the book Stand Facing the Stove. She co-founded the group Culinary Historians of New York, she's written and co-authored a number of cookbooks, and is currently a contributing editor at Gourmet Magazine.

Interview with W.S. Merwin; Interview with Willie O'Ree; Review of top 10 albums of the year. December 16, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925000].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning poet and essayist W.S. Merwin. His new book of poems is called The Shadow of Sirius. The themes of his work are memory and mortality. Additionally, his classic anthology Spanish Ballads has been reissued in paperback. It is one of Merwin's earliest translation projects. William Stanley Merwin was known in the 1960s as an anti-war poet. He is now an environmental activist, and works to restore the rainforests of Hawaii, where he lives. (2.) Retired pro ice hockey player WILLIE O'REE. He was the first black player in the National Hockey League. O'Ree entered the NHL as a winger for the Boston Bruins. O'Ree is originally from New Brunswick, Canada and got his start on Canadian hockey teams before coming to the U.S. This year marks his 50th anniversary with the NHL. After the Bruins, O'Ree played with the Los Angeles Blades and the San Diego Gulls, among other teams. O'Ree is now Director of Youth Development for the NHL's Diversity program. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS). (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER presents his year end round up of the top ten albums and singles in pop music. Artists with top albums are Raphael Saadiq, Titan, Bob Dylan, Girl Talk, All-Girl Summer Fun Band, Fiery Furnaces, TV On The Radio, The Magnetic Fields, My Morning Jacket and Andy Zwerling. Artists with top singles are M.I.A., Alejandro Escovedo, Hayes Carll, Li'l Wayne, Beyonce, Miley Cyrus, Taylor Swift, Kanye West, Ashton Shepherd and Elvis Costello & the Imposters.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bioethicist ARTHUR CAPLAN. He joins us to talk about the health care issues facing the Obama administration. Caplan is a professor of Bioethics and Director of the Center for Bioethics at the University of Pennsylvania. He has written 24 books on science, medicine and ethics. Discover Magazine recently named Caplan one of the ten most influential people in science. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN gives us her picks for the best books of 2008: the novels 'Netherland' by Joseph O'Neill, 'The Elegance of the Hedgehog' (translated from French to English) by Muriel Barbery; the short story collections, 'Unaccustomed Earth' by Jhumpa Lahiri, and 'Say You're One of Them' by Uwem Akpan; the memoir 'An Exact Replica of a Figment of My Imagination' by Elizabeth McCracken; the biography of the friendship between Emily Dickinson and editor Thomas Wentworth Higginson by Brenda Wineapple; and the Library of America's collection 'World War II Writings' by A.J. Liebling.

Interview with Erran Baron Cohen; Interview with Kevin Conley. December 18, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924979].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Composer ERRAN BARON COHEN. His new CD is 'Songs in the Key of Hanukkah.' It's an updated take on holiday tunes, incorporating rap, reggae and rock. Erran collaborated with his brother Sacha Baron Cohen, scoring the music for the film 'Borat: Cultural Learnings of America for Make Benefit Glorious Nation of Kazakhistan,' as well as for 'Da Ali G Show.' Erran is the founder of the musical group ZOHAR Sound System, world fusion beat artists, and he is a DJ in London clubs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Writer KEVIN CONLEY. His latest book is The Full Burn: On the Set, At the Bar, Behind the Wheel, and Over the Edge with Hollywood Stuntmen.' Conley, who is a frequent contributor to the New Yorker, GQ, and Men's vogue, spent four years tagging along with stuntmen, eventually setting himself on fire for research purposes. Conley is also the author of Stud: Adventures in Breeding.
Interview with Bob Woodward; Obituary for Paul Weyrich; Review of the film "The Wrestler." December 19, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925002].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter and editor BOB WOODWARD. Along with Carl Bernstein, Woodward broke the Watergate story in the Washington Post that eventually led to the resignation of President Richard Nixon. His 2005 book about his confidential source in the Watergate story is 'The Secret Man: The Story of Watergate's Deep Throat. The man known as Deep Throat, FBI Deputy Director W. Mark Felt, died yesterday at age 95. His identity, kept secret for years, was revealed in the July 2005 issue of Vanity Fair magazine. Bob Woodward's latest book is The War Within: A Secret White House History 2006-2008. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: July 7 2005. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Conservative activist PAUL WEYRICH (why-rick). He died yesterday at age 66. Weyrich was the co-founder of The Heritage Foundation, a conservative think tank, National Empowerment Television (NET), and the CEO of the Free Congress Foundation. He was known as a staunch conservative who sought to lead people out of political apathy and toward involvement and influence. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 5/4/95) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Wrestler, starring Mickey Rourke and directed by Darren Aronofsky.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Law professor LAWRENCE LESSIG. His new book is called Remix: Making Art and Commerce Thrive in The Hybrid Economy. Lessig advocates updating antiquated copyright laws to reflect the changing landscape of intellectual property in the digital age. Lessig is a professor of law at Stanford Law School and founder of the school's Center for Internet and Society. He chairs the Creative Commons project and is the author of several books including Free Culture, and The Future of Ideas. He is also a columnist at Wired. You can find his blog at www.lessig.org. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) American composer Elliott Carter celebrates his 100th birthday this month. Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews 3 new CDs released in honor of Carter's birthday: Oppens Plays Carter (Ursula Oppens); Elliott Carter: 100th Anniversary Release

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic and frequent guest host DAVID BIANCULLI. He'll tell us all about the hits and misses on TV in 2008. We discuss the impact of the presidential election on television, especially the satire of Saturday Night Live, the Daily Show and The Colbert Report. We also talk about the continuing effect of the internet on traditional media sources. David's informative and ever changing website is www.tvworthwatching.com. (2.) Critic at large GEOFF NUNBERG tells us his pick for Word of the Year, 2008.
Interview with Charlie Haden and his family; Interview with Stephen Colbert. December 25, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924999].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bassist CHARLIE HADEN and family. His newest album is 'Rambling Boy.' It's a departure from his usual style. Haden is known as a great jazz musician, but he grew up performing on his family's country music radio show. Haden returns to roots music with 'Rambling Boy.' Performing with him on the album are his family (including son-in-law, actor Jack Black), and country music singers Vince Gill, Ricky Skaggs, and Roseanne Cash, as well as Elvis Costello, Bruce Hornsby, and Pat Metheny. We'll hear from his wife Ruth, his son Josh, his daughters Rachel, Petra and Tanya. More info at http://www.charliehadenmusic.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST from 9/24/08) (2.) Comedian and talk show host STEPHEN COLBERT. He'll tell us about his Comedy Central holiday special, 'A Colbert Christmas: the Greatest Gift of All.' It's a take-off on all the old Christmas TV specials of yore hosted by the likes of Bing Crosby and Andy Williams. Colbert welcomes special guests Feist, Toby Keith, John Legend, Willie Nelson and Jon Stewart. The special is available on DVD. Colbert's regular show, The Colbert Report, airs nightly at 11:30 PM on Comedy Central. (REBROADCAST from 11/19/08)

Interview with Nick Trout; Interview with Irene Pepperberg. December 26, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924170].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinary surgeon NICK TROUT. His newest book is called Tell Me Where it Hurts: A Day of Humor, Healing and Hope In My Life As An Animal Surgeon. Trout is a staff surgeon at the Angell Animal Medical Center in Boston, Massachusetts. (Original airdate: 3/20/08. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Scientist IRENE PEPPERBERG is a pioneer in the study of animal cognition. Over 30 years ago she bought an African gray parrot by the name of Alex. She eventually taught him a vocabulary of 100 words. He could add. And he understood concepts like bigger, smaller, more, fewer, and none. He died prematurely in Sept 2007. His final words to her were 'You be good. I love you.' PEPPERBERG has written a new book, 'Alex & Me' (Collins). She is an adjunct associate professor at the Dept. of Psychology, Brandeis University. She is also a lecturer and research associate at Harvard University. (Original airdate: 11/12/08)

Interview with Seth Meyers; Interview with Tina Fey; Interview with Stephen Colbert; Review of the music album "The best of hearts of space." December 29, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924522].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and writer SETH MEYERS. He is a cast member and the head writer on Saturday Night Live. Meyers is co-anchor of SNL's Weekend Update. He'll discuss the program's spoofing of the presidential election. MEYERS has been with the show since 2001. Previously he was with the traveling troupe Boom Chicago Theatre. And he performed with Chicago's Improv Olympics. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/29/08) (2.) Comedian, actor and writer TINA FEY. She stars in the NBC comedy series 30 Rock, and in the lead-up to the 2008 presidential election, she appeared on Saturday Night Live spoofing Republican vice-presidential candidate Sarah Palin. Fey is an SNL alum. She joined the cast in 1997, became head writer in 1999, and left in 2006. Fey wrote the film Mean Girls and co-starred in Baby Mama. Fey has won multiple Emmys for her work on SNL and 30 Rock. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/3/08) (3.) Comedian STEPHEN COLBERT. He is the host of The Colbert Report on Comedy Central. His latest project is A Colbert Christmas: The Greatest Gift of All! It's now out on DVD. Colbert got his start as a correspondent on The Daily Show. He also wrote the feature film Strangers With Candy, and as a frequent guest on Saturday Night Live, he often played Ace, a character in the animated short The Ambiguously Gay Duo. Colbert has won multiple Emmys for his work on The Daily Show and The Colbert Report. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/19/08) (4.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews 'The Best of Hearts of Space' a series of albums from the NPR music show which is celebrating 25 years on the air.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress JENNA FISCHER. She's best known for her role as Pam, the receptionist on NBC's 'The Office.' She played opposite John C. Reilly in the film 'Walk Hard: The Dewey Cox Story,' and with Will Ferrell in 'Blades of Glory.' She's appeared in several Judd Apatow projects including 'The 40 Year Old Virgin' and the TV series 'Undeclared.' [REBROADCAST FROM 6/3/08). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor RAINN WILSON ('RAIN'). He's best known for his portrayal of Dwight Schrute in NBC's 'The Office.' Before that he played Arthur Martin, the intern at the Fisher family funeral home in 'Six Feet Under.' (REBROADCAST from 7/30/08).

Interview with Mick Jones and Tony James; Interview with Michael Stipe, Peter Buck, and Mike Mills. December 31, 2008. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924523].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICK JONES former lead guitarist of The Clash and TONY JAMES formerly of Generation X. In 2002 they came together to form the band Carbon/Silicon. Using rock samples and dance beats and inspired by the creative potential of the cyberspace, they release their first experiments as free downloadable MP3s, and later their first recordings as well. Last year they released their first official hard copy CD, 'The Last Post.' (REBROADCAST from 1/29/08) (2.) From the band R.E.M., singer MICHAEL STIPE, guitarist PETER BUCK, and bassist MIKE MILLS. Last year the band released their first album in four years 'Accelerate.' Critics described the album as a 'comeback' and the band members as playing with 'the urgency and insurgency they did in their early years.' The album include 11 songs and is 34 minutes in length. It was their fourteenth album. (REBROADCAST from 4/9/08)
Interview with Steve Martin; Review of Jerry Ragovoy's new collection ?The Jerry Ragovoy story

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor/comedian/screenwriter/playwright and novelist STEVE MARTIN. His memoir about his years as a standup comic is 'Born Standing Up: A Comic's Life' (Scribner) is now in paperback. He is also the author of the novella, 'Shopgirl,' and a collection of short stories, "Cruel Shoes." MARTIN's screenwriting credits include "L.A. Story," and "Roxanne." And he starred in the films "The Jerk," "Planes, Trains and Automobiles," "The Lonely Guy," "Parenthood," "Father of the Bride," "Housesitter," "Dead Men Don't Wear Plaid," "All of Me," "The Man with Two Brains," "Sgt Bilko," "Leap of Faith," "Little Shop of Horrors." He also won a Grammy Award for his album "Let's Get Small." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 10/22/08) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the work of Jerry Ragovoy, the songwriter, arranger and producer who was behind an amazing variety of great music. Ace Records has issued the new collection 'The Jerry Ragovoy Story: Time is on My Side.'

Interview with Seth Rogen; Interview with Josh Brolin; Obituary for Helen Suzman. January 2, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924527].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and writer SETH ROGEN. He co-wrote and co-stars in the film 'Pineapple Express' an action-comedy about two stoners inadvertently caught up in a murder, out on DVD next week. The film is co-written and produced by Judd Apatow. The two also worked together on the film 'Knocked Up,' 'The 40 Year-Old Virgin,' 'Superbad' and the TV series 'Freaks and Geeks.' Before his film career, ROGEN was a staff writer on the final season of Sacha Baron Cohen's 'Da Ali G Show.' ROGEN got his start doing standup comedy in Vancouver, B.C. where he was born and raised. (REBROADCAST 7/31/08) (2.) Actor JOSH BROLIN. He portrayed George W. Bush in the recent Oliver Stone film "W." He's currently playing a supporting role in the new film 'Milk.' BROLIN's other films include "American Gangster," "In the Valley of Elah," and "No Country for Old Men." (Interview by Dave Davies; REBROADCAST from 10/13/08) (3.) We remember apartheid opponent HELEN SUZMAN. She died Thursday at the age of 91. From 1953 until 1989 she served as an Opposition Member of the South African Parliament. SUZMAN was a pioneering political leader in the fight against apartheid and anti-semitism. For thirteen years she was the sole representative in the Parliament to reject race discrimination. She authored the memoir, "In No Certain Terms: A South African Memoir" (Knopf). (REBROADCAST from 11/9/93)

Interview with Temple Grandin; Review of the film "All you need is love." January 5, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503164].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TEMPLE GRANDIN is one of the nation's top designers of livestock facilities. She is also autistic. In her 1995 book, 'Thinking in Pictures' she described how her inner-autistic world has led her to develop animal empathy. She is currently an assistant professor of animal sciences at Colorado State University in Fort Collins. Her new book is 'Animals Make Us Human: Creating the Best Life for Animals' (Houghton Mifflin). Her previous book is 'Animals in Translation: Using the Mysteries of Autism to Decode Animal Behavior.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews a new 5-DVD set documentary on the history of popular music by British filmmaker Tony Palmer. It's called 'All You Need is Love.' Palmer began the project over thirty years ago for London Weekend Television.

Interview with James Fallows; Obituary for Donald Westlake; Review of Jayne Anne Phillips' "Lark and Termite." January 6, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503162].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist JAMES FALLOWS is National Correspondent for The Atlantic Monthly. He is currently based in China. His new book is a collection of his essays from China, 'Postcards from Tomorrow Square' (Vintage paperback). Fallows has written for The Atlantic Monthly for over 25 years. His website is http://jamesfallows.theatlantic.com/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember award-winning mystery writer DONALD WESTLAKE. He died December 31st at the age of 75. The cause was a heart attack. WESTLAKE wrote over 100 novels. And he wrote screenplays (including "The Grifters" and "The Stepfather"). His novels combined laughs with thrills, and showed equally incompetent criminals and law enforcement. His recurring characters included a bungling burgler named John Dortmunder, and a gun-for-hire named Parker. WESTLAKE’s screenplay for 'The Grifters' was nominated for an Academy Award. And he received three Edgar Awards and the title of Grand Master from the Mystery Writers of America in 1993. His next novel 'Get Real' will be released in April. (REBROADCAST from 7/25/88, and 7/16/97). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Lark & Termite' (Knopf) the new novel by Jayne Anne Phillips.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British attorney PHILIPPE SANDS. He is an international lawyer at the firm Matrix Chambers, and a professor and director of the Centre of International Courts and Tribunals at University College London. He's the author of the book 'Torture Team: Rumsfeld's Memo and the Betrayal of American Values.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new DVD collection of three musicals released during World War II. The collection is 'Homefront Collection' (Warner Home Video). The films included are: 'This is the Army,' (in which Irving Berlin sings his famous war song, 'Oh How I Hate to Get Up in the Morning'), 'Thank Your Lucky Stars' (starring Eddie Cantor, and some famous stars not known for their musical ability), and 'Hollywood Canteen' (which features the only screen appearance by the great Hungarian violinist Joseph Szigeti who plays a duet with Jack Benny!).

Interview with Brook Larmer & Randy Olson; Interview with Chuck Todd. January 8, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503525].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter BROOK LARMER and photographer RANDY OLSON. The two have collaborated on this month's National Geographic cover story, 'Gold: The True Cost of Global Obsession.' The price of gold is now over {dollar}1000 dollars an ounce; whereas in 2001 it was {dollar}271. The cost of gold in terms of the human and environmental toll is high as well, higher than it's ever been. Most of the gold left to mine exists only as traces buried in remote and fragile corners of the world. And the mining of that gold is a dangerous activity. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) CHUCK TODD is former political director of NBC news, and was recently appointed to be Chief

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV producers MARK OLSEN and WILL SCHEFFER. They co-created the HBO series Big Love, about to start its third season, January 18th. It's about a man (Bill Paxton) and his three wives (Chloe Sevigny, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Amanda Seyfried). They have broken from the Mormon Church and practice polygamy. Olsen and Scheffer are credited as writers and producers on the series. (REBROADCAST from 8/1/07. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Screenwriter and producer DUSTIN LANCE BLACK was raised in a Mormon family, was also a writer and producer on the HBO series 'Big Love.' He also wrote the screenplay for the new film Milk, based on the life and death of Harvey Milk, the first openly gay man to be elected to public office. Milk served as a San Francisco supervisor for just under a year, from 1977 until his assassination in 1978. He was shot along with Mayor George Moscone by fellow supervisor Dan White. Milk was known as the Mayor of Castro Street, and has become a gay rights icon. ((REBROADCAST from 11/20/08) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Love, Save the Empty, the debut album from singer Erin McCarley. (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the epic 4 hour season opener of the FOX TV series 24. The show begins its seventh season on Sunday January 11 at 8/7c.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Washington Post Executive Editor LEONARD 'LEN' DOWNIE Jr. He stepped down last September after 17 years in the post. During his tenure, the paper won 25 Pulitzer prizes. Downie spent a total of 44 years in the newroom, working his way up from a summer internship. He's just written a new novel, The Rules of The Game. Set in Washington, DC, it's a thriller about an investigative reporter. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JOHN YEMMA, editor of the Christian Science Monitor. The paper recently made a decision to go solely online, becoming a weekly instead of a daily publication, and completely shut down the print version. Yemma joined the monitor in June 2008 after more than 20 years at the Boston Globe.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEVE KNOPPER is a contributing editor for Rolling Stone. He's covered the music business since 2002. His new book is 'Appetite for Self-Destruction: The Spectacular Crash of the Record Industry in the Digital Age' (Free Press). (The K in Knopper is silent. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Parish Bar, the new solo album from singer songwriter Jeb Loy Nichols. He was the front man for the band The Fellow Travelers until embarking on a solo career.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PAUL EISENSTEIN. He covers the automotive industry for his new web magazine The Detroit Bureau. Eisenstein has covered cars for over 30 years, and was publisher and editorial director of the website The Car Connection. He'll talk about the state of the auto industry in this economy and report from the Detroit Auto Show, now underway and noticeably scaled back from previous years. Eisenstein writes for many publications, including The Economist and Popular Mechanics, and is a frequent contributor to radio and television. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Transportation expert DANIEL SPERLING. His new book, co-written with Deborah Gordon, is Two Billion Cars: Driving Toward Sustainability (Oxford University Press). Sperling is Professor of Civil Engineering and Environmental Science and Policy, and founding Director of the Institute of Transportation Studies at the University of California, Davis. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the pop music that was produced at Ardent Studios in Memphis in the late '60s and early '70s. Most of it wasn't heard any wider than the city limits.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian ROBERT SCHIMMEL. His memoir is 'Cancer on {dollar}5 a Day (chemo not included): How Humor Got Me Through the Toughest Journey of My Life' is now in paperback. He also has a new Showtime special 'Life Since Then' which is also available on DVD. While the circumstances of Schimmel's life are grim...he was diagnosed with cancer, went through chemotherapy, married and divorced the same woman three times, and lost a son to leukemia, he has managed to find the humor in it all. Schimmel was named one of Comedy Central's 100 Greatest Comics, has had his own stand up specials on HBO, and he has appeared regularly on Howard Stern and Conan O'Brien. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST from 3/12/08) (2.) This weekend, a lot of TV shows are broadcasting new episodes, and some new series are beginning. TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the slew of them. Included: new episodes of Friday Night Lights, The L Word, Big Love, Flight of the Conchords and Secret Diary of a Call Girl, and the premiere of The United States of Tara. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Notorious, the story of the life and death of the rapper Notorious B.I.G., AKA Biggie Smalls, whose birth name was Christopher Wallace.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Congressman JOHN LEWIS of Georgia. He became part of the civil rights movement while he was a teenager. From 1963 to 1966 he chaired the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. And he became a close associate of Martin Luther King. LEWIS has been a Congressman since 1987. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Journalist TA-NEHISI (ta-nu-HAH-si) COATES grew up in the post Civil Rights Era. He is the son of a former black panther. He is a contributing editor and a blogger for The Atlantic Magazine. And he author of the memoir, 'The Beautiful Struggle: A father, 2 sons, and an unlikely road to manhood' (now in paperback).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist SHEPARD FAIREY. He created the iconic Obama illustration that became the unofficial poster of the campaign. Due to a lack of legal arrangement with the photographer who took the original shot, the poster never achieved official status, although it was embraced and distributed by the Obama campaign. FAIREY then received the official commission to design the Obama Inauguration Poster. FAIREY has made a name for himself as a street artist. Fairey spawned the OBEY street art movement which in turn was the inspiration for a line of clothing, and he has designed album covers for musicians including The Black Eyed Peas and Smashing Pumpkins. His 2008 book was E Pluribus Venom. (2.) Historian ERIC FONER. His latest book is 'Our Lincoln: New Perspective on Lincoln and His World.' He is also the author of the book 'Forever Free: The Story of Emancipation and Reconstruction' about the era following the Civil War in which former slaves were promised equal rights and citizenship. During this time the 13th (abolishing slavery), 14th (guaranteeing birthright citizenship and equal rights for all Americans), and 15th (barring states from discriminating on the basis of race in voting rights), amendments to the constitution were ratified. FONER is DeWitt Clinton Professor of History at Columbia University. (3.) Poet NATASHA TRETHEWEY (‘TREH-thuh-way’). She won the 2007 Pulitzer Prize for Poetry for her book Native Guard. Her white father and black mother were married when interracial marriage was still illegal in Mississippi. Trethewey’s poems draw on her experience growing up as a biracial child in the south. Trethewey is a professor of English at Emory University.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lead singer, guitarist, and songwriter RIVERS CUOMO (’KWO-MO’) of the rock band Weezer. The band made their debut in 1994 with a self-titled record that’s often referred to as the Blue Album. Since then the band has released six albums, gone thru a reorganization, and created a devoted following. CUOMO was raised on an ashram in Connecticut. Over the years CUOMO has gone thru periods of self-isolation, celibacy, drug use, and off and on pursued his studies at Harvard University. CUOMO is known for asking for feedback on his songs most notably on YouTube where he began ‘Let’s Write A Sawng’ asking fans to submit ideas. CUOMO recently released 'Alone II ? The Home Recordings of Rivers Cuomo,' his second solo album of demos and outtakes. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF] (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the historical film 'The Taking of Power by Louis XIV.' Originally made for Italian television in 1966 by director Roberto Rossellini, it's a look back at a rocky transfer of power. The film was recently released on DVD by Criterion.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) P.W. SINGER is a Senior Fellow at the Brookings Institution and author of the new book, 'Wired For War: The Robotics Revolution and Conflict in the 21st Century' (The Penguin Press). In the book, SINGER examines how advances in robotic technology mean that military tasks previously handled by humans, like flying spy planes and finding and destroying IED's, are now being handled by machines. SINGER also looks at how robots are being considered for use directly on the battlefield and the new crop of ethical and legal challenges brought about by the age of robotic warfare. SINGER's previous books include, 'Corporate Warriors: The Rise of the Privatized Military Industry' (Cornell University Press) and a look at the rise of child soldiers called 'Children at War' (Pantheon). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Reborn: Journals & Notebooks, 1947 ? 1963' (FSG) the newly published intimate ruminations of Susan Sontag.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former light-heavyweight champion JOSE TORRES. He died Monday at the age of 72 from a heart attack. After fighting professionally TORRES went on to become a boxing official, and to write biographies of Mike Tyson ('Fire and Fear') and Mohammad Ali ('Sting Like A Bee'). TORRES also served as the New York state boxing commissioner, and he was inducted into the International Boxing Hall of Fame. TORRES won his boxing championship in 1965. (REBROADCAST from 7/28/89) (2.) Soul singer BETTYE LAVETTE. ('BETTY LA-VET') This week she was one of the performers at the Obama Inauguration Celebration at the Lincoln Memorial. She sang the Sam Cooke song, 'A Change is Gonna Come,' with Jon Bon Jovi. She's been singing for decades, though hasn't been well known. She recorded her first hit, 'My Man - He's a Lovin' Man,' at the age of 16. She toured with Ben E. King, Barbara Lynn, and Otis Redding. She spent six years on Broadway and touring with Cab Calloway in the musical 'Bubbling Brown Sugar.' Lavette later worked the European festival circuit. She's being crowned the Comeback Queen for the recent albums she recorded, including 'I've Got My Own Hell to Dream' (2005), and her newest 'The Scene of the Crime.' (REBROADCAST from 12/17/07) (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers Barack Obama's inauguration speech.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director DARREN ARONOFSKY. His new film, The Wrestler, stars Mickey Rourke as Randy the Ram, a WWE style professional wrestler who is well past his prime. Isolated from his family and living in poverty, The Ram is forced to wrestle in small matches held at rec centers and veteran's halls. The film has just been nominated for two Oscars ? Best Actor, Mickey Rourke and Best Supporting Actress, Marisa Tomei. ARONOFSKY's previous films include Requiem for a Dream and Pi. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new self-titled album from the band Fiction Family.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ETHAN BRONNER. He is the Jerusalem Bureau Chief for the New York Times. He will report on the latest developments in Gaza. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Former president JIMMY CARTER. He's written a new book called 'We Can Have Peace in the Holy Land: A Plan that Will Work.' Carter was the 39th President of the United States, and he founded The Carter Center, an organization that promotes conflict resolution and peace. He will talk about a viable plan to end the fighting between Israelis and Palestinians.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN UPDIKE one of the most-read, most-respected, most-analyzed American writers has died at the age of 76. He died Tuesday, January 27th. He had cancer. We'll devote the show to some of our interviews with him over the years, one in 1988 following the publication of his book 'S' a modern story drawn from Nathaniel Hawthorne's 'The Scarlet Letter,' one from 1989 about his memoir 'Self-Conscious,' and another from 1997 following the publication of his novel 'Toward The End of Time.' (INTERVIEW FROM 3/17/88).

---

Interview with Bill Paxton; Interview with James Bobin. January 29, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885373].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BILL PAXTON. He stars in the HBO drama 'Big Love' as the head of a polygamous family. He has three wives, three houses, and is working on a fourth wife. (The show just kicked off season three January 18th). PAXTON's films include 'Apollo 13,' 'A Simple Plan,' 'One False Move,' 'Twister,' and 'Tombstone.' (2.) British writer and director JAMES BOBIN (CORRECTION ON PRONOUNCER: it's 'BOW-bin') is the co-creator, co-writer, and executive producer of 'Flight of the Conchords' the funny HBO musical comedy show about a couple of clueless musicians trying to make it big in New York City. It stars New Zealanders Bret McKenzie and Jemaine Clement. ('Flight of the Conchords' recently began season two on HBO, Sunday nights). BOBIN also was a writer and director for Da Ali G Show.

---

Interview with Bruce Springsteen; Review of the film "Harvard beats Yale 29-29." January 31, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885372].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter, musician, bandleader BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN. He has a new album, 'Working on A Dream,' he performed at Obama's pre-inaugural concert, won a Golden Globe award for his title song for the film 'The Wrestler,' and will perform during halftime, at the Superbowl. (REBROADCAST from 11/15/05) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews 'Harvard Beats Yale 29-29' the new documentary about the famous 1968 game that he says even non football fans will like. interview with Dave Iverson; Obituary for Hank Crawford; Review of the film "The class."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVE IVERSON. His new PBS Frontline documentary 'My Father, My Brother, and Me' is about the diagnosis of Parkinson's disease that he, his father, and his brother all received, and about IVERSON's quest to understand the causes and possible cure of the degenerative neurological disorder. Researchers are finding that genetics and environmental toxins may have a part in triggering the disorder, and exercise may help protect the brain from the disorder, and help alleviate symptoms once a person has Parkinson's. (The documentary will be broadcast on most PBS stations on Tuesday, Feb 3, at 9:00 PM)(INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember Memphis-born saxophonist HANK CRAWFORD. He was a gifted soloist, composer, and arranger. Before going out on his own, he backed B.B. King and played with Ray Charles. He eventually became musical director for Charles' band and he credits what he learned about playing soulful music from Charles. CRAWFORD died January 29th, at the age of 74. (REBROADCAST from 5/20/98) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new French film 'The Class' about a highschool class in an impoverished Paris neighborhood of mostly immigrants from Africa and Asia. It's been nominated for an Oscar for Best Foreign language film.

interview with Antony Hegarty; Review of ?The Complete Arista Recordings of Anthony Braxton.?

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter ANTONY HEGARTY of Antony and the Johnsons. The androgynous singer was influenced early by Boy George, who he first saw at the age of 12. HEGARTY’s voice has been described as 'neither male nor female, black nor white' and 'otherworldly.' He and his band released their self-titled debut album in 2000, and later appeared on Lou Reed albums, and toured with Reed as well. Their second album was 'I Am A Bird Now.' Their new album is 'The Crying Light.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'The Complete Arista Recordings of Anthony Braxton' (Mosaic box set). It includes eight CDs of his recordings from the 1970s.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former NPR reporter SARAH CHAYES (pronounced 'chayze'). She reported on the fall of the Taliban in 2001 for NPR. After that she decided to stay and help rebuild the country. She provides a first person account of how the Taliban are using fear and persuasion to expand their power in Afghanistan. In 2005 she established the Arghand Cooperative, http://www.arghand.org/, to sell local fruit crops used in perfumes, soaps and foods. Chayes is the author of the 2006 book 'The Punishment of Virtue: Inside Afghanistan After the Taliban.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Pakistani journalist Ahmed Rashid (Ahh-MED Ra-SHEED). He is a correspondent for the Far Eastern Economic Review and the Daily Telegraph, reporting on Pakistan, Afghanistan, and Central Asia. He is the author of the book 'Jihad: The Rise of Militant Islam in Central Asia' and of the bestseller, 'Taliban: Militant Islam, Oil, and Fundamentalism in Central Asia.'

interview with Will Bunch; Interview with Douglas Brinkley; Review of John Hassell's "Last Night the moon came dropping its clothes in the street." February 5, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458351].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist WILL BUNCH is senior writer for the Philadelphia Daily News and author of the popular blog, Attytood. His new book is 'Tear Down This Myth: How the Reagan Legacy Has Distorted Our Politics and Haunts Our Future' (Free Press). He examines the right wing's calculated effort to take the mixed legacy of Ronald Reagan and turn him into an icon, and how that's harmed America. (2.) Historian DOUGLAS BRINKLEY. He teaches at Rice University and is a fellow at Rice's Baker Institute for Public Policy. He edited the private White House diaries of Ronald Reagan. And he's called Reagan one of the top five American presidents of the twentieth century. BRINKLEY's written books about Dean Acheson, Jimmy Carter, Henry Ford, and John Kerry. And he's the author of the best-selling 'The Great Deluge: Hurricane Katrina, New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast.' (3.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews 'Last Night the moon came dropping its clothes in the street' (ECM) by trumpeter and composer Jon Hassell, who is known for his mixture of world-fusion, ambient electronica and minimalism.
Interview with Demitri Martin; Obituary for Martin Delaney; Obituary for Lucas Foss; Review of the film "Coraline." February 6, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458518].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian DEMITRI MARTIN. He is best known for his appearances on The Daily Show with John Stewart. He's also written for the Conan O'Brien Show, for which he garnered an Emmy nomination. He has a new show on Comedy Central, 'Important Things with Demetri Martin' which premieres February 11th. MARTIN has also had a one-hour Comedy Central special. (REBROADCAST from 9/24/07) (2.) AIDS activist MARTIN DELANEY. He died January 23rd at the age of 63, from liver cancer. In 1980 he was suffering from life-threatening Hepatitis. He treated it with drugs then unapproved in the U.S. In 1985 DELANEY, a former Jesuit seminarian, founded Project Inform--which gathers information and speeds access to AIDS treatments. He himself was never H.I.V.-positive. In the early 1990s he was a leader in efforts to push the Food and Drug Administration to approve promising drugs more quickly. DELANEY's life and work were discussed extensively in Jonathon Kwitny's controversial 1992 book, "Acceptable Risks." (REBROADCAST from 10/16/92) (3.) Composer, conductor and pianist LUKAS FOSS. He died Sunday. He was 86. Foss led several orchestras in his career. He took the Brooklyn Philharmonic from a community orchestra to a vital part of New York City's music scene. He also directed the Jerusalem Symphony, and the Milwaukee Symphony. FOSS's curiosity led him to different musical styles including the avant-garde and minimalism. He proudly stated that he never belonged to any school of music. (REBROADCAST from 10/7/87) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Coraline' the new stop-animation film by Henry Selick the filmmaker who brought us 'Nightmare Before Christmas.' 'Coraline' is based on the children's book of the same name by Neil Gaiman. He just won the 2009 Newbery Medal for his subsequent book 'The Graveyard Book.'

Interview with Kelly Reichardt; Obituary for Blossom Dearie; Review of the novel "Brothers." February 9, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458429].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director KELLY REICHARDT. Her new film 'Wendy and Lucy' has been described as the 'best art-house girl-and-dog' story you're ever going to see. It stars Michelle Williams as a 20-something girl and her dog. She's broke; she sets out for Alaska and gets stuck in an Oregon town. Her other films include 'Old Joy' and 'Travis.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember jazz singer and pianist BLOSSOM DEARIE. She died Saturday at the age of 82, of natural causes. She was a great singer with the tiniest of voices. She has been called "One of the last of the great supper-club singers.' Her albums recorded in the 1950s with Norman Granz on Verve are considered cult classics. (REBROADCAST from 3/31/98) (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Brothers' by Yu Hua, the new satirical novel translated from Chinese.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist THOMAS RICKS. He is the Washington Post's Special Military correspondent. He's the recipient of two Pulitzer prizes. He's also the author of the bestseller, 'Fiasco' about the invasion of Iraq. His new book is 'The Gamble: General Petraeus & the American Military Adventure in Iraq, 2006-2008.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Retired Army captain RYAN KULES. He was deployed to Iraq in February 2005. In November of that year his vehicle was hit with an IED. KULES lost an arm and a leg and was in a coma for two weeks. The two other soldiers in his vehicle were killed. KULES now works with the Wounded Warrior Project, which helps severely injured soldiers transition into the workforce. The Project played a role in KULES' recovery.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHRISTOPHER DICKEY. In his new book 'Securing the City: Inside America's Best Counterterror Force?The NYPD' (Simon & Schuster) he describes the city's creation of one of the world's elite intelligence-gathering operations. They use state of the art equipment (high-tech helicopters, chemical and radiation sniffing devices), deploy police officers overseas to gather information about terrorist acts, and hired David Cohen, a former top C.I.A. official to run the department. DICKEY is also the author of the novel, 'The Sleeper,' a thriller about a former terrorist living in the U.S. who goes to hunt down his former Al Queda comrades after September 11th. DICKEY is Paris bureau chief and Middle East regional editor for Newsweek magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut release by the L.A. band Fol Chen. ('Foal' Chen).

| Interview with Joss Whedon; Interview with Kevin Rafferty. February 12, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885378]. |
| Description of show segment(s) |
| (1.) Writer/director/producer JOSS WHEDON ('WE-Dun'). He has quite a following for his smart, funny, fantasy based TV series. He created the popular 'Buffy The Vampire Slayer' and the spin-off 'Angel.' He also created the online musical 'Dr. Horrible's Sing Along Blog' starring Neil Patrick Harris. His new TV series 'Dollhouse' premieres Friday, February 13th on FOX. It's about a group of young women and men who are hired out to fulfill the needs and fantasies of rich clients. For each assignment they are reprogrammed with a new identity and their previous memories are erased. (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY OUR TV CRITIC DAVID BIANCULLI.) (2.) Documentary film director KEVIN RAFFERTY. His new film "Harvard beats Yale 29-29" is about the famous 1968 football game between the two rival schools. |

| Interview with Danny Boyle; Interview with Richard Jenkins; Review of the new music album, "For all I care." February 13, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885379]. |
| Description of show segment(s) |
| (1.) British director DANNY BOYLE. His new film 'Slumdog Millionaire' has been nominated for ten Academy Awards including best direction and best picture. It's about an orphan boy in India who becomes a millionaire through the Indian version of the game show 'Who Wants to be a Millionaire?' The film was shot in Mumbai, India. BOYLE's other films include 'Trainspotting,' 'Shallow Grave,' and the zombie flick '28 Days Later.' "Slumdog Millionare" won the Toronto International Film Festival's People's Choice Award, an honor previously bestowed on "American Beauty" and "Chariots of Fire." (THIS INTERVIEW
WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES. (REBROADCAST from 11/12/08) (2.) Actor RICHARD JENKINS. He's been nominated for an Academy Award for his leading role in the film 'The Visitor' (now out on DVD). It was his debut as a leading man. JENKINS is probably best known as the deceased patriarch of the Fisher family in the HBO series 'Six Feet Under.' He was killed in the first episode and returned as a ghostly presence. JENKINS has appeared in supporting roles in over 50 films and has worked with the Farrelly brothers ('There's Something About Mary' and 'Me, Myself, & Irene') and the Coen brothers ('Intolerable Cruelty' and 'Burn after Reading'). (REBROADCAST from 12/15/08) (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews For All I Care, the new album from The Bad Plus joined by Wendy Lewis.

Interview with Steven Waldman; Interview with Michael Pollan. February 16, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458180].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author STEVEN WALDMAN. His book is called Founding Faith: Providence, Politics and the Birth of Religious Freedom in America. He explores the roots of free worship in the United States by looking at the religious views of five founders and the development of a religious philosophy for the nation. Waldman is editor in chief of the website Beliefnet.com. [THIS INTERVIEW ORIGINALLY AIRED MARCH 11, 2008.) (2.) Journalist MICHAEL POLLAN (like Pollen). Last year, he wrote an open letter in The New York Times Magazine to the next President-Elect about the health of the nation's food systems. Pollan's books include, "The Omnivore's Dilemma: A Natural History of Four Meals" which followed industrial food, organic food, and food that consumers procure or hunt for themselves, from the source to the dinner plate. It also examines the importance of corn in all of our food products. POLLAN is a Professor of Science and Environmental Journalism at University of California at Berkeley. His previous books include "The Botany of Desire" and "A Place of My Own," and he's a frequent contributor to the New York Times Magazine. [THIS INTERVIEW ORIGINALLY AIRED OCTOBER 20, 2008] Review of Roger and Hammerstein's musical "Allegro;" Interview with Ted Chapin; Review of the film "Dennis Potter February 17, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458129].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews 'Allegro' (Sony Masterworks Broadway), the first complete recording of the 1947 Rodgers and Hammerstein musical that survived for one season and was then nearly forgotten. (2.) TED CHAPIN is President of the Rodgers and Hammerstein Organization. He also co-produced the new recording of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical 'Allegro' (Sony Masterworks Broadway). It's the first complete recording of it. 'Allegro' opened in 1947, survived for one season, and was then nearly forgotten. It was their fourth work together preceded by the Broadway musicals 'Oklahoma!' 'Carousel,' and 'State Fair.' It tells the story of an earnest country doctor from cradle to adulthood. The score is unconventional: fragments of song move in and out of action like passing thoughts; melodies flit by in one scene and then blossom in the next. Stephen Sondheim said the production marked 'the first really good experimental show.' A couple of songs from the musical became standards, 'A Fellow Needs a Girl,' and 'The Gentleman Is a Dope.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new DVD collection 'Dennis Potter: 3 to Remember' a collection of tele-films from 1980, and an 'unforgettable' 1984 interview he gave just before his death.

Interview with Jane Mayer; Interview with Ta-Nehisi Coates. February 18, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458133].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JANE MAYER is a staff writer for the New Yorker. She is also the author of the book,'The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned Into a War on American Ideals.' She writes in the current New Yorker (Feb 23rd, 'The Hard Cases') about the upcoming case before the Supreme Court which will force the Obama Administration to clarify its policy toward fighting terrorism. It involves the only alleged enemy combatant to be detained in the U.S. Ali Saleh Kahlah al-Marri, an alleged Al Qaeda sleeper agent has been held for more than five years in an isolation brig, even though he has never stood trial or been convicted of a crime. His case is scheduled to be heard by the Court in April. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Journalist TA-NEHISI COATES grew up in the post Civil Rights Era. He is the son of a former black panther. He is a contributing editor and a blogger for The Atlantic Magazine, and author of the memoir, 'The Beautiful Struggle: A father, 2 sons, and an unlikely road to manhood' (now in paperback).

---

Interview with Danny McBride; Obituary for John McGlinn; Review of the film "Gomorrah."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and actor DANNY MCBRIDE. He co-wrote and stars in the new HBO series 'Eastbound & Down' as a former big-league base-ball star, named Kenny Powers, whose career has come to disastrous end due to his ego, drugs and politically incorrect statements. He returns to his home town, moves in with his brother's family, and gets a job as a substitute physical ed teacher at his old middle school. The series is executive produced by Will Ferrell and Adam McKay, the team behind such films of arrested male development as: 'Talladega Nights,' 'Anchorman,' and 'Step Brothers.' (The six-episode 'Eastbound & Down' premiered Sunday, February 15th). MCBRIDE other roles include: the Buddhist drug dealer in 'Pineapple Express,' and the pyrotechnics guy in 'Tropic Thunder.' He also created and starred in the self-financed film 'The Foot Fist Way' as a teacher of taekwondo. (2.) Conductor, arranger and musical historian JOHN MCGLINN. He died on Saturday at the age of 55 from an apparent heart attack. He recreated the musicals 'Show Boat,' 'Anything Goes,' and 'No, No, Nanette' in their original form. He also re-orchestrated the Irving Berlin musical "Annie Get Your Gun" according to the original 1946 performance. In preparing the remake, McGlinn discovered that the 1966 revival of the show left out several musical numbers, which he incorporated into the current performance. McGlinn also included a song that had been written for the 1946 version, but never before recorded. He often reinstated lost songs in the scores of musicals. (REBROADCAST from 1/13/89 and 4/23/92). (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new Italian film 'Gomorrah' about the mob based on the epic book of the same name by Neapolitan journalist Roberto Saviano (available here in paperback).
Interview with Philip Seymour Hoffman; Interview with Dustin Lance Black; Review of the film "Two lovers." February 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458179].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor PHILIP SEYMOUR HOFFMAN. He's been nominated for best actor in a supporting role in the film 'Doubt.' It's based on the Pulitzer prize winning play. HOFFMAN plays a Priest whose attentions toward a young student become suspect. 'Doubt' is up for five Oscars in all. HOFFMAN is a versatile, and popular character actor. His films include 'Synecdoche, New York,' 'The Savages,' 'Charlie Wilson's War,' 'Capote' (he played Capote), 'The Talented Mr. Ripley,' 'Magnolia,' and 'Boogie Nights.' (REBROADCAST from 12/10/08) (2.) Screenwriter and producer DUSTIN LANCE BLACK. He's up for an Oscar for the the original screenplay he wrote for the film 'Milk,' based on the life and death of Harvey Milk, the first openly gay man to be elected to public office. Milk served as a San Francisco supervisor for just under a year, from 1977 until his assassination in 1978. He was shot along with Mayor George Moscone by fellow supervisor Dan White. Milk was known as the Mayor of Castro Street, and has become a gay rights icon. DUSTIN LANCE BLACK, who was raised in a Mormon family, was also a writer and producer on the HBO series Big Love. The film Milk is directed by Gus Van Sant and stars Sean Penn in the title role. (REBROADCAST from 11/20/08) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Two Lovers' starring Joaquin Phoenix and Gwyneth Paltrow and directed by James Gray. Phoenix plays a man torn between two women.

Interview with Liza Mundy; Review of two novels "Drood" and "Twilight." February 23, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458135].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LIZA MUNDY is a staff writer at the Washington Post where she writes about family life, popular culture, the arts, and politics. She is the author of the book 'Everything Conceivable: How Assisted Reproduction Is Changing Our World' (in paperback by Anchor books). [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF] (2.)Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two recent contributions to the horror genre: Dan Simmons, 'Drood' (Little Brown and Co.) and the 'Twilight' series of vampire novels by Stephanie Meyer (Little Brown Young Readers).
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458182].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist STEVE COLL (Call). His article in this week's edition of the New Yorker is called, 'The Back Channel: India and Pakistan's secret Kashmir talks.' During Pervez Musharraf's time as Pakistan's President and Army chief, Musharraf and his counterpart in India, Prime Minister Tariq Aziz, encouraged special envoys to develop a plan for peacefully settling the disputed region of Kashmir. A detailed, 'non-paper' deal had been drawn up, but lost support following Musharraf's resignation in August 2008 and the Mumbai attacks in November. Steve Coll is a staff writer for the New Yorker and President of the New America Foundation. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the seventh album by singer-songwriter M. Ward, 'Hold Time.' Ward previously collaborated on an album with actress and singer Zooey Daschenel, and has toured with the bands White Stripes and My Morning Jacket.

Interview with Dexter Filkins; Interview with Dorothy Gaiter and John Brecher. February 25, 2009.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458181].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEXTER FILKINS is a foreign correspondent for The New York Times. He received a George Polk award for his coverage of the assault on Falluja in November 2004. He reported on the Iraq war from March 2003 to August 2006. From 2001-2002 he covered the war in Afghanistan. Recently he's returned to Afghanistan to report on events there. FILKINS is also author of the book 'The Forever War' about his experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
(2.) Wine critics DOROTHY J. GAITER & JOHN BRECHER write the 'Tastings' column for The Wall Street Journal. They are also wife and husband. They are also the authors of 'Wine for every day and every occasion' and 'The Wall Street Journal Guide to Wine' as well as the memoir, 'Love by the Glass: Tasting Notes from a Marriage.'
Interview with Shepard Fairey; Interview with Mannie Garcia; Interview with Greg Lastowka. February 26, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885392].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist SHEPARD FAIREY. He created the iconic Obama 'Hope' poster. He is currently in the middle of a copyright lawsuit. He took the image of Obama from an internet photograph by Associated Press photographer Mannie Garcia. Last month, the AP contacted FAIREY threatening him with a lawsuit for using the image without permission, seeking payment for using it, and asking to share in the profit. Pre-empting the suit, the Stanford Law School's Fair Use Project filed a lawsuit on behalf of FAIREY stating that his work is protected under the doctrine of 'fair use.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) MANNIE GARCIA is a freelance photojournalist based in Washington, D.C. He took the photograph of Obama in 2006 at the National Press Club. GARCIA has covered hard news events for Bloomberg, Reuters, the New York Times, Newsweek and more in the U.S., Somalia, Bosnia, Serbia, Kosovo, Rwanda, Zaire, Afghanistan, and the Philippines. (3.) Law professor GREG LASTOWKA (la-STOW-ka) is an expert on intellectual property and internet law. He teaches at the Rutgers School of Law, Camden. His work has also been published in The Washington Post, USA Today, Wired, The Economist, and the National Law Journal. He is currently a visiting professor at Columbia Law School.

Interview with Richard Price; Review of the new music album "Watts." February 27, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458131].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist & screenwriter RICHARD PRICE. His best-selling novel 'Lush Life' about the repercussions of a shooting on Manhatten's Lower East side will be out in paperback next week. PRICE has also written for HBO's 'The Wire.' PRICE's other bestselling novels include, Clockers about life in the inner city world of drug dealing (which was made into a film); Freedomland which was inspired by the real life incident in which a woman alleged a black man carjacked her and took her two children; and Samaritan about a man who returns to the New Jersey town where he was raised and to teaching, and the bad consequences of his good intentions. PRICE also is a screenwriter with such notable films: "Sea of Love," "Ransom," and "The Color of Money." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 3/5/08) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Watts' the new recording by drummer Jeff 'Tain' Watts in which he's a leader. Watts was an original member of the Wynton Marsalis quintet and was part of Branford Marsalis' quartet. Branford plays on Watts' CD as part of Watt's quartet as well as trumpeter Terence Blanchard and bassist Christian McBride.

Interview with Simon Johnson; Review of the band Bird and the Bee's new album, "Ray guns are not just the future." March 3, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458178].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist SIMON JOHNSON. He is former chief economist for the IMF (International Monetary Fund). At the IMF he led the global economic outlook team, and helped formulate innovative responses to worldwide financial turmoil. He is also co-founder of a website on the global economic and financial crisis, www.BaselineScenario.com. JOHNSON is a Professor of Entrepreneurship at MIT's Sloan School of Management. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the second album by the duo known as the Bird and the Bee. It's called 'Ray Guns Are Not Just the Future.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Religion scholar BART D. EHRMAN (pronounced 'ERR' as in 'BURR'). He chairs the Department of Religious Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill. His new book is 'Jesus, Interrupted: Revealing the Hidden Contradictions in the Bible (And Why We Don't Know About Them)' (HarperOne). He is also the author of 'God's Problem: How the Bible Fails to Answer Our Most Important Question ? Why We Suffer' and of the bestseller 'Misquoting Jesus: The Story Behind Who Changed the Bible and Why.' His other books include 'Peter, Paul, and Mary Magdalene: The Followers of Jesus in History and Legend,' and 'Lost Christianities: The Battle for Scripture and the Faiths We Never Knew.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS on Pinocchio: he considers the new translation of Carlo Collodi's 1881 book 'Pinocchi' and the Disney film version which has just be re-released in a 70th anniversary DVD edition.

Interview with Donovan Campbell. March 5, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458172].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Former Marine DONOVAN CAMPBELL served three combat deployments, two in Iraq and one in Afghanistan. He commanded Joker One, a platoon of new Marines that he trained and transformed into a fighting unit. In Iraq they were assigned to Ramadi, the capital of the Sunni-dominated Anbar province. For seven months they engaged in daily house-to-house combat with insurgents. Nearly half of his platoon had been wounded. CAMPBELL was awarded a Bronze Star with Valor for his time in Iraq. His memoir is 'Joker One: A Marine Platoon's Story of Courage, Leadership, and Brotherhood' (Random House). CAMPBELL now is working for PepsiCo and living in Dallas, Texas with his wife and daughter. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Susan Loesser; Interview Joseph Weiss; Interview with Jo Sullivan Loesser; Interview with Horton Foote; Review of the new superhero film "Watchmen." March 6, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885172].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) SUSAN LOESSER is the daughter of Frank Loesser, who wrote the music and lyrics for 'Guys and Dolls.' He also composed the classic songs "Heart and Soul" and "Baby It's Cold Outside." LOESSER's 1993 memoir of her father is "A Most Happy Fella." (REBROADCAST FROM 6/18/93) (2.) Music archivist JOSEPH WEISS (pronounced like 'vice'). He discovered the demo recordings of Frank Loesser, (pronounced 'Lesser'), who wrote the musicals 'Guys & Dolls.' It was first produced on Broadway in 1950. Loesser made the demos to demonstrate to the original cast what the songs should sound like. 'Guys and Dolls' is currently being revived on Broadway. Loesser also wrote the musicals 'A Most Happy Fella' and 'How To Succeed in Business Without Really Trying.' WEISS was the copyright manager of Paul McCartney's publishing company, which acquired Loesser's publishing company in 1979. Along with the acquisition came hundreds of unindexed tapes. In 1992 Weiss produced a CD of the demos.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ELIZABETH WARREN is an expert on bankruptcy and commercial law. She is chair of the Congressional oversight panel which has just issued its report on what to do about home foreclosures. WARREN is Leo Gottlieb Professor Law at Harvard Law School. As chair of the panel WARREN is also monitoring how the federal government's billion dollar bailout money is being spent. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'The Mountain' the third album by the Cincinnati, Ohio band, The Heartless Bastards, led by singer-songwriter Erika Wennerstrom.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Alto saxophonist & composer RUDRESH MAHANTHAPPA ('Roo-dresh Ma-HAHN-thuh-puh'). He's considered one of jazz's rising stars. He leads or co-leads seven different groups and often incorporates the culture of his Indian ancestry in his music. MAHANTHAPPA has a number of albums to his credit. The most recent are 'Apti' (innova) with The Indio-Pak Coalition and 'Kinsmen' (Pi Recordings) with the Dakshina Ensemble (named one of the Top Jazz CDs of 2008). MAHANTHAPPA is a Guggenheim fellow. He lives in New York and teaches at the The New School University. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a reissue of electric guitarist Grant Green's first album for the Blue Note jazz label. It's called 'Grant's First Stand' (Blue Note). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new women's literary history collection, 'A Jury of Her Peers: American Women Writers from Anne Bradstreet to Annie Proulx' (Knopf).

Interview with Karen Tumulty; Interview with Uwe Reinhardt. March 11, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458173].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KAREN TUMULTY is TIME magazine's National Political Correspondent and has covered the White House and Congress for the magazine. She writes about her brother's diagnosis of kidney-disease in the TIME article 'The Health-Care Crisis Hits Home' (Thursday, march 5th). Her brother's story highlights the problem of the underinsured, people who had health-insurance, and jobs, but whose lives are ruined financially by an unexpected health catastrophe. TUMULTY writes that the hard truth about this country's health-care system is 'just about anyone can be one bad diagnosis away from financial ruin.' (2.) UWE REINHARDT (UE-VA) is a leading authority on health care economics. He is a Professor of Political Economy and a Professor of Economics & Public Affairs at Princeton University. He is also a member of the Institute of Medicine of the National Academy of Sciences. REINHARDT current series of articles about what is wrong with the health-care system can be found on The New York Times blog, Economix. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actor IDRIS ELBA ('ID-like''bid'-RIS'). He's best known for his role in HBO's 'The Wire' as Stringer Bell, the cold, calculating, and savvy drug dealer and businessman. Next week he begins guest-starring on NBC's 'The Office' as Michael's boss. ELBA's films include '28 Weeks Later,' 'American Gangster,' and 'Tyler Perry's Daddy's little Girls.' ELBA is also a DJ and singer. ELBA was born in London; his father is from Sierre Leone, and his mother from Ghana. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Beware' the new album by Bonnie Prince Billy, otherwise known as the prolific singer-songwriter Will Oldham.

Interview with Marianne Faithfull; Interview with Ahmir "Questlove" Thompson; Review of the film "Everlasting moments." March 13, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458174].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer MARIANNE FAITHFULL. Her new album 'Easy Come, Easy Go' is a collection of cover songs in which she joins up with Nick Cave, Rufus Wainwright, Keith Richards, Antony Hegarty and others. FAITHFULL got her start in the English music scene of 1964, when she dated Mick Jagger and had the hit song, "As Tears Go By" before the Rolling Stones cut their version. In the following years she had a drug addiction that almost killed her, before recovering in 1985 and releasing new albums. Her previous albums are 'The Collection' a two-disc set of her hits, and 'Before the Poison' which includes tracks written by singer PJ Harvey. (REBROADCAST from 9/26/94 and 3/28/05) (2.) Drummer AHMIR THOMPSON, AKA QUESTLOVE of the hip-hop group The Roots. They've just become the house band for Jimmy Fallon's 'Late Night' on NBC, (Fallon is replacing Conan O'Brien). One reviewer writes, of their 2005 CD 'The Game Theory,' - 'To fully savor the sound, you've got to commit to spending time with the Roots, to wallow in both the music and the message. There's Chuck Berry-style rock-and-roll, jazz fusion, funk, poetry, shoutouts to hip-hop pioneers, lyrical slaps upside the heads of money-mad rappers, black nationalism and some groove-laden neo-soul musings.' Their website is http://www.theroots.com. (Original airdate: 2/6/03) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Everlasting Moments' the new film by the 77 year old Swedish director Jan Troell (Tro-el). It was a 2009 Golden Globe nominee for best foreign language film. Troell is a distinguished but little known director here. He's known for his long period-piece films including the 1972 'The Emigrants' which was nominated for four Academy awards.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GRETCHEN MORGENSON. She's a Pulitzer Prize winning writer for the New York Times. She'll tell us about the latest news in bailouts, banking and the bear market. We focus on the AIG (American International Group) bailout. The insurance company, which is now 80% owned by U.S. taxpayers, made headlines over the weekend when word got out that it was planning on rewarding about $450 million in executive bonuses to the very employees who helped create a $40.5 billion loss. Morgenson is assistant business and financial editor and columnist at the Times, and a frequent guest on Fresh Air. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

Interview with Acrassicauda and Suroosh Alvi; Review of Isabel Gillies' book 'Happens every day March 17, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885173].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The documentary 'Heavy Metal in Baghdad' about the Iraqi heavy metal band, Acrassicauda, (pronounced 'Ah-cross-eh-COW-dah') is on the Sundance Channel this Thursday. Their name means 'black scorpion' in latin and is a common scorpion found in Iraq. The band formed under the Saddam Hussein regime, gave their first public performances after he fell, and were silenced again by the insurgents and fundamentalists who sent death threats accusing the band of Satan worship. The band fled to Syria, and is now in the U.S. We feature interviews with the film's co-director SUROOSH ALVI (sah-ROOSH al-VEE), and with the band's lead singer FAISAL TALAL (FIE-zel TAL-al) and the drummer MARWAN REYAD (MAR-wan REE-yad). [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Happens Every Day: An All-Too-True Story' (Scribner), the new memoir by Isabel Gillies about the disintegration of her marriage.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Nature photographer JAMES BALOG (BAY-log). He's the founder of a project called 'Extreme Ice Survey.' It's a photographic study of large portions of ice in Alaska, British Columbia, the Rocky Mountains, Bolivia, Greenland, Iceland, and the French and Swiss Alps. Through a series of time-lapse cameras, BALOG has been able to document ice sheets and glaciers break apart and disappear. BALOG calls the melting of glaciers 'the most visible, tangible, manifestations of climate change on the planet today.' NOVA is airing a documentary based on Balog's work called 'Extreme Ice' on March 24, 2009. A companion photo book called 'Extreme Ice Now' will be released by National Geographic that same day. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Dr. Nancy Kay; Obituary for Natasha Richardson. March 19, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458203].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinarian NANCY KAY is the author of the book: 'Speaking for Spot: Be the Advocate Your Dog Needs to Live a Happy, Healthy, Longer Life' (Trafalgar Square). In it she helps pet caregivers consider what's in their dog's best interest: from how to help your pet handle vet visits, whether your dog should undergo chemotherapy, radiation, or other therapy procedures, to how and when you should euthanize your dog. She is an owner and staff internist at the Animal Care Center, a 24-hour emergency specialty care center in Rohnert Park, California. She also writes the blog: www.speakingforspot.com (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember actress NATASHA RICHARDSON. She died yesterday at the age of 45. The cause was not announced. Though on Monday she had incurred head injuries in a skiing accident. RICHARDSON was from theater royalty: her mother is actress Vanessa Redgrave, her father the late film director Tony Richardson. Her grandfather was actor Sir Michael Redgrave. RICHARDSON was also classically trained, and won a Tony Award in 1998 for her performance as Sally Bowles in 'Cabaret.' She starred in the Paul Schrader films 'Patty Hearst' and 'The Comfort of Strangers.' Her most recent films included 'The Parent Trap' and 'Maid In Manhattan.' She was married to actor Liam Nesson. They have two sons. (REBROADCAST from 5/8/92).
Interview with Don Bachardy; Interview with Jonathan Demme and Jenny Lumet; Review of two films "I love you man" and "Duplicity." March 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458222].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist DON BACHARDY. His thirty-year-plus relationship with British writer Christopher Isherwood is the subject of the documentary 'Chris & Don' which is now out on DVD. The two met on a Santa Monica beach in 1952. BACHARDY was a teenager and Isherwood in his late 40s. Later they began a love affair. Isherwood encouraged BACHARDY to pursue his art career. Their relationship lasted until the end of Isherwood's life in 1986. The documentary 'Chris & Don: a love story' was a favorite at the Telluride film festival and received critical acclaim. It was made by film makers Guido Santi and Tina Mascara. (REBROADCAST from 7/9/08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Director JONATHAN DEMME and screenwriter JENNY LUMET. Their film 'Rachel Getting Married' is now out on DVD. Demme's previous films include 'Philadelphia,' 'Beloved,' and 'Married to the Mob.' JENNY LUMET is the daughter of SIDNEY LUMET. 'Rachel Getting Married' is her first screenwriting credit. (REBROADCAST from 10/09/08) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new 'bromantic' film 'I Love You Man' starring Paul Rudd and Jason Segel.

Interview with Jason Segel; Commentary on Buddy Holly. March 23, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458269].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and writer JASON SEGEL. He co-stars with Paul Rudd in the new 'bromantic' comedy 'I Love You, Man.' Rudd's character is about to get married but has no male friends so he goes searching for a best man. Segel plays the best man. Segel also wrote and starred in the film 'Forgetting Sarah Marshall' which Judd Apatow produced. Apatow has no official role in the making of I Love You, Man, but SEGEL has had a long collaboration with the producer: he was in Apatow's 'Knocked Up,' and he played the teen drummer wannabe in the TV series 'Freaks & Geeks.' SEGEL currently co-stars in the CBS comedy series 'How I Met Your Mother.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD profiles Buddy Holly. Decca Records has just released 'Buddy Holly: Memorial collection,' a three disc career spanning survey of Holly's work, as well as 'Buddy Holly: Down the Line/Rarities,' two more discs of rare tracks.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Newspaper publisher and journalist ALEJANDRO JUNCO DE LA VEGA. He publishes the daily papers Reforma, Mural and El Norte. Junco will talk about the escalating violence in Mexico. The dramatic increase in murder, especially at the border with the United States, is attributable to drug cartel activity, and there is fear that violence will spill over into the US. Junco has fought for freedom of the press in Mexico since the 1970s, when he became the publisher of El Norte. Junco then founded Reforma and Mural. The three major newspapers are published in Mexico's three largest cities: Mexico City, Guadalajara, and Monterrey. Junco also owns the company Infosel, Mexico's largest internet provider, and online finance and news service. (2.) New York Times reporter RANDAL ARCHIBOLD. He's a national correspondent based in Los Angeles, and frequently covers U.S./Mexico border issues. He's now writing about the Mexican drug cartel violence spilling over the border. Home invasions and shootings are increasing all over North America. Apparently, the guns being used in Mexican violence come from the United States. The governor of Texas has asked for increased troops along the border. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton travels to Mexico this week, and President Obama plans a diplomatic visit next month.

Interview with Frank Partnoy; Review of the new music album ?Keep it Hid.? March 25, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458359].

Description of show segment(s)

Placeholder description(1.) FRANK PARTNOY is Professor of Law at the University of San Diego where he specializes in financial market regulation and he directs the school's new Center for Corporate and Securities Law. He is also a former derivatives trader for Morgan Stanley. As early as 1997 he was warning about the dangers of unregulated derivatives in his memoir 'Fiasco: The Inside Story of a Wall Street Trader.' A new edition of the book is coming out next month. He'll explain derivatives, credit default swaps, and how they led to the current financial crisis. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Keep it Hid' the new solo album by Dan Auerbach the singer-guitarist for The Black Keys.

Interview with Michael Grodin; Interview with Colin Hanks. March 26, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458272].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. MICHAEL GRODIN is co-director of the Boston Center for Refugee Health and Human Rights. He'll discuss his work with Tibetan monks who suffer from post traumatic stress. Many of them were imprisoned and tortured because of their political resistance to the Chinese presence in Tibet and have received political asylum here. The monks have experienced 'flashbacks' when meditating. GRODIN says that meditation may reduce the brain's ability to inhibit unpleasant thoughts and memories. GRODIN combined Western and Tibetan medicine and therapies to help the traumatized Monks. He wrote about it in this month's journal Mental Health, Religion, and Culture. GRODIN is also a professor of human rights, psychiatry, and community medicine at Boston University School of Medicine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor COLIN HANKS. He's currently co-starring in the new film 'The Great Buck Howard' opposite John Malkovich. HANKS also had a recurring role in AMC's 'Mad Men' last year, playing a priest. He could also be seen in the films 'W' and 'Orange County.' COLIN is the son of Tom Hanks.

Interview with James Franco; Obituary for John Hope Franklin; Review of the film "Goodbye Solo." March 27, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825817].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JAMES FRANCO. He plays Harvey Milk's longtime companion in the film 'Milk,' which just came out on DVD. Sean Penn won an academy award for his performance as Harvey Milk. Franco got his big break on the short lived but critically acclaimed TV show 'Freaks and Geeks.' He went on to play Harry Osborn in all three Spiderman films. Prior to Milk, he was in Pineapple Express, and he's going to play Alan Ginsburg in the upcoming film 'Howl.' (REBROADCAST from 11/24/08). (2.) We remember scholar and historian JOHN HOPE FRANKLIN. He died Wednesday at the age of 94 from congestive heart failure. Years before there were any black history departments, FRANKLIN was researching the stories of African-americans. His classic book 'From Slavery to Freedom: A History of African-Americans was published in 1947. His interest in black history began while he was a graduate student in the 1930's. He worked with Thurgood Marshall's team of lawyers on the 1954 landmark desegregation case, Brown V. Board of Education, and he marched with Dr. King. FRANKLIN was the first African-American president of the American Historical Association; the first black professor to hold an endowed chair at Duke, and the first chairman of the University of Chicago's history department.(REBROADCAST from 3/16/90) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Goodbye Solo' the new independent film directed by Ramin Bahrini who also made the films 'Man Push Cart' and 'Chop Shop' films about outsiders in America. 'Goodbye Solo' is about a taxi driver from Africa who picks up a 70 year-old passenger who he thinks may be intent on killing himself.

---

Interview with Seymour Hersh; Commentary on language. March 30, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458460].

Description of show segment(s)

Journalist Seymour Hersh reports that a major change in American policy toward Syria is underway. It's part of a broader strategy to bring peace to the Middle East and counter the influence of Iran.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN MELLENCAMP is a singer songwriter who's been making records for over 30 years. His latest is titled 'Life, Death, Love & Freedom.' His hits include 'Jack and Dianne,' 'Pink Houses,' and 'Small Town.' We'll hear new and old songs, some of which were used in political campaign, and one made famous by a Chevrolet Ad. Mellencamp speaks to us from his home studio. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Believers,' the new novel by Zoe Heller (Harper).
Interview with Michael Schaffer; Review of the album "?for the whole world to see." April 1, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458564].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL SCHAFFER (SHAY-fur). His new book is 'One Nation Under Dog: Adventures in the new world of Prozac-Popping Puppies, Dog Park Politics, and Organic Pet Food.' Schaffer investigates the extremes to which pet owners are going to care for their pets as equal members of the family. Schaffer is a former staff writer at the Philadelphia Inquirer, U.S. News & World Report and Washington City Paper, and he's freelanced for many other publications. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews '? for the whole world to see,' an album of previously unreleased material from the proto-punk band Death.

---

Interview with Robert Martensen; Review of the final episode of the Television show "ER." April 2, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969457419].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Physician, historian and bioethicist Robert Martensen MD, PhD. His latest book is 'A Life Worth Living: A Doctor's Reflections on Illness in a High-Tech Era.' Martensen has treated an estimated 75 thousand patients in the emergency room and the ICU. He has held positions teaching bioethics and medical history at Harvard Medical School and Tulane University in New Orleans. Hurricane Katrina destroyed his home. Martensen moved north, and now directs the National Institutes of Health Office of History in Bethesda, Maryland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI talks about the final episode of ER, airing tonight on NBC. Bianculli's website is www.tvworthwatching.com.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer songwriter LEONARD COHEN. He's on his first performance tour in 15 years, with dates in the US, Canada and Europe. He's got a new double CD, Live in London, recorded in July 2008. Cohen is known for his deep voice and slow phrasing of songs that straddle the folk-rock fence. He's made 18 albums over the course of a 40 year career, and he has published several volumes of poetry. He's been inducted into the Roc and Roll Hall of Fame in the United States, as well as the Canadian Music Hall of Fame. More information on tour dates and new album at his website: www.leonardcohen.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/22/2006. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new comedy Adventureland, directed by Greg Mottola, and starring Jesse Eisenberg and Kristen Stewart.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actor RUSSELL BRAND. His new memoir is called My Booky Wook: a memoir of Sex, Drugs and Stand-up. Brand is also a TV and radio presenter in the UK. He's worked for the BBC and MTV in London, and in the US, hosted the MTV Music Awards. His films include Forgetting Sarah Marshall and Bedtime Stories. Brand is known for his over the top style, often sporting leather, chains and eyeliner, and he's been in trouble with the authorities for offensive language. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new Prince triple-album release, 'Lotusflower.' It includes two CD's of Prince music and one by his newest protege?, Bria Velente.

Interview with Mel White and Mike White; Interview with Richard Weissbourd. April 7, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458868].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Father and son MEL and MIKE WHITE. They are recently eliminated contestants from the CBS show The Amazing Race. MEL is a Christian gay activist, and MIKE is a writer, director and actor. Before coming out, MEL WHITE was active in the evangelical Christian community as pastor, film maker, and ghost-writer. His ghost-writing clients included Billy Graham, Jerry Falwell, and Pat Robertson. For decades, MEL struggled with his orientation, undergoing such 'anti-gay' therapy as prayer, fasting, exorcism, and even electric shock. In 1994 he came out with the publication of his book, 'Stranger at the Gate: To Be Gay and Christian in America.' MIKE WHITE wrote and directed the film 'Year of the Dog,' wrote the Jack Black films 'Nacho Libre' and 'The School of Rock,' and wrote for the TV series 'Freaks and Geeks.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Harvard psychologist RICHARD WEISSBOURD. His new book is called The Parents We Were Meant to Be: How Well-Intentioned Adults Undermine Children's Moral and Emotional Development. Weissbourd contends that parents who are obsessed with their kids happiness are ignoring other important values necessary to a well-rounded personality. Weissbourd is a lecturer in education at the Harvard Graduate School of Education and the Kennedy School of Government.

Interview with Ellen Johnson Sirleaf; Interview with Anna Boden and Ryan Fleck. April 8, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885354].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Liberian president ELLEN JOHNSON SIRLEAF. She's Africa's first democratically elected female head of state. Her new memoir is called This Child Will Be Great: Memoir of a Remarkable Life by Africa's First Woman President. Sirleaf took office in January 2006. After years?of civil war,?she is trying to reconstruct a failed state?and a devastated economy. Sirleaf was imprisoned more than once for speaking out against greed and political oppression in Liberia. (2.) Filmmakers ANNA BODEN and RYAN FLECK. Their new feature film?is called Sugar. Thousands of Dominican teenagers attend baseball camps in the home country run by major league baseball teams, hoping to make it to ballparks in America. Sugar is the story of one young man's journey from the streets of his village to a minor league team in Iowa. The film has received nearly universal critical acclaim. Salon called it the 'best baseball movie ever.' The New York Times' A.O. Scott labeled Sugar 'wise and lovely.' The directing, producing and writing team of Boden and Fleck also created the independent feature Half Nelson.
Interview with Bruce Weber; Review of a new recording by trombonist Roswell Rudd "Trombone tribe;" Review of the film "Let the right one in." April 9, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885355].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRUCE WEBER. His new book is 'As They See `Em ? A Fan's Travels in the Land of Umpires'. Weber went to umpire school to learn the finer points of calling a baseball game. Weber has been a reporter for the New York Times since 1986, and often contributes first person essays and participatory features. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Trombone Tribe' (Sunnyside) the new recording by trombonist Roswell Rudd which has him sitting in with a number of groups, including his own sextet, Trombone Tribe. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews 'Let the Right One In' the new vampire film from Sweden which is now out on DVD. The title of the film comes from a song by Morrissey.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Keyboardist, singer and songwriter IAN MCLAGAN. He played with the first generation of British rockers, with the band Small Faces and Faces. The group Faces included vocalist Rod Stewart and guitarist Ron Wood who went on to join the Rolling Stones. After the group broke up MCLAGAN toured with the Stones, Bob Dylan, and recorded with Bonnie Rait, Carly Simon, Jackson Browne and others. MCLAGAN has a new CD with his Bump Band, 'Never Say Never.' Many of the songs on the album were inspired by the death of his wife. One reviewer describes the album as 'bittersweet joy, full of ghosts and longing but also the great passion of the living.' (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (REBROADCAST from 8/16/04)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor, comedian, producer and writer DENIS LEARY. His show 'Rescue Me' on FX began season five this week (Tuesdays @ 10 PM). They'll have 22 episodes this season. LEARY plays the highly dysfunctional and macho firefighter Tommy Gavin. LEARY is also on The Rescue Comedy Tour, which features him doing standup, with other members of the cast. And he has a new bestselling book, 'Why We Suck: A feel good guide to staying fat, loud, lazy & stupid.' (REBROADCAST from 6/7/07).
(3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'Observe and Report' which stars Seth Rogen as a Mall security guard who is teetering on the edge of a breakdown. It was written and directed by Jody Hill who is part of the team behind the HBO series 'Eastbound & Down.'

Interview with Michelle Goldberg; Obituary for Jack Wrangler; Interview with Margaret Whiting. April 13, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458867].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist MICHELLE GOLDBERG. She writes about the global battle for reproductive rights, and the political and ideological forces behind it in her new book, 'The Means of Reproduction: Sex, Power, and the Future of the World' (Penguin Press). The book won the 2008 J. Anthony Lukas Work-in-Progress Award. GOLDBERG is also the author of 'Kingdom Coming: The Rise of Christian Nationalism' and a Senior Correspondent for the American Prospect. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.] (2.) We remember the first gay porn icon JACK WRANGLER. He died this month at the age of 62. We'll listen back to Terry's 1985 interview with WRANGLER. The son of a film and television producer and a Busby Berkeley line dancer, WRANGLER went on to become active in Manhattan's cabaret scene. He married jazz and cabaret singer Margaret Whiting in 1994. (3.) Singer MARGARET WHITING. We'll listen back to a 1988 excerpt of Terry's interview with WHITING and hear about her relationship with Jack Wrangler.

Interview with Drew Barrymore; Review of Kelly Clarkson's music album "All I ever wanted;" Commentary on language. April 14, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458866].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress DREW BARRYMORE. She plays 'Little Edie' Beale in the new HBO adaptation of the classic Maysles Brothers documentary Grey Gardens. It's a dramatic retelling of the 1973 documentary about the mother and daughter who were relatives of Jackie Kennedy Onassis and lived in isolation and squalor in a 28 room mansion in East Hampton, NY. BARRYMORE became a star after appearing in Steven Spielberg's 'E.T.: The Extra-Terrestrial' at age 6 and has since gone on to star in other films including 'Boys on the Side' and 'Music and Lyrics.' As a film producer, she's produced 'Charlie's Angels' and the cult hit 'Donnie Darko.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'All I Ever Wanted' the third album by American idol winner Kelly Clarkson. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers what the use of words like 'scoundrel' or 'wretch' to describe Bernie Madoff and his ilk say about us and our times.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist SIMON JOHNSON. He is former chief economist for the IMF (International Monetary Fund). At the IMF he led the global economic outlook team, and helped formulate innovative responses to worldwide financial turmoil. He is also co-founder of a website on the global economic and financial crisis, www.BaselineScenario.com. JOHNSON is a Professor of Entrepreneurship at MIT's Sloan School of Management. He'll discuss his article in the Atlantic monthly in which he writes about the need to break what he calls the 'financial oligarchy' in this country before the economy can recover.?(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).?

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist SIMON JOHNSON. He is former chief economist for the IMF (International Monetary Fund). At the IMF he led the global economic outlook team, and helped formulate innovative responses to worldwide financial turmoil. He is also co-founder of a website on the global economic and financial crisis, www.BaselineScenario.com. JOHNSON is a Professor of Entrepreneurship at MIT's Sloan School of Management. He'll discuss his article in the Atlantic monthly in which he writes about the need to break what he calls the 'financial oligarchy' in this country before the economy can recover.?THURSDAY APRIL 16, 2009 (1.) Tony award-winning actress KRISTIN CHENOWETH. She won the Tony for 1999's revival 'You're a Good Man Charlie Brown.' She originated the role of Glinda the Good Witch in the Broadway musical 'Wicked.' And she co-starred in the TV shows 'Pushing Daisies' and 'The West Wing.' The diminutive actress (four feet eleven) was raised in Oklahoma, is a former 2nd runner-up beauty queen several times over, a trained opera singer, and a Baptist. She also co-starred in the film 'Four Christmases' and released the Christmas album 'A Lovely Way to Spend Christmas.' She currently is one of the voices on Fox's animated comedy 'Sit Down, Shut Up.' Her new autobiography is 'A Little Bit Wicked: Life, Love, and Faith in Stages' (Touchstone). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Woman Behind the New Deal' (Doubleday) the new biography of Frances Perkins, President Roosevelt's Secretary of Labor, written by Kristin Downey.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director DARREN ARONOFSKY (Air-ron-OFF-ski). His film 'The Wrestler' is now out on DVD. It stars Mickey Rourke as Randy the Ram, a WWE style professional wrestler who is well past his prime. Isolated from his family and living in poverty, The Ram is forced to wrestle in small matches held at rec centers and veteran's halls. The film was nominated for two Oscars ? Best Actor, Mickey Rourke and Best Supporting Actress, Marisa Tomei. ARONOFSKY's previous films include Requiem for a Dream and Pi. (REBROADCAST FROM 1/26/09) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new thriller 'State of Play' starring Russell Crowe as a journalist investigating a murder seemingly connected to a local Senator. It's based on the 2003 BBC miniseries of the same name. Helen Mirren, Ben Affleck, and Rachel McAdams also co-star.

Interview with Margaret Talbot; Interview with Hedrick Smith. April 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458865].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARGARET TALBOT is a staff writer for The New Yorker and a Senior Fellow at the New American Foundation. Her article 'Brain Gain: the underground world of 'neuroenhancing' drugs' appears in The New Yorker (April 27, 2009 edition). Drugs prescribed for attention deficit disorder, narcolepsy, epilepsy and other conditions are being used by people who don't need them, to enhance their brain function. It's known as 'cosmetic neurology.' (2.) Journalist HEDRICK SMITH is correspondent for the Frontline documentary 'Poisoned Waters' (on most PBS stations, Tuesday, April 21). SMITH zeroes in on the waters of the Chesapeake Bay on the Eastern seaboard, and the Puget Sound of Washington State, where untreated toxins, and chemicals from urban sprawl and development are damaging or destroying the natural habitat. In the Potomac River mutations in the genitalia of frogs are linked to their exposure to chemical compounds ('endocrine disruptors') that mimic the body's natural hormones. In the Puget Sound, orca whales have become endangered due to the high levels of PCBs. Experts warn of the long-term, slow-motion risks to humans as well. SMITH is a Pulitzer prize winning journalist, the author of a number of books, and a former New York Times correspondent. (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with W.S. Merwin; Review of Neil Young's new album "Fork in the road;" Obituary J. R. Ballard; Commentary on Chef Gordon Ramsay. April 21, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458869].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning poet and essayist W.S. MERWIN. He was just awarded his second Pulitzer prize for his collection of poems 'The Shadow of Sirius.' It was cited as 'a collection of luminous, often tender poems that focus on the profound power of memory.' The themes of his work are memory and mortality. (Merwin won his first Pulitzer in 1971 for his collection 'The Carrier of Ladders.') . William Stanley Merwin was known in the 1960s as an anti-war poet. He is now an environmental activist, and works to restore the rainforests of Hawaii, where he lives. (REBROADCAST from 12/16/08) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Fork in the Road' the new album by Neil Young. (3.) We remember writer J.G. BALLARD. He died Sunday at the age of 78 from cancer. He was referred to as a science fiction writer, but he himself said his books were about 'picturing the psychology of the future.' His novels often dealt with the changes affected by modern science and technology. His novel "Crash" related these changes to sexually-deviant behavior. The book was adapted into an award winning film by director David Cronenberg. One of his other novels 'Empire of Sun' based on his childhood in a Japanese prison camp in occupied Shanghai was made into a film by Stephen Speilberg. BALLARD wrote 15 novels and many short stories. (REBROADCAST from 1988, and 3/25/97) (4.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS on the Scottish born cook Gordon Ramsay, who he says is 'undeniably the world's greatest TV chef.' Ramsay has two reality shows on Fox: 'Hell's Kitchen,' and 'Kitchen Nightmares.' Both are remakes of the original British shows. And the British version of 'Kitchen Nightmares' is now out on DVD.

Interview with Alastair Fothergill and Mark Linfield; Review of Ran Blake's music album "Driftwoods." April 22, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458832].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film directors ALASTAR FOTHERGILL and MARK LINFIELD. Their new nature film 'Earth' follows the movements of three animal families (Polar bear, elephant, and humpback whale) to feed themselves and survive. It opens in theatres across the country on Earth Day (April 22). The film was five years in the making, filmed at 200 different locations—from the top of mountains to the bottom of the ocean, and in 64 countries. FOTHERGILL and LINFIELD also made the Discovery channel series 'Planet Earth.' They say that series was 'habitat-based' but the new film is 'character-based.' 'Earth' is the first film from the Disney's new nature documentary unit. FOTHERGILL and LINFIELD also directed the BBC's acclaimed 'Earth' series. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF] (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Driftwoods' (Thompkins Square) the new album by pianist Ran Blake.

Interview with Carol Leifer; Interview with Craig Yoe; Commentary on Tin Pan Alley songwriters. April 23, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458566].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Stand-up comic, writer, producer CAROL LEIFER (‘LEAF-er’). She got started in standup in the 1970s with Paul Reiser and Jerry Seinfeld. She went on to write and produce for 'Seinfeld,' and 'The Ellen Show.' And she wrote for several Academy Awards shows. LEIFER has a new memoir 'When You Lie About Your Age, the Terrorists Win: Reflections on Looking in the Mirror.' LEIFER writes about growing up with a father who loved to tell jokes, her early days in standup, and her surprise at meeting the love of her life at age 40, the first woman she ever dated. (2.) CRAIG YOE is the author of the new book 'Secret Identity: The Fetish Art of Superman's Co-creator Joe Shuster' (Abrams ComicArt). The book includes reproductions of the rare, recently discovered erotic and S&M artwork of Joe Shuster which was published in an obscure series of magazines called 'Nights of Horror.' The magazines were later banned by the U.S.
Interview with Steve Lopez; Review of the movie "Tyson." April 24, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885303].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEVE LOPEZ is a columnist for the Los Angeles Times. The new film 'The Soloist' is based on his book of the same name. Four years ago he met a homeless musician on skid row in LA. The man turned out to be a once-promising musician by the name of Nathanial Ayers who years ago dropped out of Julliard in large part because of his schizophrenia. LOPEZ develops a true friendship with Ayers, works to get him off the street and in an apartment, and into treatment for his mental illness. Ayers was the subject of many columns by LOPEZ. Robert Downey Jr, and Jamie Foxx star in the new film. (REBROADCAST from 4/22/08) (THIS INTERVIEW WAS CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary 'Tyson' about ex-boxing world champ Mike Tyson by independent film maker James Toback, who is a supporter and friend of the fighter. The film is essentially a free-flowing Tyson monologue, intercut with footage from his life.

Interview with Elmer Smith; Interview with James Toback. April 27, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885304].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ELMER SMITH is an editorial columnist for the Philadelphia Daily News and he covered Mike Tyson's boxing career. He has worked as a boxing writer, a general sports columnist, and a general news columnist. He is also a member of the paper's editorial board. (THIS INTERVIEW WILL CONTINUE AT THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film director JAMES TOBACK. His new film is the documentary 'Tyson' about former heavy weight world boxing champ Mike Tyson. The film is essentially a monologue of Tyson talking into the camera, intercut with footage from his life. Tyson discusses his conviction of rape and subsequent jail sentence (he still maintains his innocence), and his infamous bout with Evander Holyfield in which Tyson bites Holyfield in the ear. TOBACK is a friend of Tyson's who he met when the boxer was 19. TOBACK's other films include 'Fingers' starring Harvey Keitel, 'Bugsy,' starring Warren Beatty, and 'Two Girls and a Guy' starring Robert Downey Jr. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

interview with Kathy Marks; Obituary for Bea Arthur; Review of George Scialabba "What are intellectuals good for?" April 28, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458463].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British journalist KATHY MARKS. She's written for the Daily Telegraph and The Independent. She's currently based in Sydney, Australia as The Independent's Asia-Pacific Correspondent. In 2004 she was one of six international journalists who traveled to Pitcairn Island for the child sex abuse trials there. (The island is a British territory.) Pitcairn is a remote island in the South Pacific which is home to the descendants of Fletcher Christian and the crew of the Bounty (as in Mutiny on the Bounty). The group fled there in 1789 after seizing the ship from their captain, William Bligh. In 2000 police investigated an allegation of rape of a 15 year old girl. They ended up uncovering a trail of child abuse dating back at least three generations. Home to just 47 people, scarcely a Pitcairn was untainted by the allegations, and barely a girl growing up on the island had escaped. Yet most islanders, including the mothers looked the other way. MARKS' new book is 'Lost Paradise: From Mutiny on the Bounty to a Modern-Day Legacy of Sexual Mayhem, the Dark Secrets of Pitcairn Island Revealed' (Free press) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember actress and broadway performer BEA ARTHUR. She died Saturday at the age of 86 from cancer. She was best known for her starring role in the TV sitcom 'Maude' by producer Norman Lear (in the 1970s), and for her co-starring role in 'The Golden Girls' (in the 1980s and 90s). On stage ARTHUR was Lucy Brown in the 1954 Off-Broadway revival of Kurt Weill's 'Threepenny Opera,' and was Yente the Matchmaker in the 1964 premiere of 'Fiddler on the Roof' on Broadway. (REBROADCAST from 4/26/07) (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'What Are Intellectuals Good For?' by George Scialabba (Sha-LAH-ba) (Pressed Wafer Press)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British attorney PHILIPPE (Phil-EEP) SANDS. He is an international lawyer at the firm Matrix Chambers, and a professor and director of the Centre of International Courts and Tribunals at University College London. He's the author of the book 'Torture Team: Rumsfeld's Memo and the Betrayal of American Values.' The book played a role in a Spanish court's decision to investigate allegations that six Bush Administration officials provided the legal framework for torture. The six senior lawyers and officials are: former Attorney General Alberto Gonzales; David Addington, chief of staff and the principal legal adviser to Vice-President Dick Cheney; John Yoo, a former Justice Department lawyer; Doug Feith, former Under-Secretary of Defense for Policy; lawyers Jim Haynes and Jay Bybee. (2.) SCOTT SHANE is National Security reporter in the Washington bureau for the New York Times. He's been reporting on the recent release of long-secret Justice Department interrogation memorandums. The memos written in 2002 and 2005 justify brutal interrogations. Among the things the memos reveal is that two captured Qaeda operatives were subjected to waterboarding a total of 266 times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor GABRIEL BYRNE ('BURN'). He's currently starring as psychoanalyst Paul Weston in the HBO series 'In Treatment' which just began season two. BYRNE won a Golden Globe for his role in the first season. BYRNE is best known for his roles in the films 'The Usual Suspect' and 'Miller's Crossing' and 'Into the West.' He also was executive producer of the film 'In the Name of the Father,' and associate producer of 'Into the West.' BYRNE was born in Ireland. He started his acting career in his late 20s. Before that he was an archeologist, schoolteacher and short-order cook. And before that he was in seminary, but left as a teenager. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews 'Every Man Dies Alone' the recently rediscovered 1947 novel by German writer Hans Fallada, about German civilian resistance to Nazism.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews two new albums: one by Booker T. Jones, 'Potato Hole,' and the other by Allen Toussaint, 'The Bright Mississippi.' (2.) Rhythm and blues songwriter, producer and musician BOOKER T. JONES. He has a new album, 'Potato Hole' which features the Drive-By Truckers as his backup band. Neil Young plays guitar on two tracks. In the 1960s his band, Booker T and the MGs, created the classic instrumental 'Green Onions,' which was originally intended as a B-side on a 45. They were also the studio band for Stax Records, making music with great soul artists like Otis Redding, Ray Charles and Wilson Pickett. BOOKER T. has also played with Barbara Streisand, Bob Dylan and Boz Scaggs. He's produced albums for Bill Withers and Willie Nelson, and he co-wrote the song Born Under a Bad Sign. He received the 2007 Lifetime Achievement Grammy. And he is a Rock and Roll Hall-of-famer. (REBROADCAST from 3/26/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the usefulness of the passive voice, despite the advice of grammarians.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Biologist DOUGLAS J. EMLLEN is a professor of biology at the University of Montana. He is expert on the dung beetle, a member of the Scarabaeidae family of beetle that lives in manure. The males are colorfully ornate, and they have horns which they use as weapons to ward off other males and compete for females. EMLLEN has studied the evolution and development of beetles. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD remembers the Detroit label 'Westbound Records' which recorded early funk, disco, and gospel in the 1970s.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist AYELET (I-YELL-et) WALDMAN is the author of seven Mommy-Track mysteries (the latest is 'Bye-Bye Black Sheep'). And she is the author of the novels 'Daughter's Keeper' and 'Love and Other Pursuits' (being made into a movie by Don Ross with Natalie Portman and Lisa Kudrow). AYELET caused controversy four years ago when she wrote in an essay that she loved her husband more than her children. Her new memoir is 'Bad Mother: A Chronicle of Maternal Crimes, Minor Calamities, and Occasional Moments of Grace.' (Broadway Books). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Together Through Life' Bob Dylan's 33rd solo album.

Interview with Kirby Dick; Interview with Dan Gurley; Interview with Camilia Taylor. May 6, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885135].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Documentary filmmaker KIRBY DICK. His new film 'Outrage' is about closeted politicians with anti-gay voting records. DICK says he wants to 'highlight the hypocrisy.' DICK consults openly gay politicians and journalists for their insights and talks with insiders about what they know. DICK's previous documentary films include 'This Film is Not Yet Rated' about the secretive world of the MPAA film ratings system, and the Academy Award nominated 'Twist of Faith,' about sex-abuse cover-ups in the Catholic Church. (2.) DAN GURLEY is former RNC field director who oversaw anti-gay campaigns by the RNC. He has since been outed. He also appears in the film 'Outrage.' GURLEY now works for Equality North Carolina, a statewide group dedicated to securing equal rights and justice for lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender (LGBT) people (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) CAMILLA TAYLOR is a lawyer for the gay rights group Lambda Legal. In April the Iowa Supreme Court unanimously decided to legalize same-sex marriage. TAYLOR was the lead lawyer on the case, Varnum v. Brien, representing six gay and lesbian couples.
Interview with Amy Poehler; Review of Colm Toibin's new novel "Brooklyn." May 7, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458270].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actress AMY POEHLER ("POLL-er"). Up until last Fall she was a member of the cast on Saturday Night Live, most famously for doing a Sarah Palin rap while Palin was on the show and for her impersonation of Hillary Clinton. She is now starring in the NBC sitcom, 'Parks and Recreation.' POEHLER studied improv at Chicago's Second City alongside Tina Fey. She also has appeared in the films 'Mean Girls,' 'Deuce Bigalow: Male Gigolo,' 'Tenacious D: The Pick of Destiny, and 'Blades of Glory' (where she and her husband, Will Arnett played a quasi-incestuous brother-sister ice skating team). She also had a recurring role in the FOX comedy 'Arrested Development' as the wife of Will Arnett's character, George Oscar. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Brooklyn' the new novel by Colm Toibin ("CULL-um toe-BEAN") (Scribner).

Interview with Alan Ball; Interview with Larry Tye; Review of the new "Star Trek" film. May 8, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458358].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ALAN BALL is the creator of the HBO series 'True Blood' about a small Louisiana town, and the modern vampires who go mainstream with the invention of a synthetic blood product. It's based on 'Southern Vampire' the best-selling goth-romance tales of Charlaine Harris. Season One of the series is out on DVD and Blue Ray on May 19th. Season two of the series begins June 14th. BALL also wrote the popular HBO series 'Six Feet Under,' and the screenplay for the film 'American Beauty' (for which he received the 1999 Academy Award for Best Original Screenplay). BALL also made his feature film directorial debut with the film 'TowelHead' based on the novel by Alicia Erian. (2.) Journalist LARRY TYE. He's the author of the book, 'Rising from the Rails: Pullman Porters and the Making of the Black Middle Class' (Holt paperbacks). He examines the social history of the Pullman porter. Tye says that the job was one of the best for African Americans at the time, and that it was a foothold in the American workplace. Tye is a former reporter for the Boston Globe. (REBROADCAST from 6/30/04) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new 'Star Trek' film directed by J.J. Abrams.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GRETCHEN PETERS spent five years traveling the border areas between Pakistan and Afghanistan to research and write her new book 'Seeds of Terror: How Heroin is Bankrolling the Taliban and al Qaeda' (Thomas Dunne Books). PETERS writes that in Afghanistan the rejuvenated Taliban gets 70% of its funds from opium, and that there is overwhelming circumstantial evidence of Osama bin Laden's involvement in the drug trade. PETERS covered Pakistan and Afghanistan for more than a decade, first for The Associated Press and later as a reporter for ABC News. Her work has appeared in leading media outlets including The Christian Science Monitor, The New Republic and The National Geographic Channel, and she has been a regular commentator on NPR and CNN. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

(2.) Army Major General MARK GRAHAM. He is leading the fight to reduce the number of suicides in the military. Last year the rate of suicide in the military exceeded that of the general population, and the rate of suicide in the military is the highest since the Army began tracking it in the 1980s. Many officials blame the suicides to repeated deployments in Iraq and Afghanistan. Suicide is personal for GRAHAM. His son Kevin, 21, a top ROTC cadet at the University of Kentucky hanged himself in 2003 after battling depression. Less than a year later Graham and his wife lost another son, Jeff, 23, when a roadside bomb exploded in Iraq, killing him while he was protecting his platoons. GRAHAM noticed the difference in how the deaths of his two sons were regarded. One thing he has done is ensure that all soldiers from the base he commands, Fort Carson, in Colorado, receive full military funerals and memorial services regardless of whether they died in combat or by their own hand. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW).(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Kate Kelly; Review of the debut album by the band Tinted Windows. May 12, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458461].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist KATE KELLY is a staff reporter for The Wall Street journal. She attracted international attention for her three-part series of articles on the investment giant Bear Stearns, which ran on the front pages of The Wall Street Journal in May 2008. Her new book about the fall of Bear Stearns is 'Street Fighters: The Last 72 Hours of Bear Stearns, the Toughest Firm on Wall Street' (Portfolio). (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut self-titled album from the band Tinted Windows. Members are well known musicians: Taylor Hanson (Hanson), Adam Schlesinger (Fountains of Wayne) and Bun E. Carlos (Cheap Trick).

Interview with Erik Reece; Review of Charles Tolliver's new album "Emperor March - Live at the Blue Note;" Interview with Dr. David Kessler; Review of Starz comedy series "Party down." May 13, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458353].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author ERIK REECE. His new book is An American Gospel: On Family, History, and the Kingdom of God. Reece grew up the grandson of a fundamentalist preacher, but left his church in search of a less punitive religion. He found comfort in the writings of Thomas Jefferson, Walt Whitman and other American writers. Reece is also the author of the award winning non-fiction book Lost Mountain, and he is a writer in residence at the University of Kentucky in Lexington. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Emperor March - Live at the Blue Note, the new album from the Charles Tolliver Big Band(Half Note). (3.) Former FDA commissioner DAVID KESSLER, MD. His new book is The End of Overeating: Taking control of the Insatiable American Appetite. Kessler served as Food and Drug Administration Commissioner under presidents George H.W. Bush and Bill Clinton. He is a pediatrician and has been the dean of the medical schools at Yale and the University of California, San Francisco. (4.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews the Starz comedy series Party Down, about a group of oddballs who work for a Hollywood catering company.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Financial journalist GILLIAN TETT. President Obama has just asked Congress to overhaul financial regulations by creating a monitored, centralized system backed by capital reserves. The new rules would open up the shadow banking system and make participation in derivatives markets more expensive. Tett's new book is Fool's Gold: How the Bold Dream of a Small Tribe at J.P. Morgan Was Corrupted by Wall Street Greed and Unleashed a Catastrophe. Tett, known for covering the global meltdown long before her colleagues, is an assistant editor of the Financial Times and oversees the global coverage of the financial markets. In March 2009 she was named Journalist of the Year at the British Press Awards. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN the work of mystery writer Reed Farrel Coleman. She reviews five books from his Moe Prager series: Walking The Perfect Square, Redemption Street, The James Deans, Soul Patch and Empty Ever After. More info available on Coleman's website: http://www.reedcoleman.com/.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurological researcher JILL BOLTE TAYLOR. Her acclaimed best selling book, 'My Stroke of Insight: A Brain Scientist's Personal Journey,' comes out in paperback on May 26, 2009. Taylor is a Harvard trained neuroanatomist who suffered a stroke at age 37. She became her own experimental subject. She was named one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People in the World for 2008. She is affiliated with the Indiana University School of Medicine in Indianapolis. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 6/25/08. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Summer Hours (l'Heure d'e?te?), starring Juliette Binoche, and directed and written by Olivier Assayas.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician JOHN DOE. The founder of the Los Angeles punk band X joins us live in the studio with Canadian band the Sadies to perform songs from their new album Country Club. While X often had a slight country twang, Doe has delved fully into the genre with this album, covering classics from Merle Haggard, Tammy Wynette and Willie Nelson. Doe is also an actor in film and television. He recently appeared on the hit series One Tree Hill.
Interview with Rod Nordland; Obituary for Roger McFarlane. May 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969457840].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ROD NORDLAND. He's the Baghdad correspondent for the New York Times. He'll talk about the latest developments in Iraq as the June 30th deadline for U-S troop withdrawal approaches. Formerly, Nordland was Chief Foreign correspondent for Newsweek magazine, and while at the Philadelphia Inquirer, he shared a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting on the Three Mile Island crisis. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) AIDS activist RODGER MCFARLANE. He died Friday at the age of 54. McFarlane was a gay rights leader at the outset of the AIDS epidemic, and the first executive director of the Gay Men's Health Crisis in New York City. The cause of death was suicide, according to McFarlane's brother. McFarlane co-authored the 1998 book The Complete Bedside Companion: No-Nonsense Advice on Caring for the Seriously Ill (with Philip Bashe), and the publication of his book was the occasion for his Fresh Air visit. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 3/26/98.)

Interview with Brent Jeffs; Review of the new Album from Sarah Borges "The stars are out." May 21, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458201].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints member BRENT JEFFS. His new memoir is Lost Boy. He tells the story of growing up in the church. His grandfather was the FLDS prophet. Jeffs was expelled from the religion, and he filed the first sexual abuse lawsuit against his uncle, Warren Jeffs, who was the FLDS president from 2002 to 2007. Warren Jeffs was convicted and is now serving a prison sentence. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Stars Are Out, the new album from Sarah Borges ('BORE-jess') and the Broken singles.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producers, writers and musicians KENNY GAMBLE and LEON HUFF. They founded the legendary record label Philadelphia International and created the Philadelphia Soul sound. They've just been named BMI Icons at the 57th annual Pop Awards. Gamble and Huff wrote and produced over 170 gold or platinum records, including Love Train, Me and Mrs. Jones, The Rubberband Man, The Love I Lost, Back Stabbers, If You Don't Know Me By Now, and TSOP. Their 4 CD box set is called Love Train: The Sound of Philadelphia (Columbia/Legacy). In March of 2008, the duo was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/26/08. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Terminator Salvation, starring Christian Bale.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Marine DONOVAN CAMPBELL served three combat deployments, two in Iraq and one in Afghanistan. He commanded Joker One, a platoon of new Marines that he trained and transformed into a fighting unit. In Iraq they were assigned to Ramadi, the capital of the Sunni-dominated Anbar province. For seven months they engaged in daily house-to-house combat with insurgents. Nearly half of his platoon had been wounded. CAMPBELL was awarded a Bronze Star with Valor for his time in Iraq. His memoir is 'Joker One: A Marine Platoon's Story of Courage, Leadership, and Brotherhood' (Random House). CAMPBELL now is working for PepsiCo and living in Dallas, Texas with his wife and daughter. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 3/5/09)
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director and screenwriter PETE DOCTER for the new Disney/Pixar animated film 'Up.' It's about a grouchy elderly man, a chubby boy, balloons and a house set aloft, a 13 foot tall flightless bird, and an adventure. It was the first animated film to open the Cannes film festival. DOCTER also worked on the films 'Toy Story,' 'A Bug's Life.' He made his directing debut with the film 'Monster's Inc,' and has an original story credit for 'WALL-E.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Part one of our interview with critic-at-large JOHN POWERS who was at the Cannes film festival. He'll give us a report.

Interview with John Fienstein; Interview with Rocco Mediate; Interview with John Powers. May 27, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458200].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JOHN FEINSTEIN ('Fine-STEEN') is the co-author of the new book, 'Are You Kidding me?: The Story of Rocco Mediate's Extraordinary Battle with Tiger Woods at the US Open.' (Little, Brown and Company). It's about the dramatic and unlikely showdown June 2008 at the U.S. Open when Rocco Mediate, a pro-golfer with a ranking of 158th challenged Tiger Woods to a sudden-death playoff. FEINSTEIN is also the author of the books, 'Living on the Black: Two Pitchers, Two Teams, One Season to Remember,' and 'A Good Walk Spoiled: Days & nights on the PGA Tour.' FEINSTEIN is also a commentator on NPR's "Morning Edition," and a regular on ESPNs "The Sports Reporters." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Pro-golfer ROCCO MEDIATE ('ME-dee-ate'). He is co-author of the new book 'Are You Kidding me?: The Story of Rocco Mediate's Extraordinary Battle with Tiger Woods at the US Open.' (Little, Brown and Company). It's about the dramatic and unlikely showdown June 2008 at the U.S. Open when Rocco Mediate, a pro-golfer with a ranking of 158th challenged Tiger Woods to a sudden-death playoff. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (3.) Part two of our interview with critic-at-large JOHN POWERS who was at the Cannes film festival. He'll give us a report.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT MCCARTNEY. He follows the airline industry and writes the weekly column The Middle Seat for the Wall Street Journal. He's the author of the new book Wall Street Journal Guide to Power Travel: How to Arrive With Your Dignity, Sanity, and Wallet Intact. The Middle Seat column appears every Wednesday. McCartney is the WSJ's Travel Editor and Deputy Bureau Chief in Dallas, TX. He'll tell us about current deals in travel, and what deals are not so great after all. (DAVE DAVIES is conducting the interview.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Food of a Younger Land by Mark Kurlansky. (3.) Rock critic Ken Tucker looks back on American Idol ? both the most recent season when Adam Lambert and Kris Allen vied for the top spot, as well as previous competitions.

Interview with Bob Morris; Review of two films "Up" and "Drag me to hell." May 29, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969457841].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Writer BOB MORRIS. His book is called 'Assisted Loving: True Tales of Double Dating with My Dad.' It comes out in paperback June 2, 2009. When Morris' 80 year old father decided to start dating again, guess who had to sort through the personals and find the right woman? While Bob was helping his father, Bob was also looking for his own match on gay Internet dating sites. MORRIS is a contributor to the New York Times Sunday Style Section. His 'Age of Dissonance' column ran for eight years in the Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/28/08) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Disney/Pixar film 'Up,' and 'Drag Me to Hell' the new horror film directed and co-written by Sam Raimi who also directed the Spiderman films, 'Darkman' and 'The Evil Dead.'
Interview with Iggy Pop; Commentary on language. June 1, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458399].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) IGGY POP, considered the Godfather of Punk, and former lead singer of The Stooges in the late 1960s and early 1970s. He was known for performing bare-chested as well as self-mutilating, and verbally abusing his audiences. He was also addicted to heroin. POP turned 60 years old last year. His new album takes inspiration from surprising sources: Jelly Roll Morton, Louis Armstrong, and French novelist Michel Houellebecq (his novel 'The Possibility of An Island' in particular). POP's new album is 'Preliminaires' (EMI's Astralwerks label). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on political phrases like FDR's 'New Deal' or LBJ's 'Great Society,' and more recently Barack Obama's 'new foundation.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEXTER FILKINS is a foreign correspondent for The New York Times. He received a George Polk award for his coverage of the assault on Fallujah in November 2004. He reported on the Iraq war from March 2003 to August 2006. From 2001-2002 he covered the war in Afghanistan. Recently he's returned to Afghanistan to report on events there. FILKINS' book 'The Forever War' about his experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan is now out in paperback. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews last night's premiere of The Tonight Show starring Conan O'Brien.

Interview with Geoff Nunberg; Interview with Cloris Leachman; Review of ?Lucky Thompson June 3, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458616].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG. His new book, The Years of Talking Dangerously, is a collection of essays and commentary from Fresh Air, the Los Angeles Times, The New York Times and other publications. His focus is on the buzzwords, stock phrases and metaphors popular at the outset of the 21st century, during the years of the Bush administration. Nunberg is a frequent Fresh Air contributor and teaches at the School of Information at the University of California at Berkeley. His previous books include Going Nucular, Talking Right and The Way We Talk Now. (2.) Actress CLORIS LEACHMAN. She's written her autobiography, 'Cloris' (with George Englund). And she's in the new film 'Inglorious Basterds,' and she's had a long career on stage, screen and television. Recently she was a contestant on Dancing with the Stars. Leachman starred in three Mel Brooks films, was a regular on the Mary Tyler Moore Show, and had her own spin-off sitcom, Phyllis. She has won eight Primetime Emmy Awards and one Daytime Emmy. Leachman also won an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress in the 1971 film The Last Picture Show. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Lucky Thompson: New York City, 1964-65' (Uptown) featuring some rare, live recordings of saxophonist Lucky Thompson. He played with Armstrong, Basie, Monk, and Stan Kenton and made records of his own in the US and all over Europe. He passed away in 2005.

Interview with Adam Levitin; Review of Joyce DiDonato's debut album ''Furore;'" Interview with David Carradine; Review of Chandler Burr's new novel ?You or someone like you.? June 4, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825825].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ADAM LEVITIN specializes in bankruptcy and commercial law. He'll discuss the new Credit Card Accountability, Responsibility and Disclosure Act that President Obama recently signed into law. LEVITIN is Associate Professor of Law at Georgetown University. (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews 'Furore' (foo-ROAR-ray) the debut album by mezzo soprano Joyce DiDonato. (on the Virgin label). (3.) We remember actor DAVID CARRADINE who was found dead in his hotel room in Bangkok. He was shooting a film there. He was 72. He was part of the acting dynasty that included his father John, and his brothers Robert and Keith. He's best known for his role in the Kung Fu TV series. (REBROADCAST from 9/13/91) (4.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'You or Someone Like You' the debut novel by New York Times scent critic, Chandler Burr.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Crime writer TJ ENGLISH. His book 'Havana Nocturne: How the Mob Owned Cuba and the Lost it to the Revolution' comes out in paperback next week. ENGLISH writes about the pre-Castro era of Havana, when mobsters like Meyer Lansky ran the casinos, hotels and nightclubs, making huge profits and creating an atmosphere of debauchery, with a soundtrack of Afro-Cuban rhythms. ENGLISH is a true crime writer whose other books include Paddy Whacked: The Untold Story of the Irish American Gangster and Born to Kill: America's Most Notorious Vietnamese Gang. (REBROADCAST from 7/3/08) (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film director KELLY REICHARDT. Her film 'Wendy and Lucy' has been described as the 'best art-house girl-and-dog' story you're ever going to see. It stars Michelle Williams as a 20-something girl and her dog. She's broke; she sets out for Alaska and gets stuck in an Oregon town. It's now out on DVD. Her other films include 'Old Joy' and 'Travis.' (REBROADCAST FROM 2/9/09) (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LARRY TYE is the author of the book 'Satchel: The Life and Times of an American Legend' (Random House). Satchel Paige had a scorching fast ball, and pinpoint accuracy. He could throw a fastball repeatedly over a match book, or a postage stamp set on home base, something he would do to delight baseball crowds. He dazzled fans both black and white, playing in the Negro baseball leagues, or barnstorming across the country. Paige helped integrate baseball a decade before Jackie Robinson, touring the country playing exhibition games with white players. Yet he experienced racial discrimination, and watched the careers of white players soar, as his was stuck. Eventually Paige joined major league baseball, after Jackie Robinson. In 1971 he was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame, the first player to make the hall based on his career in the negro leagues. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW.]

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GRETCHEN MORGENSON. She's a Pulitzer Prize winning writer for the New York Times. She'll discuss the efforts in Congress to regulate credit default swaps, which helped crash the banking system, and how Wall Street lobbyists are resisting controls. Morgenson is assistant business and financial editor and columnist at the Times, and a frequent guest on Fresh Air. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Comic actor ED HELMS. Before he got his part as Andy Bernard on NBC's 'The Office,' he was senior correspondent on The Daily Show for four years. He co-stars in the new film 'The Hangover.' HELMS got his start in comedy with numerous sketch comedy groups and studied improvisation with The Upright Citizens Brigade. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Maria Siemionow; Interview with Anna Paquin; Review of the new 50th anniversary reissue of the original cast album of 'Gypsy.' June 10, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458119].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Surgeon MARIA SIEMIONOW (Shem-YON-off). In 2008 she and a team doctors made history when they performed the first near-total face transplant in the United States. In a 22 hour procedure they transplanted 80 percent of Connie Culp's face after she was shot in the face. In May Connie Culp made headlines when she showed her face to the world. SIEMIONOW is director of Plastic Surgery Research and the head of Microsurgery Training in the Plastic Surgery Department of Cleveland Clinic. She is the author of the new memoir, 'Face to Face: My Quest to Perform the First Full Face Transplant' (Kaplan Publishing). (2.) Actress ANNA PAQUIN ('PACK-win'). She won an academy award at the young age of 11 for her role in the 1993 film 'The Piano.' She now has a starring role as Sookie Stackhouse in the HBO vampire series 'True Blood.' (which begins season two June 14th). PAQUIN is Canadian-born, but was raised in New Zealand. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new 50th anniversary reissue of the original cast album of Gypsy (Sony label).

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Artie Lange; Review of the film ?The Taking of Pelham 1 2 3;? Commentary on digital TV. June 12, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458314].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, comic, and Howard Stern Show cast member ARTIE LANGE. His personal life--namely his binge drinking and eating--is often fodder for Howard Stern and the rest of the cast on the daily Sirius Radio program. His memoir, 'Too Fat to Fish' is now out in paperback. Lange was a regular on Fox's sketch comedy show Mad TV, and he's appeared in a number of comedy films, including "Old School" and "Elf." (REBROADCAST from 11/11/08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The Taking of Pelham 1 2 3' the remake of the 1974 thriller. It stars Denzel Washington, John Travolta, and Luis Guzman. It's directed by Tony Scott. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI considers the switch from analog to digital TV.
Interview with Woody Allen; Commentary on books 1930s Depression era readers were turning to. June 15, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972883935].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director/writer WOODY ALLEN. He's been making films for over forty years. He made his first film, 'What's Up Tiger Lily?' in 1966. Some of his most beloved films include 'Play It Again Sam,' 'Annie Hall,' 'Manhattan,' 'Hannah & Her Sisters' and 'Radio Days.' His new film stars Larry David. It's called 'Whatever Works.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN on the books 1930s Depression era readers were turning to.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian NATHANIEL FRANK. He is the author of the book, 'Unfriendly Fire: How the Gay Ban Undermines the Military and Weakens America' (Thomas Dunne books). He is senior research fellow at the Palm Center at the University of California, Santa Barbara, and teaches history on the adjunct faculty at New York University's Gallatin School. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) ALEX NICHOLSON is a former translator for the U.S. Army. Just six months after 9/11, he was honorably discharged from the military under the Don't Ask, Don't Tell law. He is now Executive Director and founder of Servicemembers United a non profit organization which advocates for gay and lesbian troops and veterans, and for the repeal of Don't Ask, Don't Tell. He also appears in the new documentary 'Ask Not' which will be broadcast on many PBS stations Tuesday, June 16th. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Surgeon and writer ATUL GAWANDE ('a-tool Ga-WAHN-dee') is a staff member of Brigham and Women's Hospital and a staff writer for The New Yorker. His most recent article in the magazine (June 1st) was read by President Obama and became a must-read for his staff. The article, 'The Cost Conundrum' is about how higher spending on health care doesn't correlate with better care. GAWANDE is also Associate Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School and at the Harvard School of Public Health. He is the author of a number of books including, 'Better: A Surgeon's Notes on Performance.' In 2006 he received the MacArthur Award for his research and writing. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Singer, songwriter, and performer JANELLE MONAE (Ja-NELL Mo-NAY). Her music blends cabaret, soul, funk, and rock 'n roll. Her 2007 debut EP 'Metropolis: The Chase Suite' revolves around a character named Cindi Mayweather (her android alter-ego) and the year 2719. It caught the attention of Sean 'Diddy' Combs who re-released the album and signed her to his Bad Boy roster. Previously OutKast's Big Boi put two of her songs on his 2005 compilation, 'Got Purp?, Vol. 2.' And MONAE also showed up on OutKast's Idlewild soundtrack. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHIP BERLET ('bur-LAY') is a senior analyst at Political Research Associates, and has studied extremism, conspiracy theories and hate groups for over 25 years. His most recent article discusses the history of conspiracy theories and the recent murders of Dr. George Tiller and Stephen T. Johns, the guard at the Holocaust Memorial Museum. He's also the co-author of 'Right-Wing Populism in America: Too Close for Comfort' which received a Gustavus Myers Center Award for outstanding scholarship on the subject of human rights and intolerance in North America. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary Food, Inc. from filmmakers Robert Kenner and Eric Schlosser. The film explores the role of corporations in the nation's food supply chain.
Interview with Mike Myers; Interview with Dr. Hugh Sampson. June 18, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924876].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, screenwriter and actor MIKE MYERS. He was a long time cast member of Saturday Night Live where his best loved characters were Wayne Campbell of Wayne's World; Dieter the sexually ambivalent German talk show host; and Coffee Talk hostess Linda Richman. MYERS made three Austin Powers films, and was the voice of Shrek in the Shrek films. In his new film The Love Guru he plays Guru Pitka who is charged with reuniting a famous hockey star with his estranged wife so that he can lead the team to the Stanley cup. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Food allergy expert HUGH SAMPSON MD. He's just been elected President of the American Academy of Allergy, Asthma & Immunology. He'll talk to us about food allergies. Sampson is Professor of Pediatrics and Chief of the Division of Allergy and Immunology in the Department of Pediatrics at the Mount Sinai School of Medicine in New York City, where he also serves as Director of the Jaffe Food Allergy Institute and Dean for Translational Biomedical Sciences. He is also the principal investigator in the Food Allergy Resource Initiative.

Interview with Ta-Nehesi Coates; Interview with Carol Leifer; Interview with Jimmy Dale Gilmore; Interview with Wayne and Darrell Scott; Interview with Branford Marsalis. June 19, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458259].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TA-NEHISI (ta-nu-HAH-si) COATES grew up in the post Civil Rights Era. He is the son of a former black panther. He is a contributing editor and a blogger for The Atlantic Magazine, and author of the memoir, The Beautiful Struggle: A father, 2 sons, and an unlikely road to manhood. His blog is http://ta-nehisicoates.theatlantic.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/18/09).

(2.) Stand-up comic, writer, producer CAROL LEIFER (‘LEAF-er’). She got started in standup in the 1970s with Paul Reiser and Jerry Seinfeld. She went on to write and produce for 'Seinfeld' and 'The Ellen Show.' And she wrote for several Academy Awards shows. LEIFER has a new memoir 'When You Lie About Your Age, the Terrorists Win: Reflections on Looking in the Mirror.' LEIFER writes about growing up with a father who loved to tell jokes, her early days in standup, and her surprise at meeting the love of her life at age 40, who was also the first woman she ever dated. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE:
Interview with Allison Silverman; Review of "Wussy", the new self-titled album from the Cincinnati, Ohio quartet. June 22, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458256].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Comedy writer and producer ALLISON SILVERMAN. She's the executive producer and head writer at The Colbert Report. Prior to that job, she worked with Conan O'Brien on Late Night and on the Daily Show with Jon Stewart. She also worked on the game show Who Wants to Be a Millionaire? Silverman tells us about The Colbert Report's recent broadcasts from the combat zone in Iraq. She won Emmy Awards for her writing on The Colbert Report and The Daily Show. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Wussy, the new self-titled album from the Cincinnati, Ohio quartet. The band is on tour this summer.

Description of show segment(s)

1) Political analyst KARIM SADJADPOUR (kah-REEM SAH-jah-pour). He's an associate at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, and his area of expertise is Iran. Sadjadpour tells us what makes this an unprecedented moment in the country's political history. He joined Carnegie after four years

Interview with Kathryn Bigelow and Mark Boal; Interview with Capt. Craig T. Mallak. June 24, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885278].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Director KATHRYN BIGELOW and screenwriter MARK BOAL. Their new film is The Hurt Locker. It's a war thriller set in present day Iraq, about an army bomb squad facing danger at every turn. The Hurt Locker won 4 awards at the 2008 Venice Film Festival. This is Boal's first screenplay. He's a freelancer who also wrote the short story that inspired the film In the Valley of Elah. Boal was imbedded with a bomb squad in Iraq to research the script. Bigelow has worked as a TV and film director. Her films include Point Break, Blue Steel, and K-19: The Widowmaker. She's directed episodes of the TV shows Homicide: Life on the Street, and Wild Palms. (2.) Medical Examiner CAPTAIN CRAIG T. MALLAK. He's a Navy pathologist and lawyer who is chief of the Armed Forces Medical Examiner System, a division of the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology. Since 2004, every slain service man or woman has been given a CT scan, and since 2001, all have had autopsies. In previous wars, post mortem examinations were rare. The current effort has provided a major database, and a wealth of information to assist designers of body armor, helmets and vehicle shields.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Dermatologist DARRELL RIGEL, MD. He's a clinical professor of dermatology at New York University Medical Center. He's done testing on sunscreen efficacy for Johnson & Johnson and the Procter & Gamble Company. He'll tell us all about sunscreen, what SPF means, the effect of the sun on the skin, and why skin cancer rates are higher. Rigel is the lead editor of Cancer of the Skin, the major textbook in his field. Rigel maintains a private dermatology practice in Manhattan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Author BRADLEY GRAHAM. His new book is BY HIS OWN RULES: The Ambitions, Successes, and Ultimate Failures of Donald Rumsfeld. This weighty biography of the former Secretary of Defense is over 800 pages long. Graham was a reporter and editor at The Washington Post for over 30 years. His beat was military and foreign affairs, and was the Post's Pentagon correspondent. His previous book is Hit to Kill: The New Battle Over Shielding America From Missile Attack. (3.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews Seya ('SAY-ya'), the new CD from Mali's Oumou Sangare ('UU-muu san-GAH-ray'). This is her sixth album.

Obituary for Michael Jackson; Interview with Gabriel Byrne; Review of the film "The hurt locker."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Our TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI remembers pop icon Michael Jackson, who died yesterday at age 50. (2.) Actor GABRIEL BYRNE ('BURN'). He's currently starring as psychoanalyst Paul Weston in the HBO series In Treatment. BYRNE won a Golden Globe for his role in the first season, which is now available on DVD. BYRNE is best known for his roles in the films The Usual Suspects, Miller's Crossing and Into the West. He also was executive producer of the film In the Name of the Father, and associate producer of Into the West. BYRNE was born in Ireland. He started his acting career in his late 20s. Before that he was an archeologist, schoolteacher and short-order cook. And before that he was in seminary, but left as a teenager. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/30/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Hurt Locker, directed by Kathryn Bigelow and starring Jeremy Renner.

Interview with Chris Cramer; Interview with Anthony Feinstein. June 29, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885371].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHRIS CRAMER. He is president and a founding member of the International News Safety Institute (INSI), devoted to the ethical treatment, protection and safety of journalists. He was a hostage during the 1980 London Iranian Embassy siege. Cramer has over 40 years experience in international broadcasting, including the BBC and CNN International. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Psychiatrist ANTHONY FEINSTEIN, MD ('AN-tony FINE-steen'). He specializes in the treatment of war correspondents suffering from post traumatic stress disorder. Through extensive interviews, Feinstein estimates that up to 12 percent of all journalists have PTSD, and for those correspondents who have covered five or more conflicts, the number jumps to 28 percent. He is the author of the 2006 book Journalists Under Fire: The Psychological Hazards Of Covering War. Feinstein served as a medical officer in the Angolan and Namibian Wars. Feinstein is a professor of psychiatry at the University of Toronto. His website for self-assessment of frontline journalists may be found at http://conflict-study.com/index.html. The project receives funding from Chris Cramer and the INSI.

Interview with Adam Liptak; Review of Patterson Hood's "Murdering oscar and other love songs." June 30, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458436].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ADAM LIPTAK. He covers the Supreme Court for the New York Times. June 29 marked the end of the 2008 term, and Liptak joins us to provide a roundup of this year's most important decisions, including several left to the Court's final day in session before summer recess. Liptak is a lawyer by training who joined the Times reporting staff in 2002. Previously, he was a legal advisor to the Times for ten years. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Murdering Oscar and Other Love Songs from Patterson Hood.

Interview with Jeff Sharlet; Interview with Dan Balz; Review of the film "Public enemies." July 1, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458257].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JEFF SHARLET ('SHAR-lit'). He writes about religious subcultures. His latest book is The Family: The Secret Fundamentalism at the Heart of American Power, which has just been published in paperback. Both Governor Mark Sanford and Senator John Ensign, whose extramarital affairs were recently uncovered, are associated with the fundamentalist Christian group known as The Family or The Fellowship, and have connections to a secretive house in Washington DC, known as C Street, that's allegedly connected to The Family. C Street is said to be a prayer and gathering place as well as residence to some DC politicians, including Sanford, Ensign and Senator Tom Coburn. Sharlet is a contributing editor for Harper's and Rolling Stone. His work has also appeared in many publications, including The Washington Post and Mother Jones. (2.) Washington Post political correspondent DAN BALZ ('balls'). He'll discuss the current state of the Republican Party, how the GOP is preparing for the 2012 election, and the effect of recent sex scandals. Balz co-wrote the soon-to-be-published book The Battle for America 2008: The Story of an Extraordinary Election (co-authored with Haynes Johnson), available in August 2009. Balz has been with the Post since 1978. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Public Enemies, starring Johnnie Depp as the outlaw John Dillinger. The film is directed by Michael Mann.

Interview with Christopher Dickey; Interview with Roya Hakakian. July 2, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458434].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with John Mellencamp; Review of the classic French Film "Last year at Marienbad." July 3, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458627].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN MELLENCAMP is a singer/songwriter who's been making records for over 30 years. His latest is titled Life, Death, LIVE & Freedom. It's an 8 song live companion collection featuring many songs from his recent studio release Life, Death, Love and Freedom. He's also about to go on tour with Bob Dylan and Willie Nelson. Mellencamp's hits include 'Jack and Dianne,' 'Pink Houses,' and 'Small Town.' We'll hear new and old songs, some of which were used in political campaign, and one made famous by a Chevrolet Ad. Mellencamp speaks to us from his home studio. More information and tour dates at www.mellencamp.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/31/09) (2.) Film critic JOHN POWERS reviews re-release of the classic French Film Last Year At Marienbad, directed by Alain Resnais. The 2-disc version from Criterion features a restored high-definition digital transfer.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former secretary of defense Robert S. McNamara, the man considered to be the architect of the Vietnam conflict, has died at the age of 93. He had been in failing health. We'll listen back to a 1995 interview with McNamara, recorded shortly after he had written his book, 'In Retrospect: The Tragedy and Lessons of Vietnam.' The book contained the long awaited admission that McNAMARA felt the U.S. policy in Vietnam was wrong and the war was unwinnable. He detailed the behind-the-scenes decision making policies that escalated the war and the atmosphere of the times which made them feel they had no choice but to do so. (REBROADCAST from 4/25/95) (2.) Filmmaker ERROL MORRIS. His documentary, 'The Fog of War,' profiled Robert McNamara. Taken from a series of interviews MORRIS conducted with McNamara, it yielded new insights into the mind of the former Secretary of Defense. (REBROADCAST from 1/5/04) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the 4-DVD set called Playing Shakespeare, on the Athena label.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL CAREY is former editorial page editor and current columnist for the Anchorage Daily News. He'll discuss the reaction in Alaska to Sarah Palin's announcement that she will be stepping down as Governor of the state. (2.) Hung co-creators COLETTE BURSON and DMITRY LIPKIN. The new HBO series is about a divorced schoolteacher whose business plan revolves around his large penis. Thomas Jane stars as Ray Drecker. Kicked out by his wife (Anne Heche), the high school basketball coach goes to live in a cabin that burns down, is abandoned by his teenage children, and reconnects with Tanya (Jane Adams), a one-time lover who volunteers to be Ray's pimp. LIPKIN was also the creator of the TV series The Riches. Burson is credited with writing one episode of The Riches, and she also co-wrote the screenplay for Madchen, Madchen (AKA Girls on Top). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A Short History of Women by Kate Walbert.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Wired magazine Editor in Chief CHRIS ANDERSON. His new book is called Free: The Future of a Radical Price. He theorizes that business can profit from giving it all away on the internet. Anderson is also the author of the best selling book The Long Tail. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ branches out to classical art. He reviews Rivals in Renaissance Venice, a new exhibition of of art from 16th century Venice at Boston's Museum of Fine Arts. Works from Titian, Tintoretto and Veronese are featured. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Complete Tony Bennett/Bill Evans Recordings, a two CD set from Concord Music Group. The set brings together two CDs recording in 1975 and 1976: The Tony Bennett/Bill Evans Album, and Together Again, plus several previously unreleased bonus tracks.
Interview with Joseph O'Neill; Interview with Roya Hakakian; Review of the Eels' new album "Ombre lobo." July 9, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458211].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist and lawyer JOSEPH O'NEILL. His critically acclaimed novel, 'Netherland' is about a Dutch man living in New York City after 9/11. Recently, president Obama said he read Netherland after putting down his briefing books for the night. Netherland, now in paperback, was listed on the New York Times Book Review's list of the 10 Best Books of 2008. It won the 2009 PEN/Faulkner Award for Fiction. O'Neill hails from Cork, Ireland. (2.) Iranian-American author, human rights activist and filmmaker ROYA HAKAKIAN ('ha-KAH-kee-in'). She is a fellow at Yale University's Whitney Humanities Center. Hakakian is a founding member of the Iran Human Rights Documentation Center. Her memoir of growing up a Jewish teenager in post-revolutionary Iran is called Journey from the Land of No: A Girlhood Caught in Revolutionary Iran. Hakakian was on Fresh Air last week to talk about unfolding events in Iran; this week she discusses her own life story. Her most recent film is the documentary Armed and Innocent, about underage children in wars around the world. Hakakian is the recipient of the 2008 Guggenheim Fellowship in fiction. More info at her website, http://www.royahakakian.com. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Hombre Lobo' the new album by the band known as Eels.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress DREW BARRYMORE. She plays 'Little Edie' Beale in the HBO adaptation of the classic Maysles Brothers documentary Grey Gardens. It's a dramatic retelling of the 1973 documentary about the mother and daughter who were relatives of Jackie Kennedy Onassis and lived in isolation and squalor in a 28 room mansion in East Hampton, NY. It comes out on DVD next week. BARRYMORE became a star after appearing in Steven Spielberg's 'E.T.: The Extra-Terrestrial' at age 6 and has since gone on to star in other films including 'Boys on the Side' and 'Music and Lyrics.' As a film producer, she's produced 'Charlie's Angels' and the cult hit 'Donnie Darko.' (REBROADCAST from 4/14/09) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2). Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album by pianist Fred Hersch, 'Fred Hersch Pocket Orchestra, Live at the Jazz Standard.' It's out now on Sunnyside Records. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Bruno' the new film by Sacha Baron Cohen.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Two guests: Journalist CHARLES SIEBERT ('SEE-BERT'). He wrote about the connection between whales and humans in the New York Times Magazine cover story (July 12, 2009), 'What Are the Whales Trying to Tell Us?' and DR. TONI FROHOFF ('hoff' pronounced like 'off) a behavioral and wildlife biologist who has been studying marine mammal behavior and communication for over 20 years. She is Director of Research for both TerraMar Research and the Whale Stewardship Project. And she is co-author of the book 'Dolphin Mysteries: Unlocking the Secrets of Communication.' (University Press). SEIBERT is also the author of the book 'The Wauchula Woods Accord: Toward A New Understanding of Animals' (Scribner) which grew out of his encounters with Roger a retired former circus chimp who lived at the Center for Great Apes in Florida who preferred the company of humans to chimps. (2.) This summer marks the 100th anniversary of Ernest Hemingway's birth. Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews one new reissue by him, and two books about him: The memoir 'A Moveable Feast: The Restored Edition' by Ernest Hemmingway; 'The Hemingway Patrols' about his hunt for U-boats off the coast of Cuba during World War II by Terry Mort; and 'The Breaking Point: Hemingway, Dos Passos, and the Murder of Jose Robles' by Stephen Koch. All published by Scribners.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist JANE MAYER ('MAY-er' rhymes with 'HAY-er'). She's a staff writer for the New Yorker. We'll talk with her about the latest news that the C.I.A. withheld information from Congress about a secret counterterrorism program to assassinate senior Qaeda terrorists on direct orders from then Vice President Dick Cheney. The program was never set up or carried out. MAYER wrote about the new head of the C.I.A., Leon Panetta last month in the magazine. The article was 'The Secret History: Can Leon Panetta move the C.I.A forward without confronting its past?' MAYER is also the author of the book 'The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned Into a War on American Ideals.' (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Journalist ROGER COHEN, columnist for The New York Times. After the Iranian government revoked all foreign press passes, he stayed in Tehran to cover the protests. He'll talk about that and about President Obama's response to the protests.

---

Interview with Michael Ian Black and Michael Showalter; Commentary on the bluesman, Little Walter. July 15, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458212].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedians MICHAEL IAN BLACK and MICHAEL SHOWALTER. They've created and star in the new Comedy Central series 'Michael and Michael have Issues.' It's about two neurotic writers and co-hosts of a sketch comedy show. They have said they consider their fictional portrayal only a 'mild distortion' of their real life working relationship. (Their Comedy Central show premieres on Wed, July 15th at 10:30 PM) Previously BLACK and SHOWALTER worked on the early 90s cult MTV sketch series 'The State' which has just come out on DVD. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the great bluesman Little Walter. There's a new 5-disc collection of his complete recordings for Chess Records (on the Hip-O Select label).

---

Interview with Jonathan Cohn; Review of the film "The beaches of Agnes." July 16, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458023].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN COHN ('CONE') is senior editor of The New Republic, where he writes a blog called 'The Treatment.' He is also the author of 'Sick: The Untold Story of America's Health Care Crisis 'and the People Who Pay the Price' (HarperCollins). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews 'The Beaches of Agnes' the new autobiographical film by the 81 year old French director Agnes Varda.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) English comedian and actor SACHA BARON COHEN. He's best known for his film 'Borat' based on his character Borat (a clueless Kazakhstan reporter) which he originated for his cable TV show Da Ali G Show. His new film 'Bruno' is based on another character from his show, Bruno (the flamboyantly gay Austrian fashion reporter). (REBROADCAST from 1/4/07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new independent comedy 'Humpday' written and directed by Lynn Shelton, about two former college buddies who decide to make a gay sex porn film, and to star in it themselves even though neither of them is gay.

interview with Frank McCourt; Commentary on Walter Cronkite; Interview with Walter Cronkite. July 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458209].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember writer and teacher FRANK McCOURT. He died yesterday at the age of 78 apparently from metastatic melanoma. He's best known for his best-selling memoir 'Angela's Ashes' about his impoverished childhood in Limerick, Ireland. It was his first book and it garnered him the Pulitzer Prize for biography and the National Book Critics Award. He continued writing about his life in the books 'Tis' (about moving to New York City as a young man) and 'Teacher Man' (about being a public teacher in New York City). (REBROADCAST from 10/24/96) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI remembers Walter Cronkite and we listen back to some of the important moments in Cronkite's broadcast career. (3.) We also remember journalist and former anchor of the CBS News, WALTER CRONKITE. The venerable newsman died Friday at the age of 92. The cause was complications of dementia. From 1962 to 1981 he was the CBS news anchor and considered the most trusted man in America. From the assassination of President Kennedy, thru the Vietnam War, the assassinations of Robert F. Kennedy, and Martin Luther King, to the Moon walk in 1969, Cronkite was there to report the news to Americans. (REBROADCAST from 10/12/93)

Interview with David E. Kaplan; Interview with Tom Folsom; Review of the Montreal Jazz Festival.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID E. KAPLAN is editorial director at The Center for Public Integrity. Their project, the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists has just released the new report 'Tobacco Underground.' KAPLAN edited the report which is about the worldwide illicit trade of cigarettes. The multibillion dollar business fuels organized crime and terrorist groups, robs governments of tax money, and spurs addiction. KAPLAN worked previously as chief investigative correspondent for U.S. News & World Report and as one of two senior editors at the San Francisco-based Center for Investigative Reporting. [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Writer and television producer TOM FOLSOM. His new book, 'The Mad Ones: Crazy Joe Gallo And The Revolution At The Edge Of The Underworld,' is a look at the real life Gallo family of gangsters that inspired Bob Dylan's 'Joey' and 'The Godfather' films. FOLSOM also co-authored the book 'Mr. Untouchable: The Rise, Fall and Resurrection of Heroin's Teflon Don' about drug kingpin Nicky Barnes, and has directed and produced documentaries for A&E and Showtime. (3.) Music critic MILO MILES highlights the international music featured at this year's Montreal Jazz Festival.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and director JUDD APATOW. His new film 'Funny People' stars Adam Sandler as a successful stand-up comedian who is diagnosed with an incurable blood disorder. Seth Rogen stars as an aspiring comic who becomes his assistant. APATOW's other films include 'Knocked Up' and 'The 40 Year Old Virgin.' He first became known for the cult TV series 'Freaks and Geeks' which he co-created with Paul Feig. He also created the TV series 'Undeclared.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Anita O'Day; Review of a new illustrated biography 'The Art of Harvey Kurtzman

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz singer ANITA O'DAY. She died in 2006. She was known for her distinctive legato style, the result of a botched childhood tonsillectomy that left her without vibrato. She made her name with the bands of Gene Krupa and Stan Kenton, and later had success as a solo performer. The documentary 'Anita O'Day: The Life of a Jazz Singer' is now out on DVD. [THIS INTERVIEW WAS FIRST BROADCAST IN 1987] (2.) Critic MILO MILES reviews a new illustrated biography of artist and writer Harvey Kurtzman, 'The Art of Harvey Kurtzman: The Mad Genius of Comics' by Dennis Kitchen and Paul Buhle. Kurtzman invented 'Mad' magazine and his work influenced underground comic artists Robert Crumb, and Art Spieglerman. (3.) Actress and singer ZOOEY DESCHANEL. She's starring in the new romantic comedy film '(500) Days of Summer.' Deschanel made her film debut in the 1999 feature 'Mumford,' and has also been in many films including 'Almost Famous,' 'The Good Girl,' and 'Elf.' She's also a singer. In 2008 she released an with indie rocker M. Ward called 'She & Him.' (REBROADCAST from 3/27/08) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'In the Loop' the new British political satire co-starring James Gandolfini.

Interview with Maggie Mahar; Interview with Armando Iannucci; Commentary on the band "The Monks." July 27, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458357].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MAGGIE MAHAR ("muh-HAR") is a former financial journalist who now specializes in health care. She is a fellow at The Century Foundation and the author of 'Money-Driven Medicine: The Real Reason Health Care Costs So Much' (2006). And she writes the Healthbeat blog which is a project of The Century Foundation. (www.healthbeatblog.org). (2.) Writer and film director ARMANDO IANNUCCI ["yah-NOO-chee"]. His new film is the political satire 'In the Loop.' The film was shot in London and Washington, D.C. and features British and American actors. The story involves an unnamed country in the Middle East and a U.S. President and U.K. prime minister. IANNUCCI previously wrote and directed the BBC series, the political satire 'The Thick of It.' IANNUCCI was born in Scotland. His father is from Italy and his mother from Glasgow, Scotland. (3.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the reissue 'Monks: The Translantic Feedback' a reissue of an album by the band The Monks. It also includes a documentary about the band, a group of ex-GIs who were big in West Germany in the mid-Sixties.

Interview with Paul Krugman and Stuart Butler; Review of the new album by Fiery Furnaces
"I am going away." July 28, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458271].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Two guests: Economist and Pulitzer Prize winning columnist for the New York Times Paul Krugman ('KROOG-man'). And STUART BUTLER of the conservative think tank, The Heritage Foundation where he is Vice President, Domestic and Economic Policy Studies. KRUGMAN is a professor of Economics and International Affairs at Princeton University. KRUGMAN is also the recipient of the Nobel Prize for Economics. His books include: 'The Conscience of a Liberal,' 'The Great Unraveling: Losing Our Way in the New Century,' 'The Return of Depression Economics.' BUTLER has long argued for a restructured health care system based on consumer choice and state-led innovation. His manifesto, "A National Health System for America," published in 1989 (with Edmund Haislmaier), explained how distortions in the tax code have created a health-care system that denies individual choice and drives up costs. BUTLER is from Britian. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'I'm Going Away' the 8th album by the brother-sister team Fiery Furnaces.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet KATHLEEN SHEEDER BONANNO. Her debut book of poems 'Slamming Open the Door' (Alice James Books) centers on the death of her daughter Leidy Bonanno who was murdered. BONANNO is contributing editor of The American Poetry Review and has been nominated for a Pushcart Prize for two poems from Slamming Open the Door. She currently teaches English and Creative Writing in Pennsylvania. (THIS INTERVIEW THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor ERIC BANA. He stars in the new Judd Apatow comedy Funny People, as well as the drama The Time Traveler's Wife out later this summer. BANA has starred in big budget Hollywood movies like 'Star Trek' and 'Hulk' but got his start doing standup and sketch comedy in Australia. (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Cove, the new documentary about the sale and slaughter of dolphins captured by Japanese fishermen, from filmmaker LOUIE PSIHOYOS (see-HOY-ahs), our next guest on today's show. (2.) Filmmaker LOUIE PSIHOYOS (see-HOY-ahs). His new documentary 'The Cove' is about a cove in Japan where dolphins are captured and sold to aquariums around the world, and the remaining dolphins are slaughtered. He's joined by RIC O'BARRY, who appears in the film, and who trained dolphins for the television show 'Flipper.' O'BARRY is now obsessed with rescuing the dolphins.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Choreographer MERCE(rhymes with nurse)CUNNINGHAM. He died at age 90 this week. According to his obituary in the New York Times, Cunningham was 'routinely hailed as the world's greatest living choreographer?who transformed the nature and status of dance theater.' Cunningham was also a dancer, and even at age 80, unsteady on his feet, Cunningham danced a duet with Mikhail Baryshnikov (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 1985). (2.) Composer JOHN CAGE. He was Merce Cunningham's life partner and longtime collaborator. Cage, who died in 1992, was a pioneer of electronic music, and compositions involving chance and randomness. One of Cage's best known pieces is 4'33', during which not a single note is played. Cage did not think of the piece as silence, but rather as a way to call attention to the sounds of the surrounding environment. Cage was also a poet, artist and philosopher. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 1982) (3.) JOHN POWERS critiques films featuring career women, including the new comedy The Ugly Truth, starring Kathryn Heigl.
Interview with Michael Pollan; Interview with John Seabrook. August 3, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969457421].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MICHAEL POLLAN. He authored the cover story for this week's New York Times Magazine. He examines America's addiction to cooking as a spectator sport. The Food Network now draws more viewers than any of the cable TV news channels, but people are actually cooking less than ever. Pollan is the author of The Omnivore's Dilemma, Second Nature, A Place of My Own and The Botany of Desire. Pollan is a contributing writer for The New York Times Magazine. More info at michaelpollan.com. (2.) Writer JOHN SEABROOK. In an upcoming article in the New Yorker Magazine, Seabrook considers what's wrong with the live music business, and how to fix it. The rock concert industry began in San Francisco in the mid 1960s. Now, major corporations Live Nation and Ticketmaster rule the stage. Additionally, the internet has radically transformed the practice of scalping. John Seabrook has been a staff writer at The New Yorker since 1993. His books include Deeper: My Two-Year Odyssey in Cyberspace, Nobrow: The Culture of Marketing the Marketing of Culture, and Flash of Genius and Other True Stories of Invention. His work has also appeared in Harper's, The Nation, Vanity Fair, Vogue, Travel + Leisure, and The Village Voice.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PATRICK RADDEN KEEFE is the author of the new book, 'The Snakehead: An Epic Tale of the Chinatown Underworld and the American Dream' (Doubleday). Part of the story is a well known incident that took place in 1993 when a freighter named the Golden Venture went aground in the waters off Queens, New York. Onboard were 300 terrified, and half-starved Chinese immigrants. For over a decade immigrants from this province had been arriving in New York altering the character of New York's Chinatown. The head (or 'snakehead') of this underground world of human trafficking was a woman named Sister Ping. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Journalist ANN SCOTT TYSON is military correspondent for The Washington Post. She was recently embedded with Marines in Afghanistan who were fighting the Taliban in Helmand Province, a stronghold of the Taliban. She was also embedded with the Army's Third Infantry Division during major combat in Iraq and won a 'distinguished reporting' prize from Military Reporters and Editors for her coverage of the march to Baghdad in 2003.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor PAUL GIAMATTI. He played a love-sick wine-snob in 'Sideways,' the cantankerous underground cartoonist Harvey Pekar in 'American Splendor,' and John Adams in the 7-part HBO series. Now he's playing an actor who has his soul extracted in the new film 'Cold Souls.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Twang' the new album by country singer George Strait. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Best Friends Forever' (Atria) by Jennifer Weiner.
Review of the movie "Julie and Julia;" Interview with Julia Child; Obituary for Budd Schulberg. August 7, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458752].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'Julie & Julia' based on the story of the real life blogger Julie Powell who set out to cook in the space of one year all 524 recipes in Julia Child's landmark cookbook, 'Mastering the Art of French Cooking.' The film is directed by Nora Ephron and stars Merle Streep and Amy Adams. (2.) Chef JULIA CHILD. She spent three decades explaining the mysteries of classic French cuisine to modern American audiences. Her landmark cookbook was 'Mastering the Art of French Cooking.' Child hosted several cooking shows on Public Television, earning Peabody and Emmy Awards in the process, and written several cookbooks. She died in 2004 at the age of 91. (REBROADCAST from 11/14/89) (3.) We remember screenwriter BUDD SCHULBERG who died Wednesday at the age of 95. He's best known for writing the screenplay to the film 'On the Waterfront.' The 1954 classic film starred Marlon Brando and was scored by Leonard Bernstein. The film won Academy Awards for Best Picture, Director, Actor, Supporting Actress, Story & Screenplay, Cinematography, Art Direction-Set Decoration, and Editing. SCHULBERG's screenplay was based on a 24-part newspaper expose about labor racketeering and corruption that appeared in the New York Sun. We remember SCHULBERG by rebroadcasting our interview with him (REBROADCAST from 2/6/90) as well as interviews with two other individuals involved in the film: ELIA KAZAN who directed the film and collaborated on the screenplay. KAZAN was a member of the Group Theater and co-founded the Actors Studio with Lee Strasberg. (REBROADCAST from 5/5/88); And actress EVA MARIE SAINT. She starred opposite Marlon Brando in 'On the Waterfront,' and won an Academy Award for her portrayal of his convent-reared girlfriend (REBROADCAST from 11/30/00)

Interview with John Waters; Interview with Max Mayer. August 10, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885313].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film maker JOHN WATERS. The director of such films as 'Hairspray,' and 'Pink Flamingos' is now publicly calling for the parole of Leslie Van Houten, one of Charles Manson's cult, who participated in the murder of a California couple in 1969 during one of Manson's killing sprees. Houten was 19 when the murders took place, takes full responsibility for her part in the crime, but is remorseful and has led an exemplary life as a prisoner since. WATERS befriended Houten decades ago when he wanted to write an article about her. She refused; but they developed a friendship. Now he's writing about her for the first time. He wrote a chapter about her in his upcoming book, 'Role Models' (due out from Farrar, Straus and Giroux May 2010). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer director MAX MAYER. His new film 'Adam' is a romantic comedy about a young man with Asperger's syndrome who meets and falls in love with a young woman. Asperger's is a high-functioning variant of autism. People with Asperger's are often highly intelligent, verbally gifted, but socially awkward. The film won the Alfred P. Sloan Feature Film Prize at this year's Sundance Film Festival.

Interview with Charles Sennott; Commentary on the "g-word." August 11, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458555].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES SENNOTT has been reporting on the Taliban since 1995, and recently returned to Afghanistan and Pakistan where he revisited the people and places he got to know through his reporting. He returned to a refugee camp, a girls' school, and he talked with high-level Taliban officials. SENNOTT is a former longtime foreign correspondent for The Boston Globe. He is now Executive Editor and Vice President of GlobalPost, an online international news service. SENNOTT's reporting is part of a special multimedia project 'Life, Death and The Taliban.' It's at www.globalpost.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the 'g-word' ? 'government' as in 'government takeover.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GLORIA GILBERT STOGA is the founder and president of the non-profit group Puppies Behind Bars, Inc. The program teams puppies up with prison inmates who live with and train the puppies to become bomb sniffing dogs or service dogs for wounded vets. They began the program with the Bedford Hills Correctional Facility in 1997. Now they work in six correctional facilities. Nearly 500 dogs have been trained in the program. NORA MORAN is a former inmate who was part of the program. After she was released in January of 2008 she was hired by Puppies Behind Bars. PAUL BANG-KNUDSEN is a retired Marine Corporal. He was awarded the Purple Heart Medal for wounds he received in action. He was wounded during an ambush in Iraq, suffered multiple gunshot and shrapnel injuries, and now suffers from post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). His dog Samba helps him get thru the day, making him feel safe, and alerting him to any potential surprises. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews Inherent Vice, the new novel from Thomas Pynchon, who's best known for his 1963 classic V.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian NELSON LICHTENSTEIN (LIHKT-in-styne). His new book is The Retail Revolution: How Wal-Mart Created a Brave New World of Business. Lichtenstein's account of the rise and dominance of Wal-Mart looks at how the retail giant has reshaped both the American and the global economy. Lichtenstein is a professor of history at the University of California, Santa Barbara, where he directs the Center for the Study of Work, Labor and Democracy. More info about the center at http://www.history.ucsb.edu/projects/labor/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Physician LISA SANDERS, MD. Her new book is Every Patient Tells a Story: Medical Mysteries and the Art of Diagnosis. Sanders is technical advisor to the hit TV show House, M.D., on Fox. She writes the monthly Diagnosis column for the Sunday New York Times Magazine, which was the inspiration for the TV series. Sanders is an internist on the faculty of the Yale University School of Medicine.
Interview with Les Paul; Commentary on music performances at Woodstock; Interview with Joel Rosenman and John Roberts; Review of the new season of "Mad men." August 14, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458334].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Guitarist and inventor LES PAUL. He died Thursday at age 94. Paul shaped much of the sound of rock and roll. He invented the electric pickup, the device that made the electric guitar possible, he made the first multi?track recorder, and his innovations established the recording studio itself as a legitimate musical instrument. Gibson sold guitars designed by Les Paul since the early 50s. Before Paul's death, vintage models were already worth thousands of dollars. Paul had many top 40 hits in the 1950s, as well as his own T?V show. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 1/17/92) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the music performances at Woodstock. The 40th anniversary of the music and art fair starts this weekend. (3.) JOEL ROSENMAN and JOHN ROBERTS. Forty years ago Rosenman and Roberts were in their 20s when they came into a large inheritance. They decided to take the money and promote a rock concert in ustate New York. What they ended up organizing was Woodstock.. Their book, Young Men With Unlimited Capital, (published in 1975 and 1989) was a month-by-month account of the preparation for the festival, the pair's shock and confusion when Woodstock turned out to be magnitudes bigger than planned, and their months of legal hassles in the wake of the festival. JOHN ROBERTS died in 2001. (REBROADCAST from 7/29/89) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the season three opener of the award winning AMC cable series Mad Men, which premieres this Sunday August 16 at 10 PM/9C.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist RAFAEL YGLESIAS ('ee-GLAY-see-us'). His book 'A Happy Marriage' (Scribner) was inspired by his relationship with his wife, Margaret, who died in 2004. The novel spans thirty years from courtship to death. YGLESIAS wrote his first novel at the age of 17. Since then he has written nine novels, and the screenplays for 'Death and the Maiden' and 'Les Miserables.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Ponyo' the new animated film by Hayao Miyazaki who also made the masterpiece 'Spirited Away.'

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter LOUDON WAINWRIGHT the Third. He became a folk singer/songwriter in the late '60s, singing humorous and autobiographical songs. In 1972, on his "Album III" he scored the top-40 hit "Dead Skunk." Since then he's recorded twenty albums. He co-wrote (with Joe Henry) the music for the film 'Knocked Up' and also had a role in the film. His new double album 'High Wide and Handsome: The Charlie Poole Project' is a tribute to the old time country banjo player who died in 1931. He sings songs he wrote inspired by Charlie Poole, and 20 songs written by Poole. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Standup comic and actor PATTON OSWALT and writer/director ROBERT SIEGEL. The two have collaborated on the new film 'Big Fan' about a 35 year old obsessive New York Giants fan who is a frequent caller into a sports radio show, and who also lives with his mother. SIEGEL is making his directorial debut with the film. He also wrote the screenplay for the film 'The Wrestler.' And he is the former editor-in-chief of The Onion. OSWALT has appeared in over 20 films, including providing the voice for Remy in the Pixar film 'Ratatouille.' He also starred in the CBS sitcom 'The King of Queens.' He's had three TV comedy specials, and two acclaimed albums. His new Comedy Central special 'My Weakness is Strong' premieres Sunday Night at 10 PM. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews the newly remastered and released albums of the British punk band The Subhumans (on the Bluurg label).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember DON HEWITT, TV producer, innovator and the creator of '60 Minutes.' First TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI has an appreciation. (2.) DON HEWITT died Wednesday from cancer at the age of 86. He's started with CBS News in 1948 and was producer-director of the CBS Evening News with Walter Cronkite before creating 60 Minutes in 1968. (REBROADCAST from 4/10/01) (3.) British writer and director JAMES BOBIN (CORRECTION ON PRONOUNCER: it's 'BOW-bin')is the co-creator, co-writer, and executive producer of 'Flight of the Conchords' the funny HBO musical comedy show about a couple of clueless musicians trying to make it big in New York City. It stars New Zealanders Bret McKenzie and Jemaine Clement. Season Two is now out on DVD. BOBIN also was a writer and director for Da Ali G Show. (REBROADCAST from 1/29/09) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Quentin Tarantino film, "Inglourious Basterds.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist T.R. REID. His latest book is titled The Healing of America: A Global Quest for Better, Cheaper, and Fairer Health Care, in which he examines health care models of other industrialized democracies and tries to determine how other countries grapple with affordable, fair and effective health care. REID is also a foreign correspondent for the Washington Post and is former chief of its London and Tokyo bureaus as well as a commentator for NPR. REID is author of 'Confucius Lives Next Door: What living in the East Teaches us About Living in the West,' and 'The United States and Europe: The New Superpower and the End of American Supremacy.' (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Born on Flag Day, the new album from the band Deer Tick.

---

Interview with Mike Judge; Commentary on folklorist and musician, Mike Seeger. August 25, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458236].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film and TV writer/director MIKE JUDGE. His new movie is called Extract, starring Jason Bateman and Kristen Wiig. The comedy set on the floor of an extract factory. Bateman plays the Extract King, who tries to get his wife hooked up with a gigolo to assuage his guilt about beginning an extramarital affair. Meanwhile, hijinks on the assembly line ensue just in time for buyout negotiations with a major corporation. KISS frontman Gene Simmons also has a role in the film as a bus bench lawyer. Mike Judge got his start with the MTV animated series 'Beavis and Butthead,' went on to write and direct the cult classic film Office Space, and created the King of the Hill, the Emmy winning animated comedy series on FOX. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD pays tribute to folklorist and musician Mike Seeger, the co-founder of the New Lost City Ramblers. He died August 7th. The group celebrated it's 50th anniversary earlier this year, and a 3-disc commemorative set of their recordings was released by Smithsonian Folkways Records.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember Senator EDWARD KENNEDY who has died at the age of 77. He had brain cancer. We listen back to our 2006 interview with him conducted by Dave Davies. (REBROADCAST from 4/20/06).
(2.) Actor JASON BATEMAN. He's best known for his portrayal of the beleaguered Michael Bluth in the FOX tv show 'Arrested Development.' He stars in the new Mike Judge workplace comedy 'Extract' as the boss at a vanilla extract company. The film will be released Labor Day Weekend. BATEMAN was also in the films 'State of Play,' 'Juno,' and 'Dodgeball.' He got his start as a child actor in the TV series 'Little House on the Prairie' and later in 'Silver Spoons.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer & director QUENTIN TARANTINO. His new film 'Inglourious Basterds' blends elements of the spaghetti western with world war two films. It stars Brad Pitt. TARANTINO's other films include 'Reservoir Dogs,' 'Jackie Brown,' 'Pulp Fiction,' and the 'Kill Bill' films. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Ellie Greenwich; Interview with Danny McBride; Tribute to the tenor saxophonist Lester Young; Review of the film "Taking Woodstock." August 28, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458215].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember songwriter ELLIE GREENWICH (Gren-ich). She died Wednesday at the age of 68, from a heart attack. GREENWICH co-wrote some of the most popular songs of the early 1960's, for the girl groups produced by Phil Spector: songs like "Leader of the Pack" and "River Deep, Mountain High". She got her start at the Brill Building with the songwriting team of Lieber and Stoller. In the 1980's, when she was writing songs for Cyndi Lauper and Irene Cara, she performed some of her hits in a Broadway Review called "Leader of the Pack". (Rebroadcast from 1986). (2.) Writer and actor DANNY MCBRIDE. He co-wrote and stars in the HBO series 'Eastbound & Down' as a former big-league base-ball star, named Kenny Powers, whose career has come to disastrous end due to his ego, drugs and politically incorrect statements. He returns to his home town, moves in with his brother's family, and gets a job as a substitute physical ed teacher at his old middle school. 'Eastbound & Down' is now out on DVD. The series is executive produced by Will Ferrell and Adam McKay, the team behind such films of arrested male development as: 'Talladega Nights,' 'Anchorman,' and 'Step Brothers.' (The six-episode 'Eastbound & Down' premiered Sunday, February 15th). MCBRIDE other roles include: the Buddhist drug dealer in 'Pineapple Express,' and the pyrotechnics guy in 'Tropic Thunder.' He also created and starred in the self-financed film 'The Foot Fist Way' as a teacher of taekwondo. (REBROADCAST from 2/19/09) (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD marks the centennial of tenor saxophonist Lester Young's birth. He was born one hundred years ago on August 27, 1909. (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Ang Lee's new film 'Taking Woodstock' based on the memoir by Eliot Tibur.

Interview with Nancy Kay; Interview with Irene Pepperberg. August 31, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458214].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinarian NANCY KAY is the author of the book: 'Speaking for Spot: Be the Advocate Your Dog Needs to Live a Happy, Healthy, Longer Life' (Trafalgar Square). In it she helps pet caregivers consider what's in their dog's best interest: from how to help your pet handle vet visits, whether your dog should undergo chemotherapy, radiation, or other therapy procedures, to how and when you should euthanize your dog. She is an owner and staff internist at the Animal Care Center, a 24-hour emergency specialty care center in Rohnert Park, California. She also writes the blog: www.speakingforspot.com (REBROADCAST from 3/19/09) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Scientist IRENE PEPPERBERG is a pioneer in the study of animal cognition. Over 30 years ago she bought an African gray parrot by the name of Alex. She eventually taught him a vocabulary of 100 words. He could add. And he understood concepts like bigger, smaller, more, fewer, and none. He died prematurely in Sept 2007. His final words to her were 'You be good. I love you.' PEPPERBERG wrote the book, 'Alex & Me' (Collins). She is an adjunct associate professor at the Dept. of Psychology, Brandeis University. She is also a lecturer and research associate at Harvard University. (REBROADCAST from 11/12/08)

---

Interview with Temple Grandin; Interview with Michael Schaffer. September 1, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458165].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TEMPLE GRANDIN is one of the nation's top designers of livestock facilities. She is also autistic. In her 1995 book, 'Thinking in Pictures' she described how her inner-autistic world led her to develop animal empathy. She is currently an assistant professor of animal sciences at Colorado State University in Fort Collins. Her book is 'Animals Make Us Human: Creating the Best Life for Animals' (Houghton Mifflin). Her previous book is 'Animals in Translation: Using the Mysteries of Autism to Decode Animal Behavior.' (REBROADCAST from 1/5/09) (2.) Journalist MICHAEL SCHAFFER (SHAY-fur). His book is 'One Nation Under Dog: Adventures in the new world of Prozac-Popping Puppies, Dog Park Politics, and Organic Pet Food.' Schaffer investigates the extremes to which pet owners are going to care for their pets as equal members of the family. Schaffer is a former staff writer at the Philadelphia Inquirer, U.S. News & World Report and Washington City Paper, and he's freelanced for many other publications. (REBROADCAST from 4/1/09)

---

Interview with Gloria Gilbert Stoga; Interview with Melinda Merck; Interview with Margaret McLaughlin. September 2, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458164].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GLORIA GILBERT STOGA is the founder and president of the non-profit group Puppies Behind Bars, Inc. The program teams puppies up with prison inmates who live with and train the puppies to become bomb sniffing dogs or service dogs for wounded vets. They began the program with the Bedford Hills Correctional Facility in 1997. Now they work in six correctional facilities. Nearly 500 dogs have been trained in the program. NORA MORAN is a former inmate who was part of the program. After she was released in January of 2008 she was hired by Puppies Behind Bars. PAUL BANG-KNUDSEN is a retired Marine Corporal. He was awarded the Purple Heart Medal for wounds he received in action. He was wounded during an ambush in Iraq, suffered multiple gunshot and shrapnel injuries, and now suffers from post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD). His dog Samba helps him get thru the day, making him feel safe, and alerting him to any potential surprises. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 8/12/09) (2.) Veterinarian MELINDA MERCK. She is a pioneer in the field of veterinary forensics and works for the ASPCA. She is the author of 'Veterinary Forensic Investigation of Animal Cruelty: A Guide for Veterinarians and Law Enforcement.' She lives and works in Georgia. (A warning: parts of this interview are disturbing). (3.) MARGARET MCLAUGHLIN, director of Bergh Memorial Animal Hospital's veterinary technicians in New York City. She was part of an ASPCA rescue team that found and treated lost animals in the wake of Hurricane Katrina. (REBROADCAST from 9/14/05) other males and compete for females. EMLEN has studied the evolution and development of beetles.

(Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 5/4/09)

---

Interview with Bill Berloni; Interview with Charles Siebert; Interview with Robert Smigel.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Animal stage trainer BILL BERLONI ('ber-LOW-nee'). His memoir is called Broadway Tails: Heartfelt Stories of Rescued Dogs Who Became Showbiz Superstars (co-written with Jim Hanrahan). Berloni has been training animals for show business for over 30 years. He started in acting and happened to get into animal training when asked to find a dog for the show Annie. (DAVID BIANCULLI interviews. REBROADCAST. Original airdate: 7/16/08) (2.) Journalist CHARLES SIEBERT ('SEE-BERT'). He wrote about the connection between whales and humans in the New York Times Magazine cover story (July 12, 2009), What Are the Whales Trying to Tell Us? SEIBERT is also the author of the book The Wauchula Woods Accord: Toward A New Understanding of Animals (Scribner) which grew out of his encounters with Roger, a retired former circus chimp who lived at the Center for Great Apes in Florida, who preferred the company of humans to chimps. (REBROADCAST. Original airdate: 7/13/09) (3.) ROBERT SMIGEL (SMY-gull) is a writer and creator of animated comic episodes for Saturday Night Live, including X-Presidents and The Ambiguously Gay Duo and is the creator of Triumph the insult comic dog. His Comedy Central series TV Funhouse, is described as a broken kid's show for adults. The Funhouse combines real animals, puppet animals, short films and animation. It's now available on DVD. Smigel wrote for SNL from 1985-1993, and he was the original head writer and producer of Late Night With Conan O'Brien. (REBROADCAST from 12/19/00)

---

Interview with John Doe. September 7, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885401].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician JOHN DOE. The founder of the Los Angeles punk band X joins us live in the studio with Canadian band the Sadies to perform songs from their new album Country Club. While X often had a slight country twang, Doe has delved fully into the genre with this album, covering classics from Merle
Haggard, Tammy Wynette and Willie Nelson. Doe is also an actor in film and television. He recently appeared on the hit series One Tree Hill. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIREDATE: 5/19/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writers IVA SKOCH and KAIROL ROSENTHAL (pronounced Eva Skosh and Carol Rosenthal). Rosenthal is the author of Everything Changes: The Insider's Guide to Cancer In Your 20's and 30's. Skoch is a freelance journalist whose article, Young Patients Laugh at Cancer, appeared on Newsweek.com. They will talk about the concept of cancertainment, a way for young adults undergoing cancer treatment to find humor in their condition and take a different approach to the disease than older generations. Both Skoch and Rosenthal have undergone cancer treatment and survived to tell their stories. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A Gate at the Stairs by Lorrie Moore, her first book in 15 years. Moore's previous novel is Who Will Run the Frog Hospital?

Interview with Lebron James; Interview with Cherian Debis; Review of Whitney Houston's "I look to you." September 9, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458187].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Basketball player LEBRON JAMES. He's this year's MVP. His new book, Shooting Stars, is co-authored by Buzz Bissinger (Friday Night Lights). It's about his childhood and high school years. At age 18, James was signed as a number one pick with the Cleveland Cavaliers and signed a (dollar)90 million contract with Nike before his national debut. His high school games got so much attention that some were broadcast on ESPN. James has won many awards, including Rookie of the Year in 2004, and has been an All-NBA and All-Star every year since 2005. James has played on the USA National Team at the Olympics, and has consistently led the Cavaliers to the playoffs every year since 2006. (2.) Writer and director CHERIEN DABIS (shu-REEN DAY-biss). Her debut feature film is called Amreeka. It's about a single mom and her teenage son who emigrate from the West Bank to America. Dabis was born in Omaha, Nebraska, and her parents are Jordanian and Palestinian. While Amreeka is not autobiographical, Dabis draws on her own experiences as a teenager in a family of first generation Arab immigrants during the first Iraq war. Amreeka has garnered critical acclaim at Cannes and Sundance. Dabis was named one of Variety's Ten Directors to Watch in 2009. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews I Look to You, Whitney Houston's first studio album in seven years. The LP is currently on the top ten Amazon best sellers list.

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Ryan Murphy; Interview with Jay Leno; Review of the documentary film "No impaction;" Interview with Robert Hass. September 11, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458388].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer, director and producer RYAN MURPHY. His new comedy series Glee premiered on Fox this week. It's about a high school choir director and his ragtag group of singers. Murphy also created the hit TV series Nip/Tuck, and has written film screenplays including Running With Scissors and the upcoming adaptation of the best selling memoir Eat, Pray Love. More info on Glee at http://www.fox.com/glee. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/18/09.) (2.) Comedian JAY LENO. His nightly talk show moves to the 10 PM time slot. 'The Jay Leno Show' premieres Monday Sept 14 on NBC. Leno has hosted late night's 'The Tonight Show' since 1992, after taking over for Johnny Carson. Leno is got his start as a standup comedian. He talks with Terry about his life: growing up, his struggling years as a standup, and taking over The Tonight Show. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/21/96) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews No Impact Man, an environmental documentary that Edelstein calls a '21st century climate change comedy of manners.' The film features Colin Beavan, who also wrote a book with the same title. It's an account of his year of living 'eco-effectively.' The documentary was directed by Laura Gabbert and Justin Schein. (4.) Poet ROBERT HASS. In memory of September 11, we rebroadcast an interview with the former poet laureate that originally aired days after the events of 9/11. He reads a poem that was on his mind following the attacks. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/21/01)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Book Editor JONATHAN KARP. The new memoir from the late Senator Edward M. Kennedy, 'True Compass,' is published by Twelve Books, where Karp is publisher and Editor-in-Chief. Karp worked closely with Kennedy in the final year of the senator's life, getting to know the man behind the public persona, sifting through a half century of papers, and finding out Kennedy's deepest feelings about family controversies, successes and tragedies.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews a film and a book that examine how technology is redrawing the boundaries of the self: We Live in Public is a documentary about the early dot-com millionaire Josh Harris, who achieved notoriety for two avant-garde art projects. Anonymous Celebrity is a novel by the Brazilian writer Ignacio de Loyola Brandao.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter Gretchen Morgenson. She'll talk about how the financial industry has changed, and hasn't changed, in the year since Lehman Brothers' collapse, an event that signaled the beginning of the global economic crisis. Morgenson is a frequent guest on Fresh Air. She is assistant business and financial editor and a columnist at the New York Times. She has covered the world financial markets for the Times since May 1998 and won the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for her "trenchant and incisive" coverage of Wall Street. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the premiere of The Jay Leno Show, now airing five nights a week on NBC in the 10 PM time slot.

Interview with Matt Damon and Steven Soderbergh; Interview with Steve Hely. September 16, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458508].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MATT DAMON and DIRECTOR STEVEN SODERBERGH. Their new film is The Informant! Damon stars in the dark comedy as a rising corporate executive at Archer Daniels Midland who blows the whistle on price fixing, but at the same time, has skewed visions of climbing the corporate ladder. Damon won an Academy Award for his role in Good Will Hunting, and he's appeared in Soderbergh's films Oceans 11.12 and 13, as well as the Bourne series, The Talented Mr. Ripley, and many other films. Soderbergh is a writer, producer and director for film and TV, who, in addition to his Ocean's films, has dozens of credits. He got his start with the cult indie hit sex,lies and videotape, which was nominated for an Academy Award. His other notable works include the Oscar nominated Erin Brockovich and the Oscar winner Traffic. (2.) Comedy writer STEVE HELY (HEEL-ee). His new book How I Became a Famous Novelist, is a comedic novel about one man's effort to write the greatest best seller of all time, not to create a literary masterpiece, but to find fame and fortune. The novel is filled with faux excerpts, parodying other people's books. Hely also co-authored The Ridiculous Race. Hely has written for several comedy TV shows, including Late Night with David Letterman, for which he garnered an Emmy nomination. His other credits include American Dad and upcoming episodes of 30 Rock.
Interview with Ted Danson; Review of the Toronto Film Festival. September 17, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458707].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor TED DANSON. He appears in the new HBO series Bored to Death. Danson got his start on the classic TV sitcom Cheers, and went on to star in several shows of his own, including Becker and Damages, with regular guest appearances on programs including the Simpsons, Curb Your Enthusiasm, and Frasier. Bored To Death premieres Sunday September 20th at 9:30 PM, starring Jason Schwartzman, Danson and Zach Galifianakis. More info at http://www.hbo.com/boredtodeath/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Fresh Air producer ANN MARIE BALDONADO. She's just returned from the Toronto Film Festival, and she'll tell us what films she saw, what's getting the most buzz, and why Toronto's film fest attracts people from all over the world.

Interview with Larry Gelbart; Review of the newly remastered Beatles catalog; Interview with Amy Poehler; Review of the film "Bright star." September 18, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885406].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedy writer LARRY GELBART. He died on September 11 at age 81. Gelbart developed the TV series M*A*S*H, worked with Danny Thomas, Jack Paar and Bob Hope, was a writer on Sid Caesar's show along with Neil Simon, Mel Brooks and Woody Allen, and co-wrote the book for the Broadway hit A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/19/96) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the newly remastered Beatles catalog. The albums are topping the U-S charts, landing in nine of the top ten spots on this week's Billboard catalog chart. The number one album is Abbey Road. In addition to single albums, there are also two boxed sets: The Beatles in Stereo and The Beatles in Mono, each retailing for over {dollar}250; both made the top ten Amazon.com bestsellers. (3.) Comedian AMY POEHLER. Season two of her show, Parks and Recreation, premiered this week on NBC. On the same network Poehler is starring on the first two weeks of Weekend Update Thursdays, the prime time spinoff from Saturday Night Live, premiering next month. Poehler began her comedy career studying improv at Second City in Chicago. She joined the Upright Citizens Brigade, and after moving to New York City, Poehler became a cast member on SNL in 2001. During the 2008 election, Poehler played Hillary Clinton to critical acclaim. Her film credits include Mean Girls and Baby
(1.) Reporters JEFF WHELAN and JOSH MARGOLIN. They've been covering Jim McGreevey for the Newark Star-Ledger. The two journalists won the Pulitzer Prize in 2005 for breaking the McGreevey story. The two maintain that Governor McGreevey's "I am a gay American" speech in August 2004 was a brilliant public relations move to take the spotlight off the fact that he appointed his alleged lover to the position of New Jersey's Homeland Security advisor, a position the man was unqualified for. (2.) Former New Jersey governor JAMES E. "JIM" MCGREEVEY. His new memoir, "The Confession," details his life and events leading up to his August 2004 coming out speech. McGreevey was governor from January 2002 to November 2004, when he resigned. McGreevey also appointed his alleged Israeli lover Golan Cipel to the position of New Jersey's Homeland Security Advisor. Since the publication of "The Confession," Cipel has stated that he was not McGreevey's lover, as detailed in McGreevey's book, but that he was sexually harrassed by the governor. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG discusses the difference between a docudrama and a historical movie, and what we expect from a docudrama.

(1.) Religion scholar KAREN ARMSTRONG. The author of several bestselling books has a new book, 'The Case for God' in which she looks at the notion of God from the ancient until modern times, the significance of myth and ritual, and how many religions morphed from being mythic interpretation of scripture to literal interpretation. Her memoir, 'The Spiral Staircase: My Climb Out of Darkness' about her life in the convent and the spiritual quest that followed has just been published in paperback (Anchor books). Her other books include 'The Battle for God' (Knopf, 2000) and 'A History of God' (Gramercy,

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATT LATIMER is former speechwriter to President Bush during his last twenty-two months in office. He was also chief speechwriter to Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld. LATIMER is the author of the new tell-all memoir 'Speech-less: Tales of a White House Survivor.' LATIMER's book is getting a lot of attention because of some of the comments he attributes to President Bush. He says Bush believed that Barack Obama was 'a cat' who 'had no clue.' He insulted Hillary Clinton for having a large backside; and he was dismissive of Sarah Palin. LATIMER also describes the President as having little grasp of the financial crisis during the economic collapse of Fall 08. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'The Blue Ridge Rangers Rides Again' by John Fogerty. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Dancing in the Dark' (Norton) the new cultural history of the Great Depression by literary critic Morris Dickstein.

Description of show segment(s) critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Travail, Transformation and Flow (PI label) by alto saxophonist Stve Lehman (Lee-man) and his octet.

Interview with John Goodwin and Sean Moore; Review of new box set "Where the action is!"

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Two years ago the hidden world of illegal dog-fighting was brought to public attention with the arrest and conviction of NFL football star Michael Vick, who ran a dog-fighting ring on his rural Virginia property. Vick has since been released from jail, been signed by the Philadelphia Eagles, and has pledged to work with the Humane Society to fight against animal abuse. We talk with JOHN GOODWIN, the manager of animal fighting issues for the Humane Society of the United States, and with SEAN MOORE, a former dogfighter in Chicago who now works with the Humane Society's Campaign to End Dogfighting in that city. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the new box set 'Where the Action is!' of rock music that came out L.A. studios in the 1960s.

Interview with Matt Weiner, Jon Hamm and John Slattery; Interview with Nick Cave. September 25, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458510].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Mad Men TV series writer and producer MATT WEINER (WHY-ner) and cast members JON HAMM and JOHN SLATTERY. Weiner created the AMC series, currently in its third season. Hamm plays Don Draper. Slattery plays Roger Sterling. This week Mad Men picked up three Emmys for outstanding drama series, writing for a drama series, and hairstyling. The show also received the coveted Peabody Award. Set in 1960s New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. Weiner also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 9/22/08.) (2.) Singer and author NICK CAVE. He's just published a novel called the Death of Bunny Munro. It's about a door-to-door lotion salesman who services his female clients sexual and moisturizing needs. Cave and his band The Bad Seeds are best known for his angry, twisted ballad-like lyrics. Their most recent albums were last year's Dig.
Lazarus, Dig! and Live at the Royal Albert Hall. CAVE says the inspiration for the album is the Lazarus story from the Bible. Also, CAVE composed the soundtracks for The Road and The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford, and wrote the screenplay and soundtrack for the film The Proposition. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE APRIL 28 2008) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Michael Moore's newest documentary, Capitalism: A Love Story.

---

Interview with Taylor Branch; Obituary for William Safire. September 28, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458512].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning author TAYLOR BRANCH. During the two terms of Bill Clinton's presidency, Branch and Clinton secretly conducted interviews. Branch recorded 79 of the conversations, which formed the basis for his new book The Clinton Tapes: Wrestling History with the President. Branch won the Pulitzer for Parting the Waters: America in the King Years, 1954-63; Pillar of Fire: America in the King Years, 1963-65, and At Canaan's Edge: America in the King Years, 1965-68. More info at www.taylorbranch.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember political columnist and former speechwriter WILLIAM SAFIRE. He died yesterday, September 27th. He was 79. The cause was pancreatic cancer. (REBROADCAST from 10/23/92)

---

Interview with Dan Fante; Obituary for Forrest Church. September 29, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458391].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and playwright DAN FANTE (FAHN-tay) is a former alcoholic and drug addict. His novels 'Chump Change,' 'Mooch,' and 'Spitting Off Tall Buildings' involve the exploits of his hard-living protagonist and alter-ego Bruno Dante. The Los Angeles Times called his play, The Closer/Boiler Room 'ferociously profane.' His latest novel is called, '86-d.' His father, John Fante, was also a novelist, and his work was largely rediscovered thanks to the efforts of Charles Bukowski. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) A remembrance of FORREST CHURCH. He spent three decades as senior minister at All Souls Unitarian Universalist Church in New York City. He was diagnosed with cancer of the esophagus three years ago, but it was treated and he returned to work. However, a short time later the cancer resurfaced and he was given just a few months to live. In response to his grim diagnosis he wrote 'Love and Death: My Journey through the Valley of the Shadow.' CHURCH died last Thursday at the age of 61. (REBROADCAST FROM 10/27/08)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author NICK HORNBY. His new novel 'Juliet, Naked' (Riverhead books) is about a reclusive singer and his obsessive fans. He also wrote the screenplay for the new film 'An Education' about a teenage girl's coming-of-age set in Britain in the early 1960s, which was based on a memoir by journalist Lynn Barber. Many of his novels have been made into films, including 'About a Boy' and 'High Fidelity.' His novel 'Fever Pitch,' about a soccer obsessed English teacher, was adapted to the silver screen, then readapted for American audiences, with a Boston Red Sox fanatic as the protagonist. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer PHILIP ('PO') BRONSON. He is a columnist for TIME online. He is co-author (along with Ashley Merryman) of the book 'Nuture Shock: New Thinking about Children' (Twelve Books). The book explores the science of parenting. BRONSON is also the author of the bestseller 'What Should I Do With My Life?'

Interview with Ahmed Rashid; Commentary on the television show "Mad men." October 1, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458238].

Description of show segment(s)

SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS on the popular AMC show 'Mad Men' and why it drives him crazy, but he watches it religiously none-the-less.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Singer, songwriter, and guitarist RICHARD THOMPSON. The new four CD box set, 'Walking on Wire' (Shout Factory Records) collects music from all phases of his career (1968-2009) from his work with the band Fairport Convention, to that with his wife Linda, and his solo career. We'll listen back to excerpts of our interviews and concerts with him. (REBROADCAST from 6/28/91, 2/7/94, 9/11/02). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'A Serious Man' the new film by the Coen brothers; David says its their first film that seems 'vaguely personal.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter ROSEANNE CASH. When she was 18 years old, her father Johnny Cash wrote up a list of songs that she should know. Her new album, 'The List' includes twelve of those songs. Guest performers on the album include Bruce Springsteen, Elvis Costello, Jeff Tweedy, and Rufus Wainwright. CASH's previous album 'Black Cadillac' was about the loss of her father, her mother, and her stepmother. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Max Cleland; Review of Dennis Diken's new album "Late music;" Commentary on the late William Safire. October 6, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458239].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Vietnam war veteran and former U.S. Senator MAX CLELAND. He's the author of the new memoir, 'Heart of a Patriot: How I Found the Courage to Survive Vietnam, Walter Reed and Karl Rove' (Simon & Schuster). CLELAND was awarded the Silver Star for his 'gallantry in action' in Vietnam. He later lost both legs and an arm in Vietnam. In 2002 he lost his Senate seat to Republican Saxby Chambliss. During the heated campaign, Chambliss ran misleading and negative ads questioning CLELAND's support of National Security because of his procedural votes on setting up the proposed Department of Homeland Security. After 9/11 and the invasion of Iraq, CLELAND, suffered a long-dormant case of Post-Traumatic-Stress-Disorder and entered Walter Reed Hospital for treatment. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Late Music' the new album by Dennis Diken, the drummer for the Smithereens. He's recording here with a group called Bell Sound. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the late William Safire. NUNBERG says Safire didn't try to use language to advance any broader cultural or political agenda, even though others were doing so.

Interview with Michael Chabon; Review of the ABC drama series "Thirtysomething." October 7, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503572].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist MICHAEL CHABON (SHAY-bon). He was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 2001 for his book 'The Amazing Adventures of Kavalier & Clay.' His other novels include 'The Yiddish Policemen's Union,' 'The Mysteries of Pittsburgh,' and 'Wonder Boys.' His new book is a collection of essays: 'Manhood For Amateurs: the Pleasures and Regrets of a Husband, Father, and Son.' (Harper Collins). CHABON is married to writer Ayelet Waldman. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new DVD box set of the ABC drama series 'thirtysomething.'
Interview with David E. Hoffman; Review of Nicole Mitchell's latest album "Renegade." October 8, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458196].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID E. HOFFMAN is the author of 'The Dead Hand: The Untold Story of the Cold War Arms Race and its Dangerous Legacy' (Doubleday). HOFFMAN had access to secret Kremlin documents. He chronicles the Soviet internal deliberations, offers new insight into the roles of Mikhail Gorbachev and President Reagan in halting the arms race, and describes the urgent search for the nuclear and biological hazards left behind after the collapse of the Soviet Union. HOFFMAN is a contributing editor at the Washington Post, where he served as White House correspondent, and Moscow bureau chief. He also the author of 'The Oligarchs: Wealth and Power in the New Russia.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD REVIEWS Renegade, the latest CD from flutist Nicole Mitchell, recorded with her group Black Earth Strings. More info at http://www.nicolemitchell.com/.

Interview with Charles Strouse; Review of Dan Chaon's new novel "Await your reply;" Interview with Lester Bowie; Review of the film "Paranormal activity." October 9, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885338].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer CHARLES STROUSE. He wrote the Tony Award winning score for Bye Bye Birdie. The Roundabout Theater Company's revival of the classic musical opens October 15. It's the first Broadway production since the 1960 original and stars Gina Gershon, John Stamos and Bill Irwin. Strouse also wrote the music for the Broadway hit Annie, the film score for Bonnie and Clyde, and the theme song for All in the Family. More info about the production at www.roundabouttheatre.org. (REBROADCAST. Original airdate: 1/3/94) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel 'Await Your Reply' (Ballantine) by Dan Chaon. She calls it an 'elegantly chilly novel.' (3.) Jazz trumpeter LESTER BOWIE. Tonight (10/9/09) at the Herbst Theater of the San Francisco War Memorial and Performing Arts Center, there will be a tribute concert to the jazz great, who's known for his work with the Art Ensemble of Chicago and Lester Bowie's Brass Fantasy. The concert commemorates the upcoming 10th anniversary of Bowie's death. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/3/89) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the low budget horror movie Paranormal Activity.

Interview with Sanjay Gupta; Interview with Reggie Jackson and Bob Gibson. October 12, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458197].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist and medical reporter DR. SANJAY GUPTA ('GOOP-ta'). His new book is about medical break throughs that have brought people back to life who are considered brain dead, or who have been without oxygen for long periods of time. One of those techniques is therapeutic hypothermia. GUPTA's new book is 'Cheating Death: The Doctors and Medical Miracles that are Saving Lives Against All Odds' (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Two baseball hall of famers: hitter REGGIE JACKSON and pitcher BOB GIBSON. JACKSON won five World series rings with Oakland and New York and earned the nickname Mr. October for his post-season play. GIBSON was one of the most intimidating pitchers who ever played and he won two championships with the St. Louis Cardinals. Their new book 'Sixty Feet, Six Inches' (Doubleday, with Lonnie Wheeler) is based on conversations they had about the classic battle between the hitter and the pitcher. Sixty feet, six inches is the distance between home plate and the pitcher's mound. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TIM PAGE is a Pulitzer Prize winning music critic who has written a new memoir about being diagnosed with Asperger's Syndrome at the age of 45. It's called 'Parallel Play: Life As an Outsider' (Doubleday). He writes in the prologue of the book, 'the diagnosis was one of those rare clinical confirmations met mostly with relief. Here, finally, was an objective explanation for some of my strengths and weaknesses.' PAGE has been music critic at the New York Times, and Newsday. He was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1997 while at The Washington Post where he was chief classical music critic. PAGE is professor of journalism and music at the University of Southern California. (2.) Film director SPIKE JONZE. He directed and wrote the screenplay (with Dave Eggers) for the new film 'Where the Wild Things Are' based on the classic Maurice Sendak children's book. JONZE also directed the films 'Being John Malkovich' and 'Adaptation.' (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Dog Days' (Amulet Books) the fifth in a series of graphic comic books by Jeff Kinney. The series is about a wimpy middle school kid named Greg Heffley. MAUREEN says they're aimed for middle school audiences but they translate well to older readers too.

Interview with Ruth Reichl; Review of Tad Friend's new memoir "Cheerful money October 14, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458754].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Editor-in-Chief of Gourmet Magazine RUTH REICHL ('RYE-shal'). It was recently announced that the magazine would be closing and the last edition would be published in November. REICHL has a new cookbook, 'Gourmet Today' and a new memoir 'Not Becoming My Mother: And other things she taught me along the way.' REICHL is the author of two best-selling memoirs, 'Tender at the Bone' and 'Comfort Me with Apples.' Before becoming editor of Gourmet, she was restaurant critic of the New York Times, and before that food editor of the Los Angeles Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new memoir, 'Cheerful Money: Me, My Family, and the Last Days of Wasp Splendor' (Little, Brown) by Tad Friend.

Interviews with Bootsy Collins; Interview with John Hartley Fox; Interview with Seymour Stein; Review of a documentary ?Monty Python October 15, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458235].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We feature interviews about King Records, the label that began recording country music then branched out to record blues and R&B. The label was founded by Syd Nathan in 1943 in Cincinatti. It launched the career of James Brown. His 1965 recording 'Papa's Got a Brand New Bag' made him an international star. Some other artists and recordings on the label include: 'Sixty Minute Man' by the Dominoes (1951); 'Fever' (the first version of the classic song) by Little Willie John (1956); 'The Twist' by Hank Ballard and the Midnighters (1959, a year later to be covered by Chubby Checkers). We have three separate interviews about King Records: (1.) Bassist BOOTSY COLLINS who was a session musician for King. He later went on to be a member of James Brown's band, and then joined George Clinton's Funkadelic. (2.) JON HARTLEY FOX, author of the new book 'King of the Queen City: The Story of King Records.' FOX also wrote and produced a series of sixty-minute documentaries about King Records for NPR in the 1980s. (3.) SEYMOUR STEIN who learned the record business from Syd Nathan and went on to found Sire Records and sign such artists as The Ramones, Talking Heads, the Pretenders, Madonna, and the Smiths. (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new six hour documentary 'Monty Python: Almost the Truth ? The Lawyer's Cut' on the Independent Film Channel. This year marks their 40th anniversary.

---

Interview with Jason Segel; Review of the film "Where the wild things are." October 16, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885339].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and writer JASON SEGEL. He co-starred with Paul Rudd in the 'bromantic' comedy 'I Love You, Man.' Rudd's character is about to get married but has no male friends so he goes searching for a best man. Segel plays the best man. Segel also wrote and starred in the film 'Forgetting Sarah Marshall' which Judd Apatow produced. Both films are now out on DVD. SEGEL has had a long collaboration with Apatow: he was in Apatow's 'Knocked Up,' and he played the teen drummer wannabe in the TV series 'Freaks & Geeks.' SEGEL currently co-stars in the CBS sitcom 'How I Met Your Mother.' (REBROADCAST FROM 3/23/09)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Where the Wild Things Are.'

---

Interview with Charles Duhigg; Review of Miranda Lambert's new album "Revolution." October 19, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458757].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES DUHIGG ('DO-hig') with The New York Times. His 'Toxic Waters' series in the paper is about our unsafe drinking water. It's estimated that one out of ten Americans is exposed to drinking water that contains dangerous chemicals, parasites, bacteria or viruses, or fails to meet federal... health standards in other ways. Part of the problem is that water pollution laws are not being enforced. DUHIGG based his reporting on thousands of water pollution records which he received through Freedom of Information Act requests. DUHIGG is a recipient of the George Polk Award. Before joining the New York Times, he was a reporter with The Los Angeles Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Revolution' the third album by country singer Miranda Lambert.

Interview with Andrew Ross Sorkin; Review of ?The Toon Treasury of Classic Children's Comics.? October 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458755].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ANDREW ROSS SORKIN is assistant editor of financial news for the New York Times, as well as chief mergers and acquisitions reporter and a financial columnist. He's the author of the new book, 'Too Big to Fail: How Wall Street and Washington Fought to Save the Financial System ? and Themselves.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic MILO MILES considers the boom years for comics, before superheroes took over the genre. He reviews 'The Toon Treasury of Classic Children's Comics' (published by Abrams Comicarts) selected and edited by Art Spielgelman and Francoise Mouly.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JANE MAYER is a staff writer for the New Yorker. She writes in the current New Yorker (October 26, 'The Predator War') about the CIA secret drone program in which remote controlled, unmanned planes target terrorist suspects. Since President Obama took office, the number of drone strikes has gone up dramatically. The program has been described by many in the intelligence world as America's single most effective weapon against Al Qaeda; but to others the program has stirred ethical concerns. MAYER is also the author of the book, 'The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned Into a War on American Ideals.' (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.)
P.W. SINGER is a Senior Fellow at the Brookings Institution and author of the book, 'Wired For War: The Robotics Revolution and Conflict in the 21st Century' (The Penguin Press). In the book, SINGER examines how advances in robotic technology mean that military tasks previously handled by humans, like flying spy planes and finding and destroying IED's, are now being handled by machines. SINGER also looks at how robots are being considered for use directly on the battlefield and the new crop of ethical and legal challenges brought about by the age of robotic warfare. (REBROADCAST from 1.22.09) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Nellie McKay's new album 'Normal as Blueberry Pie,' which is a tribute to and features songs of Doris Day.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic TRACY MORGAN. He co-stars in the NBC sitcom '30 Rock' with his former Saturday Night Live alum, Tina Fey. He was a part of the SNL cast from 1996 to 2003. He's written a new memoir about growing up in Bedford-Stuy, New York. It's called 'I Am the New Black' (Spiegel & Grau). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Man In the Wooden Hat' by British writer Jane Gardam. Maureen says she is 'the best contemporary British writer you probably haven't heard of.'

---

Interview with Maurice Sendak; Review of the film "Amelia." October 23, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458882].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Artist, writer and designer MAURICE SENDAK. He wrote and illustrated the classic children's books "Where the Wild Things Are," "In The Night Kitchen," and "Inside Over There." Time magazine has said, "For Sendak, visiting the land of the very young is not something that requires a visa. He is a permanent citizen." 'Where the Wild Things Are' was adapted into an opera, and Sendak designed the sets and costumes for the premiere production. It's now a new film directed by Spike Jonze. SENDAK also wrote the book 'Brundibar' based on a Czech opera of the same name. It was set to music by Hans Krasa who was imprisoned in the Nazi concentration camp Terezin and later killed in Auschwitz. The opera was performed 55 times by the children of Terezin. (REBROADCAST FROM 1986, 1993, and 2003) (WE FEATURE EXCERPTS OF OUR SEVERAL INTERVIEWS WITH SENDAK) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'Amelia' based on the story of the legendary aviator Amelia Earhart. It's directed by Mira Nair, and stars Hillary Swank and Richard Gere.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Psychiatrist JULIE HOLLAND. She has written a memoir about her nine years running the psychiatric emergency room at Bellevue Hospital in New York city. It's called 'Weekends at Bellevue: Nine Years on the Night Shift at the psych ER' (Bantam Books). HOLLAND is an assistant professor of psychiatry at NYU School of Medicine, and runs a private practice in New York City. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews two new documentaries about the economy: Schmatta: Rags to Riches to Rags a history of the New York garment industry by filmmaker Marc Levin; and American Casino about the sub-prime mortgage crisis by Leslie and Andrew Cockburn.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID ROHDE ('ROAD') is a correspondent for The New York Times. He was part of the paper's team that won a Pulitzer prize this spring for their reporting from Pakistan and Afghanistan last year. Almost a year ago, ROHDE, his driver, and another local Afghan reporter Tahir Luddin (TA-here LU-dean) were kidnapped by the Taliban. After over seven months in captivity ROHDE and Luddin escaped. ROHDE wrote about his kidnapping, captivity, and escape in the New York Times article, '7 Months, 10 Days in Captivity.' ROHDE also won a Pulitzer in 1996, while he was a reporter for the Christian Science Monitor, for his coverage of the Srebrenica massacre. 2.Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new Bob Dylan Christmas album, 'Christmas in the Heart' (Sony).
Interview with Greg Jaffe; Review of the music album "You Heard It Here First." October 28, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458854].

Description of show segment(s)

(2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the new CD You Heard it Here First, with 26 original versions of classic hit songs, including Rock Around the Clock, Wild Thing, and I Fought The Law (Ace Records).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author TIMOTHY EGAN. His new book is The Big Burn: Teddy Roosevelt and The Fire That Saved America. It's about the largest forest fire in American history. Nearly three million acres went up in flames in a matter of a few days, but the fire actually saved the forests even as they burned, strengthening public opinion for Teddy Roosevelt's plan to protect national land. Egan is a Pulitzer Prize winning reporter and author of five books. He won the National Book Award for his critically acclaimed The Worst Hard Time. He writes the weekly column Outposts for the New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Author ALI ETERAZ ('ah-LEE eh-TER-uz'). His new book is Children of Dust: A Memoir of Pakistan. Eteraz, who was born into a nomadic family in Lahore, moved to the US as a teenager. An ardent follower of Islam, Eteraz returned to his home country, only to become the target of a mysterious abduction plot, and eventually he escaped under military escort. Back in the US, Eteraz looks for a middle way within American Islam. Eteraz attended law school, interned on human rights cases, and briefly worked in corporate litigation before switching to a career in writing. His work has appeared in Dissent, Foreign Policy, and The Guardian. More info at alieteraz.com.

Interview with Glen Hansard and Marketa Irglove; Obituary for Roy DeCarava; Review of the film "This is it." October 30, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458928].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musicians and actors GLEN HANSARD and MARKETA IRGLOVA. Their band is called The Swell Season. They have a new CD called Strict Joy. They starred in and wrote the music for the 2007 film Once. They won an Oscar in for Best Original Song for the song Falling Slowly, which also reached number one on the Irish pop chart. Once is an indie feature about two musicians who fall in love while writing songs together. HANSARD and IRGLOVA fell in love in a similar fashion, and then broke up, but are still making music together. HANSARD was also featured in the 1991 film The Commitments and is a founding member of the Irish rock band The Frames. The Swell Season is currently on tour. Check their website for details: http://www.theswellseason.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/1/08) (2.) Photographer Roy DeCarava ('deh-ca-RAH-va'). He died this week at age 89. DeCarava was born in Harlem and dedicated his 60 year career to capturing images of African Americans, taking pictures of the everyday as well as the iconic. DeCarava was the first black photographer to win a Guggenheim Fellowship, and he was also awarded the National Medal of Arts. He photographed many jazz greats, including Duke Ellington, Thelonious Monk, Billie Holiday and Louis Armstrong. His acclaimed 1955 book, The Sweet Flypaper of Life, was written in collaboration with the poet Langston Hughes. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 5/8/96) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews This Is It, the new documentary that is an assembly of Michael Jackson's final rehearsal footage for the concert tour that never took place.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Media critic KEN AULETTA. His new book is Googled: The End of the World as We Know It. He tracks the development of the company from search engine to provider of all things internet. Auletta tells us how relying on one company for applications, data storage, advertising, voice, video, mail, and now the Android operating system has many benefits, but potentially great costs. AULETTA has written The Annals of Communication column for The New Yorker since 1992. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) DANIEL PAULY is a professor at the Fisheries Centre of the University of British Columbia. He writes about the global fishing-industrial complex and the depletion of fish in the oceans in The New Republic (oct 7, 2009) The article is titled 'Aquacalypse Now: The End of Fish.' He writes that in the past 50 years 'we have reduced the populations of large commercial fish, such as bluefin tuna, cod, and other favorites, by a staggering 90 percent.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet and memoirist MARY KARR. She is the author of two bestselling memoirs: The Liar's Club, (1995) about her hard-scrabble childhood in Texas and life with her troubled mother; and Cherry (2000) about her youthful rebellion, self doubt, and coming of age. KARR details her early adult years in her new memoir Lit (Harper) and her struggles with alcohol, depression, and motherhood. KARR is recipient of several literary awards including the Pushcart Prize and the Bunting Award, and is the recipient of the Guggenheim Fellowship for Poetry in 2004. She has published four volumes of poetry. KARR is the Peck Professor of English Literature at Syracuse University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) DANIEL PAULY is a professor at the Fisheries Centre of the University of British Columbia and he is the Centre's principal investigator of the Sea Round Us Project. He writes about the global fishing-industrial complex and the depletion of fish in the oceans in The New Republic (oct 7, 2009) The article is titled 'Aquacalypse Now: The End of Fish.' He writes that in the past 50 years 'we have reduced the populations of large commercial fish, such as bluefin tuna, cod, and other..."
favorites, by a staggering 90 percent.’ (THIS IS PART TWO OF AN INTERVIEW THAT BEGAN ON YESTERDAY’S SHOW). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'The Lacuna' the new novel by Barbara Kingsolver.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID PLOUFFE ('PLUFF') was campaign manager for Barack Obama's presidential campaign. He was also architect of the strategy for both the primary and election victories. He's written a new memoir about the campaign, The Audacity to Win (Viking Adult). Prior to working on the Obama campaign, PLOUFFE was a media consultant for the Democratic party from 2001-2007. (2.) Actress JANE LYNCH. She's one of the stars of the new Fox comedy series Glee. She plays Sue Sylvester, the cutthroat coach of the high school cheerleaders. Lynch has been in many movies and TV shows, playing both comedic and dramatic parts. Her manifold film credits include The 40-Year-Old Virgin, Best in Show, Collateral Damage, Talladega Nights and Julie & Julia. She's also had roles on dozens of TV shows. Just to name a few: The L Word, Married?With Children, Gilmore Girls, 7th Heaven, Arrested Development, Desperate Housewives and Party Down. In 2005, Lynch was named one of POWER UP's 10 Amazing Gay Women in Showbiz.'

Interview with Lee Daniels; Review of La Roux's self-titled album; Review of the film "Gentleman Broncos." November 5, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925307].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director and producer LEE DANIELS. His new movie is Precious: Based on the Novel Push By Sapphire. It's about an abused, overweight, pregnant teen who is invited to enroll in an alternative school. Adapted from the 1996 novel Push, the film stars newcomer Gabourey Sidibe, as well as Mo'Nique, Mariah Carey and Lenny Kravitz. Precious premiered at Sundace in 2009, and won the Audience Award and the Grand Jury Prize for best drama, as well as a Special Jury Prize for Mo'Nique. Daniels co-produced the film along with Oprah Winfrey and Tyler Perry. His other producing credits include the Oscar winner Monster's Ball, Shadowboxer and The Woodsman. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut album by the British pop music duo La Roux ('RUE') which is also called La Roux. The Duo is 21 year old singer Elly Jackson and synthesizer player and producer Ben Langmaid. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new comedy 'Gentlemen Broncos'

Interview with Jeff Moss; Interview with Frank Oz; Interview with Christopher Cerf; Review of the television show "Sesame Street." November 6, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925305].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JEFF MOSS, one of the original creators and writers of Sesame Street. The popular children's show celebrates its 40th anniversary this month. MOSS created Cookie Monster and Oscar the Grouch, and wrote such songs as Rubber Ducky and People in Your Neighborhood. He won 14 Emmy's, four Grammy's, and an Academy Award nomination for his work on Sesame Street and with the Muppets. Moss was also the author of books for children, including Hieronymus White: A Bird Who Believed That He Always Was Right. MOSS died in 1998. (REBROADCAST from 11/30/94) (2.) Film director FRANK OZ. He's best known as the creator and voice behind Miss Piggy, and the voice of Cookie Monster, Fozzie Bear and Bert, characters who make up the Muppets. Oz, who joined Muppet Show-creator Jim Henson in 1963, also directed the Muppet films, like The Muppets Take Manhattan. He went on to direct the comedies Dirty Rotten Soundrels, Little Shop of Horrors, and What about Bob. He also directed The Score and Death at a Funeral. (REBROADCAST from 12/20/88) (3.) Writer and humorist CHRISTOPHER CERF. He has been associated with the Children's Television Workshop since 1970, developing products and writing parodies of rock and roll songs for Sesame Street. His songs include Put Down the Duckie and Monster in the Mirror. He helped launch the humor magazine the National Lampoon. In 1978 he co-edited the journalistic parody Not the New York Times. He is also the co-editor of The Official Politically Correct Dictionary and Handbook and The Iraq War Reader and Mission Accomplished! Or How We Won the War in Iraq. And he is an executive producer of Between the Lions, the literacy education series on PBS. (REBROADCAST from 12/19/90) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI considers the 40th anniversary of Sesame Street.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAKE ADELSTEIN (AY-del-stine). He's written a new memoir about his years as a reporter for the Yomiuri Shinbun, Japan's largest newspaper, where he investigated Japan's organized crime. It's called Tokyo Vice: An American Reporter on the Police Beat in Japan (Pantheon). ADELSTEIN reported for the paper from 1993 to 2005. Following that ADELSTEIN was chief investigator for a U.S. State Department-sponsored study of human trafficking in Japan. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Historicity, the new CD from the Vijay Iyer Trio.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Prosthetics engineer JONATHAN KUNIHMOLM (KUNNY-home). The graduate student and Iraq war vet returned home from his tour of duty missing part of his right arm. He both uses and designs prosthetic devices. Kuniholm is at the Center for Biologically Inspired Materials & Material Systems at Duke University. He started the Open Prosthetics Project, an open source collaboration effort. More info at http://www.openprosthetics.org, and he's a partner at Tackle Design, an industrial design, research and development firm. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) COLONEL PAUL PASQUINA, MD (pass-QUEEN-ah). He's the medical director of the amputee program at the Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington DC. He is also the Chief of the Integrated Department of Orthpaedics and Rehabilitation at Walter Reed. With advances in military medicine, more soldiers are surviving war wounds, but returning home missing limbs. He'll talk about the latest advances in prosthetics for amputees. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (3.) Actor WOODY HARRELSON. He stars in the new film The Messenger about soldiers who visit family members to tell them a loved one has died in combat. His other films include No Country for Old Men, The Thin Red Line, The People vs. Larry Flynt, Natural Born Killers, and White Men Can't Jump. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS IS PART ONE OF THE INTERVIEW. PART TWO WILL BE BROADCAST LATER). (4.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Shadow on the Ground, the third album by Texas country singer James Hand.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former tennis pro ANDRE AGASSI. The eight-time winner of the grand slam singles tournament has written his autobiography. It's called Open. Among the revelations in the book is that he took crystal meth, and that he wore a hairpiece in the 1990 French Open to hide a bald spot. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) World music critic MILO MILES considers the work of Latin bandleader pioneers Tito Rodriguez and Tito Puente. Each are featured on new collections: Puente's Dance Mania (RCA/Discos/Legacy) and Rodriguez's El Inolvidable (Fania/Codigo)

---

Interview with Seymour Hersh; Review of the film "Fantastic Mr. Fox." November 12, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925164].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist SEYMOUR HERSH. He writes about Pakistan's nuclear arsenal, and what efforts are being done by Pakistan and the U.S. to keep it safe from extremists? His article (Defending the Arsenal: In an unstable Pakistan, can nucler warheads be kept safe?) is in the November 16th edition of the New Yorker Magazine. Hersh is a regular contributor to the magazine on matters of security and the military. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new animated film 'The Fantastic Mr. Fox' based on the children's book by Roald Dahl, and directed by Wes Anderson.
Interview with Gordon Willis; Interview with Rivers Cuomo; Review of the television show "The Prisoner." November 13, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925163].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Cinematographer GORDON WILLIS. This weekend he will be awarded an honorary Oscar. It's part of a group of awards that are given out separately from the televised Oscar ceremony. And this year they are handed out early. WILLIS created the look of many of the most influential films of the 1970s: Klute, The Godfather I and II, The Parallax View, Annie Hall, and Manhattan. He's shot many Woody Allen films, as well as the films Pennies from Heaven and Presumed Innocent. His last film is the The Devil's Own made in 1997. He says his failing eyesight has kept him from doing more films. (REBROADCAST from 9/12/02) (2.) Lead singer, guitarist, and songwriter RIVERS CUOMO ('KWO-MO') of the rock band Weezer. The band's new album is Raditude (Geffen records). They made their debut in 1994 with a self-titled record that's often referred to as the Blue Album. Since then the band has released seven albums, gone thru a reorganization, and created a devoted following. CUOMO was raised on an ashram in Connecticut. Over the years CUOMO has gone thru periods of self-isolation, celibacy, drug use, and off and on pursued his studies at Harvard University. CUOMO is known for asking for feedback on his songs most notably on YouTube where he began 'Let's Write A Sawng' asking fans to submit ideas. Earlier this year CUOMO released a solo CD of demos. (REBROADCAST from 1/21/09) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the 'The Prisoner' which premieres Sunday on AMC. It's a remake of the 1968 miniseries of the same name.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JOSH KOSMAN. He's been covering the financial industry for over twelve years, and is an expert on private equity and mergers. KOSMAN writes about private equity (PE) firms in his new book, The Buyout of America: How Private Equity Will Cause the Next Great Credit Crisis (Portfolio). Private equity firms buy undervalued or underappreciated companies, fix them up and sell them for a fast profit. Some of the companies they've bought include Hertz, La Quinta, Dunkin Donuts, and Toys R Us. But the PE firms buy the businesses thru leveraged buyouts which means the majority of the money for the buyout comes by loading the company down with debt. Many of those companies owned by PE firms are in danger of defaulting on their debt. KOSMAN writes that it's likely half of the 3,188 American companies bought by PE firms between 2000 and 2008 could collapse. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor WOODY HARRELSON. He stars in the new film
The Messenger about soldiers who visit family members to tell them a loved one has died in combat. His other films include No Country for Old Men, The Thin Red Line, The People vs. Larry Flynt, Natural Born Killers, and White Men Can't Jump. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS IS PART TWO OF THE INTERVIEW. PART ONE WAS BROADCAST 11/10/09).

Interview with Sacha Baron Cohen and Larry Charles; Commentary on the use of first-person www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925161].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) English comedian and actor SACHA BARON COHEN & director LARRY CHARLES. They collaborated on Cohen's most recent film Bruno, based on the character COHEN originated for his cable TV show Da Ali G Show. Bruno is a flamboyantly gay Austrian fashion reporter. (The film Bruno is now out on DVD). COHEN is best known for his first film Borat based on the character of a clueless Kazakhstan reporter which he also originated for his cable TV show. LARRY CHARLES also directed Bill Maher's documentary Religulous., and TV shows Seinfeld and Curb Your Enthusiasm. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on whether or not counting words ? like a person's use of the pronoun 'I' ? says anything about the speaker.

Interview with Rebecca Kilgore and Dave Frishberg. November 18, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925159].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in studio concert by singer REBECCA KILGORE and pianist, singer, and composer DAVE FRISHBERG in honor of the centennial of the birth of lyricist and composer Johnny Mercer. He was born November 18, 1909 in Georgia. Mercer wrote or co-wrote over 1000 songs. His songs dominated

---

Interview with Orville Schell; Interview with Judith Fox. November 19, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925166].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist, professor and China expert ORVILLE SCHELL. He was in China covering President Obama's visit there. He is the author of nine books on China. His work has appeared in The New Yorker, Time Magazine, Harpers, The nation, Foreign Affairs, the China Quarterly, and the New York Times. He is the Asia Society's Arthur Ross Director of the Center on US China Relations in New York City and he is a Fellow at the Weatherhead East Asian Institute at Columbia University and a Senior Fellow at the Annenberg School of Communications USC, and a member of the Council on foreign Relations. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Photographer JUDITH FOX has a compilation of photographs, 'I Still Do: Loving and Living with Alzheimer's' (powerhouse Books). It chronicles her husband's submergence into Alzheimers over a ten year period. Her husband Dr. Edmund Ackell was a surgeon, a pilot, and a golfer before the disease altered his life.

---

Interview with Judd Apatow; Review of the film "New Moon." November 20, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924933].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and director JUDD APATOW. His film 'Funny People' is now out on DVD. It stars Adam Sandler as a successful stand-up comedian who is diagnosed with an incurable blood disorder. Seth Rogen stars as an aspiring comic who becomes his assistant. APATOW's other films include 'Knocked Up' and
'The 40 Year Old Virgin.' He first became known for the cult TV series 'Freaks and Geeks' which he co-created with Paul Feig. He also created the TV series 'Undeclared.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST FROM 07/22/2009) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'New Moon' the sequel to 'Twilight.'

---

Interview with Wes Anderson; Review of the television show "Curb Your Enthusiasm." November 23, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925117].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Film director & writer WES ANDERSON. His new film is the stop-animated Fantastic Mr. Fox, based on the Roald Dahl children's book. It's the first time Anderson has made an animated feature. ANDERSON's other films include The Royal Tennenbaums, The Darjeeling Limited, Bottle Rocket and Rushmore. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI has a wrap up of this season's Curb Your Enthusiasm, Larry David's HBO comedy series. The final episode aired last night.

---

Interview with Jeff Sharlet; Review of the DVD box set "The Sam Fuller Collection." November 24, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925165].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Investigative writer JEFF SHARLET. Last night, a Nevada man disclosed that he found out about his wife's affair with Senator John Ensign via a text message. Ensign, the junior senator from Nevada, is closely associated with The Family, a secretive fellowship of conservative Christian politicians who gather and live at a Washington DC townhouse, located on C Street. Sharlet has written extensively about the political group. His newest book is The Family: The Secret Fundamentalism at the Heart of American Power. Sharlet will also talk about the congressional Health care reform bill. It's making progress, but it was almost derailed by opponents of abortion. An amendment by Representative Bart Stupak addresses pro-life concerns. Sharlet explains Bart Stupak's involvement with the Family. Sharlet is an associate research scholar at New York University's Center for Religion and Media. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic JOHN POWERS reviews a

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer RICHARD CARPENTER. He's the surviving half of the seventies duo The Carpenters, who had dozens of top hits before the untimely demise of Richard's sister Karen. They were the number one selling American music act of the 1970s. There's a new greatest hits double CD, Carpenters: 40/40. It's a 40th anniversary compilation and includes 40 tracks. The brother sister act signed with A&M Records in April of 1969. Their hits include Close to You, We've Only Just Begun, Yesterday Once More, and Rainy Days and Mondays. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'The Road.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter LOUDON WAINWRIGHT the Third. He became a folk singer/songwriter in the late '60s, singing humorous and autobiographical songs. In 1972, on his "Album III" he scored the top-40 hit "Dead Skunk." Since then he's recorded twenty albums. He co-wrote (with Joe Henry) the music for the film 'Knocked Up' and also had a role in the film. His recent double album 'High Wide and Handsome: The Charlie Poole Project' is a tribute to the old time country banjo player who died in 1931. He sings songs he wrote inspired by Charlie Poole, and 20 songs written by Poole. (REBROADCAST from 8/19/09) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director and screenwriter PETE DOCTER for the Disney/Pixar animated film Up. The film is now out on DVD. It's about a grouchy elderly man, a chubby boy, balloons and a house set aloft, a 13 foot tall flightless bird, and an adventure. It was the first animated film to open the Cannes film festival. DOCTER also worked on the films Toy Story, A Bug's Life. He made his directing debut with the film Monster's Inc, and has an original story credit for WALL-E. (REBROADCAST from 5/26/09) (2.) The new film The Messenger is about the soldiers who notify families when their loved one has been killed in action. Journalist JIM SHEELER won a Pulitzer Prize in 2006 for his article in the Rocky Mountain News about a Marine major who helps the families of soldiers killed in Iraq cope with their loss which was part of a series on the impact of the Iraq war at home. The book Final Salute: A Story of Unfinished Lives expanded on the article; it's now in paperback. (Penguin books). Final Salute was a finalist for the 2008 National Book Award. And we hear from Marine Lt. Colonel STEVE BECK who Sheeler wrote about. Lt. Col. BECK is one of the casualty officers who notify families of the loss of their loved one, but also helps them in their grief, and stands by them during the funeral and after. BECK also founded the nonprofit Remembering the Brave Foundation, (www.RememberingtheBrave) which holds ceremonies to formally present posthumous medals to the families of service members killed in action. He was deployed to Afghanistan this week. (REBROADCAST from 4/30/08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI. His new book is called Dangerously Funny: The Uncensored Story of the Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. From 1967 to 1969, Tommy and Dick Smothers challenged the censors at CBS and the political establishment. They lost their show, but later won a battle in court. David talks about the legendary comedy duo who tackled political issues and censorship. Bianculli describes their lives both onscreen and behind the scenes, based on extensive interviews with the Smothers Brothers and key players. David is a frequent contributor and guest host on Fresh Air. His previous books are Teleliteracy: Taking Television Seriously and Dictionary of Teleliteracy: Television's 500 Biggest Hits, Misses, and Events. His website is www.tvworthwatching.com. (2.) Actor HAL HOLBROOK. The 84 year old is starring in the new film That Evening Sun, he plays Abner Meechum, an elderly former farmer who slips away from his nursing home and returns to the farm he used to run with his late wife. HOLBROOK is best known for his portrayal of Mark Twain on stage in a one-man show he's been performing on and off for 50 years. HOLBROOK's other roles include acting opposite Martin Sheen in The Certain Summer, which in 1972 was TV's first dramatic depiction of a homosexual relationship; Deep Throat in All the President's Men; and he was nominated for an academy award in 2007 for his role of a lonely old man in Into the Wild. (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI)

Interview with VIC Chesnutt and Guy Picciotto; Review of Thomas Mallon's book "Yours Ever December 1, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503248].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter VIC CHESNUTT and guitarist GUY PICCIOTTO ('Peach-E-O-toe') of the post-punk band Fugazi. The two have collaborated on the new album At the Cut. They previously collaborated on the album North Star Deserter. CHESNUTT is known by for his Southern Gothic storytelling. A drunk driving accident left CHESNUTT a paraplegic at the age of 18. His first two albums 'Little' (1990) and 'West of Rome' were produced by Michael Stipe of R.E.M. Since then he's released a dozen albums, and collaborated with jazz guitarist Bill Frisell, the band Widespread Panic, Los Angeles songwriter and arranger Van Dyke Parks. He was the subject of a tribute album Sweet Relief II: Gravity of the Situation which included covers by The Smashing Pumpkins, Madonna, R.E.M. and Live. CHESNUTT's new album 'At the Cut' includes a number of songs about mortality and death. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Yours Ever: People and Their Letters' by Thomas Mallon.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author WALTER KIRN. His novel, Up in The Air, has been adapted for the big screen. George Clooney plays 35 year-old Ryan Bingham, a well-traveled business man who has a goal of accumulating one million miles in his frequent flyer account. Kirn's fiction and non-fiction has appeared in The New Yorker, GQ, Vanity Fair and the New York Times Magazine. His book Thumbsucker was also adapted into a screenplay. Kirn's new book is Lost in the Meritocracy: The Undereducation of an Overachiever. Kirn teaches at the University of Montana and was the 2008-09 Writer in Residence at the University of Chicago. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/2/01) (2.) Director JASON REITMAN. His new film, Up in the Air, is based on the novel by Walter Kirn. His debut feature was Thank You for Smoking. It was adapted from the satirical novel by Christopher Buckley. His critically acclaimed movie Juno received an Academy Award for Best Screenplay (by Diablo Cody), and Reitman was also nominated that year for Best Director. JASON is the son of director Ivan Reitman, whose films include Meatballs, Stripes, and Ghostbusters. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the country blues album Texas Sheiks, by Geoff Muldaur and The Texas Sheiks.

Interview with Peter Bergen; Review of the film "My Brilliant Career." December 3, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925283].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PETER BERGEN. He'll provide an update on the security threat posed by Al Qaeda and the Taliban, and talk about President Obama's decision to send 30,000 troops into Afghanistan. Bergen is CNN's national security analyst, a fellow at the New America foundation and a research fellow at NYU's Center on Law and Security. His latest book is The Osama bin Laden I Know (2006). Bergen was the first journalist to conduct a TV interview with bin Laden back in 1997. Bergen's work has appeared in the New York Times, The Guardian, El Mundo, Die Welt, Vanity Fair, The Atlantic, and many other publications both in the US and abroad. More info at www.peterbergen.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic JOHN POWERS reviews the 30th anniversary.
DVD/Blu-Ray release of My Brilliant Career. The 1979 Oscar nominated film stars Judy Davis and Sam Neill, and is set in the Australian outback.

Interview with Eugene Hutz; Interview with Ed Helms; Review of the film "Brothers." December 4, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925279].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) EUGENE HUTZ is the charismatic front man of the gypsy punk band, Gogol Bordello. The group includes a violinist, guitarist, accordion, and bass. HUTZ hails from Ukraine. Gogol Bordello are featured in Larger Than Life In 3D, a 360 degree concert film that also includes performances with Ben Harper and The Dave Matthews Band. Gogol Bordello is planning on releasing a follow up to its 2007 album Super Taranta! HUTZ also was in the film 'Everything is Illuminated' with Elijah Wood. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/15/07) (2.) Comic actor ED HELMS. He co-stars in the hit film The Hangover, which is now out on DVD. He plays Andy Bernard on NBC's 'The Office.' He was senior correspondent on The Daily Show for four years. HELMS got his start in comedy with numerous sketch comedy groups and studied improvisation with The Upright Citizens Brigade. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/9/09) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Brothers, starring Tobey McGuire and Jake Gyllenhaal.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer songwriter GEOFF MULDAUR. His new album is called Texas Sheiks (pronounced sheeks). For decades he's been reinterpreting blues and jazz of the 20s and 30s. He'll perform some songs and we'll hear tracks from his new album. Muldaur was a member of the Jim Kweskin Jug Band and Paul Butterfield's Better Days. When he was married to Maria Muldaur, he worked with Bonnie Raitt, Eric Von Schmidt and Jerry Garcia. Geoff has composed scores for film and TV, for which he won an Emmy. He's also produced albums for other artists. The band is currently on tour. More info at http://www.geoffmuldaur.com (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has some book suggestions for your holiday shopping.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author ROBIN D.G. KELLEY. His new book is Thelonious Monk: The Life and Times of an American Original. It's about the career of the jazz pianist and composer. Kelley reveals new details about Monk's life, music and mental health problems, and provides a glimpse into the New York jazz scene of the mid-twentieth century. Robin Davis Gibran Kelley is a professor of American Studies & Ethnicity at the University of Southern California. He has also taught at NYU and Columbia University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Filmmaker HANNAH ROTHSCHILD. Her new movie is The Jazz Baroness, and it's about her aunt, Baroness Nica de Koenigswarter, who fell in love with jazz and the music of Thelonius Monk, traveling from England to New York to fulfill her passion. She became good friends with Monk, and helped out other musicians of the era. The Jazz Baroness is now airing on HBO. Hannah Rothschild directs documentaries for the BBC, and is also a freelance writer.

Interview with Nicholas Schmidle; Interview with Clint Eastwood and Morgan Freeman; Review of Carla Bley's album "Carla's Christmas Carols" and Eddie Allen's album "Jazzy Brass for the Holidays." December 9, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925576].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NICHOLAS SCHMIDLE. His article, The Hostage Business, in the December 4 2009 edition of the New York Times, explores the growing business of kidnapping. He discusses the rise of taking expatriates as hostages in Nigeria, one of the world's kidnapping hot spots, and the sharp rise in kidnapping and ransom insurance policy sales to companies with workers overseas. Schmidle reports that about three-quarters of Fortune 500 companies in the United States carry kidnapping insurance. Schmidle is a fellow at the New America Foundation and the author of To Live or to Perish Forever: Two Tumultuous Years in Pakistan. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (2.) Director CLINT EASTWOOD and actor MORGAN FREEMAN. Their new film is Invictus, about Nelson Mandela in his first term as South African president. Freeman was chosen by Mandela himself to play the role. Matt Damon also stars in the film. Invictus is based on the book Playing The Enemy: Nelson Mandela And The Game That Changed a Nation by John Carlin. It opens nationwide on December 11, 2009. Freeman won an Academy Award for his work in the film Million Dollar Baby, and was Oscar nominated for his roles in The Shawshank Redemption, Driving Miss Daisy, and Street Smart. Eastwood is an actor, director and producer whose acting credits include spaghetti westerns of the 1960s, such as The Good, the Bad and The Ugly; the Dirty Harry movies of the 1970s; Unforgiven and The Bridges of Madison County in the 1990s, and recently, Million Dollar Baby and Gran Torino, which he also directed. Eastwood has been nominated for multiple Oscars through the years, and won three: two for Unforgiven (Director, Best Picture) and Million Dollar Baby (Best Achievement in Directing). (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two new jazz brass Christmas CDs: Carla's Christmas Carols by Carla Bley (Watt/ECM); and Jazzy Brass for the Holidays by Eddie Allen (DBCDB).
Interview with Alice Sebold; Review of the documentary "Wagner's Mastersinger-Hitler's Siegfried December 11, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925393].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ALICE SEBOLD. She is the author of Lucky, an account of her own rape, and The Lovely Bones, about a 14-year-old girl looking down from heaven after her own rape and murder. The Lovely Bones has been adapted for the film by director Peter Jackson. (REBROADCAST from 7/10/02) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the documentary on DVD about German tenor Max Lorenz, who was considered 'Hitler's favorite tenor.' Its called Wagner's Mastersinger-Hitler's Siegfried: The Life and Times of Max Lorenz. (Medici Arts) (3.) THOMAS HOVING ("Hoving" with a long "O") the former director of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. He died yesterday at the age of 78. The cause was lung cancer. HOVING was with the Met for ten years and was credited with transforming it from a somber monolith into a friendly and exciting place. The Metropolitan is probably the richest museum in the world, "owning" three million works of art, and artifacts that span 50 centuries. At the time of the interview he had written the book Making the Mummies Dance: Inside the Metropolitan Museum of Art. (REBROADCAST from 1/15/93) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'The Lovely Bones' directed by Peter Jackson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fashion designer turned film director TOM FORD. The former creative director of Gucci and Yves Saint Laurent. He's known for helping revive an almost bankrupt Gucci company, and for his provocative ad campaigns, which used erotic poses and nudity to sell fragrances. He's making his directorial debut with the new film A Single Man based on the novel by Christopher Isherwood. It stars British actor Colin Firth as a gay British literature professor in L.A. in 1962 attempting to come to terms with the death of his

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor producer director GRIFFIN DUNNE {lcub}'Done'). He is the son of the late Dominick Dunne, a journalist and novelist who became famous for covering the lives and high profile trials of celebrities and was a special correspondent for Vanity Fair for 25 years. Dominick Dunne died in August at the age of 83. His final novel Too Much Money has just been published. GRIFFIN DUNNE will talk about his father. GRIFFIN DUNNE starred in the films American Werewolf in London, After Hours, and Quiz Show as well as numerous other films and TV shows. He produced or co-produced the films Fierce People, Running on Empty and After Hours. And he directed Fierce People, Famous, and The Accidental Husband. He's currently working on an adaptation of the Meg Wolitzer novel The Position for HBO. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS has some DVD's for your gift list.

Interview with Jeremy Scahill; Commentary on words that evolved in the previous decade. December 16, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925711].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist JEREMY SCAHILL. He broke the story in The Nation magazine (11/23/09) that the military contractor Blackwater is operating in Pakistan under a covert program that includes planning targeted assassinations and kidnappings of suspected Taliban and Al Qaeda suspects. The secret program is run by the US Joint Special Command (JSOC). He writes Blackwater operatives also run a secret US military drone bombing campaign that runs parallel to the CIA's predator strikes. SCAHILL is a Polk-award winning journalist and the author of the 2007 book Blackwater: The Rise of the World's Most Powerful Mercenary Army. (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the new words that came out of the last decade.
Interview with Charles Duhigg; Interview with Mick Moloney. December 17, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924443].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES DUHIGG ('DO-hig') of The New York Times. He is writing the Toxic Waters series in the paper about our unsafe drinking water. His latest article (Sewers at Capacity, Waste Poisons Waterways, Nov 23, 2009) is about how human excrement and dangerous industrial chemicals are spilling into our waterways in part because of overwhelmed sewer systems. It's estimated that one out of ten Americans is exposed to drinking water that contains dangerous chemicals, parasites, bacteria or viruses, or fails to meet federal health standards in other ways. DUHIGG based his reporting on thousands of water pollution records which he received through Freedom of Information Act requests. DUHIGG is a recipient of the George Polk Award. Before joining the New York Times, he was a reporter with The Los Angeles Times. (2.) Irish musician and folklorist MICK MOLONEY. His new album is If It Wasn't For the Irish and the Jews. Moloney returns to Fresh Air to talk about the Tin Pan Alley and vaudeville collaborations between Irish and Jewish songwriters and performers, which peaked between 1880 and 1920. Tin Pan Alley was an area around 28th and Broadway where many music publishing houses were located. Moloney holds a Ph.D. in folklore and folklife from the University of Pennsylvania. He has taught ethnomusicology, folklore and Irish studies courses at the University of Pennsylvania, Georgetown, and Villanova Universities, and currently teaches at New York University in the Irish Studies program. More information at http://www.mickmoloney.com/.

Interview with Nellie McKay; Review of Norah Jones's album "The Fall"; Obituary for Larry Sultan; Review of the film "Avatar." December 18, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959923615].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer songwriter NELLIE MCKAY (rhymes with 'high'). Her new album is Normal as Blueberry Pie: A Tribute to Doris Day. Tracks Include Do Do Do, Crazy Rhythm and Sentimental Journey. She joins us in the studio with her ukulele. McKay has also worked as an actress and stand-up comedian. Her debut CD was called Get Away From Me, a play on the Norah Jones album title Come Away With Me. More information at http://www.nelliemckay.com/. (REBROADCAST: ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/21/07) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Fall, the new album from Norah Jones. More info on the album and tour dates at http://www.norahjones.com/index.php. (3.) Photographer LARRY SULTAN. He died Sunday at age 63. He was a distinguished professor in both the undergraduate Photography Program and the Graduate Program in Fine Arts at California College of the Arts. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/12/89) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Avatar, directed by James Cameron. Official movie site: http://www.avatarmovie.com/.

---

Interview with Jon Bon Jovi. December 21, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884310].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, songwriter and actor JON BON JOVI. His new album with his band, Bon Jovi, is The Circle. Included with the CD is The DVD Bon Jovi: When We Were Beautiful, featuring live concert and behind the scenes footage from the US and abroad. There's also a companion coffee table book called Bon Jovi: When We Were Beautiful, featuring photographs from the band onstage and backstage. Jon got his start in New Jersey, walking his demo into radio stations before he had a record contract, or even a band. Both Bon Jovi, the band, and Jon Bon Jovi, the single act, have sold millions of records. Hits include Livin' on a Prayer, Wanted Dead or Alive, and I'll Be There for You. Jon received a Golden Globe Award, and an Oscar nomination for Best Music, Original Song, for his work on the soundtrack of the film Young Guns II. Jon's acting work includes appearances on the TV shows The West Wing and Ally McBeal, and the films U-571 and Pay it Forward, among others. Jon was the owner of The Philadelphia Soul and the Arena Football League, now inactive. More info at www.bonjovi.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

---

Interview with Terry Gilliam; Interview with Bob Hunter. December 22, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503711].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director TERRY GILLIAM. His new film, co-written with Christopher McKeown, is The Imaginarium of Doctor Parnassus, starring Christopher Plummer, Tom Waits and the late Heath Ledger. It's a special effects thrill ride, about a theater troupe that makes a deal with the devil who takes the crew through a magic mirror to a world of imagination. Ledger died while the movie was in production, and Ledger's role was recast with Johnny Depp, Jude Law and Colin Farrell playing transformations of Ledger's character. Gilliam's other films include the Oscar nominated Brazil; The Adventures of Baron Munchausen; and Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas. Gilliam got his start with the Monty Python comedy troupe, and directed the TV series Monty Python's Flying Circus, as well as many of the Python big screen efforts, including Monty Python and The Holy Grail, Life of Brian, and The Meaning of Life. (DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEWS GILLIAM.) (2.) Family member BOB HUNTER. Following Terry's recent interview with Jeff Sharlet, author of The Family: The Secret Fundamentalism at the Heart of American Power, Hunter asked that his side of the story be told. Hunter is the director of Insurance for the Consumer Federation of America, a pro-bono position he describes as consumer advocacy. Previously, Hunter worked for the Federal Insurance Administration under Presidents Ford and Carter. During the interview with Sharlet, Hunter was mentioned as the person who introduced members of the Family with leaders of Uganda. As a result, the Family's sphere of influence led to the creation of a draconian anti-gay rights bill in Uganda. While Hunter confirms that he created the link between the US and Uganda, he says his trips were not officially connected to the US government.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI. He joins us for his year end television wrap up. He'll talk about his favorite shows as well as the ones he didn't like. He'll also touch on the increasing importance of cable, and why broadcast may be losing its place at the top of the TV food chain. Bianculli's daily online magazine is www.tvworthwatching.com, and his newly published and critically acclaimed book is Dangerously Funny: The Uncensored Story of the Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour. In addition to his role as Fresh Air TV critic and guest host, Bianculli teaches at Rowan University in New Jersey. His previous books are Teleliteracy: Taking Television Seriously, and Dictionary of Teleliteracy: Television's 500 Biggest Hits, Misses, and Events. (2.) Humanist Chaplain GREG EPSTEIN. His new book is called Good without God: What a Billion Nonreligious People Do Believe. Epstein, an atheist, says that humanism teaches people to lead good and moral lives without supernaturalism, higher powers, or God. Epstein serves as Humanist Chaplain at Harvard University. He's a regular contributor to On Faith, an online forum co-produced by Newsweek and the Washington Post: http://newsweek.washingtonpost.com/onfaith. More info on Greg Epstein at http://harvardhumanist.org. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN on the best books of 2009. Included on her list: The Woman Behind The New Deal by Frances Perkins; Fordlandia by Greg Grandin; Dancing in the Dark by Morris Dickstein; Happens Every Day by Isabel Gillies; the Moe Praeger series by Reed Farrel Coleman; the Believers by Zoe Heller; A Gate at the Stairs by Lorrie Moore; Brooklyn by Coim Toibin; The Man in the Wooden Hat by Jane Gardam, and The Financial Lives of the Poets by Jess Walters. You can also find the list of Maureen's picks on Fresh Air's website, freshair.npr.org.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Singer/songwriter ROSEANNE CASH. When she was 18 years old, her father Johnny Cash wrote up a list of songs that she should know. Her latest album, The List, includes twelve of those songs. Guest performers on the album include Bruce Springsteen, Elvis Costello, Jeff Tweedy, and Rufus Wainwright. CASH's previous album, Black Cadillac, was about the loss of her father, her mother, and her stepmother. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/05/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer & director QUENTIN TARANTINO. His acclaimed film Inglourious Basterds is out on DVD and Blu-Ray. It blends elements of the spaghetti western with world war two films and stars Brad Pitt. TARANTINO's other films include Reservoir Dogs, Jackie Brown, Pulp Fiction, and Kill Bill Vol. 1 & 2. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/27/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director/writer WOODY ALLEN. He's been making films for over forty years. He made his first film, 'What's Up Tiger Lily?' in 1966. Some of his most beloved films include 'Play It Again Sam,' 'Annie Hall,' 'Manhattan,' 'Hannah & Her Sisters' and 'Radio Days.' His most recent film stars Larry David. It's called 'Whatever Works.' (REBROADCAST from 6/15/09) (2.) Comic TRACY MORGAN. He co-stars in the NBC sitcom '30 Rock' with his former Saturday Night Live alum, Tina Fey. He was a part of the SNL cast from 1996 to 2003. He's written a new memoir about growing up in Bedford-Stuy, New York. It's called 'I Am the New Black' (Spiegel & Grau). (REBROADCAST from 10/22/09)
Interview with Russell Brand; Interview with Jane Lynch; Obituary for Dennis Brutus. December 30, 2009. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925189].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actor RUSSELL BRAND is also a TV and radio presenter in the UK. He's worked for the BBC and MTV in London, and in the US, hosted the MTV Music Awards. His films include Forgetting Sarah Marshall and Bedtime Stories. Brand is known for his over the top style, often sporting leather, chains and eyeliner, and he's been in trouble with the authorities for offensive language. His memoir is called My Booky Wook: a memoir of Sex, Drugs and Stand-up. (REBROADCAST from 04/06) (2.) Actress JANE LYNCH. She's one of the stars of the new Fox comedy series Glee. She plays Sue Sylvester, the cutthroat coach of the high school cheerleaders. Lynch has been in many movies and TV shows, playing both comedic and dramatic parts. Her manifold film credits include The 40-Year-Old Virgin, Best in Show, Collateral Damage, Talladega Nights and Julie & Julia. She's also had roles on dozens of TV shows. Just to name a few: The L Word, Married?With Children, Gilmore Girls, 7th Heaven, Arrested Development, Desperate Housewives and Party Down. In 2005, Lynch was named one of POWER UP's 10 Amazing Gay Women in Showbiz.' (REBROADCAST from 11/4/09) (3.) We remember South African poet and activist DENNIS BRUTUS. He died Saturday at the age of 85. He had been battling prostate cancer. BRUTUS was an anti-apartheid activist who was jailed in Robben Island for 18 months, the same prison where Nelson Mandela was being held. As a young man he helped create the South African Sports Association, which was formed in protest against the official white sports association. He was forced to leave the country in 1966. In 1971 he emigrated to the U.S. In all, he published more than a dozen collections of poetry. He taught literature and African studies at Northwestern University and the University of Pittsburgh. (REBROADCAST from 04/22/86)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician JOHN DOE. The founder of the Los Angeles punk band X joins us live in the studio with Canadian band the Sadies to perform songs from their new album Country Club. While X often had a slight country twang, Doe has delved fully into the genre with this album, covering classics from Merle Haggard, Tammy Wynette and Willie Nelson. Doe is also an actor in film and television. He recently

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor TED DANSON. He co-stars in the HBO series Bored to Death. Danson got his start on the classic TV sitcom Cheers, and went on to star in several shows of his own, including Becker and Damages, with regular guest appearances on programs including the Simpsons, Curb Your Enthusiasm, and Frasier. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/17/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) An in studio concert by singer REBECCA KILGORE and pianist, singer, and composer DAVE FRISHBERG in honor of the centennial of the birth of lyricist and composer Johnny Mercer. He was born November 18, 1909 in Georgia. Mercer wrote or co-wrote over 1000 songs. His songs dominated the pop chart. They include "Blues in the Night," "That Old Black Magic," "One For My Baby, "Come Rain or Come Shine" (all with Harold Arlen); "Lazy Bones" and "Skylark" with Hoagy Carmichael; "I'm a Old Cowhand," "I Remember You," "P.S. I Love You," "Jeepers Creepers," "You Must Have Been a Beautiful Baby," "When a Woman Loves a Man," "Too Marvelous for Words," and "Fools Rush In." He won Academy Awards for "The Atchison, Topeka and The Santa Fe" (1946, with Harry Warren), "In the Cool, Cool, Cool of the Evening" (1951, with Hoagy Carmichael), "Moon River' (1961, with Henry Mancini) and "Days of Wine and Roses" (1962, with Mancini). (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 11/18/09.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter BOB SULLIVAN. His new book is Stopped Getting Ripped Off: Why Consumers Get Screwed, and How You Can Always Get a Fair Deal. For the past 12 years, he's covered computer crime and consumer affairs for MSNBC.com, and these days, you can read him at their Red Tape Chronicles blog. His previous books are Gotcha Capitalism and Your Evil Twin: Behind the Identity Theft Epidemic. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews three albums by trumpeter and composer Wadada Leo Smith. Two are reissues and one is a new set of live concert recordings by two of his bands: Spirit Catcher (Nessa); Procession of the Great Ancestry (Nessa); and Spiritual Dimensions (Cuneiform).

Interview with Stanley Tucci; Interview with John Oliver. January 5, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039523].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, director, and writer STANLEY TUCCI (TWO-chee). He can be seen in the two recent films, The Lovely Bones as the child molester and murder, and as Julia Child's husband in the film Julie and Julia. His other films include A Midsummer Night's Dream, The Imposters, The Road to Perdition, Deconstructing Harry, Kiss of Death, and Billy Bathgate. And he's appeared on numerous TV series including ER, Monk, and Frasier. TUCCI made his co-directing and co-screenwriting debut with the film Big Night which was a critical and commercial success. (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) British comic JOHN OLIVER is a writer/correspondent on The Daily Show with Jon Stewart which he has been since 2006. He also appears on the NBC comedy Community as psychology professor Dr. Ian Duncan. He has starred in a number of British TV shows. This month his John Oliver's New York Stand-Up Show premieres on Comedy Central. (Jan 8th @ 11 PM) (TERRY GROSS INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, producer, writer GEORGE LUCAS. He is director of the 1977 epic science fiction film Star Wars, and writer and executive producer of the Indiana Jones films. He is also the founder of the Lucasfilm studio. He picked the 300 films included in the new book George Lucas's Blockbusting (HarperCollins, edited by Alex Ben Block and Lucy Autrey Wilson). (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Record producer, musician and studio head WILLIE MITCHELL died Tuesday, January 5th, at the age of 81. He had suffered a heart attack two weeks previous. MITCHELL was one of the hit makers for the Memphis based label Hi Records in its early days and was the influential producer who made the sounds of soul greats Al Green, Ann Peebles and Otis Clay so well known. (We will also hear a bit of tape of AL GREEN talking about MITCHELL, recorded in 1991). (REBROADCAST from 4/13/95)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember singer and songwriter VIC CHESNUTT. On Christmas Day 2009, Chesnutt died following a coma induced by an overdose of muscle relaxants. He was 45. He was just on Fresh Air Dec 1, 2009 . We will listen back to excerpts of that interview with him and guitarist guitarist GUY (‘Ge' rhymes with Tree;) PICCIOTTO (‘Peach-E-O-toe') of the post-punk band Fugazi. Chesnutt and Picciotto collaborated on the recent album At the Cut. They previously collaborated on the album North Star Deserter. CHESNUTT was known for his Southern Gothic storytelling. A drunk driving accident left him a paraplegic at the age of 18. Since then he released a dozen albums, and collaborated with jazz guitarist Bill Frisell, the band Widespread Panic, Los Angeles songwriter and arranger Van Dyke Parks. He was the subject of a tribute album Sweet Relief II: Gravity of the Situation which included covers by The Smashing Pumpkins, Madonna, R.E.M. and Live. CHESNUTT's recent album At the Cut included a number of songs about mortality and death. Then in the second half of the show we hear a new interview with three friends and fellow musicians of Chesnutt's. (REBROADCAST from 12/1/09) (2.) We hear from guitarist, GUY PICCIOTTO, from MICHAEL STIPE of the band R.E.M. who produced Chesnutt's first two albums, 'Little' (1990) and 'West of Rome;' And we hear from producer JEM COHEN. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Patton Oswalt and Robert Siegel; Review of Jazz DVDs; Review of the film "Youth in revolt." January 8, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039559].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Standup comic and actor PATTON OSWALT and writer/director ROBERT SIEGEL. The two collaborated on the film 'Big Fan' (out on DVD next week) about a 35 year old obsessive New York Giants fan who is a frequent caller into a sports radio show, and who also lives with his mother. SIEGEL made his directorial debut with the film 'The Wrestler.' And he is the former editor-in-chief of The Onion. OSWALT has appeared in over 20 films, including providing the voice for Remy in the Pixar film 'Ratatouille.' He also starred in the CBS sitcom 'The King of Queens.' He's had three TV comedy specials, and two acclaimed albums. His new Comedy Central special 'My Weakness is Strong' premieres Sunday Night at 10 PM. (REBROADCAST from 8/20/09) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews some recent jazz DVDs, featuring old and new artists, TV performances and documentaries. The DVDs include: 'The Films of Buster Keaton,' Music by Bill Frisell, from Tone Field; Anita O'Day 'Live in '63 & '70,' from Jazz Icons; Art Farmer 'Live in '64,' from Jazz Icons; and Fred Anderson '21st Century Chase' from Delmark. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Youth in Revolt the new comedy film starring Michael Cera.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist T. CHRISTIAN MILLER of ProPublica, the public interest journalism website. He previously worked for The Los Angeles Times. He's been covering the fate of injured civilians who worked for private military contractors in Iraq and Afghanistan. Many of them faced long delays and years long court battles to obtain medical treatment. They are forced to fight for surgery, psychological counseling and even prosthetic legs. They and their families are reluctant to speak out, for fear of being labeled as mercenaries or war profiteers. Miller finds that either the contractors did not purchase insurance for their employees - as required under law - or the insurance carriers routinely denied worker's requests for medical care. Under a law known as the Defense Base Act, defense contractors are required to purchase private insurance to cover worker injuries. Miller also faults the Labor Department for failing to regulate the system. MILLER is also the author of the book Blood Money: Wasted Billions, Lost Lives and Corporate Greed in Iraq. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Stronger with Each Tear the ninth album by Mary J. Blige.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter, and producer T.BONE BURNETT. He co-wrote many of the songs (along with the late Stephen Bruton) for the soundtrack to the new film Crazy Heart, starring Jeff Bridges. It's about a washed up, alcoholic country singer. The theme song for the film has been nominated for a Golden Globe. BURNETT also worked on the soundtracks for the films Brother Where Art Thou? And Walk the Line, and he produced albums for Tony Bennett, Elvis Costello, Los Lobos, Country Crows, Bruce Cockburn, BoDean and others. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist ARAM ROSTON. His article in the Nation, How the US Funds the Taliban, looks into the many ways that United States money ends up in the pockets of the Taliban. He says the US military's contractors are forced to pay suspected insurgents to protect American supply routes. He'll discuss how trucking contractors for the military in Afghanistan hire local Afghani truckers who then funnel money to the Taliban. Additionally, the trucking firms have set up lobbying groups in the US to promote long term engagement in Afghanistan. His story has prompted a house subcommittee investigation. Roston is author of The Man Who Pushed America to War: The Extraordinary Life, Adventures, and Obsessions of Ahmad Chalabi. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI. He joins us to talk about the late night talk show wars between Jay Leno, Conan O'Brien and David Letterman.

Interview with Teddy Pendergrass; Interview with Kathryn Bigelow; Review of the film "Fish Tank." January 15, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039478].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Soul singer TEDDY PENDERGRASS. He died Wednesday from complications of colon cancer. He was 59. Pendergrass was known for ballads like "I Don't Love You Anymore," "Close the Door," "Turn off the Lights" and "Love TKO." Pendergrass got his start in Philadelphia as the lead singer of Harold Melvin and the Blue Notes. In 1982, Pendergrass crashed his Rolls Royce and was paralyzed from the waist down. He continued to perform after the accident. His last album was the 2004 Love Songs Collection. (REBROADCAST FROM 10/14/98) (2.) Director KATHRYN BIGELOW and screenwriter MARK BOAL. Their film The Hurt Locker is now out on DVD. It's a war thriller set in present day Iraq, about an army bomb squad facing danger at every turn. The Hurt Locker won 4 awards at the 2008 Venice Film Festival. This is Boal's first screenplay. He's a freelancer who also wrote the short story that inspired the film In the Valley of Elah. Boal was imbedded with a bomb squad in Iraq to research the script. Bigelow has worked as a TV and film director. Her films include Point Break, Blue Steel, and K-19: The Widowmaker. She's directed episodes of the TV shows Homicide: Life on the Street, and Wild Palms. (REBROADCAST from 6/24/09) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Fish Tank the new film by British director Andrea Arnold and TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Jimmy Kimmel on the Jay Leno show talking about Conan O' Brien and the late night talk show wars.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LARRY TYE is the author of the book 'Satchel: The Life and Times of an American Legend' (Random House). Satchel Paige had a scorching fast ball, and pinpoint accuracy. He could throw a fastball repeatedly over a match book, or a postage stamp set on home base, something he would do to delight baseball crowds. He dazzled fans both black and white, playing in the Negro baseball leagues, or barnstorming across the country. Paige helped integrate baseball a decade before Jackie Robinson, touring the country playing exhibition games with white players. Yet he experienced racial discrimination, and watched the careers of white players soar, as his was stuck. Eventually Paige joined major league baseball, after Jackie Robinson. In 1971 he was inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame, the first player to make the hall based on his career in the negro leagues. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, from 6/8/09) [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW.]

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and poet PATTI SMITH. She got her start in the punk movement of the 1970s with her album 'Horses.' She's written a new memoir about her friendship with photographer Robert Mapplethorp. They both met in New York when they were 20 and aspiring to be artists. It's called 'Just Kids' (Harper Collins). Mapplethorp died in 1989 of HIV. SMITH's web site is www.pattismith.net. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARGARET TALBOT is a senior fellow at the New American Foundation where she explores evolving family life, women's work, and children's culture and as well as politics and moral debates as they intersect with science and the law. She is also a staff writer at The New Yorker. She has been covering the landmark federal case in California challenging Proposition 8 which bans same-sex marriage. Her blogs about the case are on The New Yorker website, and she's written about it for the Jan 18, 2010 issue of the magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the unlikely titled new novel 36 Arguments for the Existence of God by Rebecca Newberger Goldstein. (Gold-STEEN)

Interview with Randall Keynes; Commentary on language; Review of the television show "Burn notice." January 21, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/974039480].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RANDAL KEYNES is the great great grandson of scientist Charles Darwin and the author of the book Creation ? Darwin, his daughter and Human Evolution (Riverhead). The new film Creation is based on his book. In the book KEYNES writes about the deeply held differences between Charles Darwin and the wife he loved deeply, Emma; 'Emma's Christian faith I found to be anguished because Charles couldn't share it and weakened by doubts of her own about God's purpose. Between them, Charles and Emma, two intensely private persons about matters that concerned them deeply, were living the spiritual conflicts of the age. . .' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG takes a look at the responses to Senator Harry Reid's much quoted comments about Barack Obama's ability to be elected. (3.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS considers the appeal of 'disposable' TV and shows like Burn Notice.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONAH LEHRER is the author of the book 'How We Decide' (Mariner books) now out in paperback. It's about the new research in neuroscience that is unlocking how the brain makes decisions. LEHRER writes, 'It turns out that we weren't designed to be rational creatures. Instead the mind is composed of a messy network of different areas, many of which are involved with the production of emotion. Whenever someone makes a decision, the brain is awash in feeling, driven by its inexplicable passions.' LEHRER is editor at large for Seed magazine and the author of 'Proust Was a Neuroscientist.' (REBROADCAST from 3/02/09) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Extraordinary Measures the new medical drama starring Harrison Ford as a curmudgeonly research scientist recruited by a father desperate to save the lives of his children. (3.) Canadian folk singer KATE MCGARRIGLE died Monday at the age of 63 after a long battle with cancer. She was the mother of singers Rufus and Martha Wainwright, and the ex-wife of Loudon Wainwright III. MCGARRIGLE and her sister Anna performed widely together and were known for their close and subtle harmonies. They recorded a number of albums. Growing up in Canada, the sisters absorbed an eclectic blend of music: Victorian ballads, blues, jazz, French-Canadian folk songs, Broadway tunes, and country music. They may be best known for their song, "Heart Like a Wheel," which was the title track on Linda Ronstadt's most successful album. We will listen back to a 1993 concert with Kate & Anna McGarrigle recorded in the Fresh Air Studio (6/21/93).

---

Interview with Mike Judge; Review of the film "Edge of darkness;" Review of the book "Game change." January 29, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825889].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MIKE JUDGE One of writer-director Mike Judge's favorite themes is American stupidity. His popular animated series Beavis and Butt-Head featured two brainless 15 year-olds obsessed with MTV. His 2007 film, Idiocracy, envisions a not-so-utopian American future in which evolution has bred the intelligence out of humanity. Judge's latest comedy, Extract, now out on DVD, revisits a second favorite subject ? the American workplace. (2.) DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Mel Gibson's 'Edge Of Darkness.' (3.) JOHN POWERS reviews Game Change by John Heilemann and Mark Halperin, a laughably written yet highly readable book that The Economist has described as "high quality political porn." Because most of its pages rehearse yet again the campaign's greatest hits ? you know, Bill Clinton's gaffes, Obama's trouble with Reverend Wright, Palin's disastrous interview with Katie Couric ? its real selling point is its juicy stuff. That Harry Reid talked about Obama's lack of "Negro dialect." That McCain's aides thought Palin unfit to be Veep. And that Elizabeth Edwards behaved hideously to her husband's campaign staff.
Interview with Scott Patterson and Ed Thorp; Interview with Randi Hutter Epstein. February 1, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924401].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT PATTERSON and mathematician ED THORP. PATTERSON is a staff reporter at The Wall Street Journal and is the author of the new book The Quants: How a New Breed of Math Whizzes Conquered Wall Street and Nearly Destroyed It (Crown Business). In the early 1960s THORP developed a method of counting cards to win at blackjack. He went on to prove his theory in gambling casinos and wrote a book about it, Beat the Dealer. He then devised a method of using math and computers to predict the future of the stock market which revolutionized Wall Street, and wrote the book Beat the Market. People who use these skills came to be known as 'quants.' THORP taught at MIT, and at the University of California at Irvine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Medical journalist RANDI HUTTER EPSTEIN (EP-STEEN) is the author of the new book 'Get Me Out: A History of Childbirth: from the Garden of Eden to the Sperm Bank' (W.W. Norton). She has written for The New York Times, The Washington Post, The Daily Telegraph and several national magazines. She is also an M.D.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Medical writer REBECCA SKLOOT. Her new book is The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks. Part biography and part bioethical exploration, the book is about an impoverished African American woman who unknowingly donated her cervical cells to science, leading to huge advances in medicine, but no benefit whatsoever to Henrietta Lacks or her offspring. Skloot is an award-winning writer, and a contributing editor at Popular Science magazine. She has worked as a correspondent for NPR's RadioLab and PBS's Nova ScienceNOW, and her writing appears in The New York Times Magazine, O: The Oprah Magazine, Discover, Columbia Journalism Review, Prevention, and many others. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us about the 1970s southern band, Big Star. Rhino has just reissued a new collection of their recordings, Keep an Eye on the Sky.
Interview with Colin Firth; Review of Spoon's album "Transference"; Review of the television show "Lost." February 3, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925215].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actor COLIN FIRTH. He was just nominated for Best Actor for his starring role in the film A Single Man. He plays a British college professor in L.A. in 1962 whose long time lover has just died. It's based on 1964 novel by Christopher Isherwood. FIRTH's role as Mr. Darcy in the BBC/A&E production of Pride & Prejudice turned him into a heart-throb. He played a Darcy-like character in the film Bridget Jones's Diary and in the sequel. His other films include Love Actually, Girl with a Pearl Earring, Valmont, Another Country, The English Patient, Shakespeare in Love, and Fever Pitch. FIRTH showed off his writing in a book edited by Nick Hornby, Speaking with the Angel. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Transference the 7th album by the indie band Spoon. Their music has been used by a number of TV shows including Bones, Scrubs, Chuck, and How I Met Your Mother. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews last night's two hour season premiere of 'Lost' and considers the whole phenomenon of the show.

Interview with Aziz Ansari; Interview with Brian Billick. February 4, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925218].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic and actor AZIZ ANSARI (ah-ZEEZ on-SAR-ee). He co-stars on NBC's Parks and Recreation. He also created and starred in the critically acclaimed cult MTV sketch show Human Giant. He also can be seen in the films I Love You Man, Observe and Report, and Funny People. He has a recent Comedy Central standup special Aziz Ansari: Intimate Moments For A Sensual Evening, now on DVD and CD. (2.) Former NFL coach BRIAN BILLICK. He spent nine years as the head coach of the Baltimore Ravens, and led them to the Super Bowl in his second year. Now he is a TV commentator for Fox Sports and the NFL Network. He is also the author of the new book More Than a Game: The Glorious Present and the Uncertain Future of the NFL (Scribner) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TEMPLE GRANDIN, one of the nation's top designers of livestock facilities. She is also autistic. This weekend, HBO premieres Temple Grandin, a feature length biopic starring Claire Danes as Grandin. The film also features Julia Ormond, Catherine O'Hara and David Strathairn. In Grandin's 1995 book, Thinking in Pictures, she described how her inner autistic world led her to develop animal empathy. Grandin is currently a Doctor of Animal Sciences at Colorado State University in Fort Collins and a consultant to the livestock industry. Her newest book is Animals Make Us Human: Creating the Best Life for Animals. It's just out in paperback. Her previous books include Animals in Translation: Using the Mysteries of Autism to Decode Animal Behavior and The Way I See It: A Personal Look at Autism and Asperger's. On today's show, we feature three different interviews Terry conducted with Temple Grandin. The first is from 1995, when her book Thinking in Pictures was published. For more information on Temple Grandin, go to http://www.templegrandin.com. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 11/27/95) (2.) TEMPLE GRANDIN, from 2005. Terry interviewed her at the publication of her book Animals in Translation: Using the Mysteries of Autism to Decode Animal Behavior. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 1/11/05) (3.) TEMPLE GRANDIN, from 2009. This interview took place when Grandin's book Animals Make Us Human: Creating the Best Life for Animals was published. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 1/5/09) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews From Paris With Love, starring John Travolta and Jonathan Rhys Meyers.

Interview with David R. Dow; Review of Empirical's album "Out 'n' In." February 8, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925216].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Attorney DAVID R. DOW. His new book is The Autobiography of an Execution. Dow defends death row inmates in his role as the litigation director at the Texas Defender Service. He is also a professor at the University of Houston Law Center. As an appellate lawyer, he's represented over 100 death row inmates over the past two decades. Dow's book is part memoir and part exploration into the politics of the death penalty. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Out 'n' In, the new CD by the British band Empirical. The album plays a couple tunes by Eric Dolphy and revives the spirit of his 1964 'Out to Lunch' masterpiece.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JANE MAYER covers politics and national security for The New Yorker. She's written about the political battle over how to try Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, and other alleged terrorists. Her current article The Trial is about how Attorney General Eric Holder's choice of a civilian trial for the architect of 9/11 has galvanized Republicans. MAYER is also the author of 'The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned Into a War on American Ideals.' (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Ya-Ka-May, the new album by the funk, jazz and hip hop band Galactic.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAMES LEWIS is a senior fellow at the Center for Strategic & International Studies where he directs the Technology and Public Policy Program. He directed and co-authored the report 'Securing Cyberspace in the 44th Presidency.' Last week top intelligence officials warned the threat is growing of a crippling attack on telecommunications and other computer networks. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter LOUDON WAINWRIGHT the Third. He became a folk singer/songwriter in the late '60s, singing humorous and autobiographical songs. In 1972, on his "Album III" he scored the top-40 hit "Dead Skunk." Since then he's recorded twenty albums. He co-wrote (with Joe Henry) the music for the film "Knocked Up" and also had a role in the film. His recent double album "High Wide and Handsome: The Charlie Poole Project" is a tribute to the old time country banjo player who died in 1931. He sings songs he wrote inspired by Charlie Poole, and 20 songs written by Poole. (REBROADCAST from 8/19/09) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU END OF THE SHOW).

Obituary for Charlie Wilson; Interview with Carol Leifer; Review of Franco's albums "Francophonic February 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925219].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and TV news producer GEORGE CRILE ('CRY-el'). His book, Charlie Wilson's War: The Extraordinary Story of the Largest Covert Operation in History, is about the former Texas congressman Charlie Wilson, who died Wednesday. In the 1980s, from his seat on the House Appropriations Committee, Wilson masterminded a covert effort to arm the Afghan mujahideen as they fought the Soviet Union in Afghanistan. Charlie Wilson's War became a film starring Tom Hanks. CRILE is a veteran producer for CBS's 60 Minutes. (REBROADCAST from 5/13/03) (2.) Congressman CHARLIE WILSON. He died Wednesday at the age of 76 from apparent cardiopulmonary arrest. Wilson was nicknamed Good Time Charlie for his playboy ways; later he became well known for his efforts in the 1980s helping covertly fund and arm the Afghan mujahideen who were fighting the Soviet Union in Afghanistan. He was the subject of the book Charlie Wilson's War which was later made into a film starring Tom Hanks. WILSON left office in 1996 after 24 years in office. (REBROADCAST from 5/13/03) (3.) Stand-up comic, writer, producer CAROL LEIFER ('LEAF-er'). LEIFER's memoir, When You Lie About Your Age, the Terrorists Win: Reflections on Looking in the Mirror, is now out in paperback. Leifer got started in standup in the

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID E. HOFFMAN is the author of 'The Dead Hand: The Untold Story of the Cold War Arms Race and its Dangerous Legacy' (Doubleday). HOFFMAN had access to secret Kremlin documents. He chronicles the Soviet internal deliberations, offers new insight into the roles of Mikhail Gorbachev and President Reagan in halting the arms race, and describes the urgent search for the nuclear and biological hazards left behind after the collapse of the Soviet Union. HOFFMAN is a contributing editor at the Washington Post, where he served as White House correspondent, and Moscow bureau chief. He also the author of 'The Oligarchs: Wealth and Power in the New Russia.' (rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/8/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Routes of Man: How Roads Are Changing the Way We Live Today, by Ted Conover.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Law professor KEN GORMLEY. His new book is The Death of American Virtue: Clinton vs. Starr. He looks into the polarizing events that nearly took down the presidency of Bill Clinton, from the Whitewater investigation, to sex scandals involving Monica Lewinsky and Paula Jones, leading to an impeachment trial. Gormley interviewed key people, including Starr, Clinton, Linda Tripp, and many others, and draws on previously unreleased documents to shed new light on this important chapter in American political history. Gormley is a law professor at Duquesne University, specializing in constitutional law, as well as a nationally renowned expert on Watergate and special prosecutors. He is the author of the critically acclaimed Archibald Cox: Conscience of a Nation. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AHMED RASHID. A frequent guest on Fresh Air, Rashid joins us to talk about the recent capture of Mullah Abdul Ghani Baradar, considered the second most powerful Taliban military commander. The secret operation was carried out jointly by U.S. and Pakistani intelligence. Rashid also talks about unrest in the Marjah region of Southern Afghanistan, a Taliban stronghold that's recently been seen eruptions of violence. Rashid, who is based in Lahore, is the author of several books, including Jihad: The Rise of Militant Islam in Central Asia, Taliban: Militant Islam, Oil, and Fundamentalism in Central Asia and, most recently, Descent into Chaos: The United States and the Failure of Nation Building in Pakistan, Afghanistan, and Central Asia. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a DVD of Twin Spirits, a British music theater piece starring Sting and his wife Trudie Styler. It's about the intense relationship between the composer Robert Schumann and his wife, Clara (Opus Arte label).

Interview with James Cameron; Interview with Adam Shankman. February 18, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925319].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, producer & writer JAMES CAMERON. His epic film Avatar is up for 9 Academy Awards, including Best Director. It's reported to have raked in the biggest worldwide box office gross of all time, surpassing Cameron's previous blockbuster, Titanic. Cameron employed complex special effects and innovative filming techniques to create the live-action science fiction feature about a battle between humans and the alien creatures of the fictional moon Pandora. The film stars Sam Worthington, Zoe Saldana and Sigourney Weaver. Cameron won 3 Oscars for Titanic. His other films include the Terminator series, Aliens, The Abyss, and True Lies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Producer, director & choreographer ADAM SHANKMAN. He's producing and choreographing (and tweeting) this year's 82nd Annual Academy Awards. Shankman got his start as a dancer, and he appeared in music videos for Paula Abdul and Janet Jackson. He's been a judge on the TV program So You Think You Can Dance since season 3. His feature film directing credits include Hairspray, The Wedding Planner and A Walk to Remember. Shankman shares producing credits on the 2010 Oscars with Bill Mechanic, the chairman and CEO of Pandemonium Films. The Academy Awards will air Sunday, March 7, 2010 on ABC.

Interview with Dan Fante; Review of Hot Chip's album "One Life Stand"; Interview with Matt Damon and Steven Soderbergh; Review of the films "The Ghost Writer" and "Shutter Island." February 19, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925320].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and playwright DAN FANTE (FAHN-tay) is a former alcoholic and drug addict. His novels Mooch and Spitting Off Tall Buildings have just been re-issued. Both involve the exploits of his hard-living protagonist and alter-ego Bruno Dante. The Los Angeles Times called his play, The Closer/Boiler Room 'ferociously profane.' His latest novel is called 86'd. His father, John Fante, was also a novelist, and his work was largely rediscovered thanks to the efforts of Charles Bukowski. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/29/09) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews One Life Stand, the new album from the band Hot Chip. (3.) Actor MATT DAMON and DIRECTOR STEVEN SODERBERGH. Their film The Informant! is now out on DVD/Blu-ray. Damon stars in the dark comedy as a rising corporate executive at Archer Daniels Midland who blows the whistle on price fixing, but at the same time, has skewed visions of climbing the corporate ladder. Damon won an Academy Award for his role in Good Will Hunting, and he's appeared in Soderburgh's films Oceans 11, 12 and 13, as well as the Bourne series, The Talented Mr. Ripley, and many other films. Soderburgh is a writer, producer and director for film and TV, who, in addition to his Ocean's films, has dozens of credits. He got his start with the cult indie hit sex, lies and videotape, which was nominated for an Academy Award. His other notable works include the Oscar nominated Erin Brockovich and the Oscar winner Traffic. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/16/09) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Ghost Writer, directed by Roman Polanski and starring Ewan McGregor and the film Shutter Island.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer PAUL BLUMENTHAL. He's the senior writer at the Sunlight Foundation, a think tank that develops and encourages new policies inside the government to make it more open and transparent. He discusses the shadowy connections between the pharmaceutical industry and the government during recent efforts to enact health care reform. (2.) Plastic surgeon GERALD IMBER, MD. His new book Genius on the Edge: The Bizarre Double Life of Dr. William Stewart Halstead. Halsted is considered the father of modern surgery. Halsted practiced in New York in the late 1800s, and was also a morphine addict. Imber talks about Halsted's dual lives, as a physician and an addict, and about the history of nineteenth century American medicine. Imber runs a private clinic in Manhattan, and he is on the staff of the New York-Presbyterian Hospital, and the Weill-Cornell Medical College. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Interview with David Weigel; Commentary on linguistic "pet peeves"; Review of Josh Thompson's album "Way out Here." February 23, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503963].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID WEIGEL (Why-GULL) covers the Republican Party and the remaking of the Right for the online magazine The Washington Independent. He recently covered the Conservative Political Action Conference (CPAC), as well as the National Tea party convention. He's also covered the tea party protests, anti-health care activists, the birthers, and the recent Values Voter summit, sponsored by James Dobson's Family Research Council and other Christian conservative groups. WEIGEL formerly covered national politics for the libertarian magazine Reason, and he's written for Slate, Time.com, Economist.com, The Nation, and The Guardian. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Way Out Here, the country music debut of singer/songwriter Josh Thompson. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers pet peeves.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JEREMY RENNER has been nominated for an Oscar for his performance in the Iraq war thriller The Hurt Locker. He plays a soldier whose job it is to disarm bombs. His other films include The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford, and 28 Weeks Later. And he played the part of Jeffrey Dahmer in the film Dahmer. RENNER is 39 years old and was raised in Modesto, California.

(2.) Scottish actor EWAN ('YOU-in') MCGREGOR. He played Jedi knight Obi-wan Kenobe in three Star Wars films, portrayed a heroin addict in Trainspotting, sang in the film Moulin Rouge, and now plays a ghost writer hired to help the ex-British prime minister rewrite his memoirs in a new thriller by Roman Polanksi called The Ghost Writer. He also plays a gay man in the film I love You Phillip Morris.

(INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor WILLIAM HURT. HURT stars in the film The Yellow Handkerchief, playing an ex-con on the road with two other strangers in post-Katrina Louisiana. The film opens February 26, 2010, but was originally screened at the 2008 Sundance Festival. Hurt received an Academy Award for his performance in the 1985 film Kiss of the Spider Woman, and has been nominated three more times for his roles in the films Children of a Lesser God, Broadcast News, and A History of Violence. His performance in A History of Violence was notable because he made an impression as mob boss Richie Cusack with only ten minutes on screen. HURT has an ongoing role on the FX series Damages. HURT got his first big break in the 1980 film Altered States. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Critic at large John Powers reviews Ajami, an Israeli film written and directed by Scandar Copti.
Interview with Johnny Cash; Interview with Rick Rubin; Review of the film "A Prophet." February 26, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925083].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHNNY CASH discusses his career and memoir. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIR DATE 1997). (2.) Record producer RICK RUBIN. Today marks the 78th birthday of the late Johnny Cash, and the release of the album American VI: Ain't No Grave. Before his death, Cash collaborated with Rubin on a series of recordings for Rubin's American Recordings label. American VI is the last in the series. Rubin is also the co-head of Columbia Records, and got his start as the original DJ of The Beastie Boys, going on to co-found Def Jam Records with Russell Simmons. Rubin, incidentally, soon celebrates his 47th birthday on March 10 2010. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 2/16/2004. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews A Prophet, a French film that won the Grand Prize at the Cannes Film Festival and is nominated for an Academy Award this year.

Interview with Dom Flemons, Rhiannon Giddens and Justin Robinson. March 1, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925277].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The band CAROLINA CHOCOLATE DROPS: DOM FLEMONS, RHIANNON GIDDENS and JUSTIN ROBINSON. They're reviving traditional black string band and jug band music of the 1920s and 30s. They were the first black string band to play at the Grand Ole Opry. They'll perform in the Fresh Air studio. All three trained in the Piedmont banjo and fiddle musical tradition under Joe Thompson, who is 91 and is believed to be the last living performer from the Piedmont stringband heyday. Their first album Dona Got a Ramblin Mind was released in 2007. They've just released their second album Genuine Negro Jig (Nonesuch). They also have a new songbook: Carolina Chocolate Drops Songbook: Twelve Songs to Sing and to Play (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Chloe Sevigny; Interview with Henry Scott. March 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924819].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress CHLOE SEVIGNY (seven-KNEE). She won a Golden Globe this year for her portrayal of Nicki Grant, a wife in a polygamous marriage in the HBO series Big Love. She made her film debut in the 1995 film Kids. But her breakout role was playing Lana in the 1999 film Boys Don't Cry. Her other films include Trees Lounge, Palmetto, The Last Days of Disco, and American Psycho. SEVIGNY is 35. (2.) HENRY SCOTT is the author of the book 'Shocking True Story: The Rise and Fall of Confidential 'America's Most Scandalous Scandal Magazine' (Pantheon). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer SIRI HUSTVEDT (SIR-ee HOOST-vet) is the author of the new book The Shaking Woman or A History of My Nerves (Henry Holt). It's part memoir, part mystery. Two and half years after her father died, HUSTVEDT had a violent seizure while speaking about him in public. The seizures happened again. Her new book is about her search to find a diagnosis which led to her investigation into the new field of neuropsychoanalysis. The neurologist and writer Oliver Sacks says of HUSTVEDT's new book 'Was this 'hysteria,' a 'conversion reaction,' or a 'coincidental' attack of epilepsy? The Shaking Woman is the story?provocative but often funny, encyclopedic but down-to-earth-of her attempt to answer this question.' HUSTVEDT is also the author of the novels The Sorrows of an American, What I Loved, The Enchantment of Lily Dahl, and The Blindfold. She is married to writer Paul Auster. (2.) Comic, actor and writer RICKY GERVAIS ('GER-vaise'). He has a new animated show on HBO (premiered Feb 19th) which is based on the podcasts of him with co-creator Steve Merchant and friend Karl Pilkington. (The podcasts earned a spot in The Guinness Book of World Records for the most downloads.) GERVAIS is best known as the creator and star of the British TV comedy series 'The Office,' which was adapted into a hit show in the US starring Steve Carrell. He also co-created, wrote and starred in HBO's 'Extras' about an out-of-work actor who is struggling to get bit parts. GERVAIS also writes the Flanimals series of children's books. (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI).
Interview with Kelly Kennedy; Obituary for Barry Hannah; Review of the film "Alice in Wonderland." March 4, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925280].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist KELLY KENNEDY is the author of the book They Fought For Each Other: the Triumph and Tragedy of the Hardest Hit Unit in Iraq (St. Martin's Press). It's about Charlie Company which fought insurgents in the worst Baghdad neighborhood in 2007. They suffered so many losses, and were so angry, the men felt they needed a break or else they would end up hurting civilians. So they refused to follow orders and go back in the field. KENNEDY was embedded with the platoon. The book is based on a series of articles KENNEDY wrote for the Army Times. She is also a former soldier. She served during Desert Storm and in Mogadishu, Somalia. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer BARRY HANNAH died Monday at the age of 67. The cause was a heart attack. A native of Mississippi, HANNAH wrote for over thirty years - short stories, and novels set in the South. His writing is described as intensely personal, frenetic and comic. Truman Capote once called him 'the maddest writer in the U.S.A.' His first book, the autobiographical novel 'Geronimo Rex' (published in 1972) won the William Faulkner Prize for writing. He followed that with 'Airships' a collection of short stories now considered a classic. He continued to publish more short story collections and novels. His last collection of stories Sick Soldiers at Your Door (is to be published this year); His His final novel 'Yonder Stands Your Orphan' was published in 2002. HANNAH taught creative writing at the University of Mississippi. (REBROADCAST from 7/31/01). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'Alice in Wonderland' the new film directed by Tim Burton, which is in 3D by Disney.

Interview with James Cameron, Kathryn Bigelow, Quentin Tarantino, Lee Daniels, and Jason Reitman. March 5, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885471].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We feature interviews with each of the five directors nominated for an Academy Award for best film directing: Director, producer & writer JAMES CAMERON. His epic film Avatar is up for nine Academy Awards, including Best Directing and Best Picture. It's reported to have raked in the biggest worldwide box office gross of all time, surpassing Cameron's previous blockbuster, Titanic. Cameron employed complex special effects and innovative filming techniques to create the live-action science fiction feature about a battle between humans and the alien creatures of the fictional moon Pandora. The film stars Sam Worthington, Zoe Saldana and Sigourney Weaver. Cameron won 3 Oscars for Titanic. His other films include the Terminator series, Aliens, The Abyss, and True Lies. (REBROADCAST from 2/18/10). Director KATHRYN BIGELOW and screenwriter MARK BOAL. Their film The Hurt Locker is up for nine Academy Award nominations, including Best Directing and Best Picture. It's a war thriller set in present day Iraq, about an army bomb squad facing danger at every turn. This is Boal's first screenplay. He's a freelancer who also wrote the short story that inspired the film In the Valley of Elah. Boal was imbedded with a bomb squad in Iraq to research the script. Bigelow has worked as a TV and film director. Her films include Point Break, Blue Steel, and K-19: The Widowmaker. She's directed episodes of the TV shows Homicide: Life on the Street, and Wild Palms. (REBROADCAST from 6/24/09). Writer & director QUENTIN TARANTINO. His film 'Inglourious Basterds' blends elements of the spaghetti western with world war two films. It's up for eight Academy award nominations, including Best Directing and Best Picture. It stars Brad Pitt. TARANTINO's other films include 'Reservoir Dogs,' 'Jackie Brown,' 'Pulp Fiction,' and the 'Kill Bill' films. (REBROADCAST from 8/27/09). Film director and producer LEE DANIELS. His movie is Precious: Based on the Novel Push By Sapphire. It's up six Academy Awa Linkous was also a record producer. Sean Michaels, writing in The Guardian, said Linkous was 'a modest and self-deprecating figure [who] left an indelible mark on alternative folk and indie rock.'

Interview with David Walker; Interview with Vince Gilligan. March 9, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925281].

Description of show segment(s)

1. DAVID WALKER is the president and CEO of the Peter G. Peterson Foundation and former head of the Government Accountability Office. As the nation's deficit watchdog, Peterson warns that within 12 years, the largest single federal expense will be interest on our national debt. Walker is the subject of the documentary I.O.U.S.A., about our country's mounting debt and its long term effects on the economy. His most recent book is Comeback America, which outlines a plan to return America to fiscal responsibility and provide for future generations. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

2. TV writer, director and producer VINCE GILLIGAN. He created the AMC cable series Breaking Bad, about a terminally ill high school science teacher who sets up a meth lab to make extra money for his family. The show stars Bryan Cranston. Season 3 of Breaking Bad premieres March 21 2010, and the DVD box set of season two comes out on March 16 2010. Gilligan also worked on the TV shows The X Files and The Lone Gunmen. He wrote the film Hancock, starring Will Smith. (DAVID BIANCULLI interviews)

Interview with Deborah Amos; Review of Johnny Cash's album "American VI March 10, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925255].

Description of show segment(s)

1. NPR Iraq correspondent DEBORAH AMOS. She'll tell us about Sunni exiles who fled the country to a multitude of places including Amman, Jordan and Beirut, Lebanon. Their absence has affected Iraq, because many are middle class professionals. She'll tell us how the exiles are getting by, and in one instance, Amos dressed up as a prostitute to accompany one woman to work. Amos is back with NPR after a decade in television news, appearing on ABC's Nightline and World News Tonight, and the PBS programs NOW with Bill Moyers and Frontline. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress AMY RYAN. She plays a reporter in the new movie Green Zone, starring Matt Damon and directed by Paul Greengrass. It's a conspiracy thriller set in Iraq. Ryan's character is fed misinformation about weapons of mass destruction. On the HBO cable series The Wire, Ryan played a cop. She was also a regular on NBC's comedy series The Office, in which she played an HR person and Michael's girlfriend. Ryan was nominated for a Supporting Actress Oscar for her performance in the 2007 film Gone Baby Gone, a role that garnered critical acclaim.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews The Pacific, a 10 part historical miniseries beginning Sunday night on HBO. It's co-produced by Tom Hanks and Steven Spielberg, and it's a look at the Japanese theater of operations in World War II immediately after the bombing of Pearl Harbor.

Interview with Bart Ehrman; Review of the film "Green Zone." March 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925438].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Religion scholar BART D. EHRMAN (pronounced 'ERR' as in 'BURR'). He chairs the Department of Religious Studies at UNC-Chapel Hill. His book Jesus, Interrupted: Revealing the Hidden Contradictions in the Bible (And Why We Don't Know About Them) is now out in paperback. He is also the author of God's Problem: How the Bible Fails to Answer Our Most Important Question ? Why We Suffer and of the bestseller Misquoting Jesus: The Story Behind Who Changed the Bible and Why. His other books include Peter, Paul, and Mary Magdalene: The Followers of Jesus in History and Legend and Lost Christianities: The Battle for Scripture and the Faiths We Never Knew. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/4/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic
DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Green Zone, starring Matt Damon and directed by Paul Greengrass. The two collaborated previously on the Bourne series.

Interview with Jeffrey Toobin; Review of Hilary Hahn's album "Bach March 15, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925187].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Legal correspondent JEFFREY TOOBIN. He has an article about the Supreme Court in the March 22 2010 edition of The New Yorker magazine. The article begins, 'Supreme Court justices are remembered by their opinions, but they are revealed by their questions.' He'll talk about some of the politicking behind the scenes, how the court will be addressing gun control, and implications of the expected retirement of Justice Stevens, who turns 90 in April. Toobin is a staff writer at The New Yorker, a senior analyst for CNN, and the author of five books. His recent book about our nation's highest court is The Nine: Inside the Secret World of the Supreme Court. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews violinist Hilary Hahn's new disc, Bach: Violin and Voice (on the Deutsche Grammophon label).

Interview with Michael Lewis; Review of the television show "Justified." March 16, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925251].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL LEWIS is the author of the new book The Big Short: Inside the Doomsday Machine (W.W. Norton) about the people who made a fortune by betting against subprime mortgage bonds, and the financial institutions that sold them. He is also the author of the book Moneyball about the winning strategy of Billy Bean and the Oakland A's, and Liar's Poker a lampoon of the culture of greed at Solomon Brothers in the 1980s. LEWIS is a featured contributor at Vanity Fair magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews Justified the new modern-day Western based on stories by Elmore Leonard which premieres tonight on FX. It stars Timothy Olyphant who starred at sheriff Seth Bullock in the HBO Western series Deadwood.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Physicist DAVID ALBRIGHT, author of the new book Peddling Peril: How the Secret Nuclear Trade Arms America's Enemies. It's about how profit is driving nuclear arms proliferation. ALBRIGHT is the founder of the President of the Institute for Science and International Security which investigates and monitors nuclear proliferation. (2.) We rebroadcast rock historian ED WARD's story about the 1970s southern band, Big Star. The leader and founder of the band Alex Chilton has died at the age of 59 from an apparent heart attack. Rhino reissued a new collection of their recordings, Keep an Eye on the Sky. (REBROADCAST from 2/2/2010)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/guitarist ALEX CHILTON died Wednesday at the age of 59 from an apparent heart attack. As a teenager he was a member of the Memphis Band the Box Tops. He was 16 years old when they recorded their hit, the R&B song 'The Letter.' Later with the band 'Big Star' he became a underground hero. After dropping out of sight to kick an alcohol addiction, CHILTON returned to performing. By then many younger bands, REM and The Bangles, considered him a legend. Last year Rhino Records released a collection of Big Star's recordings. (REBROADCAST FROM 05/01/2000) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Runaways about the all-female rock band from the 1970s. (3.) Actor BRYAN CRANSTON. For seven years he played the beleaguered father in the FOX tv show 'Malcolm in the Middle.' He now stars in the AMC show 'Breaking Bad' about a chemistry teacher diagnosed with cancer who begins producing crystal meth to provide for his family after he's gone. It begins season three on Sunday. CRANSTON has appeared on many television shows, and had a recurring role as dentist Tim Whatley on 'Seinfeld.' He has also been in the films 'Saving Private Ryan,' 'Little Miss Sunshine,' and 'That Thing You Do.' (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVID BIANCULLI). (REBROADCAST from 2/6/08) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews Life the new nonfiction nature miniseries that begins Sunday on Discovery Channel, and the season premieres of Breaking Bad on AMC, and Nurse Jackie and The United States of Tara on Showtime.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARYN MCKENNA is the author of the book Superbug: The Fatal Menace of MRSA (Free Press) about the rise of the deadly drug resistant bacterium. MRSA stands for methicillin-resistant Staphylococcus aureus. At first it lurked in hospitals. Now strains of it have gotten out into the community, and the food chain. MCKENNA is a contributing writer at the Center for Infectious Disease Research and Policy at the University of Minnesota. She is also author of the book Beating Back the Devil: On the Front Lines with the Disease Detectives of the Epidemic Intelligence Service. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian EDWARD tells us about a new book of photographs by Michael Abramson taken in Pepper's Hideout and other blues clubs on Chicago's South Side in the 1970s. The book is called Light on the South Side (The Numero Group). There's also a companion record Pepper's Jukebox which he'll review.

Interview with Trey Parker and Matt Stone; Review of Joanna Newsom's album "Have One on Me." March 24, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925007].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATT STONE and TREY PARKER are co-creators of the popular satirical animated series SouthPark on Comedy Central. The show has often sparked controversy: it's taken aim at Tom Cruise and the Church of Scientology, the Mormon leader Joseph Smith, celebrities like Bono and Kanye West, and the film Avatar. It's been protested by organizations from the Catholic League to the Gay & Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation. The show just began its 14th season last week with an episode that spoofed the Tiger Woods sexual scandal. Southpark will mark a milestone on April 14: 200 episodes. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KENTUCKER reviews Have One On Me the new three-disc album by singer-songwriter Joanna Newsom.
Interview with Mark Potok; Review of the DVD release of the film "Bigger than Life." March 25, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925006].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARK POTOK is Director of the Intelligence Report at the Southern Poverty Law Center, the non-profit civil rights organization dedicated to fighting hate and bigotry. The group has just issued a new report, Rage on the Right, about the rise of extremist groups in the past year in the U.S. The report documents the rise of anti-government Patriot groups, nativist groups (vigilante anti-immigration groups), and racist hate groups, and how many of their ideas have infiltrated the mainstream. Rage on the Right is the cover story of the Spring 2010 issue of Center's quarterly journal, Intelligence Report. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic JOHN POWERS reviews Bigger Than Life, a 1956 classic now out on DVD and blu-ray. The film stars James Mason and Barbara Rush, and is directed by Nicholas Ray, who's best remembered for Rebel Without a Cause.

Interview with Michael Schaffer; Interview with Wes Anderson; Review of the film "Greenberg." March 26, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925395].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL SCHAFFER (SHAY-fur). His book, 'One Nation Under Dog: Adventures in the new world of Prozac-Popping Puppies, Dog Park Politics, and Organic Pet Food,' is out in paperback March 30, 2010. Schaffer investigates the extremes to which pet owners are going to care for their pets as equal members of the family. Schaffer is a former staff writer at the Philadelphia Inquirer, U.S. News & World Report and Washington City Paper, and he's freelanced for many other publications. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/1/09) (2.) Film director & writer WES ANDERSON. His film, the stop-animated Fantastic Mr. Fox, is now out on DVD and blu-ray. Based on the Roald Dahl children's book. Fantastic Mr. Fox is Anderson's first animated feature. It was nominated for two Academy Awards. ANDERSON's other films include The Royal Tennenbaums, The Darjeeling Limited, Bottle Rocket and Rushmore. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/23/09) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Greenberg, directed by Noah Baumbach and starring Ben Stiller.
Interview with Tony Judt; Review of Dana Hall's album "Into the Light." March 29, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925572].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian TONY JUDT (pronounced 'jut'). His new book is Ill Fares the Land. It's a critique of the deteriorating social contract in the U-S and Europe. Judt is also known for his acerbic critiques of Israel and US foreign policy. In 2008, Judt was diagnosed with a variation of ALS, also known as Lou Gehrig's disease. Judt describes his rapid deterioration as 'progressive imprisonment without parole.' He now writes by dictation only, as he is confined to a wheelchair without the use of his arms and legs. Judt directs the Remarque Institute at NYU and is the author of Postwar: A History of Europe Since 1945. He is a frequent contributor to the New York Review of Books and the New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic Kevin Whitehead reviews Into the Light from drummer Dana Hall.

Interview with Roxana Saberi; Commentary on the Pledge of Allegiance. March 30, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925381].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Iranian-American journalist ROXANA SABERI (sah-BEER-ee). Her new book is Between Two Worlds: My Life and Captivity in Iran. Saberi was accused of espionage in Iran. She was then imprisoned, interrogated, tried and eventually released. Saberi says she confessed to her crimes in order to get out of jail, but asserts that she did nothing wrong. Her new book is an account of her time in captivity. Saberi was born in New Jersey and Raised in North Dakota. She's reported for ABC Radio, the BBC, Fox News, NPR and PRI. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG looks at the language of the Pledge of Allegiance.
Interview with Judith Shulevitz; Review of the DVD box set "Big Bands, Jazz and Swing." March 31, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925253].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Literary critic JUDITH SHULEVITZ. Her new book is The Sabbath World: Glimpses of a Different Order of Time (Random House). In the book she weaves the histories of the Christian and Jewish Sabbaths, considers its meaning, its comforts and annoyances. And she examines her ambivalence toward the Sabbath. She writes 'The Sabbath is an organizing principle. It is a socially reinforced temporal structure. Either you want to be organized in this way or you don't, or if you're like me, you do and you don't. But if you're like me you can't quite forget what it feels like to have a Sabbath. You can tell when it's missing, even if you don't necessarily miss it.' SHULEVITZ is a former columnist for The New York Times and Slate. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new six-DVD set of short films devoted to big bands, swing and jazz groups. It's called Big Bands, Jazz, and Swing (Warner)

Interview with Toni Colette; Interview with Edward J. Epstein; Review of Wilson Pickett box set "Funky Midnight Mover." April 1, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971502888].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress TONI COLLETTE. She's received an Emmy and a Golden Globe for her performance as Tara Gregson a wife and mother with multiple personalities on the series United States of Tara. The show is currently in its second season on Showtime. Diagnosed with Dissociative Identity Disorder (DID), Tara has four alternate personalities, which include a 1950s housewife, a beer guzzling Vietnam vet, and a teenage girl. COLLETTE was first noticed in the 1994 film Muriels Wedding. Her other films include The Sixth Sense, About a Boy, The Hours, and Velvet Goldmine. COLLETTE lives in Australia, where she was raised. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW). (2.) Investigative journalist EDWARD J. EPSTEIN. His new book The Hollywood Economist: the Reality Behind the Movie Business (Melville House) is about the impact of the digital revolution on Hollywood. He's also the author of 13 other books including The Rise and Fall of Diamonds: the Shattering of a Brilliant Illusion, The Big Picture: Money & Power in Hollywood, and Inquest: the Warren Commission and the Establishment of Truth. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (3.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us about soul singer Wilson Pickett. The new 6 CD box set Funky Midnight Mover collects his Atlantic recordings.

Interview with Faisal Talal, Marwan Riyadh, and Suroosh Alvi; Review of Drive by Truckers' album "To Big To-Do"; Review of the film "Clash of the Titans." April 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971502890].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lead singer FAISAL TALAL (FIE-zel TAL-al) and the drummer MARWAN RIYADH (MAR-wan REE-yad) of Iraqi heavy metal band, Acrassicauda, (pronounced 'Ah-cross-eh-COW-dah') Their name means 'black scorpion' in Latin and is a common scorpion found in Iraq. The band formed under the Saddam Hussein regime, gave their first public performances after he fell, and were silenced again by the insurgents and fundamentalists who sent death threats accusing the band of Satan worship. The band fled to Syria and then traveled to the U.S. They were the subject of the documentary 'Heavy Metal in Baghdad." We also feature an interview with the film's co-director SUROOSH ALVI (sah-ROOSH al-VEE). (REBROADCAST from 3/17/09) [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF.] (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews To Big To-Do the new album by the band Drive By Truckers. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Clash of the Titans the remake of the 1981 film. It stars Liam Neeson and Ralph Fiennes and is in 3-D.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new HBO series Treme created by David Simon (of The Wire) and Eric Overmyer. And he'll remember writer/producer David Mills who died suddenly on the set of Treme last week, of an apparent brain aneurysm. He was 48. Mills had also worked with Simon on The Wire, The Corner, and Homicide. (2.) TV writers and series creators DAVID SIMON and ERIC OVERMYER. They have a new series on HBO called Treme ('tre-MAY'), and it's about musicians and other locals who are rebuilding their lives in post Katrina New Orleans. Simon and Overmyer first met when they worked on the TV series Homicide: Life on the Streets. Simon went on to create the critically

Interview with Captain Richard Phillips; Review of Lionel Shriver's novel "So Much for That."
April 6, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925269].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Merchant Marine CAPTAIN RICHARD PHILLIPS. Last year he was held hostage by pirates in the Indian Ocean after they boarded his ship the Maersk. He was held for four and half days, and was rescued by Navy SEALS who shot and killed three of his captors. He's written the new memoir, A Captain's Duty: Somali Pirates, Navy SEALS, and Dangerous Days at Sea. (with Stephan Talty). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews So Much for That, by Lionel Shriver.

Interview with Frank Meeink; Obituary for Wilma Mankiller. April 7, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925434].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former skinhead FRANK MEEINK ('mink'). His new book, Autobiography of a Recovering Skinhead (as told to Jody M. Roy, Ph.D.), is about Meeink's journey into the neo-Nazi underground and eventual departure from white supremacy. He went to the FBI and told his story after being horrified by the Oklahoma bombing. He later partnered with the Philadelphia Flyers to launch an innovative hate prevention program called Harmony Through Hockey which draws together kids from different cultural backgrounds to learn how to play hockey. He is currently director of fan development for the Iowa Chops hockey team. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (2.) We remember WILMA MANKILLER who died Tuesday at the age of 64. The cause was pancreatic cancer. As Chief of the Cherokee Nation, she was the first woman to lead a major Indian tribe. She held the position from 1985 to 1995. In her book Mankiller: A Chief and Her People (St. Martin's Press, 1993), she wrote about her own life, and about the history of her people. (REBROADCAST from 11/2/93)
Interview with Johnny Gimble; Review of Paul Motian's album "Lost in a Dream" and the album "On Broadway Vol. 5" featuring Paul Motian; Interview with George Prochnik; Commentary on the television program "Twin P April 8, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925264].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music fiddle player JOHNNY GIMBLE is known as the King of the Swing fiddle. The 83 year old has been performing for over six decades. He played fiddle and mandolin with Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys in the 1940's and 50s, and he later became a studio musician in Nashville, recording with Marty Robbins, Merle Haggard, Dolly Parton, Chet Atkins and others. He went on to tour with Willie Nelson, and was in the house band for the TV show Hee-Haw. He's recorded ten solo albums and has won several Country Music Association Instrumentalists of the Year awards. He joins up with fellow musicians Vince Gill, Merle Haggard, Willie Nelson and others on the new CD Celebrating with Friends.

(2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new CD by drummer Paul Motian, Lost in a Dream (ECM) which features him with pianist Jason Moran, and saxophonist Chris Potter, and the recent CD, On Broadway, Vol. 5 which features Paul Motian and his trio 2000+. (3.) GEORGE PROCHNIK ('Proch' like 'crotch') is the author of the new book In Pursuit of Silence: Listening for Meaning in a World of Noise (Doubleday). His new book examines how and why modern society got so noisy and considers what we can do about it. He talks to neuroscientists, acoustical engineers, educators, marketers, monks, and aggrieved citizens. PROCHNIK has written for the New York Times, the Boston Globe, and Cabinet. (4.) Critic-a-large JOHN POWERS considers David Lynch's landmark TV series Twin Peaks which premiered twenty years ago today.

Interview with Reggie Jackson and Bob Gibson; Interview with Bruce Weber; Review of the film "Date Night." April 9, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925435].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Two baseball hall of famers: hitter REGGIE JACKSON and pitcher BOB GIBSON. JACKSON won five World series rings with Oakland and New York and earned the nickname Mr. October for his post-season play. GIBSON was one of the most intimidating pitchers who ever played and he won two championships with the St. Louis Cardinals. Their book Sixty Feet, Six Inches (Doubleday, with Lonnie Wheeler) is based on conversations they had about the classic battle between the hitter and the pitcher. Sixty feet, six inches is the distance between home plate and the pitcher's mound. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (REBROADCAST from 10/12/09) (2.) Journalist BRUCE WEBER. His book As They See `Em ? A Fan's Travels in the Land of Umpires is now out in paperback (Scribners). Weber went to umpire school to learn the finer points of calling a baseball game. Weber has been a reporter for the New York Times since 1986, and often contributes first person essays and participatory features. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 4/9/09) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new comedy Date Night starring Tina Fey and Steve Carrell.

Interview with Peter Wolf. April 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925265].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer-songwriter PETER WOLF. He's just released Midnight Souvenirs his seventh solo album (Verve/UMe) which features him in duet with Merle Haggard, Shelby Lynne, Neko Case and others. Before going solo in 1983, WOLF was the leader of the J. Geils Band whose hits included Centerfold, Freeze Frame, and Love Stinks. His solo album Sleepless was honored by Rolling Stone Magazine as one of the 500 greatest albums of all time. WOLF grew up in the Bronx and comes from a show biz family: his father was in Vaudeville; his grandmother an actress in the Yiddish theatre. He made weekly visits to the Apollo theatre where he saw many R&B performers. As a young man he became friends with many iconic blues musicians, and later he got to know Bob Dylan, Van Morrison, and Janice Joplin. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JEFF SHESOL (SHEH-sol) is the author of the book Supreme Power: Franklin Roosevelt vs. The Supreme Court (W.W. Norton). It's about President Roosevelt's effort in 1937 to reform the Supreme Court by expanding it and adding as many as seven liberal justices. He had become frustrated by the conservative Court which had struck down a series of his New Deal programs. The court had also become widely unpopular. The proposal by Roosevelt died in the Senate and was considered the most devastating defeat he had ever experienced. The episode became known as the 'court-packing' controversy. SHESOL is also the author of Mutual Contempt about the feud between Lyndon Johnson and Robert Kennedy. He was Deputy Chief of Presidential Speechwriting for President Clinton for the last three years he was in office. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews the new DVD of The T.A.M.I. Show filmed in October 1964 at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BARBARA STRAUCH (STRAUK). Her new book The Secret Life of the Grown-Up Brain (Viking) is about new research on the middle-aged brain. She finds that the older brain is more flexible and capable than previously thought. It is better at seeing the bigger picture than a younger brain, at understanding complexity, and at making judgments. And in middle age, people can best stretch and nourish their brain not by learning facts, but by having our perceptions of the world challenged, and being exposed to new ideas and people. In effect, that scrambles the well-trodden paths in our brains synapses. STRAUCH is health and medical science editor at The New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Hotel Iris (Picador) the new novel by the award-winning Japanese writer Yoko Ogawa. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Live! Beg, Borrow & Steal the new live recording from Oct 31, 1981 of the pop band The Plimsouls, led by singer and songwriter Peter Case.

Interview with Jeff Goodell; Review of Sam Newsome's album "Blue Soliloquy April 15, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925331].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JEFF GOODELL [guh-DELL] writes about energy and environmental issues. He is author of the new book How to Cool the Planet: Geoengineering and the Audacious Quest to Fix Earth's Climate
It's about the new weapon against global warming: geo-engineering, (definition by the British Royal Society: 'The deliberate large-scale intervention in the Earth's climate system, in order to moderate global warming.') Scientists, politicians and entrepreneurs are getting involved, with ideas like launching particles into the stratosphere to reflect sunlight. GOODELL is a contributing editor at Rolling Stone. He is also author of the book Big Coal: The Dirty Secret Behind America's Energy Future. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Blue Soliloquy: Solo Works for Soprano Saxophone by Sam Newsome. (3.) Pulitzer prize-winning poet ROBERT HASS (pronounced like the fish 'bass'). He is also a former Poet Laureate, and a National Book Award winner. HASS has a new collection of poems, The Apple Trees at Olema (Ecco Press). And he selected and introduced the poems for the new collection Song of Myself: and other poems by walt Whitman (Counterpoint). HASS won the Pulitzer in 2007 for his collection Time and Materials.

Interview with Catherine Russell; Interview with Ken Emerson; Review of the film "Exit Through the Gift Shop." April 16, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503930].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer CATHERINE RUSSELL. Jazz critic Nat Hentoff has called her 'the real thing.' Her newest album is Inside This Heart of Mine (World Village). Her father, Luis Russell, was Louis Armstrong's musical director. Russell released her debut album, Cat (2006), to rave reviews. Her second album was A Sentimental Streak. (REBROADCAST from 6/11/08) (2.) KEN EMERSON edited a new book of lyrics by the nineteenth century songwriter Stephen Foster. His songs including, "Oh! Susanna," "Camptown Races," and "Jeanie with the Light Brown Hair. The new book is Stephen Foster & Co.: Lyrics of America's First Great Popular Songs (American Poets Project, the Library of America). EMERSON is also the author of the biography Doo-dah!: Stephen Foster and the Rise of American Popular Culture. He says Foster was heavily influenced by black music. And even though the music was often performed in the offensive blackface style, his songs sometimes betray a sympathy for African-Americans. (REBROADCAST from 6/17/97) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary Exit Through the Gift Shop about the world of graffiti and street artists.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former anti-terrorism czar RICHARD CLARKE. He's now sounding the alarm about cyberwar. His new book is Cyber War: The Next Threat to National Security and What to Do About it (Ecco Press). He writes about how the U.S. as well as Russia, China, and many other nations now have Cyber command military organizations with a mission to use information technology and the Internet as a weapon. He depicts the devastating impact of a full-scale cyber attack which could quickly paralyze the nation's infrastructure: shutting down the power grid, and the financial system, and knocking out of orbit weather, navigation, and communication satellites. CLARKE says the U.S. is particularly vulnerable to such an attack. CLARKE worked for the government for 30 years, under several presidents, including Ronald Reagan, the elder George Bush, and Bill Clinton. His 2004 memoir about his years in the government is called Against All Enemies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEXTER FILKINS is a foreign correspondent for The New York Times and has been covering Afghanistan. We'll talk with him about the latest events there. He reported on the Iraq war from March 2003 to August 2006. He received a George Polk award for his coverage of the assault on Fallujah in November 2004. From 2001-2002 he covered the war in Afghanistan. Last year he returned to Afghanistan. FILKINS' book 'The Forever War' about his experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan is now out in paperback. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A rare interview with composer and lyricist STEPHEN SONDHEIM. He turned 80 in March. He learned his craft from Oscar Hammerstein, who was a neighbor and surrogate father to him. There's currently a multimedia revue on Broadway called Sondheim on Sondheim. SONDHEIM'S musicals include 'Company,' 'Follies,' 'A Little Night Music,' and 'Sunday in the Park with George,' 'Sweeney Todd' and 'Assassins.' SONDHEIM also hopes to have a two-volume edition of his complete lyrics sometime this year. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Sarah Silverman; Interview with Duff Wilson; Review of Merle Haggard's album "I am What I am." April 22, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925550].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actress SARAH SILVERMAN. She has a new memoir, The Bedwetter: Stories of Courage, Redemption, and Pee. Her Comedy Central show The Sarah Silverman Show is in its third season. (Thursdays @ midnight). SILVERMAN's one-woman Off-Broadway show Jesus is Magic was made into a film. Silverman's satire is ribald and rude, controversial, and almost nothing is off limits with jokes about September 11th, AIDS and the Holocaust. Silverman has also appeared in a number of films including 'The Aristocrats,' 'School of Rock' and 'There's Something About Mary.' She was a cast member of Saturday Night Live for the 1993-4 season. (2.) DUFF WILSON is an investigative reporter with The New York Times where he covers the tobacco industry. Last summer Congress enacted a sweeping new tobacco regulation law. He'll discuss the impact of the regulations, and how tobacco companies are developing new smokeless, and spitless tobacco products. (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews I am What I am the new album by 83-year old country star Merle Haggard.
Interview with James Cameron; Review of the film "No One Knows About Persian Cats"; Obituary for Dede Allen; Review of the film "Handsome Harry." April 23, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925106].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, producer & writer JAMES CAMERON. His epic film Avatar is reported to have raked in the biggest worldwide box office gross of all time, surpassing Cameron's previous blockbuster, Titanic. It won Academy awards for art direction, cinematography, and visual effects. Cameron employed complex special effects and innovative filming techniques to create the live-action science fiction feature about a battle between humans and the alien creatures of the fictional moon Pandora. The film stars Sam Worthington, Zoe Saldana and Sigourney Weaver. Cameron won three Oscars for Titanic. His other films include the Terminator series, Aliens, The Abyss, and True Lies. (REBROADCAST from 2/18/10) (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews No One Knows About Persian Cats the new 'thinly fictionalized' film about Tehran's underground music scene by Bahman Gohbadi. (3.) Film editor DEDE ALLEN died Saturday at the age of 86. She apparently had suffered a stroke. She was known for her staccato style of editing. She edited the films The Hustler, Bonnie And Clyde, Serpico, Dog Day Afternoon, The Wonder Boys and many others. Her Hollywood career began in the 1940's as an apprentice editor. She was one of the highest paid and one of the top five film editors in the business. She was nominated three times for Academy awards. (REBROADCAST from 11/21/00) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Handsome Harry by director Bette Gordon.

Interview with Wilbert Rideau; Review of anthologies of Panamanian pop music. April 26, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925086].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and former inmate WILBERT RIDEAU (ree-DOE). He was released from prison in 2005 after serving 44 years. An eighth-grade dropout, he was sent to the Louisiana State Penitentiary, Angola, in 1961 for killing a woman during a botched bank robbery. RIDEAU was 19. He spent eleven years on death row, where he taught himself to write. His sentence was commuted to life. In 1975 he became editor-in-chief of the prison news magazine "The Angolite. The paper soon became known for its investigations into stories of abuse by guards and inmates alike. "The Angolite" won a number of awards including the Sidney Hillman Award, the George Polk award, and the Robert F. Kennedy Award for Outstanding Coverage of the Problems of the Disadvantaged. Several wardens vouched for RIDEAU's complete rehabilitation; his case was reopened and he was let go with time served in 2005. He now lives in Baton Rouge. He has a new memoir, In the Place of Justice: A Story of Punishment and Deliverance. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Music historian MILO MILES talks about '60s and '70s vintage pop in Panama, now available on a series of anthologies, Panama!, Panama! 2 and Panama! 3, on the Sound Way label.

Interview with Ken Auletta; Interview with Oliver Platt. April 27, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925062].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and author KEN AULETTA. He writes about the business of eBooks in the April 26 2010 issue of the New Yorker. His article is titled 'Publish or Perish: Can the iPad topple the Kindle, and save the book business?' Auletta reports that eBooks are booming, and while 'they account for only an estimated three to five percent of the market, their sales increased a hundred and seventy-seven percent in 2009.' Publishers, however, are concerned that eBooks will cut dwindling profits even further. Auletta will tell us how eBooks change the way we choose, buy and read, and the effect on the publishing industry, which is going through changes similar to the music business. Auletta writes the Annals of Communications column in the New Yorker magazine, and his most recent book is Googled, which is available as an eBook, as well as traditional hardcover. (2.) Actor OLIVER PLATT. He stars in the new indie film Please Give, which premieres in New York tonight at the Tribeca Film Festival. Written and directed by Nicole Holofcener, Platt plays a co-owner (with Katherine Keener) of a trendy New York vintage furniture store. The film is about death, materialism, guilt and adultery (and not necessarily in that order). Platt has had many roles on stage and screen. His feature film credits include 2012, Frost/Nixon, Married to the Mob, and Indecent Proposal. His TV credits include Bored to Death, Nip/Tuck, The West Wing and Huff. He was also a producer on Stanley Tucci's film Big Night.
Interview with Hampton Sides; Interview with Stephanie Nakasian. April 28, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925071].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer HAMPTON SIDES. His new book is Hellhound on His Trail: The Stalking of Martin Luther King, Jr. and the International Manhunt for His Assassin. It's about James Earl Ray, the man who was convicted of killing King. Sides is Editor at Large for Outside Magazine and author of the books Blood and Thunder and Ghost Soldiers. (DAVE DAVIES interview. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz singer STEPHANIE NAKASIAN. She's just released a new CD titled The Classic Songs of Billie Holiday, with tracks such as No Regrets, These Foolish Things, and What a Little Moonlight Can Do. She is frequently on tour and sings on the jazz festival circuit. She's often a guest on public radio programs including Jazz Set and Riverwalk. Nakasian's husband and collaborator Hod O'Brien plays piano with her backing seven piece band on the album. She's also written a manual for vocal jazz called It's not on the page: How to Integrate Jazz & Jazz Rhythm into Choral & solo Repertoire. You can find more info about Nakasian, her book and CD, and a link to her tour schedule at http://www.stephanienakasian.com.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor SEAN HAYES. He's currently starring in the Broadway revival of Promises, Promises, alongside Kristin Chenoweth. Hays is best known for his role as Jack on the TV series Will & Grace, for which he won an Emmy, multiple SAG Awards, and an American Comedy Award. His film credits include The Bucket List, the made for TV movie Martin & Lewis, Cats & Dogs and his debut in Billy's Hollywood Screen Kiss. (2.) Former Poet Laureate ROBERT HASS. He joins us for the second time this month. On today's show we discuss his new volume of work, The Apple Trees at Olema: New and Selected Poems. It's a collection of new work along with poems from previous books. A few weeks ago, Hass was on Fresh Air speaking to Terry about the unexpected death of his younger brother and the poem he wrote about his brother's death. HASS was awarded the Pulitzer Prize and was the United States Poet Laureate from 1995 to 1997. His books include Time and Materials, Praise, and Field Guide. In addition to the Pulitzer, Hass has received many other accolades, including the National Book Award and a MacArthur Fellowship.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veteran journalist BILL MOYERS is retiring after forty years in the business. This is actually his second attempt. In 2004 he retired; but a few years later he returned with Bill Moyers Journal on PBS. The final broadcast of his Journal will air Friday, April 30th. We rebroadcast excerpts of our interviews with MOYERS over the years. (REBROADCAST from 5/13/04, 10/11/96, and 4/23/07) (CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews a new CD/DVD set of musical political satirist Tom Lehrer whose topical songs from the 1960s include Pollution and The Vatican Rag. It's called The Tom Lehrer Collection (from the Shout Factory) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Please Give the new film written and directed by Nicole Holofcener, co-starring Catherine Keener & Oliver Platt.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists WENDY RUDERMAN & BARBARA LAKER were recently awarded the 2009 Pulitzer Prize for Investigative Journalism for their series of reports ('Tainted Justice') in the Philadelphia Daily News about police corruption in Philadelphia. Their investigation into a veteran narcotics cop and his informant who fabricated evidence so that police could obtain warrants to enter homes and make arrests, led to an FBI investigation and the dismissal of many of the officers' drug cases, and the chance at freedom for a number of people who were wrongfully convicted. RUDERMAN & LAKER also investigated a group of rogue narcotics cops who disabled surveillance cameras during raids of bodegas and mom & pop stores for tiny ziplock bags, considered drug paraphernalia. After the cameras were disabled the cops took thousands of dollars in cash and merchandise. The two journalists also investigated narcotics cops who fondled and groped women during drug raids. Ironically, the fate of such local investigative reporting and of the Philadelphia Daily News is now in jeopardy. Creditors of the Daily News and the Philadelphia Inquirer just bought the papers in a bankruptcy auction. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new biography of Henry Luce by Alan Brinkley: The Publisher: Henry Luce and His American Century (Knopf)

---

Interview with Gretchen Morgenson; Obituary for Lynn Redgrave. May 4, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925294].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GRETCHEN MORGENSON will discuss the investigations into Goldman Sachs by the Securities & Exchange Commission, the Justice Department and a Senate subcommittee and consider the role Goldman played in the financial crisis. Goldman Sachs has been accused of defrauding investors. MORGENSON is assistant business and financial editor and a columnist at the New York Times. She has covered the world financial markets for the Times since May 1998 and won the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for her "trenchant and incisive" coverage of Wall Street. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember actress LYNN REDGRAVE who died Sunday at the age of 67. The cause was cancer. She was part of the celebrated British acting family that included her father Michael Redgrave and her sister Vanessa. (REBROADCAST from 10/28/86)

---

Interview with Burt Bacharach and Hal David; Interview with Randy Frost and Gail Steketee. May 5, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925217].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer BURT BACHARACH & lyricist HAL DAVID. The two teamed up to create many of the popular hits of the 1960s. In 1968 they wrote the music and lyrics for the musical Promises, Promises which has just been revived on Broadway. It was their only Broadway musical. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) RANDY O. FROST and GAIL STEKETEE are the authors of the book 'Stuff: Compulsive Hoarding and the Meaning of Things' (Houghton Mifflin). The two have spent nearly 20 years working with hoarders. FROST is a psychologist and professor at Smith College, and STEKETEE is a professor and dean of the school of social work at Boston University.

Interview with Howard Fischer; Interview with David Rohde. May 6, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503971].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist HOWARD FISCHER has been covering Arizona state government since 1982. He'll discuss Arizona's new immigration law, and other recent controversial bills passed in the state, like the ones allowing Arizonans to carry concealed weapons without a permit, and bans on certain ethnic studies programs. FISCHER reports for Capital Media Services; and his reports can be heard on KNAU, Arizona Public Radio. (2.) Journalist DAVID ROHDE ('ROAD') is currently on leave from The New York Times. He'll discuss the latest about the Times Square attempted bombing suspect, who - officials now believe - may have been trained by the Pakistani Taliban. ROHDE was part of the paper's team that won a Pulitzer Prize last year for their reporting from Pakistan and Afghanistan last year. Over a year ago, ROHDE, his driver, and another local Afghan reporter were kidnapped by the Taliban. After over seven months in captivity ROHDE and Luddin escaped. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with Sharon Jones and Gabriel Roth; Interview with LeBron James; Review of the film "Iron Man 2." May 7, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503437].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer SHARON JONES and producer GABRIEL 'BOSCO MANN' ROTH. JONES heads the old-school Funk and Soul band Sharon Jones & the Dap-Kings. Their new album is called I Learned the Hard Way. ROTH is a producer, songwriter, and cofounder of Daptone Records, the label behind Sharon Jones and her band. He's also the band's bass player. They've been touring and recording since 2005. More info on the band, touring dates, and the record label can be found at http://www.daptonerecords.com/. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/28/07. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Basketball player LEBRON JAMES. He's won this year's MVP, on the heels of last year's award. Currently, his team, the Cleveland Cavaliers, is in the playoffs. At age 18, James was signed as a number one pick with the Cleveland Cavaliers and signed a $90 million contract with Nike before his national debut. His high school games got so much attention that some were broadcast on ESPN. James has won many awards, including Rookie of the Year in 2004, and has been an All-NBA and All-Star every year since 2005. James' autobiography, Shooting Stars, is co-authored by Buzz Bissinger (Friday Night Lights). It's about his childhood and high school years. James has played on the USA National Team at the Olympics, and has consistently led the Cavaliers to the playoffs every year since 2006. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/9/09) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Iron Man 2, starring Robert Downey Jr., Don Cheadle and Scarlett Johansson.

---

Interview with Daniel Okrent; Review of the DVD release of the television show "The Lord Peter Wimsey Mysteries, Set 1." May 10, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959923617].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer DANIEL OKRENT (OAK-rent). His new book is Last Call: The Rise and Fall of Prohibition. It's about the factors that led to the creation of prohibition laws, and the eventual demise of the movement. Okrent's previous books are Public Editor #1, about Okrent's job as the New York Times' first public editor, Great Fortune, about Rockefeller Center, and 9 Innings: The Anatomy of a Baseball Game. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at Large JOHN POWERS reviews a new DVD set of a popular BBC series from the 1970s?The Lord Peter Wimsey Mysteries, Set 1.

---

Interview with Ian Brown; Review of Loudon Wainwright III's CD box set "40 Odd Years." May 10, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462263].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Canadian journalist IAN BROWN. He writes for the Canadian newspaper The Globe and Mail, and is moderator of CBC radio's Talking Books. BROWN's new memoir is The Boy in the Moon: A Father's Journey to Understand His Extraordinary Son (St. Martin's press). It's about his now 15 year-old son Walker who was born with a rare disorder that left him with severe cognitive, developmental and physical disabilities. He can't speak and requires a feeding tube and diapers. In the book BROWN ponders the meaning of Walker's existence, his impact on them, and wonders what the world would be like without imperfect people like Walker. BROWN's memoir has been awarded the Charles Taylor Prize for Literary Non-fiction, and British Columbia's National Award for Canadian non-fiction. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new box-set career retrospective of Loudon Wainwright III, 40 Odd Years. It contains 4 CDs and one DVD.

Interview with Spencer Ackerman; Review of Jimmy Donley's album "The Shape You Left Me In." May 11, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924813].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SPENCER ACKERMAN writes about security issues for the Washington Independent. He's back from two weeks at the Guantanamo Bay detainment camp, covering the case of Omar Khadr, who was just 15 when he was arrested in Afghanistan and sent to Guantanamo Bay for interrogation as a terror suspect. His preliminary hearing just ended, and the next step will be the first military trial of Gitmo detainees under the Obama Administration. Ackerman was formerly an associate editor at The New Republic magazine, and he writes the Attackerman blog at http://attackerman.firedoglake.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian EDWARD tells us about the rockabilly singer songwriter Jimmy Donley. Most of his recordings have been reissued by Bear Family.

Interview with Doug Glanville; Interview with Rodrigo Garcia. May 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925065].

Description of show segment(s) recently directed 21 episodes of the first season of HBO's In Treatment. He's also directed for the series Six Feet Under and The Sopranos.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JOHN SEABROOK. He writes in the March 10, 2010 issue of The New Yorker (The Last Baby Lift) about the history of international adoption and his and his wife's experiences with it. They were in the process of adopting a baby girl from Haiti when the country was hit by the massive earthquake in January. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Solo Piano (ECM) the mini-box reissue of Chick Corea's which includes his albums from 1971 and 1983: Improvisations 1 & 2 and Children's Songs.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GAIL LUMET BUCKLEY is a journalist and the daughter of singer Lena Horne. Lena Horne died Sunday at the age of 92. BUCKLEY is the author of the book The Hornes about her family history which became an American Masters documentary. BUCKLEY has written for the Los Angeles Times, Vogue, the New York Daily News, and The New York Times. She lives in New York. (REBROADCAST from 11/25/1986) (2.) Actor WOODY HARRELSON. His film The Messenger comes out on DVD next week. It's about soldiers who visit family members to tell them a loved one has died in combat. His other films include No Country for Old Men, The Thin Red Line, The People vs. Larry Flynt, Natural Born Killers, and White Men Can't Jump. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (REBROADCAST from 11/10/09 and 11/16/09). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film directed by Rodrigo Garcia, Mother & Child.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PETER GLEICK ('GLICK') is a scientist and fresh water expert, and has received a MacArthur Fellowship for his work on water issues. His new book is 'Bottled & Sold: The Story Behind our Obsession with Bottled Water.' He writes that he believes that bottled water is 'a symptom of a larger set of issues: the long-term decay of our public water systems, inequitable access to safe water around the world, our susceptibility to advertising and marketing, and a society trained from birth to buy, consume and throw away.' GLEICK is President of the Pacific Institute in Oakland, California. (2.) Jazz pianist HANK JONES. He died yesterday at the age of 91. Jones influenced several generations of pianists. He outlived his younger brothers, drummer Elvin Jones (1927-2004) and trumpeter Thad Jones (1923-1986). He was born in Vicksburg, Mississippi and raised in Pontiac, Michigan. Jones arrived in New York in 1944, and quickly became a key figure in be-bop, working with all the jazz greats, including Coleman Hawkins, Charlie Parker, Ella Fitzgerald and John Coltrane. (REBROADCAST from 6/20/05)

Interview with Scott Shane; Review of The Mynabirds' album "What We Lose in the Fire We Gain in the Flood." May 18, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925061].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT SHANE is a National Security correspondent for The New York Times. He's been writing about an American-born Muslim cleric Anwar al-Awlaki whose militant online lectures have inspired the recent Times Square bomber and the Army psychiatrist who killed thirteen people at Fort Hood. Al-Awlaki who had mosques in San Diego and Virginia was once considered a moderate. Now he is hiding in Yemen and has been targeted for killing by the C.I.A. He is the first American citizen on the agency's hit list. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews What We Lose in the Fire We Gain in the Flood, the debut album by the band The Mynabirds.
Interview with Laura Ling and Lisa Ling; Review of Dominique Browning's memoir "Slow Love." May 19, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924398].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Sisters LAURA and LISA LING. Last year Laura Ling and her colleague Euna Lee were captured while on the Chinese-North Korean border and charged with trespassing and 'hostile acts.' They were filming a documentary about North Korean defectors. The two were sentenced to twelve years hard labor. Laura's sister Lisa, a journalist, started a campaign to free Ling and Lee. Eventually former President Bill Clinton acted as envoy and went to North Korea to secure their release. The LINGS have collaborated on a new book Somewhere Inside: One Sister's Captivity in North Korea and the Other's Fight to Bring her Home. (William Morrow). LAURA LING was vice of Current TV's investigative journalism series, Vanguard. LISA LING is a correspondent for the Oprah Winfrey show and a contributor to ABC's Nightline. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new memoir Slow Love: How I Lost My Job, Put on My Pajamas & Found Happiness by Dominique Browning, the former editor-in-chief of House & Garden.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FATHER GREG BOYLE. He is a Jesuit Priest who has worked with gang members in Los Angeles since 1986. He's also the founder and executive director of Homeboy Industries, an anti-gang program which employs and is run by ex-gang members. They produce merchandise and run a bakery and cafes. Their motto is 'Nothing Stops a Bullet Like a Job.' Recently FATHER GREG has had to lay off over 300 of his employees because of financial problems. His new book is Tattoos on the Heart: The Power of Boundless Compassion. Their website is www.homeboy-industries. [This interview continues in the second half.] (2.)Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Clarinetwork: Live at the Village Vanguard,' the new album by Anat (on-OTT) Cohen. She's a saxophonist, but has concentrated on clarinet in recent years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Creator of the TV series Law & Order DICK WOLF. Last week NBC announced it would be canceling the series after 20 years on the air. It's the longest running drama on network television. The 'ripped from the headlines' half cop/half law show also inspired: Law & Order: Special Victims Unit and Law & Order: Criminal Intent. (REBROADCAST from 10/22/03). Actor JERRY ORBACH. He played Detective Donnie Briscoe on Law and Order. He died in 2004 at the age of 69. Orbach also had a long and storied career on Broadway, winning a Tony for his role in Promises, Promises, and appeared in many hit shows including The Fantastiks, Guys & Dolls, and Chicago. He was in many films including Crimes and Misdemeanors, Prince of the City, and Dirty Dancing. (REBROADCAST from 11/21/89). Actress S. EPATHA MERKERSON (pronounced 'ESS ee-PAY-thah MER-ker-son'). Most T-V viewers know her as Lt. Anita Van Buren on Law and Order. She was the longest running character in the series. She won the triple crown of television awards, with an Emmy, a Golden Globe, and a Screen Actor's Guild award for her performance in the HBO special Lackawanna Blues. Merkerson also played Reba the Mail Woman on the T-V series Pee-Wee's Playhouse. Other screen credits include Jersey Girl, Terminator II, and Jacob's Ladder. (REBROADCAST from 2/13/06) (2.) We commemorate the centennial of the birth of band leader and clarinetist ARTIE SHAW. He would have been 100 years old on May 23, 2010. In the 1930s and 40s his band ranked with the Goodman, Dorsey, and Miller bands in popularity. But he rejected many of the pop tunes and stuck with music by composers like Porter, Gershwin, and Berlin. He died in 2005 at the age of 94. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST - 1985). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary The Oath about Osama bin Laden's former bodyguard, Abu Jandal, and Salim Hamdan, Bin Laden's driver who spent years jailed at Guantanamo.
Interview with Howard Gordon; Review of the finale of the television show "Lost"; Review of three recordings by Pierre Boulez. May 24, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925125].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) HOWARD GORDON is the executive producer of FOX TV's 24. After eight years the show will air it's final episode Monday, May 24th. The show stars Keifer Sutherland as U.S. government agent Jack Bauer. It premiered shortly after 9/11. Previously GORDON wrote for Josh Whedon's Angel. (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the final episode of Lost which aired last night on ABC. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews new recordings by composer conductor Pierre Boulez on the occasion of his 85th birthday.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has just returned from the Cannes film festival. He'll talk about the movies he saw there, and how it was different from past Cannes film festivals. He'll talk about the Palme D'Or winner, a Thai film entitled Uncle Boonmee who Can Recall His Past Lives, and Of Gods and Men, a French film that won the Grand Prix. (2.) Journalist AMY SCHATZ ('SHOTS') covers the FCC and technology policy for The Wall Street Journal. She'll discuss the battle between the telecom industry, internet companies and FCC over regulating internet traffic. Current communications laws are so old that they cannot possibly cover current and future internet usage, but that's the wave of the future, and the way most consumers will be accessing all kinds of data, including voice, internet, movies and so forth. In March of this year, the FCC released its National Broadband Policy. This is on the heels of a court battle about net neutrality between Comcast and the FCC, which Comcast won. In the ruling, the Supreme Court did not say that blocking or capping internet access was right. The decision, rather, was based on the idea that the FCC could not regulate principles, only rules. These rules do not yet exist. The FCC hopes to go forward and create laws that prevent private companies from discriminating against the kinds of information that people can receive.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor WALTON GOGGINS. He plays a white supremacist named Boyd Crowder on the FX series Justified, which was recently renewed for a second season. Goggins has been promoted to a series regular after occupying a frequent guest slot on the show. Goggins was also on the acclaimed series The Shield. Justified was the most watched series premiere in the network's history. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Love and Its Opposite the third solo album by Tracey Thorn best known for her part in the British duo Everything But the Girl. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Private Life (Knopf) the new book by Jane Smiley.

Interview with Billie Joe Armstrong; Review of the album "Louie and the Lovers May 27, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924687].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BILLIE JOE ARMSTRONG is the lead singer and lyricist for the punk-rock band Green Day. Their 7th album American Idiot (released in 2004) has become the basis for the new Broadway show of the same name, which is nominated for a Tony Award for Best Musical this year. It's about a disaffected suburban kid looking for meaning in the post-911, Bush administration era. ARMSTRONG collaborated with director Michael Mayer on the libretto. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian Ed Ward reviews Louie and the Lovers: the Complete Recordings. The band, headed up by Louie Ortega, made the album Rise in 1970, but it was shelved for a while, and when finally released, never went anywhere. This new CD set is the original album plus a selection of single tracks, as well as a second album that was never released.
Interview with Trey Parker and Matt Stone; Review of the film "Sex and the City 2." May 28, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924686].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATT STONE and TREY PARKER are co-creators of the popular satirical animated series South Park on Comedy Central. The show has often sparked controversy: It has taken aim at Tom Cruise and the Church of Scientology, the Mormon leader Joseph Smith, celebrities like Bono and Kanye West, and the film Avatar. It's been protested by organizations from the Catholic League to the Gay & Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation. The show is in its 14th season last week with an episode that spoofed the Tiger Woods sexual scandal. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/24/10. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Sex and The City 2.

Interview with Kelly Kennedy; Interview with Tim O'Brien; Interview with Jehanne Dubrow. May 31, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925278].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist KELLY KENNEDY is the author of the book They Fought For Each Other: the Triumph and Tragedy of the Hardest Hit Unit in Iraq (St. Martin's Press; comes out in paperback in October). It's about Charlie Company which fought insurgents in the worst Baghdad neighborhood in 2007. They suffered so many losses, and were so angry, the men felt they needed a break or else they would end up hurting civilians. So they refused to follow orders and go back in the field. KENNEDY was embedded with the platoon. The book is based on a series of articles KENNEDY wrote for the Army Times. She is also a former soldier. She served during Desert Storm and in Mogadishu, Somalia. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/4/10) (2.) Novelist TIM O'BRIEN. His classic Vietnam war book The Things They Carried has been republished in a 20th anniversary edition. He's also the author of the Vietnam memoir, If I die in a Combat Zone, published in 1973. His 1979 novel Going After Cacciato was praised for its depiction of the Vietnam War (REBROADCAST from 3/22/90) (3.) Poet JEHANNE DUBROW is a military wife. She is the author of a new collection of poems entitled Stateside. It includes a forward by Pulitzer Prize winning poet Ted Kooser. We invited Dubrow to read 3 short poems, and tell us about them. She teaches creative writing at Washington College in Chestertown, Maryland. Dubrow is the author of two previous poetry collections, The Hardship Post and From the Fever-World.

Interview with Samantha Bee; Interview with Laura Poitras. June 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924756].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian SAMANTHA BEE. Her new book is called I Know I Am, But What Are You? It's a collection of personal essays. Bee is The Most Senior correspondent on Comedy Central's The Daily Show with Jon Stewart, and she's also the only Canadian correspondent. She got her start as one of the founders of the comedy troupe the Atomic Fireballs, based in Toronto. Bee joined the cast of The Daily Show in 2003. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Filmmaker LAURA POITRAS (POY-TRAS). Her new documentary The Oath tells the intertwined stories of two men: one was Osama Bin Laden's bodyguard, who is now driving a taxi in Yemen. The other was Bin Laden's driver who became the first prisoner detained at Gitmo to face trial by Military Commission. The Oath is the second in a trilogy of films POITRAS is making. Her previous documentary My Country, My Country about the U.S. occupation in Iraq, was nominated for an Academy Award.

Interview with John Waters; Review of historical summer reads; Review of Elizabeth Cook's album "Welder." June 3, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925110].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Cult filmmaker JOHN WATERS. His new book 'Role Models' is a collection of essays about people who have inspired him. The essays include paeans to famous figures like Johnny Mathis and Little Richard, as well as Outsider Porn filmmakers and people he's met drinking in Baltimore bars. Waters has made many films since the 1970's including 'Pink Flamingos' and 'Hairspray.' [This interview continues in the second half.] (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN shares four books on her summer reading list. They include 'Young Romantics' by Daisy Hay, 'The Great Lover' by Jill Dawson, 'Twilight at the World of Tomorrow' by James Mauro, and '97 Orchard' by Jane Ziegelman. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album 'Welder' by country singer and songwriter Elizabeth Cook.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist AYELET (I-YELL-et) WALDMAN is the author of seven Mommy-Track mysteries (the latest is 'Bye-Bye Black Sheep'). She is also the author of the novels 'Daughter's Keeper' and 'Love and Other Pursuits.' WALDMAN caused controversy five years ago when she wrote in an essay that she loved her husband more than her children. Waldman's husband is the writer Michael Chabon. She writes about her experiences as a mother and wife in her memoir 'Bad Mother: A Chronicle of Maternal Crimes, Minor Calamities, and Occasional Moments of Grace' (Anchor). It's out now on paperback. WALDMAN's new novel, 'Red Hook Road' (Doubleday) will be released in July. [This interview continues in the second half of the show.] (2.) Singer-Songwriter PAUL MCCARTNEY. This week he received the Gershwin Prize for Popular Song. It's the highest honor given by the American government for pop music. We'll listen back to Terry's 2001 interview with the former Beatle. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new sci-fi horror film 'Splice.' The film stars Adrien Brody and Sarah Polley.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember actor DENNIS HOPPER. He died Saturday at the age of 74, from complications from prostate cancer. In 1955 he made his film debut in Rebel Without a Cause, and next appeared in the western epic Giant. Hopper directed, co-wrote, and starred in the 60's classic, Easy Rider. His other films include Blue Velvet, Rivers Edge, and Hoosiers. Hopper was born May 17, 1936 in Dodge City, Kansas and he trained for the stage in San Diego. In addition to acting, Hopper has directed film and written screenplays. (MORE INTERVIEWS WITH HOPPER IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 10/10/90, AND 4/1/96)
Interview with Gary Rivlin; Review of John Prine's album "In Person & On Stage" and the album "Broken Hearts and Dirty Windows." June 7, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924757].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GARY RIVLIN. His new book is about the flourishing poverty industry: how subprime lenders, check cashers and payday lenders, rent-to-own companies, and pawn brokers are taking advantage of the poor. His book is Broke, USA: From Pawnshops to Poverty, Inc ? How the Working Poor Became Big Business (Harper). RIVIN is also the author of Fire on the Prairie: Drive By (a New York Times Notable Book of the Year). His articles have appeared in the New York Times Magazine, GQ, Salon, Newsweek and Wired. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews two albums, one by and the other a tribute to singer-songwriter John Prine: In Person & On Stage, a collection of his concert performances; and Broken Hearts and Dirty Windows a tribute album by admirers like Josh Ritter and the bands My Morning Jacket and the Drive By Truckers.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LINDA GREENLAW is the nation's only female captain of a swordfish boat who first wrote about swordfishing in the 1999 bestselling book Hungry Ocean. Her boat then, the Hannah Boden, was the sister ship to the doomed Andrea Gail, which disappeared in an epic 1991 storm and whose story was told in the book The Perfect Storm. GREENLAW was the last person to hear from the crew. She returned to fishing swordfish last year after ten years away. Her new book is Seaworthy: A Swordboat Captain Returns to the Sea. (Viking) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Pulitzer-prize winning journalist MICHAEL HILZIK is the author of the new book Colossus: Hoover Dam and the Making of the American Century (Free Press). He's been a staff writer for the Los Angeles Times for more than 20 years. He currently writes the twice-weekly column Golden State for the paper.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian JOAN RIVERS. She stars in a new documentary called 'Joan Rivers: A Piece of Work.' It chronicles a year in her life; performing stand-up comedy, making television appearances, and trying hard to keep her work schedule filled. The documentary premiered in May. RIVERS has recently appeared on the TV series 'Celebrity Apprentice,' and 'How'd You Get So Rich,' and was roasted in a Comedy Central special. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE 2nd HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV CRITIC DAVID BIANCULLI reviews True Blood, which starts its third season this weekend on HBO. The vampire series was created by Alan Ball. More info at http://www.hbo.com/true-blood.

Interview with Abrahm Lustgarten; Interview with Josh Fox. June 10, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924231].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ProPublica Reporter ABRAHM LUSTGARTEN ('AH-brom'). His ProPublica article co-published with the Washington Post, co-written with Ryan Knutson, reveals that reports issued internally at BP found significant problems and warned of future potential accidents. Lustgarten gained access to internal documents and emails pointing to BP's repeated disregard for safety and environmental regulations. The documents 'described instances in which management flouted safety by neglecting aging equipment, pressured employees not to report problems and cut short or delayed inspections to reduce production costs.' Lustgarten has been writing about BP for ProPublica, http://www.propublica.org/site/author/Abrahm_Lustgarten. Lustgarten is a former staff writer and contributor for Fortune, and has written for Salon, Esquire, the Washington Post and the New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES LATER IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Documentary filmmaker JOSH FOX. His film is Gasland. Fox owns land in Pennsylvania, where natural gas drilling is underway. He goes on a 24 state investigation to find out what happens to residents whose land is used for drilling, and discovers flammable tap water, illnesses with mysterious symptoms that are shared regardless of location, and explosions that are consistently covered up. The film won The Special Jury Prize for Documentary at
2010 Sundance Film Festival. Josh Fox and Gasland are on tour. Get the screening schedule here: http://www.gaslandthemovie.com/wp/. (3.) LUSTGARDEN cont'd

Interview with Sean Hayes; Interview with Burt Bacharach and Hal David; Review of the film "Winter's Bone." June 11, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925383].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor SEAN HAYES. He's currently starring in the Broadway revival of Promises, Promises, alongside Kristin Chenoweth. HAYES has been nominated for a Tony award for his performance, and the show has been nominated for three other awards including best performance by a featured actress, best choreography, and best orchestration. Hayes is well known for his role as Jack on the TV series Will & Grace, for which he won an Emmy, multiple SAG Awards, and an American Comedy Award. His film credits include The Bucket List, the made for TV movie Martin & Lewis, Cats & Dogs and his debut in Billy's Hollywood Screen Kiss. The Tony Awards take place Sunday night and Sean Hayes will be hosting. (REBROADCAST from 4/29/10) (2.) Composer BURT BACHARACH & lyricist HAL DAVID. The two teamed up to create many of the popular hits of the 1960s. In 1968 they wrote the music and lyrics for the musical Promises, Promises that has just been revived on Broadway. It was their only Broadway musical. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Winter's Bone, the new noir-ish film set in the Ozarks, by director Debra Granik. It won a screenwriting award at this year's Sundance film festival.

Interview with Jackie DeShannon; Commentary on Twitter and haikus. June 14, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925208].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter JACKIE DESHANNON. She got her start in the 1960s writing songs for Brenda Lee, Irma Thomas, the Byrds, and the Searchers. She wrote songs with Jimmy Page and Randy Newman. And she was the opening act for The Beatles first U.S. Tour. Her career really took off with her recording of the 1965 Bacharach/David song What the World Needs Now Is Love. She sang and co-wrote the 1969 hit song Put a Little Love in Your Heart. She also co-wrote Bette Davis Eyes which was a hit for Kim Carnes. She's to be inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on how Twitter is turning many of us into writers of haiku.

---

Interview with Maziar Bahari; Review of Philip Kerr's novel "If the Dead Rise Not." June 15, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925211].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and filmmaker MAZIAR BAHARI (MAH-zee-ar ba-HAR-ee). After a decade as Newsweek magazine's Iran correspondent, he was arrested last June in the aftermath of the contested re-election of Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad. BAHARI was held for 118 days, interrogated and tortured, and released due to international pressure. While in prison, he was grilled about his associations with Western journalists including Jason Jones of The Daily Show with John Stewart. BAHARI is also a documentary filmmaker. His film Along Came a Spider, about a serial killer who was murdering prostitutes in the holy city of Mashhad, was the first Iranian documentary to be aired on HBO. BAHARI was born in Tehran, but moved to Canada to study film and political science. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews Philip Kerr's new book. It's a thriller entitled If the Dead Rise Not.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MARISA TOMEI. She's co-starring with John C. Reilly in the new film Cyrus, playing a single mom who is too emotionally attached to her 21-year-old son. TOMEI also played a stripper in The Wrestler, opposite Mickey Rourke. She won an academy award for best supporting actress in 1992 for her role in My Cousin Vinny. But arguably, her guest appearance on Seinfeld, will probably be the role of hers that most people will quote and remember. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Winter's Bone author DANIEL WOODRELL and film director DEBRA GRANIK. Granik's adaptation of Woodrell's novel won the Grand Jury Prize for Drama at Sundance 2010. It's a story of a teenage girl who's searching for her father who's on the run in the Ozarks, having skipped on bail on charges that he ran a crystal meth lab. The family will lose their house if her father doesn't show up for his next court date. Winter's Bone, the book, has just come out in paperback, and the film is currently in limited release, with more theaters booked for this summer. Check the official film website for details: http://www.wintersbonemovie.com/theaters.html

Interview with Mark Moffett; Review of Gabrielle Burton's books "Impatient with Desire" and "Searching for Tamsen Donner." June 17, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925210].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Explorer, photographer and ant expert MARK MOFFETT. He's been dubbed "the Indiana Jones of entomology." He studied under the renowned biologist E.O. Wilson, and completed his 1989 Ph.D. thesis on marauder ants. He also taught himself macro photography to document his research on ants. His new book is Adventures among Ants: A Global Safari with a Cast of Trillions (U. of California Press). His previous book is The High Frontier: Exploring the Tropical Rainforest Canopy.

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two books by Gabrielle Burton, both on the subject of Tamsen Donner, who perished on the California-Oregon trail along with scores of travelers in the Donner Party. Caught by a freak snowstorm, the group was trapped in the Sierra Nevada and resorted to cannibalism. Burton's novel, Impatient With Desire (Voice-Hyperion), imagines Tamsen Donner's lost journal. And Burton's memoir Searching for Tamsen Donner (University of Nebraska Press) is about recreating the journey of the Donner party as part of her research.

Interview with Griffin Dunne; Review of the film "Toy Story 3." June 18, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924232].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor producer director GRIFFIN DUNNE {lcub}'Done'). He talks about his father, the late Dominick Dunne, a journalist and novelist who became famous for covering the lives and high profile trials of celebrities and was a special correspondent for Vanity Fair for 25 years. Dominick Dunne died in August 2009 at the age of 83. His final novel Too Much Money was published posthumously in December of 2009. DUNNE starred in the films American Werewolf in London, After Hours, and Quiz Show as well as numerous other movies and TV shows. He produced or co-produced the films Fierce People, Running on Empty and After Hours, and he directed Fierce People, Famous, and The Accidental Husband. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 12/15/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Toy Story 3.

---

Interview with James Murphy; Commentary on Afrobeat music. June 21, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925207].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producer, musician, engineer and bandleader JAMES MURPHY. He co-founded the dance-punk label DFA Records and in 2002 the band LCD Soundsystem. The band has been credited with helping reintroduce dance music into indie rock. MURPHY combines the dance record approach (using mostly machines for an electronic sound) with live-performance sound. Their 2005 debut album was critically acclaimed. Their new album is This is Happening. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Music critic MILO MILES considers the state of Afrobeat.

---

Interview with Lawrence Wright; Review of Jason Moran and The Bandwagon's album "Ten." June 22, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925213].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer LAWRENCE WRIGHT is a staff writer for The New Yorker. He won a Pulitzer Prize in 2007 for his book, The Looming Tower: Al-Qaeda and the Road to 9/11. He'll talk about Israel's easing of the Gaza blockade. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Ten (Blue Note) album by Jason Moran's trio The Bandwagon. It celebrates their ten years playing together.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist S.C. GWYNNE. He's the author of the new book Empire of the Summer Moon: Quannah Parker and the Rise and Fall of the Comanches, the Most Powerful Indian Tribe in American History (Scribners). The Comanches were fierce and legendary for their fighting and riding abilities. They were expert horsemen. For four decades they held back development of the West, and forced the creation of the Texas Rangers. Their last chief, Quanah, was of mixed origin. His father was a Comanche chief, and his mother was a white woman who had been kidnapped by the tribe. S.C. GWYNNE was bureau chief, national correspondent, and senior editor for Time from 1988 to 2000. His previous book The Outlaw Bank is about rise and fall of the corrupt global bank BCCI. (2.) Actress CONNIE BRITTON. She plays Tami Taylor, the wife of coach Taylor, and the West Dillon high school principal on Friday Night Lights the critically acclaimed TV show about high school football in a small Texas town. The show is based on the film of the same name (in which she also played the coach's wife) that in turn was based on the book by Buzz Bissinger. Friday Night Lights is in its fourth season. BRITTON also had a recurring role on Michael J. Fox's Spin City.

Interview with Henry Fountain; Review of television program "Boston Med" and documentary "Gasland." June 24, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925056].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science reporter HENRY FOUNTAIN covers engineering, materials and other subjects at the intersection of science and everyday life for the New York Times. He's recently been writing about the explosion of BP's oil well. His most recent article is about the early efforts to control the gush of oil from the well (Notes From Wake of Blowout Outline Obstacles and Frustrations, Jun 21) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new documentary series Boston Med by Terence Wrong (who produced a similar series about Johns Hopkins medical center which won a Peabody Award) which premieres tonight on ABC, and the documentary Gasland about the natural gas industry by Josh Fox on HBO.
Interview with Michael Chabon; Interview with Dr. Dan Gottlieb; Review of documentary films "The Lottery" and "Restrepo." June 25, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971501819].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist MICHAEL CHABON (SHAY-bahn). His latest book, a collection of essays: Manhood For Amateurs: the Pleasures and Regrets of a Husband, Father, and Son is now out in paperback. He was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 2001 for his book The Amazing Adventures of Kavalier & Clay. His other novels include The Yiddish Policemen's Union, The Mysteries of Pittsburgh, and Wonder Boys. (2.) Psychologist and family therapist DR. DAN GOTTLIEB. He's a columnist for the Philadelphia Inquirer, and host of the public radio program Voices in the Family. In 2006 he wrote the book, Letters to Sam: A Grandfather's Lessons on Love, Loss, and the Gifts of Life. They were written to his grandson who is autistic. Over two decades ago, Gottlieb became a quadriplegic in an automobile accident, and the letters have lessons about what it's like to be different. GOTTLIEB has just written a follow-up book, The Wisdom of Sam. (REBROADCAST from 4/25/06) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new documentaries: The Lottery, about four children competing in the annual intake lottery for the charter school Harlem Success Academy, directed by Madeleine Sackler. And Restrepo, which follows American soldiers in a grueling 14-month tour of duty in Afghanistan by reporter Sebastian Junger and photographer Tim Hetherington.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We commemorate the centennial of the birth of composer Frank Loesser who wrote the Broadway musicals Guys & Dolls, How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying, and The Most Happy Fella. Loesser was born 100 years ago June 29th. His popular songs include Baby It's Cold Outside, Spring Will Be a Little Late This Year, Travelin' Light, Two Sleepy People, and What Are You Doing New Year's Eve? We feature an interview with pianist and singer MICHAEL FEINSTEIN ('FINE-STINE') whose repertoire is American popular song. He'll talk about Loesser and bring some rare Loesser recordings. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LINDA GREENHOUSE is a Pulitzer Prize winner who covered the Supreme Court for the New York Times. She now teaches at Yale law School. She's co-authored (with Reva B. Siegel) the new book Before Roe v. Wade: Voices that Shaped the Abortion Debate before the Supreme Court's Ruling (Kaplan publishing). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) ROBERT BYRD, Democratic Senator from West Virginia died today at the age of 92. He served in the Senate for 51 years; before that he was in the House for six years. He was ranking member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, until last year. Byrd grew up in poverty in West Virginia and used his position to battle poverty there. He was the author of a an autobiography (2005), and the 2007 new book "Losing America: Confronting a Reckless and Arrogant Presidency.' Byrd was a vocal opponent of the Iraq war and criticized most of the Bush Administration's post 9-11 policies. (REBROADCAST from 7/27/04)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHAEL KLARE is a professor of peace and world security studies at Hampshire College in Massachusetts, and the author of Rising Powers, Shrinking Planet: The New Geopolitics of Energy (2009, paperback). He'll discuss why he thinks we're in a new 'tough oil' era. 'Tough oil' is found in unstable or hard-to access regions and will prove harder and more costly to extract, as well as presenting more environmental hazards. Much of that oil will also be found in more conflict-prone, hostile regions of the planet. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

(2.) DOUG INKLEY is senior wildlife biologist with the National Wildlife Federation. His current focus is on the impacts of global climate change on fish and wildlife resources. He's been following the impact of the BP oil spill on wildlife in the region. He has said he's worried the spill could wipe out the Louisiana brown pelican population.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JEFFREY GETTLEMAN is the East Africa bureau chief for The New York Times. He covers 12 countries and has focused on internal conflicts in Kenya, Congo, Somalia, Sudan and Ethiopia. He won an Overseas Press Club award in 2003 for a feature story on a Pakistani boy being kept as a sex slave in an Afghan prison and another Overseas Press Club award in 2008 for reporting on human rights abuses in Ethiopia. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new biography the Pulitzer prize winning novelist Pearl Buck: Pearl Buck in China: Journey to The Good Earth (Simon & Schuster) by Hilary Spurling. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the third installment of the Twilight movies, Eclipse.

Interview with W.S. Merwin; Interview with Stephen King; Review of the film "I Am Love." July 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925104].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning poet, translator, and essayist W.W. MERWIN. The 82-year old poet has been chosen to be the next Poet Laureate of the United States, beginning in October. His recent book of poems is called The Shadow of Sirius. The themes of his work are memory and mortality. Additionally, his classic anthology Spanish Ballads was recently reissued in paperback. It is one of Merwin's earliest translation projects. William Stanley Merwin was known in the 1960s as an anti-war poet. He is now an environmental activist, and works to restore the rainforests of Hawaii, where he lives. (REBROADCAST from 2/16/08) (2.) Novelist STEPHEN KING. His book 'On Writing: A Memoir of the Craft' has just been republished in a tenth anniversary edition. Eleven years ago, KING experienced something that could have come from one of his books: he was struck by a car while walking along a rural road in Maine and nearly killed. Six operations and a long recovery followed. (REBROADCAST from 10/00/00 and 7/22/92) (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews I am Love the new Italian film co-starring Tilda Swinton which John says is a self-conscious throwback to an earlier style of filmmaking.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The band CAROLINA CHOCOLATE DROPS: DOM FLEMONS, RHIANNON GIDDENS and JUSTIN ROBINSON. They’re reviving traditional black string band and jug band music of the 1920s and 30s. They were the first black string band to play at the Grand Ole Opry. They'll perform in the Fresh Air studio. All three trained in the Piedmont banjo and fiddle musical tradition under Joe Thompson, who is 91 and is believed to be the last living performer from the Piedmond stringband heyday. Their first album Dona Got a Ramblin Mind was released in 2007. They've released their second album Genuine Negro Jig (Nonesuch). They also have a new songbook: Carolina Chocolate Drops Songbook: Twelve Songs to Sing and to Play (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 3/1/2010)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former U.S. Poet Laureate BILLY COLLINS. He’s been dubbed 'the most popular poet in America' by Bruce Weber in the New York Times. His fourth book of poems Questions about Angels (1991) propelled him into the literary spotlight. His most recent book is Ballistics (2008). COLLINS is professor of English at Lehman College, City University of New York, Bronx, NY. (2.) Biographer LYNDALL GORDON is the author of the new book Lives Like Loaded Guns: Emily Dickinson and Her Family's Feuds (Viking Adult). GORDON speculates that the reclusive poet was epileptic, and GORDON details the affair by Dickinson's married brother Austin that caused a family feud over the poet's posthumous publication and her legacy. GORDON is also the author of biographies of T.S. Eliot, Virginia Woolf, Charlotte Bronte (which won the Cheltenham prize for literature), and Mary Wollstonecraft. GORDON is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature and member of PEN.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian Louis CK. He has a new TV show, Louie, on the FX network. It's a blend of stand-up and sitcom. Born Louis Szekely (pronounced C-K), he got his start in TV writing for late night, including David Letterman, Conan O'Brien and Chris Rock. He's co-written several of Rock's films. CK has also done stand-up for many years, and previously, he had an HBO series called Lucky Louie. He has his own YouTube channel, which can be seen here: http://www.youtube.com/louisck. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet: A Novel by David Mitchell (Zoet is pronounced 'zoot,' rhymes with boot). Mitchell is best known for his critically acclaimed novel Cloud Atlas.

---

Interview with Lisa Cholodenko; Interview with Joel Achenbach; Review of Stephani Finch's album "Cry Tomorrow." July 8, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925085].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director LISA CHOLODENKO. Her new film, which she also co-wrote, is The Kids Are All Right. A lesbian couple's two children grow up and track down their previously anonymous father. The film stars Julianne Moore and Annette Bening as the couple, and Mark Ruffalo as the dad, who arrives on the scene to create an entirely new family dynamic. Cholodenko's previous films include Laurel Canyon and High Art, and she's also directed for television, having worked on episodes of The L Word, Six Feet Under, and Homicide: Life on the Street. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Reporter JOEL ACHENBACH explains the national power grid. He's written a comprehensive article for this month's National Geographic Magazine, called The 21st Century Grid (http://ngm.nationalgeographic.com/2010/07/power-grid/achenbach-text). He'll explain how our electricity may come from far away, and what the future holds for greener power sources. Achenbach is a staff writer for the Washington Post, and he writes the Achenblog (http://voices.washingtonpost.com/achenblog/). He's authored six books, including the Grand Idea and Captured By Aliens. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Cry Tomorrow the new album by Stephanie Finch who otherwise is known for her back-up work for her husband Chuck Prophet's band The Mission Express.

Interview with Tom Ford; Interview with Colin Firth; Review of the film "The Kids Are All Right." July 9, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925102].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fashion designer turned film director TOM FORD. The former creative director of Gucci and Yves Saint Laurent. He's known for helping revive an almost bankrupt Gucci company, and for his provocative ad campaigns which used erotic poses and nudity to sell fragrances. He's making his directorial debut with the new film A Single Man based on the novel by Christopher Isherwood. It stars British actor Colin Firth as a gay British literature professor in L.A. in 1962 attempting to come to terms with the death of his lover. (12/14/09) (2.) British actor COLIN FIRTH. He was just nominated for Best Actor for his starring role in the film A Single Man. It's now out on DVD. He plays a British college professor in L.A. in 1962 whose long time lover has just died. It's based on 1964 novel by Christopher Isherwood. FIRTH's role as Mr. Darcy in the BBC/A&E production of Pride & Prejudice turned him into a heart-throb. He played a Darcy-like character in the film Bridget Jones's Diary and in the sequel. His other films include Love Actually, Girl with a Pearl Earring, Valmont, Another Country, The English Patient, Shakespeare in Love, and Fever Pitch. FIRTH showed off his writing in a book edited by Nick Hornby, Speaking with the Angel. (REBROADCAST from 2/3/10) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Kids are Alright starring Annette Bening, Julian Moore and Mark Ruffalo.

Interview with Robert Wittman; Review of DVD releases of the films "Sally" and Sunny." July 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925087].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former FBI agent ROBERT WITTMAN. He founded the FBI's Art Crime Team and spent twenty years chasing art thieves and recovering stolen art and antiquities, often going undercover. His new book (co-written with John Shiffman, investigative reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer) is Priceless: How I Went Undercover to Rescue the World's Stolen Treasures (Crown Publishers) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
(2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews two films on DVD starring the 1920s and '30s Broadway musical star Marilyn Miller. (on the Warner archive label).

Interview with Daniel Carlat; Review of Robert Randolph and the Family Band's album "We Walk This Road." July 13, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925105].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Psychiatrist DAN CARLAT. He's the author of the new book Unhinged: The Trouble with Psychiatry ? a Doctor's Revelations about a Profession in Crisis (Free press). CARLAT writes about how fewer psychiatrists are actually doing talk therapy with their patients. Most of their practice now is prescribing drugs to patients of other psychologists and therapists. A number of factors are involved: new effective medications, sophisticated marketing campaigns by drug companies, and insurance reimbursement practices. CARLAT has a private practice in Newburyport, Massachusetts and is an Associate Clinical Professor of Psychiatry at Tufts Medical School. He writes The Carlat Psychiatry Blog.) And he is the founder and editor of The Carlat Psychiatry Report. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews We Walk This Road from Robert Randolph and the Family Band.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter PHILIP SHENON ('SHE-non') writes for The Daily Beast. (http://www.thedailybeast.com/author/philip-shenon/). He explains the website Wikileaks, which is a vast collection of secret documents culled from governments and organizations worldwide. The site has no official headquarters, and its editor and co-founder Julian Assange is on the run from U-S military following the release of a video showing a military massacre in a Baghdad suburb. Shenon is formerly with The New York Times where he led the investigation of the September 11 commission and was chief Defense Department correspondent, diplomatic correspondent, Congressional correspondent and Justice Department Correspondent.. His 2008 book is The Commission: The Uncensored History of the 9/11 Investigation.(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD looks at the music of Freddie King, a blues guitarist who helped shape the sound of rock guitar. Bear Family Records has released Taking Care of Business, which covers most of King's career.

Interview with Billy West; Interview with Peter Laufer. July 15, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924397].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Voice actor BILLY WEST. He is the man behind the animated characters of Doug, Ren and Stimpy, Bugs Bunny and Elmer Fudd in the film Space Jam, most of the male members of the Futurama cast, and a phony Conan O'Brien on Howard Stern. Futurama is back on the air, with 26 new episodes on Comedy Central, airing Thursdays at 10 PM. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Author PETER LAUFER. His new book is Forbidden Creatures: Inside the World of Animal Smuggling and Forbidden Pets. He examines what makes people want unusual companions. Laufer is the author of many books, including The Dangerous World of Butterflies. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Obituary for Harvey Pekar; Review of the film "Inception." July 16, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924399].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic book writer HARVEY PEKAR. He died Monday July 12 at age 70. His autobiographical comic series, American Splendor, documented his life and work as a file clerk in Cleveland, Ohio. The comic was made into an award winning film starring Paul Giamatti as Pekar. Pekar had a long association with the underground comics movement. He met legendary artist R. Crumb in 1962, when Crumb was working for American Greetings in Cleveland. They bonded over jazz records, and the two collaborated extensively on comics over the years. Additionally, many renowned artists have illustrated issues of American Splendor. Pekar won an American Book Award for his first anthology of American Splendor. He co-authored the graphic novel My Cancer Year with his wife, Joyce Brabner. Some of his other books include The Quitter, Ego and Hubris, and The Beats, a history of the Beat Generation. We'll listen to two Pekar Fresh Air visits. First, we listen back to a 2003 interview recorded on the occasion of the release of the film American Splendor. Pekar's wife Joyce Brabner joined him in the studio. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATES: 8/4/03.) HARVEY PEKAR recorded a series of pieces for Cleveland Public Radio. We broadcast a sample. A Commentary on Valentines Day was originally broadcast on WKSU in Kent, Ohio. (ORIGINAL FRESH AIR AIRDATE: 2/13/2004.) Another interview with HARVEY PEKAR, from 2005, when his book The Quitter was published. It's a book length comic-style memoir, illustrated by Dean Haspiel, documenting Pekar's upbringing as the son of Jewish immigrants. Pekar began writing comic book stories in 1972, encouraged by his friend Robert Crumb, who illustrated many of his pieces. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/10/05.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Inception, the new film from Christopher Nolan, starring Leonardo DiCaprio.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PAUL GREENBERG, author of Four Fish: The Future of the Last Wild Food. Almost half of the fish we eat has been raised on a farm. The wild Atlantic salmon is commercially extinct. Genetic modification is on the increase. Greenberg investigates the contemporary world of global aquaculture. Greenberg writes about seafood for the New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS considers the two very different heroines of two popular book and film adaptations, the Twilight Series created by Stephanie Meyer and the Millennium Trilogy written by Stieg Larsson. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the remastered and re-released On the Floor of Heaven the 1993 country-rock album by the quartet The Blue Shadows. One of the groups leaders was the late Billy Cowsill of the 1960s family act The Cowsills.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist SONIA SHAH. She is the author of the new book The Fever: How Malaria Has Ruled Humankind for 500,000 Years (Sarah Crichton books). She writes that malaria continues to plague us despite the fact we've known how to prevent and cure it for more than a hundred years. It still infects five hundred million people a year, killing nearly one million. It's also become more lethal.
(2.) PHILIP FURIA has written several books on American popular song, including biographies of Ira Gerhwin, Irving Berlin, and Johnny Mercer. His new book is 'The Songs of Hollywood' (Oxford University Press, written with Laurie Patterson) about the songs written for Hollywood movies. Many songwriters wrote for the stage and screen (Jerome Kern, Irving Berlin, the Gershwins, and Cole Porter), others wrote almost exclusively for film (Al Dubin and Harry Warren, Johnny Mercer and Harold Arlen, and Sammy Cahn and Jimmy Van Heusen). FURIA is a professor in the Department of Creative Writing at the University of North Carolina Wilmington.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BINYAMIN APPELBAUM is a financial reporter for The New York Times based in Washington, D.C. He'll discuss the financial overhaul bill passed by Congress last week. It is an expansion of federal financial regulation. He'll talk about what it means for the industry and the consumer. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Cookbook Collector the new novel by Allegra Goodman.

---

Interview with Robert Duvall; Review of Tom Jones' album "Praise and Blame"; Review of the summer television season. July 22, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925205].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Academy award winning actor ROBERT DUVALL. He's starring in the new film Get Low opposite Sissy Spacek and Bill Murray, as a small town recluse who plans his own funeral. DUVALL made his film debut in 1962 as Boo Radley in To Kill a Mockingbird, was a crazy colonel in Apocalypse Now, counsel to the mob in Godfather I and II, and a country singer in Tender Mercies (for which he won an Oscar). DUVALL wrote, directed and starred in the films The Apostle and Asassination Tango. His other noteworthy films are The Great Santini, Open Range, and Mash. But he says his favorite role was that of Augustus McCrae in the TV-adaptation of Lonesome Dove. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Praise and Blame, the new album from vintage singer Tom Jones. (3.)
TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Mad Men, which begins season 4 on Sunday. The award winning AMC series is about Madison Avenue advertising executives and secretaries at work and at home. More info: http://www.amctv.com/originals/madmen/.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Songwriter JIMMY WEBB. He has a new album called Just Across the River. He sings duets with some great artists. Vince Gill joins him on the track Oklahoma Nights, Willie Nelson sings If You See Me Getting Smaller with Webb, and other tracks feature Linda Ronstadt, Glen Campbell and Mark Knopfler. Webb's hit songs include By The Time I Get to Phoenix, Up Up and Away, Wichita Lineman, MacArthur Park, Galveston, Didn't We, The Moon is a Harsh Mistress, and All I Know. His songs have been recorded by Glenn Campbell, Johnny Cash, Joe Cocker, Linda Ronstadt Art Garfunkel, and the Fifth Dimension. At one point in the 1960s he had five top ten hits within a 20-month period. WEBB has a lifetime achievement award from the Songwriters Hall of Fame, he's also been inducted into the Nashville Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/10/04) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2). Actor JARED HARRIS. Son of actor Richard Harris, Jared has acted in theater and on the big screen. He's now got a recurring role in AMC's Mad Men (which begins season four on Sunday at 10 PM) as British ad exec Lane Pryce. He's appeared in the movies The Curious Case of Benjamin Button, Natural Born Killers, I Shot Andy Warhol, Happiness, Sunday, Smoke, and VH1's Two of Us, in which he plays Beatle John Lennon. (REBROADCAST from 3/27/01)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writer and producer MATT WEINER (WHY-ner). He created the AMC series Mad Men, which begins season four on Sunday night. The show has won consecutive Golden Globes, and Outstanding Drama series Emmy awards. Set in 1960s New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. WEINER also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews three recent Lee Konitz recordings: 1) Lee Konitz New Quartet: live at the Village Vanguard, (Enja); 2) Lee Konitz, in series 'Solos: the Jazz Sessions' (on DVD); 3) Lee Konitz/Chris Cheek/Stephane Furic Leibovici, Jugendstil 2, (Esp).

Interview with Mark Mazzetti; Review of the television program "Rubicon." July 27, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925398].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter MARK MAZZETTI. He covers national security from the Washington bureau. He talks about Wikileaks, and the Times' decision to publish leaked classified military documents about the war in Afghanistan. Last year, Mazzetti shared a Pulitzer Prize for reports on increasing violence in Pakistan and Afghanistan, and the White House response. Prior to the New York times, Mazzetti wrote for the Los Angeles Times and U.S. News & World Report. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Rubicon, the latest original series on the AMC cable network, which brought us Mad Men and Breaking Bad. Rubicon is a drama series about the workaday analysts at a fictional American spy agency. It premieres Sunday August 1 at 8PM ET. More information: http://www.amctv.com/originals/Rubicon/

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RICHARD CIZIK, former Vice President for Governmental Affairs of the powerful lobbying organization National Association of Evangelicals. He was forced to resign after comments he made on Fresh Air in support of gay unions. We'll talk with him about how his life has changed, and why he started a new Evangelical group he hopes will be an alternative to the past generation's culture wars. After his resignation, he became a Senior Fellow at the United Nations Foundation. His group is The New Evangelical Partnership for the Common Good. More info: http://www.newevangelicalpartnership.org. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD looks back at the life and work of Willem Breuker (WILL-um BRO-kur). The Dutch saxophonist, clarinetist, composer and bandleader died last week at age 65. He headed up the ten-piece Willem Breuker Kollektief, and founded the BVHAAST record label.

Interview with Atul Gawande; Interview with Steve Carell and Jay Roach; Review of Sugar Pie DeSanto's album "Go Go Power July 29, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925402].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and physician ATUL GAWANDE (AH-tool ga-WAHN-day). His article in the August 2 edition fo the New Yorker is called Letting Go: What Should Medicine Do When it Can't Save Your Life? Gawande tells heartbreaking stories from the front lines of terminal care: a pregnant woman, who at 39 weeks, is diagnosed with inoperable lung cancer; a critical care physician, who expects 8 out of 10 patients in her unit to die. Gawande is a staff member of Brigham and Women's Hospital, the Dana Farber Cancer Institute, an Associate Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School and Associate Professor in the Department of Health Policy and Management at the Harvard School of Public Health. He was a senior health policy advisor for President Clinton. He is a staff writer for The New Yorker magazine. His bestselling books include The Checklist Manifesto and Better. (2.) Dinner for Schmucks actor STEVE CARELL and director/producer JAY ROACH. The film is about a group of well-heeled executives who compete to bring the biggest idiot to a dinner party. It's an English language remake of Francis Veber's 1998 film The Dinner Game (Le diner de cons). Carell is best known for his role as Michael Scott on the long running Emmy-nominated sitcom The Office. He's also had roles in many hit films, including The 40 Year Old Virgin, Get Smart, Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy and Little Miss Sunshine. He got his start on The Daily Show with Jon Stewart, and he provided the voiceover for half of The Ambiguously Gay Duo on Saturday Night Live. JAY ROACH has produced and directed many hit comedies for the big screen, including all three Austin Powers films, as well as Sasha Baron Cohen's Borat and Bruno. Roach won an Emmy for his work on the HBO TV movie Recount, the story of the 2000 presidential election. (3.) Rock historian ED WARD profiles an unusual blues singer from the 1960s. Sugar Pie deSanto stood four feet eleven inches and was half Filipina, half African-American.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veteran newsman DANIEL SCHORR. He died this week at age 93. For the past 25 years, he was NPR's senior news analyst. Reporter Bob Woodward called Schorr 'one of the finest broadcast journalists, and . . . one of the toughest reporters in the business.' Schorr got his start with Edward R. Murrow, and he went on to work for CBS News from 1953 to 1976, where he won multiple Emmys for his coverage of Watergate, getting on President Nixon's Enemies List in the process, and he broke many major stories, including a secret US plot to assassinate Castro. In the 1950s, he reported from the Soviet Union. After CBS, Schorr went on to work for CNN until 1985, and then he came to NPR. His last commentary aired July 10, 2010. Schorr won multiple Emmys and other awards for his groundbreaking journalism. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/3/94) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Life During Wartime from writer/director Todd Solondz. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Tin Can Trust, the new album from Los Lobos.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author GARY SHTEYNGART (SHTINE-gart). His new book is called 'Super Sad True Love Story.' It's set in a dystopic future New York City where corporations have merged beyond recognition, and the poor and disenfranchised have taken over Central Park, but nonetheless, love is in the air. Shteyngart was born in Leningrad and came to the U-S at age 7. His previous novels, Absurdistan and The Russian Deburante's Handbook, were bestsellers and won multiple awards. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large John Powers reviews 'Henri-Georges Clouzot's Inferno,' a film about a film, directed by Serge Bromberg and Ruxandra Medrea. It won a Cesar Award (the French equivalent of the Oscar) for Best Documentary this year.
Interview with Brian May; Commentary on politicians' malapropisms. August 3, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973568869].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician and astrophysicist BRIAN MAY. He is best known as the guitarist and songwriter for the band Queen. He's just published a new book, A Village Lost and Found, with Elena Vidal. It's a collection of the stereoscopic photographs of T. R. Williams. May has been collecting Williams' work for decades. May's compositions for Queen include We Will Rock You and Fat Bottomed Girls. In 2007, he received a PhD. in astrophysics and is now the Chancellor of Liverpool John Moores University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the linguistic gaffes and malapropisms by politicians and the reaction of the public.

Interview with A. C. Thompson; Interview with Fred Hersch. August 4, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924803].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A.C. THOMPSON is a reporter with the non-profit news organization ProPublica. He has been investigating (along with the New Orleans Times-Picayune and PBS' Frontline) the alleged shootings and deaths by New Orleans Police in the immediate aftermath of Hurricane Katrina. The U.S. Justice Department has charged 16 current and former NOPD officers with crimes. THOMPSON is also investigating alleged hate crimes committed by a white militia in post-Katrina New Orleans. You can read the series Law & Disorder: After Katrina, New Orleans Police Shot Frequently & Asked few Questions online at http://www.propublica.org/nola/ (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Pianist FRED HERSCH. He's been called an 'unsung innovator of... borderless, individualistic jazz' by David Hajdu of The New York Times. The 54-year-old musician and composer has over 45 albums to his credit either as solo performer, bandleader, or duo partner. He has worked with Stan Getz, Joe Henderson, Art Farmer, Toots Thielemans, Gary Burton, Bill Frisell, and Charlie Haden. His recent album 'Whirl' (Palmetto Records) features his trio, and is his first recording since he suffered a two-month coma and went thru intense physical therapy to regain overall function, including the use of his hands. HERSCH had become ill from AIDS and a severe bout of pneumonia.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor WILL FERRELL and director ADAM MCKAY. The two have collaborated on the new comedy action film The Other Guys which spoofs the buddy-cop genre. Ferrell plays a nerdy, forensic accountant and detective who is mismatched with a gung-ho detective played by Mark Wahlberg. FERRELL and MCKAY previously worked together on the films Anchorman, Talladega Nights, and Step Brothers. (2.) Novelist DAVID MITCHELL is the author of the new book The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet (Random House). It's set on an island near Nagasaki, Japan in 1799, where Dutch traders are allowed into the otherwise closed Japanese society. A young Dutch clerk arrives to earn his fortune. Our book critic Maureen Corrigan says it is a 'beautiful novel, full of life and authenticity, atmosphere and characters that breathe. It manages to do what the best historical fiction always does - make a reader melancholy, thinking about all those other, true-life stories from the past that have melted into air.' MITCHELL has twice been short-listed for the Man Booker Prize. His previous novels include Number9Dream, Cloud Atlas, and Black Swan Green.

Interview with Rafael Yglesias; Review of the film "The Other Guys." August 6, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924805].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist RAFAEL YGLESIAS ('ee-GLAY-see-us'). His book 'A Happy Marriage' (Scribner) was inspired by his relationship with his wife, Margaret, who died in 2004. The novel spans thirty years from courtship to death. It comes out in paperback next week. YGLESIAS wrote his first novel at the age of 17. Since then he has written nine novels, and the screenplays for 'Death and the Maiden' and 'Les Miserables.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 8/17/09) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Other Guys costarring Will Ferrell, directed and co-written by Adam McKay.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN EIG ('EYEG') is the author of the new book Get Capone: The Secret Plot that Captured America's Most Wanted Gangster (Simon & Schuster). EIG writes about a Capone who was an immigrant's son, and a product of his time and of prohibition. He came to prominence in the 1920s in Chicago during prohibition, heading a crime syndicate that dealt in bootleg alcohol, racketeering, drugs, and prostitution. He bribed officials, talked openly to the press about his activities, refused to keep paper records of his business (estimated at [dollar]95 million a year), cared about his public image, wore the finest clothes, was loyal to his associates and devoted to his family, and says, EIG, was not a psychopath. The government wasn't able to charge him on more serious charges, but convicted him of tax evasion in 1931. He was sentenced to eleven years in prison. EIG had access to previously unreleased IRS files on Capone, as well as notes he discovered for a ghostwritten Capone autobiography. EIG is also the author of books about Lou Gehrig and Jackie Robinson. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews some mysteries by a pair of Swedish writers whose detective fiction preceded the popular Millennium Mysteries by Steig Larsson: The Martin Beck Mysteries by Maj Sjowall & Per Wahloo.

Interview with Todd Purdum; Review of television show "Max Headroom." August 10, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957237742].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TODD PURDUM is National Editor for Vanity Fair magazine. In the September issue of the magazine he writes about a day in the life of President Obama. PURDUM was allowed to spend a day at the West Wing to follow the President and his advisors. He writes that, 'The sheer growth of the federal government, the paralysis of Congress, the systemic corruption brought on by lobbying, the trivialization of the 'news' by the media, the willful disregard for facts and truth?have made today's Washington a depressing and dysfunctional place.' He also writes that because of this the modern day presidency would be unrecognizable to most of the previous chief executives. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the DVD release of the influential TV series and pop-cultural phenomenon from the 1980s Max Headroom. All 13 episodes of the series are on the DVD.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian EDWARD P. KOHN (‘CONE’) is the author of the new book Hot Time In the Old Town: The Great Heat Wave of 1896 and the Making of Theodore Roosevelt (Basicbooks). It's about the unprecedented ten day heat wave in August 1896 in New York City in which nearly 1300 people died. People took to sleeping on roofs or fire escapes to get away from the heat that could reach 120 degrees inside. Many people fell to their deaths; and many others died from the heat. Only a handful of city officials addressed the crisis. But Theodore Roosevelt who was police commissioner recommended the city purchase and give away free ice to the city's poor. His efforts during the heatwave, helped revive his faltering political career. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Historian TONY JUDT (pronounced 'jut') died Friday from complications of ALS, Lou Gehrig's disease. He was 62. We will broadcast an excerpt of his recent interview recorded at the time of the publication of his book Ill Fares the Land. It's a critique of the deteriorating social contract in the U-S and Europe. Judt was known for his acerbic critiques of Israel and US foreign policy. In 2008, Judt was diagnosed with a variation of ALS. He described his rapid deterioration as 'progressive imprisonment without parole.' Judt directed the Remarque Institute at NYU and was the author of Postwar: A History of Europe Since 1945. He was a frequent contributor to the New York Review of Books and the New York Times. (REBROADCAST from 3/29/10).

Interview with Michael Capuzzo and Richard Walter; Interview with Peter Maass; Review of the film "Scott Pilgrim vs. the World." August 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503935].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL CAPUZZO (Ka-POOZ-oh) and profiler RICHARD WALTER. CAPUZZU has written about Walter and the two other men who make up the Vidocq ('VEE-doc') Society in Philadelphia.
His book is The Murder Room: The Heirs of Sherlock Holmes Gather to Solve the World's Most Perplexing Cold Cases (Penguin). WALTER is a profiler who has logged over 22,000 interviews with convicted criminals. He and a former FBI agent turned private eye, and the world's foremost forensic sculptor started the Vidocq Society to solve cold cases. They invite other experts in criminology to assist them. (The Vidocq society was named after the first modern detective, Parisian Eugene Francois Vidocq who was the inspiration for Sherlock Holmes). CAPUZZO has been a syndicated columnist and staff reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer and The Miami Herald. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Journalist PETER MAASS. He is author of the book Crude World: The Violent Twilight of Oil (Vintage Books paperback). He writes about the social, political, and environmental impact of petroleum on the countries that produce it. MAASS is a contributing writer to The New York Times Magazine, and has written for The New Yorker, The Atlantic Monthly, The Washington Post, and Slate. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Scott Pilgrim vs. the World.

Tribute to the television program At the Movies with Gene Siskel and Roger Ebert; Review of Arcade Fire's album "The Suburbs." August 13, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885138].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We feature film Critics GENE SISKEL and ROGER EBERT interviewed on stage in Chicago in February 1996. SISKEL was film columnist for the Chicago Tribune, and EBERT critic for the Chicago Sun-Times. Their show At the Movies which began 35 years ago and included multiple incarnations will broadcast its final episode this weekend. SISKEL & EBERT began their TV collaboration on Chicago Public Television station WTTW. After two successful seasons, the program became a national PBS show, and in 1981 it moved to commercial television. Over the years the show was also known as Siskel and Ebert and Sneak Previews. SISKEL died in 1999 from brain cancer. EBERT kept the show going with a new co-critic. But he left the show in 2008. He was diagnosed with cancer in 2006, and has lost the use of his voice. Ebert was the first film critic to be awarded a Pulitzer Prize. (REBROADCAST FROM 3/21/1996) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) A live on stage conversation between film critic ROGER EBERT and film director MARTIN SCORSESE, held at the Wexner Center for the Arts in Columbus, Ohio in 1997. They discuss the scope of SCORSESE's career. (REBROADCAST from 3/24/97) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Suburbs the third album by the Montreal-based band Arcade Fire.

Interview with Susan Barry; Review of Dr. John's album "Tribal"; Review of the television programs "The Big C" and "Weeds." August 16, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925483].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SUSAN BARRY is a neuroscientist and the author of the memoir, Fixing My Gaze: A Scientist's Journey into Seeing in Three Dimensions (BasicBooks, with a Forward by Oliver Sacks). BARRY had been cross-eyed since early infancy. This caused her to have double vision; consequently as a child she unconsciously learned to shut down the input from one eye. But when she was fifty she learned to see in stereoscopic vision, using both of her eyes in tandem. Now the world was three-dimensional instead of flat with no depth. BARRY went thru an intensive program called optometric vision therapy, which taught her how to use her eyes in tandem, and in effect rewired her brain. BARRY is a professor of neurobiology at the Department of Biological Sciences at Mount Holyoke College. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Tribal the new album by Mac Rebennack, otherwise known as Dr. John. The New Orleans native turns 70 this year. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews The Big C the new series on Showtime starring Laura Linney as a wife and mother with cancer. It premieres tonight. He also reviews the season premiere of Weeds also on Showtime.

Interview with Sue Diaz; Obituary for Abbey Lincoln. August 17, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925741].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SUE DIAZ is the author of the memoir Minefields of the Heart: A Mother's Stories of a Son at War (Potomac Books). The book grew out of her essays chronicling her son's deployment to Iraq in 2003. He served two deployments there. She now leads writing workshops for war vets at the San Diego Vet Center, and helped create The Warriors Wall, a website for veterans to write about and share their experiences. DIAZ's work has appeared in Newsweek, Reader's Digest, Family Circle, Woman's Day, San Diego
The great jazz singer ABBEY LINCOLN died on Saturday at the age of 80. Lincoln had been hailed by one critic as the "last Great Diva", and said herself that she sang in the tradition of Sarah Vaughan, Bessie Smith and Billie Holiday. Lincoln evolved from the sexy jazz singer (as pictured on her early albums) to an introspective singer who sang her own deeply personal songs about life and love. Once married to legendary jazz drummer Max Roach, she sang with giants like Benny Carter, Sonny Rollins and Coleman Hawkins. (REBROADCAST from 1986, and from 6/16/93).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet NATASHA TRETHEREWAY ('TREH-thuh-way'). She won the 2007 Pulitzer Prize for Poetry for her book Native Guard. Her white father and black mother were married when interracial marriage was still illegal in Mississippi. Trethewey's poems draw on her experience growing up as a biracial child in the south. Her new book is about how her family was changed by Hurricane Katrina. It's Beyond Katrina: A Meditation on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. (University of Georgia Press). Trethewey is a professor of English at Emory University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Charlie Chan: The Untold Story of the Honorable Detective and his Rendezvous with American History (Norton) by Yunte Huang.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JULIA ANGWIN is senior technology editor at The Wall Street Journal. She edited and co-wrote the recent series on the fastest-growing business on the Internet: spying on consumers. Using sophisticated technologies companies can track the behavior of online users, and gather information about their age, what movies they like, what they shop for, etc. New tools make it possible to track people in real time, and follow them around the Internet with highly specific marketing messages. Profiles of an individual based on their behavior are then sold on a stock-market-like exchange. The Journal series identified more than 100 tracking companies, data brokers, and advertising networks collecting data. The first article in a series was published in The Wall Street Journal July 30th. ANGWIN is also the author of the book Stealing MySpace: the Battle to Control the Most Popular Website in America. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Harvesting Semblances and Affinities (PI records) the new CD by saxophonist and composer Steve Coleman & Five Elements.

Interview with John Mellencamp; Review of Marty Stuart's album "Ghost Train August 20, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925276].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN MELLENCAMP is a singer songwriter who's been making records for over 30 years. His hits include 'Jack and Dianne,' 'Pink Houses,' and 'Small Town.' He was on a tour of minor league ball parks last year sharing the bill with Bob Dylan and Willie Nelson when on his days off he recorded his newest album: No Better Than This. It was recorded using just one microphone and on a 55-year old Ampex tape recorder. Mellencamp wrote all the songs on it, and it was produced by T Bone Burnett. We'll hear new and old songs, some of which were used in political campaign, and one made famous by a Chevrolet Ad. Mellencamp speaks to us from his home studio. (REBROADCAST from 3/31/09). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Ghost Train: The Studio B Sessions, the new recording by country music singer Marty Stuart. This new album is a throwback to the old-fashioned country music from the 50s and 60s.

Interview with Scott Simon; Interview with Jack Clark; Review of documentaries about Hurricane Katrina. August 23, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925485].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SCOTT SIMON the host of NPR's Weekend Edition has a new memoir about the daughters he and his wife adopted from China: Baby, We Were Meant for Each Other: In Praise of Adoption (Random House). (2.) Chicago cab driver/crime novelist JACK CLARK. His crime noir Nobody's Angel (Hard Case Crime) is the reprint of his 1996 self-published debut, Relita's Angel, which he sold for {dollar}5 from the front seat of his cab. His protagonist is Eddie Miles a Chicago cab driver on the trail of a killer targeting prostitutes and cabbies. The book has gotten rave reviews. One in the Washington Post says 'A gem.' Nobody's Angel 'doesn't contain a wasted word or a false note.' (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews four new documentaries about Hurricane Katrina: "Witness : Katrina" on the National Geographic Channel, Frontline's "Law & Disorder" on PBS, Dateline NBC'S special (which aired last night), and Spike Lee's HBO documentary "When the Levees Rise" the follow-up to his earlier documentary.

---

Interview with Matt Richtel; Review of MOMA's show "Matisse August 24, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925139].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer-prize winning journalist MATT RICHTEL ('RICK-tul') of The New York Times. He is technology reporter in the San Francisco bureau. RICHTEL has been writing about the impact digital technology has on our lives and our brains. He won the Pulitzer this year for his series Driven to Distraction about driving and multitasking. Recently he wrote about a trip to a Utah wilderness with a group of neuroscientists who wanted to examine how the use of digital technology changes how we think and behave how a retreat into nature might reverse those affects. (Outdoors and Out of Reach, Studying the Brain, Aug 15) RICHTEL also is the author of the novel Hooked, and he writes a syndicated daily comic strip, Rudy Park, under the pen name of Theron Heir. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a current show at the Museum of Modern Art, Matisse: Radical Invention which deals with the period from 1913-1917, when Matisse was more complicated and experimental.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter ELIZA GRISWOLD. Her new book is The Tenth Parallel: Dispatches From the Fault Line Between Christianity and Islam (Farrar, Strauss & Giroux). The tenth parallel is the horizontal band that rings the earth seven hundred miles north of the equator. It includes Nigeria, the Sudan, Somalia, and Indonesia, Malaysia and the Philippines. GRISWOLD writes that along the tenth parallel, the mostly Muslim, Arab-influenced north meets a black African south inhabited by Christians and those who follow indigenous religions. She writes, 'I wanted to go where such lives are actually led, where wars in the name of religion are not Internet media campaigns to 'control a global narrative' but actual wars found from village to village and street corner to street corner.' (2.) Journalist JEFF SHARLET ('SHAR-lit'). He writes about religious subcultures. SHARLET has written extensively about the secretive fundamentalist group known as the Family, whose members include powerful senators and congressmen. He's the author of the bestselling book The Family, and the forthcoming book, C Street: The Fundamentalist Threat to American Democracy (Little, Brown & Co.). Recently SHARLET traveled to Uganda to see if conservative Christians in the United States had an influence on the writing of the draconian anti-homosexual bill in Uganda's parliament. Sharlet is a contributing editor for Harper's and Rolling Stone. His work has also appeared in many publications, including The Washington Post and Mother Jones. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Jane Mayer; Interview with Edgar Wright. August 26, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925114].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JANE MAYER covers politics and national security for The New Yorker. She writes in the August 30th edition about the billionaire brothers, David & Charles Koch (pronounced 'coke') who have quietly given away more than a hundred million dollars to right-wing causes (Covert Operations: The billionaire brothers who are waging a war against Obama.) She says they've waged a war against President Obama, and helped fund the Tea Party Movement. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) British director EDGAR WRIGHT. He directed the new film Scott Pilgrim vs. the World based on the graphic comic series by Bryan O'Malley. He also directed Shaun of the Dead, the romantic zombie film which parodies other zombie films. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).
Interview with Andre Agassi; Review of the film "Mesrine August 27, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925141].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former tennis pro ANDRE AGASSI. The eight-time winner of the grand slam singles tournament wrote his autobiography, Open, which is now out in paperback. Among the revelations in the book is that he hated tennis, he took crystal meth, and he wore a hairpiece in the 1990 French Open to hide a bald spot. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new French gangster film Mesrine: Killer Instinct (pronounced 'Meh-REEN') about the real life French gangster Jacques Mesrine. The film is in two parts, the second film is Public Enemy Number One.

Interview with Jimmie Dale Gilmore; Interview with Charlie, Tanya, Rachel, and Petra Haden; Review of Patsy Cline's album "Sweet Dreams August 30, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503769].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer songwriter JIMMIE DALE GILMORE. His most recent album is 'Come on Back.' It's a memorial to his late father, who died of ALS in 2000. The album includes version of his dad's favorite songs like 'Pick Me Up on Your Way Down' and 'Walkin' The Floor Over You.' His other albums include 'Now Again' and 'Wheels of Fortune.' Gilmore was born, raised and lives in Texas. In the early 1970's, Gilmore founded the band The Flatlanders with Joe Ely and Butch Hancock. The band released an album in 1973 but it did not sell well. Gilmore spent the rest of the decade living in an ashram in Denver, not performing. But his songs became well known through singer Joe Ely, and in 1988, Gilmore released his first solo album, 'Fair and Square.' 'Come on Back' is Gilmore's seventh album. Gilmore and The Flatlanders will be on tour in the U.S. southwest in September. For more information, visit http://www.jimmiedalegilmore.com. (REBROADCAST from 11/23/05) (2.) Bassist CHARLIE HADEN and family. Their album Rambling Boy was a departure from his usual style. Haden is known as a great jazz musician, but he grew up performing on his family's country music radio show. Haden returned to roots music with Rambling Boy. His wife Ruth, son Josh, daughters Rachel, Petra and Tanya, and his son-in-law, the actor Jack Black all worked with him on the album. HADEN's newest album Jasmine (ECM label) is his first collaboration with Keith Jarrett in decades. More info at http:// www.charliehadenmusic.com. (REBROADCAST from 9/24/08) (3.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the career of Patsy Cline. A new anthology of her recordings has been released: Sweet Dreams: Her Complete Decca Masters 1960-1963 (Hip-O-Select).

Interview with Merle Haggard; Interview with George Jones; Interview with Bobby Braddock.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music legend MERLE HAGGARD. He's been on the country music scene since the early sixties and has more number one hits than any country music star except Conway Twitty. He was in the audience when Johnny Cash played at San Quentin Prison. After he got out of prison he started playing music, which was an early love of his. HAGGARD was inducted to the Country Music Hall of Fame. His new album is I Am What I Am (Vanguard records). He goes on tour in September, for info: http://merlehaggard.com/ (REBROADCAST from 4/6/95 & 8/15/95) (2.) Country music star GEORGE JONES. At the age of 78 he's still recording and touring. He's widely acclaimed as one of the greatest country singers, but his 50-year career had also been marked by alcohol and drug abuse, until he sobered up in 1998. In 2003, Jones received the 2002 Medal of Arts from President George W.
Bush. He wrote his autobiography, "I Lived to Tell it All". His latest album is A Collection Of My Best Recollection. It includes some of Jones's most memorable songs, including, 'He Stopped Lovin' Her Today.'; Two songs on it have never been released. He's also on tour in September, for info, go to http:// He's won many top country awards for his songs, which include, He Stopped Loving Her today, D-I-V-
O-R-C-E, and Did You Ever. He wrote the memoir Down in Orburndale: A songwriter's Youth in Old
Florida. You can find out more about him at http://www.bobbybraddock.com/

Interview with Willie Nelson; Interview with Waylon Jennings; Review of the film "The American."
September 1, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925048].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music singer and songwriter WILLIE NELSON. Nelson has been performing for over 50 years. He's recorded 250 albums and appeared in 25 films. He brought his guitar with him to the studio to perform some songs. This year marks the 25th anniversary of Farm Aid, which NELSON helped organize. His new album is Willie Nelson: Country Music (Rounder). He begins a tour on September 3rd, in Big Sky, Montana. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST from 7/16/96) (2.) Country music star WAYLON JENNINGS. Born in 1937 in Littlefield, Texas, he was a disc jockey at 14, and had already formed his own band at the age of 12, making guest appearances on the local station KDAV "Sunday Party," where he met Buddy Holly in 1955. Jennings became Holly's bass player. It was Jennings who gave his seat up to the Big Bopper on the plane that crashed and killed Buddy Holly. In 1975, Waylon was named the Country Music Association's Male Vocalist of the Year, and in 1976, he helped found the "Outlaw Movement." In that year, Waylon, Willie, Jessi Colter (who married Waylon in 1969) and Tompall Glaser teamed up for "Wanted: The Outlaws" that became the first platinum (one million units) album ever recorded in Nashville. WAYLON, the authorized autobiography, was written with writer-musician Lenny Kaye in 1996. He died in 2002 at the age of 64. (REBROADCAST from 10/14/96.) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The American, starring George Clooney.

Interview with John Doe; Interview with Ricky Skaggs; Interview with Charlie Louvin. September 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925069].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician JOHN DOE. The founder of the Los Angeles punk band X joins us in the studio with Canadian band the Sadies to perform songs from their 2009 album Country Club. While X often had a slight country twang, Doe has delved fully into the genre with this album, covering classics from Merle Haggard, Tammy Wynette and Willie Nelson. Doe is also an actor in film and television. He recently appeared on the hit series One Tree Hill. Doe is performing with The Sadies later this month in California. Check the website, http://www.theejohndoe.com for more info, and the feature, 'What Would John Doe Do?' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/19/09) (2.) Country and bluegrass musician RICKY SKAGGS. His new solo album is the Christian-themed 'Mosaic.' Skaggs started performing as a young child. He was considered a prodigy. His first number one single was 'Crying My Heart Out Over You' in 1981, and he continued to have a string of hits throughout the eighties. But he fell out of favor for most of the next decade, coming back in 1997 with 'Bluegrass Rules!' recorded with his backup band Kentucky Thunder. Skaggs has won 14 Grammy Awards and many Country Music Association awards. Skaggs is currently on tour in the U.S. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/21/03) (3.) Country music performer CHARLIE LOUVIN ('LOO-vin'). His new album, The Battles Rage On, will be released November 2010. Louvin, who is 83, has been battling pancreatic cancer, and you can find the latest information on his illness and treatment at his website, http://charlielouvin.net. In the 1950's, he and his brother Ira Louvin were regulars at the Grand Ole Opry. Ira was killed in a car accident in 1965, and Charlie continued as a solo artist. In 2001, The Louvin Brothers we inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/27/96)

Interview with Doc Watson; Interview with Don Flemons, Rhiannon Giddens and Justin Robinson; Commentary on puns and wordplay in country music. September 3, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925049].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ARTHEL "DOC" WATSON, one of America's premier acoustic folk guitarists. His flat-pick style of playing traditional folk and bluegrass has made his sound one of the most distinctive of any folk artist. His 38 studio and 15 live albums have earned him seven Grammy Awards and a Grammy Lifetime Achievement Award. He's also got nearly two dozen compilation albums. In the folk music community, Watson is best known for his part in preserving the traditional ballads and melodies of southern Appalachia. We feature two interviews from our archives: a 1988 conversation, and a 1989 live in-studio concert. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATES: 3/24/88, 1/13/89) (2.) The band CAROLINA CHOCOLATE DROPS: DOM FLEMONS, RHIANNON GIDDENS and JUSTIN ROBINSON. They're reviving traditional black string band and jug band music of the 1920s and 30s. They were the first black string band to play at the Grand Ole Opry. They'll perform in the Fresh Air studio. All three trained in the Piedmont banjo and fiddle musical tradition under Joe Thompson, who is 91 and is believed to be the last living performer from the Piedmont string band heyday. Their first album Dona Got a Ramblin Mind was released in 2007. Earlier this year, they released their second album Genuine Negro Jig (Nonesuch). They also have a songbook: Carolina Chocolate Drops Songbook: Twelve Songs to Sing and to Play. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/1/10) (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the puns and wordplay of country music lyrics. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/9/99)
Interview with Dolly Parton; Interview with Charlie Rich. September 6, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925047].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country Music Hall of Famer DOLLY PARTON. She made her debut at the Grand Ole Opry in 1959. Since then she's written thousands of songs, including the hits 'Coat of Many Colors,' 'Jolene,' and 'I Will Always Love You.' And she's had hits on both the country and pop charts. PARTON wrote her autobiography in 1994, 'My Life and Other Unfinished Business.' She's won seven Grammys, and she was inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame in 1999. She co-owns the theme park Dollywood in Pigeon Forge, Tennessee. Parton is slated to team up with Queen Latifah for the upcoming film 'Joyful Noise.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 1/23/01. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Country singer CHARLIE RICH. He got his start working with the Sun record label in the late 50s, writing tunes for Jerry Lee Lewis, Roy Orbison, and Johnny Cash. From there he began making records himself. In the 70s, his songs "The Most Beautiful Girl," and "Behind Closed Doors," were big country-pop hits. He won two Grammys. His nickname was The Silver Fox. During the 80s he dropped out of sight. He came back in 1992 with the album "Pictures And Paintings," featuring jazz and blues standards. He died in 1995, at age 62. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/3/92) Interview with Lawrence Wright; Commentary on the word "sensitivity." September 7, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925037].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer LAWRENCE WRIGHT. There's a new HBO documentary, My Trip to Al-Qaeda, based on Wright's experience writing his Pulitzer Prize winning book The Looming Tower: Al Qaeda and the Road to 9/11. Wright is a staff writer for The New Yorker magazine. He is also a screenwriter. He co-wrote the film, The Siege, starring Denzel Washington and Bruce Willis. He's now working on a script for Ridley Scott. Wright's previous books include City Children, Country Summer; In the New World; and Saints & Sinners. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the ambiguities of the word "sensitivity."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Entomologist MICHAEL POTTER. He'll discuss the current outbreak of bedbugs. Potter is a Professor of Entomology at the University of Kentucky, specializing in pests infesting buildings, people, pets and property. The insects had virtually disappeared from the U.S. by the 1950s. But now they are back and can be found in homes, hotels, schools, even movie theatres and clothing stores. Previously, POTTER was the National Technical Director for the world's largest pest control company. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Comedian ROBERT SCHIMMEL. He died Saturday at age 60, after a car accident that had occurred the previous weekend. Schimmel was a passenger in a vehicle driven by his teenage daughter Aliyah, who sustained moderate injuries. Schimmel had survived 2 heart attacks and non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma. He was also awaiting a liver transplant for cirrhosis. His 2008 memoir is Cancer on {dollar}5 a Day (chemo not included): How Humor Got Me Through the Toughest Journey of My Life. Schimmel was named one of Comedy Central's 100 Greatest Comics, has had his own stand up specials on HBO and Showtime, and he has appeared regularly on Howard Stern and Conan O'Brien. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/12/08)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Freedom, by Jonathan Franzen, author of The Corrections. (2.) Author JONATHAN FRANZEN. His new novel Freedom is about an American family in slow collapse. Franzen has gotten much advance press, mostly in praise of the book, but there's been some backlash. He penned the wildly successful novel The Corrections, a heavy tome that remained on the bestseller lists for months. But Franzen irked Oprah when he refused her seal of approval on the jacket of The Corrections, and got a reputation as a difficult personality. The writer Jennifer Weiner recently organized a twitter campaign to collect negative reactions to Freedom. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Teenage Dream, the new album from Katy Perry.

Interview with Timothy Egan; Interview with Hal Holbrook; Review of the film "I'm Still Here." September 10, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503688].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author TIMOTHY EGAN. His book, The Big Burn: Teddy Roosevelt and The Fire That Saved America, is now out in paperback. It's about the largest forest fire in American history. Nearly three million acres went up in flames in a matter of a few days, but the fire actually saved the forests even as they burned, strengthening public opinion for Teddy Roosevelt's plan to protect national land. Egan is a Pulitzer Prize winning reporter and author of five books. He won the National Book Award for his critically acclaimed The Worst Hard Time. He writes the weekly column Outposts for the New York Times. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/29/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Actor HAL HOLBROOK. He guest stars in the acclaimed new NBC series Event. He's got a guest starring role in the FX show Sons of Anarchy, which launched season three this week. Also this week, holbrook's film that Evening Sun came out on DVD. The five time Emmy winner has had dozens of TV, film and stage roles. His movies include 'Into the Wild' and 'All the President's Men.' He won a Tony for 'Mark Twain Tonight!' Holbrook has a role in the upcoming film adaptation of 'Water for Elephants.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/30/09. DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEW.) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews I'm Still Here, Casey Affleck's documentary about his brother in law and best friend Joaquin Phoenix.

Interview with Jennifer Ackerman; Interview with Isabel Wilkerson. September 13, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925181].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science writer JENNIFER ACKERMAN. Her new book is Ah-Choo! The Uncommon Life of Your Common Cold. Ackerman dispels myths about colds and popular remedies, and explains which treatments work and which are ineffective, according to current research. Ackerman is also the author of Sex Sleep Eat Drink Dream: A Day in the Life of Your Body (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS). (2.)
Author ISABEL WILKERSON. Her new book, The Warmth of Other Suns: the Epic Story of America's Great Migration, documents the vast population shift of African Americans who moved from the south to northern and western cities during the 20th century. The Pulitzer prize winning journalist tells a story of radical shifts, across the country, and across the racial divide. Wilkerson won the 1994 Pulitzer for Feature Writing as Chicago Bureau Chief of the New York Times. She's the first black woman to win for individual reporting. She's now a journalism professor at Boston University.

---

Interview with Stephen Breyer; Review of Ricky Skaggs' album "Mosaic"; Review of the film "Last Train Home." September 14, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925182].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) United States Supreme Court Justice STEPHEN BREYER. His new book is Making Our Democracy Work: A Judge's View. Appointed in 1994 by President Bill Clinton, Breyer is considered to be a more liberal member of the Court, and has often clashed with Justice Scalia. At the basis of Breyer's philosophy is the idea that the framers created the U.S. Constitution to be a living document, open to interpretation and evolution, while more conservative members of the court see the Constitution as static. Breyer's previous book is Active Liberty: Interpreting Our Democratic Constitution. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Mosaic the new pop-gospel-bluegrass collection by Ricky Skaggs. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the documentary Last Train Home by Lixin Fan, a Chinese filmmaker based in Montreal. It's about the journey city dwelling migrant workers make to their home in rural villages every Chinese New Year. It follows a husband and wife living in Guangzhou who return to their village and their two children. Their children aren't allowed to live with them in the city.

---

Interview with Scott Spencer; Interview with Jeffrey Gordon. September 15, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925185].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist SCOTT SPENCER. His new novel Man in the Woods has been called "An American Tragedy for the 21st century" by John Eskow for the Huffington Post. It's about the consequences of an accidental murder. SPENCER is probably best known for his book Endless Love which was made into a film. Since then he's written six novels including Waking The Dead, Willing, and A Ship Made of Paper. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) DR. JEFFREY GORDON is director of the Center for Genome Sciences & Systems Biology. He'll discuss the new science of microbes and how microbes in our intestines may hold the key to fighting some diseases. GORDON is internationally known for his research on gut development and how gut microbes affect normal intestinal function, and predisposition to health and to certain diseases.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOHN HAMM. He stars as Don Draper, a high-powered advertising executive in the award winning AMC drama Mad Men. He stars opposite Ben Affleck as an FBI agent in the new film The Town which was also directed by Affleck. HAMM has also had guest appearances in 30 Rock. Previously HAMM co-starred in the NBC series Providence and he had roles in What About Brian, and The Unit. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember former NBC-TV newsman and language commentator EDWIN NEWMAN. He died August 13, at the age of 91 from pneumonia. His death was announced yesterday. The family wanted to wait and grieve in private before announcing his death. A noted wordsmith, Newman wrote a number of books on the usage of the English language. They include Strictly Speaking, A Civil Tongue, and I Must Say: Edwin Newman on English, the News and Other Matters.

Interview with Theo Bleckmann; Review of the film "Catfish"; Review of the television show "Boardwalk Empire." September 17, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925180].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Vocalist, composer and performance artist THEO BLECKMANN. His new album is I Dwell in Possibility (Winter&Winter records). Bleckmann grew up in Germany, and came to the US in 1989. He became a U.S. citizen in 2005. He's well known in the downtown New York music scene, having worked with artists like John Zorn, Anthony Braxton and Meredith Monk. Bleckmann has garnered much critical acclaim. His previous album is Berlin: songs of love and war, peace and exile. It's in collaboration with pianist Fumio Yasuda. Check his website for details: http://www.theobleckmann.com. (REBROADCAST from 7/2/08) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Catfish. It's billed as a reality thriller, and it's also been called a social networking documentary. Catfish is directed by Ariel Schulman and Henry Joost, who filmed Ariel's brother, Nev, the protagonist. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new HBO series Boardwalk Empire, which premieres September 19. It's set in the 1920s in Atlantic City during Prohibition. It stars Steve Buscemi. Martin Scorsese and Terence Winter (who wrote many Sopranos episodes) are executive producers.
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Three guests on the topic of pro football player Michael Vick's dogs. Vick was running a dog fighting operation. First, Dr. Stephen Zawistowski, (ZAV-is-TAV-sky), a psychologist and ASPCA animal behavior specialist who evaluated and worked with the Vick dogs. Also, Journalist JIM GORANT. His new book is The Lost Dogs: Michael Vick's Dogs and Their Tale of Redemption. Gorant writes for Sports Illustrated. He's been following the story of Vick's business Bad Newz Kennels, where pit bulls were abused and tortured. Vick is back on the field playing for the Philadelphia Eagles, and the dogs have been rescued and rehabilitated. Gorant is a senior editor at Sports Illustrated. Finally, Andrew Yorri and his dog Hector join us in the final segment of the interview. Yorri adopted Hector, one of the Vick pit bulls, from a rescue group. Yorri trained Hector to be a certified therapy dog. They now live in Amenia, New York, where Yorri works for the Animal Farm Foundation. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Band of Joy, the new solo CD from Robert Plant, who's best known as lead vocalist and lyricist with the band Led Zeppelin. (3.) Today is the official start of the 2010-2011 TV season. TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI tells us which shows are worth watching.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and radio contributor DAVID RAKOFF (RACK-off). His new book is called Half Empty. It's a collection of pessimistic and funny essays which cover topics such as a pornography trade fair, Rakoff's neurotic childhood, and a critical reassessment of the Broadway musical Rent. Rakoff is a frequent contributor to This American Life and The New York Times Magazine. His previous bestselling book is Don't Get Too Comfortable: The Indignities of Coach Class, The Torments of Low Thread Count, The Never-Ending Quest for Artisanal Olive Oil, and Other First World Problems. Rakoff has also done some acting and voice work. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Big Girls Don't Cry by Rebecca Traister.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Foreign correspondent ANTHONY SHADID (shah-DEED). He reports from Iraq for the New York Times, and he's the former Baghdad Bureau Chief for the Washington Post. As the U-S continues to draw down troops in Iraq, the future of the country's government is in the works. Shadid is a two time Pulitzer Prize winner. In 2004 he won the award for his coverage of the U.S. invasion of Iraq, and in 2010 he won for his coverage of the U.S. troop withdrawal. He's written two books: Legacy of the Prophet, and Night Draws Near. More info at www.anthonyshadid.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new album of selected recordings from soprano Benita Valente. The disc leads off a new series on Bridge Records. This one is entitled 'Benita Valente: Great Singers of the 20th Century, Volume 1.'
Interview with Jeff Sharlet; Interview with Mark Romanek. September 23, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925273].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JEFF SHARLET. He's got a new book called C Street: The Fundamentalist Threat to American Democracy. Sharlet is also the author of the bestseller The Family, which examined the group of politicians living and gathering in a group house on C Street in Washington DC. The Family's members include powerful senators and congressmen. Sharlet is a contributing editor for Harper's and Rolling Stone. His work has also appeared in many publications, including The Washington Post and Mother Jones. He's an assistant professor of English at Dartmouth College. (2.) Film director MARK ROMANEK ('row-MAN-ik'). His new film is Never Let Me Go, based on the book Remains of the Day by Kazuo Ishiguro. It tells the story of three young people raised at a secluded English boarding school, where we learn their lives are conscribed by a dark secret, one that involves science fiction-like advances in modern medicine. Romanek won three Grammies for music videos, working with such artists as Michael Jackson, Madonna, Jay Z, Nine Inch Nails, and Johnny Cash. Romanek also wrote and directed the feature film One Hour Photo, a tense psychological drama starring Robin Williams as a lonely photo technician in a large discount store.

Interview with Tim Page; Review of the television show "Dexter"; Interview with Nick Hornby; Review of the film "Wall Street September 24, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503261].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TIM PAGE is a Pulitzer Prize winning music critic whose memoir about being diagnosed with Asperger's Syndrome at the age of 45 is called 'Parallel Play: Life As an Outsider.' It's now out in paperback. He writes in the prologue of the book, 'The diagnosis was one of those rare clinical confirmations met mostly with relief. Here, finally, was an objective explanation for some of my strengths and weaknesses.' PAGE has been music critic at the New York Times, and Newsday. He was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1997 while at The Washington Post where he was chief classical music critic. PAGE is professor of journalism and music at the University of Southern California. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/13/09) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the season 5 opener of Dexter, airing Sunday night at 9 PM ET/PT on HBO. (3.) Author NICK HORNBY. His novel 'Juliet, Naked' is about a reclusive singer and his obsessive fans. It's now out in paperback. Hornby also wrote the screenplay for the film 'An Education' about a teenage girl's coming-of-age set in Britain in the early 1960s, which was based on a memoir by journalist Lynn Barber. Many of his novels have been made into films, including 'About a Boy' and 'High Fidelity.' His novel 'Fever Pitch,' about a soccer obsessed English teacher, was adapted to the silver screen, then readapted for American audiences, with a Boston Red Sox fanatic as the protagonist. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/30/09) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Wall Street: Money Never Sleeps, the 2010 follow up to the 1987 hit film Wall Street. Michael Douglas returns as Gordon Gekko. Oliver Stone directs.

Interview with Gary Noesner; Review of Joost Buis and Astronotes' album "Zooming'." September 27, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925622].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former FBI hostage negotiator GARY NOESNER (NESS-ner). His memoir is called Stalling For Time: My Life as an FBI Hostage Negotiator. He was one of the first hostage negotiators for the FBI. He was at the Branch Davidian compound in Waco, Texas. He retired in 2003 after a thirty year career, 23 of which were spent in hostage negotiation. He says that defusing a crisis starts with establishing trust, fulfilling the primal need for security, and sometimes, having to lie. He's currently a consultant with Control Risks. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new album from Dutch composer, bandleader and trombonist Joost Buis and Astronotes('yoast bouse', rhymes with 'toast house'). 'Zoomin' is the group's second album (Data label).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TERENCE WINTER, executive producer of HBO's new series Boardwalk Empire, and Emmy award winning writer for The Sopranos. Boardwalk Empire is set in Atlantic City at the beginning of Prohibition. The series is adapted from the book Boardwalk Empire: The Birth, High Times, and Corruption of Atlantic City by Nelson Johnson. The main character of the TV series is Nucky Thompson (Steve Buscemi), based on the real life of Nucky Johnson. It follows the careers of bootleggers and gangsters who made their fortune smuggling in illegal liquor to the beachside resort, then selling it all over the country. Martin Scorsese is also an executive producer of Boardwalk Empire, and directed the pilot episode. While working on the Sopranos, Winter wrote/co-wrote 25 episodes. In 2004, he won an Emmy for Best Writing in a Drama Series, and in 2007, the show won an Emmy for Outstanding Drama Series.

(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEW.) (2.) Actor JIM PARSONS. He plays Sheldon Cooper on the Big Bang Theory (CBS). He's received critical acclaim and several awards for his work on the show, including an Emmy in 2010. His film credits include Garden State and School for Scoundrels. He's had roles in the TV shows Judging Amy and Ed. (DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist ROBERT REICH ("ch" like in "rich"). His new book is Aftershock: The Next Economy and America's Future (Knopf). He sees parallels between America in 1928 before the Great Depression and in 2007 before the so-called Great Recession when the flow of income to the top 1 percent of Americans peaked. He argues in the book that income inequality has created a situation in which the middle class lacks the purchasing power to keep the economy going. REICH is former secretary of labor under President Clinton, a former economic adviser to President Obama, and a professor at the University of California at Berkeley. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor and comic ZACH GALIFIANAKIS (GAL-i-fe-NAK-iss). The bearded, over-weight comic is known for his conceptual, absurdist comedy. He got his start in show business on the NBC sitcom Boston common. And he was an original member of The Comedians of Comedy who went on a stand-up tour in 2004 and included Patton Oswalt. He has a recurring show on the Funny or Die website, parodying celebrity interview shows. His breakout film role was in The Hangover. And he's in the HBO series Bored to Death. His new film is It's Kind of a Funny Story.
Interview with Mark Feldstein; Review of Young-Ha Kim's novel "Your Republic is Calling You."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARK FELDSTEIN ("FELD-STINE") is the author of the new book Poisoning the Press: Richard Nixon, Jack Anderson, and the Rise of Washington's Scandal Culture (Farrar, Straus & Giroux). It's about the 25 year feud between President Nixon and the columnist Jack Anderson. Anderson was the investigative journalist of his day, but FELDSTEIN writes that Anderson used blackmail, bribery, stolen documents and bugging to get information for his syndicated column Washington Merry-Go-Round. Early on Anderson dogged Nixon. In 1972 he broke the stories of the Nixon Administration's secret support for Pakistan on the eve of the India-Pakistan war. It got so bad that, according to FELDSTEIN, Watergate burglar G. Gordon Liddy plotted to kill Anderson. FELDSTEIN is an associate professor at George Washington University and a former correspondent for ABC, NBC, and CNN. He was also an intern for Anderson in the 1970s. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews Your Republic is Calling You, a new literary thriller by South Korean writer Young-ha Kim.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember pioneering film director ARTHUR PENN. He died Tuesday at the age of 88, from congestive heart failure. PENN was best known for Bonnie and Clyde, a landmark film for its realistic depiction of violence. Penn's other films included Little Big Man, The Miracle Worker, Alice's Restaurant, and The Missouri Breaks. He got his start in early television, and theatre. His film career lost steam in the 80s, and he went to Broadway. At the age of 77, he was hired as executive producer of the T-V show Law and Order. (REBROADCAST FROM 9.29.89) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews a new collection of 15-minute radio shows featuring Hank Williams and his band, sponsored by Mother's Best Flour. The 15-disc set is The Complete Mother's Best Recordings. (3.) Actor TONY CURTIS. The former handsome leading man died Wednesday at the age of 85 from cardiac arrest. He's probably best known for his role impersonating a female jazz musician opposite Jack Lemmon in Some Like it Hot, and for his role as a slave in the film Spartacus. He was nominated for an Oscar for his role as an escaped convict in the film The Defiant Ones. (REBROADCAST from 4/19/91). (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Aaron Sorkin film Social Network.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JON STEWART, host of Comedy Central's The Daily Show. ("The Most trusted name in Fake News"). The show has won multiple Emmys and the coveted Peabody award. Recently Stewart announced he will lead a rally in Washington D.C. October 30th, the Rally to Restore Sanity. And he has a new book, The Daily Show with Jon Stewart Presents Earth (The Book): A Visitor's Guide to the Human Race. On Wed, September 29th Terry interviewed STEWART on stage before an audience at the 92nd St. Y in New York City. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with James Franco; Review of Lydia Davis's translation of "Madame Bovary." October 5, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925387].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JAMES FRANCO. He's currently starring as a young Allen Ginsberg in the new movie Howl. And he's starring in the Danny Boyle film 127 Hours as a mountain climber who gets pinned beneath a rock in a remote area of Utah, and has to cut off his own arm to extract himself. FRANCO has an MFA from Brooklyn College, and studied in the creative writing MFA program at Columbia. He has a new collection of short stories set in California, where he's from. It's called Palo Alto (Scribner). FRANCO's writing has also appeared in McSweeney's and Esquire. He played Harvey Milk's longtime companion in the film Milk. He got his big break on the short lived but critically acclaimed TV show Freaks and Geeks. He went on to play Harry Osborn in all three Spiderman films. Prior to Milk, he was in Pineapple Express, and played James Dean in a TNT biopic. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews a new translation of Gustave Flaubert's Madame Bovary by author Lydia Davis.
Interview with Justin Timberlake; Review of Sarah Blasko's album "As Day Follows Night"; Commentary on classic television shows. October 6, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925384].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician and actor JUSTIN TIMBERLAKE. He stars as Sean Parker, the founder of Napster, in the new film The Social Network. Timberlake got his start as a Mouseketeer in the 1990s show The New Mickey Mouse Club. He was a member of the boy band 'N Sync. His 2002 debut solo album was called Justified. His second album, FutureSex/LoveSounds, included the superhit SexyBack. Timberlake has collaborated with Timbaland, 50 Cent, Madonna, and many other pop stars. His acting career includes the films Black Snake Moan, several Shrek movies and The Love Guru, in which he played Jacques 'LeCoq' Grande. He's also well known for his performance in the Saturday Night Live short 'Dick in a Box,', for which he won an Emmy. Timberlake's received multiple Emmys and Grammys, as well as many other accolades for his work. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews the American debut of Australian singer-songwriter Sarah Blasko. It's her third album As Day Follows Night. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI takes a look back to a half century of television and considers the way TV disregards its past.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PETER STONE covers money and politics for The Center for Public Integrity, a nonprofit organization dedicated to producing original, responsible investigative journalism on issues of public concern. He's been writing about the new world of campaign finance, in the aftermath of the Supreme Court's controversial ruling in Citizen's United v. Federal Election commission. The decision overturned campaign finance law and now allows corporations and unions to spend unlimited amounts on ads and other campaign activities that can urge voters to oppose or support a candidate. (http://www.publicintegrity.org/articles/entry/2462/) (2.) LEE FANG ("FONG") is a Researcher for The Progress Report and ThinkProgress.org at the progressive think-tank Center for American Progress. He's been writing about the trade association, the U.S. Chamber of Commerce which has been running political attack campaigns against the Democrats with money from foreign donors, including foreign corporations.
FANG writes that the "Chamber is likely skirting longstanding campaign finance law that bans the involvement of foreign corporations in American elections." (http://thinkprogress.org/2010/10/05/foreign-chamber-commerce/) (3.) Journalist KEN VOGEL tracks the confluence of money, politics and influence for POLITICO. He recently wrote the expenditures of the groups American Crossroads and Crossroads GPS, founded by GOP operatives Karl Rove and Ed Gillespie. They've spent about 18 million so far on ad buys targeting contested Senate races. 75 percent of the by was paid by anonymous donors. (http://www.politico.com/news/stories/1010/43155.html)

Interview with Paul McCartney; Interview with Cynthia Lennon; Interview with Ringo Starr; Interview with Jon Wiener; Review of films "Tamara Drewe" and "It's Kind of a Funny Story." October 8, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503654].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Saturday (October 9th) would have been the 70th birthday of John Lennon. We feature excerpts of interviews about him. PAUL MCCARTNEY reads a poem he wrote for John Lennon and tells a story about their early days on the road. (REBROADCAST from 4/30/01) (2.) We feature an interview with Lennon's first wife, CYNTHIA LENNON. (REBROADCAST FROM 8/6/85). (3.) Drummer RINGO STARR talks with Terry about John Lennon. (REBROADCAST from 6/14/95) (4.) Historian JON WIENER spent 14 years fighting to gain access to the FBI's secret files on John Lennon. WIENER's Freedom of Information case went all the way to the Supreme Court before the FBI decided to settle. His book Gimme Some Truth outlined and reproduced the most important pages of the file, revealing that the Nixon administration plotted to deport Lennon in 1972 and silence him as a voice of the anti-war movement. The story is also told in the 2006 documentary, "The U.S. Versus John Lennon," Wiener served as historical consultant for the film, and appeared in it. WIENER is Professor of History at the University of California, Irvine, and also author of Come Together: John Lennon and His Time. (REBROADCAST from 1/25/2000) (5.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new movies: Tamara Drewe the new film directed by Stephen Frears based on a graphic novel by Posy Simmonds which in turn was inspired by the Thomas Hardy novel Far From the Madding Crowd, and It's Kind of a Funny Story starring Zach Galifianakis.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ERIC FONER is the DeWitt Clinton professor of history at Columbia. He has written several books about the Civil war era, Abraham Lincoln, and the period of Reconstruction after the Civil War. His new book is about how Lincoln's attitudes toward slavery evolved. It is The Fiery Trial: Abraham Lincoln and American Slavery (W. Norton & Co.) FONER is also the author of Forever Free: The Story of Emancipation and Reconstruction. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rebroadcast of 1986 interview with SOLOMON BURKE. The soul singer died Sunday before he was to perform in Amsterdam.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter and author C.J. CHIVERS (like 'shivers'). His new book is called 'The Gun,' and tells the story of the AK-47 assault rifle. From its post-WWII soviet beginnings to its use today by insurgents in Afghanistan, it is the most abundant weapon in the world. CHIVERS is a senior writer for the New York Times, and shared a Pulitzer prize in 2009 for his NY Times coverage of combat in Afghanistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Great House, the new novel from Nicole Krauss.

Interview with Sean Wilentz; Obituary for Dame Joan Sutherland. October 13, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925388].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian SEAN WILENTZ. His New Yorker article, 'Confounding Fathers: The Tea Party's Cold War roots,' is about Glenn Beck and the Tea Party. He discusses how Beck, who has 'emerged as a unifying figure and intellectual guide' of the Tea Party Movement, finds fodder in ideas originating with the John Birch society and 1950s America. Wilentz asks 'how extremist ideas held at bay for decades inside the Republican Party have exploded anew? and why, this time, Party leaders have done virtually nothing to challenge those ideas, and a great deal to abet them.' Wilentz is a professor of history at Princeton University. Wilentz has also published the new biography 'Bob Dylan in America.' (http://www.newyorker.com/reporting/2010/10/18/101018fa_fact_wilentz). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ remembers Australian soprano Dame Joan Sutherland, who died this past Sunday at age 83.

Interview with Philip Roth; Interview with Vijay Iyer. October 14, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925669].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist PHILIP ROTH. His new book is Nemesis, and it's set in Newark during a 1944 polio epidemic. Roth has won many awards for his writing, gaining his first acclaim in the 1950s for his debut novel Goodbye, Columbus, followed by the classic Portnoy's Complaint. He's received a Pulitzer and multiple National Book and PEN/Faulkner awards. Nemesis is Roth's thirty first book. (2.) Jazz pianist and composer VIJAY IYER ('VEE-jay EYE-er'). His debut solo album is titled Solo. Tracks include a cover of Michael Jackson's Human Nature, several duke Ellington tunes, as well as original compositions. His previous album is last year's Historicity. Iyer is a faculty member at New York University, The New School, and the School for Improvisational Music.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI. His book Dangerously Funny: The Uncensored Story of the Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour is now out in paperback. From 1967 to 1969, Tommy and Dick Smothers challenged the censors at CBS and the political establishment. They lost their show, but later won a battle in court. David talks about the legendary comedy duo who tackled political issues and censorship. Bianculli describes their lives both onscreen and behind the scenes, based on extensive interviews with the Smothers Brothers and key players. David is a frequent contributor and guest host on Fresh Air. His previous books are Teleliteracy: Taking Television Seriously and Dictionary of Teleliteracy: Television's 500 Biggest Hits, Misses, and Events. His website is www.tvworthwatching.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/30/09) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the album Green Blimp from Oklahoma-born rocker Dwight Twilley. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Hereafter, starring Matt Damon and directed by Clint Eastwood.

Interview with Mike Birbiglia; Review of the season finales of television shows "Mad Men" and "Rubicon." October 18, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925385].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian MIKE BIRBIGLIA (burr-BIG-leah). His new book is Sleepwalk With Me: And Other Painfully True Stories. He calls is a comedic memoir. Birbiglia has appeared on This American Life, had Comedy Central specials, and made the late night rounds with Conan O'Brien, David Letterman, Jimmy Kimmel and Jimmy Fallon. He's now on tour. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the season finales of Mad Men and Rubicon.

Interview with Lee Unkrich and Michael Arndt; Review of Bruno Mars's album "Doo-Wops and Hooligans." October 19, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925382].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director LEE UNKRICH ("UNK-RICH") and screenwriter MICHAEL ARNDT. The two worked together on Toy Story 3 which is now out on DVD. UNKRICH made his feature-film directorial debut as co-director on Toy Story 2. He also co-directed Monsters, Inc. He also was film editor on Toy Story. ARNDT won an Academy Award for Best Original Screenplay for his first film, Little Miss Sunshine. This is his first screenplay for Pixar. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Doo-Wops and Hooligans the new album by 25-year-old singer, songwriter and producer Bruno Mars.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JASON SCHWARTZMAN plays a novelist who is also an unlicensed private detective with a taste for wine and weed in the HBO series Bored to Death. SCHWARTZMAN made his acting debut in Rushmore. His other films include Shopgirl, and I (Heart) Huckabees, The Darjeeling Limited (which he co-wrote), The Fantastic Mr. Fox, and Scott Pilgrim vs. the World. He is also a musician. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the novel To the End of the Land the new novel by Israeli writer David Grossman.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) HAROLD MCGEE is an expert on the science of food and cooking. His new cookbook is Keys to Good Cooking: A guide to Making the Best of Foods & Recipes (Penguin Press). MCGEE also writes a column for The New York Times and writes the blog Curious Cook. MCGEE is also the author of the cookbooks On Food & Cooking: The Science & Lore of the Kitchen, and The Curious Cook. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new Sherlock series part of the PBS series Masterpiece Mystery.

Interview with Jon Stewart. October 22, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925044].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JON STEWART, host of Comedy Central's The Daily Show. The show has won multiple Emmys and the coveted Peabody award. Recently Stewart announced he will lead a rally in Washington D.C. October 30th, the Rally to Restore Sanity. And he has a new book, The Daily Show with Jon Stewart Presents Earth (The Book): A Visitor's Guide to the Human Race. On Wed, September 29th Terry interviewed STEWART on stage before an audience at the 92nd St. Y in New York City. We will rebroadcast this interview and include portions of the conversation that were not included in the original broadcast. (REBROADCAST from 10.04.10) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Guitarist KEITH RICHARDS of the Rolling Stones. He's 66 years old now and has written his autobiography, Life (Little, Brown & Co., written with James Fox). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Oliver Sacks; Review of television movie musical "Evening Primose." October 26, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925195].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist and writer OLIVER SACKS is a well-known chronicler of the odd and fascinating world of neurology. His best selling books include The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, and Awakenings (which was made into a film). He's written more than nine books, and received a Guggenheim Fellowship. SACKS is also a regular contributor to The New Yorker. In his new book The Mind's Eye, he writes about how neurological disorders affect vision, and he uses himself as an example. He has had lifelong prosopagnosia, or face-blindness, the inability to recognize faces. And several years ago he had cancer of the eye which caused optical illusions and hallucinations, and he lost the use of his eye. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Evening Primrose a made-for TV musical with songs by Stephen Sondheim that was broadcast by ABC forty-four years ago. It was part of the network's Stage 67 series, and it's now available for the first time on DVD.
Interview with Gretchen Morgenson; Review of the album "Come and Get It October 27, 2010.  [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925336].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GRETCHEN MORGENSON will discuss the foreclosure crisis, which she has been covering. MORGENSON is assistant business and financial editor and a columnist at the New York Times. She has covered the world financial markets for the Times since May 1998 and won the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for her "trenchant and incisive" coverage of Wall Street. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews a new collection of singles put out by Apple records which includes recordings by the Beatles as well as other groups: Come and Get It: The Best of Apple Records.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer and lyricist STEPHEN SONDHEIM. He has a new book collecting his lyrics: Finishing the Hat: Collected Lyrics (1954-1981) with Attendant Comments, Principles, Heresies, Grudges, Whines and Anecdotes (Knopf). SONDHEIM learned his craft from Oscar Hammerstein, who was a neighbor and surrogate father to him. SONDHEIM'S musicals include 'Company,' 'Follies,' 'A Little Night Music,' and 'Sunday in the Park with George,' 'Sweeney Todd' and 'Assassins.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and poet PATTI SMITH. She got her start in the punk movement of the 1970s with her album Horses. Her memoir Just Kids about her friendship with photographer Robert Mapplethorpe has been nominated for a National Book Award and is out in paperback next week. SMITH and Mapplethorpe both met in New York when they were 20 and aspiring to be artists. Mapplethorpe died in 1989 of HIV.
(REBROADCAST from 01/19/2010) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new AMC series
The Walking Dead that begins Sunday night. It's about a County Sheriff who wakes up alone in the hospital after falling into a coma. The world has been taken over by zombies. It's based on the popular comic book series by Robert Kirkman. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Girl Who Kicked the Hornet's Nest the third installment of Stieg Larsson's Millennium Trilogy.

Interview with John Futterman and Anya Epstein; Review of two films, "Carlos" and "The social network." November 1, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885045].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Television writers DAN FUTTERMAN (fuh-ter-man) and ANYA (on-YA) EPSTEIN (ep-STEEN).
They write and produce the HBO drama series In Treatment starring Gabriel Byrne. The show, originally based on a successful Israeli television series, is entering its third season with all new characters and plotlines. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE 2ND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS considers two films that are very different but have striking similarities: Carlos, the historical thriller about 70s terrorist Carlos the Jackal and David Fincher's The Social Network.

Interview with Michael Caine; Review of Dinaw Mengestu's new novel "How to read the air;"
Review of the 17 disc box set from Apple records. November 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925524].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Actor MICHAEL CAINE. At the age of 77, he has more than 100 films to his credit. They include:
Alfie, Get Carter, Sleuth, A Bridge Too Far, Educating Rita, Hannah and Her Sisters, Dirty Rotten House Rules, and Harry Brown. He's written a memoir, The Elephant to Hollywood, about growing up in a working class British neighborhood, serving in Korea, becoming an actor, and his acting career.
(INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO 2ND HALF OF SHOW). (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews
'How to Read the Air,' a new novel by Dinaw Mengestu (DEE-now men-GUESS-too) (3.) Rock critic Ed Ward reviews a newly released 17-disc boxset from Apple Records including remastered albums, bonus tracks and extras.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TODD PURDUM, National Editor for Vanity Fair magazine, discusses the midterm election results and what they'll mean for Congress and the White House. Prior to joining Vanity Fair in 2006, PURDUM reported for the New York Times as a White House and diplomatic correspondent, and as the Los Angeles bureau chief. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Drum Lore the new album by drummer Owen Howard, of his compositions and other drummers.

Interview with Alex Gibney; Review of the new music album "Speak now." November 4, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925658].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Documentary film director ALEX GIBNEY. His new film Client 9 is about the rise and fall of Elliott Spitzer who was elected governor of New York after building a reputation as a crusading state attorney general. But he resigned from office after getting caught in a sex scandal. Spitzer had many enemies on Wall Street and in Albany who would have loved to see him fall. GIBNEY looks into the story behind the scandal and interviews Spitzer, his enemies, the madam who ran the escort service Spitzer used, and the escort. GIBNEY wrote and directed the Oscar-winning film Taxi to the Dark Side, and the 2006 Oscar-nominated film Enron: The Smartest Guys in the Room. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Speak Now the new album by country music star Taylor Swift.
Obituary for Jerry Bock; Interview with Mark McKinney; Review of the 1972 concert film "Ladies and gentlemen...;" Review of two films "Due date" and "127 hours." November 5, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925016].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer JERRY BOCK died Wednesday at the age of 81 from heart failure. Teaming up with lyricist Sheldon Harnick, he composed the scores for Fiddler on the Roof, She Loves Me, Fiorello (which won a Pulitzer Prize) and The Rothschilds. We'll listen back to this 2004 interview with JERRY BOCK and SHELDON HARNICK recorded at the time Fiddler was back on Broadway, with Alfred Molina as Tevye. It included a new song they wrote. (REBROADCAST from 6/21/04) (2.) Canadian actor and comic MARK MCKINNEY. He's best known for his work with the sketch comedy troupe, 'The Kids in the Hall.' He was with Saturday Night Live from 1995 to 1997. The critically-acclaimed mini-series that he wrote and starred in 'Slings and Arrows' is now out on Blue Ray (It's been out on DVD). It's about a dysfunctional Shakespearean theatre troupe. A reviewer with the Philadelphia Inquirer says about it the series, 'Sweet, SMART and seriously ADDICTIVE.' (REBROADCAST from 02/12/2008) (3.) Critic MILO MILES reviews the 1972 concert film Ladies and Gentlemen... The Rolling Stones featuring the Stones in four performances in Ft. Worth and Houston, Texas. It's been been released for the first time DVD. (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two films: 127 Hours, directed by Danny Boyle and starring James Franco, & the comedy Due Date, starring Robert Downey Jr., and Zach Galifinakis.

Interview with Jon Alpert and Ellen Goosenberg; Interview with Dr. Craig Bryan. November 8, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924973].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JON ALPERT & ELLEN GOOSENBERG are directors and producers of the HBO documentary War Torn 1861-2010, about how war trauma has affected soldiers and their families from the Civil War through today's conflicts in Iraq and Afghanistan. It wasn't until 1980 that Post-Traumatic-Stress Disorder (PTSD) was official recognized by the American Psychiatric Association. Before that it was known as shell-shock (during World War I) and battle-fatigue (during World War II). War Torn premieres on Veteran's Day, November 11th on HBO. (2.) DR. CRAIG BRYAN is an expert on suicide prevention in the military and the psychological affects of traumatic brain injury. He currently serves as a consultant to U.S. Air Force. He'll discuss the rising rate of suicide in the military. BRYAN is Assistant Professor in the Dept. of Psychiatry at the University of Texas Health Science Center. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Robin Fields; Interview with Dr. Barry Straube; Review of Conan O'Brien's new talk show "Conan." November 9, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885317].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBIN FIELDS is an investigative journalist and senior editor at Propublica. She has spent a year investigating the state of dialysis in this country. She found that the U.S. has the highest mortality rates for dialysis care in the industrialized world. Clinics are for the most part unregulated; many are unsanitary, with minimal medical supervision. She also writes that the program which in 1972 gave access to dialysis under Medicare to anyone who needed it has evolved "into a hulking monster." FIELDS' article will appear on Propublica and in The Atlantic Monthly. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) DR. BARRY STRAUBE is Director and Chief Medical officer for the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services in the Office of Clinical Standards and Quality. He is set to retire from this position in January 2011. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews last night's premiere of Conan O'Brien's new talk show Conan on TBS.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music singer LORETTA LYNN. This year marks her 50th year in the music business. Her first record was I'm a Honky Tonk Girl released in 1960. It was her husband (who she married at the age of 13) who first encouraged her to pick up the guitar and sing. Over the years she produced many hits and earned a rep for songs narrated by tough women: You Aint Woman Enough (To Take My Man), Don't Come Home a Drinkin (with lovin on Your Mind) and Fist City. Her songs about a divorced woman, X-Rated, and birth control, The Pill, created controversy. There's a new tribute album Coal Miner's Daughter: A Tribute to Loretta Lynn, with featured artists Carrie Underwood, Sheryl Crowe, Martina McBride, Reba McEntire, the White Stripes, Lucinda Williams and Kid Rock. And LYNN's memoir Coal Miner's Daughter has just been republished in a new paperback edition. (2.) Actor ELI WALLACH. At 94, he's had had a long career on stage and screen, starring in many spaghetti westerns in the 1960s, as well as in the Godfather trilogy. He won a Tony award for his role in Tennessee Williams' The Rose Tattoo. He receives an honorary Academy Lifetime Achievement award on Saturday at a special banquet. (REBROADCAST FROM 11/13/90)

Interview with Dexter Filkins; Review of the music album "Olympia." November 11, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825749].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEXTER FILKINS is a foreign correspondent for The New York Times based in Kabul. He has been covering Afghanistan. Late last month he broke the story that President Hamid Karzi regularly receives bags of cash from the Iranian government in payments amounting to millions of dollars. FILKINS previously reported on the Iraq war from March 2003 to August 2006. He received a George Polk award for his coverage of the assault on Fallujah in November 2004. From 2001-2002 he covered the war in Afghanistan and returned last year. FILKINS' book The Forever War about his experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan is now out in paperback. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Olympia the new album by Brian Ferry that reunites him with some of the key players in the band that made him famous, Roxy Music.

Interview with Paul Reubens; Commentary on 1960s song writing duo Sloan & Barri; Review of the "The Elia Kazan Collection a box set." November 12, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924856].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor PAUL REUBENS (ROO-bins{rcub}, AKA Pee-Wee Herman. He reprises his character in a new play on Broadway. Reubens originally created the Pee-Wee character at the Los Angeles improv group called The Groundlings. An HBO special followed. In 1985, Reubens made the feature film Pee-Wee's Big Adventure. Pee-Wee's Playhouse went on the air in 1986. It ran on CBS for 5 years, garnering 22 Emmys. In 1991, Reubens was arrested for indecent exposure at a Sarasota, Florida movie theater, and his popular kids show was not renewed after that. Reubens went on to act in films and had guest appearances on TV. The complete 45 episode series of the TV show "Pee-Wee's Playhouse" is out on DVD. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us about the 1960s song writing duo Sloan & Barri (P.F. Sloan and Steve Barri). (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews The Elia Kazan Collection a box set of 15 of his key films including On the Waterfront, East of Eden, A Streetcar Named Desire, and A Tree Grows in Brooklyn

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We broadcast an onstage interview with BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN conducted by his friend actor Edward Norton. It was recorded earlier this Fall at the Toronto film festival where the documentary The Promise: The Making of Darkness On The Edge of Town premiered, about the making of Springsteen's 1978 album. Twenty-one songs written for the album, but never used on it, are also being released on a new double CD called The Promise. Plus there's also a box set of The Promise which includes the original album Darkness On the Edge of Town, the new songs, the documentary, and DVDs of other live performances. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE WHOLE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rap star and entrepreneur JAY Z. He is one of the most financially successful hip-hop artists and entrepreneurs in the U.S. The ten-time grammy award-winner has a new book titled Decoded about his music and his life. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Siddhartha Mukherjee; Commentary on the style and syntax of Jane Austen novels. November 17, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925058].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. SIDDHARTHA MUKHERJEE is a cancer physician and researcher. He is an assistant professor of medicine at Columbia University and a staff physician at Columbia University Medical Center. He is the author of the new book The Emperor of All Maladies: A Biography of Cancer (Scribner). The book is a history of cancer and cancer treatments, a chronicle of MUKHERJEE’s first year as an oncologist, and a look at the future of cancer treatment. Journalist Adam Hochschild in reviewing the book, writes, "A Magisterial, wise, and deeply humane piece of writing." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG weighs in on the recent controversy that the style and syntax in the novels of Jane Austen weren't hers, but her editor's.

Interview with Tom Hooper; Review of Hazel Rowley's new book "Franklin and Eleanor November 18, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925508].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British film director TOM HOOPER. His new film The King's Speech stars Colin Firth as King George VI who took over the throne in 1936 when his older brother abdicated to marry an American divorcee. George VI had a terrible stammer and began working with an eccentric speech therapist, an Australian by the name of Lionel Logue (played by Geoffrey Rush). The film is about their relationship. HOOPER is also the director of the films The Damned United, and Elisabeth I. And he directed the HBO series John Adams. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Franklin and Eleanor: An Extraordinary Marriage (Farrar, Straus Giroux) by Hazel Rowley. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Empire, the new album by New York bass player Scott Colley.
Interview with Astrid Kirchherr; Interview with Hugh Martin and Ralph Blane; Review of the film "Harry Potter and the deathly hallows./Part 1." November 19, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925510].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) German photographer ASTRID KIRCHHERR (KIRH-HER). She met the Beatles in 1960, before they were famous, when they came to perform in Hamburg, Germany. She took some of the earliest photographs of the group and was engaged to Stu Sutcliff the original bassist for the Beatles. A new book collects her work: Astrid Kirchherr: A Retrospective (Victoria Gallery & Museum). (REBROADCAST from 1/15/08) (2.) Songwriters HUGH MARTIN and RALPH BLANE. They wrote the songs for the 1944 Judy Garland film classic, Meet Me in St. Louis, including The Trolley Song and Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas. MARTIN has a new memoir, The Boy Next Door (Trolley press). RALPH BLANE died in 1995. (REBROADCAST from 10/31/89, and 12/22/06) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part I, the first in a two part finale of the Potter tale.

Interview with Carlos Eire. November 22, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925337].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer CARLOS EIRE ("Air"). In 1962, when he was eleven his parents sent him from Cuba to Florida as part of Operation Pedro Pan, an airlift of thousands of Cuban children to escape Castro's regime. They thought he would return to Cuba, but he never was able to return. His new memoir is Learning to Die In Miami: Confessions of a Refugee Boy (Free Press). EIRE is also the author of the National Book award winning memoir Waiting for Snow in Havana, which is about his life in Cuba before he was sent to the U.S. EIRE is a professor of History and Religious Studies at Yale University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinary behaviorist NICHOLAS DODMAN. His new book is Good Old Dog: Expert Advice for Keeping Your Aging Dog Happy, Healthy, and Comfortable. He'll talk about end of life issues facing dog owners. Dodman is a professor at Tufts University School of Veterinary Medicine, and trained as a veterinarian in Scotland. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Whirling Mantis from pianist Harold O'Neal. (Smalls) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Love and Other Drugs, starring Jake Gyllenhaal and Anne Hathaway.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) To get us in the holiday mood, we present an in-studio concert with legendary bluegrass singer-songwriter PETER ROWAN, who's joined by band members JODY STECHER, KEITH LITTLE & PAUL KNIGHT. Rowan is a Grammy award winning bluegrass singer songwriter was born in Massachusetts but left for Nashville, where he played with Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys at the Grand Ole Opry every week, and went on to form the band Old and In The Way with Jerry Garcia and David Grisman. More info at http://www.peter-rowan.com (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We celebrate the music of composer Frank Loesser, who wrote the Broadway musicals Guys & Dolls, How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying, and The Most Happy Fella. Loesser was born 100 years ago June 29th. His popular songs include Baby It's Cold Outside, Spring Will Be a Little Late This Year, Travelin' Light, Two Sleepy People, and What Are You Doing New Year's Eve? We feature an interview with pianist and singer MICHAEL FEINSTEIN ('FINE-STINE') whose repertoire is American popular song. He'll talk about Loesser and bring some rare Loesser recordings. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/29/10. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, songwriter and actor JON BON JOVI. His band's new album, Bon Jovi's Greatest Hits, debuted at number one worldwide this week, and includes their latest hit single, 'What Do You Got?' In September of this year, Bon Jovi was nominated for the rock and Roll Hall of Fame. The band will be on tour in 2011. Jon got his start in New Jersey, walking his demo into radio stations before he had a record contract, or even a band. Both Bon Jovi, the band, and Jon Bon Jovi, the single act, have sold millions of records. Hits include Livin' on a Prayer, Wanted Dead or Alive, and I'll Be There for You. Jon received a Golden Globe Award, and an Oscar nomination for Best Music, Original Song, for his work on the soundtrack of the film Young Guns II. Jon's acting work includes appearances on the TV shows The West Wing and Ally McBeal, and the films U-571 and Pay it Forward, among others. Jon was the owner of The Philadelphia Soul and the Arena Football League, now inactive. More info at www.bonjovi.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 12/21/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress ANNE HATHAWAY. She stars in the new film Love and Other Drugs, with Jake Gyllenhaal. Hathaway plays a patient with Parkinson's Disease. She got her big break in the 2001 film The Princess Diaries. Other films include The Devil Wears Prada, Brokeback Mountain, and Rachel Getting Married, for which she won several critics' awards and garnered her an Oscar nomination. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember actor LESLIE NIELSEN who has died at the age of 84. He died Sunday while being treated for pneumonia. After playing serious roles for years, his career was revived by the disaster parody film Airplane! (REBROADCAST from 6/19/93)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress NATALIE PORTMAN. She's currently starring in the new film Black Swan as a tormented ballerina dancing Swan Lake. The film was directed by Darren Aronofsky, who also directed The Wrestler. PORTMAN's other films include The Darjeeling Limited, The Other Boleyn Girl, Garden State, the Star Wars films 1,2, & 3, Cold Mountain, and Everyone Says I Love You (2.) French actor VINCENT CASSEL. He co-stars in Black Swan playing the ballet company's artistic director. His other films include David Cronenberg's Eastern Promises, the French mobster films Mesrine: Public Enemy, and Killer Instinct, was the voice of Monsieur Hood in Shrek, Elizabeth and the French film La Haine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer-prize winning columnist EUGENE ROBINSON. In his new book Disintegration: The Splintering of Black America (Doubleday), ROBINSON writes that there is no longer a single Black community, there are now four groups: mainstream & middle-class, abandoned & poor, the transcendent elite, and immigrants & mixed-race. ROBINSON is an Associate Editor and columnist for The Washington Post. He is also an analyst for MSNBC. He won the Pulitzer in 2009. (2.) ROBERT HIRST is the General Editor and Official curator of the Mark Twain Project and Papers at the University of California Berkeley. The year 2010 marks the 100th anniversary of Twain's death, and the publication of Twain's autobiography which is available for the first time (Twain stipulated that his memoirs could not be published for 100 years). Autobiography of Mark Twain is edited by Harriet Elinor Smith and others at the Project. (published by the University of California Press). Twain was born in November 1835 and died in April 1910. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Unbroken the new book by historian Laura Hillenbrand, who wrote the critically acclaimed and bestseller Seabiscuit. Unbroken is about Louis Zamperini a lieutenant in the Air Corp and bombardier during World War II who survived despite spending 47 days adrift at sea in a rubber raft, and then being captured and tortured by the Japanese.

Interview with Adam Liptak; Review of Kanye West's album "My Beautiful Dark Twisted Fantasy"; Review of DVD and Blu Ray films and box sets for the holiday season. December 2, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971502887].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ADAM LIPTAK is the Supreme Court Correspondent of The New York Times. He'll discuss how the Roberts Court is ruling and writing opinions. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Kanye West's new album My Beautiful Dark Twisted Fantasy. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has some DVD or Blue Ray suggestions for your holiday shopping: Buster Keaton's 1925 Sherlock Jr.(Kino), Charlie Chaplin's 1936 Modern Times (Criterion), Charles Laughton's The Night of the Hunter (Criterion), and the 26-hour 1970s documentary The World at War (A&E). (A complete list of his suggestions can be found on the Fresh Air website).FRIDAY, DEC 3, 2010

Interview with Dave Brubeck; Review of jazz books, CDs and DVDs for the holiday season; Review of the film "Black Swan." December 3, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924602].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz pianist/composer DAVE BRUBECK. He turns 90 years old on Monday, December 6th and has been playing and recording for over 60 years. He underwent heart surgery in October but it hasn't kept him from performing. He just completed a sold-out weekend run at the Blue Note in New York City. He's also the subject of a new documentary In His Own Sweet Way produced by Clint Eastwood to be shown on Turner Classic Movies Monday night. Columbia/Legacy has reissued a new tribute 2-CD compilation

Interview with Lena Dunham; Interview with Walter Mosley. December 6, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925099].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film maker LENA DUNHAM. Her film Tiny Furniture won the jury prize at the South by Southwest Film Festival last March and is getting a lot of critical acclaim. She wrote, directed, and starred in the film along with her mother and sister. She plays a recent college grad who moves back in with her artist-photographer mother and teenage-prodigy sister. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Novelist WALTER MOSLEY. The prolific and bestselling author is best known for his series of novels featuring the L.A. private eye Easy Rawlins. His new novel The Last Days of Ptolemy Grey is about a forgotten 91 year old whose life is changed when he meets a 17 year old without a family of her own.

Interview with Nathaniel Frank; Interview with Tanya Hamilton. December 7, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924965].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) NATHANIEL FRANK is a historian and has written extensively about the military's policy on gay troops. He recently conducted a study on five countries who have ended their bans on gays and lesbians serving openly in the military. Those countries are Britian, Canada, Australia, Israel and South Africa. FRANK is also the author of the book Unfriendly Fired: How the gay ban undermines the military and weakens America. FRANK is a Senior Research Fellow at the Palm Center at the

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID SANGER, chief Washington correspondent for The New York Times. He'll discuss what the Wikileaks cables reveal about President Obama's approach to diplomacy with countries such as Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, Russia, China and North Korea. SANGER wrote about it in the Week in Review section of the Sunday, December 5th New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and record producer DAN CHARNAS. He was one of the writers for The Source and part of a generation of young authors who helped create hip-hop journalism. He was also Rap A&R and Promotion Manager for the rap label Profile Records. His new book is The Big payback: The History of the Business of Hip-Hop about the 40 year history of rap and how executives, entrepreneurs, hustlers and handlers turned rap music in the world predominant pop culture. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN on the best books of 2010: FICTION: So Much for that by Lionel Shriver; The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet by David Mitchell; Freedom by Jonathan Franzen; Super Sad True Love Story by Gary Shteyngart; NON FICTION: Just Kids by Patti Smith; Unbroken by Laura Hillenbrand; Franklin and Eleanor by Hazen

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz musician James Moody, who died on Thursday at the age of 85. Just after World War II, Moody joined the bebop big band of Dizzy Gillespie and played with Milt Jackson. His most famous recording is of an improvisatory piece he performed in 1949, now known as Moody's Mood For Love. Terry talked to him in 1996, about his CD, Young At Heart, (Warner Brothers) which had just been released. It is a collection of Frank Sinatra tunes. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST: 7/23/96) (2.) Fresh Air TV critic (and today's host) DAVID BIANCULLI recommends a short list of recent TV shows now on DVD for your holiday gift list. Included are: The Larry Sanders Show: the Complete Series; 24: The Complete Series; Deadwood (complete Series); The Pacific, an HBO miniseries; Evening Primrose, the Stephen Sondheim musical; and the 1962 special, Mr. Magoo's Christmas Carol. (3.) Keyboard player and record producer RAY MANZAREK. He'll tell the story (with musical illustrations, at the piano) about the Doors 1970 concert in Miami in which Jim Morrison was charged with "indecent exposure" for allegedly flashing his privates from the stage. Manzarek and other members of the band say that Jim Morrison teased the crowd, but never actually did the flashing. Florida's clemency board granted Morrison a posthumous pardon yesterday for the 1970 profanity and indecent exposure conviction. The Doors disbanded after its lead singer Jim Morrison died in 1971. Since The Doors, MANZAREK produced albums for the punk rock band X and recorded several solo albums. His latest is Ballads Before the Rain (with slide guitarist Roy Rogers). Manzarek and Rogers are currently on tour. More info at www.raymanzarek.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/6/98) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Fighter, starring Mark Wahlberg and directed by David O. Russell.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JENNIFER HOMANS is the dance critic for The New Republic. Her new book is Apollo's Angels: A Comprehensive History Of Ballet. Homans is a former dancer. She performed with the Chicago Lyric Opera Ballet, the San Francisco Ballet and the Pacific Northwest Ballet. As a Distinguished Scholar in Residence, Homans teaches the history of dance at New York University. Homans trained at the School of American Ballet in New York, and was the wife of the historian Tony Judt, who died in August. (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ recently attended the 2010 Musikfest Berlin's two-week-long tribute to 85-year-old French conductor and composer Pierre Boulez. Schwartz says the musical tribute was "sonically ravishing, with endlessly inventive combinations of sound and texture."

Interview with Fred Schulte; Interview with Marisa Weiss; Obituary for Richard Holbrooke. December 14, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925097].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter FRED SCHULTE. He's been writing a series of articles for the Huffington Post about how financial institutions, including some beneficiaries of federal bailout dollars, are creating new ways to profit from the financial distress of homeowners. When property taxes go unpaid, the debt gets sold, sometimes resulting in a bidding frenzy between America's largest banks and hedge funds. Schulte is a veteran investigative reporter who has worked for the Baltimore Sun and the South Florida Sun-Sentinel. He has been a Pulitzer Prize finalist four times, most recently in 2007 for a series on Baltimore's arcane ground rent system. (2.) Oncologist and breast cancer survivor Marisa Weiss MD ('mah-REE-sah'). After diagnosing countless patients, a routine mammogram revealed Weiss' own cancer. She'll talk about the advances in breast cancer treatment, and the differing perspectives of physician and patient. Weiss is founder and president of breastcancer.org, and she practices at Lankenau Hospital in the suburbs of Philadelphia. Earlier this year, she published the book Living Well Beyond Breast Cancer: A Survivor's Guide for When Treatment Ends and the Rest of Your Life Begins. (3.) U.S. diplomat RICHARD HOLBROOKE. He died Monday at age 69 following heart surgery to repair a tear in his aorta. Holbrooke was a peace negotiator whose most recent assignment was US special Representative for Afghan and Pakistan in the Obama administration. Holbrooke was well known the chief architect of the 1995 Dayton

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor RYAN GOSLING. His new film is the critically acclaimed Blue Valentine. He co-stars with Michelle Williams in a drama about a relationship gone sour. The critically acclaimed film premiered at Sundance this year. The writer/director Derek Cianfrance employed some unusual techniques. For example, Gosling, Williams, and their onscreen child moved into a house together for a month as part of the filming process. Blue Valentine made the news earlier this year when it was hit with an NC-17 rating, but distributor, The Weinstein Company, appealed the decision and the MPAA agreed to give the film an R rating. More info on the film at http://www.bluevalentinemovie.com. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG explains why his word of the year is "no." (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER tells us about some holiday pop music: Crazy for Christmas by Dan Hicks & his Hot Licks; Merry Christmas by Shelby Lynn; Warner Brothers anthology album Gift Wrapped 2: Snowed In.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MELISSA LEO. She's best known for her role as Detective Kay Howard on the critically acclaimed TV series Homicide: Life on the Street. She was nominated for an Academy Award for her performance in Frozen River. And this week she won the New York Film Critics Circle Award and was nominated for a Golden Globe for her performance in the new film The Fighter. LEO is currently shooting season two of the HBO series Treme. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Adjunct associate professor RICHARD MCGOWAN (GOW-an) of economics at Boston College. He is also a Research Associate at Harvard Medical, Division on Addictions. His research is on the intersection of business and public policy with the gambling, tobacco and alcohol industries.
He has published five books. He'll talk about the economics of gambling, as more and more financially strapped states turn to gambling as a way to boost their revenues. MCGOWAN is also a Jesuit priest. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author ROBIN D.G. KELLEY. His book is Thelonious Monk: The Life and Times of an American Original, which is now out in paperback. It's about the career of the jazz pianist and composer. Kelley reveals new details about Monk's life, music and mental health problems, and provides a glimpse into the New York jazz scene of the mid-twentieth century. Robin Davis Gibran Kelley is a professor of American Studies & Ethnicity at the University of Southern California. He has also taught at NYU and Columbia University. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 12/8/09. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Winter's Bone author DANIEL WOODRELL and film director DEBRA GRANIK. Granik's adaptation of Woodrell's novel won the Grand Jury Prize for Drama at Sundance 2010. The film is now out on DVD. It's a story of a teenage girl who's searching for her father who's on the run in the Ozarks, having skipped on bail on charges that he ran a crystal meth lab. The family will lose their house if her father doesn't show up for his next court date. The film has received multiple critic's and festival awards, including Sundance, The Spirit and the Gotham, is on lots of Ten Best lists, and is expected to receive an Oscar nod. It's available on DVD. Check the official film website for details: http://www.wintersbonemovie.com. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/16/10)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director Sofia Coppola. Her newest film is "Somewhere," starring Stephen Dorff as Johnny Marco, a Hollywood actor who examines his life after a surprise visit from his daughter. "Somewhere" won The Golden Lion at the Venice Film Festival this year. Coppola says she wanted to explore the part of celebrity life that no one ever sees. Coppola's other films include Lost in Translation, for which she won... an Oscar, Marie Antoinette, and The Virgin Suicides. She's also an actress who's had roles in many films, including the Godfather trilogy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Actor Stephen Dorff. He's the lead in the film "Somewhere," written and directed by Sofia Coppola. Dorff's other movies include the John Waters film Cecil B. DeMented, Blade, Public Enemies, and I Shot Andy Warhol. Dorff got his start in the 1980s, playing many small roles on TV sitcoms.

---

Interview with Jim Puckett; Review Jimi Hendrix's CD box set "West Coast Seattle Boy."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Environmental activist JIM PUCKETT. He's the executive director of the Basel Action Network. He says toxic waste generated by our devices and computers is being exported from rich industrialized countries to poorer developing countries. In the past he served as Greenpeace International's Toxics Director and before that, as co-coordinator of Greenpeace's Toxic Trade campaign. More info at http://www.ban.org. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews West Coast Seattle Boy, a new Jimi Hendrix box set that contains four CDs and a DVD. The set is on the Legacy label.

---

Interview with David Bianculli; Review of the film "True Grit."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fresh Air TV critic David Bianculli joins us for a year end review. We'll talk about the overall trends, and he'll give us his list for top shows of the year. No surprises. Picks include Mad Men, Glee, Dexter, The Good Wife, Breaking Bad, The Daily Show With Jon Stewart, Modern Family, and a few more. Check the Fresh Air website for a complete list. Bianculli is also a frequent guest host on Fresh Air. His website is www.tvworthwatching.com, and he also teaches at Rowan University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews True Grit, the Coen brothers' latest, starring Jeff Bridges and Matt Damon.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN gives us his picks for the top ten films of 2010. Blue Valentine, Winter's Bone, Toy Story 3, and more. Full details on the Fresh Air website. In addition to his role as Fresh Air film critic, David is film critic for New York Magazine. (2.) Classical music LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the two movie Blu-Ray edition of Fantasia and Fantasia 2000. It's a four disc set (Walt Disney Studios Home Entertainment). (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER joins us to talk about the best in pop music of 2010. Picks include Robyn, Tracy Thorn, Kanye West, and more. For the full list, visit the Fresh Air website. In addition to his role as a critic for Fresh Air, Ken is also Editor at Large for Entertainment Weekly.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in-studio concert with singer REBECCA KILGORE, trombonist Dan Barrett and pianist Rossano Sportiello recorded at the NOLA studios in Manhattan. KILGORE is one of the leading interpreters of American songs. She became best-known for her work with pianist and composer Dave Frishberg. In 2002 she formed her own band formerly known as BED. It's now called The Rebecca Kilgore Quartet. Barrett is a member of her band. Sportiello is a stride pianist from Italy. The Quartet's new CD is Yes, Indeed! Rebecca also sings on the new Christmas album John Sheridan's Dream Band: Hooray for Christmas! (REBROADCAST from 12/19/2005)(THIS CONCERT CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Keith Richards; Interview with Brian May. December 27, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973569455].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We begin our week of the best interviews of 2010. Up first, guitarist and composer KEITH RICHARDS of the Rolling Stones. He's 66 years old now and has written his autobiography, Life. (Little, Brown & Co., written with James Fox). (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 10/25/10) (2.) Musician and astrophysicist BRIAN MAY. He is best known as the guitarist and songwriter for the band Queen. He's just published a new book, Villages Lost and Found, with Elena Vidal. It's a collection of the stereoscopic photographs of T. R. Williams. May has been collecting Williams' work for decades. May's compositions for Queen include We Will Rock You and Fat Bottomed Girls. In 2007, he received a PhD. In astrophysics and is now the Chancellor of Liverpool John Moores University. (Rebroadcast. Original airdate: 8/3/2010)

Interview with Jon Stewart; Interview with Aziz Ansari; Interview with Billy West. December 28, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925067].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JON STEWART, host of Comedy Central's The Daily Show, which has been called 'the most trusted name in Fake News.' The show has won multiple Emmys and the coveted Peabody award. His latest book is The Daily Show with Jon Stewart Presents Earth (The Book): A Visitor's Guide to the Human Race. On Wed, September 29th Terry interviewed STEWART on stage before an audience at the 92nd St. Y in New York City. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/4/10. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Comic and actor AZIZ ANSARI (ah-ZEEZ on-SAR-ee). He co-stars on NBC's Parks and Recreation. He also created and starred in the critically acclaimed cult MTV sketch show Human Giant. He also can be seen in the films I Love You Man, Observe and Report, and Funny People. He has a Comedy Central standup special Aziz Ansari: Intimate Moments For A Sensual Evening, now on DVD and CD. You can follow him on tumblr: http://azizisbored.tumblr.com/. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/4/10) (3.) BILLY WEST, man of a thousand voices. He's the voice behind the animated characters of Doug, Ren and Stimpy, Bugs Bunny and Elmer Fudd in the film Space Jam, most of the male members of the Futurama cast, and a phony Conan O'Brien on Howard
Stern. Futurama is on Comedy Central, airing Thursdays at 10 PM. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/15/10)

Description of show segment(s)

1.) A rare interview with composer and lyricist STEPHEN SONDHEIM. He turned 80 in March. He learned his craft from Oscar Hammerstein, who was a neighbor and surrogate father to him. There's currently a multimedia revue on Broadway called Sondheim on Sondheim. SONDHEIM'S musicals include 'Company,' 'Follies,' 'A Little Night Music,' and 'Sunday in the Park with George,' 'Sweeney Todd' and 'Assassins.' SONDHEIM also hopes to have a two-volume edition of his complete lyrics sometime this year. (rebroadcast. Original airdate: 4/21/10. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) 2.) Pulitzer prize winning journalist MATT RICHTEL ('RICK-tul') of The New York Times. He is technology reporter in the San Francisco bureau. RICHTEL has been writing about the impact digital technology has on our lives and our brains. He won the Pulitzer this year for his series Driven to Distraction about driving and multitasking. Recently he wrote about a trip to a Utah wilderness with a group of neuroscientists who wanted to examine how the use of digital technology changes how we think and behave how a retreat into nature might reverse those affects. (Outdoors and Out of Reach, Studying the Brain, Aug 15) RICHTEL also is the author of the novel Hooked, and he writes a syndicated daily comic strip, Rudy Park, under the pen name of Theron Heir. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/24/10)

Interview with Jay-Z; Interview with James Murphy. December 30, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959925068].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Rap star and entrepreneur JAY Z. He is one of the most financially successful hip-hop artists and entrepreneurs in the U.S. The ten-time Grammy award-winner has a new book titled Decoded about his music and his life. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/16/10) 2.) Producer, musician, engineer and band leader JAMES MURPHY. He co-founded the dance-punk label DFA Records and in 2002 the band LCD Soundsystem. The band has been credited with helping reintroduce dance music into indie rock. MURPHY combines the dance record approach (using mostly machines for an electronic sound) with live-performance sound. Their 2005 debut album was critically acclaimed. Their latest album is This is Happening. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/21/10)

Interview with Sarah Silverman; Interview with Joan Rivers. December 31, 2010. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/959924660].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actress SARAH SILVERMAN. Her memoir, The Bedwetter: Stories of Courage, Redemption, and Pee, was released earlier this year. Her Comedy Central show The Sarah Silverman Program was cancelled after its third season, but can be seen on the LOGO cable network. SILVERMAN's one-woman off-Broadway show Jesus is Magic was made into a film. Silverman's satire is ribald and rude, controversial, and almost nothing is off limits, with jokes about September 11th, AIDS and the Holocaust. Silverman has also appeared in a number of films including 'The Aristocrats,' 'School of Rock' and 'There's Something About Mary.' She was a cast member of Saturday Night Live for the 1993-4 season. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/22/10) (2.) Comedian JOAN RIVERS. She stars in a new documentary called 'Joan Rivers: A Piece of Work.' It chronicles a year in her life; performing stand-up comedy, making television appearances, and trying hard to keep her work schedule filled. The documentary premiered in May. RIVERS has recently appeared on the TV series 'Celebrity Apprentice,' and 'How'd You Get So Rich,' and was roasted in a Comedy Central special. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/9/10. INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE 2nd HALF OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ALLEN SHAWN, author of Twin: A Memoir, about how having an autistic twin sister changed his life. The book is also about growing up in an unusual family. He's the son of William Shawn, the former editor of The New Yorker, and brother of the actor Wallace Shawn. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember British actor PETE POSTLETHWAITE. He died on Sunday at the age of 64 after a long battle with cancer. He played the incarcerated father of Gerry Conlon in In the Name of the Father. Recently he could be seen in the film Inception, and he worked with Steven Spielberg on The Lost World: Jurassic Park and Amistad. He also co-starred in The Usual Suspects. And he was in the film Brassed Off about how members of a brass band respond to the economic decline of a small mining community in Yorkshire, England. (REBROADCAST FROM 5/22/97).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist DOUGLAS FRANTZ. He is the co-author (along with his wife journalist Catherine Collins) of the book Fallout: The True Story of the CIA's Secret War On Nuclear Trafficking (Simon & Schuster). It's about the CIA's efforts to penetrate and stop the A.Q. Khan network, the world's most dangerous private nuclear technology and weapons proliferation ring. FRANTZ and Collins write that the CIA waited too long to shut it down, and became so obsessed with getting information that the CIA stood by while Khan and his confederates spread dangerous nuclear technology around the globe. FRANTZ is now senior investigator for the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two releases by saxophonist & flutist Henry Threadgill: The Complete Novus & Columbia Recordings of Henry Threadgill & Air (on Mosaic); and This Brings Us to Vol. 2 by Henry Threadgill & Zooid (on the PI label).

Interview with James Grimaldi; Interview with Mark Ribot. January 5, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503260].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES GRIMALDI is part of the investigations unit of The Washington Post. He has contributed to the ongoing series The Hidden Life of Guns about how guns from the U.S. are ending up in Mexico's drug wars. GRIMALDI was part of the team who won a Pulitzer in 2006 for their reporting on the Jack Abramoff lobbying scandal. (2.) Guitarist and composer MARK RIBOT (REE-bow). Early in his career he was a sideman for jazz organist Jack McDuff, and soul shouter Wilson Pickett. He went on to be a member of John Lurie's Lounge Lizards. He's recorded with Elvis Costello, Marianne Faithful, and Tom Waits and worked with Don Byron, T-Bone Burnett, Bill Frisell and John Zorn. He's performed on the scores for The Kids Are All Right, Where the Wild Things Are, Everything is Illuminated, and The Departed. He's had his own recording projects with the bands Rootless Cosmopolitans, Shrek, Los Cubanos Postizos and Marc Ribot's Ceramic Dog. He's also made a number of solo recordings. His latest is Silent Movies, inspired in part by his experience accompanying a screening of Charlie Chaplin's The Kid.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MARK WAHLBERG and director DAVID O. RUSSELL. The two have collaborated on the new film The Fighter, based on the true story of Boston boxer Mickey Ward. Ward grew up in the same neighborhood WAHLBERG did. WAHLBERG and RUSSELL have worked together before on the films I Heart Huckabees and Three Kings. WAHLBERG was nominated for an academy award for best supporting actor for his role as a police sergeant in The Departed. His break thru role was as a porn star in Boogie Nights. His other films include The Perfect Storm, The Italian Job, and Invincible. RUSSELL's other films include Flirting with Disaster and Spanking the Monkey. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The late folklorist ALAN LOMAX. He spent more than a half century recording the folk music and customs of the world. Here in America, he's responsible for priceless recordings of Leadbelly, Woody Guthrie, Jelly Roll Morton, and many others. There's a new biography of him written by John Szwed, Alan Lomax: The Man Who Recorded the World. (REBROADCAST from 7/9/90) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews three new series premiering Sunday: Episodes and Shameless on Showtime, and Downton Abbey on PBS. He says they're all well-acted, cleverly written, fun to watch, and a little unusual. (3.) Actor WILL FERRELL and director ADAM MCKAY. Their comedy action film The Other Guys which spoofs the buddy-cop genre is now out on DVD. Ferrell plays a nerdy, forensic accountant and detective who is mismatched with a gung-ho detective played by Mark Wahlberg. FERRELL and MCKAY previously worked together on the films Anchorman, Talladega Nights, and Step Brothers. (REBROADCAST from 8/5/10) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Blue Valentine starring Ryan Gosling and Michelle Williams.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES GRIMALDI is part of the investigations unit of The Washington Post. He contributed to the series The Hidden Life of Guns about how guns from the U.S. are ending up in Mexico's drug wars. We've asked him back to talk about shooting in Arizona of Representative Gabrielle Giffords, and some of her constituents. He'll discuss the gun laws in Arizona where last year Governor Jan Brewer signed a bill that repealed a state law that required gun owners to have a permit to carry a concealed weapon. (2.) EVAN CARROLL and JOHN ROMANO are two technology experts who founded an online resource called www.TheDigitalBeyond.com to answer the question: when you die, what happens to your online resources such as family photos, home movies, and personal letters which now exist only in digital form, stored using popular services like Flickr, YouTube, and Gmail? Carroll and Romano have written a new book with practical advice called Your Digital Afterlife, with its own website at www.yourdigitalafterlife.com. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Selected Stories, vol. 2 by William Trevor (Viking).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MIRA BARTOK is the author of the new memoir The Memory Palace which is in part about the car accident that left her with traumatic brain injury and about her schizophrenic mother. The brain injury helped BARTOCK understand her mother. BARTOK’s mother became homeless and BARTOCK was estranged from her mother for decades, before they were reunited just before her mother's death. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews Lights Out the new FX drama series premiering tonight about a retired heavyweight boxer contemplating a comeback. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Amy Chua's memoir Battle Hymn of the Tiger Mother.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film makers JOEL & ETHAN COEN. Their new film is True Grit. Over the last two decades they written and directed the films Barton Fink, Miller's Crossing, Fargo, The Big Lebowski, O Brother, Where Art Thou, No Country for Old Men, Burn After Reading, and A Serious Man. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Felix Salmon; Obituary for Margaret Whiting. January 13, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462441].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Financial journalist FELIX SALMON. He recently co-wrote Algorithms Take Control of Wall Street in Wired magazine, about how computer algorithms have transformed the financial markets. An algorithm, he explains, can analyze data much faster than the human mind ever could, and can therefore respond instantly to market conditions. Salmon explains the benefits as well as the downsides of using automated algorithms to make a lot of the investment and trading decisions on Wall Street. Salmon received the 2010 Excellence in Statistical Reporting Award from the American Statistical Association for his "statistical investigative reporting." (2.) Singer MARGARET WHITING. She died January 10 at age 86. Her duet with Johnny Mercer of Frank Loesser's 'Baby, It's Cold Outside' is considered the definitive version. She also recorded other standards like Moonlight in Vermont, Come Rain or Come Shine, and That Old Black Magic. Closely associated with songwriter and producer Mercer, whom she met at age 7, she was one of Capitol Records' first artists in 1942. Her career peaked in the 1950s and 60s. She recorded over 700 songs. In 1994, Whiting married porn star Jack Wrangler, 22 years her junior. Whiting had a total of four husbands: CBS executive Hubbell Robinson, pianist Joe "Fingers" Carr, Panavision founder John Richard Moore, and Wrangler. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 1/22/88)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BILLIE JOE ARMSTRONG is the lead singer and lyricist for the punk-rock band Green Day. Their 7th album American Idiot (released in 2004) has become the basis for the Broadway show of the same name, which won two Tony Awards this year, and is nominated for an upcoming Grammy in the Best Musical Show Album category. Armstrong is starring in the musical for a limited run of 50 performances this and next month. American Idiot is about a disaffected suburban kid looking for meaning in the post-911, Bush administration era. ARMSTRONG collaborated with director Michael Mayer on the libretto. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/27/10. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 2 big budget male buddy pictures: The Green Hornet, starring Seth Rogen and directed by Michel Gondry, and The Dilemma, starring Vince Vaughn and Kevin James.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Attorney and former advisor to Martin Luther King, Jr. CLARENCE B. JONES. In 1960 King recruited a reluctant young JONES to do legal research for him and his civil rights organization. JONES stayed and went on to help with speechwriting. His new book Behind the Dream: The Making of the Speech That Transformed a Nation (written with Stuart Connelly) is about King's most famous speech, his I have a Dream speech. JONES says the phrase "I have a dream" was completely improvised. JONES is a scholar in residence and visiting professor at Stanford University's Martin Luther King Jr. Research and Education Institute. He also writes regularly for the Huffington Post. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer HAMPTON SIDES. His book is Hellhound on His Trail: The Stalking of Martin Luther King, Jr. and the International Manhunt for His Assassin. It's about James Earl Ray, the man who was convicted of killing King. Sides is Editor at Large for Outside Magazine and author of the books Blood and Thunder and Ghost Soldiers. (DAVE DAVIES interview) (REBROADCAST from 4/28/10)

Interview with Sioban Fallon; Interview with David Michod and Jacki Weaver; Review of The Decemberists' album "The King is Dead." January 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462444].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author SIOBAN ("SHAH-von") FALLON. Her new collection of short stories is 'You Know When The Men Are Gone.' It's about the wives left behind at a military base once the men are deployed. Fallon lived at the massive Fort Hood army base in Texas while her husband was deployed to Iraq for two tours of duty. (2.) Film director and screenwriter DAVID MICHOD, and actress JACKI WEAVER. Their new movie is called Animal Kingdom. It's about the criminal underworld in Australia and it won the World Cinema Jury Prize at last year's Sundance Film Festival. It's Michod's debut feature. Jacki Weaver has won many awards for her work in Animal Kingdom. American audiences know Weaver best for her performance in the 1975 classic film Picnic at Hanging Rock. She's also had roles in many Australian TV shows. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The King is Dead the new album by the band The Decemberists.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and physician ATUL GAWANDE (AH-tool ga-WAHN-day). His article in the January 17th issue of The New Yorker is "The Hot Spotters: Can we lower medical costs by giving the neediest patients better care?". Gawande is a staff member of Brigham and Women's Hospital, the Dana Farber Cancer Institute, an Associate Professor of Surgery at Harvard Medical School and Associate Professor in the Department of Health Policy and Management at the Harvard School of Public Health. He was a senior health policy advisor for President Clinton. He is a staff writer for The New Yorker magazine. His bestselling books include The Checklist Manifesto and Better. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember SARGENT SHRIVER who died yesterday at the age of 95. He had had Alzheimer's disease. Shriver was the Kennedy family in-law who became the founding director of the Peace Corps and was architect of President Johnson's war on poverty. (REBROADCAST from 2/23/95)

Interview with Christopher Nowinski; Commentary on political language. January 20, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462134].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHRISTOPHER NOWINSKI (No-WIN-ski) is a former professional wrestler, a former lineman at Harvard, and co-founder and president of the Sports Legacy Institute (SLI), a non-profit organization dedicated to solve the sports concussion crisis, and he serves as a co-director of the Center for the Study of Traumatic Encephalopathy (CSTE) at Boston University School of Medicine. NOWINSKI quit wrestling after suffering a concussion, resulted in symptoms that included headaches, blanking out, short-term memory loss, and sleepwalking. His problems led him to look into the effects of head trauma on football players and other athletes. He is also the author of the book Head Games: Football's Concussion Crisis.
Obituary for Reynolds Price; Obituary for Wilfrid Sheed; Review of The Corin Tucker Band's album "1,000 Years"; Review of film "No strings attached." January 21, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462336].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer REYNOLDS PRICE. He died Thursday at age 77 following a heart attack. We present two of his Fresh Air visits, from 1989 and 2006. Price wrote books of poetry, essays and translation, but he earned widest recognition for his novels, which depict small Southern towns in the 1940s and 50s. His Southern Gothic tales deal with families coming together, then scattering after suicides and soured romances. His 1986 novel, Kate Vaiden, won the National Book Critics Circle Award for fiction, and, like Price's best fiction (A Long and Happy Life, Good Hearts), is told primarily from the point of view of a woman. His 2006 work, Clear Pictures, is a collection of memoirs, some of which were triggered by his hypnotic therapy to relieve the pain of spinal cancer. Price penned a total of 38 volumes of fiction, poetry, plays, essays and translations. He was the James B. Duke professor of English at Duke University. His final book was the 2009 Ardent Spirits: Leaving Home, Coming Back, about his time at Oxford University and early years teaching at Duke. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/23/89) (2.) REYNOLDS PRICE, from 2006. The occasion of his visit was the publication of his book 'Letter to a Godchild (Concerning Faith).' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/19/06. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (3.) Writer WILFRID SHEED. He died Wednesday at age 80 from a bacterial infection. His essays, criticism, memoirs and fiction were often satirical, focusing on life in the two different worlds in which he grew up: The UK and the US. His final book, published in 2007, was a history of American popular music: 'The House That George Built: With a Little Help from Irving, Cole and a Crew of About Fifty.' His fiction includes the novels Boys of Winter, Max Jamison and People Will Always Be Kind. His non-fiction includes a biography of Muhammad Ali, the publisher and politician Claire Boothe Luce, and a memoir of his parents, who founded the Roman Catholic pu

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Theoretical physicist BRIAN GREENE. His new book is The Hidden Reality: Parallel Universes and the Deep Laws of the Cosmos. Greene is a professor at Columbia University, and co-director of the University's Institute for Strings, Cosmology, and Astroparticle Physics (ISCAP). He is also leading a research program applying superstring theory to cosmological questions. His previous books include The Elegant Universe and The Fabric of the Cosmos. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD explores the brief life of Goldwax Records, a forgotten Memphis company that issued soul titles in the 1960s.

Interview with Paul Krugman; Review of Kenneth Slawenski's biography "J. D. Salinger January 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462466].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer PAUL KRUGMAN. He's a Nobel Prize winning op-ed columnist for The New York Times, where he writes about politics and the economy. Krugman is also professor of Economics and International Affairs at Princeton University. His books include the Conscience of a Liberal, and The Age of Diminished Expectations. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews J.D. Salinger: A Life by Kenneth Slawenski (Random House)

Interview with Stephanie Coontz; Review of CD set "Next Stop is Vietnam, the War on Record 1961-2008." January 26, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461947].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Social historian STEPHANIE COONTZ is author of A Strange Stirring: The Feminine Mystique and the Wives of The Greatest Generation (Basic Books) about the impact of Betty Freidan's landmark 1963 book The Feminine Mystique. COONTZ teaches history and family studies at The Evergreen Station College in Olympia, Washington, and is Director of Research and Public Education for the Council on Contemporary Families, which she chaired from 2001-04. She is also the author of the award-winning Marriage, A History: How Love Conquered Marriage (Viking Press, 2005). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the mammoth 14-CD set Next Stop is Vietnam, the War on Record 1961-2008 (released by Bear Family records).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT J. SPITZER is an expert on the history of gun legislation and the NRA. He is the author of The Politics of Gun Control (4th edition, 5th on its way, published by the Congressional Quarterly press). He's testified before congress. And he is distinguished service professor of political science at the State University of NY College at Cortland. He also wrote the books The Right to Bear Arms, and The Presidency and the Constitution. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember country music performer CHARLIE LOUVIN ('LOO-vin'). He died Wednesday at the age of 83, from complications of pancreatic cancer. He released his final album, The Battles Rage On, last November. In the 1950's, he and his brother Ira Louvin were regulars at the Grand Ole Opry. Ira was killed in a car accident in 1965, and Charlie continued as a solo artist. In 2001, The Louvin Brothers were inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/27/96)

Interview with Walton Goggins; Interview with Wanda Jackson; Review of the film "The Mechanic." January 28, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462274].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor WALTON GOGGINS. He plays a white supremacist named Boyd Crowder on the FX series Justified. It begins season two next month. Season One is now out on DVD. Goggins has been promoted to a series regular after occupying a frequent guest slot on the show. Goggins was also on the acclaimed series The Shield. Justified was the most watched series premiere in the network's history. (REBROADCAST from 5/26/2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rockabilly singer WANDA JACKSON. The 73 year old singer was on Conan last night with Jack White of The White Stripes. He produced her new album The Party Ain't Over. She's also currently on tour. JACKSON had several hits in the late 50s and early 60s, including Mean Mean Man, Let's Have a Party, and Fujiyama Mama. In the 70s she kept recording music, mostly gospel. In 2003 she released Heart Trouble her first studio recording in 15 years which included guest musicians, including Elvis Costello and The Cramps. (REBROADCAST from 11/5/2003) (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new film The Mechanic starring the British action star Jason Statham.

Interview with Patrick Carney and Dan Auerbach; Review of La Lupe's album "Puro Teatro."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Drummer PATRICK CARNEY and singer-guitarist DAN AUERBACH make up the band THE BLACK KEYS, from Akron, Ohio. Their latest album Brothers has been nominated for four Grammy awards: Best Alternative Music Album, Best Rock Song, Best Rock Performance by a Duo or Group, and Best Rock Instrumental Performance. Most of it was recorded at the famed Alabama studio Muscle Shoals. They released their first album in 2002, and are known for their raw, minimalist sound, and rough mixes. Their songs have been used in the films Zombieland, and The Twilight saga: Eclipse, and the HBO series Big Love and Eastbound & Down. Their music can also be heard on a number of commercials including Zales, Subaru, Cadilllac, and Molson Beer. The band has performed on Saturday Night Live, The Late Show with David Letterman, and The Colbert Report. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES tells us about La Lupe, known as the Queen of Latin Soul in the 1960s. Puro Teatro is a new double-disc retrospective of her work (on the Fania label).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Executive editor of the New York Times, BILL KELLER. He writes about the paper's decision to edit and publish the military dispatches and confidential diplomatic cables obtained by WikiLeaks in the paper's Sunday Magazine section ("Dealing With Assange and the Wikileaks Secrets"). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews James Levine: Celebrating 40 Years at the Met (2 box sets of DVDs and CDs - released by the Metropolitan Opera.). Last year marked the 40th anniversary of Levine conducting the Met.

Interview with Thanassis Cambanis. February 2, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462396].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist THANASSIS CAMBANIS has covered the Middle East for years. He was the former Middle East Bureau Chief for the Boston Globe, and earlier was that paper's Iraq Bureau Chief. He is now a freelance journalist whose work appears in The New York Times, The New York Times Book Review, The Boston Globe, Foreign Affairs, Far Eastern Economic Review, Global Post, The Huffington Post. And he teaches at the Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs. His book about Hezbollah, A Privilege to Die was published last Fall. He also has a website which includes his blog: http://thanassiscambanis.com/. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Javier Bardem; Review of a traveling exhibition of Venetian masterpieces including two paintings by Titian. February 3, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462397].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JAVIER BARDEM (Hahv-EE-rr Bar-DEM) is from a family of actors in Spain. He got his start in Spanish TV and cinema. His breakthrough role was in the 2000 film Before Night Falls about persecuted Cuban writer Reynaldo Arenas and was nominated for an Academy award for his performance. And he won the Academy Award for his role in the Coen Brothers' 2007 film No Country For Old Men, playing a psychopathic killer. He also co-starred in the Woody Allen film Vicky Cristina Barcelona. BARDEM won the Goya, considered the Spanish Oscars four times. Two of them were for The Sea Inside (2005) and Mondays in the Sun (2003). And he's been nominated for his third Academy Award for his performance in the new film Biutiful, by Mexican director Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu. It's in Spanish, and has been nominated for best foreign film. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Lloyd Schwartz reviews a traveling exhibition of Venetian masterpieces including two paintings by Titian, which are in the U.S. for the first time.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember British composer JOHN BARRY. He died Sunday at age 77. Barry is best known for his James Bond film scores; he composed music for over 100 movies, winning Oscars for his music from The Lion in Winter, Born Free, Out of Africa and Dances with Wolves. Barry was inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame in 1986. Barry spoke with Terry in 1999. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/23/99) (2.) Director LEE UNKRICH ("UNK-RICH") and screenwriter MICHAEL ARNDT. The two worked together on Toy Story 3 which was nominated for a Best Picture Oscar. Toy Story 3 is out on DVD. UNKRICH made his feature-film directorial debut as co-director on Toy Story 2. He also co-directed Monsters, Inc. He also was film editor on Toy Story. ARNDT won an Academy Award for Best Original Screenplay for his first film, Little Miss Sunshine. This is his first screenplay for Pixar.
(REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/19/10)

---

Interview with Hal Needham; Review of the television show "The Chicago code." February 7, 2011.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462398].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) HAL NEEDHAM was a Hollywood stuntman for 40 years, playing doubles for John Wayne, Dustin Hoffman, Jimmy Stewart and Burt Reynolds. Needham's new memoir is called Stuntman: A Car-Crashing, Plane-Jumping, Bone-Breaking, Death-Defying Hollywood Life. He was also a stunt coordinator and director. His directing credits include the film Smokey and The Bandit. Later, Needham moved into race car driving and attempted to break the land speed record. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews The Chicago Code the new cop drama that begins tonight on the FOX network, by Shawn Ryan the creator of the popular FX series The Shield.

---

Interview with Lawrence Wright. February 8, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462226].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer LAWRENCE WRIGHT is a staff writer for The New Yorker. His new profile in The New Yorker is titled The Apostate and its about film director and screenwriter Paul Haggis and his public resignation from the Church of Scientology, which he was a member of for nearly thirty-five years. He won a Pulitzer Prize in 2007 for his book, The Looming Tower: Al-Qaeda and the Road to 9/11. He'll also discuss the situation in Egypt and why Al-Qaeda and the Egyptian group The Muslim Brotherhood are enemies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music singer and songwriter RODNEY CROWELL. His new memoir Chinaberry Sidewalks is about growing up poor in Houston, Texas and his parents who both came from violent sharecropper families. A lot of the material on CROWELL's new album Sex & Gasoline relate to his memoir. The album was produced by Joe Henry, and has been nominated for a Grammy. And he brings his guitar to the studio to play some of those songs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Ed Helms; Interview with Vidal Sassoon. February 10, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884309].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic actor ED HELMS. Before he got his part as Andy Bernard on NBC's 'The Office,' he was senior correspondent on The Daily Show. HELMS got his comedy start with numerous sketch comedy groups and studied improvisation with The Upright Citizens Brigade. He co-starred in the film The Hangover. And he's co-starring in the new film Cedar Rapids. Helms also plays the banjo, and is in the band The Lonesome Trio. He brought his band with him to the interview and we'll hear them perform.

(2.) Influential hair stylist VIDAL SASSOON. He's the subject of a new documentary: Vidal Sasson: The Movie and has written his autobiography: Vidal. A native of Britain, he opened his first salon in London in 1954. By the mid 60s he was in New York City and became known for his philosophy of cutting hair to suit a woman's face and bone structure. He created the famous five point hair cut that was copied in salons big and small across the country. He created the pixie cut Mia Farrow wore for her role in the 1968 film Rosemary's Baby. SASSOON is now 83, and is no longer associated with the Sassoon line of products he originated.
Interview with Joel and Ethan Coen; Review of the new documentary "Justin Bieber February 11, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461879].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film makers JOEL & ETHAN COEN. Their new film is True Grit. It's been nominated for ten Academy Awards, including best picture and directing. Over the last two decades they written and directed the films Barton Fink, Miller's Crossing, Fargo, The Big Lebowski, O Brother, Where Art Thou, No Country for Old Men, Burn After Reading, and A Serious Man. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary/concert film/biopic of Canadian pop singer and heart-throb to preteens, Justin Bieber (BEE-bar). It's called Justin Bieber: Never say Never.

Interview with Matthew Alexander; Interview with V.S. Ramachandran. February 14, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461884].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATTHEW ALEXANDER is a former U.S. military interrogator in Iraq. He refused to participate in harsh techniques, choosing instead to develop rapport with suspects, show cultural understanding, and use criminal investigative techniques to tease out information. He led a team of interrogators that successfully hunted down Abu Musab al-Zarqawi, the leader of al-Qaeda in Iraq. Zarqawi was killed when bombs dropped by U.S. jets hit his isolated safehouse. ALEXANDER is the author of the book Kill or Capture: How a Special Operations Task Force Took Down a Notorious Al Qaeda Terrorist. His previous book is How to Break a Terrorist: The U.S. Interrogators Who Use Brains, Not Brutality, to Take Down the Deadliest Man in Iraq. ALEXANDER writes under a pseudonym for security reasons. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
(2.) Neuro-behaviorlist V.S. RAMACHANDRAN (Rahm-ah-CHAHN-dran) is the author of the new book The Tell-Tale Brain: A Neuroscientist's Quest for What Makes Us Human. RAMACHANDRAN is Director of the Center for Brain and Cognition and Professor with the Psychology Department and Neurosciences Program at the University of California. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).
Interview with P.J. Harvey; Obituary for George Shearing. February 15, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462225].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British singer-songwriter P.J. (Polly Jean) HARVEY. She rose to prominence in the early 1990s alternative rock scene, exploring themes of sex, love, and religion. She started with her P.J. Harvey trio, but soon went solo. Her new album Let England Shake is a collection of songs about war. It's her eleventh album. (THIS ALBUM CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember pianist GEORGE SHEARING, one of the greats of modern jazz. He died Monday, Feb 14th at the age of 91. SHEARING was born in London, and was blind from birth. In the 1940s he was one of England's most popular jazz musicians. He then moved to New York, became an American citizen, and enjoyed commercial success on these shores. Over the years he recorded with Nat King Cole, Peggy Lee, Mel Torme, Stephane Grappelli and Billy Ekstine. He composed more than 300 titles including the classic Lullaby of Birdland. (REBROADCAST FROM 1986)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BIZ STONE is a co-founder and Creative Director of the social media site, Twitter. He'll discuss how Twitter was used in Egypt to organize the revolution and then to spread democracy movements in other countries. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews I Think I Love You, (Knopf) the new novel by Allison Pearson.

Interview with Charles Sennott; Review of indie films "Cold weather" and "Poetry." February 17, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462249].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES SENNOTT has just returned from Egypt where he was covering the revolution for FRONTLINE on PBS (to be broadcast Tuesday, Feb 22nd). SENNOTT was a longtime foreign correspondent for The Boston Globe. He is Executive Editor and Vice President of GlobalPost, an Interview with James Franco; Interview with Tom Hooper; Review of the film "Unknown." February 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462152].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JAMES FRANCO. He's been nominated for an academy award for his leading role in the Danny Boyle film 127 Hours as a mountain climber who gets pinned beneath a rock in a remote area of Utah, and has to cut off his own arm to extract himself. The film has also been nominated for five other Oscars including Best Picture. Last year FRANCO also starred as a young Allen Ginsberg in the movie Howl. FRANCO has an MFA from Brooklyn College, and studied in the creative writing MFA program at Columbia. He has a new collection of short stories set in California, where he's from. It's called Palo Alto (Scribner). FRANCO's writing has also appeared in McSweeney's and Esquire. He played Harvey Milk's longtime companion in the film Milk. He got his big break on the short lived but critically acclaimed TV show Freaks and Geeks. He went on to play Harry Osborn in all three Spiderman films. Prior to Milk, he was in Pineapple Express, and played James Dean in a TNT biopic. (REBROADCAST FROM 10/5/2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) British film director TOM HOOPER. His film The King's Speech has been nominated for 12 Academy Awards, including Best Picture, directing and actor in leading and supporting roles. It stars Colin Firth as King George VI who took over the throne in 1936 when his older brother abdicated to marry an American divorcee. George VI had a terrible stammer and began working with an eccentric speech therapist, an Australian by the name of Lionel Logue (played by Geoffrey Rush). The film is about their relationship. HOOPER is also the director of the films The Damned United, and Elisabeth I. And he directed the HBO series John Adams. (REBROADCAST FROM 11/18/10) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Unknown the new film starring Liam Neeson as an American who has traveled to Berlin, is involved in a car accident and wakes up in a hospital with no memory of who he is or why he is in a foreign city.
Interview with Eric Foner; Commentary on Ella Mae Morse. February 21, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461882].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) For this Presidents' Day, we're featuring a rebroadcast of an interview with historian ERIC FONER. FONER is the DeWitt Clinton professor of history at Columbia. He has written several books about the Civil War era, Abraham Lincoln, and the period of Reconstruction after the Civil War. His new book is about how Lincoln's attitudes toward slavery evolved. It's called 'The Fiery Trial: Abraham Lincoln and American Slavery' (W. Norton & Co.) FONER is also the author of 'Forever Free: The Story of Emancipation and Reconstruction.' (Original broadcast date: 10/11/10) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE 2nd HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD rock tells us about singer Ella Mae Morse whose pioneering pop hits are now being rediscovered.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) French actor and singer LAMBERT WILSON. He's co-starring in the new film Of Gods and Men based on the true story of seven French monks in an Algerian monastery in 1996 who have to decide whether to stay and most likely be killed by Islamic radicals, or to flee to safety. In his 30 year career, Wilson's been in many French films, mostly playing handsome cads or crooks. WILSON is probably most familiar to American audiences for his roles in the Matrix trilogy and Catwoman. WILSON recently starred in the first French production of Stephen Sondheim's A Little Night Music. And he has recorded an unrelated CD of music. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic Ken tucker Reviews Bella, the new album from British singer-songwriter Teddy Thompson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British journalist and novelist ALLISON PEARSON is the author of the new book I Think I Love You. It begins in 1974 with two thirteen year old girls obsessed with singer David Cassidy of the Partridge Family. Then the story moves forward 24 years when the two women - now pushing forty - get a chance to meet the former teen idol. PEARSON is also the author of the bestselling novel I Don't Know How She Does It. And she is a staff writer for the London Daily Telegraph. (2) Kevin Whitehead reviews "Bird Songs" by Joe Lovano's Us Five on the Blue Note label.

Interview with Lawrence Goldstone; Review of Dolorean's new album "The unfazed." February 24, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462439].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer LAWRENCE GOLDSTONE. His new book takes a look at the push for equality, and the push back, during and after Abraham Lincoln's presidency. It's called Inherently Unequal: The Betrayal of Equal Rights by the Supreme Court, 1865-1903. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Unfazed, the new album from Portland, Oregon based band Dolorean.

Interview with Melissa Leo; Interview with David Michod and Jacki Weaver; Interview with Natalie Portman; Review of the film "Hall pass." February 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462482].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MELISSA LEO. She plays the mom in the acclaimed film The Fighter, and she's Oscar nominated for Best Supporting Actress. The film is up for a total of 6 nominations. Leo has already won a Golden Globe for Best Supporting Actress. Prior to The Fighter, Leo was best known for her role as Detective Kay Howard on the critically acclaimed TV series Homicide: Life on the Street. LEO is currently shooting season two of the HBO series Treme. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE:
12/16/10) (2.) Film director and screenwriter DAVID MICHOD and actress JACKI WEAVER. Their new movie is called Animal Kingdom. WEAVER is nominated for a Best Supporting actress Oscar, in the same category as Melissa Leo. Animal Kingdom is about the criminal underworld in Australia and it won the World Cinema Jury Prize at last year's Sundance Film Festival. It's Michod's debut feature. Jacki Weaver has won many awards for her work in Animal Kingdom. American audiences know Weaver best for her performance in the 1975 classic film Picnic at Hanging Rock. She's also had roles in many Australian TV shows. (3.) Actress NATALIE PORTMAN. She's nominated for and Oscar, for Best Actress, for her work in the film Black Swan as a tormented ballerina dancing Swan Lake. Her work already won her a Best Actress Golden Globe. The film, which is up for five Oscars in total, was directed by Darren Aronofsky, who also directed The Wrestler. PORTMAN's other films include The Darjeeling Limited, The Other Boleyn Girl, Garden State, the Star Wars films 1,2, & 3, Cold Mountain, and Everyone Says I Love You. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/30/10) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Hall Pass, directed by the Farrelly brothers and starring Owen Wilson, Jason Sudeikis and Jenna Fischer.

---

Interview with Dirk Vandewalle. February 28, 2011. Link to record with audio file.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An inside look at Qaddafi and his 42 year long rule in Libya with DIRK VANDEWALLE (VAHN-de-wolleh), an Associate Professor of Government at Dartmouth College. His article, After Gaddafi, appears in the current issue of Newsweek (http://www.newsweek.com/2011/02/27/after-gaddafi.html ). Libya is in turmoil after an uprising sparked by the arrest of a human-rights lawyer in Benghazi. Vandewalle has studied and written about Libya since the 1980s. In 1986 he lived in Libya for 14 months, as the only Western scholar at the time. His most recent book is A History of Modern Libya.

Description of show segment(s)

1. Journalist STEVEN GREENHOUSE is the labor and workplace reporter for the New York Times. And he is the author of the 2008 book The Big Squeeze: Tough Times for the American Worker. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2. We remember SUZE ROTOLO (SU-zee ROTE-olo). The artist and civil rights activist died Friday at age 67 following a long illness. She was probably best known for her three-year romance with Bob Dylan at the age of 17. She appeared with Dylan on the cover of The Freewheelin' Bob Dylan and was the inspiration for a number of Dylan tracks, including 'Boots of Spanish Leather,' 'Tomorrow is a Long Time' and 'Don't Think Twice, It's All Right.' In 2008 ROTOLO wrote the memoir A Freewheelin' Time: A Memoir of Greenwich Village in the Sixties. She was a teacher at the Parsons School of Design in New York City (REBROADCAST FROM 5/14/08)

Description of show segment(s)

1. Wildlife filmmakers and photographers BEVERLY & DERECK JOUBERT ("JO-bear"). For nearly thirty years the two have been filming the big cats of wild Africa. In the new National Geographic film The Last Lions (and companion book) they follow the lions of the Okavango Wilderness of Botswana: in particular one female lion, who they call Ma di Tau, is left to fend for herself and her three cubs, after the father of the cubs is killed in a fight with rival males. The JOUBERTs also lead the Big Cats Initiative, a campaign to stop dwindling populations. In the last 50 years the number of wild lions has dropped from 450,000 to 20,000. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2. Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Pym (Spiegel & Grau), the new novel by Mat Johnson which is a play on Poe's one and only novel, The Narrative of Arthur Gordon Pym of Nantucket.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Award-winning chef GRANT ACHATZ (ACK-hatz). He is known for his advante-garde cooking, working in the tradition known as molecular gastronomy which uses scientific techniques to give familiar foods new tastes and textures. ACHATZ is the creator of the Alinea restaurant in Chicago. Two years after opening the restaurant, ACHATZ was diagnosed with stage four tongue cancer. After radiation and chemo, he is now in recovery and regaining his sense of taste. And he is opening a new restaurant soon. He has a new memoir, Life, On the Line (Gotham) which he wrote with his business partner Nick Kokonas. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Alice Cooper; Interview with Tom Waits; Review of the television show "America's Next Great Restaurant"; Review of the film "Of Gods and Men." March 4, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462477].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Shock rock icon ALICE COOPER. He will be inducted into the Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame on March 14th. During his heyday in the early 1970s he appeared on stage dressed like a ghoul with a gaunt face and mascara streaked eyes, performing cartoonish violent stunts. His hits included 'I'm Eighteen,' 'School's Out,' and 'Welcome to My Nightmare.' Over the years he's had friendships with such legends as Groucho Marx, Salvador Dali, and Peter Sellers. COOPER wrote a memoir about his life and how he replaced his addiction to drinking, with an addiction to golf. It's called 'Alice Cooper: Golf Monster: A Rock 'n' Roller's 12 Steps to Becoming a Golf Addict' (REBROADCAST from 5/17/2007) (2.) Singer and Songwriter TOM WAITS. He will be one of the performers inducted into the Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame on March 14th. Since the 1973 release of his first album, 'Closing Time,' Waits has won over fans with his original songwriting and distinctive, gravelly vocal style. One reviewer calls Waits 'the Ultimate hobo boho, a Jack-in-the-box cum storyteller.' Musicians including Johnny Cash, Bruce Springsteen, and Rod Stewart have recorded covers of his songs. He has also acted in films, including Sylvester Stallone's 'Paradise Alley,' Jim Jarmusch's 'Down By Law,' and Robert Altman's 'Short Cuts.' (REBROADCAST from 5/21/02) (3.)
TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new reality show that premieres Sunday on NBC, America's Next Great Restaurant. (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Of Gods & Men.

Interview with Robert and Dayna Baer; Review of the DVD release of the film "The Sweet Smell of Success." March 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462080].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Married former CIA operatives ROBERT & DAYNA BAER ("BEAR"). Their new memoir is The Company We Keep: A Husband and Wife True-Life Spy Story. Robert was considered the best operative working in the Middle East and his book See No Evil became the basis for the film Syriana. He was eventually awarded the Career Intelligence Medal. DANYA was trained in handling weapons and explosives and conduct high-speed escape and evasion. Both served in some of the world's most dangerous places; both of them had failed marriages because of their work. They met while working in Sarajevo, eventually fell in love, and decided to quit the CIA. The two adopted a daughter from Pakistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews a new reissue of the classic American movie about the gossip trade, Sweet Smell of Success (on Criterion). Made in 1957, it stars Tony Curtis as a hustling press agent, and Burt Lancaster as a powerful Broadway columnist.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian PHILIP DRAY is the author of There is Power in a Union: The Epic Story of Labor in America (Random House, Sept 2010). He is also the author of Capitol Men: The Epic Story of Reconstruction Thru the lives of The First Black Congressmen, as well as a number of other books about American history. DRAY is a contributor to The Boston Globe, The New York Times, and Mother Jones. (2.) We remember speech therapist SAM CHWAT ("Chwaa"). He died Thursday at the age of 57 from lymphoma. His New York Speech Improvement Services attracted 200 to 250 clients a week. He taught Robert DeNiro how to gain an Appalachian accent for his role in Cape Fear. Julia Roberts sought him out to relearn her southern drawl for Steel Magnolias. In addition to the stars, Chwat assisted people in business, politics, and communications to lose their accents and or to learn Standard American English. (REBROADCAST from 9/1/94) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews A Time For Love (Steeplechase) the new recording by trumpeter Marcus Printup which features him with harpist Riza Hequibal.

Interview with Susanne Bier; Interview with Jennifer Knust. March 10, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462476].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Danish film director SUSANNE BIER ("BEER"). Her film In a Better World won the Academy Award this year for Best Foreign Language film. It's about a ten year old boy who recruits a new friend to take revenge on a bully. The film deals with violence and forgiveness. BIER's 2006 film After the Wedding, was nominated for an academy award. Her other films include the Danish war film Brothers and the broken-family movie Things We Lost in the Fire with Benicio del Toro and Halle Berry. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JENNIFER KNUST is an assistant professor Assistant Professor of New Testament and Christian Origins at Boston University's School of Theology. Her new book is Unprotected Texts: The Bible's Surprising Contradictions About Sex and Desire (HarperOne).

Interview with Dr. John; Interview with Darlene Love; Interview with Neil Diamond; Review of the film "Certified Copy." March 11, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462381].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Songwriter, pianist and singer DR. JOHN. He is to be inducted into the Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame on Monday. He's been recording more than 50 years. Known in his native New Orleans as Mac Rebennack, his music has evolved from the psychedelic voodoo-rock he played in the 1960's to the classic piano he plays today. He is one of the musicians who appears in Treme, the HBO drama series set in New Orleans. (REBROADCAST from 5/3/96) (2.) Singer DARLENE LOVE. She will be inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame on Monday. She joined the popular girl group the Blossoms and was their lead singer in 1958. But they were used as surrogates on Phil Spector's biggest girl group hits (under the name of the Crystals), on He's a Rebel, He's Sure the Boy I Love and Da Doo Run Run. Her own hits were (Today I Met) The Boy I'm Gonna Marry, A Fine, Fine Boy, and Christmas (Baby Please Come Home). She was in the Broadway productions of "Leader of the Pack" and "Carrie." She went on to have a solo career. U2 invited her to sing on their 1987 remake of Christmas (Baby Please Come Home). (3.) Singer, songwriter and musician NEIL DIAMOND. He will also be inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. He's been writing music and singing for 50 years. He got his start writing music for others at the famed Brill Building in New York City, but soon began recording his own sing-a-long-able hits like Solitary Man, Sweet Caroline, Cracklin' Rosie, and Girl, You'll Be A Woman Soon. (REBROADCAST from 12/13/05) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Certified Copy the new conversational drama starring Juliette Binoche.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FRANK CALABRESE, Jr. (cal-a-BREEZE) has written the memoir, Operation Family Secrets: How a Mobster's Son and the FBI Brought Down Chicago's Murderous Crime Family. It's about bringing down his father's murderous Chicago crime family. While both were in prison for rackeering, FRANK wore a wire against his father. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, writer and actor TOM MCCARTHY. His new feature film is Win Win, starring Paul Giamatti as an attorney faced with a moral dilemma when he takes on guardianship of an aging client, and ends up taking in the client's troubled grandson. McCarthy's other films are The Station Agent and The Visitor, and he's also had many acting roles. His TV credits include a role as the despised Scott Templeton on the HBO series The Wire, as well as turns on Boston Public and Law & Order. He's also appeared in the films Michael Clayton, The Lovely Bones and Little Fockers, among others. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Art & Madness the new memoir by Anne Roiphe (ROY-fee). (3.) We remember the beloved composer HUGH MARTIN, who died last Thursday at age 96. He's best known for the song 'Have yourself a Merry Little Christmas,' from the classic musical Meet Me in St. Louis, for which he penned several other tunes. We listen back to a 1989 interview with Martin and songwriting partner Ralph Blaine, and a 2006 conversation with Hugh.
(REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/31/89 and 12/22/06).

Interview with Gregg Bloche; Interview with John Thorn; Review of Percy Sledge's CD
www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885362].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GREGG BLOCHE ("BLOCK"), is a doctor, a health policy expert and a professor of law at Georgetown University. He was also a health care advisor to President Obama's 2008 campaign and a consultant to the World Health Organization. His new book is The Hippocratic Myth: Why Doctors are Under Pressure to Ration Care, Practice Politics, and Compromise Their Promise to Heal (Palgrave MacMillan) (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (2.) Baseball historian JOHN THORN. He is editor of the encyclopedia, Total Baseball (now in its 8th edition). And he was an on-screen historian and chief consultant to Ken Burns's PBS series Baseball. His new book is Baseball in the Garden of Eden: The Secret History of the Early Game (Simon & Schuster) (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (3.) Rock historian
ED WARD reviews a new collection of recordings by country soul singer Percy Sledge. It's Percy Sledge -
The Atlantic Recordings.

Interview with Jesse Drucker; Interview with Greg Mottola. March 17, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503916].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JESSE DRUCKER is a reporter for Bloomberg News. He's been reporting on off-shore tax havens that allow American companies like Google and pharmaceuticals like Merck & Co., Inc, Pfizer, Inc., and Eli Lilly & Co. to reduce their tax payments by billions. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Film and TV director GREG MOTTOLA. His new film Paul is a sci-fi comedy about two British slackers who encounter a small alien. The film mixes computer generated graphics and live action. Seth Rogen is the voice of the alien. MOTTOLA's other films include Adventureland, Daytrippers, and Superbad. MOTTOLA has also directed several episodes of the TV shows Undeclared and Arrested Development. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with Rebecca Skloot; Review of Stan Getz's CD box set "Quintets March 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503938].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Medical writer REBECCA SKLOOT. Her book The Immortal Life of Henrietta Lacks is now out in paperback. Part biography and part bioethical exploration, the book is about an impoverished African American woman who unknowingly donated her cervical cells to science, leading to huge advances in medicine, but no benefit whatsoever to Henrietta Lacks or her offspring. Skloot is an award-winning writer, and a contributing editor at Popular Science magazine. She has worked as a correspondent for NPR's RadioLab and PBS's Nova ScienceNOW, and her writing appears in The New York Times Magazine, O: The Oprah Magazine, Discover, Columbia Journalism Review, Prevention, and many others. (REBROADCAST from 2/2/10) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Stan Getz Quintets: The Clef & Norgran Studio Albums (Verve). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Win Win the new film directed by Tom McCarthy, starring Paul Giamatti and Amy Ryan.

Interview with Mark Olsen and Will Scheffer; Review of Nick Lowe's album "Labour of Lust." March 21, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503936].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARK OLSEN & WILL SCHEFFER are the co-creators and executive producers of the HBO series Big Love, about a fictional fundamentalist family in Utah that practices polygamy. After five seasons, the series will air its final episode on Sunday. In 2007, the team won a TV Writers Guild Award for the pilot and first episode of Big Love. Olsen and Scheffer also co-wrote the independent film Easter. Olsen worked for HBO previously, penning the miniseries Mary Chestnut's Civil War. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Nick Lowe's classic album, Labour of Lust, has just been re-released on Yep Roc Records after 32 years. Rock historian ED WARD has a review.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We talk about developments in Libya and the Arab world with MARC LYNCH. He's the director of the Institute for Middle East Studies and the Middle East Studies program at The George Washington University, where he teaches classes on Middle Eastern politics and international relations. He is also a non-senior resident at the Center for a New American Security and the author of Voices of the New Arab Public: Al-Jazeera, Iraq and Middle East Politics Today and State Interest and Public Spheres: The International Politics of Jordan's Identity. He blogs about the Middle East for Foreign Policy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Advice columnist Dan Savage and partner Terry Miller talk about their worldwide initiative It Gets Better. They've co-edited a book of the same name. Savage, who writes the weekly syndicated sex advice column Savage Love, and broadcasts a podcast of the same name, got to a boiling point when he heard one story too many about gay teens committing suicide after being bullied and harassed. His simple statement in a podcast has turned into an international movement. The It Gets Better Project website has attracted thousands of videos from celebrities and plain folk who are reaching out to teens to let them know things will change when they get out of the pressure cooker of high school. President Obama, Suze Orman, Ellen DeGeneres, and Tim Gunn are just a few of the luminaries who have recorded videos. The book collects It Gets Better essays and expanded testimonials. Terry Miller is an event promoter, musician and DJ. He and Dan have been together for 16 years. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Interview with John Mariani; Review of Cyro Baptista's album "Caym"; Interview with Kevin Patterson; Commentary on the phrase "we're broke." March 24, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462047].

Description of show segment(s)

(1) Food writer JOHN MARIANI has a new book called How Italian Food Conquered the World. We delve into mozzarella and calamari, and the rise of Italian American cuisine. Mariani is also the author of The Encyclopedia of American Food & Drink and the food and he's the wine correspondent for Esquire magazine. (2.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews Caym (kai-mm), the new CD featuring interpretations of John Zorn compositions from Brazilian percussionist Cyro Batista and his band Banquet of the Spirits. (3.) A traveling physician explains why diabetes rates are climbing practically everywhere in the world. Kevin Patterson has treated patients in the Arctic, in Kandahar and on remote Pacific Islands. He says that Western ideas and the effects of urbanization are making people everywhere in the world both fatter and sicker. His books include Consumption and The Water in Between. (4.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG looks at the phrase 'We're broke.' Republican legislators have made it their mantra to justify cuts in government spending. But it's a loose term, and worth examining just who is broke.

Interview with Mark Wahlberg and David O. Russell; Review of the television show "Mildred Pierce"; Obituary for Lanford Wilson; Tribute to Elizabeth Taylor. March 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462150].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MARK WAHLBERG and director DAVID O. RUSSELL. The two collaborated on the Oscar winning film The Fighter, based on the true story of Boston boxer Mickey Ward. It's now out on DVD. Ward grew up in the same neighborhood as WAHLBERG. WAHLBERG and RUSSELL have worked together before on the films I Heart Huckabees and Three Kings. WAHLBERG was nominated for an Academy Award for best supporting actor for his role as a police sergeant in The Departed. His breakthrough role was as a porn star in Boogie Nights. His other films include The Perfect Storm, The Italian Job, and Invincible. RUSSELL's films include Flirting with Disaster and Spanking the Monkey. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 1/6/2011. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic David Bianculli reviews the HBO miniseries Mildred Pierce, directed by Todd Haynes. The five hour long program is based on the 1945 film starring Joan Crawford, and it premieres this weekend. (3.) Playwright LANFORD WILSON. He has died at age 73. Wilson won the Pulitzer Prize for his play, "Talley's Folly." He wrote 17 full length plays and 30 one acts. Titles include "The Hot L Baltimore," "Burn This," "Fifth of July" and "Redwood Curtain," which had just come out when Terry spoke to Wilson in 1992. Wilson was one of the founders of The Circle Repertory Company in New York. He was nominated for Tony Awards for "Angels Fall," "Talley's Folly" and "Fifth of July." (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/13/92) (4.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS remembers actress Elizabeth Taylor, who died Wednesday at age 79.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor TIMOTHY OLYPHANT. He stars as U.S Marshal Raylan Givens in the FX series Justified, now in season 2. You may also know him from a few other TV shows, including Deadwood, The Office, and Damages. He's also had roles in many films, including Live Free or Die Hard, The Girl Next Door and Dreamcatcher. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new self-titled album from the band Middle Brother.

---

Interview with Donovan Hohn; Review of The Vagrants' album "I Can't Make a Friend March 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462049].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DONOVAN HOHN ('hone'). His new book is Moby Duck: The True Story of 28,800 Bathy Toys Lost at Sea and the Beachcombers, Oceanographers, Environmentalists, and Fools, Including the Author, Who Went in Search of Them. Hohn is a journalist whose work has appeared in Harpers, the New York Times Magazine, and Outside. He's now a features editor at GQ. Fresh Air contributor Dave Davies spoke to Hohn. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.)
Rock historian Ed Ward reports on The Vagrants, at one time one of the most popular bands in New York City. From 1964 to 1968, they played live gigs, but did not record much. Light in the Attic records has compiled all 30 minutes of their recorded work for the new album, I Can't Make a Friend. (3.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews Emily, Alone by Stewart O'Nan, whose previous book is the acclaimed novella Last Night at the Lobster.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author, screenwriter and attorney PETER GODWIN grew up in white ruled Rhodesia, now the independent country Zimbabwe. Zimbabwe achieved independence in 1980, and has been ruled ever since by Robert Mugabe. In 2008 Mugabe lost an election but refused to concede power, instead embarking on a campaign of terror. Godwin secretly returned to Zimbabwe and reports on the gruesome conditions of these post election years in his new book The Fear: the Last Days of Robert Mugabe. Godwin, who studied law and international relations at Cambridge and Oxford, became a human rights lawyer in Zimbabwe, and was also an international foreign and war correspondent. As a filmmaker, Godwin won the Gold Medal at the New York Film Festival for the Industry of Death, about the sex trade in Thailand. Godwin is the author of five nonfiction books. He is a 2010 Guggenheim fellow. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Interview with Matt Wald; Review of the television show "The Killing." March 31, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462253].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATTHEW WALD writes about nuclear energy for the New York Times. After the catastrophic nuclear accident that just took place in Japan, Americans are reevaluating the potential cost of nuclear power. Wald also covers transportation, specializing in aviation and highway safety. He's worked at the Times since 1976. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE SECOND HALF OF THE TV Critic David Bianculli reviews The Killing, a new AMC crime drama series based on a 2007 miniseries from Denmark. It premieres on Sunday.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JON HAMM. He stars as Don Draper, a high-powered advertising executive in the award winning AMC drama Mad Men. Season Four of the show is now out on DVD and Blueray. Season Five has been delayed to begin until 2012. HAMM has also had guest appearances in 30 Rock. Previously HAMM co-starred in the NBC series Providence and he had roles in What About Brian, The Unit and the film The Town. (REBROADCAST from 9/16/2010) (2.) Novelist DAVID MITCHELL is the author of the book The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet (Random House) which is now out in paperback. It's set on an island near Nagasaki, Japan in 1799, where Dutch traders are allowed into the otherwise closed Japanese society. A young Dutch clerk arrives to earn his fortune. Our book critic Maureen Corrigan says it is a 'beautiful novel, full of life and authenticity, atmosphere and characters that breathe. It manages to do what the best historical fiction always does - make a reader melancholy, thinking about all those other, true-life stories from the past that have melted into air.' MITCHELL has twice been short-listed for the Man Booker Prize. His previous novels include Number9Dream, Cloud Atlas, and Black Swan Green. (REBROADCAST from 8/5/2010) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new films: Source Code starring Jake Gyllenhaal and Michelle Monaghan, and Insidious starring Patrick Wilson and Rose Byrne.

Interview with Marc Kaufman; Review of Paul Simon's album "So Beautiful or So What." April 4, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462462].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Astrobiologist MARC KAUFMAN says we may be closer than ever to finding out if there is life on other planets in our universe. His new book is first Contact: Scientific Breakthroughs In The Hunt For Life Beyond Earth. Kaufman is a science writer and national editor for The Washington Post. (INTERVIEW
Interview with Michael Willrich; Review of Kyung-sook Shin's novel "Please Look After Mom."
April 5, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461722].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian MICHAEL WILLRICH is the author of Pox: An American History (Penguin Books). It tells the story of the smallpox epidemics that struck America around the turn of the twentieth century, spurring the growth of modern public health authority, and engendering widespread social and legal opposition to the government policy of compulsory vaccination. WILLRICH teaches history at Brandeis University. He is also the author of City of Courts: Socializing Justice in Progressive Era Chicago. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews the new novel 'Please Look After Mom,' by Kyung-sook Shin.

Interview with Dexter Filkins. April 6, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503901].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEXTER FILKINS is a staff writer for the New Yorker magazine. Before that he was foreign correspondent for The New York Times. He was recently in Yemen reporting on the uprising there. He writes about it in the current edition of the New Yorker. FILKINS previously reported on the Iraq war and received a George Polk award for his coverage of the assault on Fallujah in November 2004. From 2001-2002 he covered the war in Afghanistan. FILKINS' book The Forever War is about his experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan is now out in paperback. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Interview with Ellen Prager; Interview with Brian Carpenter. April 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462219].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ELLEN PRAGER is a writer and former chief scientist at the undersea research station, Aquarius Reef Base in the Florida Keys. Her new book is Sex, Drugs and Sea Slime: The Oceans Oddest Creatures and why they matter (University of Chicago press). Her previous book is Furious Earth: The Science and Nature of Earthquakes, Volcanoes, and Tsunamis. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Singer, songwriter, composer BRIAN CARPENTER. With his ten-piece jazz band, Ghost Train Orchestra, he's released the new album Hothouse Stomp: The Music of 1920s Chicago & Harlem (on the Accurate label). CARPENTER transcribed and arranged the music for the album. He's also the founder of Beat Circus a genre-bending ensemble founded in 2002 which spins cabaret, gospel, progressive rock, and Appalachian string music. And he was the founder of Free Association, a free-form radio show. He also fronts the new band called The Confessions.

Interview with David R. Dow; Review of television program "Upstairs, Downstairs"; Review of film "Your Highness." April 8, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503902].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Attorney DAVID R. DOW. His book The Autobiography of an Execution is now out in paperback. Dow defends death row inmates in his role as the litigation director at the Texas Defender Service. He is also a professor at the University of Houston Law Center. As an appellate lawyer, he's represented over 100 death row inmates over the past two decades. Dow's book is part memoir and part exploration into the politics of the death penalty. (REBROADCAST from 2/8/2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the return of Upstairs, Downstairs to Masterpiece Theatre on PBS on Sunday night. It's been 34 years since there were new episodes. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Your Highness the new stoner comedy starring James Franco and Danny McBride.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES FISHMAN. In his new book The Big Thirst: The Secret Life and Turbulent Future of Water (Free Press) he writes that the golden age of water in the developing world is over, one in which water has been safe, unlimited and essentially free. And he says we are entering an era of water scarcity. He also writes about communities and companies that are learning to preserve and "recapture" their water. FISHMAN is also the author of the bestseller, The Wal-Mart Effect. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Smithereens 2011, the first album of new material in 12 years by the Smithereens.

Interview with Adam Goodheart; Review of Edwyn Collins' album "Losing Sleep." April 12, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462220].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ADAM GOODHEART. April 12th is the 150th anniversary of the beginning of the Civil War. GOODHEART has been contributing to the Disunion blog on the New York Times website, a blog that daily unfolds the story of the Civil War, and evokes the chaos and uncertainty of the time. GOODHEART's new book is 1861: The Civil War Awakening. It's about the first year of the war. Reviewer Michael Bernath of Harvard Magazine writes of Goodheart, "his greatest contribution lies in his ability to recreate the texture, the sharp detail, of the everyday life and experience of nineteenth-century Americans." GOODHEART teaches at Washington College where he is director of the C.V. Starr Center for the Study of the American Experience. He also has written for the Atlantic Monthly, National Geographic, Smithsonian, the Washington Post, and the Wall Street Journal. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Losing Sleep the 7th solo album by Scottish singer/songwriter Edwyn Collins.
Interview with Tina Fey. April 13, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462427].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, writer and actress TINA FEY. Her new book is Bossypants. FEY is former head writer for Saturday Night Live. With John McCain's nomination of Sarah Palin as vice presidential candidate, FEY was handed a just about a once in a lifetime chance at impersonation, because of her resemblance to the candidate. FEY returned as a guest star to SNL to play Palin. She created, stars in, and writes many episodes for her Emmy award winning show '30 Rock,' which recently celebrated its 100th episode. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MICHELLE WILLIAMS. She began her career as a teenager on the WB TV series Dawson's Creek. She was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Supporting actress for her role in Brokeback Mountain. And she was nominated for Best Actress in the 2010 film Blue Valentine opposite Ryan Gosling about a marriage falling apart. Her other films include Synecdoche, New York, and I'm Not There. She's co-starring in the new film Meek's Cutoff. It's directed by Kelly Reichardt who WILLIAMS worked with for the film Wendy & Lucy. Meek's Cutoff is set in 1845 and is about three families on the Oregon Trail. WILLIAMS will also be starring as Marilyn Monroe in the upcoming film My Week with Marilyn. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Director KELLY REICHARDT. Her new film Meek's Cutoff is set in 1845 and is about three families on the Oregon Trail. Like her other films Lucy & Wendy and Old Joy, it's set in the Pacific Northwest.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember film director SIDNEY LUMET. He died Saturday at the age of 86 from lymphoma. He directed over 40 films, which received over 40 Academy Award Nominations. He himself was nominated four times for directing, but never won. His films include 12 Angry Men (1957), The Pawnbroker (1964), Serpico (1973), Dog Day Afternoon (1975), Network (1976), Prince of the City (1981), and The Verdict (1982). His last film was Before the Devil Knows You're Dead (2007). He got his start directing original plays for television in the 1950s. (REBROADCAST from 8/23/88) (2.) Comedian and actor WILL FERRELL. He's guest starring in the NBC series The Office, as Michael's replacement. Ferrell became famous as a member of Saturday Night Live from 1995 to 2002. His films include Talladega Nights, Anchorman, Step Brothers, Old School, Blades of Glory, Bewitched, Stranger Than Fiction and The Other Guys. (REBROADCAST from 11/9/06) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Conspirator directed by Robert Redford about the trial of a boarding house owner for her part in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Interview with Amy Ellis Nutt and Jon Sarkin; Review of DVD boxset "The Ernie Kovacs Collection." April 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462426].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AMY ELLIS NUTT author of Shadow Bright As Glass: the Remarkable Story of One Man's Journey from Brain Trauma to Artistic Triumph (Free Press) and JON SARKIN, the subject of her book. At the age of 35, Jon Sarkin suffered a stroke following brain surgery. The stroke changed his personality transforming him from a sensible chiropractor into a volatile artist with a ferocious need to create. Through his art, his brain tries to make sense of the world. Sarkin is unusual in that he is also aware of what he lost and how he's changed. NUTT was a Pulitzer prize finalist for her series of stories about Sarkin in the The Star-Ledger in Newark. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews a new DVD boxed set collecting 13 hours of Ernie Kovac's best and rarest programs.
Interview with Susan Freinkel; Review of CD boxset "The Bristol Sessions, 1927-1928 April 19, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462430].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science writer SUSAN FREINKEL is the author of the book Plastic: A Toxic Love Story (Houghton Mifflin). It's about the history of our love affair with plastics. We're surrounded by it. She says it's taken the place of steel in cars, paper and glass in packaging, and even wood in furniture. It's revolutionized the way medicine is practiced. In 1960 she says the average American consumed about thirty pounds of plastic products; today, that number is more than three hundred pounds of plastic a year. She also writes that the chemicals in plastics can leech out, yet we don't know the full extent of their effect on our health.

(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES ? INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

(2.) Rock Historian ED WARD reviews 5 CD box set 'The Bristol Sessions, 1927-1928: The Big Bang of Country Music.'

(3.) Book Critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Mary Gordon's new novel 'The Love of My Youth.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Legendary German filmmaker WERNER HERZOG. His new 3D film is Cave of Forgotten Dreams, a documentary about the Chauvet Cave in the south of France which contains drawings 32,000 years old. The film crew had to use special lights that emitted no heat, and could only film for a few hours at a time because of very high levels of carbon dioxide. Herzog is associated with the German New Wave film movement. He’s produced, written and directed more than 40 films, including Rescue Dawn based on his 1997 documentary Little Dieter Needs to Fly, Grizzly Man, Wings of Hope, Aguirre, Wrath of God, and Fitzcarraldo (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new documentary Nostalgia for the Light by the Chilean filmmaker Patricio Guzman who was imprisoned during the coup that toppled Chile's president Salvador Allende in 1973.

(3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Insomnia (Clean Feed label) the new release by Brooklyn-based saxophonist and composer Tim Berne. The music is from a 1997 live recording issued for the first time.

---

Interview with Greg Marinovich and Joao Silva. April 21, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461840].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Photojournalists GREG MARINOVICH (Mah-RIN-o-vich) & JOAO (zhuh-WOU) SILVA. The two covered the final bloody days of South African Apartheid, prior to the 1994 elections when the African National Congress (ANC) and Inkatha Freedom Party fought for supremacy. MARINOVICH & SILVA and two other photographers were dubbed the "Bang Bang Paparazzi" by a local magazine. The two other photographers Kevin Carter and Ken Oosterbroek died. (Carter killed himself in 1994 and Oosterbroek was fatally wounded while covering the violence in South Africa). MARINOVICH & SILVA collaborated on the book The Bang Bang Club: Snapshots from a Hidden War (now in paperback). The book has been made into a new film. MARINOVICH has been shot and wounded four times. SILVA lost both legs in a landmine explosion in Afghanistan in October. He talked to Terry from the Walter Reed Hospital where he is recovering. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. SIDDHARTHA MUKHERJEE is a cancer physician and researcher who was awarded the Pulitzer Prize this week for his book The Emperor of All Maladies: A Biography of Cancer (Scribner). The citation for the book reads, "an elegant inquiry, at once clinical and personal, into the long history of an insidious disease that, despite treatment breakthroughs, still bedevils medical science." The book is a history of cancer and cancer treatments, a chronicle of MUKHERJEE's first year as an oncologist, and a look at the future of cancer treatment. MUKHERJEE is an assistant professor of medicine at Columbia University and a staff physician at Columbia University Medical Center. (REBROADCAST from 11/17/10) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Incendies by Quebec film director Denis
Villeneuve. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews what's new on HBO this weekend: the comedy special Talking Funny on Friday Night which features four comics sitting around talking; the made-for TV movie Cinema Verite on Saturday Night, which is a dramatic recreation of the making of the 1973 PBS documentary An American Family; and the second season of David Simon's Treme returns on Sunday night.

Interview with Amy Stewart; Interview with Dr. Emery Brown; Obituary for Hazel Dickens. April 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462117].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) AMY STEWART is the author of the new book Wicked Bugs: The Louse that Conquered Napoleon's Army and other Diabolical Insects. She writes about over 100 creepy crawlers such as Emerald Cockroach wasp, a wasp not a cockroach which injects the brains of cockroaches, makes them docile, and then the wasp lays their eggs inside the cockroach and the hatched larvae then devour their host. (YUCK!!!) Asian Giant Hornet which injects a potentially fatal neurotoxin on humans and animals but is even more deadly for honey bees, which it murders and then steals their honey. Other bugs STEWART writes about can change their gender, enslave other insects, and in large numbers can derail trains from their tracks. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) DR. EMERY BROWN is a professor of anesthesia at Harvard Medical School and a professor of Computational Neuroscience at MIT where he has done research into how anesthetic drugs act in the human brain. One thing they discovered is that patients under anesthetic have more in common with coma victims than with somebody sleeping. BROWN is also a practicing anesthesiologist at Massachusetts General Hospital. (3.) We remember folk singer HAZEL DICKENS; she died Friday in Washington at 75 from complications of pneumonia. DICKENS was a pioneer for women in bluegrass and became a feminist role model singing about the oppression of women in songs like 'Don't Put Her Down, You Helped Put Her There.' She also sang about the plight of coal miners in Kentucky. She grew up in a coal mining family in West Virginia, and her brother died of Black Lung. She was inducted into the International Bluegrass Music Association's Hall of Fame and in 2008 won a National Heritage Award from the National Endowment for the Arts. (REBROADCAST from 10/12/1987)
Interview with Diana Henriques; Review of Bombino's album "Agadez." April 26, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461842].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DIANA HENRIQUES is a senior financial writer for The New York Times. Her new book is about the Bernie Madoff scandal: The Wizard of Lies: Bernie Madoff and the Death of Trust (Times Books). She is also the author of two other books. And she received a George Polk Award for her 2004 series of articles exposing the exploitation of American military personnel by financial service companies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Agadez, the new album by singer and guitarist Bombino from Niger. Milo says he's an example of a player who "seems to plug in himself when he plugs in his guitar." Bombino is touring America this summer.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA (pronounced like "is") is The New Yorker's Washington correspondent. He covers the 2012 Presidential campaign and national politics. He writes about Obama's foreign policy in the current edition of the magazine. His article is The Consequentialist: How the Arab Spring remade Obama's foreign policy. Last month he traveled with Hilary Clinton to Cairo and Tunisia. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Hard Bargain the new album by Emmylou Harris. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS considers the legacy of writer David Foster Wallace. His unfinished novel The Pale King has just been released.
Interview with Diane Ravitch; Interview with Andrew Rotherham; Review of DVD boxset "The Complete Adventures of Rocky and Bullwinkle and Friends." April 28, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462116].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DIANE RAVITCH is former Assistant Secretary of Education from 1991 to 1993. She is currently Research Professor of Education at New York University and a senior fellow at the Brookings Institution. She is also author of the new book The Death and Life of the Great American School System: How Testing and Choice are Undermining Education (Perseus Books). She'll discuss how she came to change her mind about No Child Left Behind, school vouchers and school choice which she used to support.

(2.) ANDREW ROTHERHAM is co-founder of Bellwether Education, a non-profit working to improve educational outcomes for low-income students. He also writes the weekly School of Thought column for TIME.com as well as the blog Eduwonk.com. He has also founded or co-founded two other influential education reform organizations including Education Sector. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews a new DVD boxed set of The Complete Adventures of Rocky and Bullwinkle and Friends (from Classic Media presents).

Interview with James Farmer; Interview with Raymond Arsenault; Review of album "Roy Orbison April 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461838].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAMES FARMER, co-founder of CORE, the Congress On Racial Equality. He served as its National Director from 1961-1966. CORE was one of the civil rights groups of the 1960's that followed Gandhi's principles of non-violent resistance. CORE also helped organize the Freedom Rides -- multi-racial busloads of people traveling through the southern states making sure the Supreme Court's decisions on desegregation were being enforced. Next week (May 4th) marks the 50th anniversary of the Freedom Rides. FARMER's long life as an advocate of civil rights was detailed in his autobiography, "Lay Bare the Heart" (Dutton). Farmer died in 1999. (REBROADCAST from 1985). (2.) Historian RAYMOND ARSENAULT (ARE-sen-oh). He is the author of the book, 'Freedom Riders: 1961 and the Struggle for Racial Justice' (Oxford University Press). It's about the group of volunteers - blacks and whites, many of them college students - who boarded buses and headed for the Deep South to defy segregation. They were met with hatred and violence. The local police often refused to intervene. The Freedom Riders transformed the civil rights movement in the early 1960s. ARSENAULT is the John Hope Franklin Professor of Southern History and co-director of the Florida Studies Program at the University of South Florida. (REBROADCAST from 1/12/06) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews Roy Orbison: The Monument Singles Collection (Sony Legacy). It collects Orbison's 17 singles with the small Nashville label which put him and the label on the map. It covers the years 1959-1966.

Interview with Lawrence Wright; Interview with Jake Bernstein and Jesse Eisinger. May 2, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503687].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer LAWRENCE WRIGHT is a staff writer for The New Yorker. We'll talk with him about the death of Osama Bin Laden. WRIGHT won a Pulitzer Prize in 2007 for his book, The Looming Tower: Al-Qaeda and the Road to 9/11. (2.) Investigative reporters JAKE BERNSTEIN & JESSE EISINGER of Propublica just received the Pulitzer Prize for National Reporting for their Wall Street Money Machine series, which examined how some Wall Street bankers and hedge funds sought to enrich themselves at the expense of their clients and sometimes their own firms through sketchy transactions that ultimately worsened the financial crisis. One of the hedge funds they investigated (along with Chicago Public Radio's This American Life and NPR's Planet Money) was Magnetar which had helped create more than {dollar}40 billion worth of CDO's (bundles of mortgage securities called "collateralized debt obligations") with a variety of banks, and bet against many of those CDOs as part of a strategy to profit from the decline in the housing market. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Conductor and music director JAMES LEVINE ("vine"). He is celebrating 40 years with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. The Met has released two box sets of his live performances on CD and DVD; plus there's a new coffee-table book, James Levine: 40 Years at the Metropolitan Opera, and a new documentary that will be shown next month on PBS. LEVINE is also stepping down in September as conductor and musical director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra because of a long standing back problems. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews To End All Wars (Houghton Mifflin) a new history about the First World War by Adam Hochschild in which he uses eye-witness accounts and official correspondence to tell the story. Part of the story is that of the resisters to the war. In England 20,000 British men of military age refused the draft.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist, screenwriter and veteran newsman PETE HAMILL. His new book is the novel Tabloid City, set in the newsroom of a dying New York city tabloid. HAMILL is the author of over a dozen books including the bestselling novels Snow in August and Forever and the bestselling memoir A Drinking Life. HAMILL writes a column for the New York Daily News and lives in New York City. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Novelist STEWART O'NAN writes about the lives of ordinary run-of-the mill people. His new novel Emily Alone takes place nearly a decade after his previous novel Wish You Were Here, and continues the story of Emily Maxwell as she grows older. Fresh Air book critic Maureen Corrigan writes "With economy, wit and grace, O'Nan ushers us into the shrinking world of a pleasantly flawed, rather ordinary old woman and keeps us readers transfixed by the meaning that's to be uncovered in monotony." O'NAN has written twelve novels as well as the bestselling Faithful (with Stephen King).

(3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews three action movies made by Asian-born directors: Legend of the Fist by Hong Kong's Andrew Lau; 13 Assassins by Japan's Takashi Miike, and in wide release Fast Five, an American-made sequel to the Fast and the Furious by Taiwan's Justin Lin.

Review of the Beastie Boys' album "Hot Sauce Committee Part Two"; Interview with the Beastie Boys; Review of the film "The Beaver"; Obituary for Arthur Laurents. May 6, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461911].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Hot Sauce Committee Part Two, the new album by the Beastie Boys. (2.) THE BEASTIE BOYS: Mike D, MCA, and Ad-Rock. Their real names are Michael Diamond, Adam Yauch, and Adam Horovitz, respectively. They've been making music since the early 80s, and their catalog includes party songs like '(You Gotta) Fight For Your Right (to Party)' and 'Brass Monkey.' But in the 90s, still making hits like 'Sabotage,' the Beasties became politically active, with Yauch organizing the Tibetan Freedom Concert to raise awareness of human rights issues in Tibet. They've been vocal opponents of the War in Iraq as well. They have a new CD, Hot Sauce Committee Part Two, their first album since 2007. (REBROADCAST from 3/29/2006) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Beaver starring Mel Gibson (FYI: it includes a cameo by Terry Gross). (4.) We remember playwright, screenwriter and director ARTHUR LAURENTS who died yesterday at the age of 93. He's best known for writing the books for two landmark Broadway shows, Gypsy and West Side Story. He wrote the screenplay which became the basis for Alfred Hitchcock's film Rope. His novel The Way We Were and then his screenplay became the basis for the popular film of the same name.
Interview with Erik Larson; Commentary on the changing meaning of proverbs. May 9, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462266].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author ERIK LARSON. He is the author of three bestsellers including The Devil in the White City. His new book In the Garden of Beasts: Love, Terror, and an American Family in Hitler's Berlin is about America's first ambassador to Nazi Germany, William E. Dodd, who arrived in Berlin in 1933, with his family, including his daughter Martha, 24 years old who came to escape a dead marriage. Gradually Dodd and his daughter, who had numerous affairs with the city's elite including the first head of the Gestapo, the extent of Hitler's evil. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on proverbs and how their meaning can change with time and place.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer & songwriter ANNA MCGARRIGLE. It's been over a year since her sister, Kate McGarrigle died of sarcoma. A new CD set remasters two of their early albums: Tell My Sister (1976) and Dancer with Bruised Knees (1977), and contains Kate's unreleased demos. The new set is also titled Tell My Sister (released by Nonesuch). There's also a two night tribute to Kate McGarrigle at New York City's Town Hall on May 12th and 13th featuring Kate's children, Martha and Rufus Wainwright, Anna McGarrigle, Emmylou Harris, Norah Jones, and Teddy Thompson. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel Big Girl Small by Rachel DeWoskin, about the coming-of-age of a "sarcastic, smart, gutsy" 16 year old girl who is a dwarf attending a performing arts highschool.
Interview with Daniel Golden; Review of Iggy Pop's CD box set "Roadkill Rising." May 12, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462516].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist DANIEL GOLDEN, co-author of the series for Bloomberg news, Education Inc., about for-profit colleges that have racked in huge profits - at taxpayer expense - by targeting vulnerable populations with misleading promises of low costs, online academic help, and lucrative jobs after graduation. Most of these students drop out, or can't get a job, and can't repay their loans, but the colleges are off the hook because they've been paid by federally funded student loans. Federal aid to these colleges have increased sixfold in a decade. Corporations such as Goldman Sachs Group and Washington Post Co. own some of these colleges. (http://topics.bloomberg.com/bloomberg-investigation:-for--profit-colleges/ ) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic MILO MILES reviews a new boxed set of officially released live bootlegs by Iggy Pop, Roadkill Rising (on the Shout Factory label).

Interview with Gary Shteyngart; Review of the film "Bridesmaids"; Review of the CD box set "First Impulse May 13, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462296].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author GARY SHTEYNGART (SHTINE-gart). His book 'Super Sad True Love Story' is now out in paperback. It's set in a dystopic future New York City where corporations have merged beyond recognition, and the poor and disenfranchised have taken over Central Park, but nonetheless, love is in the air. Shteyngart was born in Leningrad and came to the U-S at age 7. His previous novels, Absurdistan and The Russian Deburante's Handbook, were bestsellers and won multiple awards. (REBROADCAST from 9/2/2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Bridesmaids the first female-centric comedy by Judd Apatow. (3.) jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews First Impulse: The Creed Taylor Collection, 50th Anniversary a new collection of recordings by the Impulse label from their early years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist WALT BOGDANICH ("bog-DAN-ich) of the New York Times. He has an ongoing series of articles about radiation treatment, and how hospitals are inadvertently over-radiating patients. Part of the problem is that many hospitals are using new technologies and operators are not being trained properly how to use them. Plus the licensing of technicians is ad hoc, each state has different requirements and standards, and often no agency to enforce them. BOGDANICH also reports that babies and children are being over-radiated, because of the lack of understanding about how radiation effects the young, and that there isn't proper oversight. http://topics.nytimes.com/top/reference/timestopics/people/b/walt_bogdanich/index.html (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews Neil Diamond: The Bang Years 1966-1968. The CD contains the 23 original versions of the songs Diamond recorded for Bang Records in 1966 and '67.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ANNIE JACOBSSEN is an investigative journalist and contributing editor at the Los Angeles Times. Her two-part series The Road to Area 51 was one of the most read in the Los Angeles Times Magazine. Her new book is Area 51: An Uncensored History of America's Top Secret Military Base. It's about the military site, seventy-five miles outside of Las Vegas in Nevada's desert that the U.S. government says does not exist. Several conspiracy theories surround it, about UFO's and a faked moonlanding. What really went on there was testing nuclear weapons and building super-secret supersonic jets. JACOBSSEN has interviewed the military men who worked there for decades, many of them 75-92 now, and had access to other intelligence personnel, scientists, engineers and pilots who also worked there. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Lester Brown; Interview with Michael Specter. May 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462389].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LESTER BROWN is president of the Earth Policy Institute. He writes about the new geopolitics of food, and how food, not oil, is becoming the hidden driver of world politics, in Foreign Policy magazine : http://www.foreignpolicy.com/articles/2011/04/25/the_new_geopolitics_of_foodBROWN is also the author of the book, World on the Edge: How to Prevent Environmental and Economic Collapse. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) MICHAEL SPECTER is a staff writer for The New Yorker where he writes about science, technology and public health. In the current edition of the magazine (May 23rd) he writes about efforts to grow meat in the lab: Test-tube Burgers: How Long will it be before you can eat meat that was made in a lab?

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATT STONE and TREY PARKER are co-creators of the popular satirical animated series SouthPark on Comedy Central who are known for sparking controversy by poking fun at just about everyone. STONE AND PARKER have teamed up with Robert Lopez, the composer of the hit Broadway musical Avenue Q, to write the new broadway musical The Book of Mormon. The show has become a hit, has been critically acclaimed, and apparently it hasn't been too offensive for many Mormons. It's been nominated for 14 Tony Awards. There's also a new cast recording on CD. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist S.C. GWYNNE. He's the author of the book Empire of the Summer Moon: Quannah Parker and the Rise and Fall of the Comanches, the Most Powerful Indian Tribe in American History
The Comanches were fierce and legendary for their fighting and riding abilities. They were expert horsemen. For four decades they held back development of the West, and forced the creation of the Texas Rangers. Their last chief, Quanah, was of mixed origin. His father was a Comanche chief, and his mother was a white woman who had been kidnapped by the tribe. S.C. GWYNNE was bureau chief, national correspondent, and senior editor for Time from 1988 to 2000. His previous book The Outlaw Bank is about rise and fall of the corrupt global bank BCCI. (REBROADCAST from 6/23/10) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Singer songwriter JIMMIE DALE GILMORE. He and his string band The Wranglers have a new album, Heirloom Music. Gilmore was born, raised and lives in Texas. In the early 1970's, Gilmore founded the band The Flatlanders with Joe Ely and Butch Hancock. The band released an album in 1973 but it did not sell well. Gilmore spent the rest of the decade living in an ashram in Denver, not performing. But his songs became well known through singer Joe Ely, and in 1988, Gilmore released his first solo album, 'Fair and Square.' For more information, visit http://www.jimmiedalegilmore.com (REBROADCAST from 3/9/11) (3.) TV critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Midnight in Paris, Woody Allen's new film starring Owen Wilson and Rachel McAdams.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JIMMY FALLON is a former cast member of Saturday Night Live (1998-2004) and the host of Late Night with Jimmy Fallon on NBC. He's become known for doing celebratory music sketches in the vein of the hit TV show Glee on the show and for his enthusiasm, goofy good natured humor, and lack of snarkiness. He's got a new book that collects the thank you notes segment from the show, Thank You Notes. (Hachette book group) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GRETCHEN MORGENSON is assistant business and financial editor and a columnist at the New York Times. She has covered the world financial markets for the Times since May 1998 and won the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for her "trenchant and incisive" coverage of Wall Street. Her new book (with Joshua Rosner) about the origins of the financial crisis is Reckless Endangerment: How Outsized Ambition, Greed and Corruption Led to Economic Armageddon. (Times Books) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Stone Rollin' the new album by Raphael Saadiq, one of the leading proponents of the "neo soul movement."

Interview with Bradley Cooper; Interview with John Powers. May 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462339].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BRADLEY COOPER. He co-starred in comedy The Hangover about four guys who wake up in a Las Vegas hotel after a bachelor party and can't remember what happened the night before. COOPER is also starring in the new film The Hangover II. He also starred recently in the film Limitless. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS has just returned from the Cannes film festival and talks about what he saw there.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN BRADSHAW is an anthrozoologist who studies human-animal interaction and author of the new book Dog Sense: How the New Science of Dog Behavior Can Make You a Better Friend to Your Pet (BasicBooks). He writes about scientific research which shows how humans can live in harmony with dogs, as opposed to having dominion over them. And he explains how positive reinforcement is a more effective (and less damaging) way to control dogs' behavior than punishment. BRADSHAW is the Waltham Director of the Anthrozoology Institute at the University of Bristol and founder of the Anthrozoology Institute at the University of Southampton. He lives in England. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the award winning debut novel The Sentimentalists by Johanna Skibsrud ('skib-srood').

Interview with John Waters; Review of Ambrose Akinmusire's album "When the Heart Emerges Glistening"; Review of the film "The Tree of Life." May 27, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461946].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Cult filmmaker JOHN WATERS. His book 'Role Models' is now out in paperback. It's a collection of essays about people who have inspired him. The essays include paeans to famous figures like Johnny Mathis and Little Richard, as well as Outsider Porn filmmakers and people he's met drinking in Baltimore bars. Waters has made many films since the 1970's including 'Pink Flamingos' and 'Hairspray.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/3/11. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews When The Heart Emerges Glistening, the new album from trumpet player Ambrose Akinmusire (ah-kin-MOO-sir-ee). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Tree of Life from director Terrence Malick, starring Brad Pitt and Jessica Chastain.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Guitarist KEITH RICHARDS of the Rolling Stones. He's 67 years old now. His autobiography, Life is now out in paperback. With his songwriting partner Mick Jagger, Keith Richards created some of the most iconic rock 'n' roll songs of the 20th century. Life won two prizes at the 2011 Audio Publishers Association Awards (also known as the Audies): audio book of the year and best biography/memoir.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neuroscientist and writer DAVID EAGLEMAN. His new book is Incognito: The Secret Lives of The Brain. Eagleman looks at the relationship between the conscious and the subconscious to try to solve some human mysteries. Eagleman is a neuroscientist at Baylor college of Medicine, where he directs the Laboratory for Perception and Action. His books include Sum and Wednesday is Indigo Blue. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new DVD release of HBO's True Blood, and has some thoughts on the pop-culture obsessions with monsters. True Blood also begins a new season June 26.

Interview with Liz Garbus and Anthony Saidy; Review of the anthology of Ellen Willis's essays "Out of the vinyl deeps." June 1, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462515].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Documentary film maker LIZ GARBUS, and former chess champion ANTHONY SAIDY. GARBUS' new film is Bobby Fischer Against the World, about the former self-taught chess genius Bobby Fischer who became world champion by defeating Russian Boris Spassky in a historic series of matches in 1972 in Iceland. ANTHONY SAIDY is a childhood friend of Fischer's and he appears in the documentary. Bobby Fischer went from chess champ to eccentric recluse, made anti-Semitic statements, became a fugitive from the U.S. on charges of violating a trade embargo. And later he praised the attacks on the World Trade Center. Fischer died in 2008 at the age of 64. Bobby Fischer Against the World premieres on HBO on June 6th. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO 2nd HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER remembers Ellen Willis ? she was the first pop music critic for the New Yorker in 1968. There's a new anthology of her essays called 'Out of the Vinyl Deeps,' edited by her daughter.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director and writer MIKE MILLS. His new film Beginners is based on his own life. It stars Ewan McGregor as a graphic artist whose 75 year old father, played by Christopher Plummer, has just come out after the death of his longtime wife, and wants to experience the gay life he denied himself when he was married. MILLS made his feature film debut with the film Thumbsucker, based on a novel by Walter Kirn. Before that MILLS, made commercials for Levis, Gap, Volkswagen, Mastercard and Nike. And he produced music videos for the bands Everything But the Girl, Moby, and Yoko Ono. He also created graphics for the clothing label X-Girl and the bands Sonic Youth and the Beastie Boys. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Avenging Angel (ECM label) the first solo recording by pianist Craig Taborn. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has her summer reading list, all books of history: The Greater Journey: Americans in Paris by David McCullough, The Final Storm: A Novel of the War in the Pacific by Jeff Shaara, and Nothing Daunted: The Unexpected Education of Two Society Girls in the West by Dorothy Wickenden.

Interview with Maziar Bahari; Review of the film "Beginners." June 3, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462484].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and filmmaker MAZIAR BAHARI (MAH-zeer ba-HAR-ee). After a decade as Newsweek magazine's Iran correspondent, he was arrested in 2009 in the aftermath of the contested re-election of Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad. BAHARI was held for 118 days, interrogated and tortured, and released due to international pressure. While in prison, he was grilled about his associations with Western journalists including Jason Jones of The Daily Show with John Stewart. He's just written a new memoir about his imprisonment, Then They Came for Me: A Family's Story of Love, Captivity, and Survival. (Random House). BAHARI is also a documentary film maker. His film Along Came a Spider, about a serial killer who was murdering prostitutes in the holy city of Mashhad, was the first Iranian documentary to be aired on HBO. BAHARI was born in Tehran, but moved to Canada to study film and political Interview with Sugar Ray Leonard; Interview with members of the rock band Los Straitjackets. June 6, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462486].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former boxing champ SUGAR RAY LEONARD. He was an Olympic gold medalist in boxing, and won several world titles before retiring for good in 1997. He was also inducted into the International Boxing Hall of Fame. He's written a new autobiography in which he reveals that he was sexually abused at the age of 15 by a "prominent Olympic boxing coach." LEONARD's new book is The Big Fight: My Life In and Out of the Ring. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We replay a concert and conversation with the indie rock band LOS STRAITJACKETS from 2007. The band's founder and guitar player DANNY AMIS is battling bone marrow cancer, has had a stem cell transplant, and is now in recovery. A series of benefit concerts will take place this summer. The concert we are replaying was recorded after the release of their CD called Rock En Espanol, Vol. 1, featuring vocals by Big Sandy and Little Willie G. The album contains Spanish language versions of rock and roll hits from the 1960s. Tracks include De Dia Y De Noche (All Day and All Night), popularized by the Kinks, La Hiedra Venenosa (Poison Ivy), made famous by the Coasters, and many more. The band performs wearing Mexican wrestling masks. Other band members include: guitarist EDDIE ANGEL, and guest vocalist ROBERT 'BIG SANDY' WILLIAMS. (REBROADCAST from 6/11/07)

Interview with Keith Olbermann; Review of an old Elvis Presley album "Elvis is back!" June 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462245].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KEITH OLBERMANN. In January he abruptly resigned from his MSNBC show Countdown. Two months earlier he had been suspended for two days for violating company rules by making {dollar}7,2000 in campaign contributions. OLBERMANN returns to broadcasting June 20th with a new version of Interview with Seth Fletcher; Review of Brad Paisley's album "This is country music." June 8, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462442].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Seth Fletcher is senior editor at Popular Science magazine. He writes about lithium, which has become ubiquitous in computers, iPods, eReaders and smart phones. It's being considered as an energy source for cars, because of it's lightness, ability to store energy, and abundance. Fletcher's new book is Bottled Lightning: Superbatteries, Electric Cars and the New Lithium Economy (Hill & Wang) (Dave Davies interview).

2. Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews This Is Country Music the new album by country music singer Brad Paisley.

Interview with Steve Coogan; Interview with Rick Harrison. June 9, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462480].

Description of show segment(s)

1. British comic and actor Steve Coogan. He's currently co-starring in the new road trip film The Trip with Rob Brydon, directed by Michael Winterbottom. The three worked together previously on the film Tristam Shandy: A cock and bull story. Coogan is best known for his character Alan Partridge, a socially awkward, politically incorrect regional media personality. Coogan starred as Partridge in several BBC comedy series. (Dave Davies interview).

2. Rick Harrison owns the Gold & Silver Pawn Shop in Las Vegas and he can be seen on the History channel's hit show Pawn Stars. He's written a new book License to Pawn: Deals, Steals, and My Life at the Gold & Silver (Hyperion). (Dave Davies interview).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer DANIEL OKRENT (OAK-rent). His book Last Call: The Rise and Fall of Prohibition is now out in paperback (Scribner). It's about the factors that led to the creation of prohibition laws, and the eventual demise of the movement. Okrent's previous books are Public Editor #1, about Okrent's job as the New York Times' first public editor, Great Fortune, about the Rockefeller Center, and 9 Innings: The Anatomy of a Baseball Game. (REBROADCAST from 5/10/2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the Super 8, the new film by JJ Abrams.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director and writer J.J. Abrams talks about his new thriller Super 8. A group of kids making an amateur film happen to capture footage of a mysterious train wreck. Abrams tells us that his own childhood filmmaking obsession served as inspiration for the movie. Abrams co-created the hit TV series Lost, Fringe, Felicity and Alias, and on the big screen, directed Mission Impossible 3 and the soon to be released Star Trek sequel. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A Wild Surge of Guilty Passion by Ron Hansen.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN COLBERT, host of The Colbert Report. He appeared on Sunday night's Tony Awards, performing in a chorus line behind Neal Patrick Harris as part of Stephen Sondheim's hit Broadway show Company. Colbert was live on stage with Company, which has been made into a feature length film with a limited run this week in theaters nationwide and Canada. For more information on The Colbert Report, which airs nightly on Comedy Central: http://www.colbertnation.com/home. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews The Trip, starring Steve Coogan and Rob Brydon, and uses the film as a starting point to consider the staying power of today's movie stars.

Interview with Dr. David Ansell; Interview with Michael Barson; Review of two films on opera "Senso" and "Two sisters from Boston." June 15, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462035].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DOCTOR DAVID ANSELL, MD, MPH. His new memoir is called COUNTY: Life, Death and Politics at Chicago's Public Hospital. It's the story of American medical care as seen from the perspective of an inner city Chicago hospital. Ansell's experiences treating patients at Chicago's public Cook County Hospital make a strong case for national health care reform. Ansell is currently Chief Medical Officer and a practicing internist at Rush University Medical Center in Chicago. (2.) MICHAEL BARSON, author of Agonizing Love: The Golden Era of Romance comics. His new coffee table book is an anthology of 1940s and 1940s comics with titles like Stories of Romance, Boy Loves girl, The Personal Problem and Bride's Secrets. Barson's previous books on popular culture include Lost, Lonely & Vicious, Born to be Bad and Teenage Confidential. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ looks at Visconti's Senso and Two Sisters From Boston, two films recently released on DVD that have one thing in common: opera.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Political scientist and attorney ROBERT MALLEY. He's the program director for the Middle East and North Africa at the International Crisis Group, and is considered an expert on the Israeli-Palestinian conflict. He'll talk about the effect and future of democracy movements sweeping across the Middle East. Dramatic changes in Egypt, Tunisia, Libya and Syria have not yet come to Palestinians on the West Bank. If and when that does occur, Malley says it could be a game changer for Israel and the United States.
Malley was a Special Assistant to President Bill Clinton for Arab-Israeli Affairs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

---

Interview with Nick Cave; Review of the documentary, "Buck Brannaman." June 17, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462032].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Australian Singer NICK CAVE. Four of his albums with The Bad Seeds have been remastered and reissued as 2 disc collector's sets: Let Love In, Murder Ballads, The Boatman's Call and No More Shall We Part. These are their eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh studio albums, and the series is part of a larger effort to re-release the band's entire catalog remixed for 5.1 Surround Sound. Cave and The Bad Seeds are best known for angry, twisted ballad-like lyrics. Also, CAVE composed the soundtrack for The Road, The Assassination of Jesse James by the Coward Robert Ford, and wrote the screenplay and soundtrack for the film 'The Proposition.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 4/28/08. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Buck, a feature documentary about horse whisperer Buck Brannaman. The film won the Audience Award at the 2011 Sundance Festival.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author JIM SHEPARD. His new collection of short stories is called You Think That's Bad. It's filled with tales of rock bands, horror films and even a secret gay romance aboard the doomed final voyage of the Hindenburg. Shepard published his first book, Flights, in 1983, and has written ten books in total: six novels and four short story collections. He teaches film and writing at Williams College. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the novel State of Wonder by Ann Patchett. (3.) Classical

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Marine JESS GOODELL. Her new book is Shade it Black: Death And After in Iraq (with John Hearn). It's an account of Goodell's time serving on the Marine Corps' first officially declared Mortuary Affairs Unit in Iraq. Goodell talks about taking on the task of recovering and processing the remains of fallen soldiers. Goodell, who has concluded her enlistment in the Marines, will be attending graduate school in the fall of 2011. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)

Interview with Chris Weitz; Interview with Christoph Niemann. June 22, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462228].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director and producer Chris Weitz. His new film is A Better Life, about an illegal Mexican immigrant who wants to provide for his family, despite enormous difficulties. Chris Weitz also directed New Moon, part of the Twilight series, About a Boy, the film adaptation of Nick Hornby's best selling novel, American Pie and The Golden Compass. Weitz's grandmother was Lupita Tovar, a famous Mexican actress, and his mother was Susan Kohner, known best for her portrayal as a biracial child in Douglas Sirk's Imitation of Life. His dad is John Weitz, a German fashion designer. (2.) Illustrator CHRISTOPH NIEMANN. His work appears in magazines and he also writes and illustrates children's books. His latest is That's How. It's his seventh title. Niemann, who was born in Germany and lives in Brooklyn, has won awards from the AIGA, the SPD, the ADC, and American Illustration, among others. He's a regular contributor to the New Yorker, Wired and The New York Times.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neuroscientist DAVID J. LINDEN. His new book is The Compass of Pleasure: How Our Brains Make Fatty Foods, Orgasm, Exercise, Marijuana, Generosity, Vodka, Learning and Gambling Feel so Good. Linden is a professor of Neuroscience at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. He's also the author of The Accidental Mind, and he's editor in chief of The Journal of Neurophysiology. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The King of In Between from Garland Jeffreys, who returns to recording after a 13 year hiatus.

Interview with Robert Wittman; Interview with Javier Bardem; Review of the film "Bad Teacher." June 24, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462250].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former FBI agent ROBERT WITTMAN. He founded the FBI's Art Crime Team and spent twenty years chasing art thieves and recovering stolen art and antiques, often going undercover. His book (co-written with John Shiffman, investigative reporter for The Philadelphia Inquirer) is Priceless: How I Went Undercover to Rescue the World's Stolen Treasures. It's now out in paperback. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES. REBROADCAST: ORIGINAL AIRDATE 7/12/11.) (2.) Actor JAVIER BARDEM (Hahv-EE-rr Bar-DEM) is from a family of actors in Spain. He was nominated for his third Academy Award for his performance in the 2010 film Biutiful, by Mexican director Alejandro Gonzalez Inarritu. It's now out on DVD. Bardem got his start in Spanish TV and cinema. His breakthrough role was in the 2000 film Before Night Falls about persecuted Cuban writer Reynaldo Arenas and was nominated for an Academy award for his performance. And he won the Academy Award for his role in the Coen Brothers' 2007 film No Country For Old Men, playing a psychopathic killer. He also co-starred in the Woody Allen film Vicky Cristina Barcelona. BARDEM won the Goya, considered the Spanish Oscars, four times. Two of them were for The Sea Inside (2005) and Mondays in the Sun (2003). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES. REBROADCAST: ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/3/11) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Bad Teacher, starring Jason Segel and Cameron Diaz.
Obituary for Peter Falk; Interview with Martha Woodall. June 27, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885342].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember actor PETER FALK (like "talk"). He died Thursday at the age of 83. He had been treated for Alzheimer's. He is best known for his role as a rumpled L.A. detective in the TV series Columbo, for which he garnered three Emmy awards. He was nominated for two Oscars and appeared in stage productions by Paddy Chayefsky, Neil Simon and Arthur Miller. He also collaborated with his friend John Cassavetes on a number of films. His other films include Murder by Death, The In-Laws, The Princess Bride, and Tune in Tomorrow. (REBROADCAST from 3/15/95). (2.) Journalist MARTHA WOODALL. She covers education for the Philadelphia Inquirer, and will talk about recent investigations into the city's charter schools, which have proliferated in the past decade, offering an alternative to public school education. The IRS recently opened a detailed audit of The School District of Philadelphia.

Interview with Barry Estabrook; Review of the album "Rave on, Buddy Holly." June 28, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462052].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BARRY ESTABROOK. His new book is Tomatoland: How Modern Industrial Agriculture Destroyed Our Most Alluring Fruit. He looks at the life and travels of today's mass-produced tomato, and the environmental and human cost of the fresh tomato industry. Tomatoland was originally an article that won a James Beard Award and appeared in the now defunct Gourmet Magazine, where Estabrook was a contributing editor. He's now a freelance food writer whose work appears in The Atlantic, The New York Times, The Washington Post, and other publications and websites. His own website is http://politicsoftheplate.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE NEXT HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Rave on Buddy Holly a new tribute album which features Lou Reed, Paul McCartney, Cee Lo Green, My Morning Jacket and others covering Buddy Holly songs. Holly died in a 1959 plane crash at the age of 22. He would have turned 75 in September.
Interview with Noah Shachtman; Interview with Nick Paumgarten; Review of "Thelonious Monk
June 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885483].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NOAH SHACHTMAN is editor and writer of the national security blog, Danger Room, and a contributing editor at Wired magazine. He writes about new weapons and new strategies in national security. His articles have appeared in The New York Times Magazine, Slate, Salon, Popular Science, Foreign Policy, and The American Prospect Online. He is also a nonresident fellow at the Brookings Institution. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) NICK PAUMGARTEN is a staff writer for The New Yorker. In the July 4th issue of the magazine he writes about online dating. The sites rely on algorithms, those mathematical equations and processes which make it possible to perform computational feats to determine who would be your match. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the newly remastered Thelonious Monk: Thelonious Alone in San Francisco (on the Original Jazz Classics label), first released in 1959.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FAREED ZAKARIA (Fah-REED Zah-CAR-e-ah), host of CNN's foreign affairs show GPS, editor at large for Time Magazine, and a columnist for The Washington Post. He's revised and expanded his book The Post American World, about America's loss of dominance, and the rise of the rest of the world. He was described in 1999 by Esquire Magazine as 'the most influential foreign policy adviser of his generation.' In 2010, Foreign Policy named him one of the top 100 global thinkers. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.)
Interview with Paul Greenberg; Interview with Linda Greenlaw; Review of films "Transformers July 1, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462034].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PAUL GREENBERG, author of Four Fish: The Future of the Last Wild Food. The book is now out in paperback. Almost half of the fish we eat has been raised on a farm. The wild Atlantic salmon is commercially extinct. Genetic modification is on the increase. Greenberg investigates the contemporary world of global aquaculture. Greenberg writes about seafood for the New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/19/10). (2.) LINDA GREENLAW is the nation's only female captain of a swordfish boat who first wrote about swordfishing in the 1999 bestselling book Hungry Ocean. Her newest book, Seaworthy: A Swordboat Captain Returns to the Sea, is now out in paperback. Her boat then, the Hannah Boden, was the sister ship to the doomed Andrea Gail, which disappeared in an epic 1991 storm and whose story was told in the book The Perfect Storm. GREENLAW was the last person to hear from the crew. She returned to fishing swordfish in 2009 after ten years away. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/8/10) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two summer blockbusters opening this weekend. 'Transformers: Dark of the Moon' stars Shia LaBeouf, and 'Larry Crowne' stars Tom Hanks and Julia Roberts.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music singer and songwriter RODNEY CROWELL joins us in the studio with his guitar. His new memoir Chinaberry Sidewalks is about growing up poor in Houston, Texas and about his parents who both came from violent sharecropper families. A lot of the material on CROWELL's new album Sex & Gasoline relates to his memoir. The album was produced by Joe Henry, and has been nominated for a Grammy. And he brings his guitar to the studio to play some of those songs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/9/11)). (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews the new three DVD set,
The Making of the President: The 1960s. The collection contains three television documentaries from that time based on a series of books by Theodore H. White.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and music consultant HOLLY GEORGE-WARREN talks about Gene Autry's impact on country music and Hollywood. Turner Classic Movies is paying tribute to singing cowboys this month. On Friday July 9, they'll show 5 Gene Autry films. The Encore Western Channel shows Autry films every Sunday. GEORGE-WARREN's books include Public Cowboy No. 1: The Life and Times of Gene Autry; The Rock and Roll Hall of Fame: The First 25 Years; Punk 365; Grateful Dead 365 and many other books which she authored or contributed to. She is an Adjunct Professor of Journalism at SUNY-New Paltz in New York. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Better Day, the new album by country-music's Dolly Parton. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Story of Charlotte's Web: E.B. White's Eccentric Life in Nature and the Birth of an American Classic by Michael Sims.

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Jose Antonio Vargas; Interview with Mark krikorian; Review of film "Project Nim." July 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462087].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOSE ANTONIO VARGAS is a journalist formerly with The Washington Post, and before that the San Francisco Chronicle. Recently he revealed that he is an undocumented immigrant. When he was 12 his mother sent him from the Philippines to the U.S. to live with his grandparents. He just founded the group Define American, which supports immigration reform. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) MARK KRIKORIAN is an Armenian-American and executive director of the Center for Immigration Studies, a think-tank in Washington D.C. that promotes stricter immigration control and enforcement. One of his arguments is that mass immigration no longer serves our national interests, that today it weakens our common national identity, limits opportunities for upward mobility, and threatens our security and sovereignty. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary Project Nim.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian LOUIS C.K. His TV show, Louie, on the FX network has just begun season two. Season one is now available on DVD. In it he plays a comic and divorced father, like he is in real life. Born Louis Szekely (pronounced C-K), he got his start in TV writing for late night, including David Letterman, Conan O'Brien and Chris Rock. He's co-written several of Rock's films. CK has also done stand-up for many years, and previously, he had an HBO series called Lucky Louie. He has his own YouTube channel, which can be seen here: http://www.youtube.com/louisck (REBROADCAST from 7/7/10. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two shows that begin this weekend: the new incarnation of Torchwood on Starz, and Larry David's Curb Your Enthusiasm, which starts its 8th season on HBO.

---

Interview with Sally Jacobs; Review of Beyonce's album "4." July 11, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462175].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Journalist SALLY JACOBS has written a biography called The Other Barack: The Bold and Reckless Life of President Obama's Father. It's an in depth look at Barack Obama Senior -- she describes him as a brilliant but troubled man, a charismatic womanizer who was insecure, grandiose and irresponsible. Jacobs is an award winning reporter for The Boston Globe. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)
2. Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews "4" the new album by Beyonce.

---

Description of show segment(s)

1. DR. PAUL FARMER is a physician and anthropologist with 30 years of experience working with the poor in Haiti, Russia, Rwanda and elsewhere. He is co-founder of Partners in Health. And he has written extensively on health and human rights and the consequences of social inequality. FARMER is UN Deputy Special Envoy for Haiti, under Special Envoy Bill Clinton. His new book is Haiti: after the earthquake (Publicaffairs books). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)
2. Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Complete Atlantic Studio Recordings of The Modern Jazz Quartet 1956-64 (on Mosaic).
3. TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new summer season on cable, including season premieres of Rescue Me, Breaking Bad, and Damages.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LOUISE STORY is a business reporter for The New York Times who writes about Wall Street and finance. She's been one of the lead reporters chronicling the financial crisis, the government bailout of the banks, and the backlash. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember SHERWOOD SCHWARTZ, creator of the popular TV shows Gilligan's Island, and The Brady Bunch. He also wrote the theme songs. SCHWARTZ died yesterday in Los Angeles. He was 94. We listen back to an excerpt of our 1988 with him (8/26/88).

Interview with Dean Buonomano; Interview with Brian X. Chen; Review of Alice LaPlante's novel "Turn of Mind." July 14, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462066].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neuroscientist DEAN BUONOMANO (Bwon-oh-MAHN-oh) is the author of the book Brain Bugs: How the Brain's Flaws Shape Our Lives (W.W. Norton). He is a professor in the Departments of Neurobiology and Psychology and the Brain Research Institute at UCLA. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) BRIAN X. CHEN currently writes for Wired.com, where he writes a regular column. He is author of the new book, Always On: How the iPhone Unlocked the Anything-Anytime-Anywhere Future--and Locked Us In. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Turn of Mind (Atlantic Monthly Press) the debut novel, a "literary thriller" by Alice LaPlante.
Interview with Kyle Chandler; Interview with Peter Berg; Interview with Connie Britton; Review of film "Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows July 15, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462161].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor KYLE CHANDLER. For five seasons he's played Coach Eric Taylor on the critically acclaimed TV show Friday Night Lights, about highschool football in a small town in Texas. The show ends it's run tomorrow night on NBC. CHANDLER's big screen credits include King Kong, and Mulholland Falls. (DAVID BIANCULLI interview.) (REBROADCAST from 4/21/08) (2.) PETER BERG. He's executive producer of Friday Night Lights on NBC. He co-wrote and directed the 2004 film Friday Night Lights. Both the TV series and the film are adapted from H.G. Bissinger's book about the high-stakes world of Texas High School Football. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (REBROADCAST FROM 4/11/07) (3.) Actress CONNIE BRITTON. She plays Tami Taylor, the wife of coach Taylor, and a highschool guidance counselor on Friday Night Lights. She also played the coach's wife in the film version. BRITTON also had a recurring role on Michael J. Fox's Spin City. (REBROADCAST from 6/23/10) (DAVID BIANCULLI INTERVIEW) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the final Harry Potter film, Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 2.

Interview with Gillian Welch and David Rawlings. July 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462063].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A concert and conversation with singer/songwriter GILLIAN (like "Gill") WELCH and guitarist DAVID RAWLINGS. The two have recorded albums together and solo. They met as music students at Berklee College of Music in Boston. They made their debut with the 1996 album Revival. Their latest album, eight years in the making is The Harrow & The Harvest. Their other albums include Hell Among the Yearlings (1998), Time (the Revelator) (2001) and Soul Journey (2003). For those unfamiliar with their music, Gillian sang I'll Fly Away, with Alison Krauss on the O Brother Where Art Thou soundtrack. One reviewer says of the new album: "The Harrow & the Harvest is stunning in its freshness, its imagery and melody, Rawlings' playing. Even after four albums of old-sounding songs, Welch can still make old sound new." [INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW]
Interview with Joby Warwick; Commentary on the word "compromise" and it's use in politics. July 19, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462163].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Washington Post reporter JOBY WARRICK (JOE-bee WAR-ick). His new book 'Triple Agent,' tells the story of Humam al-Balawi (HOO-mom al buh-LAH-wee), an Al Qaeda operative acting as an informant for the CIA, but who was actually working with Al Qaeda against the CIA. In late 2009, al-Balawi was able to gain access to a fortified military base and detonate a suicide bomb, killing nine CIA agents. WARRICK currently covers the intelligence community previously spent eight years on an investigative unit specializing in WMD proliferation and weapons trafficking.(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) [INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW] (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the word 'Compromise,' and its use (and absence) in the current debt ceiling debate.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAMES MARSH, director of the new documentary Project Nim. The film follows the life of the chimpanzee Nim Chimpsky, who was the subject of a bizarre and controversial experiment in the mid 70's. A Columbia University professor, Herb Terrace, wanted to prove that a chimp could learn language. He designed an experiment wherein a chimp, Nim, would be raised like a human child in a human family and taught American Sign Language. Neither Terrace nor the family raising Nim, were prepared for Nim's emerging animalistic behavior as he matured. Nim was removed from his human family surroundings and was moved from facility to facility until finally being placed in an animal sanctuary. JAMES MARSH won an Academy Award for best documentary feature for his film Man on a Wire in 2008. (2.) JENNY LEE, one of the subjects interviewed for James Marsh's film Project Nim. LEE was 13 when her mother, a graduate student, brought the infant Nim Chimpsky home with her, to live with their family in their Upper West Side brownstone in Manhattan. (3.) BOB INGERSOLL, another subject interviewed for James Marsh's film Project Nim. INGERSOLL worked with Nim at the Institute for Primate Studies in Norman, Oklahoma after Nim was removed from his human habitat. INGERSOLL considered NIM to be one of his best friends. When the Institute lost funding, Nim was sold to a laboratory for medical testing, but was rescued and sent to an animal sanctuary thanks largely to INGERSOLL.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JOHN NICHOLS talks about his recent reporting on The American Legislative Exchange Council, or ALEC. NICHOLS says the group, made of politicians and corporations alike, is at the forefront of an effort to push business-friendly, conservative legislation at the state level. Leaked documents from ALEC show model legislation reflecting long terms goals of 'downsizing government, removing regulations on corporations and making it harder to hold the economically and politically powerful to account.' NICHOLS is the Washington correspondent for The Nation, and a contributing writer for The Progressive, and In These Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) ALEC member and Louisiana State Representative NOBLE ELLINGTON responds to reports surfacing about ALEC.

---

Interview with Mark Moffett; Commentary on the Ace record labels; Review of film "Captain America." July 22, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462293].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Explorer, photographer and ant expert MARK MOFFETT. He's been dubbed "the Indiana Jones of entomology." He studied under the renowned biologist E.O. Wilson, and completed his 1989 Ph.D. thesis on marauder ants. He also taught himself macro photography to document his research on ants. His new book is Adventures among Ants: A Global Safari with a Cast of Trillions (U. of California Press). His previous book is The High Frontier: Exploring the Tropical Rainforest Canopy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST 6/17/2011) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us about the Ace record label based in Jackson, Mississippi which recorded many New Orleans musicians in the late 1950s. Their roster included
Ray Charles, Allen Toussaint and Mac Rebennack as young session musicians. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Captain America.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Research scientist and correspondent HEIDI CULLEN of Climate Central, an independent, non-profit journalism and research organization on climate change. She served as The Weather Channel's first on-air climate expert, and is a member of the NOAA Science Advisory Board. She is also author of the book The Weather of the Future (2010). The website for Climate Central is: http://www.climatecentral.org/ (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Stone Arabia (Scribner) the new novel by Dana Spiotta. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Red River Blue the new album by country music singer Blake Shelton who many people know now as one of the judges on the hit TV show The Voice.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress KRISTIN SCOTT THOMAS. In her new film 'Sarah's Key,' SCOTT plays a journalist investigating the French mass roundup of Jews in Nazi occupied France. SCOTT is best known for her roles in the films 'Bitter Moon,' 'Four Weddings and a Funeral,' and 'The English Patient.' (2.) Novelist DONALD RAY POLLOCK. POLLOCK'S new book 'The Devil All the Time,' follows a religious man named Willard who tries to cure his cancer-ridden wife with blood sacrifices, a pair of serial killers, a preacher and his sidekick running from the law, and Willard's son Arvin who grows up with his father's violent tendencies. POLLOCK's first book 'Knockemstiff,' won the 2009 PEN/Robert Bingham Fellowship.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) HENRY LOUIS GATES is Director of the W.E.B. Du Bois Institute for African and African American Research at Harvard University where he also teaches. He's written many books. And he wrote and produced the PBS documentaries African American Lives which used genealogy and DNA to trace African American descent. His latest book and PBS special is Black in Latin America about the millions of Africans who were sent to the Caribbean and Latin America in the Middle Passage. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Irish actor BRENDAN GLEESON. His films include Braveheart, I Went Down, In Bruges, The General, and the Harry Potter films. He played Michael Collins in The Treaty, and won an Emmy for his portrayal of Winston Churchill in the film Into the Storm. In the new film The Guard he co-stars with Don Cheadle, and plays an eccentric cop battling drug dealers in the west of Ireland. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) C.J. CHIVERS (pronounced like 'rivers') has been covering the fighting in Libya for the New York Times and contributes to their blog At War: Notes from the Front Line. In 2009 he shared the Pulitzer Prize for covering the combat in Afghanistan for the Times. He is also the author of the book The Gun, which tells the story of the AK-47 assault rifle. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)
Interview with Melissa Febos; Obituary for Fran Landesman; Review of films "Cowboys & Aliens" and "Attack the Block." July 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461721].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MELISSA FEBOS teaches at SUNY Purchase College and the Gotham Writers' Workshop. Her memoir about her former life as a professional dominatrix is 'Whip Smart' (now in paperback). She writes, 'At twenty-one, I still knew how to be good; I was a college senior with a 3.9 GPA, a prestigious internship?and a new secret life as a professional dominatrix. I was also addicted to drugs, although the craving for that kind of high would prove less tenacious than what I found at the upscale S&M house where I spent the next four years.' (REBROADCAST FROM 3/8/2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) We remember lyricist FRAN LANDESMAN. She died July 23rd at the age of 83. LANDESMAN was best-known for the songs she co-wrote with composer Tommy Wolf: Ballad of the Sad Young Men (recorded by Gil Evans, Keith Jarrett, Roberta Flack and Ricki Lee Jones) and Spring Can Really Hang You Up the Most (recorded by Ella Fitzgerald, Sara Vaughan, Carmen McCrae, Stan Getz and others). (REBROADCAST from 10/18/88) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Cowboys & Aliens and another alien film from Britain called Attack the Block.

Interview with Steve James and Ameena Matthews; August 1, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462297].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Documentary film maker STEVE JAMES, and former gang member AMEENA MATTHEWS. JAMES directed and MATTHEWS appears in the new film The Interrupters about three former gang members who are now part of an effort in Chicago to stop the cycle of violence. They are part of a program known as CeaseFire, the brainchild of epidemiologist Gary Slutkin who after ten years of battling the spread of chlorea and AIDS in Africa, came to see that the spread of violence mimics that of infectious diseases. The film follows three "violence interrupters" who are all former gang members as they defuse and mediate altercations on the street. JAMES also made the documentary Hoop Dreams about two young men in Chicago hoping to use basketball as a ticket out of poverty and urban violence. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Peter Bergen; Review of Lorraine Hunt Lieberson's albums "Les Nuits d'ete" and "Lorraine Hunt Lieberson August 2, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462183].

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT DRAPER is a contributing writer to the New York Times magazine where he recently profiled the house Majority whip in the article How Kevin McCarthy Wrangles the Tea party in Washington. He's been covering the debt ceiling debate, and is writing an upcoming book about the House of Representatives. DRAPER also is the author of the 2007 book Dead Certain: The Presidency of George W. Bush. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actor ANDY SERKIS (SIR-kis). He's best known for playing computer generated roles, using a technique known as "performance capture" in which cameras capture his body movements and facial expressions. He was Gollum in The Lord of the Rings film trilogy, and King Kong in the 2005 remake. He now plays another such role as a chimp in the new film Rise of the Planet of the Apes. He also was in the films Sex & Drugs & Rock & Roll, 13 Going on 30, and Topsy-Turvy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film historian RUDY BEHLMER on the making of "King Kong." The original movie soundtrack for the 1933 classic film was reissued on CD. (Rhino) The film was directed by documentarians Merian C. Cooper and Ernest Schoedsack who also worked together on the groundbreaking documentaries, "Grass" and "Chang." The score was by Max Steiner. BEHLMER wrote the liner notes for the CD. He's also the author of "Behind the Scenes." (REBROADCAST from 12/13/99) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Sky Full of Holes the new album by Fountains of Wayne, their first since 2007.

Interview with Jonathan Eig; Review of DVD releases of the films "Naughty Marietta" and "Sweethearts." August 5, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462390].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN EIG ('EYEG') is the author of the book Get Capone: The Secret Plot that Captured America's Most Wanted Gangster (now out in paperback). EIG writes about a Capone who was an immigrant's son, and a product of his time and of prohibition. He came to prominence in the 1920s in Chicago during prohibition, heading a crime syndicate that dealt in bootleg alcohol, racketeering, drugs, and prostitution. He bribed officials, talked openly to the press about his activities, refused to keep paper records of his business (estimated at {dollar}95 million a year), cared about his public image, wore the finest clothes, was loyal to his associates and devoted to his family, and says, EIG, was not a psychopath. The government wasn't able to charge him on more serious charges, but convicted him of tax evasion in 1931. He was sentenced to eleven years in prison. EIG had access to previously unreleased IRS files on Capone, as well as notes he discovered for a ghostwritten Capone autobiography. EIG is also the author of books about Lou Gehrig and Jackie Robinson. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (REBROADCAST from 8/9/10) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews new DVDs of operettas by the 1930s Hollywood musical team of Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy. They are Naughty Marietta and Sweethearts both by Victor Herbert (on the Warner label).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHARLES C. MANN is a correspondent for The Atlantic, Science, and Wired. His new book 1493: Uncovering the New World Columbus Created (Knopf) is about the worldwide exchange of plants, foods, animals, minerals, viruses and more that began after Columbus sailed to the New World. MANN is also the author of 1491: New Revelations of the Americas Before Columbus. It won the National Academies Communication Award for the best book of the year. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE NEXT HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Family Fang by Kevin Wilson.

Interview with Ryan Lizza; Interview with Andrea Elliott. August 9, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503569].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA. His article about Michelle Bachmann, 'Leap of Faith: The Making of a Republican Front Runner,' appears in the August 15 issue of The New Yorker. Lizza went out on the campaign trail with Bachmann, getting a behind the scenes look at the efforts to groom the congresswoman for a White House run. Lizza is The New Yorker's Washington correspondent. He covers the 2012 Presidential campaign and national politics. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) New York Times investigative reporter ANDREA ELLIOTT discovers the man behind efforts to ban the use of Shariah, Islamic law, in U.S. courts. The perceived threat, repeated by Republican politicians, 'is the product of an orchestrated drive that began five years ago in Crown Heights, Brooklyn, in the office of a little-known lawyer, David Yerushalmi, a 56-year-old Hasidic Jew with a history of controversial statements about race, immigration and Islam,' according to Elliot's article in the July 30, 2011 edition of the Times. Elliott is a Pulitzer Prize winning writer whose focus is on Islam in post 9/11 America.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Biophysicist and rock climber HUGH HERR. He's the director of the Biomechatronics group at the MIT Media Lab. After a climbing accident in 1982, Herr's limbs were amputated below the knee. His artificial limbs have 12 computers, five sensors, and muscle-like capabilities. He also has a number of other specialized prosthetics designed for specific tasks like scaling rocks. Herr is profiled in the new book The Sorcerers and Their Apprentices: How the Digital Magicians of the MIT Media Lab are Creating the Innovative Technologies That Will Change Our Lives by Frank Moss, the former head of the MIT Media Lab. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Help, about African-American female domestic servants in Jackson, Mississippi.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author ADAM HOCHSCHILD ("hock-shield"). His new book about World War I is called "To End All Wars: A Story of Loyalty and Rebellion, 1914-1918." It's a look at the intense bloodshed as well as the resistance movements opposed to the conflict. His other titles include Bury The Chains and Half the Way Home. Hochschild's work has appeared in The New Yorker, The New York Times Magazine and Harper's, among other publications. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Solid State: Songs from the Long Play, the new album from singer-songwriter Sam Phillips.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist ROBERT STONE's memoir 'Prime Green: Remembering the Sixties' begins with a stint in the navy in the late 1950s, continues through his work as a journalist in Vietnam and then details his counterculture years in the 1970s, taking hallucinogenic drugs, cross-country road trips, and hanging out with Ken Kesey and the Merry Pranksters. STONE's novels include Dog Soldiers (which was adapted into the film Who'll Stop the Rain), and Outerbridge Reach. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 1/3/07) (2.) Writer TOM WOLFE. His best selling books include The Bonfire of the Vanities, A Man in Full, The Right Stuff and The Electric Kool-Aid Acid Test. He began his career as a journalist, writing for the Washington Post, Rolling Stone, New York magazine and Esquire magazine. His next novel, Back to Blood, is scheduled for publication in 2012. (Rebroadcast from October 29, 1987) (3.) Writer KEN KESEY. He was a leading figure of 60's counterculture. As the organizer of the Merry Pranksters, Kesey did as much as anyone to popularize the use of L-S-D and other hallucinogens. Kesey also wrote two of the most popular books of the era, Sometimes a Great Notion and One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest. He's also the author of Demon Box, Caverns, I am Charlotte Simmons, and other books. He died in November 2001 at the age of 66. (Originally aired 12/15/89) (4.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Common Ground from The New Gary Burton Quartet. (5.) America's new poet laureate PHILLIP LEVINE reads some of his work. The Pulitzer Prize winner grew up in Detroit and worked in the factories as a young man. He's probably best known for his 1992 book of poems about the working class, "What Work Is," (Knopf) which won a National Book Award. (REBROADCAST: ORIGINAL AIRDATE 7/22/91)

Interview with Nancy Segal; Interview with Marlene Zuk; Review of Helen Schulman's novel "This Beautiful Life." August 15, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461864].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Twins expert NANCY SEGAL. Her new book is Someone Else's Twin: The True Stories of Babies Switched at Birth. Segal looks at cases of twins who did not grow up together; in one case, a 28 year old... woman meets her identical twin coincidentally at a shopping mall. Segal is Professor of Developmental Psychology and Director of the Twin Studies Center at California State University, Fullerton. (2.) MARLENE ZUK is the author of Sex on Six Legs: Lessons on Life, Love, and Language from the Insect World. Zuk is a professor of biology at University of California Riverside. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Helen Schulman's new novel This Beautiful Life, a cautionary tale about a New York family's fall from grace.

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Frank Partnoy; Review of Jeff Bridges' self-titled album. August 17, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461841].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Law professor and finance expert FRANK PARTNOY. He'll talk about Wall Street rating agencies like Standard & Poors. He explains how they acquired the influence they have on the economy, and how they exercise their power. Partnoy is the George E. Barrett Professor of Law and Finance and is the director of the Center on Corporate and Securities Law at the University of San Diego. He also worked in finance at Morgan Stanley and CS First Boston and wrote about his experiences in the book F.I.A.S.C.O.: Blood in the Water on Wall Street. His opinion pieces have appeared in The New York Times and The Financial Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new self titled album from actor Jeff Bridges, who won an Academy Award in 2009 for best actor in the film Crazy Heart, in which he plays a country singer.
Bridges did his own vocals and sang as his character, Bad Blake, in the movie and on the soundtrack album, which was produced by T Bone Burnett. Bridges's new album is again produced by Burnett.

Interview with Brad Ausmus; Commentary on Sly Stone; Review of the film "Mysteries of Lisbon." August 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503580].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league catcher BRAD AUSMUS. He just finished 17 years behind the plate, but in the beginning of his career, Ausmus refused an offer from the New York Yankees, choosing instead to go to an Ivy League school. He went on to become an All Star catcher, playing for the San Diego Padres, the Detroit Tigers, the Houston Astros and the L-A Dodgers. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD looks at the career of Sly Stone, before and after his time with 60s supergroup Sly and The Family Stone. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Mysteries of Lisbon, the latest film by Raul Ruiz, who was born in Chile in 1941 but fled to France after the 1973 coup. Living in exile, he has directed more than 100 films, many experimental and with international casts. Mysteries of Lisbon is a wide-ranging Napoleonic-era drama made in six episodes for European television but cut down to four and a half hours for a theatrical release.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter ROSANNE CASH. Her Bestselling memoir Composed is now out in paperback. When she was 18 years old, her father Johnny Cash wrote up a list of songs that she should know. She'll talk about creating the 2009 album 'The List,' which includes twelve of those songs. Guest performers on the album include Bruce Springsteen, Elvis Costello, Jeff Tweedy, and Rufus Wainwright. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/5/09)
Interview with Alice Waters; Review of Brandford Marsalis and Joey Calderazzo's album "Mirth and Melancholy." August 22, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461990].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Chef and restaurateur ALICE WATERS. Her new memoir is called Forty Years of Chez Panisse. Beginning in 1971, Waters inspired a whole generation of chefs and home cooks with the food she turned out in her Berkeley restaurant, and is considered the matriarch of locally sourced, sustainable cuisine. Waters also runs Chez Panisse Cafe?, Cafe? Fanny, and the Chez Panisse Foundation, which funds The Edible Schoolyard, a program to teach public school kids how to grow and cook vegetables. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new CD entitled Songs of Mirth and Melancholy from saxophonist Branford Marsalis and pianist Joey Calderazzo.

Interview with Marc Levinson; Review of the albums "Gloss Drop" by Battles and "No Ifs, Ands or Dogs" by Cheer-Accident. August 23, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462142].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MARC LEVINSON. His new book is The Great A&P and the Struggle for Small Business in America. In these days of big box supermarkets, we're nostalgic about the corner store. But Levinson tells us that actually, mom and pop places, with their limited selection and high prices, set the scene for national chains like A & P to move in and become the largest retailer in the world. Levinson has authored five books that merge economics, business strategy and history. He's written for Time, Newsweek and The Economist. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic MILO MILES reviews 'Gloss Drop,' from the New York trio called Battles, and 'No Ifs, Ands or Dogs' from the Chicago-based experimental rock band Cheer-Accident. Milo says that while the two bands come from very different directions, both "have recently put out their most appealing, yet still cerebral records."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RACHEL TABACHNICK researches the religious right. She explains the new apostolic reformation. She says, 'Christians of this belief system must take control over all the various institutions of society and government.' She'll tell us about this little known and growing group of evangelical Protestants engaged in spiritual warfare. They've set up chapters in all fifty states with the mission not just to save individual souls, but to take control over entire communities and ethnic groups. The New Apostolic Reformation has close ties to Republican presidential candidates Sarah Palin, Rick Perry and Michelle Bachmann. Tabachnick is one of the contributors to the website http://www.talk2action.org. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Keeper the new album by John Doe.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist TOM PEROTTA. His previous novels Election and Little Children were both adapted to film. His new book The Leftovers, is about the people left behind after many others have instantly disappeared from a town, in what may or may not be the Rapture. He is also working on a HBO adaptation of the new novel. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD profiles the blues and soul singer and guitarist Syl Johnson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember lyricist JERRY LEIBER, half of the rock and roll songwriting team Leiber and Stoller. LEIBER died Monday at the age of 78. The cause was heart failure. He and Stoller were responsible for many of the hits of early rock history, among them "Hound Dog," "Yakity Yak, "JailHouse Rock," and "Stand By Me." (REBROADCAST from 12/19/91). (2.) Film and TV director GREG MOTTOLA. His film Paul is now out on DVD. It's a sci-fi comedy about two British slackers who encounter a small alien. The film mixes computer generated graphics and live action. Seth Rogen is the voice of the alien. MOTTOLA's other films include Adventureland, Daytrippers, and Superbad. MOTTOLA has also directed several episodes of the TV shows Undeclared and Arrested Development. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, from 3/17/11). (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reconsiders the power of Scarface upon the release of the new Blu-ray version, Scarface Limited Edition Steelbook.

-----

Interview with Patton Oswalt; Interview with Grant Achatz. August 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462207].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and comedian PATTON OSWALT jokes about the Black Angus restaurant in an interview for the animated film Ratatouille. (REBROADCAST from 6/28/07) (2.) Award-winning chef GRANT ACHATZ (ACK-hatz). He is known for his advante-garde cooking, working in the tradition known as molecular gastronomy which uses scientific techniques to give familiar foods new tastes and textures. ACHATZ is the creator of the Alinea restaurant in Chicago. Two years after opening the restaurant, ACHATZ was diagnosed with stage four tongue cancer. After radiation and chemo, he is now in recovery and regaining his sense of taste. And he has opened his new restaurant, Next. His memoir is, Life, On the Line (Gotham) which he wrote with his business partner Nick Kokonas. (REBROADCAST from 3/3/11) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

-----

Interview with Dan Koeppel; Interview with Michael Specter. August 30, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462127].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAN KOEPPEL has written stories for National Geographic Adventure, Wired, Audobon, and Popular Science. He'll talk about the world's most popular fruit?the banana. His book, 'Banana: The Fate of the Fruit That Changed the World,' tells how banana companies brought the banana from Central America to the United States and how an epidemic is threatening the future of the fruit. Koeppel is also the author of the memoir, 'To See Every Bird on Earth.' (REBROADCAST FROM 2/18/08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) MICHAEL SPECTER is a staff writer for The New Yorker where he writes about science, technology and public health. In the magazine (May 23, 2001) he wrote about efforts to grow meat in the lab: Test-tube Burgers: How Long will it be before you can eat meat that was made in a lab? (REBROADCAST FROM 5/18/11)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former editor-in-Chief of Gourmet Magazine RUTH REICHL ('RYE-shal'). She is the author of the memoirs Tender at the Bone, Comfort Me with Apples and Not Becoming My Mother. REICHL also is the author of the cookbook, 'Gourmet Today' Before becoming editor of Gourmet, she was restaurant critic of the New York Times, and before that food editor of the Los Angeles Times. (REBROADCAST from 6/29/98, and 10/14/09) (2.) Food Editor and columnist for the Los Angeles Times, RUSS PARSONS. He examines the science of cooking in his book, How to Read a French Fry: and other Stories of Intriguing Kitchen Science. (REBROADCAST from 5/22/01)

Interview with Harold McGee; Interview with Julia Child; Interview with Mark Bittman. September 1, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885470].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) HAROLD MCGEE is an expert on the science of food and cooking. His latest cook book is Keys to Good Cooking: A guide to Making the Best of Foods & Recipes (Penguin Press). MCGEE also writes a column for The New York Times and writes the blog Curious Cook. MCGEE is also the author of the cookbooks On Food & Cooking: The Science & Lore of the Kitchen, and The Curious Cook. (REBROADCAST from 10/21/10). (2.) We listen back to a 1989 interview with the great French food chef JULIA CHILD. (11/14/89) (3.) New York Times food and opinion columnist MARK BITTMAN talks with DAVID BIANCULLI on the occasion of the publication of his book, How to Cook Everything Vegetarian. Part of Bittman's series of How to Cook Everything books. (REBROADCAST from 1/10/08)
Interview with Marilyn and Alan Bergman; Review of the new film "Higher ground." September 2, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462440].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lyricists MARILYN and ALAN BERGMAN. The husband and wife team have been working together for over 50 years. Their songs include 'Nice&Easy' (recorded by Frank Sinatra), 'In the Heat of the Night' (Ray Charles), 'That Face' (Fred Astaire), 'You Must Believe in Spring' (Tony Bennett), 'The Way We Were' (Barbara Streisand) and 'What Are You Doing the Rest of Your Life?'). The two have been included in the Songwriters' Hall of Fame. Barbara Streisand has a new album devoted to their songs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST from 8/21/07) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Higher Ground the new film starring and directed by Vera Farmiga (it's her debut as a director), based on the memoir This Dark World about a woman who leaves a fundamentalist religious order.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) HAL NEEDHAM was a Hollywood stuntman for 40 years, playing doubles for John Wayne, Dustin Hoffman, Jimmy Stewart and Burt Reynolds. Needhams's new memoir is called Stuntman: a Car-Crashing, Plane-Jumping, Bone-Breaking, Death-Defying Hollywood Life. He was also a stunt coordinator and director. His directing credits include the film Smokey and The Bandit. Later, Needham moved into race car driving and attempted to break the land speed record. (REBROADCAST from 2/7/2011) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Wonderful! (Origin label) the new album of Stevie Wonder songs by the Deep Blue Organ Trio.

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Dennis Smith, Ken Haskell and Jay Jonas; Commentary on language. September 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885462].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former firefighter DENNIS SMITH. He collects the stories of first responders, their families, and other families affected by 9/11 in the new book, A Decade of Hope: Stories of Grief and Endurance from 9/11 Families and Friends (Viking). We also hear from two other firefighters featured in the book, JAY JONAS and KEN HASKELL. SMITH is also the author of the books Report from Ground Zero and Report from Engine Co. 82. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the how 9/11 may or may not have impacted our language.

Interview with Alissa J. Rubin; Review of the new music album "Ghost on the canvas." September 8, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885258].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ALISSA J. RUBIN. She is Bureau Chief in Kabul for The New York Times. Before that she was deputy bureau chief in the paper's Baghdad bureau. Before coming to the Times in 2007, she was a correspondent for The Los Angeles Times. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Ghost on the Canvas by Glen Campbell.
Interview with Richard Engel; Interview with Bay State Winds Clarinet Quintet. September 9, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461910].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RICHARD ENGEL is Chief Foreign Correspondent for NBC News. He's spent most of the last decade covering the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan. Most recently, he was recognized for his outstanding reporting on the 2011 revolution in Egypt, the conflict in Libya and unrest throughout the Arab world. His new documentary is Day of Destruction; Decade of War. ENGLE's reporting can be seen on NBC Nightly News, "Today," "Meet the Press," "Dateline," MSNBC, and msnbc.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) The BAY STATE WINDS Clarinet Quintet perform in the studio. The quartet is part of the Air Force Band of Liberty which provides musical support for military and civilian functions, and presents concert tours across New England, New York and New Jersey. The group's members are Master Sergeant Jennifer E. Dashnaw, Master Sergeant Kevin Connors, Technical Sergeant Christy Bailes and Staff Sergeant Matthew Ayala. The group's repertoire includes a diverse collection of musical idioms ranging from Bach to Broadway in addition to their own original arrangements. They have been performing for military and civilian audiences across the Northeast since 2001.

Interview with Margo Martindale; Review of the new fall TV season. September 12, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462010].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MARGO MARTINDALE has been nominated for an Emmy for her role as Mags Bennett, the powerful and cruel matriarch of an Appalachian family involved in weed dealing in the FX series Justified. MARTINDALE's other credits include a recurring stint in a 1970s Downy fabric softener commercial, an early TV appearance in the CBS miniseries, Lonesome Dove, was Susan Sarandon's fellow nun in Dead Man Walking, earned a Tony nomination for her role as Big Mama in a 2004 revival of Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, played Hilary Swank's selfish mother in Million Dollar Baby, had a recurring role as Camilla Figg in the first three seasons of Dexter, and played the neighbor Nina Burns on the FX series The Riches. MARTINDALE was born and raised in Jacksonville, Texas. (THIS INTERVIEW
Interview with Ali Soufan; Review of two recent productions of George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess. September 13, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462007].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former FBI agent ALI SOUFAN. He interrogated a number of Al Qaeda suspects, including Abu Zubaydah who identified Khalid Shaikh Mohammed as the mastermind of the 9/11 attacks. SOUFAN has publicly argued against enhanced interrogation techniques like waterboarding, saying they are ineffective. In his new book The Black Banners: The Inside Story of 9/11 and the War Against Al Qaeda, he writes about the rivalry and dysfunction inside the government's counterterrorism agencies, the missed opportunities to defuse the 9/11 plot, and argues against the CIA's use of brutal interrogation tactics. SOUFAN was born in Lebanon and is a native Arabic speaker. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews two recent productions of George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess: One at Tanglewood this summer by the Boston Symphony Orchestra based on the original 1935 New York production and another in Cambridge by the American Repertory Theater starring Audra McDonald, which is scheduled for a Broadway run. Stephen Sondheim objected to an early version of this production.

Interview with Will Arnett; Interview with Sandra Aamodt and Sam Wang. September 14, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462086].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor WILL ARNETT. He's co-starring with Christina Appelgate in the new NBC show Up All Night (premieres tonight, Sept 14) as two new parents. ARNETT previously played the character Gob Bluth on Arrested Development, and plays a recurring role on 30 Rock. His voice could be heard in the film Ratatouille and he had a part in the comedy film Blades of Glory. ARNETT is married to SNL alum Amy Poehler. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Science writer SANDRA AAMODT ("AH-mit" like "DAMN-it"), and Princeton associate professor of neuroscience SAM WANG ("Wong"). The two have collaborated on the new book Welcome to Your Child's Brain: How the Mind Grows from Conception to College (Bloomsbury).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in-studio performance and interview with British singer/songwriter NICK LOWE. His best known songs include (What's So Funny 'Bout) Peace, Love and Understanding, Cruel to be Kind, and The Beast in Me (which Johnny Cash recorded). LOWE's new album is The Old Magic. In the early 1970s LOWE played London's pub rock scene in the band Brinsley Schwarz. After the band broke up in 1975, he produced five albums for Elvis Costello. Lowe worked with Dave Edmunds in and the group Rockpile. In 1992 he was one quarter of the band "Little Village" with John Hiatt and Ry Cooder. Since 1994 he's released a number of solo albums. (THIS PERFORMANCE CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Allison Pearson; Review of the film "Drive." September 16, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462081].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British journalist and novelist ALLISON PEARSON is the author of the book I Think I Love You (now out in paperback). It begins in 1974 with two thirteen year old girls obsessed with singer David Cassidy of the Partridge Family. Then the story moves forward 24 years when the two women - now pushing forty - get a chance to meet the former teen idol. PEARSON is also the author of the bestselling novel I Don't Know How She Does It, which has been adapted into a new film starring Sarah Jessica Parker. PEARSON is a staff writer for the London Daily Telegraph. (REBROADCAST FROM 2/23/2011. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Drive, a thriller starring Ryan Gosling.
Interview with Aaron Paul; Interview with Vince Gilligan. September 19, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462104].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor AARON PAUL. He co-stars as Jesse Pinkman, a meth dealer in the AMC cable TV series Breaking Bad, now in its fourth season. Paul was also in the HBO series Big Love. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Producer and writer VINCE GILLIGAN. He's the creator and executive producer of Breaking Bad on AMC. Previously, he worked on the X-Files and The Lone Gunmen. He co-wrote the film Hancock.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning journalist RON SUSKIND ("kind" like "bind"). In his new book Confidence Men: Wall Street, Washington, and the Education of a President he writes about rivalries and dysfunction in the Obama Whitehouse early in Obama's term. Now some of the people quoted in the book are saying they were misquoted or their comments were taken out of context. SUSKIND is former senior national affairs writer for The Wall Street Journal where he won a 1995 Pulitzer Prize for Feature Writing. His other books include The Way of the World about the Bush administration's conduct in the lead up to the war in Iraq and The One Percent Doctrine. (2.) Renown children's book author and illustrator MAURICE SENDAK. His new book is Bumble-Ardy (Michael di Capua Books/Harper Collins). The book evolved from an animated segment on Sesame Street. SENDAK's other books include Where the Wild Things Are, In the Night Kitchen, and Outside Over There. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Swerve: How the World Became Modern, a non-fiction book by Stephen Greenblatt which she calls "part adventure tale; part enthralling history of ideas."

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Doctors JEROME GROOPMAN and PAMELA HARTZBAND have collaborated on the new book Your Medical Mind: How to Decide What is Right for You (Penguin Press). GROOPMAN and HARTZBAND are on the faculty of Harvard Medical School and on the staff of Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center. They are also married. GROOPMAN is a staff writer for The New Yorker. He is the author of four other books including the bestseller How Doctors Think. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Former Jeopardy champ KEN JENNINGS. His new book about the world of map nerds is Maphead: Charting the Wide, Weird World of Geography Wonks (Simon & Schuster). JENNINGS is the author of two other books about trivia. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new memoir Life Itself by Roger Ebert.

Interview with Brad Pitt; Interview with Dana Spiotta. September 22, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462259].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BRAD PITT. He stars in the new film Moneyball, based on Michael Lewis' baseball bestseller of the same name. It's directed by Bennett Miller. Pitt, who's been nominated for two Academy Awards, is considered one of the best looking men in show business. He got his start in the 1991 film Thelma & Louise, and went on to star in hits including A River Runs Through It, Mr. & Mrs. Smith, Fight Club, Oceans Eleven, and Twelve Monkeys, for which he won a Golden Globe award. Pitt is married to actress Angelina Jolie. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Author Dana Spiotta. Her new novel is Stone Arabia. It's a family drama about artistic siblings who grew up in Los Angeles in the 1970s and 80s. Previously, she published Lightning Field and Eat The Document, which was nominated for a National Book Award.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MICHAEL LEWIS. His book is 'Moneyball: The Art of Winning an Unfair Game' has been adapted for the big screen, and Moneyball the movie, starring Brad Pitt, opens today. It's the story of how the Oakland A's turned their team around and made history, winning 20 games in a row to set a new American League record. Lewis goes behind the scenes and finds a new kind of baseball knowledge. Lewis' books include The Big Short: Inside the Doomsday Machine, Liar's Poker, The New New Thing, The Blind Side: Evolution of a Game, Panic and Home Game: An Accidental Guide to Fatherhood. He's also a contributing editor at Vanity Fair magazine. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/28/03. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Moneyball starring Brad Pitt as Billy Beane, the Oakland A's general manager. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI looks at familiar faces in new roles: Ted Danson in CSI: Crime Scene Investigation; James Spader in The Office, and Simon cowell in The X Factor.

Interview with Peter Van Buren; Review of the new music album "Sweetheart of the sun." September 26, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461793].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Foreign Service Officer PETER VAN BUREN. His new book is called We Meant Well: How I Helped Lose The Battle for the Hearts and Minds of the Iraqi People. Van Buren has served the US Department of State for over 23 years, working in Thailand, Japan and Iraq. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Sweetheart of the Sun the first album in seven years by The Bangles.
Interview with Mark Bowden. September 27, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461792].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARK BOWDEN (BOW-den, as in 'wow') is National Correspondent for Atlantic Magazine. His new book is Worm: The First Digital World War about the battle between those determined to exploit the internet and those committed to protect it. BOWDEN is the author of a number of books including the bestseller Black Hawk Down which was made into a film, as well as Killing Pablo: The Hunt for the World's Greatest Outlaw, and Guests of the Ayatollah: The First Battle in America's War with Militant Islam (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer WILL REISER and actor JOSEPH GORDON-LEVITT. REISER wrote the new film romantic comedy 50/50 and GORDON-LEVITT stars in it. The film is loosely based on REISER's experience six years ago being diagnosed with spinal cancer at the age of 24. At that time he was a writer on the British import comedy series Da Ali G Show, along with Seth Rogen (who also stars in 50/50). GORDON-LEVITT is best known for his role in the NBC comedy series 3rd Rock from the Sun. His first major film role was in A River Runs Through It. His other films include Spike Lee's World War II drama Miracle at St. Anna, (500) Days of Summer with Zooey Deschanel, and Inception. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut album of the band Low Cut Connie, titled Get Out the Lotion.
Interview with Mark Mazetti; Interview with Abrahm Lustgarten. September 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462045].

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Jonathan Franzen's novel Freedom. (now in paperback) (REBROADCAST from 9/9/2010) (2.) Author JONATHAN FRANZEN. His recent novel Freedom is now out in paperback. It's about an American family in slow collapse. Franzen got much advance press when the book first came out, mostly in praise, but there was a backlash. He penned the wildly successful novel The Corrections, a heavy tome that remained on the bestseller lists for months. But Franzen irked Oprah when he refused her seal of approval on the jacket of The Corrections. (REBROADCAST from 09/09/2010.) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Take Shelter. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews three programs premiering on Sunday: Ken Burns' new documentary Prohibition on PBS; the sixth season return of Dexter on Showtime; and the new show Homeland also on Showtime.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Minister C. PETER WAGNER is the leader of the New Apostolic Reformation (NAR). This little known and growing group of evangelical Protestants has a mission not just to save individual souls, but to take control over various institutions of society and government. They consider themselves engaging in "spiritual warfare" and fight against demons. The New Apostolic Reformation has close ties to Republican presidential candidates Sarah Palin, Rick Perry and Michelle Bachmann. NAR has set up chapters in all fifty states. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Michael Lewis; Commentary on the term "class warfare." October 4, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462291].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHAEL LEWIS is the author of the bestsellers Moneyball and Liar's Poker. Before becoming a journalist he worked on the bond desk at Salomon Brothers. He went on to write for The New Republic, New York Times Magazine, Slate and other publications. He is now a columnist for Bloomberg, and a contributing editor at Vanity Fair. His new book about the European debt crisis is Boomerang: Travels in the New Third World. In a review in The New York Times, Michiko Kakutani writes, "he actually makes topics like European sovereign debt, the International Monetary Fund and the European Central Bank not only comprehensible but also fascinating - even, or especially, to readers who rarely open the business pages or watch CNBC." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the term "class warfare."

Interview with Ken Ballen; Interview with Howard Gordon; Review of Gigi Gryce's album "Doin' the Gigi." October 5, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503914].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former prosecutor KEN BALLEN (rhymes with "pal"). He's spent years interviewing Islamic extremists, and has successfully convicted international terrorists. His new book about the motivations of jihadists is Terrorists in Love. BALLEN is now President and founder of Terror Free Tomorrow, non-partisan, not-for-profit organization which investigates the causes of extremism. The group's advisory board is led by former Democratic Congressman and Co-Chair of the 9/11 Commission Lee Hamilton and John McCain, Republican Senator from Arizona. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Producer and co-creator of the new series Homeland on Showtime, HOWARD GORDON. Homeland is about a P.O.W. who's just come home from Iraq, and a CIA agent who suspects he's become a spy for Al Qaeda.
GORDON was also a producer on 24. (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI). (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new CD of unreleased recordings by saxophonist and composer Gigi Gryce, Doin' the Gigi (Uptown). Gryce dropped out of jazz in the early sixties.

Interview with Jane Mayer; Obituary for Steve Jobs. October 6, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461404].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JANE MAYER is a staff writer for The New Yorker where she covers politics and national security.
She writes in the current edition about the Republican RedMap effort aimed at engineering a Republican takeover of state legislatures across the country. In North Carolina republicans succeeded in getting a majority in both houses of the state legislature, thanks in part to the multimillionaire Art Pope who poured money into the effort. North Carolina is also a key battleground state in the 2012 election. Her article is titled State for Sale. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
(2.) We remember STEVE JOBS who died yesterday at the age of 56. (REBROADCAST from 2/22/96)

Interview with David Rakoff; Obituary for Derrick Bell; Commentary on John Wayne; Review of oclc/958461408].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and radio contributor DAVID RAKOFF (RACK-off). He was just awarded the Thurber Prize for his collection of essays, Half Empty (now in paperback). The award is given each year by the Thurber House for outstanding contribution to American prose humor. Half Empty is a collection of pessimistic and funny essays which cover topics such as a pornography trade fair, Rakoff's neurotic childhood, and a critical reassessment of the Broadway musical Rent. Rakoff is a frequent contributor to This American Life and The New York Times Magazine. His previous bestselling book is Don't Get Too Comfortable: The Indignities of Coach Class, The Torments of Low Thread Count, The Never-Ending Quest for Artisanal Olive Oil, and Other First World Problems. Rakoff has also done some acting and voice work. (REBROADCAST from 9/21/10) (2.) We remember law professor DERRICK BELL, a scholar and civil rights advocate who died this past Wednesday at age 80. (3.) Critic at large John Powers reflects on the enduring popularity of actor John Wayne. Earlier this year, the Harris Poll released its annual list of America's ten favorite movie stars. Wayne finished third, 32 years after his death. (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Ides of March, the new political thriller directed, co-written, and starring George Clooney, also starring Ryan Gosling.

Interview with Laura Dern and Mike White; Review of television programs "Breaking Bad" and "American Horror Story." October 10, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462182].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LAURA DERN and MIKE WHITE from the new HBO series Enlightened. Dern plays a health and beauty executive who returns from a post meltdown retreat to pick up the pieces of her broken life. White is the show's executive producer. Enlightened also stars Luke Wilson and Diane Ladd, who plays Dern's mother (and is her real life mother as well). Dern's work includes the films Blue Velvet and Jurassic Park and had TV roles in The West Wing and King of the Hill. White served as a producer on several TV series including Dawson's Creek and Freaks and Geeks, wrote the screenplays for the films Nacho Libre and The School of Rock, and has acted in films and TV shows as well. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the season finale of Breaking Bad, and the new show American Horror Show.
Interview with Jeffrey Eugenides; Review of Tyshawn Sorey's album "Oblique-I." October 11, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462058].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer-Prize winning novelist JEFFREY EUGENIDES. His new novel is The Marriage Plot, set in the early 1980s about a romantic triangle between three recent college grads. The novel explores the themes of marriage, religion, and depression. EUGENIDES' first novel The Virgin Suicides brought him critical acclaim and was made into a film by Sofia Coppola in 1999. His second novel Middlesex was awarded the Pulitzer in 2007. EUGENIDES is on the faculty of Princeton University's Program in Creative Writing. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Oblique-I the new CD by drummer Tyshawn Sorey (on the PI label).

Interview with Josh Seefried and Karl Johnson; Review of the album "The Lost Notebooks of Hank Williams"; Review of Russell Banks' novel "Lost Memory of Skin." October 12, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503915].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) U.S. Airforce 1st Lieutenants JOSH SEEFRIED and KARL JOHNSON They are gay and one of the military's first openly gay couples. SEEFRIED is cofounder of Outservice, the association of lesbian, gay, bisexual, and transgender military personnel. He began the organization on Facebook under the pseudonym "JD Smith." SEEFRIED is also the author of Our Time: Breaking the Silence of DADT. JOHNSON has been blogging for Time magazine, under the pseudonym "Officer X." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Lost Notebooks of Hank Williams, a collection of country and rock musicians who set to music lyrics that Hank Williams left behind in four notebooks when he died. The musicians include Bob Dylan, Sheryl Crow, Lucinda Williams, Jack White and Norah Jones. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Lost Memory of Skin the new novel by Russell Banks.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID WOOD of the Huffington Post. He's been reporting from war zones on and off for over thirty years. Most recently he was embedded with troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. His new series of articles in the Huffington Post about returning wounded soldiers is Beyond the Battlefield. http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/10/12/beyond-the-battlefield-3-jimmy-kinsey_n_1000357.html

Interview with Ted Danson; Interview with Will Ferrell; Review of film "The Skin I Live In." October 14, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462042].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor TED DANSON. He appears in the HBO series 'Bored to Death,' now in its 3rd season. DANSON got his start on the classic TV sitcom 'Cheers,' and went on to star in several shows of his own, including 'Becker' and 'Damages,' with regular guest appearances on programs including 'The Simpsons,' 'Curb Your Enthusiasm,' and 'Frasier.' The third season of 'Bored To Death' premiered October 10th, and is shown Mondays at 9:00 PM, starring Jason Schwartzman, Danson and Zach Galifianakis. More info at http://www.hbo.com/boredtodeath (INTERVIEW ORIGINALLY BROADCAST 09/17/2009) (2.) Comedian WILL FERRELL will receive The Mark Twain Prize for American Humor this month at The Kennedy Center. A star studded list of celebs, including Jack Black, Green Day, Larry King, Nathan Lane, Adam McKay, Lorne Michaels, Conan O'Brien, John C. Reilly, Paul Rudd, Maya Rudolph, and Molly Shannon will honor Ferrell on October 23. Ferrell, who got his start on Saturday Night Live, has starred in many films including Stranger Than Fiction, Talladega Nights, Anchorman, The Other Guys, and most recently, Everything Must Go. He also co-founded the website Funny or Die. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/9/2006) (3.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews Pedro Almodovar's new film 'The Skin I Live In,' starring Antonio Banderas.
Interview with Seth MacFarlane; Appreciation of author Jack Finney. October 17, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462041].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Animator, producer and singer SETH MACFARLANE. While he's best known as the creator of the hit animated shows Family Guy, American Dad and The Cleveland Show, he's just launched a career as a crooner with the new album Music is Better Than Words. MacFarlane does a blockbuster job singing obscure selections from the American popular songbook, including It's Anybody's Spring, The Sadder But Wiser Girl, and The Night They Invented Champagne. MacFarlane also does some of the voices for his Emmy Award winning shows. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN remembers author Jack Finney, who would have turned 100 this month. He's best known for The Body Snatchers, a serialized story that became the classic cult film Invasion of the Body Snatchers.

Interview with Nathan Wolfe; Review of compilation albums "Turkish Freakout!" and "Turkish Freakout! 2." October 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462328].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Virologist NATHAN WOLFE. His new book is The Viral Storm: The Dawn of a New Pandemic Age. Wolfe is a professor of Human biology at Stanford University and the founder and CEO of the independent research institute Global Viral Forecasting. In 2011 he was named one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People in the World. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) World critic MILO MILES reviews two collections of Turkish rock music from the 60s and 70s, Turkish Freakout! And Turkish Freakout! 2.

Interview with John Paul Stevens; Interview with Colson Whitehead. October 19, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462043].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Retired Supreme Court justice JOHN PAUL STEVENS. He retired last year after 35 years on the court. He's 91. And he's written a new memoir about his tenure on the court. It's Five Chiefs: A Supreme Court Memoir (Little, Brown and Company). (2.) Novelist COLSON WHITEHEAD. His new novel, Zone One, is a post-apocalyptic tale of a Manhattan crippled by a plague and overrun with zombies. His previous novels include The Intuitionist about intrigue in the Department of Elevator Inspectors, and John Henry Days about the American folklore figure. It was a finalist for the national Book Critics Circle Award and the Pulitzer Prize. WHITEHEAD's other writings have appeared in the New York Times, The New Yorker, Harper's and Granta. He has received a MacArthur Fellowship.

Interview with Marie Howe; Review of Shelby Lynne's album "Revelation Road." October 20, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462044].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet MARIE HOWE. Her poem What the Living Do has been included in a new collection of 20th Century poems. The poem comes from her 1998 collection of poems of the same name which was in large part an elegy to her brother who died of AIDS. HOWE's most recent book of poems is The Kingdom of Ordinary Time (2009). Her first book of poems The Good Thief (1988) was selected by Margaret Atwood for the 1987 National Poetry Series. HOWE teaches at Sarah Lawrence College. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Revelation Road the new CD by Shelby Lynne.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JIMMY FALLON is a former cast member of Saturday Night Live (1998-2004) and the host of Late Night with Jimmy Fallon on NBC. He's become known for his celebratory music sketches in the vein of the hit TV show Glee on his show and for his enthusiasm, goofy good natured humor, and lack of snarkiness. His book collects the thank you notes segment from the show, Thank You Notes. (Hachette book group) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Margin Call, the new film set inside a Wall Street investment bank on the cusp of the 2008 financial collapse.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MICHAEL SHANNON. He plays a righteous prohibition agent who has succumbed to temptations in his professional and private life in HBO's Boardwalk Empire. He was nominated for an academy award for supporting actor in the film Revolutionary Road. His other films include Cecil B. Demented, Vanilla Sky, Pearl Harbor, and Before the Devil knows you're dead. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Medical ethicist HARRIET WASHINGTON. Her new book is about the patenting of genes, cells, tissues and other biological products and the consequences on medical research and drug development. Her book is Deadly Monopolies: The Shocking Corporate Takeover of Life Itself--and the Consequences for Your Health and Medical Future (Doubleday).

Interview with Walter Isaacson; Commentary on Steve Jobs. October 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462445].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and author WALTER ISAACSON. He's written the new biography of Apple co-founder Steve Jobs. Jobs approached ISAACSON about writing his biography after he was diagnosed with cancer. ISSACSON is also the author of biographies of Albert Einstein, Benjamin Franklin and Henry Kissinger. He is president of the Aspen Institute, and was managing editor of Time magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers Steve Jobs' impact on our lives and technology.

Interview with Ioan Grillo; Interview with Robert Neuwirth. October 26, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462256].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist IOAN GRILLO (YO-in GRILL-oh) covers Mexico for the online foreign news site GlobalPost. He specializes in coverage of drug cartels and is author of the new book El Narco: Inside

---

Interview with David Carr; Review of Deer Tick's album "Divine Providence." October 27, 2011.

[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461933].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID CARR writes about media and culture for The New York Times. He writes the Media Equation column which appears in the Monday Business section. And he blogs at Media Decoder (http://mediadecoder.blogs.nytimes.com/). CARR is also the author of the memoir Night of the Gun in which he reconstructs his former life as a crack addict and thug. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Divine Providence the fourth album by the band Deer Tick, from Providence, Rhode Island.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist SCOTT SPENCER. His novel Man in the Woods has been called "An American Tragedy for the 21st century" by John Eskow for the Huffington Post. It's now out in paperback. It's about the consequences of an accidental murder. SPENCER is probably best known for his book Endless Love which was made into a film. Since then he's written six novels including Waking The Dead, Willing, and A Ship Made of Paper. (REBROADCAST from 9.15.2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two films: The Rum Diary and Anonymous. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new four part PBS series America in Primetime which explores four different archetypes found on American television: the man of the house, the independent woman, the crusader, and the misfit.

---

Interview with Tom Waits. October 31, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461930].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and Songwriter TOM WAITS. His latest album Bad As Me is his first album of original music in seven years. Many of the songs on it are ballads, and Keith Richards joins him on two of the songs. Since the 1973 release of WAITS' first album, 'Closing Time,' Waits has won over fans with his original songwriting and distinctive, gravely vocal style. One reviewer calls Waits 'the Ultimate hobo boho, a Jack-in-the-box cum storyteller.' Musicians including Johnny Cash, Bruce Springsteen, and Rod Stewart have recorded covers of his songs. He was inducted into the Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame this year. He has also acted in films, including Sylvester Stallone's 'Paradise Alley,' Jim Jarmusch's 'Down By Law,' and Robert Altman's 'Short Cuts.' (THIS INTERVIEW WILL PLAY THE LENGTH OF THE SHOW)

---

Interview with David M. Kennedy; Review of DVD releases of the television shows "Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy" and "Smiley's People"; Review of the Beach Boys' CD box set "The SMiLE Sessions." November 1, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462261].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Criminologist DAVID KENNEDY ? his new memoir is Don't Shoot: One Man, A Street Fellowship, and the End of Violence in Inner-City America. KENNEDY is the director of The Center for Crime Prevention and Control and a professor of Criminal Justice at John Jay College. In 1996 he directed the Boston Gun Project and Operation Ceasefire which was credited with substantially reducing youth homicides in Boston. He has advised the Justice Department, Department of the Treasury, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and the White House on issues of inner-city violence. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews a new DVD collection of the 1979 BBC adaptation of John le Carre's Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy and Smiley's People. (3.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews Smile the Beach Boys' most famous unreleased album. Bits and pieces were released on other albums. But now they've all been collected on a new album (by EMI).

---

Interview with Joan Didion; Interview with Bill Nighy. November 2, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462258].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JOAN DIDION. She wrote about the death of her husband John Gregory Dunne and the grief that followed, in the memoir The Year of Magical Thinking (Knopf, 2005). Two years later, at the time of the book's publication, their only daughter Quintana who had been hospitalized in a coma with septic shock and pneumonia, also died. Now DIDION has a new memoir about her daughter's death, Blue Nights. (2.) British actor BILL NIGHY (pronounced "Nye"). He's co-starring in the new BBC Masterpiece theatre film Page 8. (premieres on PBS, Sunday, Nov 6). He also co-starred in the BBC series State of Play for which he won the BAFTA TV award for best actor. His films include Love Actually (for his role as an aging rockstar); two Pirates of the Caribbean films (playing the tentacled pirate captain Davy Jones); he was a voice in the animated feature Flushed Away, and he co-starred in HBO'S The Girl in the Cafe?.

(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FARHAD MANJOO is a technology columnist for Slate. He's recently written about the coming tech war between Apple, Google, Amazon and Facebook. He also writes about digital etiquette and innovation. MANJOO is also an NPR commentator and the author of True Enough: Learning to Live in a Post-Fact Society (2008). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Stronger the fifth album by Kelly Clarkson, the first winner of the American Idol singing competition. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Age of Movies: Selected Writings of Pauline Kael (edited by Sanford Schwartz/The Library of America).
Interview with Brian Greene; Review of Julius Hemphill's album "Dogon A.D."; Review of the film "Like Crazy." November 4, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462229].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Theoretical physicist BRIAN GREENE. His book The Hidden Reality: Parallel Universes and the Deep Laws of the Cosmos is out in paperback. And GREENE is currently hosting a PBS NOVA series based on his previous book The Fabric of the Cosmos. Greene is a professor at Columbia University, and co-director of the University's Institute for Strings, Cosmology, and Astroparticle Physics (ISCAP). He is also leading a research program applying superstring theory to cosmological questions. (REBROADCAST from 1/24/2011) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)
2. Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the long overdue reissue of saxophonist and composer Julius Hemphill's first album Dogon A.D. [doe-gun]. Hemphill went on to co-found the World Saxophone Quartet.
3. Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Like Crazy about a long distance romance between a young man in L.A. and his British girlfriend.

Interview with Darrell Hammond; Interview with Kate Ascher. November 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462106].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Former Saturday Night Live cast member DARRELL HAMMOND. He's best known for his impersonations of Bill Clinton, Al Gore, Donald Trump and others. He was with the show for 14 years. HAMMOND has written a new memoir about the abuse he suffered as a child and his struggles to overcome it with drugs, drink, and cutting himself. He writes that he kept his struggles most hidden from the rest of the cast. His new memoir is 'God, If You're Not Up There, I'm F*d.' He's now in recovery and last summer received critical acclaim for his one-man play 'Tru' in Sag Harbor. He's currently working with Will Farrell on his Funny or Die website. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Mark Derr; Interview with James Wolcott. November 8, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462038].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Dog expert MARK DERR (rhymes with "fur"). He's the author of the new book How the Dog Became the Dog: From Wolves to Our Best Friends (The overlook Press). He is also the author of Dog's Best Friend, and A Dog's History of America. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) JAMES WOLCOTT is contributing editor for Vanity Fair where he writes a monthly column covering the media, politics, and pop culture. Previously he was a staff writer for The New Yorker. He got his start in the 1970s writing for The Village Voice. He's written a new memoir, Lucking Out: My Life Getting Down and Semi-Dirty in the Seventies.

Interview with Jill Lepore; Review of Ben Lerner's novel "Leaving the Atocha Station"; Review of Miranda Lambert's album "Four the Record." November 9, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462298].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JILL LEPORE is a historian and a staff writer for The New Yorker. She writes in this week's edition of the magazine about the history of the birth control movement and Planned Parenthood (Birthright: what's next for Planned Parenthood? - Nov 14th). Lepore is the David Woods Kemper '41 Professor of American History at Harvard University. She is also the author of the book The Whites of Their Eyes: The Tea Party's Revolution and the Battle over American History (Princeton press) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES TO 2nd HALF OF SHOW) (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews 'Leaving the Atocha Station' (Coffee House Press), the debut novel by Ben Lerner. (3.) Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews the fourth album by country artist Miranda Lambert ? it's called 'Four the Record'
Interview with David Wood; Interview with the Bay State Winds Clarinet Quintet; Review of the film "Melancholia." November 11, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503227].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID WOOD of the Huffington Post. He's been reporting from war zones on and off for over thirty years. Most recently he was embedded with troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. His recent series of articles in the Huffington Post about returning wounded soldiers is Beyond the Battlefield. http://www.huffingtonpost.com/2011/10/12/beyond-the-battlefield-3-jimmy-kinsey_n_1000357.html (REBROADCAST from 10.13.11) (2.) The BAY STATE WINDS Clarinet Quintet perform in the studio. The quartet is part of the Air Force Band of Liberty which provides musical support for military and civilian functions, and presents concert tours across New England, New York and New Jersey. The group's repertoire includes a diverse collection of musical idioms ranging from Bach to Broadway in addition to their own original arrangements. They have been performing for military and civilian audiences across the Northeast since 2001. (REBROADCAST from 9.9.11) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Melancholia Interview with Joe Henry; Interview with Kirsten Dunst. November 11, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461289].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, songwriter, singer, producer JOE HENRY. He has a new album called Reverie (on Anti-Records). As performer HENRY released eleven albums between 1986 and 2009. He's had a sort of cult-following for his work. His songwriting has been compared to Bob Dylan and Tom Waits. His songs include 'Richard Pryor Addresses a Tearful Nation' and 'Don't Tell Me' which was recorded by his sister-in-law, Madonna. On his 2001 album 'Scar' he collaborated with jazz musicians Ornette Coleman and Brad Mehldau. HENRY has also produced albums for Soloman Burke, and Aimee Mann. (2.) Actress KIRSTEN DUNST. She stars in the new Lars Von Trier film 'Melancholia,' a psychological thriller about depression and The End of the World. DUNST's other films include Interview with a Vampire, Marie Antoinette, and the Spiderman trilogy.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Astrophysicist SAUL PERLMUTTER was part of the team that won the Nobel Prize for Physics this year "for the discovery of the accelerating expansion of the universe through observations of distant supernovae." Before this it was believed that the expansion was slowing down. PERLMUTTER heads the Supernova Cosmology Project at Lawrence Berkeley national Laboratory and is a professor of physics at the University of California at Berkeley. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two CDs: Piazzolla in Brooklyn by the Pablo Aslan Quintet, and Tres Cabecas Loucuras by the Sao Paulo Underground spearheaded by cornetist Rob Mazurek of the Chicago Underground.

---

Interview with Regis Philbin; Review of the DVD release of the film "A Damsel in Distress"; Commentary on hillbilly boogie music. November 15, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462125].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) REGIS PHILBIN, the co-host of Live With Regis and Kelly. He's stepping down on Friday after 28 years. He's 80 years old. He also has a new memoir, How I Got This Way (IT books). He was also the host of Who Wants to Be a Millionaire. PHILBIN got his start in the 1950s, and is purported to have bested his own Guinness World Record for most hours on camera (in 2006 with 15,662 hours). In 2008 he was honored with a Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences. (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews A Damsel in Distress a film released in 1937 with music by George and Ira Gershwin. It's just been issued by Warner Archive DVD. (3.) Rock historian ED WARD examines the history and influence of hillbilly boogie music.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TIM DICKINSON is a political correspondent for Rolling Stone magazine and author of the political blog, National Affairs Daily. His article in the current edition is How the GOP Became the Party of the Rich. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Pilgrim (Sourcebooks) by Hugh Nissenson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director ALEXANDER PAYNE, whose films are Election (a satire about American politics set in a highschool), About Schmidt starring Jack Nicholson as a retired widower on a cross country trip, and Sideways about a failed writer and wine snob, starring Paul Giamatti. PAYNE's new film The Descendants stars George Clooney as a family man who must face a difficult truth. (Interview by DAVE DAVIES)(INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Miles Davis Quintet, Live in Europe 1967 (The Bootleg Series Vol. 1) (on Columbia/Legacy) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new two-part, four-hour American Masters presents on PBS: Woody Allen: A Documentary.

Interview with Mike Mills; Review of the film "The Descendants." November 18, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462004].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director and writer MIKE MILLS. His film Beginners (now out on DVD) is based on his own life. It stars Ewan McGregor as a graphic artist whose 75 year old father, played by Christopher Plummer, has just come out after the death of his longtime wife, and wants to experience the gay life he denied himself when he was married. MILLS made his feature film debut with the film Thumbsucker, based on a novel by Walter Kirn. Before that MILLS, made commercials for Levis, Gap, Volkswagen, Mastercard and Nike. And he produced music videos for the bands Everything But the Girl, Moby, and Yoko Ono. He also created graphics for the clothing label X-Girl and the bands Sonic Youth and the Beastie Boys. (REBROADCAST from 6/2/2011) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Descendants.

---

Interview with Sebastian Rotella; Review of the art exhibit "Degas and the Nude." November 21, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461906].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Frontline correspondent and ProPublica reporter SEBASTIAN ROTELLA. His upcoming Frontline documentary A Perfect Terrorist is about one of the key players in the 2008 terrorist attack on Mumbia, Daood Sayed Gilani, a.k.a. David Coleman Headley. He is an American citizen, the son of a Pakistani man, and a Philadelphia woman of high society. A former drug addict, turned drug smuggler, Headley became an informant for the DEA, and after 911 became an operative for Lashkar-e-Taiban, an Islamic militant group with ties to Pakistan's intelligence service, the ISI. (scheduled broadcast on PBS Tuesday, Nov 22nd). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the exhibit Degas and the Nude, collecting the work of the French Post-Impressionist Edgar Degas at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts (thru Feb 5, 2012).

---

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Film director FRANCIS FORD COPPOLLA tells stories behind his best known films, including The Godfather, and Apocalypse Now, and his new movie Twixt. We'll hear him interviewed on stage at the Toronto Film Festival earlier this fall by the Festival's co-director, Cameron Bailey. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Crazy Clown Time, the first solo album from film director David Lynch. (3.) Excerpts of interviews with cooks SHIRLEY CORRIHER (11/24/97) and HAROLD MCGEE (10/21/10).
Interview with Jason Segel and Nicholas Stoller; Review of the film "Hugo." November 23, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462383].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The Muppets movie opens today, and we speak with star Jason Segel and screenwriter Nicholas Stoller, who shares writing credit with Jim Henson. Segel got his big break on the TV series Freaks and Geeks. He was also in the cast of How I Met your Mother. His feature films include Forgetting Sarah Marshall, which Segel wrote, and which was directed by Nicholas Stoller. The pair also worked together on the TV series Undelared and the movie Get Him to the Greek. (This interview continues into the second half of the show.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Hugo, Martin Scorsese's adaptation of the children's book The Invention of Hugo Cabret. Cast includes Sasha Baron-Cohen and Jude Law.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in-studio performance and interview with British singer/songwriter NICK LOWE. His best known songs include (What's So Funny 'Bout) Peace, Love and Understanding, Cruel to be Kind, and The Beast in Me (which Johnny Cash recorded). LOWE's new album is The Old Magic. In the early 1970s LOWE played London's pub rock scene in the band Brinsley Schwarz. After the band broke up in 1975, he produced five albums for Elvis Costello. Lowe worked with Dave Edmunds in and the group Rockpile. In 1992 he was one quarter of the band "Little Village" with John Hiatt and Ry Cooder. Since 1994 he's released a number of solo albums. (THIS PERFORMANCE CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW. Original airdate: 9/15/2011).
Interview with Jay-Z; Review of the album "Iron Butterfly November 25, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462382].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rap star and entrepreneur JAY Z. He is one of the most financially successful hip-hop artists and entrepreneurs in the U.S. The thirteeen-time Grammy award-winner's book Decoded, about his music and his life, is now out in paperback. His latest album is Watch the Throne, in collaboration with Kanye West. The two are currently on a US tour to promote the disc. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 11/16/10). (2.) Rock historian Milo Miles reviews the 1960s psychedelic rock concert album Iron Butterfly: Fillmore East 1968.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and singer DANNY BURSTEIN. He stars in the current Broadway revival of Follies, Stephen Sondheim's hit 1971 musical. A new cast recording of Follies comes out on November 29th. Burstein's Broadway credits include Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown and South Pacific. He's won two Tony Awards for his work onstage. He also had a recurring role in the HBO series Boardwalk Empire, he appeared in the FX TV show Louie, and he had roles on episodes of Law & Order. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Tim Arango; Interview with Michio Kaku; Review of P.D. James' novel "Death Comes to Pemberley." November 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462164].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TIM ARANGO is Baghdad Bureau Chief for The New York Times. He talks about the future of Iraq and what's likely to happen after the U.S. troops pull out in December. ARANGO formerly was with the paper's media desk. (2.) MICHIO KAKU (Mich-EE-oh Kaw-KOO) is a professor of theoretical physics at the City University of New York and cofounder of spring field theory. His new book is Physics of The Future: How Science Will Shape Human Destiny and Our Daily Lives by the Year 2100. (Doubleday). He is also the author of a number of bestselling books including Hyperspace and Physics of the Impossible. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Death Comes to Pemberley the new mystery novel by the 91 year old P.D. James that is "Pride and Prejudice meets 'Clue.'"

Interview with Jeffrey Rosen; Review of Buck Owens' album "Bound for Bakersfield '53-'56." November 30, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462393].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Law expert JEFFREY ROSEN. He is a professor of law at the George Washington University, a legal editor for the New Republic and a non-resident senior fellow at the Brookings Institution. He is co-editor of the new book Constitution 3.0: Freedom and Technological Change (Brookings Institution Press). He is also author of the book The Supreme Court: The Personalities and Rivalries that Defined America. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Buck Owens: Bound for Bakersfield, a new collection of recordings by country singer Owens from the 1950s before he was a star.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Sports journalist JOHN FEINSTEIN ("Fine-STEEN") is a familiar NPR presence. He has been a commentator on Morning Edition, and a regular on ESPN. He spent years on the staff at the Washington Post, and wrote for Sports Illustrated. He's written a number of books. His first A Season on the Brink: A Year with Bob Knight and the Indiana Hoosiers, is the bestselling sports book of all time. His new book is One on One: Behind the Scenes with the Greats in the Game. He's also the author of A Good Walk Spoiled: Days and Nights on the PGA Tour. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) TV critic
DAVID BIANCULLI evaluates the paths that the shows Dexter, The Walking Dead, The Good Wife, and American Horror Story are taking.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember the great jazz drummer PAUL MOTIAN (like 'motion'), beginning with our jazz critic Kevin Whitehead's 2010 review of Motian's album Lost in a Dream. (Original airdate: April 8, 2010) (2.) We listen back to Terry's 2006 interview with PAUL MOTIAN. He's been called "one of the greatest jazz drummers in all of jazz" (Ben Ratliff of The New York Times). MOTIAN died last week (Tues, Nov 22nd) at the age of 80 from complications of myelodysplastic syndrome, a blood and bone-marrow disorder. MOTIAN played in many different settings, most notably with the Bill Evans trio with bassist Scott LaFaro. Their recordings include the classics 'Sunday at the Village Vanguard' and 'Portrait of Jazz.' MOTIAN also played with Thelonious Monk, Lee Konitz, Paul Bley, and had a long collaboration with Keith Jarrett. More recently he played with three of his own groups: his trio with guitarist Bill Frisell and saxophonist Joe Lovano; Trio 2000 + 1, with the bassist Larry Grenadier and the saxophonist Chris Potter (plus Japanese pianist Masabumi Kikuchi) and the Paul Motian Band which includes three guitarists, two tenor saxophonists, bass and drums. Terry talked with him in 2006 when the recording 'Garden of Eden' (on the ECM label) featuring the Paul Motian Band came out. (REBROADCAST from 3.13.2006). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two films with actor Michael Fassbender now in theaters: Shame, which garnered an NC-17 rating, and A Dangerous Method, directed by David Cronenberg.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PHILIP GALANES [guh-LAH-ness] writes Social Q's, a weekly etiquette column for the Sunday Style section of the New York Times, and has a new book: Social Q's: How to Survive the Quirks, Quandaries and Quagmires of Today. He addresses politesse in the digital age; for example, whether it is proper to update your Facebook status at a restaurant. Galanes is also an entertainment lawyer who lives in East Hampton and New York City. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new Willem de Kooning exhibit at the Museum of Modern Art.

Interview with Dustin Lance Black; Review of DVD "Jazz Icons." December 6, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462223].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter, producer, and director DUSTIN LANCE BLACK. He wrote the screenplay for the new film J. Edgar about the former long-time head of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover. BLACK also wrote the Academy Award winning screenplay for the film Milk about the late gay civil rights activist Harvey Milk. And he was a writer and producer for HBO's Big Love. He drew on his experiences growing up Mormon. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new DVD Jazz Icons (by Mosaic) a box set of American jazz musicians performing in Europe between 1959 and 1973. The six DVD set includes performances by Art Blakey, John Coltrane, Johnny Griffin, Freddie Hubbard, Rahsaan Roland Kirk, and Thelonious Monk.

Interview with Christopher Kimball and Bridget Lancaster; Commentary on Geoff Nunberg's word of the year. December 7, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461986].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Chef, founder, editor and publisher CHRISTOPHER KIMBALL of Cook's Illustrated and Cook's Country magazines. Also chef and food editor BRIDGET LANCASTER who is responsible for all recipe testing and development in Cook's Country. She is also the on-screen test cook for the shows America's Test Kitchen and Cook's Country from America's Test Kitchen. There's a new Cook's Illustrated Cookbook. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the word of the year.
Interview with Karen Tumulty; Review of The Black Keys' album "El Camino." December 8, 2011.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885448].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist KAREN TUMULTY is national political correspondent for the Washington Post. She'll discuss the political and entrepreneurial career of Newt Gingrich and his presidential ambitions. She's been covering him since the 1980s. In fact she wrote the 1995 Time magazine Man of the Year cover story about Gingrich. In 1994 under the leadership of Gingrich the Republicans took over the House of Representatives, for the first time in 40 years. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews El Camino the new album by The Black Keys.

Obituary for Howard Tate; Interview with Werner Herzog; Review of film "Tinker, Tailor, Soldier, Spy." December 9, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461984].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) We remember rhythm and blues singer HOWARD TATE. He died Friday, December 2nd at the age of 72. TATE made a comeback after nearly thirty years. His hits in the 60's - produced by JERRY RAGOVOY (who is also in the interview) - included 'Get It While You Can,' 'Stop,' 'Ain't Nobody Home,' and 'Look at Granny Run.' But bad record deals, the demands of touring, and tragedy in his personal life took their toll on TATE. He developed a drug habit and disappeared from view. Eventually he kicked his drug habit and became a pastor. Back with his producer RAGOVOY, the two collaborated on the 2003 album 'Rediscovered' (RCA). It included a track written for him by Elvis Costello, a longtime fan. RAGOVOY died earlier this year. (REBROADCAST from 10.27.03) 2.) Legendary German filmmaker WERNER HERZOG. His film Cave of Forgotten Dreams, is now out on DVD and Blu-ray. It's a documentary about the Chauvet Cave in the south of France which contains drawings 32,000 years old. The released film was shot in 3D. The film crew had to use special lights that emitted no heat, and could only film for a few hours at a time because of very high levels of carbon dioxide. Herzog is associated with the German New Wave film movement. He's produced, written and directed more than 40 films, including Rescue Dawn based on his 1997 documentary Little Dieter Needs to Fly, Grizzly Man, Wings of Interview with Tom Mueller; Interview with Michael C. Hall. December 12, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462109].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TOM MUELLER. His new book is Extra Virginity: The Sublime and Scandalous World of Olive Oil (W.W. Norton). The book was borne of an investigative article published in the New Yorker magazine exposing olive oil fraud. MUELLER also takes a look at the production and use of the ancient cooking lubricant. MUELLER writes for the New Yorker and other publications. (2.) Actor MICHAEL C. HALL. He's starred as Dexter, the serial killer who murders other serial killers in the Showtime drama Dexter, for which he won a Golden Globe and a Screen Actors Guild Award. Previously HALL co-starred as the undertaker in the family business in HBO's Six Feet Under. (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, writer, producer and actor LOUIS CK. He writes, produces and stars in the hit FX comedy series Louie, which has been picked up for a third season. CK just released Live at the Beacon Theater, an online-only standup special available for {dollar}5 on his website, ( https://buy.louisck.net/ ) CK frequently performs live, and his show is based on real life events. He was the screenwriter for the feature films Pootie Tang, Down to Earth and I Think I Love My Wife. Prior to the current TV series, CK also wrote and starred in the HBO sitcom Lucky Louie. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist BEN ELGIN with Bloomberg News. He's been writing a series of articles about western companies that sell surveillance technology to repressive regimes in Iran, Syria, and Bahrain. These regimes are using the technology to monitor and intercept emails, text messages and cell phone calls of their citizens. There's currently a bill in the U.S. House of Representatives which would stop the sale of surveillance technologies to repressive regimes by American companies. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new box set of recordings by trumpeter Dave Douglas Three Views (Greenleaf music), featuring him with three very different quintets. They were originally released as downloads. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN tells us about her pick for the best books of 2011.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Puppeteer KEVIN CLASH. He's the subject of the new documentary film Being Elmo. CLASH is the person behind Sesame Street's Elmo, who he describes as a "little red monster, about three years old who has a lot of energy, loves hugs and kisses and to laugh." CLASH grew up in Baltimore and as a kid dreamed of working with his idol Jim Henson. He is Sesame Street's Senior Puppet Coordinator and Muppet Captain as well as Sesame Workshop's Senior Creative Consultant. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music preservationist JOSH KUN ("Koon") co-producer of the new CD collection Songs for the Jewish-American Jet Set: The Tikva Records Story 1950-1973. Tikva records was an independent record label launched in the late 1940s that specialized in the music of the Jewish modern diaspora and included everything from folk to garage rock, to klezmer, Israeli funk, and humor. KUN is also the co-author of And You Shall Know Us By The Trail of Our Vinyl: The Jewish Past as Told by the Records We Have Loved and Lost (Crown Publishers).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JENNIFER HOMANS is the dance critic for The New Republic. Her book Apollo's Angels: A Comprehensive History Of Ballet is now out in paperback. Homans is a former dancer. She performed with the Chicago Lyric Opera Ballet, the San Francisco Ballet and the Pacific Northwest Ballet. As a Distinguished Scholar in Residence, Homans teaches the history of dance at New York University. Homans trained at the School of American Ballet in New York, and was the wife of the historian Tony Judt, who died last year. (REBROADCAST from 12/13/2010) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews three new collections of recordings of German conductor Wilhelm Furtwangler [VIL-helm FOORT-vengler] for many years the music director of the Berlin Philharmonic. The three sets are on the EMI label: Wagner's complete Ring Cycle, The Great EMI Recordings and Wilhelm Furtwangler: The Legacy. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Mission Impossible: Ghost Protocol.

Interview with Trent Reznor; Commentary on the band Left Banke. December 19, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462294].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician and composer TRENT REZNOR, of the band Nine Inch Nails. He's recently made a name for himself writing film scores. He and Atticus Ross won an Oscar for their score for The Social Network. The two have collaborated on the score for US film adaptation of the novel The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo. Reznor's independent label, The Null Corporation, released both soundtracks. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD profiles
The Left Banke, a one-plus hit wonder New York band that created the sixties hits Walk Away Renee and Pretty Ballerina. There is a CD from Sundazed Records called Walk Away Renee/Pretty Ballerina.

Interview with David Bianculli; Review of popular music in 2011; Commentary on "The Chitlin' Circuit." December 20, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462320].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Our TV critic and frequent guest host DAVID BIANCULLI joins us for a year-end wrap up. He'll list the ten best shows and the five worst ones, and we'll talk about trends in television. David's website is www.tvworthwatching.com, and he teaches at Rowan University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER looks at the year in popular music. (3.) ED WARD remembers The Chitlin Circuit ? a touring circuit that provided a means for black musicians to perform in segregated American cities in the years before the Civil Rights Movement.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times Beirut Bureau Chief ANTHONY SHADID (shah-DEED) will talk about the Arab uprisings that have occurred in the Middle East over the past year. SHADID has reported from Egypt, Tunisia, Syria, Bahrain and Libya and was one of four reporters briefly captured by Col. Gaddafi's forces in March. He was released after six days. SHADID has won the Pulitzer Prize for International reporting twice: once in 2004 and again in 2010. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) MILO MILES reviews a new collection of vintage recordings from the West African singer and bandleader El Rego [REG-oh]. The collection, 'El Rego,' is on Daptone Records.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Our film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reveals his top ten films of 2011, as well as which movies to watch out for this holiday season, and which to avoid. David is also film critic for New York Magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) We'll hear from BILL RUDMAN and KEN BLOOM, the producers of the new album 'Hugh Martin: Hidden Treasures,' a collection of rare and demo recordings of the late Hugh Martin. Hugh Martin, the songwriter and lyricist, died last March at the age of 96.

Obituary for Wayne Scott; Concert by Rebecca Kilgore. December 23, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462322].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country musicians DARRELL SCOTT and WAYNE SCOTT. Wayne is the father and Darrell is his son. On November 18, 2011, Wayne was killed in a car crash. In 2005, Darrell inspired his father to record his own album of original songs called 'This Weary Way.' The elder Scott was 71 when his debut album was released. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 7/3/2006) (2.) We catch up with DARRELL SCOTT for an update on his life since his father's passing. (3.) Singer REBECCA KILGORE closes the show with two holiday songs: I'll Be Home for Christmas, and Santa Claus Blues.

Interview with Tom Waits; Interview with Jimmy Fallon. December 26, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462407].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and Songwriter TOM WAITS. His latest album Bad As Me is his first album of original music in seven years. Many of the songs on it are ballads, and Keith Richards joins him on two of the songs. Since the 1973 release of WAITS' first album, 'Closing Time,' Waits has won over fans with his original songwriting and distinctive, gravely vocal style. One reviewer calls Waits 'the Ultimate hobo boho, a Jack-in-the-box cum storyteller.' Musicians including Johnny Cash, Bruce Springsteen, and Rod Stewart have recorded covers of his songs. He was inducted into the Rock 'n Roll Hall of Fame this year. He has also acted in films, including Sylvester Stallone's 'Paradise Alley,' Jim Jarmusch's 'Down By Law,' and Robert Altman's 'Short Cuts.' (REBROADCAST from 10.31.11) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JIMMY FALLON is a former cast member of Saturday Night Live (1998-2004) and the host of Late Night with Jimmy Fallon on NBC. He's become known for doing celebratory music sketches in the vein of the hit TV show Glee on the show and for his enthusiasm, goofy good-natured humor, and lack of snarkiness. His recent book collects the thank you notes segment from the show, Thank You Notes. (Hachette book group) (REBROADCAST from 5.23.11)

Interview with Margo Martindale; Interview with Aaron Paul. December 27, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462312].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MARGO MARTINDALE won an Emmy this year for her role as Mags Bennett, the powerful and cruel matriarch of an Appalachian family involved in weed dealing in the FX series Justified. MARTINDALE's other credits include a recurring stint in a 1970s Downy fabric softener commercial, an early TV appearance in the CBS miniseries, Lonesome Dove, was Susan Sarandon's fellow nun in Dead Man Walking, earned a Tony nomination for her role as Big Mama in a 2004 revival of Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, played Hilary Swank's selfish mother in Million Dollar Baby, had a recurring role as Camilla Figg in the first three seasons of Dexter, and played the neighbor Nina Burns on the FX series The Riches. MARTINDALE was born and raised in Jacksonville, Texas. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/12/11) (2.) Actor AARON PAUL. He co-stars as Jesse Pinkman, a meth dealer in the AMC cable TV series Breaking Bad, which just wrapped up its fourth season. Paul was also in the HBO series Big Love. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/19/11)

Interview with Danny Burstein; Interview with Maurice Sendak. December 29, 2011. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462409].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and singer DANNY BURSTEIN. He stars in the current Broadway revival of Follies, Stephen Sondheim's hit 1971 musical. A new cast recording of Follies came out on November 29th. Burstein's
Broadway credits include Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown and South Pacific. He's won two Tony Awards for his work onstage. He also had a recurring role in the HBO series Boardwalk Empire, he appeared in the FX TV show Louie, and he had roles on episodes of Law & Order. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/28/11. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Children's book author and illustrator MAURICE SENDAK. His new book is Bumble-Ardy (Michael di Capua Books/Harper Collins). The book evolved from an animated segment on Sesame Street. SENDAK's other books include Where the Wild Things Are, In the Night Kitchen, and Outside Over There. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/20/11)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MATT STONE and TREY PARKER are co-creators of the popular satirical animated series SouthPark on Comedy Central. They're known for sparking controversy by poking fun at just about everyone. STONE AND PARKER teamed up with Robert Lopez, the composer of the hit Broadway musical Avenue Q, to write the Broadway musical The Book of Mormon. The show is a critically acclaimed hit, winning nine Tony awards this year, including Best Musical, Best Original Score and Best Book of a Musical. The Book of Mormon, which was nominated for a total of 14 awards, also won for sound, lighting, direction, orchestration, set design and actress in a featured role. The cast recording is available as well. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/19/11) (2.) STEPHEN COLBERT, host of The Colbert Report. He appeared on this year's Tony Awards broadcast, performing in a chorus line behind Neal Patrick Harris as part of Stephen Sondheim's hit Broadway show Company. Colbert was live on stage with Company, which has been made into a feature length film. For more information on The Colbert Report, which airs nightly on Comedy Central: http://www.colbertnation.com/home. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 6/14/11)
Interview with Seth MacFarlane; Interview with Louis C.K. January 2, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462111].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Animator, producer and singer SETH MACFARLANE. While he's best known as the creator of the hit animated shows Family Guy, American Dad and The Cleveland Show, he's just launched a career as a crooner with the new album Music is Better Than Words. MacFarlane does a blockbuster job singing obscure selections from the American popular songbook, including It's Anybody's Spring, The Sadder But Wiser Girl, and The Night They Invented Champagne. MacFarlane also does some of the voices for his Emmy Award winning shows. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE 10/17/11) (2.) Comedian, writer, producer and actor LOUIS CK. He writes, produces and stars in the hit FX comedy series Louie, which has been picked up for a third season. CK just released Live at the Beacon Theater, an online-only standup special available for $5 on his website, (https://buy.louisck.net/) CK frequently performs live, and his show is based on real life events. He was the screenwriter for the feature films Pootie Tang, Down to Earth and I Think I Love My Wife. Prior to the current TV series, CK also wrote and starred in the HBO sitcom Lucky Louie. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE 12/13/11)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author KITTY FERGUSON. Her new book is Stephen Hawking: An Unfettered Mind. She also wrote Stephen Hawking: A Quest For The Theory Of Everything, the 1991 biography that became an international bestseller. After being diagnosed with Lou Gehrig's disease, Hawking was told that he would not live past his 20s, yet this month he turns 70. In spite of being almost totally paralyzed, Hawking is celebrated for his remarkable contributions to cosmology and theoretical physics. Ferguson has written and lectured about science for over two decades. Her other books include The Fire in the Equations and The Music of Pythagoras.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews New York Diaries, an anthology of diaries by New Yorkers spanning four decades.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress PAMELA ADLON. She currently stars as Marcy Runkle in Showtime's Californication (Season 5 of the series will premiere Sunday, Jan 8) and as Pamela on Louie (and is also one of the show's producers). ALDON is best known for providing the voice of Bobby Hill on the animated series King of the Hill (for which she won an Emmy). She previously co-starred with Louis C.K. in his canceled HBO sitcom Lucky Louie. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

1.) FRED ARMISEN (of Saturday Night Live) and CARRIE BROWNSTEIN (vocalist/guitarist for Sleater Kinney and Wild Flag) are the co-creators, writers and stars of the IFC comedy series Portlandia (Season two begins Jan 6). The series is shot on location in Portland, Oregon and spoofs a certain subsection of America: the hipster, do-it-yourself, creative, organic food eating, and politically correct. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Back to Love the new CD by soul singer Anthony Hamilton of North Carolina.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember singer BARBARA LEA who died December 26th at the age of 82 from complications of Alzheimer's disease. We rebroadcast an excerpt of her 1991 performance in the Fresh Air studio to celebrate the centenary of Cole Porter's birth. LEA was known for her straightforward interpretation of songs, and her careful attention to the intention of the composer and lyricist. She had a repertoire of 3000 songs from the great American songbook. She got her start in the 1950s singing in clubs. Her first album was A Woman in Love was released in 1955 and was named one of the finest recordings of the year. (REBROADCAST from 6/7/91) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close, based on the novel by John Safran Foer. (3.) Comedian, writer and actress TINA FEY. Her memoir Bossypants is now out in paperback. FEY is former head writer for Saturday Night Live. With John McCain's nomination of Sarah Palin as vice presidential candidate, FEY was handed a just about a once in a lifetime chance at impersonation, because of her resemblance to the candidate. FEY returned as a guest star to SNL to play Palin. She created, stars in, and writes many episodes for her Emmy award winning show '30 Rock,' which celebrated its 100th episode last year. (REBROADCAST from 4/13/2011) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews some of the new shows, and the return of several TV series that comes with the New Year: NBC's The Firm based on the John Grisham book; Showtime's House of Lies starring Don Cheadle and the return of Californication. And the return of Masterpiece Theatre's Downton Abbey on PBS.

Interview with Susan Orlean; Commentary on the Dore Records label. January 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462057].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SUSAN ORLEAN, author of the new book 'Rin Tin Tin: The Life and the Legend.' It's a biography of the famous canine star of television and screen. ORLEAN tells the story of a pup found in the wreckage of a dog kennel during WWI by a man named Lee Duncan, who would bring Rin Tin Tin back to his home in California and convince Warner Brothers Studios to put the dog in silent films. Rin Tin Tin would go on to star in 23 silent films (saving the studio from bankruptcy in the process) and descendents of the dog would continue his legacy in talkies, radio programs and the popular television show 'The Adventures of Rin-Tin-Tin.' ORLEAN has been a staff writer on the New Yorker since 1992 and is also author of 'Saturday Night' and 'The Orchid Thief,' which was made into the film 'Adaptation.' (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES; THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD remembers the Dore? record label. Ace records recently released the collection 'Dore?: The Dore? Story, 1958-1964.'
Interview with Jodi Kantor; Review of the television show "CBS This Morning." January 10, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461405].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JODI KANTOR is Washington Correspondent for The New York Times and author of the new book The Obamas (Little, Brown & Co) about Barack and Michelle Obama. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the revamped CBS This Morning, with new hosts that include Charlie Rose and Gayle King.

Interview with Matthew Aid; Review of Francois Houle and Benoit Delbecq's album "Because She Hoped"; Review of Shalom Auslander's novel "Hope January 11, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462325].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Espionage historian MATTHEW AID is the author of Intel Wars: the Secret History of the Fight Against Terror (Bloomsbury Press). It's about the massive expansion of the military intelligence complex since 9/11. AID is also author of The Secret Sentry about the National Security Agency. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Because She Hoped (songlines) the new duo CD by clarinetist Francois Houle and pianist Benoit Delbecq. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Hope: A Tragedy, the debut Novel by Shalom Auslander.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actor GARY OLDMAN. He's been described as one of the greatest actors never nominated for an Academy Award. He's currently starring as spy George Smiley in the new film Tinker, Taylor, Soldier, Spy. His other roles include Count Dracula in Dracula (1992); Sid Vicious in Sid & Nancy (1986); Joe Orton in Prick Up Your Ears (1987); Siruis Black in the Harry Potter films, and James Gordon in the Batman trilogy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Country Side of Bluegrass, the new album from Janie Fricke. (3.) JOHN SEABROOK is a staff writer for The New Yorker. He writes in the January 16th edition about YouTube's plans to present professionally produced content over as many as 100 different web-based channels. (Annals of Technology: Streaming Dreams; YouTube turns pro). Some of the proposed content include a Uno Dos Tres, an urban channel for Latin American young adults; a dance channel developed by Madonna and her manager Guy Oseary; a channel called Smart Girls at the Party created by Amy Poehler; channels by The Onion, Wall Street Journal, and many more. (http://www.newyorker.com/reporting/2012/01/16/120116fa_fact_seabrook) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Moyers & Company, Bill Moyers' new PBS series, and mentions Moyers' guest spot on The Colbert Report this week.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor TIMOTHY OLYPHANT. He stars as U.S Marshal Raylan Givens in the FX series Justified, which begins season 3 on January 17 at 10 PM. You may also know Olyphant from a few other TV shows, including Deadwood, The Office, and Damages. He's also had roles in many films, including Live Free or Die Hard, The Girl Next Door and Dreamcatcher. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 3/28/11) (2.) Actor WALTON GOGGINS. He plays a white supremacist named Boyd Crowder on the FX series Justified, which begins its third season on January 17th. Goggins was promoted to a series regular after occupying a frequent guest slot on the show. Goggins was also on the acclaimed series The Shield. Justified was the most watched series premiere in the network's history. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 5/26/10) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Iron Lady, starring Meryl Streep as British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHELLE ALEXANDER has just published The New Jim Crow: Mass Incarceration in the Age of Colorblindness. The law professor and civil rights advocate holds a joint appointment at the Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity and The Moritz College of Law at Ohio State University. Previously, she was director for the Racial Justice Project of the ACLU of Northern California and a former Supreme Court Law Clerk. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the season three opener of Justified, and the new Fox series Alcatraz, created by JJ Abrams.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) AVAD AKHTAR has just published his debut Novel, American Dervish. It's set in Milwaukee in the 1980s, and narrated by a Pakistani-American boy. It's about tensions within the Muslim community and the narrator's own family. A first-generation Pakistani-American from Milwaukee himself, Akhtar is an actor, playwright and screenwriter based in New York City. He appeared in the HBO movie Too Big to Fail. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews A Separation, an Iranian film about a family faced with a difficult decision.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) NICHOLAS MONEY, a professor of botany at Miami University and an expert on the mechanisms of fungal growth and development. He'll talk about the biology of mushrooms, as well as their history, cultural legacy and medicinal uses. His new book is called 'Mushroom.' (Oxford University Press.) (2.) Actor MICHAEL FASSBENDER. He starred in three films last year: Shame (as a sex addict); A Dangerous Method (as Carl Jung); Jane Eyre (as Mr. Rochester); X-Men: First Class (as a mutant villain). His other films include Inglorious Bastards, Fish Tank, and Hunger. He also had a role in the HBO World War II series Band of Brothers. FASSBENDER was born in Germany but raised in Ireland. His mother is Irish and his father, German.

Interview with Michael Kranish and Scott Helman; Review of the film "Miss Bala." January 19, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462453].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists MICHAEL KRANISH and SCOTT HELMAN. The two have collaborated on the new book about the front-runner for the 2012 Republican presidential nomination, Mitt Romney. Their book is The Real Romney (Harper). The book is based on five years of reporting and hundreds of interviews. KRANISH is deputy chief of the Washington Bureau of The Boston Globe, and has been a congressional reporter, White House correspondent and national political reporter. HELMAN is a staff writer for The Boston Globe and was previously the paper's political editor, national political reporter and was the lead writer on the 2008 Presidential campaign. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new film Miss Bala by the young Mexican filmmaker Gerardo Naranjo, about a young beauty inadvertently caught up in the drug war. POWERS says "the soul of the film is her fear."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember bandleader, singer, songwriter, and talent scout JOHNNY OTIS. He died Tuesday at the age of 90. His musical career spanned the big band era, rhythm and blues, and rock and roll. In the 40's he played and traveled with the big bands, with the Ink Spots and Louis Jordan. Later, with a pared down band, he was on the forefront of the rhythm and blues. He's credited with discovering Etta James, Big Mama Thorton, Jackie Wilson and Ernestine Anderson. His songwriting hits include "Willie and the Hand Jive," "Roll with Me Henry," and "Every Beat of My Heart." (REBROADCAST from 11/21/89) (2.) Actor BRAD PITT. He stars in the new film Moneyball, based on Michael Lewis' baseball bestseller of the same name. It's directed by Bennett Miller. It's now out on DVD. He got his start in the 1991 film Thelma & Louise, and went on to star in hits including A River Runs Through It, Mr. & Mrs. Smith, Fight Club, Oceans Eleven, and Twelve Monkeys, for which he won a Golden Globe award. (REBROADCAST from 9/22/11) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Coriolanus, the new film based on Shakespeare's tragedy. Ralph Fiennes stars and directs in it.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CULLEN MURPHY is the author of the new book In God's Jury: The Inquisition and the Making of the Modern World (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt). He explores the different inquisitions that have come and gone beginning with the first one established by the Catholic church in 1231. MURPHY is the editor at large of Vanity Fair and the former managing editor of the Atlantic Monthly. He is also the author of Are We Rome? (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PAUL BARRETT is the author of Glock: The Rise of America's Gun about how the pistol developed by an unknown engineer in Austria became gun of use by criminals and law enforcement in the U.S. The Glock has found its way into American culture: into films, TV and rap lyrics. It was invented by engineer Gaston Glock in 1982. It's sleek, easy to use, and fast-firing (carrying a 17-round magazine, compared to the six round cylinder of the Smith & Wesson .38 revolver). BARRETT is an assistant managing editor of Bloomberg Businessweek. He covered allegation of Glock's financial and managerial irregularities in a series of articles for the magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW RUNS THE LENGTH OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, executive producer, writer DAVID MILCH. He first made a name for himself with the 1980s TV show he created, Hill Street Blues, and later NYPD Blue. His HBO series Deadwood, a western set in Deadwood, South Dakota in the late 1800s was full of Shakespearean style language liberally laced with profanity. MILCH's new series Luck is set in the world of horse racing, and premieres on HBO Sunday. It stars Dustin Hoffman. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the new complete works of The Smiths. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Touch the new FOX series starring Kiefer Sutherland.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHAEL GRABELL ("GRAY-BELL") is an investigative reporter for Propublica. In his new book he examines the impact of the stimulus package - the "American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009" - put forward by the Obama administration. His new book is Money Spent Well: the Truth Behind the Trillion-dollar Stimulus, the Biggest Economic Recovery Plan in History." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Monk Project by trumpeter Jimmy Owens. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Albert Nobbs, the new film in which Glenn Close stars as a man, playing a waiter in a high-toned hotel in the early 1900s.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director/writer WOODY ALLEN. His latest film Midnight in Paris, has been nominated for an Oscar for Best Picture. It's also his most popular film yet. ALLEN'S been making films for over forty years. He made his first film, 'What's Up Tiger Lily?' in 1966. Some of his most beloved films include 'Play It Again Sam,' 'Annie Hall,' 'Manhattan,' 'Hannah & Her Sisters' and 'Radio Days.' (REBROADCAST from 6.15.09) (2.) We remember blues and R&B singer ETTA JAMES. She died last week at the age of 73 from complications of leukemia. JAMES was a teenager when she was discovered by bandleader/talent scout Johnny Otis (he died last week) who helped her record her first single, "Dance with Me Henry." Her career took off in the sixties. She had a string of hits with Chess Records, including "At Last," "All I Could Do Was Cry," and "Trust Me." She later battled a drug addiction. Although JAMES mostly sang R&B, she won a Grammy in 1995 for her album "Mystery Lady," on which she covered songs by her favorite jazz singer, Billie Holiday. (REBROADCAST from 8.24.94) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews David MILCH's new HBO series "Luck" about horse racing.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, composer, actor STEW (otherwise known as Mark Stewart). He leads the bands the Negro Problem and the self-titled band Stew with his long-time co-songwriter and bass player Heidi Rodewald. They created the Tony Award-winning Passing Strange a comical and fictional portrait of the artist as a young man. The two continue to collaborate despite their romantic breakup. The new album by the Negro Problem is Making It and is in part about their breakup. STEW is also known for having written the popular song Gary Come Home for SpongeBob SquarePants. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews An Available Man the new Novel by Hilma Wolitzer.

Description of show segment(s)

1. Journalist JOE HAGAN is a contributing editor at New York magazine and Vanity Fair magazine. He writes about Super-pacs in the current edition of New York Magazine. His article is The Coming Tsunami of Slime: How Super-pacs, vulnerable candidates, and armies of mercenaries will converge to create the ugliest campaign ever. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) 2. Today is the 75th birthday of composer Philip Glass. We mark the occasion by playing back an excerpt of the interview IRA GLASS host of This American Life did with PHILIP GLASS (his cousin) recorded on-stage in Chicago. (REBROADCAST from 9.21.1999) 3. Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Leonard Cohen's new album Old Ideas.

Interview with Baratunde Thurston. February 1, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462412].

Description of show segment(s)

1. BARATUNDE THURSTON is a standup comic, Director of Digital for The Onion, co-founder of the black political blog Jack and Jill Politics and a prolific tweeter. He was named Foursquare Mayor of the Year for holding a real-world rally to defend his virtual mayorship. And every year he live "hate-tweets" the Twilight movies to his 100,000+ Twitter followers. He's written a new memoir (that's part memoir, part satirical self-help), How To Be Black (Harper Collins). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Juliet Eilperin; Review of Lana Del Ray's album "Born to Die"; Interview with Neil Meron and Craig Zadan; Review of books about unemployment. February 2, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462416].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Journalist JULIET EILPERIN is National Environmental Reporter for the Washington Post. She writes about the failures of green technology in the new article Why the Clean Tech Boom Went Bust in Wired Magazine. (published online Jan 20, 2012). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews singer-
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer WILL REISER and actor JOSEPH GORDON-LEVITT. REISER wrote the film romantic comedy 50/50 and GORDON-LEVITT stars in it. It's now out on DVD. The film is loosely based on REISER's experience six years ago being diagnosed with spinal cancer at the age of 24. At that time he was a writer on the British import comedy series Da Ali G Show, along with Seth Rogen (who also stars in 50/50). GORDON-LEVITT is best known for his role in the NBC comedy series 3rd Rock from the Sun. His first major film role was in A River Runs Through It. His other films include Spike Lee's World War II drama Miracle at St. Anna, (500) Days of Summer with Zooey Deschanel, and Inception. (REBROADCAST from 9.28.11). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells the story of Rick Hall's Fame Studios in Muscle Shoals, Alabama.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MERYL STREEP. She's currently starring as Margaret Thatcher in the new film The Iron Lady and has been nominated for an Academy Award. STREEP first became noticed in the late 70s,

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times science reporter WILLIAM BROAD talks about his new book 'The Science of Yoga: Risks and the Rewards' (Simon & Schuster). BROAD says there are physical dangers to practicing yoga, such as moves that can maim or even unwittingly kill a person?but that there are also surprising benefits like improved mood and sexual performance. BROAD is a senior writer at the New York Times and has twice shared a Pulitzer Prize with colleagues at the Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the two new albums featuring jazz drummer Matt Wilson, 'An Attitude for Gratitude' (Palmetto Records) with his Arts & Crafts quartet and "The Guest House" (enja/yellowbird) with his Trio M.

Interview with Katherine Boo; Review of Chuck Prophet's album "Temple Beautiful"; Interview with Donald Hall; Review of DVD releases of television shows "The David Susskind Show" and "Caesar's Writers." February 8, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462489].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KATHERINE BOO is a staff writer at The New Yorker whose writing focuses on issues of poverty, opportunity, social and economic policy, and education. In 2000, she received the Pulitzer Prize for Public Service, and, in 2002, she was awarded a MacArthur fellowship, in recognition of her body of work on the disadvantaged. She spent three and a half years in a slum of Mumbai for her new book, Behind the Beautiful Forevers: Life, Death, and Hope in a Mumbai Undercity (Random). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album Temple Beautiful by Chuck Prophet.
(3.) Poet DONALD HALL. He is a former Poet Laureate who has written numerous collections of poetry, He's also written books of prose and children's books. He's 83 and lives in a farmhouse in Danbury, New Hampshire. He writes about getting older in a piece in The New Yorker (Jan,23, 2012) Personal History:
Out the Window: The View in Winter. (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews some first-time DVD releases of some vintage TV shows: The David Susskind Show, a syndicated talk show that was on the air for 28 years, and Caesar's Writers, which features the writers who worked with Sid Caesar: Carl Reiner, Neil Simon and his brother Danny, Larry Gelbart, Mel Brooks, and even Caesar himself talking about their work together.

[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462165].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) WAEL GHONIM ("WYLE GO-NEEM") is a cyberactivist who helped organize the protests that led to the Egyptian revolution with the anonymous face book page he started. Once police found out who he was he was arrested and interrogated. He has a new memoir Revolution 2.0: The Power of the People is Greater Than the People in Power. GHONIM received a 2011 John F. Kennedy Profile in Courage Award. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the debut novel Girlchild (FSG) by Tupelo Hassman ("TOOP-ah-lo HASS-man") a coming of age story of a young girl who "chronicles the life of the trailer park with an insider's knowledge and an anthropologist's detachment."

Interview with Steve James and Ameena Matthews; Review of the film "Safe House." February 10,
2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461892].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Documentary film maker STEVE JAMES, and former gang member AMEENA MATTHEWS.
JAMES directed and MATTHEWS appears in the film The Interrupters about three former gang members who are now part of an effort in Chicago to stop the cycle of violence. They are part of a program known as CeaseFire, the brainchild of epidemiologist Gary Slutkin who after ten years of battling the spread of cholera and AIDS in Africa, came to see that the spread of violence mimics that of infectious diseases. The film follows three "violence interrupters" who are all former gang members as they defuse and mediate altercations on the street. The Interrupters will be broadcast on PBS Feb 14th as part of the Frontline documentary series. JAMES also made the documentary Hoop Dreams about two young men in Chicago hoping to use baseketball as a ticket out of poverty and urban violence.  (REBROADCAST from 8.1.2011) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Safe House the new action film starring Denzel Washington as a rogue superagent.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KENNETH LONERGAN (LAW-ner-gan), the writer and director of the new film 'Margaret,' starring Anna Paquin, Mark Ruffalo, Matt Damon, Matthew Broderick and Rosemarie DeWitt. It's about a Manhattan teenager who tries to make sense of a bus accident that she may have caused, and resulted in a woman's death. 'Margaret' was shot in 2005, but its release was delayed by lawsuits over the film. LONERGAN also wrote and directed 'You Can Count on Me,' which came out in 2000 and was nominated for two Academy Awards. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A Door in the Ocean by David McGlynn.

---

Interview with Viola Davis; Interview with Bret McKenzie; Interview with Bret McKenzie and Jermaine Clement. February 13, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461898].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress VIOLA DAVIS. She's been nominated for an Academy Award for her portrayal of Aibileen, a maid in the 1960s era film The Help. It's her biggest film role to date. DAVIS comes from a stage background. She's won Tony Awards for her performances in King Hedley II (2001) and Fences (2010).
She can be seen in the films Extremely Loud & Incredibly Close, Doubt, Out of Sight, Traffic, Kate & Leopold, and Antwone Fisher. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Songwriter BRET McKENZIE will talk about writing original music for the film The Muppets. The song 'Man or Muppet,' is one of two songs nominated for Best Original Song at this year's Academy Awards. McKENZIE is one half of the New Zealand comedy folk duo 'Flight of the Conchords.' (3.) An excerpt of the Fresh Air interview with BRET McKENZIE and JERMAINE CLEMENT, who make up the comedic folk duo The Flight of the Conchords (originally broadcast June 14, 2007).

Interview with Tim Weiner. February 14, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462108].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter TIM WEINER (WINE-er) talks about his new book Enemies: A History of the FBI (Random House, Feb 14 2012). The book is based on more than 70,000 recently declassified documents. WEINER has won a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting on national security, and his previous book Legacy of Ashes: A History of the CIA, won the National Book Award.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novel and short story writer NATHAN ENGLANDER. His new collection of stories is What We Talk About When We Talk About Anne Frank (Knopf), which is based in part on growing up in an Orthodox Jewish family. He's also recently translated the New American Haggadah. ENGLANDER's short fiction has appeared in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, and numerous other anthologies. He is also the author of the Novel The Ministry of Special Cases. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews In Flight Entertainment the new collection of short stories by British writer Helen Simpson.
Interview with Josh Putnam; Interview with Stephen Sondheim. February 16, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971502886].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOSH PUTNAM is a visiting assistant professor of political science at Davidson College specializing in campaigns and elections. He writes the blog Frontloading HQ about the Presidential primary process: http://frontloading.blogspot.com/ (2.) We rebroadcast a portion of our 2010 interview with STEPHEN SONDHEIM which we first broadcast on the occasion of his 80th birthday. SONDHEIM's 1981 musical Merrily We Roll Along is currently being staged as part of the Encores! series of American musicals at New York City Center (thru February 19th). (REBROADCAST from 4.21.10).

Obituary for Anthony Shadid; Interview with Michelle Williams; Review of the film "Return." February 17, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462343].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember New York Times correspondent ANTHONY SHADID (shah-DEED), who died yesterday at age 43. Shadid was a frequent guest on Fresh Air, appearing a total of six times to talk about the Middle East. New York Times publisher Arthur Sulzberger called Shadid 'one of our generation's finest reporters' in a statement issued after Shadid's sudden death, which was brought about by an asthma attack. At the time Shadid was in Syria. He was reporting about an uprising against President Bashar al-Assad. At the time of Shadid's last visit to Fresh air in December 2011, he was the Times' Beirut Bureau Chief. He reported from Egypt, Tunisia, Syria, Bahrain and Libya, and was one of four reporters briefly captured by Col. Gaddafi's forces in March 2011. He was released after six days. SHADID won the Pulitzer Prize for International reporting twice: once in 2004 and again in 2010. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 12/21/11) (2.) Actress MICHELLE WILLIAMS. She's been nominated for an Oscar in the category of Best Performance by an Actress in a Leading role for her work in the film My Week With Marilyn. She began her career as a teenager on the WB TV series Dawson's Creek. She was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Supporting actress for her role in Brokeback Mountain. And she was nominated for Best Actress in the 2010 film Blue Valentine opposite Ryan Gosling about a marriage falling apart. Her other films include Synecdoche, New York, I'm Not There and Meek's Cutoff. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/14/11) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Return, directed by Liza Johnson. It's about a reservist, wife and mother who returns from a tour of duty in the Middle East.

Interview with Barry Blitt; Interview with Bret McKenzie. February 20, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462346].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BARRY BLITT has drawn some of the more memorable and controversial cover illustrations for The New Yorker, including one of Barack and Michelle Obama as terrorists. He tells us about those covers, and his illustrations for 'George Washington's Birthday: A Mostly True Tale,' a new children's book written by Margaret McNamara. Blitt also illustrates Frank Rich's column in the New York Times, and he's contributed to Rolling Stone, Entertainment Weekly and the Chicago Tribune. (2.) We present part two of our interview with songwriter BRET McKENZIE, who will talk about writing original music for the film The Muppets. The song 'Man or Muppet,' is one of two songs nominated for Best Original Song at this year's Academy Awards. McKENZIE is one half of the New Zealand comedy folk duo 'Flight of the Conchords.' Part one aired on Monday, February 13 2012.

Interview with Catherine Russell and Matt Munisteri. February 21, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462345].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz singer CATHERINE RUSSELL is with us in our studio with guitarist MATT MUNISTERI (who is also her music director and arranger). RUSSEL's new album is Strictly Romancin' (World Village) and it's a collection of old jazz and blues tunes including Everything's Been Done Before, Everybody Loves My Baby, I'm Checkin' Out, Goom'Bye, and Romance in the Dark. RUSSELL was a backup singer with David Bowie, Jackson Browne, Steely Dan, Roseanne Cash, Al Green and others until about five years ago when she went solo. She went solo with her first album Cat, her subsequent albums are Inside this Heart of Mine, and Sentimental Streak. Her website is http://catherinerussell.net/

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOSEPH TUROW is a media researcher and Professor of Communication at the University of Pennsylvania. His new book is The Daily You: How the New Advertising Is Defining Your Identity and Your Worth (Yale University Press). He is the author of eight books, including Niche Envy: Marketing Discrimination in the Digital Age. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the documentary Putin's Kiss about Russia's President Vladimir Putin.

Interview with Trevor Potter; Interview with James Bopp, Jr. February 23, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462146].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TREVOR POTTER is a leading authority on campaign finance issues, and is a former Commissioner and Chairman of the Federal Election Commission. He is also founding President and General Counsel of the Campaign Legal Center, a nonprofit which focuses on campaign finance issues in the courts and before the FEC. He was General Counsel to John McCain 2008 and 2000 presidential campaigns. He is now advisor for Stephen Colbert's SuperPAC and 501C-4. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) JAMES BOPP JR. is a constitutional lawyer and the attorney who brought the Citizen's United case before the Supreme Court which resulted in the landmark 2010 decision which opened the door to SuperPACs. BOPP is also a Republican National Committee member.

Interview with Dustin Lance Black; Commentary on television series "The Singing Detective"; Obituary for Barney Rosset; Review of film "Wanderlust." February 24, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462070].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter, producer, and director DUSTIN LANCE BLACK. He wrote the screenplay for the film J. Edgar about the former long-time head of the FBI, J. Edgar Hoover. The film is now out on DVD. BLACK also wrote the Academy Award winning screenplay for the film Milk about the late gay civil rights activist Harvey Milk. And he was a writer and producer for HBO's Big Love. He drew on his experiences growing up Mormon. (REBROADCAST from 12.6.11) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI on the 25th anniversary of the acclaimed BBC miniseries The Singing Detective. (3.) We remember BARNEY ROSSET, publisher and founder of Grove Press who defied censors in the 1960s with the publication of Henry Miller's Tropic of Cancer, and D.H. Lawrence's Lady Chatterley's Lover. ROSSET died Tuesday at the age of 89. He also championed Beat poets, Samuel Beckett, and William S. Burroughs. ROSSET was sued many times, and received death threats. (REBROADCAST from 4.9.1991) (4.) Critic David Edelstein reviews movie 'Wanderlust' with Paul Rudd and Jennifer Anniston.

---

Interview with Craig Timberg; Review of Jim Yardley's book "Brave Dragons February 27, 2012.

[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462073].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CRAIG TIMBERG. His new book Tinderbox (Penguin Press - co-authored with epidemiologist Daniel Halperin) is about the history of the HIV virus and efforts to stop the AIDS epidemic. Among their findings: new genetic testing locates the birth of the virus in the equatorial forests of Cameroon where chimpanzees carried it for centuries without an outbreak among humans. It was during the colonization of Africa at the turn of the 20th century, when porters were sent into remote areas that HIV first infected humans. TIMBERG and Halperin also outline research that finds that circumcised men are eight times less likely to get infected. TIMBERG is the former Johannesburg bureau chief for The Washington Post where he visited twenty-three African nations and wrote many major stories about AIDS. He's now the Post's national security editor. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new non-fiction book Brave Dragons: A Chinese Basketball Team, An American Coach, and Two Cultures Clashing (Knopf), by Jim Yardley.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter DAN EDGE. His new FRONTLINE documentary 'Inside Japan's Nuclear Meltdown,' looks at the Fukushima nuclear disaster one year later. EDGE uses eye witness testimony and rare footage from inside the plant to tell the story of the hours and days after the earthquake and tsunami that led to the nuclear crisis. The documentary is airing 10pm Tuesday, February 28th on PBS. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, LASTS THE DURATION OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Nick Flynn and Paul Weitz; Interview with Sebastian Seung. February 29, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461630].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer NICK FLYNN and film director PAUL WEITZ (like "white"). Flynn's 2004 memoir Another Bullshit Night in Suck City has been made into a new film Being Flynn, directed by WEITZ and starring Robert DeNiro. FLYNN'S memoir centers on his fractured relationship with his father who he never knew as a child, but met later by happenstance in a homeless center where Flynn was working. His father, an alcoholic, self-proclaimed writer, and a con-man needed a place to sleep. WEITZ's previously directed the film About a Boy based on the book by Nick Hornby. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) SEBASTIAN SEUNG (like "sung") is the author of Connectome - How the Brain's Wiring Makes Us Who We Are. He is professor of computational neuroscience at MIT, and an investigator at the Howard Hughes Medical Institute. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Interview with Masha Gessen; Review of the television program "Awake." March 1, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462092].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Russian journalist MASHA GESSEN is the author of the new book, The Man Without a Face: The Unlikely Rise of Vladimir. GESSEN has been threatened and followed for her reporting in Russia, where mass protests have formed in opposition to Vladimir Putin's United Russia party. Presidential elections take place on March 5th, and Putin is running for his third term as president. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new NBC show Awake.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FRANK CALABRESE, Jr. (cala-BREEZ) has written the memoir, Operation Family Secrets: How a Mobster's Son and the FBI Brought Down Chicago's Murderous Crime Family (in paperback, March 6th). It's about bringing down his father's murderous Chicago crime family. While both were in prison for racketeering, FRANK wore a wire against his father. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (REBROADCAST from 3.14.11)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Lorax.

Interview with Charles Duhigg; Review of Dierks Bentley's album "Home." March 5, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462036].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES DUHIGG ("DUE-hig") is a staff writer for The New York Times. His new book The Power of Habit: Why We Do What We Do in Life and Business (Random House) is about the latest research into the neuroscience of behavior and how habits are formed. DUHIGG has also co-written a recent series of articles in the Times about Apple and the iEconomy which includes an investigation into Apple's outsourcing to China and harsh working conditions for the laborers assembling iPhones, iPads and other devices. Previously DUHIGG wrote the series Toxic Waters for The New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Home, the new album from country singer Dierks Bentley.
Interview with Jesse Eisinger; Interview with William Shatner. March 6, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462105].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JESSE EISINGER tells us how the Federal Reserve ignored warnings from the FDIC and allowed top U.S. financial firms to pay tens of billions of dollars in dividends instead of putting aside money as capital. His article, published jointly by ProPublica and the Atlantic Magazine, tells the story of the battle between the Federal Reserve and Wall Street, and how Wall Street won. Eisinger is a senior reporter at ProPublica, covering Wall Street and finance. He also writes a regular column for The New York Times's Dealbook section. (2.) Actor WILLIAM SHATNER. He's got a new one man Broadway show entitled Shatner's World: We Just Live In It. It's on a limited run at The Music Box Theater prior to a rapid fifteen city U-S tour. The topic is Shatner's life and career, growing up in Montreal, Canada, playing Captain James T. Kirk on Star Trek, roles in the TV shows The Practice and Boston Legal, and as a singer. Many know Shatner as the spokesperson for Priceline.com. The actor turns 81 this month.

Interview with Elaine Pagels; Review of Bruce Springsteen's album "Wrecking Ball." March 7, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462033].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ELAINE PAGELS is a religion scholar. Her new book is called Revelations: Visions, Prophecy and Politics in the Book of Revelation. Some dramatic and frightening language exists in that section of the bible. Pagels puts the tales of death and destruction into historical context. She is the Harrington Spear Paine Professor of Religion at Princeton University. Pagels was awarded a MacArthur Fellowship in 1981. She is the author of many books about the history of religion, including The Gnostic Gospels and Beyond Belief: The Secret Gospel of Thomas. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Wrecking Ball, the new album from Bruce Springsteen.
Interview with Maya Rudolph; Review of the film "Game Changer." March 8, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462233].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress and comedian MAYA RUDOLPH. The Saturday Night Live alum stars in the new film Friends With Kids, and she's also co-starring in the TV series Up All Night. Rudolph's other films include Away We Go, Bridesmaids, Grown Ups, A Prairie Home Companion and MacGruber. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Game Change, the HBO movie about Sarah Palin. Julianne Moore stars as the former governor of Alaska and 2008 GOP vice presidential candidate.

Interview with Adam Goodheart; Review of the film "Friends with Kids." March 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462299].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ADAM GOODHEART. His bestselling book 1861: The Civil War Awakening is now out in paperback. It's about the first year of the war. Reviewer Michael Bernath of Harvard Magazine writes of Goodheart, "his greatest contribution lies in his ability to recreate the texture, the sharp detail, of the everyday life and experience of nineteenth-century Americans." GOODHEART teaches at Washington College where he is director of the C.V. Starr Center for the Study of the American Experience. He also has written for the Atlantic Monthly, National Geographic, Smithsonian, the New York Times, the Washington Post, and the Wall Street Journal. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/12/11. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new comedy Friends with Kids, directed by and starring Jennifer Westfeldt, with Maya Rudolph, Jon Hamm and Kristen Wiig.
Interview with John Villasenor; Obituary for Peter Bergman; Review of the Dave Brubeck Quartet's albums "Gone with the Wind" and "Jazz Impressions of the U.S.A." March 12, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461932].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN VILLASENOR (‘veeya-sen-yor’) tells us about recent legislation that regulates drones over United States airspace. The high altitude surveillance technology is not just for the military anymore. Traveling in the stratosphere, drones are able to capture images on earth, with increasingly higher resolution. Villasenor is a nonresident senior fellow in Governance Studies and the Center for Technology InNOVEMBERation at Brookings. He is also professor of electrical engineering at the University of California, Los Angeles. His current research focuses on the technology and policy challenges associated with how information is acquired, processed, and delivered in an efficient and secure manner. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

(2.) We remember the late comedian/actor PETER BERGMAN, who's best known for his work with The Firesign Theater, which he co-founded along with three other comedians. The troupe was known for channeling the social changes of the 1960s and 1970s into their humor. Bergman died at age 72 following complications resulting from leukemia. We listen back to a 1993 interview with Bergman when he visited Fresh Air along with members of Firesign. The FIRESIGNs created satire out of the political and civil upsets of the late 1960's, drawing big underground radio and college campus audiences. THE FIRESIGNs (Phil Proctor, Peter Bergman, Phil Austin, and David Ossman) got their start doing a late night radio talk show, "Radio Free Oz," with the host in the persona of the Wizard of Oz. The FIRESIGNs released around two dozen comedy albums. They were still performing in December 2011. You can hear Firesign these days on KYRS-FM out of Spokane, WA, Sundays at 4 pm, streaming live on the web at www.kyrs.org. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 11/15/93)

(3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews several titles from a recently released Dave Brubeck box set. The box contains 19 studio albums Brubeck's quartet rec Interview with Lucy Worsley; Commentary on the word "slut." March 13, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461929].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LUCY WORSLEY is chief curator at Historic Royal Palaces in England. Her new book, If Walls Could Talk: An Intimate History of the Home, is the companion to her BBC series of the same name. Worsley explains why the flushing toilet took two centuries to catch on, why strangers used to share their beds, and why kitchens were cut off from the rest of the home. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG explores a word that has become highly charged: slut.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times Chief Washington Correspondent DAVID SANGER joins us to talk about America's role in Middle East peace negotiations, and Iran's potential to gain nuclear capability. Sanger covers foreign policy, globalization, nuclear proliferation, and the presidency. He has been a member of two teams that won the Pulitzer Prize. He wrote the bestselling book, The Inheritance: The World Obama Confronts and the Challenges to American Power. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Coral Glynn by Peter Cameron, a Novel set in 1950s England. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Barchords from singer songwriter Bahamas.

Interview with Andrew Preston; Interview with Sonja Sohn. March 15, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462102].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ANDREW PRESTON tells us how religious rhetoric has influenced American foreign policy from George Washington's day to the present. His new book is Sword of the Spirit, Shield of Faith:
Religion in American War and Diplomacy. Preston is a senior lecturer in American History at Clare College of Cambridge University in England. Previously he taught at Yale University. (2.) Actress and activist SONJA SOHN ('sow-nya sown'). On the HBO series The Wire, Sohn played a police detective in an east Baltimore neighborhood taken over by drug gangs. Now she runs a program for young people at risk in Baltimore, called Rewired for Change. Earlier in her career Sohn was a slam poet.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN UPDIKE is one of the most-read, most-respected, most-analyzed American writers. Some of his most popular titles are being re-released this week by Random House in honor of his birthday. Updike would have been 82 this year. Updike died in 2009 at the age of 76. He had cancer. We listen back to some of our interviews with him over the years, including one in 1988 following the publication of his book 'S,' a modern story drawn from Nathaniel Hawthorne's 'The Scarlet Letter,' one from 1989 about his memoir 'Self-Conscious,' and another from 1997 following the publication of his Novel 'Toward The End of Time.' Random house has also announced that the entire backlist of Updike's work will be published in e-book format. (INTERVIEW FROM 3/17/88). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Frozen Planet, about earth's polar regions, which premieres Sunday March 18th on the Discovery Channel. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new comedy Casa de mi Padre, starring Will Ferrell. It's a Spanish language American film created in the style of a teleNovela.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer DICK TERESI (tuh-RESS-ee). His new book is The Undead: Organ Harvesting, the Ice-Water Test, Beating Heart Cadavers--How Medicine Is Blurring the Line Between Life and Death. Teresi is the former editor of Science. RICHARD FREEMAN MD is a surgeon at the Dartmouth Transplant Center.
He's a professor and chair of the department of surgery at Dartmouth Medical School, and a board member of the Organ Procurement and Transplantation Network, and on the board of trustees of the New England Organ Bank. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two books about crime in New York City: The Gods of Gotham by Lyndsay Faye, and Island of Vice: Theodore Roosevelt's Doomed Quest to Clean Up Sin-Loving New York by Richard Zacks. (3.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Jabulani, the new album from South African trumpeter and band leader Hugh Masakela.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONAH LEHRER is the author of the book Imagine: How Creativity Works (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt) in which he examines the creative process, from new cognitive science in how it works, to artistic breakthroughs, and companies (like 3M) who put a premium on creativity. LEHRER is also the author of How We Decide. He is a contributing editor at Wired, a contributor to The New Yorker, Radiolab, and he writes the Head Case column for The Wall Street journal. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two new reissues (on one CD): Clark
Terry: The Happy Horns of Clark Terry & It's What's Happenin' (Impulse) by trumpeter and flugelhorn player Clark Terry. (And also there is a fundraising event for Clark Terry on Monday, April 23rd, at 7 PM at Saint Peter's Church in New York city. The event is help raise funds to help defray medical expenses for him. Also his autobiography is now available: Clark: The Autobiography of Clark Terry (University of California Press). Info about both is available at www.clarkterry.com.) (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the re-release of The War Room, the documentary about Bill Clinton's 1992 presidential campaign.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FRONTLINE producer and correspondent LOWELL BERGMAN. His new documentary Murdoch's Scandal is about media mogul Rupert Murdoch and the allegations of phone hacking and bribery that brought down his British tabloid News of the World. Both Murdoch and his son were summoned to appear before the parliamentary committee investigating the crisis. And there are criminal investigations on both sides of the Atlantic. Dozens of journalists and top executives from Murdoch's papers have been arrested. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews "The Hunger Games" based on Suzanne Collin's futuristic Novel of the same name and its sequels.

Interview with Jason Segel and Nicholas Stoller; Interview with Kevin Clash; Review of the 5th season premiere of the television show "Mad Men." March 23, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462071].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and screenwriter JASON SEGEL and screenwriter NICHOLAS STOLLER. The two wrote the film The Muppets which is now out on DVD and Blu-ray. SEGEL got his big break on the TV series Freaks and Geeks. He is also in the cast of How I Met your Mother. His feature films include Forgetting Sarah Marshall, which Segel wrote, and which was directed by Nicholas Stoller. The pair also worked together on the TV series Undeclared and the movie Get Him to the Greek. (REBROADCAST from 11.23.2011) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Puppeteer KEVIN CLASH. He's the subject of the new documentary film Being Elmo which will be broadcast on PBS early in April (scheduled for April 5th and 6th). CLASH is the person behind Sesame Street's Elmo, who he describes as a "little red monster, about three years old who has a lot of energy, loves hugs and kisses and to laugh." CLASH grew up in Baltimore and as a kid dreamed of working with his idol Jim Henson. He is Sesame Street's Senior Puppet Coordinator and Muppet Captain as well as Sesame Workshop's Senior Creative Consultant. (REBROADCAST from 12.15.11) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the two-hour season premiere of the 5th season of AMC's Mad Men on Sunday.

---

Interview with Matthew Weiner. March 26, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462349].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writer and producer MATT WEINER (WHY-ner). He created the AMC series Mad Men, which begins season five on Sunday night after a 17-month hiatus. The show has won consecutive Golden Globes, and Outstanding Drama series Emmy awards. Set in 1960s New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. WEINER also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Rachel Maddow. March 27, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461988].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MSNBC host RACHEL MADDOW. She's become the most popular prime-time show host on MSNBC for the show that bears her name. Previously she had a show on the radio network Air America. She's a Rhodes Scholar. Her new book is Drift: The Unmooring of American Military Power (Crown). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former sports agent JOSHUA LUCHS ("Lucks"). For over fifteen years as a sports agent he represented college football players who wanted to make to the pros. In a widely circulated 2010 Sports Illustrated story about him he admitted giving money, gifts and favors to young athletes in an effort to recruit them, a common but illegal practice under NCAA rules. His new memoir is Illegal Procedure: A Sports Agent Comes Clean on The Dirty Business of College Football (written with James Dale) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Conductor, pianist and composer MICHAEL TILSON THOMAS. He is music director of the San Francisco symphony Orchestra. The new PBS special The Thomasehfskys: Music and Memories of a Life in the Yiddish Theater is about THOMAS' grandparents Boris and Bessie Thomashefsky, pioneers of the Yiddish theater. THOMAS wrote the show. (It will also be available on DVD after broadcast).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SIR PAUL MCCARTNEY. He has a new album Kisses on the Bottom (Concord) a collection of standards he heard as a child; it also includes a couple new songs of his. MCCARTNEY talks with Terry from his home studio. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember bluegrass musician EARL SCRUGGS. He died Wednesday at the age of 88. He originated the staccato three-finger, five-string banjo technique that became known as the 'Scruggs style.' SCRUGGS got his start playing with Bill Monroe's band in the 1940s, and then teamed up with guitarist Lester Flatt (fronting The Foggy Mountain Boys). The two penned and recorded the tune 'Foggy Mountain Breakdown' which was used on the Bonnie and Clyde film soundtrack and was one of the first crossover hits of the genre. They also recorded 'The Ballad of Jed Clampett,' the theme song for the sitcom The Beverly Hillbillies. It topped the charts in 1962. In 2001 he released his first album in 17 years, 'Earl Scruggs and Friends' featuring his work with Elton John, John Fogerty, Dwight Yoakum and others. SCRUGGS teamed up with Doc Watson and Ricky Skaggs for the CD, 'The Three Pickers.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/16/03) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Novelist and essayist HARRY CREWS. He died on Wednesday at the age of 76. He was renowned for "darkly comic, bitingly satirical, grotesquely populated and almost preternaturally violent Novels" (from the NYT obituary). His Novels include All We Need is Hell and The Gospel Singer. Oftentimes, the main characters of Crews' works are outsiders; The central character of one of his books, The Knockout Artist, is a boxer who specializes in knocking himself out. (REBROADCAST from 6.23.88) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the season premieres of two cable shows that are returning for their second year: The Killing on AMC, and Game of Thrones on HBO.

---

Interview with Aziz Ansari; Interview with Doris Day. April 2, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461953].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic and actor AZIZ ANSARI (ah-ZEEZ on-SAR-ee). He co-stars on NBC's Parks and Recreation. ANSARI was born in Columbia, South Carolina to Indian Muslim parents who immigrated from Tamil Nadu, India. ANSARI recently released his Dangerously Delicious Comedy special online (available at www.azizansari.com) He also created and starred in the critically acclaimed cult MTV sketch show Human Giant. He can be seen in the films I Love You Man, Observe and Report, and Funny People. (2.) Singer and actress DORIS DAY. She'll turn 88 years old on April 3rd. Turner Classic Movies (TCM) will be showing 28 of her films during prime time April 2-6th, and they've named her Star of the Month. They are also releasing a CD/DVD box set of her recordings and films. DAY made around 40 films working opposite Rock Hudson, Cary Grant, James Garner, Jimmy Cagney, and Frank Sinatra. DAY made her last film in 1968, retired from the movie business, and devoted her life to rescuing dogs and cats.
Interview with Peter Beinart; Interview with Gary Rosenblatt; Review of One Direction's album "Up All Night." April 3, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462131].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PETER BEINART. He's the author of the controversial new book The Crisis of Zionism. He also wrote an op-ed for The New York Times, To Save Israel, Boycott the Settlements (3.19.2012). BEINART is Senior Political Writer at The Daily Beast, the online home of Newsweek Magazine.

(INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Journalist GARY ROSENBLATT is editor and publisher of The Jewish Week of New York, the largest Jewish newspaper in the U.S. He is also chairman of the Fund for Jewish Investigative Journalism. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album 'Up All Night,' from the UK pop act 'One Direction.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times East Africa Bureau Chief JEFFREY GETTLEMAN talks about reporting from East African countries, and dangerous conflict zones such as Somalia, the Sudan, Kenya, the Congo and Ethiopia. His reporting has earned him a George Polk award, which he's receiving this week. Gettleman was the first to report that Al Shabab, a Somali terrorist faction of Al Qaida, was preventing people from fleeing famine zones and was withholding food and aid. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist SIMON JOHNSON is the Ronald A. Kurtz Professor of Entrepreneurship and a Professor of Global Economics and Management at the MIT Sloan School of Management. He's the co-author (with James Kwak) of the new book White House Burning: The Founding Fathers, Our National Debt, and
Why It Matters to You (Pantheon). The two are also the authors of the best seller, 13 Bankers and of the economic and public policy blog The Baseline Scenario. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The New Republic the new satirical novel by Lionel Shriver that's not quite new. It was finished in 1998, but publishers weren't interested back then.

Interview with Brad Ausmus; Review of gospel albums "Fire in My Bones" and "This May Be My Last Time Singing"; Review of film "The Deep Blue Sea." April 6, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461870].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league catcher BRAD AUSMUS. He just finished 17 years behind the plate, but in the beginning of his career, Ausmus refused an offer from the New York Yankees, choosing instead to go to an Ivy League school. He went on to become an All Star catcher, playing for the San Diego Padres, the Detroit Tigers, the Houston Astros and the L-A Dodgers. (rebroadcast from 8.18.11) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews two CD sets of Black gospel music: Fire in My Bones and This May Be My Last Time Singing. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Deep Blue Sea, the new film by director Terence Davies, based on the Terence Rattigan's 1952 play of the same name.

Interview with Tanya Luhrmann; Obituary for Mike Wallace. April 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462236].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TANYA LUHRMANN is a psychological anthropologist and a professor in the Department of Anthropology at Stanford University. She wanted to understand the personal relationship with God experienced by many Evangelicals so she attended and services and meetings of the Vineyard, an evangelical church with hundreds of congregations across the country. Her new book is When God Talks Back: Understanding the American Evangelical Relationship with God (Alfred Knopf). (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember broadcaster and journalist MIKE WALLACE. He was best known for his tough questions and hard interview style on the CBS show '60 Minutes'. He died Saturday at 93. (Original interview broadcast 11/08/2012)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Baseball pitcher R.A. DICKEY talks about his new memoir 'Wherever I Wind Up,' (Blue Rider Press) and about being the only Knuckleball pitcher currently in Major League Baseball. DICKEY says that trying to hit a knuckleball is like swinging at 'a butterfly in a typhoon,' and is one of the most difficult pitches to master. As a child DICKEY was sexually abused, which traumatized him for years and nearly cost him his marriage before he sought help through therapy. DICKEY is a starting pitcher for the NY Mets. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Bonnie Raitt's new album Slipstream, her first album in seven years.

Interview with Carole King; Review of Nadine Gordimer's novel "No Time Like the Present." April 11, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462241].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter CAROLE KING. She has a new memoir A Natural Woman about her years writing songs for others, and then becoming a performer and writing for herself. And she has a new album Carole King: The Legendary Demos. King's first hit song was Will You Love Me Tomorrow which she wrote with her songwriting partner Gerry Goffin, who became her husband. Their other hit songs include Take Good Care of My Baby, Loco-Motion, One Fine Day, Up on the Roof, A Natural Woman and more. KING's 1971 album Tapestry still holds the record for the longest time a solo female album remained on the charts (306 weeks). The songs she wrote for that album include So Far Away, It's Too Late, I Feel the Earth Move, and You've Got a Friend. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews No Time Like the Present the new novel by the Nobel prize-winning 88 year old South African writer Nadine Gordimer.
Interview with Jason DeParle; Interview with Fernando Trueba. April 12, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462240].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JASON DEPARLE ('de-PAH-rl') covers poverty for The New York Times and has for decades. He is also the author of the 2004 book about the effect of welfare reform on families: American Dream: Three Women, Ten Kids and a Nation's Drive to End Welfare. (2.) Director and music producer FERNANDO TRUEBA (Tru-AY-bah) of the animated Oscar nominated film Chico and Rita. The movie is a love story and it celebrates the music and culture of Cuba of the late 1940s and 50s. The inspiration for the film comes from the great Cuban pianist, bandleader and composer Bebo Valdez who is 93 and who also wrote and performed much of music for the film. The film's designer and co-director is Javier Mariscal. TRUEBA also directed the 200 documentary about Latin jazz, Calle 54, and he's produced a number of albums with Bebo Valdez including Bebo, Bebo de Cuba and Lagrimas Negras. TRUEBA's previous film Belle Epoque won the foreign language film Oscar in 1994.

Interview with Marie Howe; Review of the television program "Girls." April 13, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462051].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet MARIE HOWE. Her poem What the Living Do was included in a recently published collection of 20th century poems. The poem comes from her 1998 collection of poems of the same name which was in large part an elegy to her brother who died of AIDS. HOWE's most recent book of poems is The Kingdom of Ordinary Time (2009). Her first book of poems The Good Thief (1988) was selected by Margaret Atwood for the 1987 National Poetry Series. HOWE teaches at Sarah Lawrence College. (REBROADCAST from 10.20.11) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Girls, the new HBO series written and directed by and starring Lena Dunham, who directed the low budget indie film Tiny Furniture.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SADAKAT KADRI (Sah-DAH-kit KOD-ree) is an English barrister who focuses on human rights issues and is author of a new book about Sharia Law: Heaven on Earth: A Journey Through Shari'a Law from the Deserts to the Streets of the Modern Muslim World (Farrar, Staus, Giroux). KADRI is also the author of a history of the law. (THIS INTERVIEW WILL BE CONTINUED INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Older Than My Old Man Now, the new album by Loudon Wainwright III.

Interview with Carl Zimmer; Interview with Han Bennink. April 17, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462145].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science writer CARL ZIMMER. In a recent article for Wired http://www.wired.com/wiredscience/2012/03/ff_antivirals/) he writes about innovative new strategies to fight viruses. These anti-viral strategies have the potential to wipe out any virus with the "same wide-spectrum efficiency that penicillin and Cipro bring to the fight against bacteria." As of now, viruses have to be targeted on an individual basis. CARL ZIMMER is the author of twelve books including Soul Made Flesh, a history of neuroscience which was named one of the top 100 books of 2005 by The New York Times Book Review. Zimmer has also written articles for the New York Times and magazines including National Geographic, Time, Scientific American, Science, and Popular Science. He is a contributing editor at Discover for whom he also writes a monthly column about the brain. His blog The Loom, is also hosted by Discover. (INTERVIEW CONDUCTED BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Dutch jazz drummer HAN BENNINK. He is one of the pivotal figures in early European free jazz and free improvisation. He turns 70 years old today. He's well known for his unconventional approach to his kit, feet on the drums, playing his mouth, and in concert he generally drums on anything in reach: a pizza box, a music stand, the floor. BENNICK fell in love with jazz listening to records and traveled to New York in 1960 where he took in as much jazz as possible. Later he played with U.S. musicians who came to Holland: Sony Rollins, Dexter Gordon, and Eric Dolphy to name a few. His longest collaboration has been with pianist Misha Mengleberg with whom he co-founded (along with saxophonist Willem Brueker) the Instant Composers Pool (ICP). BENNICK has appeared on hundreds of recordings.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MATT APUZZO. He's part of the investigative team with The Associated Press who just yesterday were named Pulitzer Prize winners for Investigative Reporting. The other members of the team are Adam Goldman, Chris Hawley and Ellen Sullivan. Their months-long series looked into the New York Police Department's surveillance of Muslim neighborhoods since the 9/11 terror attacks. You can read those stories here http://ap.org/media-center/nypd/investigation. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Mischief & Mayhem the new album by violinist Jenny Scheinman and her band also named Mischief & Mayhem. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the French Canadian film Monsieur Lazhar. It was nominated for an academy award for best foreign-language film.

Interview with Peter Farrelly and Bobby Farrelly; Interview with Alastair Fothergill; Review of bachata albums "Bachata Roja April 19, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461962].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Filmmakers PETER & BOBBY FARRELLY. The popular film making brothers are known for their often tasteless, often funny films. Their new film The Three Stooges is a faithful and affectionate paean to the famous comedy trio. It stars Chris Diamantopoulos (Moe), Sean Hayes (Larry), Will Sasso (Curly) who invoke the spirit as well as the mannerisms of the original Stooges. The Farrelly's other movies include, movies Dumb and Dumber, Kingpin, There's Something About Mary, Shallow Hall, and Stuck on You. (2.) Director ALASTAIR FOTHERGILL of the new Disneynature documentary Chimpanzee. It tells the story of a young African chimp Oscar and his family. The filmmakers followed Oscar in his day to day life and a narrative emerged. The story is not scripted. It was shot in the Tai Forest National
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Park on the Ivory Coast in Africa. FOTHERGILL also was producer of Planet Earth, and was executive producer of Frozen Planet. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) Music critic MILO MILES tells us about bachata (bah-CHAH-tah), the music of the Dominican Republic. There's a new collection of vintage bachata singles: Bachata Roja: Amore y amargue.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and drummer LEVON HELM for The Band has died of throat cancer. He was 71. He had been diagnosed in 1996, and received surgery and radiation. When The Band joined up to back Bob Dylan in 1965, TIME magazine described the combination as 'in some ways, the most decisive moment in rock history.' They went on to record their own highly influential albums 'Music From Big Pink' and 'The Band' in 1968 and 1969. The band split up over 30 years ago. HELM went on to perform solo and with other musicians, and acted. He was Loretta Lynn's father in the biopic 'Coal Miner's Daughter' and was cast in 'The Three Burials of Melquiades Estrada.' (REBROADCAST from (11.16.93 and 12.11.07) (THE 2007 INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JACK BLACK. He's best known for his roles in The School of Rock and Nacho Libre. He's playing a different kind of role in the new black comedy Bernie, playing a funeral director in a small Texas town who is considered one of the nicest and most clean-cut men in town until he murders an elderly millionaire widow who he had befriended. It's based on a true story. BLACK is also the lead singer of heavy-metal duo Tenacious D. They have a new album, their first in six years, Rize of the Fenix. He first became known for his scene-stealing performance in High Fidelity as a sarcastic record store clerk opposite John Cusack. BLACK's other roles include the films Shallow Hal, Orange County, and Saving Silverman. And he's voiced characters in the films The Ice Age and Kung Fu Panda. (THIS INTERVIEW...
CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album by singer-songwriter Todd Snider, Agnostic Hymns and Stoner Fables.

Interview with Anna Quindlen; Review of Andrey Kurkov's novels "The Case of the General's Thumb" and "Death and the Penguin." April 24, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462019].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ANNA QUINDLEN, Pulitzer-prize winning former columnist for The New York Times where she wrote the Public and Private column, often writing about issues and events as they affect women. She also wrote the Last Word column for Newsweek from 2000-2009. She has a new memoir about her life from the standpoint of her 50s, Lots of Candles, Plenty of Cake. QUINDLEN is also the author of five previous bestselling novels, and seven nonfiction books. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews works of the Ukrainian author Andrey Kurkov (Andre KER-koff) - his novels are being released in English by Melville House. The latest is called 'The Case of the General's Thumb.' POWERS also recommends Kurkov's 1996 novel 'Death and the Penguin.'

Interview with Hugh Laurie; Review of DVD box set of television program "I, Claudius." April 25, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462022].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor HUGH LAURIE ? he plays Dr. House on the Fox drama House, now in its 8th and final season. LAURIE plays an American doctor, but he's British and puts on an American accent ? something which has surprised the show's viewers, as well as the show's executive producer Bryan Singer. LAURIE has won 2 Golden Globes for House, and has been nominated six times for an Emmy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new 35th anniversary DVD box set of I Claudius the popular and critically acclaimed 1976 BBC TV series.
Interview with Edward Humes; Review of Howlin' Wolf's album "Smokestack Lightning"; Review of Alice Kessler-Harris' biography "A Difficult Woman April 26, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462024].

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ADAM HOCHSCHILD ("HOKE-shield"). His book about World War I To End All Wars: A Story of Loyalty and Rebellion, 1914-1918 is now out in paperback. It's a look at the intense bloodshed as well as the resistance movements opposed to the conflict. His other titles include Bury The Chains and Half the Way Home. Hochschild's work has appeared in The New Yorker, The New York Times Magazine and Harper's, among other publications. (REBROADCAST FROM 8.11.2011)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Five Year Engagement, starring Jason Segel and Emily Blunt and directed by Nick Stoller (who also co-wrote the film with Segel).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress SISSY SPACEK. She has a new memoir, My Extraordinary Ordinary Life (Hyperion) SPACEK's probably best known for her performance in the 1976 horror film Carrie, based on the Stephen King Novel. SPACEK won an Oscar for her performance in Coal Miner's Daughter, and she's been nominated for Best Actress six times. She got her start in the 1973 Terrence Malick film Badlands. She's had roles in numerous films and TV dramas, including Three Women, Raggedy Man, Night Mother, The Straight Story, and The Bedroom. She recently had a role in The Help, and in the HBO series Big Love. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews African Blues, a new compilation from Putumayo World Music.

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Steve Coll; Review of the television show "Sherlock." May 2, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461837].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEVE COLL is a Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and author of the new book Private Empire: Exxon Mobil and American Power about the influence and power of the oil giant. He is also the author of the books Ghost Wars: The Secret History of the CIA, Afghanistan and Bin Laden, from the Soviet Invasion to September 10, 2001 (2004); The Bin Ladens: An Arabian Family in the American Century (2008). COLL is president of New America Foundation, and a staff writer for The New Yorker magazine. Previously he has been a foreign correspondent, senior editor and managing editor at The Washington...
Post. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS considers the enduring appeal of Sherlock Holmes.

Interview with Julia Louis-Dreyfus; Interview with Steven Moffat; Review of the film "The Avengers." May 3, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462148].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress JULIA LOUIS-DREYFUS. She's best known for her Emmy winning portrayal of Elaine on Seinfeld from 1990 to 1998. Then for five years she co-starred in The New Adventures of Old Christine. She now stars in the new HBO comedy series Veep, as the Vice President of the United States. (Sundays at 10 p.m. ET/PT) (DAVE DAVIES interview). (2.) British TV writer STEVEN MOFFAT. He's the co-creator (along with Mark Gatiss) of Sherlock, a contemporary take on the Arthur Conan Doyle classic for the BBC, now being shown on PBS. It's now in season two. MOFFAT has also been Executive Producer and Chief Writer for the popular sci-fi series Doctor Who on BBC. MOFFAT also wrote the screenplay for the film Tinin. (DAVID BIANCULLI interview). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Avengers written and directed by Joss Whedon, based on the Marvel comic book series.

Interview with Erik Larson; Review of the DVD release of the film "Rhapsody in Blue." May 4, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461684].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author ERIK LARSON. He is the author of three bestsellers including The Devil in the White City. His book In the Garden of Beasts: Love, Terror, and an American Family in Hitler's Berlin (now out in paperback) is about America's first ambassador to Nazi Germany, William E. Dodd, who arrived in Berlin in 1933, with his family, including his daughter Martha, 24 years old who came to escape a dead marriage. Gradually Dodd and his daughter, who had numerous affairs with the city's elite including the first head of the Gestapo, the extent of Hitler's evil. (REBROADCAST from 5.9.11) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews Rhapsody in Blue the 1945 film version of the life of George Gershwin which has just been released on DVD (Warner on-demand only).
Interview with Lena Dunham; Obituary for Adam Yauch. May 7, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461688].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director LENA DUNHAM. She created the new HBO series Girls, about a group of single young women in their 20s in New York City. It's been compared to a Sex in the City. Girls has been critically acclaimed, but also has been controversial for its lack of racial diversity. Judd Apatow is executive producer. Previously DUNHAM's 2010 film Tiny Furniture won the jury prize at the South by Southwest Film Festival. She wrote, directed, and starred in it along with her mother and sister. She played a recent college grad who moves back in with her artist-photographer mother and teenage-prodigy sister. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember ADAM YACH rapper and founder of the hip-hop group The Beastie Boys. He died Friday at the age of 47. He had been treated for cancer of the salivary gland. These white rappers created such hits in the early 80s as (You Gotta) Fight For Your Right (to Party) and Brass Monkey. In the 90s, still making hits like 'Sabotage,' the Beasties became politically active, with Yauch organizing the Tibetan Freedom Concert to raise awareness of human rights issues in Tibet. They were also vocal opponents of the War in Iraq as well. (REBROADCAST from 3.29.06).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember artist, writer, designer and reknown children's book author MAURICE SENDAK. He died today at the age of 83 from complications from a stroke. He wrote and illustrated such classic children's books as Where the Wild Things Are (1963), In The Night Kitchen (1970), and Outside Over There (1981). They are unsentimental fantasizes challenging the belief that children should be protected from their fears and anxieties. Where the Wild Things Are was adapted into an opera, and Sendak designed the sets and costumes for the premiere production. His book Brundibar (2003) was based on a Czech opera of the same name. The opera was set to music by Hans Krasa who was imprisoned in the Nazi concentration camp Terezin and later killed in Auschwitz. (The opera was performed 55 times by the children of Terezin). SENDAK collaborated on a stage version of the opera with Tony Kushner who wrote the text. His most recent book is Bumble-Ardy was published last year. (REBROADCAST of interviews from 1986, 9.22.93, 10.30.03, and 9.20.11)

Interview with Feisal Abdul Rauf; Interview with Gretchen Reynolds. May 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461963].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Imam FEISAL ABDUL RAUF is a moderate Muslim leader in the U.S. and chairman of the Cordoba Initiative, a project aimed at connecting the Muslim world and the West. He was the lead cleric associated with the controversial so-called Ground Zero Mosque. His new book is called Moving the Mountain: Beyond Ground Zero to a New Vision of Islam in America. He was named one of Time magazine's 100 most influential people in 2011.

---

Interview with Walt Bogdanich and Joe Drape; Review of the film "Dark Shadows." May 10, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461394].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Journalists WALT BOGDANICH and JOE DRAPE of The New York Times. The two are part of a team of reporters who have been investigating horse racing in the U.S. Their investigation finds that 24 horses die at race tracks every week. They breakdown after being run too often, are injured or unfit, and then euthanized. Horses and jockeys are at risk. BOGDANICH and DRAPE place the blame in part on lax regulation, allowing unscrupulous trainers and owners to race their horses drugged with performance enhancing drugs, and on larger purses (made possible by the introduction of casinos at race tracks) and the high demand for horses. (http://www.nytimes.com/2012/03/25/us/death-and-disarray-at-americas-racetracks.html?_r=1&pagewanted=all) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
2. Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Dark Shadows the new film by Tim Burton, starring Johnny Depp based on the Gothic soap opera that ran on ABC from 1966-1971.
Tribute to Fresh Air on its 25th anniversary as a daily NPR program. May 11, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461686].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Today is our 25th anniversary as a national show. We will mark the occasion by listening back to some of our memorable concert excerpts, they include: PEGGY KING (5.11.87), LOUDON WAINWRIGHT (6.17.87), SUSANNAH MCCORKLE (7.17.87), SHIRLEY HORN (6.29.92); ARTHUR ALEXANDER (5.7.93); RICHARD THOMPSON (2.7.94); DAVE FRISHBERG & REBECCA KILGORE (12.26.95); JOHN DOE (5.19.00); and CATHERINE RUSSELL (1.24.12). (CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Kelly Brownell; Obituary for Horst Faas; Review of the television program "Johnny Carson May 14, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462023].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KELLY BROWNELL is Director of the Rudd Center for Food Policy & Obesity a non-profit research and public policy organization devoted to improving the world's diet, preventing obesity, and reducing weight stigma. He is featured in the new four-part HBO documentary about the epidemic of obesity in America, The Weight of the Nation (May 14th & 15th). According to federal statistics 70 percent of Americans are overweight or obese. The documentary looks at the powerful forces which contribute to obesity, like food and beverage marketing, federal farm subsidies, the content of high-caloric foods, and the genetic makeup of individuals. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) We remember the two-time Pulitzer prize-winning photographer HORST FAAS. He died Thursday. He was 79. He won one of his Pulitzers for his combat photographs from Vietnam in 1965. (The other covering the conflict in Bangladesh). He was also editor of the Associated Press staff in Saigon during the war. He was wounded while photographing combat in Vietnam when a big rocket fragment tore through his legs. He credits the medics and surgeons there for saving his legs. Terry spoke with him in 1997 when he co-edited Requiem a book of photographs by photojournalists who died or disappeared while covering the wars in Indochina, Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos. (REBROADCAST from 11.5.1997)

(3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Johnny Carson:
King of Late Night, the two-hour biography as part of the American Masters series on PBS of the late night entertainer who retired 20 years ago this month.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and actress AUDRA MCDONALD. She's up for her fifth Tony award for her performance in the new Broadway production of The Gershwins' Porgy & Bess. She plays Bess. Her previous Tony awards were for her performances in Carousel, Master Class, Ragtime and A Raisin in the Sun. MCDONALD is Julliard trained, and has four solo albums. She also had a co-starring role in the ABC drama Private Practice. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science journalist FLORENCE WILLIAMS is author of the new book Breasts: a natural and unnatural history (W.W. Norton). It's a cultural, evolutionary, and biological examination of breasts. She writes that breasts are getting bigger, they arrive earlier, and that breast milk isn't as pure as we once thought. Lab tests done on her own breast milk showed high to average levels of flame retardants, trace amounts of pesticides, dioxin and jet fuel ingredient, all toxins from the environment. WILLIAMS is a contributing editor at Outside Magazine and a freelance writer for New York Times, New York Times Magazine, Slate, Mother Jones, High Country News, O-Oprah, W., Bicycling and numerous other publications. [INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW] (2.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews the new comedy 'The Dictator,' starring Sascha Baron Cohen as the dictator of the fictional, oil-rich nation of Wadiya in North Africa.

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Investigative reporter and National Security Correspondent for The Nation magazine, JEREMY SCAHILL. SCAHILL has reported from the ground in Yemen and says that increased drone attacks by the US military has led to many Yemeni civilian casualties and a growing resentment and anger toward the United States. SCAHILL is a Puffin Foundation Writing Fellow at The Nation Institute and is author of 'Blackwater: The Rise of the World's Most Powerful Mercenary Army' (Nation Books). [THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE END OF THE SHOW]

Obituary for Donna Summer; Obituary for Vidal Sassoon; Obituary for Carlos Fuentes. May 18, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462319].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) An archive interview with the singer DONNA SUMMER. SUMMER died Thursday of cancer. She was 63. SUMMER became a star in the 70s with hits like 'Bad Girls,' 'Love to Love You Baby,' 'Last Dance,' 'Hot Stuff,' and 'On the Radio.' She had 19 No.1 dance hits from 1975 to 2008. (ORIGINAL AIR DATE: 11/04/03) (2.) An archive interview with VIDAL SASSOON, one of the most famous hairstylists in the world. In the 60s SASSOON popularized geometric and asymmetrical hairdos, and soon came to international fame. SASSOON died May 9th at 84. (ORIGINAL AIR DATE: 2/10/11). (3.) We remember CARLOS FUENTES, one of Mexico's most celebrated writers, and author of 'The Old Gringo,' the first best-selling Spanish-language book in the United States. FUENTES was a vocal proponent of Democracy in Mexico, and was Mexico's ambassador to France from 1975 to 1977. His other books include 'The Death of Artemio Cruz,' and 'Terra Nostra.' He died Tuesday at 83. (ORIGINAL AIR DATE 11/19/87)
Interview with Sacha Baron Cohen; Review of Jon Fullbright's album "From the Ground Up." May 21, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462487].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor SACHA BARON COHEN. COHEN stars in the new comedy 'The Dictator,' in which he plays Admiral General Aladeen, the tyrannical ruler of the small, and fictional, oil-rich nation of Wadiya located in Northern Africa. Unlike COHEN's other starring-role films, Borat and Bruno, 'The Dictator' is a scripted comedy, and not a 'mockumentary' style film with unsuspecting subjects caught on camera. 'The Dictator' also stars Anna Faris and Ben Kingsley and has just been released in theaters. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews From The Ground Up, the first studio album by Oklahoma singer/songwriter John Fullbright.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and comic DAVID ALAN GRIER. He's been nominated for a Tony award for his role as Sporting Life in the new Broadway production of Porgy and Bess. He first became well-known for his work on the sketch comedy TV show In Living Color. He got his start on the NPR radio drama adaptation of Star Wars in 1980. His other Broadway appearances have been in The First (nominated for a Tony Award) and Dreamgirls. His films include I'm Gonna Git You Sucka and A Soldier's Story. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Right-Hand Store, the new novel by christopher Tilghman.

Interview with Jeremy Denk; Obituary for Dietrich Fischer-Dieskau; Interview with Gretchen Reynolds. May 23, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462488].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Classical pianist JEREMY DENK. He has a new solo album: Ligeti/Beethoven (on Nonesuch). DENK performed the pieces in a series of recitals last year. The New York Times said his reading of the works

Interview with James Steyer; Interview with Randall Poster. May 24, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462268].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAMES STEYER is founder of Common Sense Media, a non-profit that deals with kids and media issues. His new book is Talking Back to Facebook: A Common Sense Guide to Raising Kids in the Digital Age. (SimonandSchuster) (2.) Music supervisor RANDALL POSTER. He's selected the music for Wes Anderson's new film Moonrise Kingdom, and for his other films. POSTER also selected film music for Martin Scorsese, Richard Linklater, and Todd Haynes. Those films include Velvet Goldmine, Up in the Air, Revolutionary Road, School of Rock, Far From Heaven, Lost, Fantastic Mr. Fox, and the HBO series Boardwalk Empire.

Interview with Tom Perrotta; Review of the album "James Burton May 25, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462002].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist TOM PERROTTA. His Novel The Leftovers is now out in paperback. It's about those left behind grieving, after many people instantaneously disappear, in what may or may not be the Rapture. Perrotta also wrote the Novels Election and Little Children which were adapted into films. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 8/25/11) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD profiles guitarist James Burton who's recorded with everyone from Ricky Nelson to Ray Charles. Ace Records has a new collection of his

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz singer CATHERINE RUSSELL is with us in our studio with guitarist MATT MUNISTERI (who is also her music director and arranger). RUSSELL's new album is Strictly Romancin' (World Village) and it's a collection of old jazz and blues tunes including Everything's Been Done Before, Everybody Loves My Baby, I'm Checkin' Out, Goom'Bye, and Romance in the Dark. RUSSELL was a backup singer with David Bowie, Jackson Browne, Steely Dan, Roseanne Cash, Al Green and others until about five years ago when she went solo. She went solo with her first album Cat, her subsequent albums are Inside this Heart of Mine, and Sentimental Streak. Her website is http://catherinerussell.net/ (REBROADCAST from 2.21.12) (THIS CONCERT AND INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director & writer WES ANDERSON. His new film Moonrise Kingdom, is about a romance between two 12-year olds. ANDERSON's other films include the stop-animated Fantastic Mr. Fox, based on the Roald Dahl children's book, and The Royal Tennenbaums, The Darjeeling Limited, Bottle Rocket and Rushmore. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Sunrise the new album by the Masabumi Kikuchi Trio, (ECM label) one of the last trio recordings that included drummer Paul Motian.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember guitarist and folk singer DOC WATSON who died yesterday at the age of 89. We listen back to our 1988 interview with him, and to our 1989 concert with him. WATSON was one of America's premier acoustic folk guitarists. His flat-pick style of playing traditional folk and bluegrass made his sound one of the most distinctive of any folk artist. In the folk music community, Watson was best known for his part in preserving the traditional ballads and melodies of southern Appalachia. (REBROADCAST from 3.24.88 and 1.13.89) (CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the use of the word "hopefully" as an adverb. It's been condemned for decades by grammarians and the AP Style Guide but recently the Guide announced the use of "hopefully" as an adverb would no longer be frowned upon.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ANDREW BLUM is a correspondent at Wired magazine and a contributing editor at Metropolis. His new book is about the physical infrastructure of the internet Tubes: A Journey to the Center of the Internet. His work has also appeared in The New Yorker, The New York Times, The Globe and Mail, Slate, and Popular Science. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Our critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has just returned from the 65th Cannes Film Festival. He'll talk with Terry about the films, prize-winning and otherwise, the controversies, and the stars.
Interview with Mira Bartok; Review of Diamond Rugs' album "Diamond Rugs"; Review of film "Snow White and the Huntsman." June 1, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462356].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MIRA BARTOK's memoir The Memory Palace won this year's National Book Critics Circle Award for autobiography. It's now out in paperback. The book is in part about the car accident that left her with traumatic brain injury and about her schizophrenic mother. The brain injury helped BARTOK understand her mother. BARTOK's mother became homeless and BARTOK was estranged from her mother for decades, before they were reunited just before her mother's death. (REBROADCAST from 1.11.11) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Diamond Rugs the new album by the new band Diamond Rugs made up of member from the bands Deer Tick, Los Lobos, and Dead Confederate. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Snow White and the Huntsman.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times Chief Washington Correspondent DAVID SANGER. He covers foreign policy, globalization, nuclear proliferation, and the presidency. In his new book, Confront and Conceal: Obama's Secret Wars and Surprising Use of American Power is about the Obama administration's foreign policy. He writes about the U.S. secret cyber war against Iran. It includes the development of the Stuxnet worm (along with Israel) to attack Iran's nuclear centrifuges. It was successful, but then it inadvertently spread around the world. SANGER been a member of two teams that won the Pulitzer Prize. He is author of the bestselling book, The Inheritance: The World Obama Confronts and the Challenges to American Power. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Joseph Stiglitz; Interview with Cindy Chang; Review of People, Places, & Things' album "Clean on the Corner." June 5, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461975].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Nobel prize winning economist JOSEPH STIGLITZ. His new book is The Price of Inequality: How Today's Divided Society Endangers Our Future (W.W. Norton). STIGLITZ is a professor at Columbia University. (2.) Investigative journalist CINDY CHANG of the New Orleans Times-Picayune. She's part of a team of reporters investigating the high rate of incarceration in Lousiana. They found that the state imprisons more of its people, per head, than any other state or country in the world. One out of every 86 adults is behind bars, nearly double the U.S. average. And the majority of those inmates are housed in for-profit facilities, who need inmates to keep in business. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Clean on the Corner the new CD by drummer Mike Reed and his quartet People, Places & Things. (482 Music)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter NEIL YOUNG. His new CD with his band Crazy Horse is Americana and features their interpretations of such songs as Oh Susannah, She'll Be Coming over the Mountain, Clementine, and This Land is Your Land. Over the years, YOUNG has made excursions into country, blues, electro, rockabilly, and soul. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album 'Kin'? it's a collaboration between the singer-songwriter Rodney Crowell and the memoirist and poet Mary Karr. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new mystery novel 'The Uninvited Guests,' by Sadie Jones.
Interview with Tom Philpott; Review of benefit album, "Samaya June 7, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462140].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TOM PHILPOTT talks about the meat industry and the US factory farm system. PHILPOTT is the 'Food and Ag' Blogger for Mother Jones Magazine. His reporting on food politics has appeared in Newsweek, Gastronomica and The Guardian. PHILPOTT is also the cofounder of Maverick Farms, a center for sustainable food education North Carolina. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) World music critic MILO MILES reviews the new benefit album for San Francisco's DJ Cheb I Sabbah, who is being treated for stomach cancer. It's Samaya: A benefit album for Cheb I Sabbah (World Music).

Interview with Natasha Trethewey; Obituary for Ray Bradbury; Review of film "Dark Horse." June 8, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462316].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet NATASHA TRETWEWEY. She's just been named the new U.S. Poet Laureate. At the age of 46, she's one of the youngest laureates. Her term begins in September. In 2007 she was awarded the Pulitzer-Prize for her collection of poems Native Guard - the title refers to a regiment of African-American soldiers who fought for the Union in the Civil War. TRETWEWEY grew up bi-racial in Mississippi and her mother was murdered by her stepfather. These are recurring themes in her poetry. So is the South. She has an upcoming collection of poem titled Thrall. She teaches creative writing at Emory University. (REBROADCAST from 7.16.07)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember science fiction writer RAY BRADBURY. He died Tuesday at the age of 91. He was one of the masters of the genre and was responsible for bringing modern science fiction into the literary mainstream. His reading of Shakespeare, the Bible and other literary works influenced his writing. His popular and best-selling Novels included Fahrenheit 451 and Something Wicked This Way Comes. His short-story collections include The Martian Chronicles and The Illustrated Man. (REBROADCAST from 8.17.1988) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Dark Horse, the new film by writer-director Todd Solondz.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian JOAN RIVERS. She's just turned 79 and has a new book, I Hate Everyone. . . Starting with Me (Berkley). She'll talk with Terry about what she hates, and about her early days in comedy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has some suggestions for your early summer reading: Birdseye by Mark Kurlansky, The Mansion of Happiness by Jill Lepore, My Dear Governess: The Letters of Edith Wharton to Anna Bahlmann, edited by Irene Goldman-Price, Crusoe's Daughter by Jane Gardam, and The Red House by Mark Haddon.

Interview with Kristen Iversen; Review of Edmar Castaneda's album "Double Portion." June 12, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462072].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KRISTEN IVERSEN is the author of the book Full Body Burden: Growing Up in the Nuclear Shadow of Rocky Flats (Crown publishers). The book is part memoir, part investigative journalism. Growing up in the 1960s in Colorado, IVERSEN and her family lived near Rocky Flats, a secret nuclear weapons plant. It wasn't until years later it was discovered that plutonium from the plant had contaminated nearby ground and lakes and streams. IVERSEN writes about growing up at a time when they thought what was produced in the plant was harmless, and about the 1989 FBI raid on Rocky Flats. It was the first time in U.S. history that two government agencies, the FBI and the EPA raided another agency, the Department of Energy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album from jazz harpist Edmar Castaneda (ED-mar cahs-than-YAY-duh) ? it's called 'Double Portion.'
Interview with Sandor Katz; Interview with Lynn Shelton; Commentary on musician Bobby Charles. June 13, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462353].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and food activist SANDOR KATZ. KATZ has a new book called 'The Art of Fermentation,' which is a comprehensive guide to home fermentation from making sauerkraut and yogurt to wine and beer. KATZ explains the science behind fermentation and explains the nutritional and health benefits of fermented foods. (2.) Director LYNN SHELTON. Her new comedy 'Your Sister's Sister' will open in select theaters Friday, and stars Emily Blunt, Rosemarie Dewitt and Mark Duplass. SHELTON also directed the 2009 comedy 'Humpday,' and directed an episode of Mad Men in the fourth season. (3.) Rock historian ED WARD remembers the work of Bobby Charles, a little known rock n' roll figure with a memorable body of work.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter JANE MAYER talks about her new article in the current edition of the New Yorker titled Bully Pulpit: An Evangelist Talk-Show Host's Campaign to Control the Republican Party. The article is about Bryan Fischer, a far-right Christian radio talk show host who's trying to influence the Republican Party. Fischer's anti-gay comments have already led to the resignation of Mitt Romney's foreign policy spokesman, Richard Grennell, who is gay. MAYER writes about politics and has been a New Yorker staff writer for 17 years, and is author of the 2008 bestseller The Dark Side: The Inside Story of How the War on Terror Turned into a War on American Ideals. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Banga the 11th studio album by Patti Smith. It includes original material - the first since 2004.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) NICHOLAS PILEGGI (pill-LEH-gee) Pileggi's best-selling book Wiseguy was used as the basis for the Martin Scorsese acclaimed film Goodfellas. It starred actor Ray Liotta as real life mobster Henry Hill who turned federal informer on the Luchese organized-crime family. Hill went on to live in different places across the country under the federal witness protection program. He died Tuesday in Los Angeles at the age of 69. He had lived openly in Topanga, California. Hill died from multiple health problems including heart disease. (REBROADCAST from 1986) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ has an appreciation for something that has nothing to do with classical music. Though you could call it a classic TV show. He tells us about the 1961 TV comedy series Car 54. It's now out on DVD for the first time.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LARRY TYE. He's the author of a bestselling biography of pitcher Sachel Paige and of the book, Rising from the Rails: Pullman Porters and the Making of the Black Middle Class. His new book is Superman: The High-Flying History of America's Most Enduring Hero. It's about the writers and artists, publishers and performers, who kept the iconic figure alive for over seventy years, and how Superman has evolved. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Beautiful Ruins the new novel by Jess Walter.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league pitcher BOB OJEDA (O-HE-dah). He played primarily with the Boston Red Sox, the New York Mets, and the Cleveland Indians before retiring from playing in April 1994. He writes about the relationships between pitchers and their pitching arm in the article: My Left Arm: the Glory and the Pain of Pitching (New York Times, May 26, 2012) http://www.nytimes.com/2012/05/27/sports/baseball/the-former-met-bob-ojeda-relives-both-glory-and-pain.html?pagewanted=all (2.) Author and food activist SANDOR KATZ. KATZ has a new book called 'The Art of Fermentation,' which is a comprehensive guide to home fermentation from making sauerkraut and yogurt to wine and beer. KATZ explains the science behind fermentation and explains the nutritional and health benefits of fermented foods. (This is PART TWO of our interview with him) (3.) Review of trombonist Ray Anderson and his Pocket Brass Band's new album Sweet Chicago Suite by jazz critic Kevin Whitehead.

Interview with Jeff Daniels. June 20, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462503].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JEFF DANIELS. He's starring as a cable news anchor in the new Aaron Sorkin HBO drama The Newsroom. DANIELS films include The Purple Rose of Cairo, Dumb & Dumber, and The Squid and the Whale.

Interview with Anne-Marie Slaughter; Obituary for Andrew Sarris; Review of television program "The Newsroom." June 21, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462350].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ANNE-MARIE SLAUGHTER is a Professor of Politics and International Affairs at Princeton University. From 2009?2011 she served as Director of Policy Planning for the United States Department of State, the first woman to hold that position. She wrote the cover story for the current edition of The Atlantic: Why Women Still Can't Have it All. (2.) Film critic and scholar ANDREW SARRIS. He died June 20 at the age of 83. Sarris was called "the dean of American film critics." He was a movie critic for the Village Voice and The New York Observer, and a professor at Columbia University. Sarris came to prominence in the 1960s, and had a reputation for his intellectual sparring with fellow film critic Pauline Kael. His best known book is 'The American Cinema: Directors and Directions 1929-1968.' (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/8/90) (3.) Critic at large John Powers reviews The Newsroom, the new HBO series premiering this Sunday June 24, created by Aaron Sorkin.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian LOUIS CK. The third season of his FX show Louie starts Thursday June 28 at 10:30 PM. Season 2 just came out on DVD. CK writes, directs and stars in the acclaimed comedy series. CK frequently performs live, and his show is based on real life events. He was the screenwriter for the feature films Pootie Tang, Down to Earth and I Think I Love My Wife. Prior to the current TV series, CK also wrote and starred in the HBO sitcom Lucky Louie. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 12/13/11. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Brave, a new 3D computer animated fantasy adventure film from Pixar.

---

Interview with Alec Baldwin; Obituary for Richard Adler; Commentary on the use of the word "vagina." June 25, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461949].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor Alec Baldwin. He's starring in two new films. He dons long locks for Rock of Ages. It's the big screen adaptation of the Broadway musical. He also stars in To Rome with Love, Woody Allen's new comedy. He's best known for his role as Jack Donaghy on the hit NBC series 30 Rock. He won two Emmys for his work on 30 Rock. Baldwin first gained attention for his performance on the 1980s TV series Knots Landing. He also writes for The Huffington Post and has a podcast called Here's The Thing. Baldwin does a lot of voiceover work as well, and hosts The New York Philharmonic This Week. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) We remember the late RICHARD ADLER, composer and lyricist for two Tony Award winning Broadway hits, The Pajama Game and Damn Yankees, with his partner Jerry Ross. In a tragic turn early on in the collaborators' run, Jerry Ross died soon after Damn Yankees at age 29, from lung disease. Richard Adler died Thursday at age 90. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/9/90) (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG comments on the V word, following the Michigan legislature's negative reaction to comments made by Democratic State rep Lisa Brown, who was banned from speaking on the floor of the house after uttering the word vagina during a speech on abortion restrictions.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Education expert KEVIN CAREY. His article in The New Republic is called The Decline and Fall of a Public University: How Status Anxiety Doomed the University of Virginia. Carey is director of the education policy program at the New America Foundation, where he looks at higher education reform, student loans, improving graduation rates, and how schools are ranked. Carey is a frequent contributor to The New Republic, and also writes for the Brainstorm blog at the Chronicle of Higher Education. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Idler Wheel Is Wiser than the Driver of the Screw, and Whipping Cords will Serve You More than Ropes Will Ever Do, the new album from singer songwriter Fiona Apple.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author WILLIAM MCGEE. His new book is Attention All Passengers: The Airlines' Dangerous Descent---and How to Reclaim Our Skies. It's a deep look into the airline industry, what's causing all the problems, and how we can fix things. McGee is a travel journalist for Consumer Reports and he writes a monthly travel column for USA Today. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) We remember NORA EPHRON. She died yesterday at age 71. The cause was... pneumonia, brought on by complications resulting from leukemia. We listen back to a 2006 interview she recorded with contributor Dave Davies, who interviewed her for the Philadelphia show Radio Times, produced out of WHYY. Ephron wrote, directed or produced fifteen feature films, including Silkwood, When Harry Met Sally, Sleepless in Seattle, and Julie & Julia. She was a frequent contributor to Esquire magazine, and had five books of essays, including I Feel Bad About My Neck, Wallflower at the Orgy, and I Remember Nothing. Ephron was born and raised in Manhattan, where she lived until her death.

---

Interview with Marcus Samuelsson; Review of the third season of the television program "Louie."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Chef and restaurateur MARCUS SAMUELSSON. The James Beard award winning chef was the youngest ever to receive a three star review from the New York Times for his work at Aquavit in Manhattan. Samuelsson now operates two restaurants in New York City; the second is Red Rooster in Harlem. His new memoir is called Yes, Chef. Samuelsson is half Ethiopian and half Swedish. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews the third season premiere of Louie, the hit comedy series on the FX channel, starring, written, produced and directed by Louis CK.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Baseball pitcher R.A. DICKEY is having his best season ever. He'll talk about his memoir 'Wherever I Wind Up,' (Blue Rider Press) and about being the only knuckleball pitcher currently in Major League Baseball. DICKEY says that trying to hit a knuckleball is like swinging at 'a butterfly in a typhoon,' and is one of the most difficult pitches to master. As a child DICKEY was sexually abused, which traumatized him for years and nearly cost him his marriage before he sought help through therapy. DICKEY is a starting pitcher for the NY Mets. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. (2.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews Beasts of the Southern Wild, starring Quvenzhane Wallis, Dwight Henry and Levy Easterly.

Interview with Jack Bishop and Bridget Lancaster; Review of the dB's album "Falling Off the Sky." July 3, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462354].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JACK BISHOP & BRIDGET LANCASTER of Cook's Illustrated America's Test Kitchen which is now in its 12th season. BISHOP is the editorial director at America's Test Kitchen. He joined the staff of The Cook's Magazine in 1988 and helped with the launch of Cook's Illustrated in 1993. He has written dozens of articles for both magazines and established the tasting protocols used at America's Test Kitchen. LANCASTER is deputy editor of Cook's Country magazine, joined the Cook's team in 1998 and is responsible for all recipe testing and development in Cook's Country. She has worked on many of the company's cookbook projects and is also an on-screen test cook for America's Test Kitchen. http://www.americastestkitchen.com/tour/ (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Falling Off the Sky, the new album by the dB's, their first album with the original dB's line up in thirty years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter NEIL YOUNG. His new CD with his band Crazy Horse is called 'Americana' and features their interpretations of such songs as 'Oh Susannah,' 'She'll Be Coming 'Round the Mountain,' 'Clementine,' and 'This Land is Your Land.' Over the years, YOUNG has made excursions into country, blues, electro, rockabilly, and soul. (Original Broadcast 6/6/12)(INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) JIMMY FALLON, the host of NBC's Late Night? FALLON has a new CD of musical comedy that includes some of his funniest Late Night impressions, such as Neil Young and Bob Dylan. His new CD is called 'Blow Your Pants Off.' FALLON got his start on Saturday Night
Live where he hosted Weekend Update with Tina Fey. FALLON has also starred in the films 'Fever Pitch' and 'Taxi.' (Original Broadcast 10/21/12)

Interview with Renata Simone and Robert Fullilove; Review of Linda Oh's album "Initial Here." July 5, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462201].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film maker RENATA SIMONE and DR. ROBERT FULLILOVE discuss the new PBS Frontline documentary ENDGAME: AIDS in Black America (premiering July 10 at 9 PM on most PBS stations). Nearly half of the one million people in the U.S. infected with HIV are black men, women and children, even though blacks make up just 12.6 percent of the population. SIMONE is an award-winning film maker whose previous films about AIDS include the Frontline documentary The Age of Aids and the first national series on HIV in 1989, The AIDS Quarterly with Peter Jennings. FULLILOVE is an expert on minority health at the School of Public Health at Columbia University. He is Associate Dean, Community and Minority Affairs, and Professor of Clinical Sociomedical Sciences. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Initial Here (Greenleaf Music) the new CD by the young New York bassist Linda Oh.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producer, musician, engineer and band leader JAMES MURPHY. He co-founded the dance-punk label DFA Records and in 2002 the band LCD Soundsystem. The band has been credited with helping reintroduce dance music into indie rock. MURPHY combines the dance record approach (using mostly machines for an electronic sound) with live-performance sound. Their 2005 debut album was critically acclaimed. The band broke up last year, and their farewell concert at Madison Square Garden was documented in the new film, film Shut Up and Play the Hits. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)(REBROADCAST from 6.21.10) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut album Live from the Underground of the Southern hiphop artist Big K.R.I.T.
(pronounced "krit" like "grit"). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Savages, the new Oliver Stone film based on the drug-war Novel by Don Wilson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A look back on this term of the Supreme Court with ADAM LIPTAK. He's a lawyer turned journalist who covers the court for the New York Times. We'll talk about immigration reform, the recent decision to uphold the bulk of the healthcare reform act, and the legacy of Chief Justice Roberts. Liptak has been writing about SCOTUS for the Times since 2008, and has written a column, 'Sidebar,' on developments in the law, since 2007. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Age of Miracles, the debut Novel by Karen Thompson. She says it's literary fiction that's a doozy.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BRIAN CASTNER served three tours in the Middle East in the Air Force. For two of them he was commander of an Explosive Ordnance Disposal unit in Iraq. He received a Bronze Star for his service in 2006. He's written the new memoir, The Long Walk: A Story of War and the Life That Follows (Doubleday) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEXTER FILKINS is a staff writer for the New Yorker magazine. In the July 9th edition of the magazine he writes about the future of Afghanistan: After America: Will civil war hit Afghanistan when the U.S. leaves? Previously FILKINS reported on the Iraq war for The New York Times where he was part of a team of reporters who won the Pulitzer prize. FILKINS also received a George Polk award for his coverage of the assault on Fallujah in NOVEMBER 2004. From 2001-2002 he covered the war in Afghanistan. FILKINS' book The Forever War is about his experiences in Iraq and Afghanistan is now out in paperback (2.) LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a DVD of a performance of Bach's "St. Matthew Passion," directed by Peter Sellars.

Interview with Ed Cray and Jeff Place; Review of the television show "Political Animals." July 12, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462143].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ED CRAY and JEFF PLACE are Woody Guthrie historians. July 14, 2012 would have been Guthrie's 100th birthday. There's a new CD box set co-produced by Place called 'Woody at 100: Woody Guthrie Centennial Collection.' Guthrie, a singer songwriter folk musician, is best known for classics like This Land is Your Land, Frog Went A-Courting, and Cumberland Gap. Guthrie influenced generations of musicians, including Bruce Springsteen, John Mellencamp and Billy Bragg. Guthrie died in 1967. JEFF PLACE is an archivist at the Ralph Rinzler Folklife and Collections of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington DC. ED CRAY is a professor of Journalism at USC and the author of Ramblin' Man: the Life and Times of Woody Guthrie. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews Political Animals, a new USA network series starring Sigourney Weaver as a character loosely based on Hillary Clinton.
Interview with Aaron Paul; Review of streams from Tanglewood's audio archives; Review of the DVD release of the film "Margaret." July 13, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462403].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor AARON PAUL. He co-stars as Jesse Pinkman, a meth dealer in the AMC cable TV series Breaking Bad, which begins its fifth season Sunday July 15 at 10/9C. Paul was also in the HBO series Big Love. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 9/19/11). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ talks about the 75th anniversary of Tanglewood, the summer home of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. There's an all star gala concert on July 14, but on June 20, BSO began 75 days of streaming rare concerts from the Tanglewood archive. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the film Margaret, starring Matt Damon and Anna Paquin. It's now out on DVD. Margaret was written and directed by Kenneth Lonergan, who also wrote and directed You Can Count on Me. The movie, completed in 2005, sat on the shelf due to legal entanglements. It had a limited release last year, but not too many people saw it.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, writer, and producer AARON SORKIN. His latest project is The Newsroom, which airs on HBO. Sorkin has been involved in TV, film and theater productions including A Few Good Men, The American President, The West Wing, Sports Night, Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip, Charlie Wilson's War, The Social Network, and Moneyball. He won an Oscar for the Social Network and an Emmy for The West Wing. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Sister PAT FARRELL, the president of the Leadership Conference of Women Religious (L.C.W.R), a group representing about 80% of the nuns in the United States. The Vatican has called for the organization to be restructured after an assessment by the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith found the group to be promoting 'radical feminist themes,' and undermining Catholic teachings on all-male priesthood, marriage and homosexuality. Sister Pat Farrell recently returned from Rome after confronting Catholic leadership directly about the harsh assessment. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Spirit Fiction the new CD by saxophonist Ravi Coltrane.

Interview with David Kirkpatrick; Review of Caitlin Moran's essay collection "How to Be a Woman." July 18, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462136].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID KIRKPATRICK is Cairo Bureau chief for the New York Times. He'll discuss the situation in Egypt and the election of their new President, Mohamad Morsi, a member of the Muslim Brotherhood. KIRKPATRICK is a former Times' Washington correspondent and covered the American conservative movement. Last year he became a foreign correspondent and arrived in Tunisia just before the Arab Spring. He'll also discuss what that was like. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews How To Be a Woman a new collection of essays by the young London Times columnist Caitlin Moran. It was a bestseller in Britian.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress SIGOURNEY WEAVER. She's currently starring in the USA network mini series Political Animals as a Secretary of State. She's known for playing strong female characters. Her films include Alien, Gorillas in the Mist, Working Girls, Dave, and The Ice Storm. (INTERVIEW WITH DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember actress CELESTE HOLM. She died Sunday at the age of 95. She appeared in the films All About Eve, Gentlemen's Agreement, and High Society, on Broadway in shows such as Oklahoma! and The King and I, and in numerous television roles over the years. (REBROADCAST from 6.28.90)

Interview with Colson Whitehead; Interview with Eddie Palmieri; Review of Jesse Davis' album "Live at Smalls." July 20, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462235].

Description of show segment(s)

(2.) Novelist COLSON WHITEHEAD. His Novel, Zone One, is now out in paperback. It's a post-apocalyptic tale of Manhattan crippled by a plague and overrun with zombies. His previous Novels include The Intuitionist about intrigue in the Department of Elevator Inspectors, and John Henry Days about the American folklore figure. It was a finalist for the national Book Critics Circle Award and the Pulitzer Prize. WHITEHEAD's other writings have appeared in the New York Times, The New Yorker, Harper's and Granta. He has received a MacArthur Fellowship. (REBROADCAST from 10.19.11) (2.) Bandleader and pianist EDDI PALMIERI. It was just announced that PALMIERI will be one of this year's recipients of the NEA's Jazz Master award for lifetime achievement in jazz. Through his first band, La Perfecta, labeled "the band with the crazy roaring elephants," Palmieri was credited with originating Latin jazz's trombone sound in New York during the sixties. Almost twenty years ago PALMIERI's lobbying culminated in the announcement of a new Grammy Award category for Afro-Carribean Jazz. "I proposed the category to give proper distinction to that segment of jazz music based on rythmical elements and instrumentation of Africa, as opposed to jazz which developed from blues, gospel and other expressions of African-Americans." (REBROADCAST from 6.20.94) (3.) jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Live at Smalls the new album by the saxophonist Jesse Davis Quintet.

---

Interview with Sam Kean; Interview with Jill Tarter. July 23, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462239].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science writer SAM KEAN. He's the author of the new book The Violinist's Thumb: and other lost tales of love, war, and genius as written by our genetic code. Our DNA holds secrets about our individual susceptibility toward certain diseases, or our ancestral past. It can also show why a person can't handle drinking coffee. KEAN is also author of the bestseller The Disappearing Spoon. And he's written for The New York Times Magazine, Mental Floss, Slate, Smithsonian Air & Space, and The New Scientist, among other places, and his work has been featured on "Radiolab." (2.) Astronomer JILL TARTER of the SETI Institute has devoted her career to hunting for signs of sentient beings elsewhere. SETI, stands for Search for Extraterrestrial Intelligence. The organization primarily scans and analyzes radio signals from space captured by powerful telescopes. The Jodie Foster character in the movie 'Contact' is largely based on TARTER. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with David Crist; Commentary on the use of profanity. July 24, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462237].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pentagon historian and Marine reservist DAVID CRIST. He's been studying the relationship between the U.S. and Iran for twenty years. His new book is The Twilight War: The Secret History of America's Thirty-Year Conflict with Iran, it's based on hundreds of interviews with officials and on classified military documents he got access to through the Freedom of Information act. While stationed in the Persian Gulf in 2003 as a member of the special ops, CRIST observed a close call between American and Iranian vessels. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the use of profanity and what it means.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bishop LEONARD BLAIR of the Catholic Diocese of Toledo. He led the "doctrinal assessment" of the Leadership Conference of Women Religious, an organization that represents most of the nuns in the U.S. The group's teachings were found to be "problematic" in the issues of human sexuality, the right to life, the ordination of women, and other issues. Bishop BLAIR now leads an effort to reform the nuns.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author CHRISTOPHER BEHA (BEY-uh) talks about his new Novel 'What Happened to Sophie Wilder.' It's about a writer named Charlie who's struggling to write his second Novel when his college love, Sophie, abruptly re-enters his life. It's also in part about why some people have the capacity for faith and some do not. This is BEHA's first Novel, he's also written a memoir 'The Whole Five Feet,' and is an associate editor at Harper's Magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Ken Tucker reviews the new album from R&B and hip-hop artist Frank Ocean called 'Channel Orange.' (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new documentary 'Ai Weiwei: Never Sorry' by Alyson Klayman. Ai Weiwei (Aye Way-way) is a Chinese artist, but is best known as a political activist who speaks out against China's one-party system.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHARLES C. MANN is a correspondent for The Atlantic, Science, and Wired. His book 1493: Uncovering the New World Columbus Created (Knopf) is about the worldwide exchange of plants, foods, animals, minerals, viruses and more that began after Columbus sailed to the New World. It's just been published in paperback. MANN is also the author of 1491: New Revelations of the Americas Before Columbus. It won the National Academies Communication Award for the best book of the year.

(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE NEXT HALF OF THE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST FROM 8.8.11) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Killer Joe the new film starring Matthew McConaughey as a psycho hit man. (3.) FRESH AIR bids farewell to associate producer for online media MELODY KRAMER.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director and photographer TIMOTHY GREENFIELD-SANDERS. His new HBO documentary About Face: The Supermodels, Then and Now premieres Monday night. It's about what happens to models as fame and beauty fades. We'll also hear from two models featured in the film, BEVERLY JOHNSON, the first African American woman to be on the cover of Vogue, and CAROL ALT who has been on over 500 covers. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews R. Kelly's new album Write Me Back. (3.) We remember actress LUPE ONTIVEROS who died Thursday at the age of 69 of liver cancer. She was a founding member of LA's Latino Theatre Company, and was best known as a character actor; she played a maid in As Good As It Gets, a murderous fan in Selena, and a domineering mother in Real Women Have Curves. She had a major role in the 1983 film El Norte. (REBROADCAST from 10.17.02)

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID WESSEL is economics editor for the Wall Street Journal and he writes the Capital column. His new book is Red Kink: Inside the High Stakes Politics of the Federal Budget. He says the book is his attempt to answer the questions: How did the US government get to this point? Where does the money come from? Where does the money go? And why the current trends aren't sustainable. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Golden Horns (on the Piranha label) a new recording by the Roma brass band Boban i Marko Markovic Orkestar.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA is Washington correspondent for The New Yorker and is also covering the presidential campaign for the magazine. He writes in the August 6th edition of The New Yorker about Paul Ryan (Fussbudget: How Paul Ryan captured the G.O.P.) the chair of the house budget committee and says that if you want to know what a Republican win in NOVEMBER would look like, you need to understand Paul Ryan.

Interview with Caitlin Moran; Review of Tana French's new Murder Novel "Broken Harbor"; Review of Ryan Truesdell's album "Centennial August 2, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462166].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CAITLIN MORAN (CAT-lin) is a 37 year-old columnist for the Times of London and is the author of How To Be a Woman which was a bestseller in Britain last year and has just be published here. It's part memoir, part polemic. In a review in The New York Times, Emma Brockes writes, "The book is so joyful, so free of the piety that has felled many a worthier title and ? this is its real value ? so liable to find readers who in a million years wouldn't identify with Susan Faludi, that it feels like a rare case of winning the argument." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Broken Harbor the new Murder Novel by Irish writer Tana French. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Centennial: Newly Discovered Works of Gil Evans (Artistshare) by Ryan Truesdell and his 14 piece orchestra.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember writer GORE VIDAL who died Tuesday at the age of 86 of complications of pneumonia. We'll rebroadcast portions of his 1988 and 1992 interviews. (2.) Writer LEE MAYNARD. His new Novel The Scummers is the third in a trilogy of his books based on growing up in West Virginia. His work has been critically acclaimed but also controversial for its depiction of hardscrabble Appalachian life. The first was Crum (1988) and the second was Screaming with the Cannibals (2003). Maynard was an assignment writer for Reader's Digest for years. His journalism and non-fiction work has appeared more than 100 times in publications as diverse as The Saturday Review, Rider Magazine, Washington Post, Country America, Dual Sport News and Christian Science Monitor. (REBROADCAST from 11.24.03)

Interview with Dean Norris; Review of Hacienda and Jeff the Brotherhood's albums "Shakedown" and "Hypnotic Nights." August 6, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462171].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor DEAN NORRIS plays DEA agent Hank Schrader, the brother-in-law of main character Walter White in the AMC series Breaking Bad. He's had roles in a number of TV shows including The Unit, Grey's Anatomy, The West Wing, American Dreams, and Tremors. He also could be seen in the films Little Miss Sunshine, Total Recall and Terminator 2. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews two albums: Shakedown, from Hacienda, and Hypnotic Nights, by Jeff the Brotherhood. Both were produced or co-produced by Dan Auerbach, one of the founders of the band the Black Keys.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian RICHARD SLOTKIN. His new book is called The Long Road To Antietam: How the Civil War Became a Revolution. He is a Professor of English and American Studies at Wesleyan University. Slotkin also writes novels. His other notable books include Regeneration Through Violence, The Fatal Environment, and Abe: A Novel of the Young Lincoln, which won the 2000 Michael Shaara Award for Excellence in Civil War Fiction. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Military historian JOHN KEEGAN. He died August 2 at age 78. He was known for his readable and comprehensive books about warfare. He wrote a total of 20 volumes, spanning the history of battle from Alexander the Great to the current US invasion into Iraq. Other titles include "The Face of Battle," (1976) and "The History of Warfare" (1993) which were both best-sellers. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE: JULY 30 1998) (3.) Book critic MAUREEEN CORRIGAN reviews Dreamland: Adventures in the Strange Science of Sleep, by David K. Randall.

Interview with Susie Ariolli, Jordan Officer, and Fred Grenier; Review of film "Hope Springs." August 8, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462093].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in studio concert and conversation with jazz singer SUSIE ARIOLI. She's joined by JORDAN OFFICER on guitar and drummer Fred GRENIER. Officer co-produced and is featured on Arioli's new album All The Way. Arioli joins us from the CBC studios in Montreal, where she lives. She recently completed a US/Canada tour, and next month, she begins another round of dates in Canada and Paris, France. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Hope Springs, starring Meryl Streep and Tommy Lee Jones as an empty nest couple, and Steve Carrell as their therapist.
Interview with Chris Rock; Review of DVD and BluRay editions of film "Singing in the Rain."
August 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462494].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, actor, writer, producer and director CHRIS ROCK. His co-stars alongside Julie Delpy in the new film Two Days in New York. It's a sequel to Two Days in Paris. Rock plays a talk radio show host named Mingus. He's also producing a new comedy show on the FX network, called Totally Biased. Rock has won several Emmys for his comedy specials and TV shows. He's had roles in dozens of films and television programs, and got his big break as a cast member on Saturday Night Live from 1990 to 1993. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new DVD and Blu-Ray edition of the classic 1952 Hollywood musical Singing in the Rain. It turned 60 this year.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember writer and radio contributor DAVID RAKOFF (RACK-off). He died last night at the age of 47. We talked with him in 2001 and 2010. Rakoff was a frequent contributor to This American Life and The New York Times Magazine. His books included Half Empty and Don't Get Too Comfortable: The Indignities of Coach Class, The Torments of Low Thread Count, The Never-Ending Quest for Artisanal Olive Oil, and Other First World Problems. Rakoff also did some acting and voice work. (REBROADCAST from 5.14.01 and 9.21.10) (THESE INTERVIEWS CONTINUE THRU THE WHOLE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PETER HELLER is an award winning adventure writer and a contributing editor at Outside Magazine, Men's Journal, and National Geographic Adventure. His debut Novel about the end of civilization is The Dog Stars. (Knopf). For his book Hell or High Water: Surviving Tibet's Tsangpo River he followed (on the ground) the most ambitious whitewater expedition in history as it made its way through the treacherous Tsangpo Gorge in Eastern Tibet. In 2007 he was invited by the team who made the Academy-award winning documentary film The Cove to accompany them in a clandestine filming mission into the guarded dolphin-killing cove in Taiji, Japan. Heller paddled into the inlet outfitted with a helmet cam, with four other surfers while a pod of pilot whales was being slaughtered. The footage can be seen in the movie. Heller wrote about the experience for Men's Journal. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Michael Lemonick; Commentary on the word "entitlement." August 14, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461955].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Senior Science writer MICHAEL LEMONICK at Climate Central, an independent non-profit whose mission is to communicate the science and effects of climate change to the public and decision-makers. It conducts scientific research and informs the public of key findings. LEMONICK is co-author (along with Emily Elert) of the new short book about climate change: Global Weirdness: Severe Storms, Heat Waves, Relentless Drought, Rising Seas and The Weather of the Future. (www.climatecentral.org) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the different meanings of the word "entitlement."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Republican state representative DARYL METCALF. He sponsored Pennsylvania's voter ID bill that became law in March of this year. The law requires voters to show valid picture ID at the polls. The law was challenged in Pennsylvania court, and a ruling is expected this week. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) NATE PERSILY is Charles Keller Beekman Professor of Law and Professor of Political Science at Columbia University. He is an expert on American election law including voting rights and redistricting. He created the website DrawCongress.org, which serves as a repository for nonpartisan congressional redistricting plans for all 50 states. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews three reissues in the box set, Dansere (ECM) by saxophonist Jan Gabarek.

---

Interview with Frank Langella; Commentary on band Autosalvage. August 16, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462097].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor FRANK LANGELLA. He's spent most of his acting life on stage, where he's won Tony Awards for best supporting actor in Edward Albee's Seascape in 1975, best actor in Fortune's Fool in 2002 and as Richard Nixon in the play Frost/Nixon in 2006. He then played the same role in the film version. His portrayal of Dracula on stage led to his role in the 1979 film Dracula which made him a star. He also played William Paley in Good Night and Good Luck. And he had roles in the film Dave, Diary of a Mad Housewife, and in Mel Brooks' The Twelve Chairs. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian EDWARD tells us about the New York quartet Autosalvage who made one album and then vanished.

---

Interview with Sacha Baron Cohen; Interview with Donald Ray Pollock. August 17, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462195].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor SACHA BARON COHEN. His comedy The Dictator, will be out next week on DVD. He plays Admiral General Aladdin, the tyrannical ruler of the small, and fictional, oil-rich nation of Wadiya located in Northern Africa. Unlike COHEN's other starring-role films, Borat and Bruno, The Dictator is a scripted comedy, and not a 'mockumentary' style film with unsuspecting subjects caught on camera. (REBROADCAST from 05.21.12) (2.) Novelist DONALD RAY POLLOCK. His book 'The Devil All the Time,' is now out in paperback. It follows a religious man named Willard who tries to cure his cancer-ridden wife with blood sacrifices, a pair of serial killers, a preacher and his sidekick running from the law, and Willard's son Arvin who grows up with his father's violent tendencies. POLLOCK's first book 'Knockemstiff,' won the 2009 PEN/Robert Bingham Fellowship. (REBROADCAST from 7.26.11)
Interview with Mike Birbiglia and Ira Glass. August 20, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462193].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian MIKE BIRBIGLIA (burr-BIG-lee-ah) and IRA GLASS, of public radio's This American Life. The two have collaborated on the new film Sleepwalk with Me, based on BIRBIGLIA's comedic memoir of the same title. GLASS produced it, and co-wrote the film with him. BIRBIGLIA's story has had many incarnations, it was also a This American Life piece, a comedy monologue and a one-man show. Birbiglia has had specials on Comedy Central, and made the late night rounds with Conan O'Brien, David Letterman, Jimmy Kimmel and Jimmy Fallon. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Seth Rosenfeld; Obituary for Phyllis Diller. August 21, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461903].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SETH ROSENFELD. He is a former reporter for the San Francisco Examiner and San Francisco Chronicle and winner of the George Polk award. He spent three decades pursuing government documents regarding the FBI's undercover operation in Berkeley during the student protest movements of the 1960s. After three Freedom of Information lawsuits, the FBI released 250,000 internal memos. The result is ROSENFELD's new book Subversives: The FBI's War on Student Radicals, and Reagan's Rise to Power. He finds that the FBI tapped the phones of protest leaders, and broke into their homes. They also spied on sympathetic professors and college administrators. And ROSENFELD details the secret political partnership between J. Edgar Hoover and the then newly elected California governor Ronald Reagan to get the University's president Clark Kerr fired. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember comic PHYLLIS DILLER who died Monday at the age of 95. We'll listen back to 1986 interview with her.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BILL HADER (HAY-der) is a cast member of Saturday Night Live where he has been for seven seasons. He's been nominated for an Emmy for his work. HADER is best known for his characters Stefon, a hipster nightlife correspondent in New York City, and for the clueless celebrity interviewer Vinny Vedecci. He's also done impersonations of Rick Perry, Charlie Sheen, Clint Eastwood and Alan Alda. He's had supporting roles in the films Superbad, Pineapple Express, Adventureland and Paul. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JANE MAYER is a staff writer for The New Yorker. She has been writing about campaign financing. In the current edition of the magazine (August 27th) she writes about President Obama's unwillingness to schmooze with big time Democratic donors, and how that could hurt him in the election. She also writes about how billionaire Democratic donors are not giving to Super PACS for mostly ideological reasons and are far outpaced by Republican donors who have donated to Super PACS allied with Romney. MAYER's article is Schmooze or Lose: Obama doesn't like cozying up to billionaires. Could it cost him the election? (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Writer PAUL AUSTER. His new book is a memoir about aging and mortality (he is 65) Winter Journal (Henty Holt & Co). Auster is the author of Novels, screenplays, poetry and works of nonfiction. His recent works include the best selling Novels, The Book of Illusions and Timbuktu, and he also edited the NPR National Story Project anthology, I Thought My Father Was God.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neuroscientist and writer DAVID EAGLEMAN. His book Incognito: The Secret Lives of The Brain is now out in paperback. Eagleman looks at the relationship between the conscious and the subconscious to try to solve some human mysteries. Eagleman is a neuroscientist at Baylor college of Medicine, where he directs the Laboratory for Perception and Action. His books include Sum and Wednesday is Indigo Blue. (REBROADCAST from 5.31.11)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new Brazilian film, Neighboring Sounds. He says it may be the best Brazilian movie since the 1970s.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer-songwriter REGINA SPEKTOR. She's just released her sixth album, What We Saw from the Cheap Seats, which debuted at #3 on the billboard charts. It includes the singles 'All The Rowboats' and 'Don't Leave Me (Ne me quitte pas)'. SPEKTOR who is 32 was born in Russia, but immigrated to the U.S. with her family at the age of nine. Many of her songs have been used in film, television, and commercials, they include the songs Fidelity and On the Radio were used on ABC's Grey's Anatomy; The Last Word on Criminal Minds; her song Better on My Sister's Keeper, and Us and Hero on 500 (Days of Summer), and many others. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the updated edition of Juliet Barker's landmark biography of the Bronte family, The Brontes (Pegasus Books).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists MICHAEL KRANISH and SCOTT HELMAN return to talk about their biography of Mitt Romney, The Real Romney (Harper). It's just been published in paperback with a new afterward. The book is based on five years of reporting and hundreds of interviews. The two covered Romney for years. KRANISH is deputy chief of the Washington Bureau of The Boston Globe, and has been a congressional reporter, White House correspondent and national political reporter. HELMAN is a staff writer for The Boston Globe and was previously the paper's political editor, national political reporter and was the lead writer on the 2008 Presidential campaign. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer VICTOR LAVALLE. His latest Novel is The Devil in Silver, about a man who is mistakenly committed to a mental hospital in Queens. He is also the author of the short story collection Slapboxing with Jesus which won the PEN Open Book award, and two other Novels, The Ecstatic (his autobiographical debut Novel), and Big Machine which was awarded the Shirley Jackson Award for best Novel, the American Book Award, and the Ernest J. Gaines Award for Literary Excellence. LAVALLE's other commendations include: a Whiting Writers' Award, a USA Ford Fellowship, and a 2010 Guggenheim Fellowship. LAVALLE teaches at the Columbia University School of the Arts. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Fresh Air linguist GEOFF NUNBERG discusses his new book Ascent of the A-word: Assholism, the first Sixty Years.
Interview with Audra McDonald; Interview with David Alan Grier. August 30, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461971].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and actress AUDRA MCDONALD. She's won her fifth Tony award for her performance in the Broadway production of The Gershwin's Porgy & Bess, which runs until September 23rd. She plays Bess. Her previous Tony awards were for her performances in Carousel, Master Class, Ragtime and A Raisin in the Sun. MCDONALD is Julliard trained, and has four solo albums. She also had a co-starring role in the ABC drama Private Practice. (REBROADCAST from 5.15.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor and comic DAVID ALAN GRIER. He was nominated for a Tony award for his role as Sporting Life in the new Broadway production of The Gershwin's Porgy and Bess. He first became well-known for his work on the sketch comedy TV show In Living Color. He got his start on the NPR radio drama adaptation of Star Wars in 1980. His other Broadway appearances have been in The First (nominated for a Tony Award) and Dreamgirls. His films include I'm Gonna Git You Sucka and A Soldier's Story. (REBROADCAST from 5.22.12)

Interview with Jack Black; Review of Shoes' album "Ignition." August 31, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462205].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JACK BLACK. He's best known for his roles in The School of Rock and Nacho Libre. He's playing a different kind of role in the black comedy Bernie, which is now out on DVD. Black plays a funeral director in a small Texas town who is considered one of the nicest and most clean-cut men in town until he murders an elderly millionaire widow who he had befriended. It's based on a true story. BLACK is also the lead singer of heavy-metal duo Tenacious D. Their 2012 album, the first in six years, is Rize of the Fenix. He first became known for his scene-stealing performance in High Fidelity as a sarcastic record store clerk opposite John Cusack. BLACK's other roles include the films Shallow Hal, Orange County, and Saving Silverman. And he's voiced characters in the films The Ice Age and Kung Fu Panda. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Ignition, the new album from the band Shoes. It's their first record in 18 years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian JOAN RIVERS. In June she turned 79. Her latest book is I Hate Everyone. . . Starting with Me (Berkley). She'll talk with Terry about what she hates, and about her early days in comedy. (REBROADCAST from 6.11.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Rayuela ("Rahj-ZWELL-ah") the new recording by Puerto Rican saxophonist Miguel Zenon (ME-gel zeh-NON) and French pianist Laurent Coq (LAW-ron COKE). It's on the Sunnyside label.

---

Interview with Mickey Edwards; Interview with Thor Hanson; Review of Ian Hunter's album "When I'm President." September 4, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462090].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former republican congressman MICKEY EDWARDS from Oklahoma. He's the author of the new book The Parties Versus the People: How to Turn Republicans and Democrats into Americans. He was a congressman for 16 years (from 1977- 1993) and was a chairman of the House Republican leadership's policy committee. He was one of the founding trustees of the Heritage Foundation, and has taught at Harvard and Princeton. He currently runs a political leadership program for elected officials at the Aspen Institute. (2.) THOR HANSEN is an independent conservation biologist based in the Northwest. His new book is Feathers: The Evolution of a Natural Miracle (Basic Books). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3). KEN TUCKER reviews the new album "When I'm President" by IAN HUNTER.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID LEONHARDT of The New York Times. He is the paper's Washington bureau chief. Previously he wrote the Economics scene column for the paper for which he was awarded the Pulitzer prize in 2011. He wrote about the housing bubble, the economic downturn, the budget deficit, health reform and education. Recently he wrote about what Mitt Romney's first 100 days could look like if he were elected president. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews NW, the new Novel by Zadie Smith.

Interview with Martin Bayne; Review of the first five compilation albums of the "Street Corner Symphonies September 6, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461997].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARTIN BAYNE is a writer who was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease in his 40s and began residence in an assisted living facility in his 50s, far earlier than average. He's now 62, having been in the institution for a decade. His companions are on the average 32 years his senior, and as a result he has watched countless people waste away and die. Bayne calls himself an observer advocate. His blog is called The Voice of Aging Boomers. He documents the good and bad: someone cooks your meals and cleans your room, but you lose your freedom, and you realize that one day you're going to die in this place. Bayne is the publisher of The Feathered Flounder, a literary journal showcasing the work of people in their 60s and older. He recently published an essay about his experiences, "A man depicts the often grim atmosphere in assisted living facilities," in The Washington Post, which was excerpted from Narrative Matters in the journal Health Affairs. (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the first five volumes of the 15 volume collection of Doo-Wop. It's called Bear Family Records: Street Corner Symphonies, the Complete Story of Doo-Wop. (3.) Journalist PETER MAASS. He's co-writing (along with Megha Rajagopalan) an on-going series of articles about digital surveillance, how we can be tracked on our cellphones, computers, and other digital devices. The series has run in The New York Times and ProPublica: http://www.propublica.org/series/surveillance (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember lyricist HAL DAVID who died Saturday at the age of 91. His collaboration with composer Burt Bacharach resulted in some of the great pop hits of the 60s and 70s, many of them sung by Dionne Warwick including Alfie, I Say a Little Prayer, Don't Make Me Over, Walk on By, I'll Never Fall in Love Again, Do You Know the Way to San Jose? (REBROADCAST from 10.22.97) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Bachelorette the new film directed by Leslye Headland who also wrote the play the film is based on.

Interview with Andrew Rannells; Review of the album " Memphis Boys September 10, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462306].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor ANDREW RANNELLS originated the role of Elder Price in the Broadway musical The Book of Mormon, and he played Elijah, Hannah's former boyfriend in HBO's Girls. Now he's co-starring in the new sitcom The New Normal co-created by Ryan Murphy who also created Glee. The show is about a gay couple who decide to have a baby. (The show previews on Monday night at 10 on NBC, and then will be shown weekly on Tuesday nights at 9:30 PM.) (INTerview CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells the story of American Studios - an obscure Memphis recording studio that wasn't as well known as Stax or Sun, but still had its share of hits.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. CYNTHIA OTTO, associate professor at Penn Vet (at the University of Pennsylvania) and director of the Penn Vet Working Dog Center; ANNE MARIE DEANGELO, training director at the Center, and BRETAGNE (Bre-TAN-ya) an eleven-week old golden retriever who is being trained. The Penn Vet Working Center will celebrate a ribbon cutting on September 11th of their new physical space for training detection dogs. Their dogs will go on to careers in search-and-rescue, bomb detection, or policing. The Center was created after DR. OTTO served on a team that used working dogs to search for survivors following the 9/11 attacks. The dogs that served in 9/11 search-and-rescue missions will be honored at the Center's opening. And in fact BRETAGNE is named after one of those dogs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Tempest, Bob Dylan's 35th studio album.

Interview with Michael Lewis; Review of Marco Roth's memoir "The Scientists." September 12, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462361].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MICHAEL LEWIS is the author of a number of bestsellers including Moneyball, Liar's Poker, and The Big Short. He was recently given special access to President Obama, following the President in his daily life for six months, traveling with him, interviewing him and even playing basketball with him. He writes about in the current edition of Vanity Fair. It's the article Obama's Way. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Scientists the new memoir by Marco Roth about growing up in New York's Upper West in the 1980s.

Interview with W. Kamau Bell; Review of the fall television season. September 13, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462365].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic W. KAMAU ("Cah-MOW" - like "now") BELL, host of the weekly FX channel's Totally Biased With W. Kamau Bell which is a comic take on politics from an African-American perspective. (thursdays at 11 PM). The show's executive producer is Chris Rock. BELL's critically acclaimed stand-up show is The W. Kamau Bell Curve: Ending Racism in About an Hour. His stand up album Face Full of Flour was voted one of the top best comedy albums of 2010. BELL lives in San Francisco. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI tells us about some of the new shows in the upcoming TV season.
Interview with Michael Shannon; Interview with Fernando Trueba; Review of the film The Master." September 14, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462366].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MICHAEL SHANNON. He plays a righteous prohibition agent who has succumbed to temptations in his professional and private life in HBO's Boardwalk Empire. The show begins its third season on Sunday. SHANNON was nominated for an academy award for supporting actor in the film Revolutionary Road. His other films include Cecil B. Demented, Vanilla Sky, Pearl Harbor, and Before the Devil knows you're dead. (REBROADCAST from 10.24.11). (2.) Director and music producer FRENANDO TRUEBA (Tru-AY-bah) of the animated Oscar nominated film Chico and Rita. The film comes out on DVD and Blu-ray next Tuesday. The movie is a love story and it celebrates the music and culture of Cuba of the late 1940s and 50s. The inspiration for the film comes from the great Cuban pianist, bandleader and composer Bebo Valdez who is 93 and who also wrote and performed much of music for the film. The film's designer and co-director is Javier Mariscal. TRUEBA also directed the 200 documentary about Latin jazz, Calle 54, and he's produced a number of albums with Bebo Valdez including Bebo, Bebo de Cuba and Lagrimas Negras. TRUEBA's previous film Belle Epoque won the foreign language film Oscar in 1994. (REBROADCAST from 4.12.12) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Master the new film by Paul Thomas Anderson.

Interview with Jeffrey Toobin. September 17, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462367].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JEFFREY TOOBIN is a staff writer for The New Yorker and author of the new book The Oath: The Obama White House and the Supreme Court. In the book he compares the differences in how President Obama and Chief Justice Roberts interpret the constitution, and considers how the court's decisions on citizens united and the affordable care act will affect legislation in the future. TOOBIN is also author of a number of books including the 2007 bestseller The Nine: Inside the Secret World of the Supreme Court, and Too Close to Call: The Thirty-Six-Day Battle to Decide the 2000 Election. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)
Interview with Ghaith Abdul-Ahad; Review of the Brad Mehldau Trio's album "Where Do You Start." September 18, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/969458802].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GHAITH ABDUL-AHAD is a correspondent for The Guardian and has been traveling with Syrian rebels in Aleppo, Syria. He writes that the fighting he has seen there is the worst he has seen in ten years, since Falluja in Iraq in 2004. His new PBS/Frontline documentary is The Battle for Syria (on PBS, Tuesday, 9.18.12.). ABDUL-AHAD is from Baghdad and was first hired as a translator in 2003. He went on to become an Iraq correspondent for The Guardian and has since reported from Afghanistan and Libya and has reported from Yemen on Al Qaeda's presence there. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Where Do You Start (Nonesuch) the new album of pop covers by the Brad Mehldau trio.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DOUG SAUNDERS is London-based bureau chief for Canada's The Globe & Mail and is author of the new book The Myth of the Muslim Tide: Do Immigrants Threaten the West. In it he compares the anti-Muslim sentiment today with the misunderstandings and fallacies surrounding earlier non-Protestant immigrants. He writes (in a New York Times op-ed, 9.17.12) "Extremism is vanishingly rare among American Muslims, and loyalty to secular state institutions is high. The idea of a stealth takeover by Islamic believers is a delusion. So is the more moderate idea of a permanently alien and unassimilable "civilization" in America's midst." SAUNDERS is a four time recipient of the National Newspaper Award, Canada's Pulitzer Prize. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new Novel The Life of Objects (Knopf) by Susanna Moore. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 3 Pears the first new album by Dwight Yoakam in seven years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DREW GILPIN FAUST is president of Harvard University, where she holds the Lincoln Professorship in History. In her book This Republic of Suffering: Death and the American Civil War (now in paperback) she writes about how the deaths - both in number and manner - during the American Civil transformed the nation. She writes that the rate of death during the Civil War and its incidence in comparison with the size of the American population was 'six times that of World War II.' She writes 'for those Americans who lived in and through the Civil War, the texture of the experience. . . was the presence of death. At war's end this shared suffering would override persisting differences about the meanings of race, citizenship, and nationhood to establish sacrifice and its memorialization as the ground on which North and South would ultimately reunite.' (REBROADCAST from 1.9.08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new collection of recordings by pianist and composer Vince Guaraldi, The Very Best of Vince Guaraldi (Fantasy/Concord). You may not think you know who he is, until Kevin reminds you. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Perks of Being a Wallflower based on the best selling young adult Novel of the same name. It stars Emma Watson of Harry Potter fame.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT DRAPER is a contributing writer to the New York Times magazine, the National Geographic, and correspondent to GQ. He writes about the practice of gerrymandering in the new article in The Atlantic: The League of Dangerous Mapmakers: Who's Most to Blame for our Divisive Politics? How about the Gerrymanderers quietly deciding where your vote goes. Inside the Dark art and modern science of making democracy a lot less Democratic. DRAPER is also the author of the recent book Do Not Ask What Good We Do: Inside the U.S. House of Representatives and the 2007 bestseller, Dead Certain: The Presidency of George W. Bush. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Charmer, the new album by Aimee Mann.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress, comedian, writer MINDY KALING (KAY-lin). She's best known for her work as a writer and cast member of NBC's The Office. She's the creator and star of the new FOX TV show The Mindy Project (premiering Tuesday Sept 25 at 9:30 PM). She plays a single obstetrician/gynecologist whose personal life is a mess, and who struggles to do the right thing at work. She's also the author the bestselling book Is Everyone Hanging out Without Me? (Three Rivers Press). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Hurricane Season in Brooklyn the new album by The Analog Players Society, a group of session musicians in Brooklyn.
(3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN review the memoir "My Husband and My Wives: A Gay Man's Odyssey," by Charles Rowan Beye.

Interview with J.R. Moehringer; Review of the Sam Rivers Trio's album "Reunion September 26, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461784].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer-prize winning writer J.R. MOEHRINGER (More-RING-er) is the author of the new book Sutton, (Hyperion) about the bank robber Will Sutton who became a folk hero in an era (the 1920s and 30s) when the public hated the banks. He robbed 100 banks, and claimed to never have fired a shot. He also had a reputation for escaping the prisons that held him. MOEHRINGER is also the author of the memoir, The Tender Bar. He won the Pulitzer prize for a feature story about Gee's Bend, Alabama he wrote for the L.A. Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album Reunion: Live in New York (PI label) featuring the Sam Rivers trio that included Dave Holland and Barry Altschul.

Interview with Frances Ashcroft; Interview with Amy Adams; Review of the film "Looper."
September 27, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461348].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British physiologist FRANCES ASHCROFT writes about how electricity works in the body in her new book The Spark of Life. She writes about how electrically charged atoms (ions) carry currents across cell membranes and around our bodies and affects just about everything we do. Her groundbreaking research on electricity in the body led to a major treatment for neonatal diabetes. Ashcroft is a Research Professor at the University Laboratory of Physiology, Oxford. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Actress AMY ADAMS. She's currently co-starring in the films The Master and Trouble with the Curve. Her break thru role was in the 2005 independent film Junebug, for which she was nominated for an Academy Award for best supporting actress. Her roles since have included Charlie Wilson's War, Talladega Nights, Doubt, Julie & Julie, The Fighter, The Muppets.
(3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Looper the new sci-fi thriller starring Joseph Gordon-Levitt and Bruce Willis.

Interview with Steve Martin; Review of the television shows "Homeland" and "Dexter." September 28, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461780].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor/comedian/screenwriter/playwright and Novelist STEVE MARTIN. The new DVD box set Steve Martin: The Television Stuff collects his early standup performances, TV specials and other television appearances. It includes six hours of material on three DVDS. (Shout! Factory and SOFA Entertainment) . At the time of this interview he had written his memoir, 'Born Standing Up: A Comic's Life." (REBROADCAST from 10.22.08) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews two Showtime series returning this weekend: Homeland and Dexter.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and songwriter NEIL YOUNG. He has a new memoir called Waging Heavy Peace. It's a non-linear narrative that covers Young's childhood in Ontario, his early days with Buffalo Springfield, the rise to superstardom with Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young, subsequent solo career and teaming up with Crazy Horse. Young has been inducted twice into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, once for solo work, as well as for his work with Buffalo Springfield. Rolling Stone magazine ranked him among the 100 greatest artist of all time. He's won multiple Gammy awards and was nominated for an Oscar. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews a new collection of music by the short-lived band The English Beat, a biracial ska-punk band in the late 1970s early 80s. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has some thoughts on Salman Rushdie and the publication of his new memoir Joseph Anton.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter and film director PAUL THOMAS ANDERSON. His new film The Master stars Philip Seymour Hoffman as a leader of a cult, and Joaquin Phoenix as his follower. Anderson's other films include There Will Be Blood, Magnolia, Boogie Nights, Hard Eight, and Punch Drunk Love. His films There will Be Blood, Magnolia, and Boogie Nights have all been nominated for an Oscar for best original screenplay. And There Will be Blood has been nominated for best directing and best movie. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Character actor STEVE TOBOLOWSKY can be seen in dozens and dozens of film and TV appearances over the past thirty years. He played Ned Ryerson, the annoying former highschool friend of Bill Murray in Groundhog Day. He played a member of the KKK in Mississippi Burning. He can also be seen in the films Memento, and Thelma and Louise. He has a part in the new sitcom The Mindy Project and has had recurring roles in the TV shows Heroes, Justified, Deadwood, Californication, and Glee. His popular podcast The Tobolowsky Files is being turned into a public radio show via PRI. He has a new memoir, The Dangerous Animals Club (Simon & Schuster). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Ken Tucker reviews Low Cut Connie's new album "Call me Sylvia." (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG has been reading the book The Story of Ain't by David Skinner and has some thoughts about the brouhaha over the appearance of Merriam-Webester's Third International Dictionary in 1961 and how controversies over language usage are really about something else.
Interview with Stephen Colbert; Review of Junot Diaz's new collection of short stories "This is how you lose her." October 4, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462284].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN COLBERT, host of The Colbert Report returns to the show. His new book is America Again: Re-becoming the Greatness We Never Weren't. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the collection of stories This is How You Lose Her (Riverhead books) by the Pulitzer-prize winning Novelist Junot Diaz. He's just been awarded a MacArthur fellowship.

---

Interview with Junot Diaz; Interview with James Wolcott; Review of the new film "Pitch perfect." October 5, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461979].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JUNOT DIAZ (pronounced 'JUNE-oh DEE-ahz'). His debut Novel The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao was a best-seller and a winner of the National Book Critics Circle Award and the 2008 Pulitzer Prize. The Novel told a family and a political story set in the Dominican Republic and the United States. DIAZ's new collection of short stories is This is How You Lose Her. DIAZ is also one of this year's recipients of a MacArthur Fellowship. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST FROM 12.18.07) (2.) JAMES WOLCOTT is contributing editor for Vanity Fair where he writes a monthly column covering the media, politics, and pop culture. Previously he was a staff writer for The New Yorker. He got his start in the 1970s writing for The Village Voice. His memoir, Lucking Out: My Life Getting Down and Semi-Dirty in the Seventies is now out in paperback. (REBROADCAST from 11.8.11) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Pitch Perfect the new film that's been described as a college version of the TV show Glee (which is set in a highschool).
Interview with Tig Notaro; Interview with Louis C.K. October 8, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461980].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Standup comic TIG NOTARO (No-TAR-oh). She turned the worst events of her life into a stand-up routine: her diagnosis of breast cancer, and the sudden death of her mother, not to mention pneumonia, and a deadly bacterial infection all in the span of four months this year. She performed the routine one time on August 3rd in L.A. to a stunned and admiring audience. Louis CK tweeted "I've seen a handful of truly great, masterful sets. One was Tig Notaro last night." That routine "Live" is now available as download thru Louis C.K.'s website, (https://buy.louisck.net/). Later on it will be published in a book. NOTARO released her debut standup album Good One in 2011. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. (2.) Comic LOUIS C.K. talks about seeing TIG NOTARO's standup routine in August, and why he's decided to put the album of it up on his site.

Interview Judith Schwarz; Commentary on the language. October 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885307].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JUDITH SCHWARZ ? she counsels people with terminal illness, and their families, facing end of life decisions. She sometimes offers advice on how to legally hasten death when a person near death wants the option of ending their suffering. SCHWARZ is a regional clinical coordinator for Compassion and Choices on the east coast, and the clinical coordinator for Compassion and Choices of New York. Compassion and Choices is a non-profit, national End-of-Life advocacy and support organization. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG examines last week's Presidential Debate and compares the language the candidates used in addressing each other.
Interview with Nate Silver; Review of Iris DeMent's new album "Sing the Delta." October 10, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461976].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) NATE SILVER talks about the science of predictions as it applies to politics, baseball, the weather and poker. SILVER is a statistician, writer and founder of the New York Times political blog Five-Thirty-Eight. SILVER has a new book called The Signal and the Noise (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Sing the Delta the new album by Iris DeMent.

Interview with Charles Duhigg; Review of the new album "Quiver;" Review of A.M.Homes' new novel "May we be forgiven." October 11, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462200].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLES DUHIGG ("DO-hig") is a staff writer for The New York Times and is a co-author of The iEconomy a series exploring the American economy through the lens of Apple and other technology firms. His most recent article is about how the software patent system often stymies innovation. It's The Patent, Used as a Sword (October 7, 2012). DUHIGG is also the author of the book The Power of Habit. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Quiver the new album by trumpeter Ron Miles' new trio. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews May We Be Forgiven the new Novel by A.M. Homes.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Virologist NATHAN WOLFE. His book The Viral Storm: The Dawn of a New Pandemic Age will be published in paperback next week. Wolfe is a professor of Human biology at Stanford University and the founder and CEO of the independent research institute Global Viral Forecasting. In 2011 he was named one of Time Magazine's 100 Most Influential People in the World. (REBROADCAST from 10.18.11)
DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Argo a political thriller based on the true story about how CIA operatives posing as a Hollywood production team rescued six Americans hiding in Iran during the 1979 embassy crisis. It's directed by Ben Affleck.
Interview with Michael Feinstein. October 17, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461920].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and Pianist MICHAEL FEINSTEIN (FINE-STINE). He has a new book, with an accompanying CD, titled 'The Gershwins and Me: A Personal History in Twelve Songs.' When FEINSTEIN was 20, he got a job working with Ira Gershwin, one of his musical heroes, as an archivist and cataloger. He and Ira Gershwin became close friends and Feinstein worked with him for 6 years, until Gershwin's death at age 86. In his new book, FEINSTEIN shares stories about the Gershwins through 12 chapters relating to 12 classic Gershwin songs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SHERRY TURKLE is Abby Rockefeller Mauze? Professor of the Social Studies of Science and Technology at MIT and the founder and director of the MIT Initiative on Technology and Self. She is also a clinical psychologist. Her book Alone Together: Why we expect more from technology and less from each other is now out in paperback (Basic Books). It comes out of her 15 years researching how digital technology has altered the way we live. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new book Master of the Mountain: Thomas Jefferson and His Slaves (FSG publishers) by Henry Wiencek ("Win-Sek") about Jefferson's attitude toward his slaves.

Description of show segment(s)

1. BARATUNDE THURSTON. . . standup comic, former digital director for the satirical newspaper The Onion, and co-founder of the blogs Jack and Jill Politics and www.baratunde.com. He's also the author of the part memoir, part satirical guidebook How To Be Black, which comes out in paperback on October 30 2012. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/1/12) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Sessions, based on a true story of a poet who hired a sex surrogate to lose his virginity after becoming paralyzed from the neck down due to polio. It won two Sundance awards this year. The Sessions stars John Hawkes, Helen Hunt and William H. Macy. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album Blak and Blu by Gary Clark Jr, his major label debut.

Interview with Ava Duvernay; Review of the music album "Big Joe Turner rocks." October 22, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461856].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Film director and writer AVA DUVERNAY, who moved from film marketing to film directing. Her new feature Middle of Nowhere won her the Best Director award at Sundance this year. It's about a woman who drops out of medical school to concentrate on her imprisoned husband. DuVernay is from Philadelphia. Previously, she ran her own publicity company called DuVernay Agency where she represented films like Dreamgirls and Invictus. Her first produced feature was I Will Follow. She also made the documentary My Mic Sounds Nice: The Truth About Women in Hip-Hop. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers the musical legacy of Big Joe Turner.
Interview with Lu Lobello and Dexter Filkins. October 23, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885365].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Marine LU LOBELLO and journalist DEXTER FILKINS. He served in Iraq during the invasion of Baghdad and was part of a unit that opened fire on three cars when the drivers refused to stop or turn around. Three members of the Kachadoorian family were killed. LOBELLO like many of the soldiers in his unit was haunted by the civilian deaths. He eventually met with the family members seeking absolution, through the help of FILKINS who previously wrote about the family's tragedy in The New York Times. FILKINS is now a staff writer for The New Yorker, and writes about LOBELLO and the Kachadoorian family in the October 29, 2012 issue of the magazine (A Reporter at Large: Atonement: A Troubled Iraq veteran seeks out the family he harmed.) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN COLBERT, host of The Colbert Report. This is the second part of our interview recorded earlier this month. At Terry's request, he brought some of his favorite records. We'll hear them and then COLBERT will tell us why he likes them. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Novelist TOM WOLFE. He's the author of the bestsellers, The Right Stuff and The Bonfire of the Vanities. His new Novel Back to Blood is set in Miami. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Interview with Michelle Shephard; Review Charles Portis' new collection "Escape Velocity October 25, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460773].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist MICHELLE SHEPHARD is the national security reporter for the Toronto Star and has covered Guantanamo for ten years. She is currently covering the war crimes trial of five Guantanamo prisoners charged with participation in the September 11, 2001 terrorist attacks. SHEPHARD is also the author of the books Guantanomo's Child (2008), about 15 year old Canadian Omar Khadr held at Guantanamo and put on trial for war crimes, and the book, Decade of Fear: Reporting from Terrorism's Grey Zone (2011). SHEPHARD is a recent recipient of the Canadian Civil Liberties award, and is a three-time National Newspaper Award winner and the Governor General's Michener Award for public service journalism. (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS on his favorite American writer, Charles Portis, whose best known work may be True Grit, which two movies were based on. But John says that's not what makes him special. There's a new collection of his work, Escape Velocity: A Charles Portis Miscellany.

Interview with Robert Moog; Review of "My Muse" the new recording by pianist George Cables's trio; Interview with John Cage; Review of the film "Cloud Atlas." October 26, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461746].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We rebroadcast an archive interview with inventor ROBERT MOOG (rhymes with 'vogue'). This weekend Moogfest, the festival of electronic and visionary music, is taking place Fri. Oct. 26 and Sat. Oct. 27 in Asheville, NC, the city MOOG called home. He was the inventor of the Moog synthesizer, an electronic keyboard that makes unworldly sounding electronic music. He invented it in 1965, and his product went on to usher in a new era of rock and electronic music. The Beatles used a Moog synthesizer on their 1969 Abbey Road album. Moog also had a lifelong interest in the Theremin, a Russian musical instrument that also makes eerie sounds. Moog died in 2005 at the age of 71. (REBROADCAST from 2.28.00) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews My Muse (Highnote) the new recording by pianist George Cables's trio. (3.) We rebroadcast a portion of our archive interview with composer JOHN CAGE. September marked the centennial of his birth, and celebrations are being held around the world. The New York Times wrote that Cage "started a revolution by proposing that composers could jettison the musical language that had evolved over the last seven centuries, and in doing so he opened the door to Minimalism, performance art and virtually every other branch of the musical avant-garde." His compositions include spoken texts, radios, toys and the sounds of vegetables being chopped. CAGE died in 1992. (REBROADCAST FROM 1982) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Cloud Atlas.
Interview and performance with the members of the Peter Rowan Bluegrass Band. October 29, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885421].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) EVERGREEN SHOW, an in-studio concert with legendary bluegrass singer-songwriter PETER ROWAN, who's joined by band members JODY STECHER, KEITH LITTLE & PAUL KNIGHT. Rowan is a Grammy award winning bluegrass singer songwriter was born in Massachusetts but left for Nashville, where he played with Bill Monroe and the Bluegrass Boys at the Grand Ole Opry every week, and went on to form the band Old and In The Way with Jerry Garcia and David Grisman. More info at http://www.peter-rowan.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW.) (REBROADCAST from 11.24.10)

Interview with J.R. Moehringer; Review of "Reunion October 30, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461654].

Description of show segment(s)

HURRICANE SANDY REBROADCAST (1.) Pulitzer-prize winning writer J.R. MOEHRINGER (More-RING-er) is the author of the new book Sutton, (Hyperion) about the bank robber Will Sutton who became a folk hero in an era (the 1920s and 30s) when the public hated the banks. He robbed 100 banks, and claimed to never have fired a shot. He also had a reputation for escaping the prisons that held him. MOEHRINGER is also the author of the memoir, The Tender Bar. He won the Pulitzer prize for a feature story about Gee's Bend, Alabama he wrote for the L.A. Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album Reunion: Live in New York (PI label) featuring the Sam Rivers trio that included Dave Holland and Barry Altschul. (BOTH SEGMENTS REBROADCAST FROM 9.26.12)

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Actress and singer KATEY SAGAL. She's currently starring as Gemma the fierce "old lady" of a California biker gang in the FX series Sons of Anarchy (since 2008). Previously she was best known for her role in the 1980s-90s FOX sitcom Married with Children. Less known, is her singing career. She was a backup singer on recordings for KISS, Bob Dylan, Olivia-Newton John, Etta James, and was a backup singer onstage for Bette Midler. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

2.) Climate scientist RADLEY HORTON. He is principle investigator and associate research scientist at the Center for Climate Systems Research at Columbia University.

Interview with Thomas Ricks; Commentary on Britishisms in American English. November 1, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461991].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Pulitzer prize winning journalist THOMAS RICKS. He is author of the bestselling book Fiasco about the invasion of Iraq and The Gamble: General Petraeus and the American Military Adventure in Iraq, 2006-08. His new book is The Generals: American Military Command from World War II to Today (Penguin) RICKS is a senior fellow at the Center for a New American Security, a bipartisan think tank that studies national security issues; a contributing editor at Foreign Policy magazine where he writes a blog called The Best Defense (http://ricks.foreignpolicy.com/). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the Britishisms that have entered our language.

Interview with Bill Berloni; Interview with Susan Orlean. November 2, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461855].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Animal stage trainer BILL BERLONI (‘ber-LOW-nee’). His memoir is Broadway Tails: Heartfelt Stories of Rescued Dogs Who Became Showbiz Superstars (co-written with Jim Hanrahan). Berloni has been training animals for show business for over 30 years. He started in acting and happened to get into animal training when asked to find a dog for the show Annie. (DAVID BIANCULLI interview. REBROADCAST. Original airdate: 7/16/08) (2.) SUSAN ORLEAN, author of the book Rin Tin Tin: The Life and the Legend (now in paperback). It's a biography of the famous canine star of television and screen. ORLEAN tells the story of a pup found in the wreckage of a dog kennel during WWI by a man named Lee Duncan, who would bring Rin Tin Tin back to his home in California and convince Warner Brothers Studios to put the dog in silent films. Rin Tin Tin would go on to star in 23 silent films (saving the studio from bankruptcy in the process) and descendents of the dog would continue his legacy in talkies, radio programs and the popular television show 'The Adventures of Rin-Tin-Tin.' ORLEAN has been a staff writer on the New Yorker since 1992 and is also author of Saturday Night and The Orchid Thief, which was made into the film Adaptation. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES; REBROADCAST from 1.9.12)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN SCHWARTZ is a national correspondent for The New York Times and author of the memoir Oddly Normal: One Family's Struggle to Help Their Teenage Son Come to Terms with His Sexuality. He and his wife JEANNE ("JEAN") MIXON will talk about raising their son Joe, who they suspected was gay at the age of three. Even though they supported him as he faced difficulties fitting in at school, as a teen he attempted suicide. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Elsewhere the new memoir by Richard Russo. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Taylor Swift's new album Red.
Interview with Oliver Sacks. November 6, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461869].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist and writer OLIVER SACKS is a well-known chronicler of the odd and fascinating world of neurology. His best selling books include The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, and Awakenings (which was made into a film), and The Mind's Eye, (about how neurological disorders affect vision, and his lifelong prosopagnosia, or face-blindness, the inability to recognize faces). In his new book Hallucinations, he writes about hallucinations and their causes including grief, trauma, brain injury, medications and neurological disorders. SACKS has written more than nine books, and received a Guggenheim Fellowship. He is also a regular contributor to The New Yorker. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Election analyst and congressional scholar NORMAN ORNSTEIN. He is a resident scholar at the American Enterprise Institute (AEI) for Public Policy Research. He was co-director of the AEI-Brookings Election Reform Project and participates in AEI's Election Watch series. He also helped shape the McCain/Feingold law that reformed the campaign finance system. ORNSTEIN is the co-author of the recent book It's Even Worse Than It Looks: How the American Constitutional System Collided with the New Politics of Extremism (published in May by Basic Books). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ remembers composer Elliott Carter who died Monday at the age of 103.
Interview with David M. Kennedy; Review of Cody ChesnuTT's album Landing on a Hundred; Review of films "Lincoln" and "Skyfall." November 9, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461867].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Criminologist DAVID M. KENNEDY ? his memoir Don't Shoot: One Man, A Street Fellowship, and the End of Violence in Inner-City America is out in paperback (Bloomsbury press). KENNEDY is the director of The Center for Crime Prevention and Control and a professor of Criminal Justice at John Jay College. In 1996 he directed the Boston Gun Project and Operation Ceasefire which was credited with substantially reducing youth homicides in Boston. He has advised the Justice Department, Department of the Treasury, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms and the White House on issues of inner-city violence. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 11.01.11) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews singer-songwriter Cody ChesnuTT's new album Landing on a Hundred. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Lincoln, the new Steven Spielberg film starring Daniel Day-Lewis, and Skyfall, the new James Bond film, the 23rd 007 film.

Interview with Anne Applebaum; Review of Samuel Yirga's album "Guzo." November 11, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461868].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ANNE APPLEBAUM. She is a columnist for the Washington Post and Slate, and the author of the new book Iron Curtain: The Crushing of Eastern Europe 1944-1956, about the spread of Communism following World War Two. The book has been nominated for a National Book Award. She won a Pulitzer Prize for her 2003 book Gulag: A History. APPLEBAUM is also the Director of Political Studies at the Legatum Institute in London, where she runs projects on political and economic transition. (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews the debut album of Ethiopian pianist Samuel Yirga ("YER-ga"). It's titled Guzo ("GUH-zo")

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANDREW SOLOMON, whose new book is Far From the Tree: Parents, Children and the Search for Identity. He explores what it's like for parents who have a child who is profoundly different, or likely to be stigmatized?a child who is born with downs syndrome, autism or dwarfism, or a child who is transgendered, or conceived in rape. Solomon is also the author of The Noonday Demon: An Atlas of Depression, which won the 2001 National Book Award, was a finalist for the 2002 Pulitzer Prize, and was included in The Times of London's list of one hundred best books of the decade. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TONY DOKOUPIL (doo-KOH-pul) talks about the recent ballot measures legalizing recreational marijuana use in Colorado and Washington State. DOKOUPIL is a senior writer for Newsweek and The Daily Beast and in 2009, he wrote a feature article titled 'My Father the Drug Dealer,' describing how his father, in the 70s and 80s, smuggled and distributed millions of dollars in marijuana in the United States. DOKOUPIL's work has appeared in Time Magazine, the Washington Post, Slate, and The Atlantic, and he makes regular appearances on CNN, NPR and MSNBC.

Interview with Susannah Cahalan; Review of Jamey Johnson's album "Living for a Song November 14, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461757].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SUSANNAH CAHALAN (kuh-HAY-lan) talks about her new memoir 'Brain on Fire.' In it, she describes her experiences with a rare autoimmune disorder that caused seizures, psychotic episodes, and almost killed her. After a million dollars worth of blood tests and brain scans, her doctors were unable to diagnose her condition until a new doctor joined the team and recognized symptoms of an autoimmune disorder in which the body itself attacks the brain. The illness is thought to be a possible cause of some cases of reported 'demonic possession,' because of the erratic and often violent behavior it induces.

Interview with Tony Kushner; Interview with Doris Kearns Goodwin; Reviews of film "Skyfall" and television documentary "Crossfire Hurricane." November 15, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462357].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter and playwright TONY KUSHNER talks about writing the screenplay for the new Steven Spielberg biopic Lincoln. For the film, KUSHNER adapted Doris Kearns-Goodwin's book 'Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln.' KUSHNER won a Pulitzer prize for his 1993 play Angels in America, and co-wrote the screenplay for the 2005 film Munich. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Author, historian and commentator DORIS KEARNS GOODWIN. She wrote THE 2005 BOOK 'Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln,' the basis for the Lincoln screenplay. She won The Lincoln Prize for her work. Goodwin also won the Pulitzer Prize for her previous book 'No Ordinary Time." (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE 11/8/05) (3.) The Bond movies and the Rolling Stones both turn 50 this year. Critic at large John Powers compares and contrasts the two pop culture icons with reviews of the latest 007 thriller, Skyfall, plus Crossfire Hurricane, an HBO documentary about the Stones.

Interview with Tanya Luhrmann; Interview with Katherine Boo; Review of film "Silver Linings Playbook." November 16, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462355].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TANYA LUHRMANN is a psychological anthropologist and a professor in the Department of Anthropology at Stanford University. She wanted to understand the personal relationship with God experienced by many Evangelicals so she attended and services and meetings of the Vineyard, an evangelical church with hundreds of congregations across the country. Her book, When God Talks Back: Understanding the American Evangelical Relationship with God, is now out in paperback. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 4/9/2012. INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) National Book Award winner KATHERINE BOO. Her latest book is Behind the Beautiful Forevers, about three years she spent living in the Mumbai slums. Boo won the National Book Award this week in the nonfiction category. This is her first book. The paperback edition will be released in February 2013. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEWS. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2.7.2012) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Silver Linings Playbook, directed by David O Russell and starring Bradley Cooper and Jennifer Lawrence.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author Ed Blum ("bloom"). His new book, co-authored with Paul Harvey, is The Color of Christ: The Son of God and the Saga of Race in America. It's about how and Americans created an image of a Caucasian Christ. Blum has written or co-written textbooks, as well as several books, on race, religion, politics, and culture in United States history. He is a professor at San Diego State University. (2.) Actor IRRFAN KHAN. He stars in the new film Life of Pi. Previously, he starred in Slumdog Millionaire, A Mighty Heart and The Namesake. He has acted in over 30 Bollywood productions. He also had a role on the HBO series In Treatment. Life of Pi is directed by Ang Lee and is based on the novel by Yann Martel.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Vogue Magazine Creative Director GRACE CODDINGTON. You may have seen her in the film The September Issue. She's just published the autobiographical Grace: A Memoir. Coddington grew up isolated on a Welsh island, won a young modeling competition, but her career was cut short by a disfiguring car accident. She then joined the editorial team at British Vogue, and in 1988 joined Anna Wintour at the American Vogue. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us about a late 1960s band called the Insect Trust, an odd group made up of free jazzers, hippie rockers, old-timey and country blues musicians. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Middlesteins by Jami Attenberg. The main character in the novel eats herself to death.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARGARET TALBOT is a staff writer for The New Yorker, but she grew up in Hollywood, the daughter of actor Lyle Talbot. Margaret Talbot's new memoir is called The Entertainer: Movies, Magic and My Father's Twentieth Century. Her dad began his career as a magician's assistant, starred alongside Bogart in early talkies, and went on to TV at the birth of the medium, with a regular role on The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet. Margaret Talbot has been at The New Yorker since 2003. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Bessie Smith, The Complete Columbia Recordings. Smith, a legendary blues singer, lived from 1897 to 1934.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and Pianist MICHAEL FEINSTEIN (FINE-STINE). He has a new book, with an accompanying CD, titled 'The Gershwins and Me: A Personal History in Twelve Songs.' When FEINSTEIN was 20, he got a job working with Ira Gershwin, one of his musical heroes, as an archivist and cataloger. He and Ira Gershwin became close friends and Feinstein worked with him for 6 years, until Gershwin's death at age 86. In his new book, FEINSTEIN shares stories about the Gershwins through 12

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) An in studio concert and conversation with singer SUSIE ARIOLI. She's joined by JORDAN OFFICER on guitar and FRED GRENIER on bass. Officer co-produced and is featured on Arioli's latest album 'All The Way.' Arioli joined us from the CBC studios in Montreal, where she lives. (ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 8/08/2012. INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new 50th Anniversary Blu-Ray edition of the Robert Aldrich film 'What Ever Happened to Baby Jane?' (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'Life of Pi,' directed by Ang Lee and based on the bestselling novel by Yann Martel.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author HILARY MANTEL. She's just won her second Man Booker Prize, England's highest literary honor, for Bring Up The Bodies. It's the second volume of a historical trilogy, and it's about the downfall and execution of Anne Boleyn. Hilary Mantel also won the 2009 Man Booker for Wolf Hall, the first book of the series, about the formation of the church of England, the reign of King Henry the 8th, and the beheadings he ordered. Mantel is the first British novelist and the first woman to win the prize twice. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Burning Bridge from composer/violinist Jason Kao Hwang.

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT MALLEY specializes in conflict resolution. He is Middle East and North Africa Program Director for the International Crisis Group. And he is a former Special Assistant to President Clinton for Arab-Israeli Affairs (1998-2001). He'll talk about the events in the Middle East and how they are interconnected. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Buddy and Jim the new collaboration between the two singer-songwriters Buddy Miller and Jim Lauderdale.

Interview with Robert Zemeckis; Review of electric blues compilation album "Plug It In! Turn It Up!" November 29, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461978].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director, producer and screenwriter ROBERT ZEMECKIS. His new film Flight stars Denzel Washington as a heroic pilot who is also an alcoholic. ZEMECKIS also directed the Back to the Future films, the Academy award winning live action/animation film Who Framed Roger Rabbit, and he won an Academy Award for directing of the film Forest Gump. ZEMECKIS also directed the computer generated, performance capture film The Polar Express based on the famous children's book of the same name. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews Plug It In! Turn It Up! a 12-disc survey of electric blues by Bear Family Records.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PHILIP GALANES [guh-LAH-ness] writes Social Q's, a weekly etiquette column for the Sunday Style section of the New York Times, and has a new book: Social Q's: How to Survive the Quirks, Quandaries and Quagmires of Today. He addresses politesse in the digital age; for example, whether it is proper to update your Facebook status at a restaurant. Galanes is also an entertainment lawyer who lives in East Hampton and New York City. (REBROADCAST from 12.5.2011) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Tinsel and Lights, a new collection of holiday songs by Tracey Thorn, best known as half the British duo Everything But the Girl.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Irish novelist, essayist, and short-story writer COLM TOIBIN (CALL-um Toy-BEAN). He's the author of the bestseller Brooklyn, about a young girl's emigration from Ireland to the U.S. in the 1950s. His new book The Testament of Mary imagines how Mary would remember her son Jesus, 20 years after his crucifixion. TOIBIN is the author of a number of novels including The Heather Blazing (1992) The Blackwater Lightship (1999), The Master (2004), the short story collection Mothers and Sons. Brooklyn and The Blackwater Lightship were both shortlisted for the prestigious Booker Prize. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE ENTIRE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Wine writer and historian PAUL LUKACS (pronounced 'Lucas') talks about his new book 'Inventing Wine'. Wine can be traced back 8,000 years, and although its basic chemistry is the same, it was much different than it is today. LUKACS shows the changes over in both wine's appreciation and its production. LUKACS is also a professor of English at Loyola University, his book 'American Vintage,' a history of American Wine-making, won a James Beard Award. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI gives us his recommendations for holiday DVD gifts ? from current television series to newly released classic collections.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer, director and producer JUDD APATOW. His new film This is 40 stars Paul Rudd and Apatow's wife, actress Leslie Mann. His other films include Funny People, Knocked Up and The 40 Year Old Virgin. He first became known for the cult TV series Freaks and Geeks which he co-created with Paul Feig. He also created the TV series Undeclared. APATOW has produced the films Anchorman: The Legend of Ron Burgundy, Bridesmaids, Forgetting Sarah Marshall, and HBO's Girls. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

1.) We remember jazz pianist/composer DAVE BRUBECK. He died Wednesday, a day before what would have been his 92nd birthday. He'd been playing and recording for over 60 years. Even though he underwent heart surgery two years ago, he kept performing. We begin with a review from earlier this year by Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD of several titles from a recently released Dave Brubeck box set. The box contains 19 studio albums Brubeck's quartet recorded between 1955 and 1966. While the box itself was available in December, several albums, Gone With The Wind and Jazz Impressions of the USA, are now available as download-only releases. (Columbia Records) (REBROADCAST from 3.12.2012) 2.) We'll listen back to Terry's interview with DAVE BRUBECK (INTERVIEW WITH DAVE BRUBECK from 5.6.99). 3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Great Expectations: The Sons and Daughters of Charles Dickens by Robert Gottlieb; Marmee & Louisa: The Untold Story of Louisa May Alcott and her Mother by Eve LaPlante;

---

Interview with Daniel Handler, a.k.a Lemony Snicket. December 10, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461912].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer DANIEL HANDLER (aka "Lemony Snicket") of the children's books A Series of Unfortunate Events featuring the orphans Violet, Klaus, and Sunny Baudelaire. In each of the stories the orphans face misfortune; the books are filled with literary references and in-jokes that only adults would get. HANDLER's begun a new series of noir books for kids, with the book Who Could That Be At This Hour? (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Raffia Khatchadourian; Review of the CD box set "Charles Mingus December 11, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461909].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RAFFI KHATCHADOURIAN (RAW-fee Catch-ah-DOOR-ian) writes about a secret chemical weapons testing program run by the U.S. army in his article Operation Delirium in the current edition of The New Yorker. During the cold war, five thousand U.S. soldiers took part in tests of nerve gas, LSD, and other drugs, often under pressure or without their knowledge. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Charles Mingus: The Jazz Workshop Concerts 1964-65 (a 7 CD Mosaic box set)
Interview with David Nasaw; Review of Kesha's album "Warrior." December 12, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462005].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian DAVID NASAW is the author of the new biography The Patriarch: The Remarkable Life and Turbulent Times of Joseph P. Kennedy (The Penguin Press). It's about the Boston banker, diplomat and head of the Kennedy clan. At the age of 40, Kennedy was a multimillionaire, having made his money mostly in the stock market, and during a short stint as a movie mogul. He fought discrimination against Irish Catholics in his day. NASAW also writes about Kennedy's affair with actress Gloria Swanson, and later his tenure as ambassador to Great Britain. After he retired he concentrated his efforts on boosting the political careers of his sons. NASAW is professor of history at the Graduate Center of the City University of New York. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Warrior, the second album by pop star Kesha.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz guitarist, vocalist and songwriter JOHN PIZZARELLI. He'll talk with Terry and play some music, with his brother MARTIN who is also in the studio and on standup bass. JOHN is the author of the new memoir: World on a String. He and MARTIN are the sons of guitarist Bucky Pizzarelli who was a staff musician for NBC, and played in the Tonight Show band while the show was still in New York, and later led his own groups. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN gives us her pick for the best books of 2012.

Interview with Randy Newman; Obituary for Ravi Shankar; Review of the television shows "Magical Mystery Tour" and "Magical Mystery Tour Revisited"; Review of the film "Zero

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer-songwriter RANDY NEWMAN. He will be inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame in April. He's written many film scores and songs. His hit songs include I love L.A.! and Short People. He's been nominated for an Academy Award for best original song and best score many times. He won Academy Awards for his songs We Belong Together from the film Toy Story 3, and If I Didn't Have You for Monsters, Inc. He's written scores for the films Ragtime, The Natural, Parenthood, Awakenings, Avalon, A Bug's Life and many more. (REBROADCAST from 2.15.99) (2.) Sitar virtuoso RAVI SHANKAR. He died Tuesday at the age of 92. He introduced Indian music to the west in the 1960s and 70s and had a big influence on George Harrison of the Beatles and composer Philip Glass. (REBROADCAST from 11.17.99) (3.) T.V. critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the Beatles' restored Magical Mystery Tour film, and the documentary about the making of it, Magical Mystery Tour Revisited, both part of Great Performances on PBS Friday night. (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Zero Dark Thirty the new film about the hunt for Osama Bin Laden by director Kathryn Bigelow.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BARBRA STREISAND is one of a very few entertainers who's won it all: an Oscar, Emmy, Grammy, and a Tony Award. She's starring in the new film The Guilt Trip along with Seth Rogen. Streisand is also a producer and director. She has won two Oscars (one for Funny Girl), eight Grammys, five Emmys, a Tony and a Golden Globe. She was also honored by the Director's Guild, American Film Institute, the Kennedy Center and the Peabody. Streisand grew up in Brooklyn NY and maintains her distinctive accent. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Christoph Waltz; Review of the 10 best albums of 2012. December 18, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461889].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) German-Austrian actor CHRISTOPH WALTZ. He's best known for playing the Nazi SS officer Hans Landa in Quentin Tarantino's 2009 film 'Inglourious Basterds.' The role earned him an Oscar for best supporting actor, as well as a golden globe, BAFTA, and SAG Award. WALTZ is currently starring in Tarantino's latest film 'Django Unchained,' playing a bounty hunter alongside Jamie Foxx. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER gives us his Top-10 list of best albums for 2012.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DAVID CHASE, the creator of 'The Sopranos,' talks about his new feature film directorial debut 'Not Fade Away.' It's a coming of age story about a garage band in New Jersey in the 60's. Also joining us is STEVEN VAN ZANDT, of Bruce Springsteen's E-Street Band. VAN ZANDT is the music supervisor for 'Not Fade Away,' and worked with DAVID CHASE previously on 'The Sopranos,' on which he played Silvio. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic Milo Miles reviews "Work Hard, Play Hard, Pray Hard," a new collection of old timey music from the 1920s to the 1930s (Tompkins Square).

---

Interview with Tom Diaz; Commentary on the phrase "Big Data." December 20, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461916].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TOM DIAZ is a former NRA member and competitive shooter who became a gun control lobbyist with The Violence Policy Center in Washington DC which works to enact stricter gun control laws in the US. He's a senior policy analyst there. Diaz was counsel to the Congressional House Subcommittee on Crime and Criminal Justice from 1993-97. He was assistant managing editor at The Washington Times in the late 80s. He co-wrote the books No Boundaries: Transnational Latino Gangs and American Law Enforcement and Lightning Out of Lebanon: Hezbollah Terrorists on American Soil. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG gives us his Word of the Year 2012, and it's not one that's appearing on any other word of the year lists he's seen so far. It's actually two words: Big Data.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LAURA DERN and MIKE WHITE from the HBO series Enlightened, which begins its second season in January 2013. Dern plays a health and beauty executive who returns from a post meltdown retreat to pick up the pieces of her broken life. White is the show's executive producer. Enlightened also stars Luke Wilson and Diane Ladd, who plays Dern's mother (and is her real life mother as well). Dern's work includes the films Blue Velvet and Jurassic Park and had TV roles in The West Wing and King of the Hill. White served as a producer on several TV series including Dawson's Creek and Freaks and Geeks, wrote the screenplays for the films Nacho Libre and The School of Rock, and has acted in films and TV shows as well. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 10/10/11). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD remembers three of his favorite saxophonists who passed in 2011-12: Von Freeman, Lol [LOW'l] Coxhill and Sean Bergin. Jazz lost some great saxophonists in 2012, including David S. Ware, John Tchicai [CHICK-eye], Byard Lancaster, Faruq Z. Bey [far-OOK bay], Hal McKusick and Red Holloway.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI joins us with his year end television wrap up. He provides his top ten and bottom five shows of 2012. David is a frequent guest host at Fresh Air. He teaches at Rowan
University, and runs the website www.tvworthwatching.com. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN has not ten but 12 top films of 2012. He tells Terry what he picked and why. In addition to his duties as Fresh Air's movie expert, Edelstein is film critic for New York magazine.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) A concert and interview with singer ROSEMARY CLOONEY taped before a live audience in San Francisco, January 1997. CLOONEY died in 2002 at the age of 74. During the 1997 concert, she sang some of her best known songs, accompanied by a quintet directed by John Oddo. Her hits from the 1950s include Mambo Italiano, Kitty Kat's Party, Come On-A My House, and This Ole House. While Clooney never won a Grammy, she received the Lifetime Achievement Award at the 44th Annual Grammy Awards in 2002, the year of her death. She had her own television program and roles in several movies. (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 2/11/97)

Interview with Joan Rivers; Interview with Aziz Ansari; Interview with Catherine Russell. December 26, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462278].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian JOAN RIVERS. She turned 79 this year, and has a new book, I Hate Everyone. . . Starting with Me (Berkley). She'll talk with Terry about what she hates, and about her early days in comedy. (REBROADCAST FROM 6.11.12) (2.) Comic and actor AZIZ ANSARI (ah-ZEEZ on-SAR-ee). He co-stars on NBC's Parks and Recreation. ANSARI was born in Columbia, South Carolina to Indian Muslim parents who immigrated from Tamil Nadu, India. ANSARI recently released his Dangerously Delicious Comedy special online (available at www.azizansari.com) He also created and starred in the critically acclaimed cult MTV sketch show Human Giant. He can be seen in the films I Love You Man, Observe and Report, and Funny People. (REBROADCAST from 4.2.12) (3.) Jazz singer CATHERINE RUSSELL is with us in our studio with guitarist MATT MUNISTERI (who is also her music director and arranger). RUSSELL's new album is Strictly Romancin' (World Village) and it's a collection of old jazz and blues tunes including Everything's Been Done Before, Everybody Loves My Baby, I'm Checkin' Out, Goom'Bye, and Romance in the Dark. RUSSELL was a backup singer with David Bowie, Jackson Browne, Steely Dan, Roseanne Cash, Al Green and others until about five years ago when she went solo. She went solo with her first album Cat, her subsequent albums are Inside this Heart of Mine, and Sentimental Streak. Her website is http://catherinerussell.net/ (REBROADCAST from 2.21.12)

Interview with Aaron Sorkin; Interview with R.A. DICKEY. December 27, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462277].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director, writer, and producer AARON SORKIN. His latest project is The Newsroom, which airs on HBO. Sorkin has been involved in TV, film and theater productions including A Few Good Men, The American President, The West Wing, Sports Night, Studio 60 on the Sunset Strip, Charlie Wilson's War, The Social Network, and Moneyball. He won an Oscar for the Social Network and an Emmy for The West Wing. (REBROADCAST from 7.16.12). (2.) Baseball pitcher R.A. DICKEY talks about his new memoir 'Wherever I Wind Up,' (Blue Rider Press) and about being the only Knuckleball pitcher currently in Major League Baseball. DICKEY says that trying to hit a knuckleball is like swinging at 'a butterfly in a typhoon,' and is one of the most difficult pitches to master. As a child DICKEY was sexually abused, which traumatized him for years and nearly cost him his marriage before he sought help through therapy. DICKEY is a starting pitcher for the NY Mets. (REBROADCAST from 4.10.12) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Interview with David Carr; Interview with Gillian Welch and David Rawlings. December 28, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462508].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID CARR writes about media and culture for The New York Times. He writes the Media Equation column which appears in the Monday Business section. And he blogs at Media Decoder ( http://mediadecoder.blogs.nytimes.com/ ). He talks about the impact of social media on reporting. He is featured in the documentary Page One, about day to day operations at the New York Times. CARR is also the author of the memoir Night of the Gun in which he reconstructs his former life as a crack addict and thug. (REBROADCAST. ORIGIA L AI RDATE 10/27/11) (2.) A concert and conversation with singer/songwriter GILLIAN (like "Gill") WELCH and guitarist DAVID RAWLINGS. The two have recorded albums together and solo. They met as music students at Berklee College of Music in Boston. They made their debut with the 1996 album Revival. Their latest album, eight years in the making, is The Harrow & The Harvest. Their other albums include Hell Among the Yearlings (1998), Time (the Revelator) (2001) and Soul Journey (2003). For those unfamiliar with their music, Gillian sang I'll Fly Away, with Alison Krauss on the O Brother Where Art Thou soundtrack. One reviewer says: 'The Harrow & the Harvest is stunning in its freshness, its imagery and melody, Rawlings' playing. Even after four albums of old-sounding songs, Welch can still make old sound new." (REBROADCAST. ORIGINAL AIRDATE: 7/18/2011)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN COLBERT, host of The Colbert Report. At Terry's request, he brought some of his favorite records. We'll hear them and then COLBERT will tell us why he likes them. (REBROADCAST FROM 10.24.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Singer and actress DORIS DAY. She turned 88 in April. Turner Classic Movies (TCM) showed 28 of her films during prime time April 2-6th, and they've named her Star of the Month. They also released a CD/ DVD box set of her recordings and films. DAY made around 40 films working opposite Rock Hudson, Cary Grant, James Garner, Jimmy Cagney, and Frank Sinatra. DAY made her last film in 1968, retired from the movie business, and devoted her life to rescuing dogs and cats. (REBROADCAST from 4.2.12)

Tribute to Fresh Air on its 25th anniversary as a daily NPR program. December 31, 2012. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460775].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Today is our 25th anniversary as a national show. We will mark the occasion by listening back to some of our memorable concert excerpts, they include: PEGGY KING (5.11.87), LOUDON WAINWRIGHT (6.17.87), SUSANNAH MCCORKLE (7.17.87), SHIRLEY HORN (6.29.92); ARTHUR
ALEXANDER (5.7.93); RICHARD THOMPSON (2.7.94); DAVE FRISHBERG & REBECCA KILGORE (12.26.95); JOHN DOE (5.19.00); and CATHERINE RUSSELL (1.24.12). (CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 5.10.12)

Interview with Jack Black; Interview with W. Kamau Bell. January 1, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461513].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JACK BLACK. He's best known for his roles in The School of Rock Nacho Libre, and the black comedy Bernie. BLACK is also the lead singer of heavy-metal duo Tenacious D. They have a new album, their first in six years, Rize of the Fenix. He first became known for his scene-stealing performance in High Fidelity as a sarcastic record store clerk opposite John Cusack. BLACK's other roles include the films Shallow Hal, Orange County, and Saving Silverman. And he's voiced characters in the films The Ice Age and Kung Fu Panda. (REBROADCAST from 4.23.12) (2.) Comic W. KAMAU ("Cah-MOW" - like "now") BELL, host of the weekly FX channel's Totally Biased With W. Kamau Bell which is a comic take on politics from an African-American perspective. (thursdays at 11 PM). The show begins a new season January 17th. The show's executive producer is Chris Rock. BELL's critically acclaimed stand-up show is The W. Kamau Bell Curve: Ending Racism in About an Hour. His stand up album Face Full of Flour was voted one of the top best comedy albums of 2010. BELL lives in San Francisco. (REBROADCAST from 9.13.12)

Interview with Quentin Tarantino; Obituary for Harry Carey, Jr. January 2, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461715].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer & director QUENTIN TARANTINO. His new film Django Unchained is slavery-era spaghetti western-revenge film. His previous film Inglourious Basterds blended elements of the spaghetti western with world war two films. TARANTINO's other films include Reservoir Dogs, Jackie Brown, Pulp Fiction, and the Kill Bill films. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember character actor HARRY CAREY, JR. He died Thursday at the age of 91. He was a member of John Ford's stock company, playing sidekick to John Wayne in the films Wagon
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Master and The Searchers. He appeared in nearly 100 films, including Howard Hawks' Red River and in Gentlemen Prefer Blondes. His father Harry Carey Sr. was a star of the silent western. (REBROADCAST from 10.13.89).

---

Interview with Adam Nossiter; Review of season three of "Downton Abbey." January 3, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461847].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ADAM NOSSITER is West Africa bureau chief for The New York Times based in Dakar, Senegal. He's been covering the presence of Al Qaeda and other Islamic extremist groups in North Mali. He says Al Qaeda holds their largest territory there. NOSSITER is the paper's previous New Orleans-based national correspondent. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews season three of Downton Abbey which begins season three on Sunday on PBS.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) FRANK CALABRESE, Jr. (cal-ah-BREEZ) wrote the memoir, Operation Family Secrets: How a Mobster's Son and the FBI Brought Down Chicago's Murderous Crime Family. It's about bringing down his father's murderous Chicago crime family. While both were in prison for rackeering, FRANK wore a wire against his father. Frank Sr. died Christmas day 2012 at the age of 75. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) We remember gospel/R&B singer FONTELLA BASS. She died Wednesday, December 26th at the age of 72. The cause was complications of a recent heart attack. Her R&B hit Rescue Me came out in 1965. She was given no credits and no royalties for the song. Soon after, disenchanted with the industry, she retired to raise a family. In the mid 1990s she made a comeback, with a gospel album No Ways Tired. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A Grain of Truth the mystery novel by Polish writer Zygmunt Miloszewski. (ZIGmoont Mee-wo-SHEV-ski)

Interview with Julian Fellowes; Review of Blu-ray reissue of film "Sunday Bloody Sunday."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JULIAN FELLOWES is the creator, writer and producer of the wildly popular PBS series Downton Abbey which begins season three on Sunday. He also was associate producer and screenwriter of the film Gosford Park. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new reissue of John Schlesinger's 1971 film Sunday Bloody Sunday on Blu-ray by Criterion and considers how music is used in the film.

Interview with Bruce Levine; Commentary on musician Joe Barry. January 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461843].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian BRUCE LEVINE. He is the author of the new book The Fall of the House of Dixie: The Civil War and the Social Revolution that Transformed the South (Random House). LEVINE is the J.G. Randall Distinguished Professor of History at the University of Illinois. His previous book Confederate Emancipation received the Peter Seaborg Award for Civil War Scholarship and was named one of the ten best nonfiction books of 2006 by The Washington Post. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells the story of "swamp pop" pioneer Joe Barry from Southern Louisiana who recorded music in the 1960s.
Interview with Bobby Cannavale; Review of soundtrack for the television show "Nashville." January 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461803].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Actor BOBBY CANNAVALE (cah-nah-VAHL-e). He is currently appearing opposite Al Pacino in the Broadway revival of David Mamet's Glengarry Glen Ross. In the recent season of the HBO series Boardwalk Empire, he played the twisted gangster Gyp Rosetti. He's also had a part in the Showtime series Nurse Jackie as a tough hospital administrator and was Will's boyfriend on the NBC sitcom Will & Grace. And in a recent episode of Modern Family, he played Cam's former clown partner. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

2. Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the sound track album for the TV show Nashville. The show's musical director is T Bone Burnett.

Description of show segment(s)

1. Nature writer BARRY LOPEZ. His 1978 book Of Wolves and Men, was hailed as landmark for helping alter the conventional wisdom - and fears - about wolves. His book, Artic Dreams, won the National Book Award for its personal account of the wildlife and people of the far north, and of the effect of the Artic landscape on the imagination. LOPEZ has also written many essays and nonfiction articles. He writes about his personal life and how he was sexually abused by a predatory pedophile when he was a boy in this month's Harper's Magazine, Sliver of Sky: Confronting the Trauma of Sexual Abuse. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Preview of Season Two of television program "Girls"; Interview with Lena Dunham; Review of album "Grant Green January 11, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461913].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews Girls which begins season two on HBO Sunday, and considers some of the other cable shows returning as well. (2.) Writer/director LENA DUNHAM. She created the HBO series Girls, about a group of single young women in their 20s in New York City. It begins season two on Sunday. Judd Apatow is executive producer. Previously DUNHAM's 2010 film Tiny Furniture won the jury prize at the South by Southwest Film Festival. She wrote, directed, and starred in it along with her mother and sister. She played a recent college grad who moves back in with her artist-photographer mother and teenage-prodigy sister. (REBROADCAST from 5.7.2012) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Grant Green: The Holy Barbarian, St. Louis (Uptown) a 1959 live recording featuring guitarist Grant Green that's just been discovered.

Interview with Bishop Gene Robinson; Commentary on the phrase "the whole nine yards." January 14, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461561].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bishop GENE ROBINSON. He was appointed the openly gay bishop in the Episcopal Church. He's just retired. He's the author of several books. (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the origins of the phrase "the whole nine yards."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and director BEN AFFLECK. AFFLECK directed and stars in the new film 'Argo,' based on the true story of the rescue of six American diplomats from Tehran during the 1979 Iran hostage crisis. 'Argo' just won a Golden Globe for Best Picture ? Drama, AFFLECK won a Golden Globe for Best Director. AFFLECK has also directed the films 'Gone Baby Gone,' and 'The Town,' he won an Academy Award along with Matt Damon for the screenplay of 'Good Will Hunting,' and has starred in the films like 'Armageddon,' 'Hollywoodland,' and 'State of Play.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews the new story collection 'Tenth of December,' by George Saunders, called 'The Best Book You'll Read This Year' by the New York Times Magazine.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DUSTIN HOFFMAN. He'll talk about making his directorial debut with the new film 'Quartet' which stars Maggie Smith, and about his other starring roles in films like 'The Graduate,' 'Kramer vs. Kramer,' and 'Tootsie.' HOFFMAN was also a recipient of the 2012 Kennedy Center Honors. HOFFMAN's other films include 'Midnight Cowboy,' 'Straw Dogs,' 'Marathon Man,' 'All the President's Men,' 'Rain Man,' and 'Wag the Dog.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science writer JUDITH SHULEVITZ (SHOO-le-vits) discusses her latest article in the New Republic titled 'The Grayest Generation.' In it, she examines research into whether babies conceived by older parents, and perhaps with the aid of fertility treatments, have a higher chance of developmental disorders. SHULEVITZ has written columns for Slate and the New York Times Book Review, and contributed pieces to The New Yorker and The New Republic. She's also the author of 'The Sabbath World' (Random House, 2010). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan has an appreciation of the 1979 book 'A Mad Woman in the Attic', which just won the National Book Critic Circle's Lifetime achievement award.
Interview with Cullen Murphy; Review of film "Mama." January 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461562].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CULLEN MURPHY is the author of the book 'In God's Jury: The Inquisition and the Making of the Modern World' (Houghton Mifflin Harcourt), it's out now in paperback. Murphy explores the different inquisitions that have come and gone beginning with the first one established by the Catholic Church in 1231. MURPHY (2.) Book critic Maureen is the editor at large of Vanity Fair and the former managing editor of the Atlantic Monthly. He is also the author of 'Are We Rome?' (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new horror film 'Mama,' from first time director Andres Muschietti and starring Jessica Chastain.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author RAWN JAMES talks about his new book 'The Double V: How Wars, Protest, and Harry Truman Desegregated America's Military' (Bloomsbury Press, 2013). In it, JAMES describes the history of segregation in the military, beginning with the Revolutionary War. JAMES currently works in the Office of General Counsel for the U.S. Navy, and is a graduate of Yale and Duke University Law School. He's also the author of 'Root and Branch: Charles Hamilton Houston, Thurgood Marshall, and the Struggle to End Segregation' (Bloomsbury Press, 2010). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new FOX series 'The Following,' starring Kevin Bacon? it's his first television series.

Interview with Carolyn Jones; Interview with Carolyn Cline. January 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460777].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CAROLYN JONES is a freelance reporter for the Texas Observer. She has written a series of articles about new restrictions on abortion in Texas. She wrote earlier last year (March 15, 2012) about her experience halfway thru her pregnancy learning that she and her husband's baby was profoundly ill, would not develop properly, and would suffer greatly. She decided to terminate the pregnancy. Two weeks prior a Texas law came in to effect requiring that women wait an extra 24 hours before having an abortion and must listen to a heart beat of the baby or look at a sonogram. (http://www.texasobserver.org/we-have-no-choice-one-womans-ordeal-with-texas-new-sonogram-law/) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) CAROLYN CLINE is Executive Director and CEO of the Involved for Life, Inc. It's a Christian organization whose mission is to "educate and empower women to make informed decisions." It offers alternatives to abortion and operates a pregnancy Center, a women's center, and sonograms on the sites of abortion clinics.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JIMMY KIMMEL is the host and executive producer of the late night talk show Jimmy Kimmel Live (on ABC). The show just moved an hour earlier to an 11:35 time slot. He'll talk about that change, his early admiration of David Letterman, and his family and friends who often show up on his show.

Interview with Lawrence Wright. January 24, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461851].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Tina Fey (11.3.08); Interview with Alec Baldwin; Interview with Tracy Morgan; Interview with Tina Fey (4.13.11). January 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462138].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, writer and actress TINA FEY. FEY is former head writer for Saturday Night Live. She created, stars in, and writes many episodes for the Emmy award winning show 30 Rock which airs Thursday nights on NBC. The final episode of 30 Rock airs next week. (REBROADCAST from 11.3.08)

(2.) Actor ALEC BALDWIN. He's best known for his role as Jack Donaghy on the hit NBC series 30 Rock. He won two Emmys for his work on the show. Baldwin first gained attention for his performance on the 1980s TV series Knots Landing. He also writes for The Huffington Post and has a podcast called Here's The Thing. Baldwin does a lot of voiceover work as well, and hosts The New York Philharmonic This Week. This year he starred in two new films Rock of Ages the big screen adaptation of the Broadway musical, and To Rome with Love, the Woody Allen comedy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 6.25.12)

(3.) Comic TRACY MORGAN. He plays the sketch comedy-TV show star Tracy Jordan on 30 Rock. He was a part of the SNL cast from 1996 to 2003. He's wrote a memoir about growing up in Bedford-Stuy, New York I Am the New Black (REBROADCAST from 10.22.09)

(4.) TINA FEY (REBROADCAST from 4.13.11)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NICK TURSE. His new book Kill Anything That Moves: The Real American War in Vietnam (Metropolitan books) is about the treatment of Vietnamese civilians by American troops during the Vietnam War. It's based on extensive research in military archives, and hundreds of interviews with military veterans and Vietnamese civilians. TURSE finds that torture, murder, rape and mutilation were among the atrocities inflicted on the population, and much of it covered up by military officials. TURSE was the recipient of a Ridenhour Prize at the National Press Club in April 2009 for his years-long investigation of mass civilian slaughter by U.S. troops in Vietnam's Mekong Delta during Operation Speedy Express. He is the author of a number of books about the military, most recently The Changing Face of Empire: Special Ops, Drones, Spies, Proxy Fighters, Secret Bases, and Cyber Warfare (Dispatch

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist FRED KAPLAN is the author of the new book The Insurgents: David Petraeus and the Plot to Change the American Way of War (Simon & Schuster), about how the U.S. military came to embrace a counter insurgency approach to fighting in Iraq, and why that same approach failed in Afghanistan. KAPLAN writes the War Stories column for Slate. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor WILLIAM H. MACY. He's starring in the Showtime series Shameless, now in its third season, as Frank Gallagher a drunk, shiftless, grifter and father who will stoop to any depth to scam or manipulate others. MACY is probably best known for his association with David Mamet in the films House of Games, Things Change, Homicide, Oleanna, Wag the Dog, and State and Main. He was nominated for an Oscar for his role in Fargo. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Fall to Grace the new album by the British singer Paloma Faith. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new dramas premiering this week, The Americans on FX about sleeper KGB agents living in the U.S. during the Reagan era. And House of Cards, which is not on a cable or broadcast network presented by Netflix.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Executive producer and director DAVID FINCHER and actor KEVIN SPACEY. The two are collaborating on the series House of Cards a political thriller based on the original British series. This new series is not available on cable or on broadcast TV but will be available only online thru Netflix (who also produced the series) beginning February 1st. SPACEY plays corrupt Congressman Frances Underwood. FINCHER and SPACEY previously worked together on the film Se7en. FINCHER also directed the films Fight Club and The Social Network. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new box set Jack DeJohnette: Special Edition (on the ECM label) which collects the first four albums by jazz drummer Jack DeJohnette and the band he formed in 1979, Special Edition.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist PAUL BARRETT is the author of Glock: The Rise of America's Gun (now out in paperback) about how the pistol developed by an unknown engineer in Austria became the gun of use by criminals and law enforcement in the U.S. The Glock has found its way into American culture: into films, TV and rap lyrics. It was invented by engineer Gaston Glock in 1982. It's sleek, easy to use, and fast-firing (carrying a 17-round magazine, compared to the six round cylinder of the Smith & Wesson .38 revolver). BARRETT is an assistant managing editor of Bloomberg Businessweek. He covered allegation of Glock's financial and managerial irregularities in a series of articles for the magazine. (REBROADCAST from 1.24.12). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Oscar-nominated documentary The Gatekeepers about Israel's occupation of the West Bank and Gaza Strip, told from the point of view of six former heads

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANDREA STUART is the author of the new book Sugar in the Blood: A Family's Story of Slavery and Empire (Knopf) in which she traces her family history, descending from both slave owners and slaves. STUART was born and raised in Barbados, in the Caribbean. The island was one of Britian's earliest and most profitable colonies in the New World, thanks to the cultivation of sugar, and the slaves who harvested it. STUART'S white ancestor George Ashby was one of the island's first settlers arriving from England in the early 1600s. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Fade the new album by Yo La Tengo.

Interview with Michael Apted and Nicholas Hitchons; Interview with Rebecca Luker. February 5, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461449].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director MICHAEL APTED. 56 Up is the latest in his series of documentary films following a group of English school children from the age of seven on up. Every seven years he returns to the group to film them. He began when the children were seven years old. This is his eighth film in the series. APTED is also the director of the films Coal Miner's Daughter, Gorillas in the Mist, Nell, Amazing Grace and Continental Divide. We will also hear briefly from NICHOLAS HITCHON one of the subjects in the Up films. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Singer and actress REBECCA LUKER. On Broadway, she's played Winifred in the original production of Mary Poppins, Claudia Nardi in Nine, Marion Paroo in The Music Man, Maria in The Sound of Music, Magnolia in Showboat, and Lily in the Secret Garden. She's performed sold out solo concerts of the American Song Book series at Lincoln Center. Last summer she performed a show of Jerome Kern's songs at the New York City 54 Below club. Her latest recording is I Got Love: the Songs of Jerome Kern (PS Classics).

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Israeli musician ANAT COHEN is a jazz clarinetist, saxophonist and band leader. On her new album Claroscuro (Anzic records) she plays a number of styles on songs from Edith Piaf's La Vie en Rose, to Antonio Carlos Jobim's Olha Maria, and Artie Shaw's classic Nightmare. It also includes some original compositions. COHEN credits Louis Armstrong as an inspiration, and her influences include klezmer and latin music. She first fell in love with jazz in Israel, and came to the U.S. to study at the Berklee College of Music in Boston. She's been based in New York since 1999. And she's been the recipient of the clarinetist of the year award for six years in a row from the Jazz Journalists Association. She often performs with her siblings Yuval (soprano sax) & Avishai (trumpeter), 3 Cohens Sextet. They will perform at Carnegie Hall, February 15th. Her website is: http://anatcohen.com/ (THIS INTERVIEW WILL CONTINUE INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews The Rage a new crime novel by Dublin journalist Gene Kerrigan, one in a series of his crime novels set in Ireland.

Interview with Bradley Cooper. February 7, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461536].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Actor BRADLEY COOPER. He's been nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actor for his role in the film Silver Linings Playbook. His role in the film The Hangover helped make him a star. He subsequently starred in the films The Hangover II and Limitless. COOPER also could be seen in the TV show Alias, and in the film Wedding Crashers.
Interview with Tyler Perry; Review of the film "Caesar Must Die." February 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461540].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, director, screenwriter, and producer TYLER PERRY. His thriller Alex Cross in which he stars as a detective/psychologist is now out on DVD. It's an unusual role for him. He's best known for Madea, the character he created in part after his mother, and the star of his popular though not critically acclaimed films including Diary of a Mad Black Woman, Madea's Family Reunion, Meet the Browns, Madea Goes to Jail, Madea's Big Happy Family, and Madea's Witness Protection. He plays Madea in drag, and often plays many of the other characters in the films. His films have been criticized for perpetuating racial stereotypes. PERRY owns his own production company and last year Forbes magazine named him as one of the best paid men in entertainment. He recently signed up with Oprah Winfrey to develop scripted TV shows for her OWN network. (REBROADCAST from 10.15.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the Italian film Caesar Must Die.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer prize winning journalist CHARLIE LEDUFF. He is a former national correspondent for the New York Times, and was part of the team who worked on their series 'How Race Is Lived in America,' which was awarded the 2001 Pulitzer Prize for National Reporting. LEDUFF left the Times to return to his hometown of Detroit and work for The Detroit News. He now works for the Detroit FOX affiliate WJBK. He is the author of the new book Detroit: An American Autopsy. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Scott Shane; Review of James Lasdun's memoir "Give Me Everything You Have." February 12, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461537].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT SHANE is a national security reporter for The New York Times. He's been writing about the Obama administration's targeted drone strikes. He'll discuss the latest on the story about the targeting of Americans abroad who are considered terrorists. And he'll discuss breaking a couple of drone stories, including the story - that the Times had been sitting on - that the U.S. launched drone attacks from a secret base in Saudia Arabia. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Give me Everything You Have, the new memoir James Lasdun.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Biblical scholar JOHN COLLINS is the Holmes Professor of Old Testament Criticism and Interpretation at Yale Divinity School. He is author of the new book, The Dead Sea Scrolls: A Biography (Princeton press). The book is part of the Lives of Great Religious Books series. COLLINS is also the author of Beyond the Qumran Community: The Sectarian Movement of the Dead Sea Scrolls and Introduction to the Hebrew Bible. COLLINS is from Ireland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Gamak the new album by saxophonist Rudresh Mahanthappa.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author DAVID CUNNINGHAM talks about his book 'Klansville U.S.A.: The Rise and Fall of the Civil Rights-Era Ku Klux Klan' (Oxford University Press, Oct. 2012). During the 1960s, Klan activity drastically increased especially in North Carolina. CUNNINGHAM looks at the conditions that allowed the Klan to flourish in North Carolina, and the attempts to mainstream the Klan into everyday life. CUNNINGHAM is Associate Professor and Chair of Sociology and the Social Justice & Social Policy Program at Brandeis University. He's also author of "There's Something Happening Here: The New Left, the Klan, and FBI Counterintelligence" (University of California Press). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album 'Electric' by Richard Thompson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter and playwright TONY KUSHNER talks about writing the screenplay for the Steven Spielberg biopic 'Lincoln.' His screenplay has been nominated for an Academy Award for best adapted screenplay. For the film, KUSHNER adapted Doris Kearns-Goodwin's book 'Team of Rivals: The Political Genius of Abraham Lincoln.' KUSHNER won a Pulitzer prize for his 1993 play Angels in America, and co-wrote the screenplay for the 2005 film Munich. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 11.15.12) (2.) Film director & writer WES ANDERSON. His new film "Moonrise Kingdom," is about a romance between two 12-year olds. ANDERSON co-wrote the screenplay (with Roman Coppolla) which has been nominated for best original screenplay. ANDERSON's other films include the stop-animated "Fantastic Mr. Fox," based on the Roald Dahl children's book, and "The Royal Tennenbaums," "The Darjeeling Limited," "Bottle Rocket" and "Rushmore." (REBROADCAST from 5.29.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet RICHARD BLANCO. He was selected to write and read his poem One Today at President Obama's second inauguration last month. BLANCO immigrated to the U.S. with his family from Cuba when he was a baby. He is the fifth inaugural poet, and the youngest, as well as the first Latino and the first openly gay writer chosen. BLANCO's latest collection of poems is Looking for the Gulf Motel. His inaugural poem will be published in the spring. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)

---

Interview with Emily Bazelon. February 19, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461713].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) EMILY BAZELON is a senior editor at Slate, and a contributing writer at the New York Times Magazine. Her new book is Sticks and Stones: Defeating the Culture of Bullying and Rediscovering the Power of Character and Empathy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Jake Tapper; Review of the film "No." February 20, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461711].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAKE TAPPER is former Senior White House Correspondent for ABC News. He is now Chief Washington correspondent for CNN, and soon will be hosting his own weekday show for the network. His new book The Outpost: An Untold Story of American Valor (Hachette Books) is about Combat Outpost Keating the military base in Afghanistan which was the site of one of deadliest battles of the war there. It took place October 3, 2009. Fifty-three Americans prevailed against nearly 400 Taliban. Camp Keating was in a remote location in a valley between two mountains, and vulnerable to insurgents. In addition, conditions in the camp were unbearable, no hot water or meals, no showers, and many bugs. TAPPER says it was "about as bleak as you could get." Four months after the battle, an investigation by the Pentagon concluded that a camp should not have been there in the first place. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews No, the Oscar-nominated film by Chilean filmmaker Pablo Larrain.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. SAM PARNIA, directs Resuscitation research at the Stony Brook University School of Medicine in New York, and is a leading researcher on what people experience after their heart has stopped before their resuscitation. His new book is Erasing Death: The Science That is Rewriting the Boundaries Between Life and Death (Harper Collins, co-written with Josh Young). PARNIA is also Director of the AWARE Study (AWAreness during REsuscitation) and is a former fellow in pulmonary and critical care medicine at the Weill Cornell Medical Center in New York. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new short story collection Vampires in the Lemon Grove by Karen Russell.

Interview with Ben Affleck; Interview with Bradley Cooper. February 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462187].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and director BEN AFFLECK. He directed and stars in the film Argo, based on the true story of the rescue of six American diplomats from Tehran during the 1979 Iran hostage crisis. Argo has been nominated for 7 academy awards including Best Picture and Best Adapted Screenplay. It won a Golden Globe for Best Picture ? Drama, and AFFLECK won a Golden Globe for Best Director. AFFLECK has also directed the films Gone Baby Gone, and The Town, he won an Academy Award along with Matt Damon for the screenplay of Good Will Hunting, and has starred in the films Armageddon, Hollywoodland, and State of Play. (REBROADCAST from 1.15.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor BRADLEY COOPER. He's been nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actor for his role in the film Silver Linings Playbook. The film has also been nominated for seven other oscars including Best Picture and Best Adapted Screenplay. COOPER's role in the film The Hangover helped make him a star. He subsequently starred in the films The Hangover II and Limitless. COOPER also could be seen in the TV show Alias, and in the film Wedding Crashers. (REBROADCAST from 2.7.13)
Interview with Kevin Cullen and Shelley Murphy; Review of Guards' new album "In Guards We Trust." February 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461809].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists KEVIN CULLEN and SHELLEY MURPHY are award-winning Boston Globe reporters, and the authors of the new book Whitey Bulger: America's Most Wanted Gangster and the Manhunt That Brought Him to Justice. Whitey grew up in the housing projects of South Boston to become one of Boston's most infamous criminals. He led a criminal enterprise from the 1970s until 1995 which included racketeering, extortion, and money laundering. He is also accused of 19 murders. During much of that time he was also an FBI informant and was being protected by the FBI. After 16 years on the lam Bulger was apprehended in California in 2011. He now faces murder charges in a trial in June. CULLEN and MURPHY covered Bulger for the Globe for years. CULLEN was the first to raise questions about Bulger's relationship with the FBI. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews In Guards We Trust the first full-length album by the band Guards.

Interview with Michael Moss; Commentary on linguistic anachronisms in recent films and television shows. February 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461810].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer-prize winning journalist MICHAEL MOSS. He is an investigative reporter for The New York Times, and was awarded the Pulitzer in 2010 for his reporting on the dangers of contaminated meat. MOSS's new book is about how the food industry manipulates products to make us crave their foods and beverages: Salt, Sugar Fat: How the Food Giants Hooked Us. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers linguistic anachronisms in recent period dramas like Downton Abbey, and Lincoln.
Interview with John Thavis; Commentary on Aretha Franklin. February 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461811].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JOHN THAVIS has spent 30 years covering the Vatican, first as a reporter for the Catholic News Service, and then as bureau chief. He is author of the new book The Vatican Diaries: A behind the scenes look at the power, personalities, and politics of the Catholic Church. He'll discuss Pope Benedict's resignation, the conclave and the selection of a new pope, as well as the rumors surrounding the resignation of Pope Benedict. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD looks back at the hitless years of Aretha Franklin as he considers why it took so long for soul music to develop. These were the years Franklin recorded on Columbia.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Israeli film director DROR MOREH. His documentary The Gatekeepers was nominated for an Oscar. It features candid interviews with six former Israeli intelligence chiefs who now have doubts about their country's rule of the Occupied territories. MOREH is also the director of a documentary about former Prime Minister Ariel Sharon. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Mary Coin the new novel by Marisa Silver inspired by the iconic Depression-era photograph taken by Dorothea Lange. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two new recordings by quintets featuring clarinetist and composer Ben Goldberg: Subatomic Particle Homesick Blues and Unfold Ordinary Mind (both from Bag Productions)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director, producer and screenwriter ROBERT ZEMECKIS. His film Flight which stars Denzel Washington, who was nominated for an academy award for his performance as a heroic pilot who is also an alcoholic, is now out on DVD. ZEMECKIS also directed the Back to the Future films, the Academy award winning live action/animation film Who Framed Roger Rabbit, and he won an Academy Award for directing of the film Forest Gump. ZEMECKIS also directed the computer generated, performance capture film The Polar Express based on the famous children's book of the same name. (DAVE DAVIES INTERVIEW) (REBROADCAST FROM 11.29.12) (2.) Actor and director DENZEL WASHINGTON. He was nominated for an Oscar for his role in Flight. WASHINGTON made his directorial debut with the film Antwone Fisher and also directed and starred in The Great Debaters. He won an academy for acting in the films Training Day, and Glory. His other films include Mo' Better Blues, Cry Freedom, John Q, Man on Fire, Devil in a Blue Dress, and Malcolm X. (REBROADCAST from 1.2.08) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Stoker, the creepy new film starring Mia Wasikowska (who recently co-starred in Jane Eyre). It's the first English language film by South Korean director Park Chan-wook.

Interview with Mike White; Review of films "This is Cinerama" and "Windjammer." March 4, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461904].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producer, director actor MIKE WHITE. His HBO Enlightened just had it's second season finale. (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews two new early Cinerama films now out on DVD: This is Cinerama and Windjammer.
Interview with Sandra Day O'Connor; Review of Ashley Monroe's album "Like a Rose." March 5, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461766].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Retired Supreme court Justice SANDRA DAY O'CONNOR. She was the first woman appointed to the high court. President Reagan appointed her in 1981. She's written a new book, Out of Order: Stories from the history of the Supreme Court (Random House). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album Like A Rose by Ashley Monroe, a member of the country group The Pistol Annies.

Interview with Jeffrey Toobin; Review of Rebecca Miller's novel "Jacob's Folly." March 6, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461604].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JEFFREY TOOBIN is a staff writer for The New Yorker. In the current edition of the magazine (March 11) he writes a profile of Supreme Court Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg (Heavyweight: How Ruth Bader Ginsburg has moved the Supreme Court) who was appointed to the court 20 years ago. She also turns 80 this month. TOOBIN is the author of a number of bestselling books, including The Oath: The Obama White House and the Supreme Court, The Nine: Inside the Secret World of the Supreme Court, and Too Close to Call: The Thirty-Six-Day Battle to Decide the 2000 Election. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU SEGMENT D) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the novel Jacob's Folly by Rebecca Miller.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league catcher MIKE PIAZZA. He has a new memoir Long Shot (written with Lonnie Wheeler). PIAZZA spent 16 years with the big leagues, beginning with the Dodgers, and went on to play with the Padres, the A's, the Marlins, and finally the Mets. He's considered one of the best hitting catchers in the game. Though his start with the Dodgers was less promising. He was drafted in 1988 in the 62nd round, and Tommy Lasorda, the manager of the team was a childhood friend of PIAZZA’s father, stoking rumors of favoritism. PIAZZA went on to be selected for the All-star team twelve times. Many fans will remember his feud with pitcher Roger Clemens who hit him in the head with a fastball during the 2000 season. PIAZZA suffered a concussion. Later during the World Series that year, the bat he was using shattered on a pitch by Clemens. The barrel and a sharp edge of the broken bat flew toward Clemens on the mound. Clemens caught the barrel and in an apparent reflex, threw the barrel across the first base line towards the Yankees' dugout and just past Piazza who was running down to first base. Words were spoken between the two, and the two dugouts emptied for a fight, but no punches were thrown. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews David Bowie's new album The Next Day, his first studio album in a decade.

---

Interview with Tim Weiner; Review of film "Oz the Great and Powerful." March 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461770].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter TIM WEINER (WINE-er) talks about his book Enemies: A History of the FBI (now in paperback). The book is based on more than 70,000 recently declassified documents. WEINER has won a Pulitzer Prize for his reporting on national security, and his previous book Legacy of Ashes: A History of the CIA, won the National Book Award. (REBROADCAST from 2.14.12) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Oz the Great and Powerful, the new film from Disney that's a so-called "prequel" to the classic 1939 film The Wizard of Oz.

---

Interview with Emily Anthes; Review of Tegan and Sara's album "Heartthrob." March 11, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461872].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science journalist and author EMILY ANTHES (ANN-thiss) discusses her new book "Frankenstein's Cat: Cuddling Up to Biotech's Brave New Beasts" (Scientific American / Farrar, Straus and Giroux, March 12, 2013). It's about scientists are bio-engineering animals for the betterment and welfare of human beings, and about the ethical problems this presents. She'll talk about how goats are being engineered to produce a certain valuable protein that could nourish small children, how pigs are being engineered to grow organs capable of being transplanted in human beings, and how insects are being controlled by remote control for use in surveillance. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews the new album "Heartthrob" by twin-sister pop duo Tegan and Sara.

Interview with Adrian Younge; Review of Sheryl Sandberg's book "Lean In March 12, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461772].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producer, composer, and musician ADRIAN YOUNGE. YOUNGE draws inspiration from 60s soul, hip hop, psychedelic rock and the music of European film composers like Ennio Morricone. YOUNGE recently produced and released the an album of soul music with William Hart, the singer of the soul group The Delfonics and produced the new Ghostface Killah album "12 Reasons to Die," to be released on April 16th on Soul Temple Records. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews "Lean In: Women, Work and the Will to Lead"(Knopf March 12, 2013) by Sheryl Sandberg.

Interview with Mohsin Hamid; Commentary on the band The Moving Sidewalks. March 13, 2013.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462050].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author MOHSIN HAMID (MOE-sin HAH-mid) talks about his new novel, "How to Get Filthy Rich in Rising Asia." The answer for his main character is by passing off boiled tap water as expensive bottled mineral water in an Asian city which closely resembles Lahore, Pakistan, where Mohsin Hamid lives. Hamid's previous novel "The Reluctant Fundamentalist" was made into a movie starring Kate Hudson, Kiefer Sutherland, Liev Schreiber. It opens next month. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells the story of the band The Moving Sidewalks, featuring guitarist Billy Gibbons of the band ZZ Top - the band has a reunion show March 30th

Interview with Claire Vaye Watkins; Interview with Jake Tapper. March 14, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461755].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer CLAIRE VAYE WATKINS - she's just been awarded the Story Prize, the most significant award for short fiction in the U.S. Her new collection of short stories is titled "Battle Born." Her father died when she was 6, and was a former member of the Manson Family. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Journalist JAKE TAPPER. He's recently joined CNN as chief Washington DC correspondent and will be hosting the new show "The Lead" beginning Monday. TAPPER was formerly the White House correspondent for ABC News, and contributed regularly to "Good Morning America," "Nightline," and "World News with Diane Sawyer."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter and film director PAUL THOMAS ANDERSON. His film "The Master" is out now on DVD and stars Philip Seymour Hoffman as a leader of a cult, and Joaquin Phoenix as his follower. Anderson's other films include "There Will Be Blood," "Magnolia," "Boogie Nights," "Hard Eight," and "Punch Drunk Love." His films "There will Be Blood," "Magnolia," and "Boogie Nights" have all been nominated for an Oscar for best original screenplay. And "There Will Be Blood" has been nominated for best directing and best movie. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW ? REBROADCAST FROM 10/02/2012) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the three new films: "Spring Breakers," "Ginger & Rosa," and "Beyond the Hills."
Interview with Emily Rapp; Review of television programs "Top of the Lake" and "Bates Motel." March 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461834].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author EMILY RAPP talks about her new memoir 'The Still Point of the Turning World'(Penguin Press). In it, she describes how her 9 month old son, Ronan, was diagnosed with Tay-Sachs disease - an incurable, genetic and progressive disease that causes dementia, seizures, spasticity, blindness, paralysis, and eventually death. Ronan died last month, just before his third birthday. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new TV dramas premiering tonight: the miniseries Top of the Lake, co-created and co-written by Jane Campion and starring Holly Hunter (on the Sundance Channel); and Bates Motel, a prequel to Alfred Hitchcock's film Psycho (on A&E).

Interview with Aaron Glantz; Review of Justin Timberlake's album "The 20/20 Experience"; Review of television documentary "Philip Roth March 19, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461923].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist AARON GLANTZ of the Center for Investigative Reporting has been reporting on the long delays soldiers, especially those returning from Iraq and Afghanistan, have in getting disability benefits and other benefits from the VA. GLANTZ also covered the war in Iraq and is the author of the book The War Comes Home: Washington's Battle Against America's Veterans. His articles can be found at: http://cironline.org/reports/senate-committee-demands-information-benefits-backlog-va-42640. (2.) Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews the new Justin Timberlake album 'The 20/20 Experience.' (3.) Critic at large John Powers reviews the new PBS documentary 'Philip Roth: Unmasked.' Roth turns 80 today.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SHEREEN EL FEKI (Cher-EEN-el-FECK-ee) author of the new book Sex and the Citadel: Intimate Life in a Changing Arab World. The book explores how attitudes toward sex and marriage are and aren't changing in Egypt. Shereen El Feki is half-Egyptian and has worked for The Economist and Al Jazeera. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews drummer Barry Altschul's new album The 3dom Factor. It's his first album under his own name in over 25 years.

Interview with Justin Gillis; Interview with Hal Willner; Review of television movie "Phil Spector." March 21, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461926].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JUSTIN GILLIS. He's been writing the series, Temperature Rising, for The New York Times which focuses on the central arguments in the climate debate and examines the evidence for global warming and its consequences. GILLIS is an environmental reporter for the paper's Science Desk. And he is the recipient of the 2011 Columbia University's Oakes Award for Distinguished Environmental journalism. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Music producer HAL WILLNER. He's compiled the new album Son of Rogues Gallery, the sequel to the 2006 album called Rogue's Gallery which he also produced along with Johnny Depp and director Gore Verbinski of the film Pirates of the Caribbean. The album is a collection of pirate ballads, sea songs and chanteys, interpreted by people like Tom Waits, Patti Smith, Michael Stipe, Richard Thompson,Marianne Faithful, Macy Gray, Iggy Pop. HAL WILLNER is the long-time music producer for Saturday Night Live, and has produced a number of tribute albums. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new HBO movie Phil Spector about the famous music producer who was convicted of murder in 2009. David Mamet directed the movie, Al Pacino stars as Spector, and Helen Mirren as his defense attorney. The movie premieres on Sunday.
Interview with Justin Timberlake; Interview with Nathan Englander; Review of film "Olympus Has Fallen." March 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461831].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Musician and actor JUSTIN TIMBERLAKE. He has a new album, The Twenty-Twenty Experience. It's his first in seven years. He got his start as a Mouseketeer in the 1990s show The New Mickey Mouse Club. He was a member of the boy band 'N Sync. His 2002 debut solo album was called Justified. His second album, FutureSex/LoveSounds, included the superhit SexyBack. Timberlake has collaborated with Timbaland, 50 Cent, Madonna, and many other pop stars. His acting career includes the films Black Snake Moan, several Shrek movies and The Love Guru, in which he played Jacques 'LeCoq' Grande. He's also well known for his performance in the Saturday Night Live short 'Dick in a Box,' for which he won an Emmy. Timberlake's received multiple Emmys and Grammys, as well as many other accolades for his work. (REBROADCAST from 10.6.10) (2.) Novel and short story writer NATHAN ENGLANDER. His recent collection of stories What We Talk About When We Talk About Anne Frank is now out in paperback. It's based in part on growing up in an Orthodox Jewish family. He's also recently translated the New American Haggadah. ENGLANDER's short fiction has appeared in The New Yorker, The Atlantic, and numerous other anthologies. He is also the author of the Novel The Ministry of Special Cases. (REBROADCAST from 2.15.12) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Olympus Has Fallen the new action thriller by director Antoine Fuqua.

Interview with Ty Burr; Obituary for Chinua Achebe. March 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461835].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) TY BURR is film critic for the Boston Globe and author of the new book Gods Like Us: On movie stardom and modern fame. It traces the evolution of movie stardom, from the silent era on, and the manipulation by studios to create personas that fans would respond to. BURR also considers what it says about fans who are star obsessed, and the effect on actors under the constant gaze of fans. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Nigerian novelist CHINUA ACHEBE (CHIN-you-ah Ah-CHAY-bay). One of Africa's foremost writers, he died Thursday in Boston after a brief illness. He was 82. His earlier works include Things Fall Apart, which became a classic of world literature and was translated into 45 languages. His other books include, A Man of the People and Arrow of God. Terry talked with him in 1988 after his novel Anthills of the Savannah was published his first novel in 25 years at that time.

Interview with Lynne Olson; Obituary for Anthony Lewis. March 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461625].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LYNNE OLSON is the author of the new book Those Angry Days: Roosevelt, Lindbergh, and America's Fight Over World War II, 1939-1941 (Random House) it's about the epic battle between interventionists and isolationists about whether the U.S. should intervene in World War II. It's the latest of a number of books she's written about World War II. OLSON's previous book Citizens of London: The Americans Who Stood with Britian in Its Darkest, Finest Hour was a bestseller. OLSON and her husband, Stanley Cloud, co-authored the book The Murrow Boys about Edward R. Murrow and his legendary band of CBS radio journalists who reported from the World War II front. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember ANTHONY LEWIS, former New York Times reporter and columnist. He died Monday at the age of 85, from complications of renal and heart failure. In the late 50s and early 60s, he covered the Supreme Court for the Times. He wrote two books which were accounts of landmark decisions of the Warren Court: Gideon's Trumpet (about the 1963 decision that guaranteed lawyers to poor defendants) and Make No Law (about the 1964 decision that revolutionized American libel law). LEWIS was awarded the Pulitzer Prize twice, the first time in 1955 (for a series of articles for The WAshington Daily News about a Navy employee unjustly accused of being a security risk) and in 1963 (for his coverage for The New York Times of the Supreme Court decision about legislative districting). (REBROADCAST from 9.9.91)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MSNBC host CHRIS HAYES. After a year and a half hosting the weekend morning show Up with Chris Hayes, he'll be moving to weeknights, hosting a new show, April 1. The show will precede his mentor Rachel Maddow's show. At the age of 34, Hayes is the youngest of all the cable news hosts on

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriters and musicians EMMYLOU HARRIS and RODNEY CROWELL. They've been friends for almost 40 years, and have worked together too. He was in her band in the mid 70s. They've just collaborated on their first album as a duo. It's Old Yellow Moon. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Frank Langella; Review of documentary film "Room 237." March 29, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461850].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor FRANK LANGELLA. His film Robot & Frank is out on DVD. LANGELLA's spent most of his acting life on stage, where he's won Tony Awards for best supporting actor in Edward Albee's Seascape in 1975, best actor in Fortune's Fool in 2002 and as Richard Nixon in the play Frost/Nixon in 2006. He then played the same role in the film version. His portrayal of Dracula on stage led to his role in the 1979 film Dracula which made him a star. He also played William Paley in Good Night and Good Luck. And he had roles in the film Dave, Diary of a Mad Housewife, and in Mel Brooks' The Twelve Chairs. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 08.16.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new documentary Room 237 about five people obsessed with Stanley Kubrick's 1980 film The Shining. Each have found a wildly different hidden meaning in it.

Interview with Mary Roach; Obituary for Phil Ramone. April 1, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460664].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARY ROACH is the author of the new book Gulp: Adventures on the Alimentary Canal. It's about the tube that runs from mouth to rear. As part of her research for the book, ROACH was given a colonoscopy without sedatives so that she could look at what her large and small intestines looked like. She writes in her book about everything from saliva to flatulence. ROACH is also the author of the best selling book Stiff. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Top record producer and engineer PHIL RAMONE, he died Saturday at the age of 79. RAMONE worked with the music industry's biggest stars including Ray Charles, Frank Sinatra, Barbra Streisand, Paul Simon and Billy Joel, and pioneered new recording technologies. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATE: 2/22/1995)

Interview with Hisham Matar; Review of Kacey Musgrave's album "Same Trailer, Different Park."

April 2, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460663].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Libyan writer HISHAM MATAR. In the current edition of The New Yorker he writes about his father Jaballa Matar who during the 1980s in Libya was one of the opposition's most prominent figures. In 1990 he was kidnapped from the family's Cairo apartment by the Egyptian secret police and delivered to Qaddafi. The family never saw him again. In his New Yorker article {lcub}Letter from Libya: The Return: A Father's disappearance, a journey home{rcub} MATAR writes about his recent return to Libya to find out what happened to his father. MATAR's debut novel In the Country of Men was shortlisted for the 2006 Man Booker Prize. MATAR is based in London. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Same Trailer Different Park, the new album by singer-songwriter Kacey Musgraves.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID SHEFF is the author of the bestselling 2009 memoir Beautiful Boy about his son Nic and his struggle with addiction. Nic became addicted to meth and was in and out of rehab, and is now five years sober. SHEFF's new book Clean: Overcoming Addiction and Ending America's Greatest Tragedy is about the science of addiction and recovery. (2.) Maureen Corrigan reviews Elizabeth Strout's new novel, The Burgess Boys. (3.) David Bianculli reviews the premier episode of season six of AMC's Mad Men.

Interview with Ryan McIlvain; Commentary on the word "marriage." April 4, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460666].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RYAN MCILVAIN talks about his life as a Mormon missionary, going door to door proselytizing despite having doubts about his faith. MCILVAIN is the author of the new novel Elders which is based on his two years as a Mormon missionary in Brazil. He's from a 6th generation Mormon family but left the church in his mid 20's. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers how dictionaries are dealing with the word "marriage" and what that says about how word definitions change and don't change.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember film critic ROGER EBERT who died yesterday. He was 70. He battled cancer for ten years. We'll listen to portions of our interviews with him, and of him interviewing others on stage. They include Terry's 1984 interview with EBERT; her onstage interview with EBERT and Gene Siskel recorded in Chicago in February 1996; Ebert's onstage interview with director Martin Scorsese recorded in February 1997; and Ebert's onstage interview with Francis Ford Coppolla recorded at the Cannes Film Festival in 2001. (THE ORDER OF THESE SEGMENTS IS NOT DETERMINED YET, AND WILL PROBABLY CHANGE BEFORE BROADCAST).

Interview with Neil Irwin; Obituary for David Kuo. April 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460665].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NEIL IRWIN a columnist for the Washington Post and the economics editor of Wonkblog, the Post's site for policy news and analysis. His new book is The Alchemists: Three Central Bankers and a World on Fire (Penguin Press) about the efforts of the world's central banks to combat the financial crisis and its aftermath. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF). (2.) We listen to an archive interview with J. DAVID KUO, former Deputy Director of Faith Based and Community Initiatives under President George W. Bush. KUO left the office after two years and became a vocal critic, saying that the office was nothing more than a political ploy meant to gather evangelical votes. KUO wrote a memoir in 2006 called 'Tempting Faith: An Inside Story of Political Seduction.' KUO died April 05, 2013 of brain cancer. (Interview was originally broadcast 10/18/06).

Interview with Jherek Bischoff; Obituary for Annnette Funicello; Review of the film "Mental." April 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462095].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer, musician, and performer JHEREK BISCHOFF (JARE-ek BISH-off) talks about his new album 'Composed,' (Brassland, 2012) featuring guest performers like David Byrne, Caetano Veloso and Nels Cline. BISCHOFF got his start playing bass in rock bands and recording albums for his friends. He grew up on a sailboat and his father was the drummer of an avant-garde rock band. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We listen back to an archive interview with ANNETTE FUNICELLO, the singer and actress died Monday (4/8/2013) from complications of multiple sclerosis. She was 70. She was one of the original 'Mouseketeers,' discovered by Walt Disney personally and her first movie role was in the Disney film 'The Shaggy Dog.' She went on to star in a series of "Beach “Party” movies including 'Beach Blanket Bingo.' (Original Broadcast date: 5/5/1994) (3.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews the new comedy Mental.

---

Interview with Laurie Edwards; Review of the CD box set "Classic Earl Hines Sessions 1928-1945"; Review of Patricia Volk's memoir "Shocked April 11, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462197].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) LAURIE EDWARDS is the author of the new book In the Kingdom of the Sick: A Social History of Chronic Illness in America. It's her second book. EDWARDS is in her 30s and knows about chronic illness because she contends with three (PCD, bronchiectasis, celiac disease, etc). She is also the author of Life Disrupted: Getting Real About Chronic Illness in Your Twenties and Thirties. EDWARDS has been published in the New York Times, Boston Globe, Glamour and others. She writes the blog, A Chronic Dose, which was named one of Health Central's Top Sites for Pain in 2007. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new Mosaic Box set: Classic Earl Hines Sessions 1928-1945. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new memoir Shocked: My Mother, Schiaparelli, and Me by Patricia Volk

---

Interview with Daniel Handler, a.k.a. Lemony Snicket; Review of the film "To the Wonder." April 12, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462196].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Writer DANIEL HANDLER (aka "Lemony Snicket") of the children's books A Series of Unfortunate Events featuring the orphans Violet, Klaus, and Sunny Baudelaire. In each of the stories the orphans face misfortune; the books are filled with literary references and in-jokes that only adults would get. Last year, HANDLER began a new series of noir books for kids, with the book Who Could That Be At This Hour? His latest book The Dark is about a kid who is afraid of the dark. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 12.10.12) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Terrence Mallick's new film To the Wonder.
Interview with Charlie Graeber; Interview with Kari Nadeau. April 15, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503886].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist CHARLIE GRAEBER ("GRAY-ber") is the author of The Good Nurse: A True Story of Medicine, Madness, and Murder, about former nurse Charles Cullen who killed dozens, if not hundreds, of patients in hospitals in New Jersey and Pennsylvania tampering with IV bags of critically ill patients. He evaded authorities for sixteen years, moving from hospital to hospital. He got away with it because it was sometimes difficult to distinguish routine drug mistakes from murder, and hospital administrators, fearful of their hospital's reputations, covered up Cullen's suspected misdeeds, and fired him. Cullen would then move on to new employment. Cullen was finally arrested in 2003. GRAEBER has written for Wired, GQ, The New Yorker, New York Magazine, Vogue, Outside Magazine, Men's Journal, Bloomberg Businessweek, Travel + Leisure, and The New York Times. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Dr. KARI NADEAU (CAR-ee NAY-dow) talks about Food allergies. No one is certain why food allergies are on the rise, but the rate of allergies has more than doubled in the last ten years and right now, 1 in 13 children is diagnosed with a food allergy. Dr. KARI NADEAU is on the forefront of food allergy research and directs the Stanford Alliance for Food Allergy Research at the Stanford School of Medicine. She's an associate professor of allergies and immunology at the school and the Lucille Packard Children's Hospital.

Interview with Dan Shaughnessy; Interview with Kathryn Joyce; Review of the film "The Central Park Five." April 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462418].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Boston Globe columnist and sportwriter DAN SHAUGHNESSY. He's been with the paper since 1981. He talks briefly with Terry about the bombings yesterday and their affect on the city and the marathon. He writes about it in a column in today's paper as well. http://www.bostonglobe.com/sports/2013/04/15/dan-shaughnessy-patriots-day-sacred-tradition-taken-away/6tiukYoLmfIL0b2UvRhKl/story.html (2.) Author and journalist KATHRYN JOYCE. Her new book The Child Catchers: Rescue, Trafficking, and the new Gospel of Adoption is about how Adoption has become entangled with a conservative Christian agenda that promotes adoption as a way of fulfilling a biblical mandate. Tens of thousands of Evangelical Christians are adopting children from overseas, but the children they bring home aren't always orphans. JOYCE is also the author of Quiverfull: Inside the Christian Patriarchy Movement (2010, Beacon Press). Her work has appeared in The Atlantic, The Nation, Mother Jones, Ms., Slate, Salon and Newsweek. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Central Park 5 the new documentary by Ken Burns on PBS about the five teens convicted and then exonerated in the violent assault and rape of a female jogger in 1989.

Interview with Jonathan Cohn; Review of Brad Paisley's album "Wheelhouse"; Interview with Amby Burfoot. April 17, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462098].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN COHN is Senior Editor at The New Republic and has written their new cover story: The Hell of American Day Care which investigates the barely regulated unsafe business of looking after our children. He writes that 40% of our children under age five are in day care. He writes: "Excellent day cares are available, of course, if you have the money to pay for them and the luck to secure a spot. But the overall quality is wildly uneven and barely monitored, and at the lower end, it's Dickensian." He also writes that there are no regular surveys of quality and no national database of safety problems at day care centers, plus day care workers - depending on the state - are mostly poorly trained, and poorly paid. And day care is expensive, and for poor income families, unaffordable. http://www.newrepublic.com/article/112892/hell-american-day-care(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album Wheelhouse by Brad Paisley. It includes the controversial song Accidental Racist which he co-wrote and performed with LL Cool J. (3.) AMBY BURFOOT is a former winner of the Boston Marathon (1968) and editor of Runner's World. He runs the Marathon every five years. And this year marked the 45th anniversary of his win. He'll talk about the marathon and his experiences running it this year, and effect of the bombings on the event and the people involved.
Interview with Sebastian Junger. April 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461875].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SEBASTIAN JUNGER. He pays tribute to friend and colleague photojournalist Tim Hetherington, in the new HBO documentary Which Way Is the Front Line From Here (premiering Thursday, 18 April). Hetherington was killed in Libya while covering the uprising in 2011. JUNGER and Hetherington had collaborated on the documentary Restrepo about an American military outpost in Afghanistan. The documentary was nominated for an Academy Award. JUNGER has reported on war, terrorism, and human rights from Sierra Leone, Liberia, and Kosovo, and Bosnia. JUNGER is also the author of the bestseller The Perfect Storm. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Seth Mnookin; Interview with Charles Sennott; Interview with Dennis Lehane; Interview with Dave McKenna. April 19, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885137].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SETH MNOOKIN (meh-NOO-kin) is co-director of MIT's Graduate Program in Science Writing, a contributing editor at Vanity Fair where he's written about the US's media presence in Iraq. He was live-tweeting the events at MIT last night. He currently lives in Brookline, MA. (2.) CHARLES SENNOTT is the Vice President, Executive Editor and co-founder GlobalPost. SENNOTT is an award-winning correspondent with 25 years experience and was a longtime world reporter for the Boston Globe, covering wars, terrorist attacks, insurgencies and civil unrest. (3.) Boston novelist DENIS LEHANE will reflect on the tragedy at the Boston Marathon and the ensuing events. LEHANE's novels include "A Drink Before the War," "Darkness, Take My Hand," "Gone, Baby, Gone," and "Mystic River." (4.) Pianist Dave Mckenna who was from Boston. (REBROADCAST from 1988)
Interview with Barbara Patterson-Horowitz; Review of the television mini-series "Rectify"; Review of the film "Oblivion." April 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462096].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Cardiologist BARBARA NATTERSON-HOROWITZ is a cardiology professor at UCLA and is a cardiovascular consultant for the Los Angeles Zoo. She is co-author (with Kathryn Bowers, staff editor of The Atlantic) of the new book Zoobiquity: The Astonishing Connection Between Human and Animal Health. Called in to help treat a small Emperor tamarin monkey with heart trouble, NATTERSON-HOROWITZ saw a link between something veterinarians call "capture myopathy" in animals and something she's seen diagnosed in humans, takotsubo cardiomyopathy. She began to research what other conditions or diseases are found in common among humans and animals, and what can we learn about how they are treated. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new Sundance Channel six-part series Rectify about a man released from prison on a technicality after 19 years in prison, who may or may not be guilty of murder. It stars Aiden Young. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Oblivion starring Tom Cruise, based on the graphic novel of the same name.

---

Interview with Matthew McConaughey. April 23, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461873].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MATTHEW MCONAUGHEY (Mah-con-ah-HAY). He's starring in the new film Mud by director Jeff Nichols who also made Take Shelter and Shotgun Stories. After starring in a number of romantic-comedies, MCCONAUGHEY has recently played darker more complicated roles: a former dancer and aging owner of a male strip club in Steven Soderbergh's Magic Mike; a sociopathic cop and part-time hit man in Killer Joe; and a closeted gay reporter with a death wish in the film The Paperboy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with David Sedaris; Review of Ken Kalfus' novel "Equilateral." April 24, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461877].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Humorist DAVID SEDARIS. His new book of essays is Let's Explore Diabetes with Owls, and some of the stories are based on his journal writing which he began in 1977. This is his eighth book. His other books include When You Are Engulfed in Flames and the bestsellers Me Talk Pretty on Day, Dress your Family in Corduroy and Denim, Naked and Barrel Fever. Sedaris first became known for the Santaland Diaries, broadcast on NPR in the early 1990s. He is a frequent contributor to This American Life, Esquire and The New Yorker. He lives in France and England with his partner, Hugh Hamrick. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Equilateral the new novel by Ken Kalfus.

Interview with Matthew Weiner. April 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461958].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writer and producer MATTHEW WEINER (WHY-ner). He created the AMC series Mad Men, which is now into season six. This season began on the eve of 1968. The show has won consecutive Golden Globes, and Outstanding Drama series Emmy awards. Set in 1960s New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. WEINER also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Barbra Streisand; Obituary for George Jones; Commentary on the word "horrific." April 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461675].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BARBRA STREISAND is one of a very few entertainers who's won it all: an Oscar, Emmy, Grammy, and a Tony Award. On Monday she received another honor: the Chaplin award from the film society of Lincoln Center. She's their 40th honoree and received the award at a star-studded event. STREISAND starred last year in the film The Guilt Trip along with Seth Rogen. Streisand is also a producer and director. She has won two Oscars (one for Funny Girl), eight Grammys, five Emmys, a Tony and a Golden Globe. She was also honored by the Director's Guild, American Film Institute, the Kennedy Center and the Peabody. Streisand grew up in Brooklyn NY. (REBROADCAST from 12.17.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember the great country singer GEORGE JONES who died today at the age of 81. We listen back to an excerpt of our interview with him. (REBROADCAST from 5.8.96) (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the word "horrific."

---

Interview with Marc Maron. April 29, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461593].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Stand-up comic MARC MARON is host of the popular podcast WTF with Marc Maron (http://www.wtfpod.com/) in which he interviews his fellow comics and entertainers like Louis CK (also a friend), Conan O'Brien, Hank Azaria, Amy Poehler and others. He does the podcast from his garage attached to his home where he takes in feral cats. It was awarded the best comedy podcast by Comedy Central last year. Next week MARON premieres a new semi-autographical comedy show on IFC about a comic with a popular podcast, titled Maron (May 3rd). And he has a new memoir, Attempting Normal. He's been a standup comic for twenty years, and uses his relationships, his dysfunctions and addiction problems as fodder for his comedy.

---

Interview with C.J. Chivers. April 30, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461492].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist C.J. CHIVERS of The New York Times. He recently returned from Syria where he was covering the civil war there. He also contributes to the paper's At War Blog, is a former Marine, and is the author of the book The Gun, a history of the AK-47.
Interview with Adrian Raine; Review of films "Mud" and "At Any Price." May 1, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461527].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Criminologist and psychologist ADRIAN RAINE ("Rain") is the author of the new book The Anatomy of Violence: The Biological Roots of Crime. He's done pioneering research on the biological roots of crime and violence. He was the first researcher to scan the brains of murderers, finding in a significant number a lack of development in the pre-frontal area which controls impulse and emotion. His work is controversial, having implications for crime, punishment, and treatment. RAINE is the Richard Petty University Professor of Criminology, Psychiatry, and Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania.
(2.) Film Critic David Edelstein reviews two films: Mud and At Any Price.

Interview with Elizabeth Cline; Review of restoration of film "Portrait of Jason." May 2, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461448].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Criminologist and psychologist ADRIAN RAINE ("Rain") is the author of the new book The Anatomy of Violence: The Biological Roots of Crime. He's done pioneering research on the biological roots of crime and violence. He was the first researcher to scan the brains of murderers, finding in a significant number a lack of development in the pre-frontal area which controls impulse and emotion. His work is controversial, having implications for crime, punishment, and treatment. RAINE is the Richard Petty University Professor of Criminology, Psychiatry, and Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania.
(2.) Film Critic David Edelstein reviews two films: Mud and At Any Price.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BRADLEY COOPER. He was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Actor for his role in the film Silver Linings Playbook. His role in the film The Hangover helped make him a star. He subsequently starred in the films The Hangover II and Limitless. Currently he's starring in the drama The Place Beyond the Pines (REBROADCAST from 02.07.13) (2.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews 'Iron Man 3' starring Robert Downey Jr., Gwyneth Paltrow & Don Cheadle.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LAURA LINNEY talks about her starring role as a high school teacher who is battling cancer in Showtime's dark comedy, 'The Big C.' The show is now its final season. LINNEY is well known for her work on the big screen. Her film career began with small parts in Lorenzo's Oil (1992) and Dave (1993). LINNEY has received Academy Award nominations for her performances in You Can Count on Me (2000), Kinsey (2004) and The Savages (2007). (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel 'Flora,' by Gail Godwin (Bloomsbury 2013) (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'The Stand-In,' the second album by country singer Caitlin Rose.

Interview with Patricia Volk; Talk by Martin Scorsese. May 7, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462198].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author PATRICIA VOLK. Her new memoir, 'Shocked: My Mother, Schiaparelli, and Me' juxtaposes the life of her mother Audrey with the fashion designer Elsa Schiaparelli (skap-a-RELL-ee). Both women had a profound effect on VOLK's development as a young girl. VOLK is also the author of the memoir 'Stuffed,' the novel 'White Light,' and the short story collections 'All it Takes,' and 'The Yellow Banana.' (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF) (2.) We hear an excerpt of the 2013 Jefferson Lecture with MARTIN SCORSESE, presented by the National Endowment for the Humanities. SCORSESE, the academy award winning director, talks about his love of film and film history. The lecture was titled 'Persistence of Vision: Reading the Language of Cinema.' This excerpt is being broadcast with permission and was recorded April 01, 2013.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter GARY RIVLIN talks about his article in the May 20th edition of The Nation titled 'How Wall Street Defanged Dodd-Frank.' In it, RIVLIN describes how an army of lobbyists and lawyers systematically attacked and weakened the Dodd-Frank financial reform legislation that was passed into law almost three years ago. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new solo album by Natalie Maines of The Dixie Chicks. It's called 'Mother.'

Interview with Claire Messud; Obituary for Ray Harryhausen; Review of television series "Family Tree." May 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462101].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CLAIRE MESSUD (meh-SOOD), author of the new novel 'The Woman Upstairs' about a woman with unfulfilled dreams who finds herself falling in love with a glamorous and artistic family. MESSUD's previous novel 'The Emperor's Children,' was a 2006 best-seller. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember RAY HARRYHAUSEN, the stop-motion animation and special effects legend whose work on films like 'Mighty Joe Young,' 'Jason and the Argonauts,' and 'The Seventh Voyage of Sinbad,' inspired generations of filmmakers. He died Tuesday at 92. (Interview originally broadcast 1/6/03) (3.) TV Critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new HBO comedy series 'Family Tree' co-created by Christopher Guest and starring Chris O'Dowd.

Interview with Steve Carell; Interview with Greg Daniels and Mindy Kaling; Interview with Ricky Gervais; Interview with Jenna Fischer; Interview with Rainn Wilson; Review of film "The Great Gatsby." May 10, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462417].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor STEVE CARELL ('Cah-RELL') is best known for his role as Michael Scott on NBC's 'The Office.' His other film roles include 'The 40 Year Old Virgin,' and 'Little Miss Sunshine.' He rose to fame as a correspondent on 'The Daily Show with Jon Stewart' where he was part of the team from 1999 to 2004. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATE: 10/24/07) (2.) TV writers GREG DANIELS and MINDY KALING worked on The Office. Kaling also plays Kelly on the show. Daniels has a history of TV comedy writing. He's worked on Saturday Night Live, Seinfeld and the Simpsons. Kaling had a role in the film The 40 Year Old Virgin and appeared on an episode of HBO's Curb Your Enthusiasm. (REBROADCAST 11.02.06) (3.) Writer, director, and actor RICKY GERVAIS ('GER-vaas') of the hit BBC sitcom, 'The Office.' GERVAIS starred as the self-obsessed middle manager David Brent. GERVAIS co-created both the British and American versions of 'The Office.' (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATE: 4/12/04) (4.) Actress JENNA FISCHER. She's best known for her role as Pam, the receptionist on NBC's 'The Office.' She played opposite John C. Reilly in the film 'Walk Hard: The Dewey Cox Story,' and with Will Ferrell in 'Blades of Glory.' She's appeared in several Judd Apatow projects including 'The 40 Year Old Virgin' and the TV series 'Undeclared.' (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATE: 6/3/08) (5.) Actor RAINN WILSON ('RAIN'). He's best known for his portrayal of Dwight Schrute in NBC's 'The Office.' Before that he played Arthur Martin, the intern at the Fisher family funeral home in 'Six Feet Under.' (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATE: 7/30/08) (6.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Great Gatsby.

Interview with Robert Caro; Review of four archival recordings of Bing Crosby. May 13, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462100].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer prize winning author ROBERT CARO. He's written the fourth part of his biography of Lyndon Johnson. It's titled The Passage of Power and covers the years 1959 - 1964. In this period he goes from being the Senate majority leader to a vice president with little power, and then assuming the Presidency after the assassination of President Kennedy. It also details his War on Poverty, and his feud with Robert Kennedy. CARO's other books in the series include: The Path to Power, Means of Ascent, and Master of the Senate. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new series of archival recordings by Bing Crosby: Bing Sings the Great American Songbook; A Southern Memoir; So Rare: Treasures from the Crosby Archive; Bing on Broadway Interview with Noah Baumbach and Greta Gerwig; Review of Dawes' album "Stories Don't End." May 14, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461871].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Filmmaker NOAH BAUMBACH ("Bomb-back") and actress GRETA GERWIG. The two co-wrote the new film Frances Ha about a young woman in New York City struggling toward adulthood. GERWIG also starred in Baumbach's film Greenberg, opposite Ben Stiller. BAUMBACH other films include The Squid and the Whale and Margot at the Wedding. He established himself as a director with the 1995 post-college angst film Kicking and Screaming. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Stories Don't End, the third album by the rock band Dawes.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress SARAH POLLEY ("POLLY"). She's made her first documentary with Stories We Tell about her own family, and discovering five years ago that her father is not her biological father. POLLEY made her directing debut in 2007 with the film Away From Me starring Julie Christie, based on a short story by Alice Munro about a woman who develops Alzheimer's. Her other film is Take This Waltz starring Michelle Williams and Seth Rogan. POLLEY has acted professionally since the age of six. She starred in the Atom Egoyan films Exotica and The Sweet Hereafter and in the films My Life Without Me and a remake of the cult horror film Dawn of the Dead. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Americanah the new novel by Nigerian writer Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie.
Interview with Robert Hiltonsmith; Commentary on jazz musician Woody Herman; Review of film "Star Trek May 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461960].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Economist ROBERT HILTONSMITH is a policy analyst at Demos, the public policy organization. He provides research and analysis on issues of retirement security in the U.S and especially how it affects young people. Recently he has written about the hidden fees that come with 401(k) plans. He writes that 401(k) fees reduce investment returns by 1 to 2 percent a year. HILTONSMITH also writes about tax policy, health care, and the labor market. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD considers the music of bandleader and clarinetist Woody Herman on the 100th anniversary of his birth. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Star Trek: Into the Darkness directed by J.J. Abrams.

Interview with Bill Hader; Commentary on Jerry Lee Lewis's later career. May 17, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461491].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BILL HADER (HAY-der) is a cast member of Saturday Night Live. Saturday's show will be his last, after eight years. He's been nominated for an Emmy for his work. HADER is best known for his characters Stefon, a hipster nightlife correspondent in New York City, and for the clueless celebrity interviewer Vinny Vedecci. He's also done impersonations of Rick Perry, Charlie Sheen, Clint Eastwood and Alan Alda. He's had supporting roles in the films Superbad, Pineapple Express, Adventureland and Paul. (REBROADCAST from 8.22.2012) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD looks back on the career of Jerry Lee Lewis after he bottomed out, thanks to the scandal about his under-age bride.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The great MEL BROOKS talks with TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI about his career. BROOKS is the subject of a new American Masters documentary on PBS Mel Brooks: Make a Noise, premiering Monday at 9 PM May 20th. It covers everything from his early career in live television with Sid Caesar on Your Show of Shows, the 2000 Year Old Man routine with Carl Reiner, to his films The Producers, Young Frankenstein, Blazing Saddles, High Anxiety, Spaceballs ? to the Broadway musical of The Producers. (2.) KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new Sarah Vaughan box set 'Divine, The Jazz Albums 1954 ? 1958.'

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director STEPHEN SODERBERGH. His new HBO film, Behind The Candelabra stars Michael Douglas as Liberace the flamboyant, classically trained pianist and entertainer. Matt Damon plays Liberace's young boyfriend. SODERBERGH and Damon previously worked on the Ocean films (11, 12, and 13) and on the film The Informant. SODERBERGH got his start with the cult indie hit Sex, lies and Videotape, which was nominated for an Academy Award. His other notable works include the Oscar nominated Erin Brockovich and the Oscar winner Traffic. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JENNIFER GILMORE. Her new novel The Mothers is based on her and her husband's efforts to adopt a child. Like the parents in the book, they attempted international adoption first, and then tried open adoption in the U.S.. Along the way they ran into scams, and dodges. One woman she exchanged hundreds of emails with and met, turned out to not be serious about adoption, and wanted only attention. Her previous novels are Golden Country and Something Red. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Random Access Memories, the new album by the French music act Daft Punk.

Interview with Julianne Moore; Review of television movie "Behind the Candelabra." May 23, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461489].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress JULIANNE MOORE. She's currently starring in the new film What Maise Knew, as an out of control rock star and mother in the midst of a nasty custody battle. It's based on a novel by Henry James. MOORE recently played Sarah Palin in the TV movie Game Change. Her other films include Boogie Nights, Magnolia, Far From Heaven, The Big Lebowski, Short Cuts, and The Hours. She's been nominated for an Oscar four times. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES ? INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new HBO movie drama 'Behind the Candelabra,' starring Michael Douglas as Liberace and Matt Damon as his young boyfriend.

Obituary for Ray Manzarek; Interview with Marcus Samuelsson; Review of films "Frances Ha" and " Before Midnight." May 24, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461490].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember RAY MANZAREK (man-ZARE-ick), co-founder and keyboardist of The Doors ? he died Monday of Cancer. We'll listen back to MANZAREK's 1998 Fresh Air interview, after the publication of his memoir 'Light My Fire: My Life with The Doors.' MANZAREK talked about his experience playing in one of the 1960s most influential bands. The Doors disbanded after singer Jim Morrison died in 1971. MANZAREK produced albums for the punk band X, and recorded several solo albums. (Original Broadcast: 7/6/1998) (2.) Chef and restaurateur MARCUS SAMUELSSON. The James Beard award winning chef was the youngest ever to receive a three star review from the New York Times for his work at Aquavit in Manhattan. Samuelsson now operates two restaurants in New York City; the second is Red Rooster in Harlem. His new memoir is called Yes, Chef. Samuelsson is half Ethiopian and half Swedish. (Original Broadcast date: 6/28/2012 INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new films 'Frances Ha,' from director Noah Baumbach and 'Before Midnight,' the third in a series of films by director Richard Linklater.

Interview with Quincy Jones; Interview with John Nagl; Interview with Brian Turner; Commentary on Maureen Corrigan's father. May 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461541].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, producer, arranger, composer QUINCY JONES. He turned 80 years old in March, and in April was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. In his sixty plus year career he's worked with just about anyone who is anybody in the music business. As a teenager he played backup for Billie Holiday, along with his 16 year old friend, Ray Charles. At 18 he began playing the trumpet in Lionel Hampton's band beside Clifford Brown. He went on to work with Count Basie, Frank Sinatra, Dinah Washington, Sarah Vaughn, Lesley Gore and many others. He wrote the theme songs for the TV shows 'Sanford & Sons,' and 'Ironside,' and music for the films 'In Cold Blood,' 'For the Love of Ivy,' and 'The Pawnbroker. His biggest commercial success was producing and arranging Michael Jackson's 1982 hit album 'Thriller.' (REBROADCAST from 11.5.01) (THIS INTERVIEW INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Counterinsurgency expert and retired Colonel JOHN NAGL (NOG-el). He is a non-resident Senior Fellow at the Center for a New American Security. Nagl is a retired US Army officer. He led a tank platoon in Operation Desert Storm and served as the operations officer of a tank battalion task force in Iraq. A West Point graduate and Rhodes Scholar, Nagl earned his doctorate from Oxford University, taught national security studies at West Point, and served as a Military Assistant to the Deputy Secretary of Defense. Nagl was on the team that wrote the military's latest counterinsurgency manual. His writings have appeared in the New York Times, Washington Post, and the Wall Street Journal. He will become the new headmaster at The Haverford School in Haverford, Pennsylvania in July. (REBROADCAST from 7.22.08) (3.) Soldier and poet BRIAN TURNER served in the U.S. Army for seven years, including one year as infantry team leader in Iraq. His debut book of poems Here, Bullet won the 2005 Beatrice Hawley Award, the New York Times 'Editor's Choice' selection, and the 2006 Pen Center USA 'Best in the Interview with Stephen King; Review of Vampire Weekend's album "Modern Vampires of the City." May 28, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461450].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Horror writer STEPHEN KING, the author of the bestsellers Carrie, Green Mile, The Shining, The Stand, Pet Semetary and many other novels, and short stories. His latest novel Joyland is set in an amusement park. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Modern Vampires of the City, the third album by the band Vampire Weekend.

Interview with Barry Meir; Interview with John Powers. May 29, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503566].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BARRY MEIR covers the intersection of business, medicine and the public health for The New York Times. He is a two-time winner of the George Polk Award. He's written a new a new ebook A World of Hurt: Fixing Pain Medicine's Biggest Mistake. In it he writes about the unintended consequences of the long term use of oxycontin. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS talks with Terry about the films he saw at the 66th annual Cannes International Film Festival.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer/director RICHARD LINKLATER and actors JULIE DELPHY and ETHAN HAWKE. The new film Before Midnight, completes LINKLATER's trilogy of films about two young people who meet and fall in love on a train in Vienna. The trilogy began with the film Before Sunset, then Before Sunrise. All three films star Delphy and Ethan, who also co-wrote the last two of the films. LINKLATER is a self-taught director and his other films include Slacker, Dazed & Confused The School of Rock and A Scanner Darkly. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews a newly released recording from the Festival au Desert (Festival in the Desert) held last year near Timbuktu, Mali, Live From Festival au Desert Timbuktu (Clermont Music). It features music of Africa and North Africa.

Interview with Kevin Cullen and Shelley Murphy; Review of film "The East." May 31, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462242].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists KEVIN CULLEN and SHELLEY MURPHY are award-winning Boston Globe reporters, and the authors of the book Whitey Bulger: America's Most Wanted Gangster and the Manhunt That Brought Him to Justice. Next week jury selection begins on Bulger's federal racketeering trial which includes allegations that he participated in 19 murders. Whitey grew up in the housing projects of South Boston to become one of Boston's most infamous criminals. He led a criminal enterprise from the 1970s until 1995 which included racketeering, extortion, and money laundering. During much of that time he was also an FBI informant and was being protected by the FBI. After 16 years on the lam Bulger was apprehended in California in 2011. CULLEN and MURPHY covered Bulger for the Globe for years. CULLEN was the first to raise questions about Bulger's relationship with the FBI. (REBROADCAST from 2.25.13) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The East, he calls it a "romantic activist outlaw fantasy."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ALYSIA (Ah-LEA-sha) ABBOTT is the author of the new book, Fairyland: A Memoir of My Father (W.W. Norton) about being raised by her gay father in San Francisco in the 1970s at the dawn of the gay liberation era. At that time, there were few openly gay parents raising children. ABBOTT's mother died in a car accident when she was a baby. Her father Steve Abbott was an acclaimed poet, novelist and critic who edited Poetry Flash magazine and taught writing at the University of San Francisco and the Naropa

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT MALLEY [MAL-ee], specializes in conflict resolution. He is Middle East and North Africa Program Director for the International Crisis Group. And he is a former Special Assistant to President Clinton for Arab-Israeli Affairs (1998-2001). He'll talk about what's going on in Syria and the region. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI recently watched all 15 episodes of Arrested Development that were just released by Netflix. He has a review.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MITCH HURWITZ is the creator of the TV show Arrested Development which aired for three seasons on FOX before it was cancelled in 2006. It's developed a cult following since. And now seven years after it went off the air it's been revived. On May 26th all fifteen episodes of the new season four were released at once on Netflix. It's the first recurring TV show to have a season on Netflix. The comedy follows the dysfunctional, formerly wealthy family the Bluths. It stars Jason Bateman, Micheal Cera, Jeffrey Tambor, Jessica Walter, Will Arnett, with recurring appearances by Henry Winkler, Liza Minnelli, and Scott Baio. It's produced and narrated by Ron Howard. While on TV Arrested Development was awarded six Emmys, and one Golden Globe. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neuroscientist SUZANNE CORKIN. She runs the Corkin neuroscience lab at MIT and is Professor of Behavioral Neuroscience, Emerita. Her new book is Permanent Present Tense: The Unforgettable Life of the Amnesic Patient, H. M. It's about Henry Molaisin who was 27 years old in 1953 when he had experimental brain surgery for epilepsy. It cured his epilepsy but resulted in amnesia and prevented him from forming new memories. He became the most studied patients in medical history. CORKIN was a graduate student when she began working with Molaisin in 1962. She studied him for nearly 50 years, yet he didn't remember her from one visit to the next. Molaisin died in 2008. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new solo album, Southeastern by Jason Isbell who used to be part of the Southern-rock band the Drive-By Truckers.

Interview with Brian Castner; Review of Karen Joy Fowler's novel "We Are All Completely Beside Ourselves." June 7, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461556].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BRIAN CASTNER served three tours in the Middle East in the Air Force. For two of them he was commander of an Explosive Ordnance Disposal unit in Iraq. He received a Bronze Star for his service in 2006. His memoir, The Long Walk: A Story of War and the Life That Follows is out in paperback. The American Lyric Opera is currently developing the book into a new opera. CASTNER writes a blog at http://briancastner.com/. (REBROADCAST from 7.9.12)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel We Are All Completely Beside Ourselves by Karen Joy Fowler, whose previous novel is The Jane Austen Book Club.
Interview with Mark Gerchick; Review of the CD box set "Cooler Than Ice June 10, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461477].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Aviation consultant MARK GERCHICK. He's also former chief counsel for the FAA. His new book is Full Upright and Locked Position: Not-So-Comfortable Truths about Air Travel Today. (W.W. Norton) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic EDWARD remembers Arctic records where a number of famous artists got their start.

Interview with Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg, June 11, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461476].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SETH ROGEN & EVAN GOLDBERG are the co-writers and directors of the new film This is the End, new judgment day comedy in which actors playing themselves are at a party held by James Franco when the apocalypse begins. It also stars, Jonah Hill, Danny McBride, Craig Robinson with cameos by Emma Watson, Mindy Kaling and Paul Rudd. ROGEN and GOLDBERG also co-wrote Superbad. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Merry Clayton and Morgan Neville; Review of Dan Penn's album "The Fame Recordings." June 12, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461475].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Backup singer MERRY CLAYTON and documentary film maker MORGAN NEVILLE. CLAYTON is one of the backup singers featured NEVILLE's new documentary, 20 Feet from Stardom. CLAYTON is best known for singing backup on The Rolling Stone's Gimme Shelter. She also sang on Lynyrd Skynyrd's Sweet Home Alabama, and on several tracks of Neil Young's 1968 debut album Neil Young. Before that she performed with Ray Charles, Pearl Bailey, Phil Ochs, and Burt Bacharach. NEVILLE has been working in TV and film for 20 years. He's directed the film Muddy Waters: Can't Be Satisfied and produced and directed TV specials on Sidney Poitier, Nat King Cole, Jonathan Winters and others.
for Arts and Entertainment. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music historian ED WARD reviews the new collection of songwriter Dan Penn: The Fame Recordings, a 24-song collection of Penn's previously unreleased songwriting demos. The CD represents the best of the some 100 tracks Penn recorded between 1963 and 1966.

Interview with Carl Hiaasen; Review of Slaid Cleaves' album "Still Fighting the War"; Obituary for Yoram Kaniuk. June 13, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238691].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist, columnist and Florida native CARL HIAASSEN. He's been writing for The Miami Herald for over 35 years, first as a reporter and then as a columnist. He received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Society of Newspaper Columnists. He's best known for his numerous satirical novels that lampoon Florida characters, especially the powerful and the corrupt. His latest is Bad Monkey (Knopf). He's also written a number of young adult books (Chomp, Scat, Flush and Hoot), and the golf confessional The Downhill Lie. HIAASSEN has also written for Sports Illustrated, Playboy, Time, Life, Esquire and Gourmet. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album from musician Slaid Cleaves (3.) We remember Israeli novelist YORAM KANIUK (yor-ROHM Kenny-YOOK) by listening to an interview Terry Gross recorded with him in 1988. Kaniuk died on Saturday at age 83.

Interview with Hilary Mantel; Interview with John Oliver; Review of the film "Much Ado About Nothing." June 14, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461478].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author HILARY MANTEL. Her historical novel, Bring Up The Bodies is out in paperback. It's the second volume of a trilogy, and it's about the downfall and execution of Anne Boleyn. In 2012 Mantel was awarded her second Man Booker Prize, England's highest literary honor, for Bring Up The Bodies. Mantel also won the 2009 Man Booker for Wolf Hall, the first book of the series, about the formation of the church of England, the reign of King Henry the 8th, and the beheadings he ordered. Mantel is the first British novelist and the first woman to win the prize twice. (REBROADCAST from 11.26.12) (2.) British JOHN OLIVER is a writer/correspondent on The Daily Show with Jon Stewart which he has been since 2006. On Monday he took over the anchor desk for Stewart, who is on a leave of absence for three months to direct a movie. OLIVER has also appeared on the NBC comedy Community as psychology professor Dr. Ian Duncan. He has starred in a number of British TV shows. (REBROADCAST FROM 1.5.10) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Much Ado About Nothing, pared-down modern day version of the Shakespeare play filmed in black & white by director Joss Whedon, and shot in his Santa Monica home.

Interview with Charles Glass; Review of Colum McCann's novel "TransAtlantic." June 17, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://worldcat.org/oclc/957238695].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist and broadcaster CHARLES GLASS. He's the author of the new book The Deserters: A Hidden History of World War II. He writes that nearly 150,000 American and British soldiers deserted during World War II, often breaking down after spending too long on the frontlines. GLASS is also the author of the book Americans in Paris: Life and Death Under Nazi Occupation 1940-44. GLASS spent decades at ABC news as a foreign correspondent. More recently he's served as a correspondent for Newsweek and The Observer. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews TransAtlantic the new novel by Colum McCann who wrote the novel Let The Great World Spin, which won the National Book Award.

Interview with Andy Samberg, Jorma Taccone and Akiva Schaffer; Review of Cecile McLorin Salvan's album "Womanchild." June 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://worldcat.org/oclc/957238696].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The comic trio The Lonely Island: ANDY SAMBERG, AKIVA SCHAFFER and JORMA TACCONE. They have their third album, The Wack, which features guest stars Justin Timberlake, Lady Gaga and other singers. The trio previously worked together on Saturday Night live, where SAMBERG was a cast member, and SCHAFFER and TACCONE writers, and where they performed their song parodies, Dick in a Box (which they performed with Justin Timberlake), and I Just Had Sex. The three are originally from Berkeley, California where they've known each other since junior high school. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Womanchild the debut album by Cecile McLorin Salvant (Mack avenue).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SHANE HARRIS is a senior writer for Foreign Policy magazine where he covers intelligence, surveillance and cyber security, and he is author of the book The Watchers: The Rise of America's Surveillance State (2010). He'll talk about the secret surveillance programs that were recently leaked by Ed Snowden. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the Claes Oldenburg exhibit at the Museum of Modern Art (MOMA) in New York City.

Interview with Jonathan Alter; Obituary for James Gandolfini. June 20, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238697].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JONATHAN ALTER is the author of the new book The Center Holds: Obama and His Enemies in which he writes about the 2012 presidential campaign which he calls the "most consequential" election of recent times. ALTER is an analyst and contributing correspondent for NBC News and MSNBC. And he was a longtime senior editor and columnist for Newsweek. His previous book The Promise: President Obama, Year One was a bestseller. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI talks with Terry Gross about actor James Gandolfini who died yesterday at the age of 51, while vacationing in Italy. The cause has not been officially determined, but is suspected to be a heart attack. He was best known for playing Tony Soprano on HBO's The Sopranos.
Interview with Oliver Sacks; Commentary on the word "metadata"; Review of Kanye West's album "Yeezus." June 21, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238706].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist and writer OLIVER SACKS is a well-known chronicler of the odd and fascinating world of neurology. His best selling books include The Man Who Mistook His Wife for a Hat, and Awakenings (which was made into a film), and The Mind's Eye, (about how neurological disorders affect vision, and his lifelong prosopagnosia, or face-blindness, the inability to recognize faces). In his latest book Hallucinations, he writes about hallucinations and their causes including grief, trauma, brain injury, medications and neurological disorders. It's out in paperback July 2nd. SACKS has written more than nine books, and received a Guggenheim Fellowship. He is also a regular contributor to The New Yorker. (REBROADCAST from 11.6.12). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the word we're hearing a lot about these days, "metadata." (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Kanye West's new album Yeezus.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Drummer, producer, DJ, and co-founder of the band the Roots, AMIR "QUESTLOV" THOMPSON. They are the house band for Late Night with Jimmy Fallon. In February Fallon will take over The Tonight Show, and the band will go with him. And Questlov is writing the new Tonight Show theme. The Roots is considered one of the most sonically inventive hip-hop acts, blending hip-hop with the soul and R&B. QUESTLOVE has an encyclopedic knowledge of music. He's written a new memoir, Mo' Meta Blues: The World According to Questlove.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Amy Schumer; Review of the film "The Bling Ring." June 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461725].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian AMY SCHUMER writes, directs and stars in Inside Amy Schumer on Comedy Central, which debuted April 30th. Prior to that she starred in the Comedy Central special Mostly Sex Stuff. She's also guest starred on Girls, Louie, Curb Your Enthusiasm and 30 Rock. She got her network debut in 2007 on NBC's Last Comic Standing. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has some thoughts on Sophia Coppola's new film The Bling Ring.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MICHAEL SPECTER. He writes about Lyme-disease in the current edition of The New Yorker (July 1, 2013). His article The Lyme Wars IS about the growing rate of infection, and the controversy over how to treat it, and diagnosis it. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews My Ellington (Intakt records) the new album by Japanese pianist Aki Takase of Ellington tunes.

Interview with Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie; Review of the films "I'm So Excited" and "Byzantium." June 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238705].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer CHIMAMANDA NGOZI ADICHIE. She grew up in Nigeria, and came to the U.S. as a student. Her new novel is Americanah. She is also author of the novels Purple Hibiscus (her debut), Half of a Yellow Moon, and the short story collection That Thing Around Your Neck. Her work has been selected by the BBC Short Story Awards and has appeared in the literary publications, Zoetrope and The Iowa Review. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.)
Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new films: the comedy I'm So Excited! by Spanish director Pedro Almodovar, and the new vampire film Bysantium by Ireland's Neil Jordan.

Interview with Carole King; Review of the television shows "Dexter" and "Ray Donovan." June 28, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238693].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Singer and songwriter CAROLE KING. Last month she was awarded the Gershwin prize for popular song by the Library of Congress at a tribute and performance at the White House. Her memoir A Natural Woman about her years writing songs for others, and then becoming a performer and writing for herself is out in paperback. And she released an album of demos in 2012 Carole King: The Legendary Demos. King's first hit song was Will You Love Me Tomorrow which she wrote with her songwriting partner Gerry Goffin, who became her husband. Their other hit songs include Take Good Care of My Baby, Loco-Motion, One Fine Day, Up on the Roof, A Natural Woman and more. KING's 1971 album Tapestry still holds the record for the longest time a solo female album remained on the charts (306 weeks). The songs she wrote for that album include So Far Away, It's Too Late, I Feel the Earth Move, and You've Got a Friend. (REBROADCAST from 4.11.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new season of Dexter and a new series Ray Donovan starring Liev Shreiber and Jon Voight. Both are on Sunday night on Showtime.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and artist TOMI UNGERER (Tommy Ung-rr-rr) is the subject of the new documentary Far Out Isn't Far Enough by director Brad Bernstein. UNGERER was best known for his children's books in the 60s and 70s, books like No Kiss for Mother and Oh, That's Ridiculous. His admirer's included the cartoonist Jules Feiffer and children's book writer Maurice Sendak. But UNGERGER's children's books got banned in the U.S. for a while because of his other book 'Fornicon,' a volume of erotic drawings. In 2008 his children's books were re-released by Phaidon Press. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ADAM LIPTAK is the Supreme Court correspondent for The New York Times. He'll discuss the eventful end of the Supreme Court session, and the momentous decisions on the voting rights act and same-sex marriage. LIPTAK is the author of the new e-book To Have and Uphold about the history of the struggle for same-sex marriage. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Claire DeWitt and the Bohemian Highway, the second novel in Sara Gran's hard-boiled series featuring 40-ish bad girl detective Claire De Witt.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress ELISABETH MOSS. She plays Peggy Olson on AMC's Mad Men which recently wrapped up its sixth season. MOSS will talk about how Peggy has changed over the years. Peggy started out in season one as Don Draper's secretary and rose to become a successful and creative ad copywriter. (This interview continues into the second half of the show) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The Lone Ranger' starring Johnny Depp.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musicians EMMYLOU HARRIS and RODNEY CROWELL. They've been friends for almost 40 years, and have worked together too. He was in her band in the mid 70s. Earlier this year they collaborated on their first album as a duo. It's called Old Yellow Moon. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGHOUT THE ENTIRE SHOW) (REBROADCAST FROM MARCH 28, 2013).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DUSTIN HOFFMAN. He'll talk about making his directorial debut with the film 'Quartet' starring Maggie Smith which is now out on DVD. And he'll discuss his other starring roles in films like 'The Graduate,' 'Kramer vs. Kramer,' and 'Tootsie.' HOFFMAN was also a recipient of the 2012 Kennedy Center Honors. HOFFMAN's other films include 'Midnight Cowboy,' 'Straw Dogs,' 'Marathon Man,' 'All the President's Men,' 'Rain Man,' and 'Wag the Dog.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 1.16.2013)

Interview with Liev Schreiber; Review of Eleanor Friedberger's album "Personal Record"; Review of television program "The Bridge." July 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460957].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor LIEV SCHREIBER ("LEE-EV"). He's currently starring in the new Showtime series Ray Donovan, as a Hollywood fixer and tough guy. His other work includes the films X-Men Origins: Wolverine; Defiance, Kate & Leopold, The Daytrippers, A Walk on the Moon, and the Scream movies. He played Orson Welles in the HBO drama RKO 281, and starred in the New York in the Public Theatre's production of "Hamlet." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album Personal
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Record by Eleanor Friedberger who used to perform as part of the duo The Fiery Furnaces. On this new album she collaborates with John Wesley Harding. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new FX series The Bridge which is based on a Scandinavian television series. It premieres Wed, July 10th.

Interview with Alfredo Corchado; Review of Rich Halley Quartet's and Dave Rempis Trio's albums "Crossing the Passes" and "Boss of the Plains." July 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461462].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ALFREDO CORCHADO. He is Mexico Bureau Chief for the Dallas Morning News. He was born in Mexico but raised in California and Texas. He's written for numerous U.S. newspapers including The Wall Street Journal and has covered the plight of immigrants, the reach of Mexican drug traffickers in the U.S. and government corruption in Mexico. Like many other journalists in Mexico who have written about the drug cartel, he has received numerous death threats. He has a new memoir, Midnight in Mexico: A Reporter's Journey Through a Country's Descent into Darkness (Penguin) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two CDs by groups led by saxophonists: Crossing the Passes by Rich Halley's ("Holly") Quartet and Boss of the Plains by Dave Rempis's Trio.

Interview with Kate Christensen; Interview with Jo Robinson. July 10, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460958].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer KATE CHRISTENSEN is the author of the new literary and food-focused memoir Blue Plate Special. It begins with her unusual childhood growing up in Arizona in the 1970s, and returns throughout to the comfort and pleasure she's found in food. CHRISTENSEN is also the author of the novels In the Drink, The Epicure's Lament, and the PEN/Faulkner award-winning The Great Man. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Investigative journalist JO ROBINSON is the author of Eating on the Wild Side: The Missing Link to Optimum Health about the history of fruits and vegetables when they were still wild plants and before cultivation changed them. New research shows that cultivation robbed them of essential proteins, vitamins, minerals and antioxidants that have made us more vulnerable to a host of diseases. In her book she gives tips on how storage and preparation can enhance the health benefits of fruits and vegetables. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) WENDELL POTTER is an analyst at the Center for Public Integrity where he writes on the health care industry and health care reform. He spent 20 years as an executive in the health insurance industry but stepped down after becoming disillusioned with the industry. He is also the author of the book Deadly Spin: An Insurance Company Insider Speaks Out on How Corporate PR Is Killing Health Care and Deceiving Americans. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews rapper Jay-Z's new album Magna Carta Holy Grail.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new season of The Newsroom. (2.) Actor JEFF DANIELS. Season two of Aaron Sorkin's HBO drama The Newsroom begins Sunday on HBO. DANIELS plays cable news anchor Will McAvoy. DANIELS films include The Purple Rose of Cairo, Dumb & Dumber, and The Squid and the Whale. (REBROADCAST from 6.20.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) David Edelstein reviews Fruitvale Station, a dramatization of the last day of a man shot by San Francisco transit police in the early morning hours of New Year's Day 2009.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Religion scholar and Iranian-American REZA ASLAN. He's the author of the international bestseller about Islam, No God but God: The Origins, Evolution, and Future of Islam, which has been translated into thirteen languages. His new book is about the historical Jesus, Zealot: The Life and Times of Jesus of Nazareth. ASLAN was seven years old when his family moved to the U.S. to escape the Iranian revolution. He is now Associate Professor of Creative Writing at the University of California, Riverside. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Scot Paltrow; Review of television series "Orange is the New Black"; Review of Sylvester's album "Mighty Real July 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884050].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter SCOT PALTROW talks about his new Reuter's series exploring the consequences of the Defense Department's flawed and out of date payroll system PALTROW has stories from wounded veterans to the Army Chief of Staff General Peter Schoomaker not receiving pay, or having their pay docked after payroll errors. PALTROW says the errors stem from the agency's Defense Accounting and Finance Service (or DFAS) which was created in 1991 and adopted a then-decades-old computer system which has never been updated. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES, CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new Netflix original series Orange is the New Black. (3.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews a new collection of disco numbers by the late gay/glam singer Sylvester, Mighty Real: Greatest Dance Hits.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter/Guitarist JASON ISBELL (IS-BLE). He's formerly with the band the Drive-by Truckers. Since leaving the band he's played with others and now has a new solo album, Southeastern, of songs he wrote since he entered rehab and quit drinking. He'll be in the studio to perform songs from the album and to talk about his life. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Maria Bamford; Review of the novel "Cuckoo's Calling" by J. K. Rowling as Robert Galbraith. July 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461583].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic and actress MARIA BAMFORD. She's been doing standup since the age of 19 (she's 42 now) and her fans include Judd Apatow and fellow comic Louis C.K. Her dysfunctional family and her bouts with depression (she's bi-polar) are often the subject of her comedy. She's had two Comedy Central specials, a web series - the latest a fake-advice show Ask My Mom! featuring her as her 70 year old-mother. She appeared in the new season of Arrested Development as a recovering meth addict who forms a love connection with Tobias. She has a new comedy album, Ask Me About My New God. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Cuckoo's Calling, by Robert Galbraith - a pseudonym for J.K. Rowling.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor DEAN NORRIS plays DEA agent Hank Schrader, the brother-in-law of main character Walter White in the AMC series Breaking Bad. He's also currently starring in the CBS drama Under the Dome. He's had roles in a number of TV shows including The Unit, Grey's Anatomy, The West Wing, American Dreams, and Tremors. He also could be seen in the films Little Miss Sunshine, Total Recall and Terminator 2. (REBROADCAST from 8.6.12. THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new documentaries: Blackfish and The Act of Killing.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID D. KIRKPATRICK is Cairo bureau chief for the New York Times. He'll discuss the events in Egypt. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist DAVID GILBERT. His new novel & Sons features an aging reclusive writer like J.D. Salinger whose most famous book is beloved by teenage readers. A Booklist review describes & Sons as "intricately configured, shrewdly funny, and acidly critical." GILBERT's first novel is The Normals; he's also got a collection of short stories, Remote Feed. His short stories have appeared in The New Yorker, Harper's, GQ, and Bomb. (2.) We pay tribute to a pioneering woman jazz musician, Carline Rey, who died last Thursday at the age of 88. Her husband, Luis Russell, led his own band and worked as Louis Armstrong's music director. Well hear some music and an excerpt of the Fresh Air interview with Rey's daughter, CATHERINE RUSSELL. Russell is one of Terry Gross favorite living singers.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author KEITH LOWE. His book Savage Continent details the famine, vengeance killings, rape, and deportations throughout Europe after World War Two. Savage Continent has just been published in paperback. (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews My Lunches with Orson, featuring conversations between Orson Welles and his friend Henry Jaglom.

Interview with Bruce Katz; Interview with Margaret "Peggy" Battin. July 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461726].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BRUCE KATZ is a vice president at the Brookings Institution and founding director of the Brookings Metropolitan Policy Program. He is co-author of the new book The Metropolitan Revolution: How Cities and Metros are Fixing our Broken Politics and Fragile Economy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Bioethicist PEGGY BATTIN is a pioneering advocate of the right-to-die, and is the author of seven books about the subject, including The Least Worst Death. She found herself grappling with the issue in her own family when her husband was nearly killed in a biking accident in 2008 and has been left with quadriplegia dependent on life supporting technology. BATTIN teaches at the University of Utah. She and her husband were recently the subject of a New York Times article.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Standup comic TIG NOTARO (No-TAR-oh). She turned the worst events of her life into a stand-up routine: her diagnosis of breast cancer, and the sudden death of her mother, not to mention pneumonia, and a deadly bacterial infection all in the span of four months last year. She performed the routine one time on August 3rd in L.A. to a stunned and admiring audience. Louis CK tweeted "I've seen a handful of truly great, masterful sets. One was Tig Notaro lastnight." That routine "Live" is now available on CD. Later on it will be published in a book. NOTARO released her debut standup album Good One in 2011. (REBROADCAST from 10.8.12) (2.) Comic LOUIS C.K. talks about seeing TIG NOTARO's standup routine in August 2012, and why he decided to put the album of it up on his site. (REBROADCAST from 10.8.12) (3.) Film director MICHAEL APTED. 56 Up is the latest in his series of documentary films following a group of English school children from the age of seven on up. (It's now out on DVD). Every seven years he returns to the group to film them. He began when the children were seven years old. This is his eighth film in the series. APTED is also the director of the films Coal Miner's Daughter, Gorillas in the Mist, Nell, Amazing Grace and Continental Divide. We will also hear briefly from NICHOLAS HITCHON one of the subjects in the Up films. (REBROADCAST from 2.5.13) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Blue Jasmine the new Woody Allen film starring Cate Blanchett, Bobby Cannavale, Alec Baldwin, and Louis C.K.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, musician, singer JOHN GALLAGHER JR. He currently stars as Jim Harper, senior news producer on Aaron Sorkin's HBO drama The Newsroom. He won Tony award for his role of Moritz Stiefel in the rock musical Spring Awakening. And he played Johnny aka "Jesus of Suburbia" in Green Day's Broadway musical American Idiot. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews DVD releases of four old TV series: the late 50s early 60s sitcom, The Many Loves of Dobie Gillis: The Complete Series; the 1980s series about a Korean war military hospital unit China Beach: The Complete Series; the BBC comedy series (from 2010-12) Dirk Gently based on the novels by Douglas Adams; and The Jack Benny Program: The Lost Episodes from the late 1950s and early 60s. (3.) We remember former Congresswoman LINDY BOGGS. She died Saturday at the age of 97. She became Louisiana's first woman member of Congress in 1972. She was elected after her husband, then House majority leader Hale Boggs, died in a plane crash. BOGGS was an advocate for civil rights and women's issues before her retirement in 1990. She is the mother of NPR's Cokie Roberts. BOGGS wrote her autobiography, "Washington Through a Purple Veil: Memoirs of a Southern Woman" (REBROADCAST from 11.17.94)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) THOMAS MAIER (May-er) is the author of the biography: Masters of Sex: The Life and Times of William Masters and Virginia Johnson, the Couple Who Taught America How to Love. It's about the team (and one time married couple) who pioneered the study of human sexuality. Their work continued for forty years, was sometimes controversial, and revolutionized the way Americans considered sexuality. Virginia Johnson died Wednesday at the age of 88. A new Showtime series premieres in September based on MAIER's book. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN recommends two debut novels for your summer reading pleasure: Seating Arrangements by Maggie Shipstead; and The Rest of Us by Jessica Lott. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Edenfred Files (Hipnotic) the new album by jazz clarinetist Darryl Harper.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JONATHAN WEISMAN covers Congress for the New York Times. He'll discuss the 113th Congress which is about to take its August recess. He'll talk about their record so far, the politics, the theatre, (including the upcoming 40th attempt to dismantle Obama care) and the showdowns that will take place this Fall. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Jack Bishop and Bridget Lancaster. August 1, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461886].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JACK BISHOP & BRIDGET LANCASTER of Cook's Illustrated America's Test Kitchen. The two have contributed to a new DIY (Do it Yourself) cookbook. BISHOP is the editorial director at America's...
Test Kitchen. He joined the staff of The Cook's Magazine in 1988 and helped with the launch of Cook's Illustrated in 1993. He has written dozens of articles for both magazines and established the tasting protocols used at America's Test Kitchen. LANCASTER is deputy editor of Cook's Country magazine, joined the Cook's team in 1998 and is responsible for all recipe testing and development in Cook's Country. She has worked on many of the company's cookbook projects and is also an on-screen test cook for America's Test Kitchen. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Matthew McConaughey; Review of the film "The spectacular now." August 2, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957237744].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MATTHEW MCCONAUGHEY (Mah-CON-ah-hay). He's starring in the new film Mud by director Jeff Nichols who also made Take Shelter and Shotgun Stories. Mud will be released next week on DVD. After starring in a number of romantic-comedies, MCCONAUGHEY has recently played darker more complicated roles: a former dancer and aging owner of a male strip club in Steven Soderbergh's Magic Mike; a sociopathic cop and part-time hit man in Killer Joe; and a closeted gay reporter with a death wish in the film The Paperboy. (REBROADCAST from 4.23.2013). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the teen romance, The Spectacular Now, based on a novel by Tim Tharp.

Interview with David Epstein; Commentary on Google Glass; Review of the new concept album by Vince Gill and Paul Franklin. August 5, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957237743].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID EPSTEIN ("steen") is a senior writer with Sports Illustrated where he writes about sports science and medicine. His new book is The Sports Gene: Inside the Science of Extraordinary Athletic Performance. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNERG considers Google Glass. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new concept album by country music star
Vince Gill and steel guitarist Paul Franklin. which features the music from the 60s and 70s by Merle Haggard and Buck Owens.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and actor BOB ODENKIRK. He's currently playing the sleazy lawyer Saul Goodman on AMC's Breaking Bad. The show returns on Sunday for its final season. ODENKIRK got his start in comedy writing. He wrote for Saturday Night Live for 13 seasons beginning in 1987, and went on to write for Chris Elliot's Get A Life, and then was hired to write and act in The Ben Stiller Show. He won Emmys for his writing for Saturday Night Live and The Ben Stiller Show. Then he played Larry's hyperactive agent Stevie Grant on The Larry Sanders Show. He and David Cross (a writer and stand-up comic) created the sketch-comedy HBO show Mr. Show with Bob and David which ran for four seasons beginning in 1995. He's also had many guest appearances on TV shows, including Curb Your Enthusiasm, Everybody Loves Raymond, and Weeds. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Love Affairs of Nathaniel P., the debut novel by Adelle Waldman

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ELISABETH ROSENTHAL is a medical doctor who does reporting for The New York Times, specializing in epidemic disease, and scientific and environmental matters. She is currently writing a year long series on the high cost of health care in the U.S. She's so far written about the price of joint replacement, childbirth, and colonoscopies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new sci-fi drama Elysium, starring Matt Damon and Jodie Foster.
Interview with Lake Bell and Fred Melamed. August 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461813].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director/writer LAKE BELL and actor and voice-over artist FRED MELAMED. They’re both co-starring in BELL's debut film comedy In a World, about a young woman trying to make it in her father's line of business, doing voice-overs. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Mike White; Obituary for Kongar-ol Ondar; Review of "Low winter sun", "Clear history" and the final episode of "Breaking Bad." August 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238719].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Producer, director actor MIKE WHITE. His HBO series Enlightened ran for two seasons but has not been renewed. The second season comes out on DVD next week. Enlightened starred actress Laura Dern as a health and beauty executive who returns from a post meltdown retreat enlightened, and must pick up the pieces of her life. White served as a producer on several TV series including Dawson's Creek and Freaks and Geeks, wrote the screenplays for the films Nacho Libre and The School of Rock, and has acted in films and TV shows as well. (REBROADCAST from 3.14.2013) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember internationally renowned Tuvan ("TOO-van") throat singer KONGAR-OL ONDAR (known as "ONDAR") who died July 25th at the age of 51. We listen back to our 1999 interview in which he demonstrated his singing. With him was RICHARD LEIGHTON who co-produced his CD Back Tuva Future. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the final episodes of AMC’s Break Bad on and Low Winter Sun, their new series. And he reviews HBO's new made-for TV movie, Clear History, starring and co-written by Larry David.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PIPER KERMAN is the author of the memoir Orange is the New Black: My Year in a Women's Prison. Her book is the basis of the new Netflix series of the same title. KERMAN was held in a minimum security correctional facility in Danbury, Connecticut, for her part in a drug smuggling and money laundering scheme she caught up in over ten years earlier, just after she had graduated from Smith College. Her mistake was getting involved with the wrong woman and agreeing to deliver a large cash payment for an international drug ring. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD looks back at the early career of record producer Huey P. Meaux ("Moe") who discovered and recorded some amazing artists in Texas and Louisiana, including Barbara Lynn and Johnny Adams. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS tells us about The Infatuations the new novel by Spanish writer Javier Marias.

Interview with Jenji Kohan; Review of Valerie June's first major label album "Pushin' against the stone." August 13, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462186].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JENJI KOHAN is the creator and producer of the new Netflix series, Orange is the New Black. It's based on the memoir by Piper Kerman. KOHAN also created and produced Showtime's Weeds. She was also a writer and producer for Tracey Takes On, and has written for the shows Will & Grace, Gilmore Girls, Sex and the City, and Boston Commons. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Pushin' Against a Stone, the first major-label album by singer-songwriter Valerie June. It was co-produced by Dan Auerbach of the Black Keys.
Interview with Rose George; Interview with Grayson Schaffer. August 14, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885330].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ROSE GEORGE. Her new book is Ninety Percent of Everything: Inside Shipping, the Invisibile Industry That Puts Clothes on Your Back, Gas in Your Car, and Food on Your Plate (metropolitan books). It's about how containers, and container ships revolutionized the globalization of goods, but how it comes with a cost to the environment, and to the workers who man the cargo. (2.) Journalist GRAYSON SCHAFFER. He writes in the August edition of Outside Magazine about the Sherpas who help climbers summit Mount Everest. It's a risky and lucrative occupation in a region where the poor will do what they can to get by, but Sherpas are often injured or killed, and their families left with little resources. SCHAFFER's article is The Disposable Man: A Western History of Sherpes on Everest. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with Penelope Lewis; Review of Stuyvesant Quartet's recently reissued Brahms and Mozart recordings; Review of "Hothouse August 15, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238722].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Seth Rosenfeld; Interview with Bobby Cannavale. August 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238703].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SETH ROSENFELD. He is a former reporter for the San Francisco Examiner and San Francisco Chronicle and winner of the George Polk award. He spent three decades pursuing government documents regarding the FBI's undercover operation in Berkeley during the student protest movements of the 1960s. After three Freedom of Information lawsuits, the FBI released 250,000 internal memos. The result is ROSENFELD's book Subversives: The FBI's War on Student Radicals, and Reagan's Rise to Power? it's out now in paperback. He finds that the FBI tapped the phones of protest leaders, and broke into their homes. They also spied on sympathetic professors and college administrators. And ROSENFELD details the secret political partnership between J. Edgar Hoover and the then newly elected California governor Ronald Reagan to get the University's president Clark Kerr fired. (originally broadcast 8/21/12) (2.) Actor BOBBY CANNAVALE (cah-nah-VAHL-e). He appeared opposite Al Pacino in the Broadway revival of David Mamet's Glengarry Glen Ross. In a season of the HBO series Boardwalk Empire, he played the twisted gangster Gyp Rosetti. He's also had a part in the Showtime series Nurse Jackie as a tough hospital administrator and was Will's boyfriend on the NBC sitcom Will & Grace. And in a recent episode of Modern Family, he played Cam's former clown partner. (originally aired 1/9/2013)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT ANDERSON. His new book is Lawrence in Arabia: War, Deceit, Imperial Folly, and the Making of The Modern Middle East. (Doubleday). Lawrence is of course, T.E. Lawrence, the man immortalized in the David Lean film Lawrence of Arabia. ANDERSON is a veteran war correspondent who has reported from Lebanon, Israel, Egypt, Chechnya, Sudan and Bosnia. He is a frequent contributor to The New York Times Magazine and has written for Vanity Fair, Esquire, and Outside. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)
Interview with Nate Anderson; Review of the music album "Looking for the Next One." August 20, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462144].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NATE ANDERSON, author of the new book 'The Internet Police: How Crime Went Online, and the Cops Followed,' talks about crime on the internet, and how law enforcement has responded. ANDERSON talks about criminals and hackers who have used people's personal computers for illegal surveillance, or for sending spam emails. ANDERSON also tells the story of Sea Land, a dilapidated former military fort, built off the coast of the United Kingdom that was to be filled with computer servers and used to host websites free of government control. ANDERSON is a deputy editor for the tech website Ars Technica. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new collection of unreleased material from the British saxophone trio, S.O.S.

Interview with Demian Bichir; Review of two made-for-TV movies "Bad debt" and "Dead point." August 21, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885414].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor Demian Bichir (ba-CHEER). In the new FX series The Bridge he plays a Mexican detective working a homicide case with El Paso cops on the Texas-Mexican border. On the Showtime series Weeds he played drug lord Esteban, and in the film Che he played Fidel Castro. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Kevin Whitehead reviews Philadelphia pianist Orrin Evans' new album ...It was beauty.

Interview with Simon Pegg and Nick Frost; Review of Robin Thicke's new album "Blurred lines;" Review of two made-for-TV movies "Bad debt" and "Dead point." August 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238725].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SIMON PEGG and NICK FROST, stars of the new comedy 'The World's End,' directed by Edgar Wright. It's PEGG and FROST's third film with Wright, the first was 2004's 'Shaun of the Dead,' the second was 2007's 'Hot Fuzz.' 'The World's End' is about five high school friends who reunite to finish a pub crawl they began twenty years earlier in their hometown ? and their hometown has changed. PEGG and FROST first starred together on the British sitcom 'Spaced,' which was also directed by Edgar Wright. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'Blurred Lines,' the new album by Robin Thicke, whose title track was one of the summer's biggest hits. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS introduces us Jack Irish, the fictional Australian hardboiled detective who appears in novels by Peter Temple, two of which have been recently adapted into TV movies starring Guy Pearce.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Jazz pianist and radio host MARIAN McPARTLAND ? she died Tuesday at age 95. McPARTLAND achieved success as a jazz musician in the 40s and 50s which was difficult for women at the time. Her radio show 'Marian McPartland's Piano Jazz' hosted many famous jazz musicians and received a Peabody Award in 1983. She hosted the show for over 30 years. She was named a National Endowment for the Arts Jazz Master in 2000 was given a lifetime achievement Grammy Award in 2004. She was named a member of the Order of the British Empire in 2010. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATE: 9/8/1987) (2.) Crime novelist ELMORE LEONARD. Many of his novels including 'Get Shorty,' 'Out of Sight,' 'The Big Bounce,' 'Hombre,' and 'Rum Punch' were adapted into feature films. The FX series 'Justified' is based on his short story 'Fire in the Hole,' as well as several novels featuring his character Raylan Givens. LEONARD died Tuesday at 87. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST DATES: 10/31/95 & 2/24/99) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews 'The World's End,' the new comedy from director Edgar Wright. It's his third film with actors Simon Pegg and Nick Frost, after 'Shaun of the Dead,' and 'Hot Fuzz.'

Interview with David Letterman. August 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238702].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI joins us for the first show of Late Night Week on Fresh Air. Terry and David discuss the history of Late Night Television, from its beginnings with Steve Allen and the Tonight Show through to today. They'll play clips of classic television moments from Steve Martin, Jack Paar and Johnny Carson, and Terry will play excerpts of Fresh Air interviews with longtime Tonight Show Interview with Jay Leno; Interview with Conan O'Brien. August 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/957238724].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI joins Terry Gross in the studio as Fresh Air's late night television week continues. (2.) JAY LENO recorded just before his 5th anniversary as host of the Tonight Show. (REBROADCAST from 10.21.96) (3.) Late night talk show host CONAN O'BRIEN. He talked with Terry just before celebrating his ten years on the air. He moved into the Late Night host slot when David Letterman went to CBS. Prior to that O'Brien was a writer for Saturday Night Live and writer/producer for The Simpsons. (REBROADCAST from 9.8.03)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JIMMY KIMMEL is the host and executive producer of the late night talk show Jimmy Kimmel Live (on ABC). The show moved an hour earlier to an 11:35 time slot last January. He'll talk about that change, his early admiration of David Letterman, and his family and friends who often show up on his show. (REBROADCAST from 1.23.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Short Term 12 the film by Destin Daniel Cretton based on his experience working at a short-term care facility for at-risk teenagers when he was just out of college. The film won the Grand Jury and Audience awards at this year's South by Southwest Festival.
Interview with Jimmy Fallon; Interview with Seth Meyers. August 29, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885236].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JIMMY FALLON is a former cast member of Saturday Night Live (1998-2004) and the host of Late Night with Jimmy Fallon on NBC. He'll become the new host of The Tonight Show when Jay Leno steps down next year. He's become known for his celebratory music sketches in the vein of the hit TV show Glee on his show and for his enthusiasm, goofy good natured humor, and lack of snarkiness. (REBROADCAST from 5.23.11) (2.) SETH MEYERS head writer for Saturday Night Live, and co-anchor of their Weekend Update. When Jimmy Fallon takes over The Tonight Show, MEYERS will take over Late Night, to be Late Night with Seth Meyers. Previously he was with the traveling troupe Boom Chicago Theatre. And he performed with Chicago's Improv Olympic. (REBROADCAST from 10.29.08).

Interview with Ahmir "Questlove" Thompson. August 30, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462028].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI tells us about the various Tonight Show bands. (2.) Drummer, producer, DJ, and co-founder of the band the Roots, AMIR "QUESTLOV" THOMPSON. They are the house band for Late Night with Jimmy Fallon. In February Fallon will take over The Tonight Show, and the band will go with him. And Questlov is writing the new Tonight Show theme. The Roots is considered one of the most sonically inventive hip-hop acts, blending hip-hop with the soul and R&B. QUESTLOV has an encyclopedic knowledge of music. He's written a new memoir, Mo' Meta Blues: The World According to Questlove. (REBROADCAST from6.24.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Jason Isbell. September 2, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461626].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter/Guitarist JASON ISBELL (IS-BLE). He's formerly with the band the Drive-by Truckers. Since leaving the band he's played with others and now has a new solo album, Southeastern, of songs he wrote since he entered rehab and quit drinking. He'll be in the studio to perform songs from the album and to talk about his life. (REBROADCAST from 7.17.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with John Zorn; Commentary on Apple's iOS 7 operating system. September 3, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461756].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The influential and prolific jazz musician, composer and arranger JOHN ZORN. He's made over 100 records since 1980 and has played in numerous bands, and in numerous styles from avant-garde to classical and pop/rock. He turned 60 years old yesterday. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Tech writer and contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL is a senior editor at The Atlantic, where he oversees the Technology channel. He's the author of Powering the Dream: The History and Promise of Green Technology.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We talk with three people associated with the Cradle to Grave program at Temple University's Trauma Center in Philadelphia: DR. AMY GOLDBERG, counselor SCOTT CHARLES, and gunshot victim GREG CUNNINGHAM. DR. GOLDBERG started Cradle to Grave to address the level of gun violence in North Philadelphia, and show at-risk teens the real consequences of gun violence by bringing them into the ER to let them see what it's actually like to be shot, and the havoc it causes to the person who is shot, and in turn to that person's family and friends. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Someone the 7th novel by Alice McDermott.

---

Interview with John Bradshaw; Review of Superchunk's album "I Hate Music." September 5, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461830].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN BRADSHAW is an anthrozoologist who studies human-animal interaction and author of the new book Cat Sense: How the New Feline Science Can Make You a Better Friend to Your Pet. BRADSHAW is also the author of Dog Sense. BRADSHAW is the Waltham Director of the Anthrozoology Institute at the University of Bristol and founder of the Anthrozoology Institute at the University of Southampton. He lives in England. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album I Hate Music by the band Superchunk.

---

Interview with Katey Sagal; Review of the box set "The Sun Blues Box." September 6, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461468].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress and singer KATEY SAGAL. She's currently starring as Gemma the fierce "old lady" of a California biker gang in the FX series Sons of Anarchy (since 2008). Season six starts next week. Previously she was best known for her role in the 1980s-90s FOX sitcom Married with Children. Less known, is her singing career. She was a backup singer on recordings for KISS, Bob Dylan, Olivia-Newton John, Etta James, and was a backup singer onstage for Bette Midler. (REBROADCAST from 10.31.2012) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews a massive multi-disc box set of blues, country and rock recorded at Sun Records.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JONATHAN LETHEM (LEE-thim). His new novel Dissident Gardens and is loosely based on his life growing up with lefty radical parents. He is also the author of the semi-autobiographical novel, The Fortress of Solitude about a white kid growing up in an African-American and Latino neighborhood in New York. His novel, Motherless Brooklyn won the National Book Critics Circle Award for Fiction. LETHEM is a recipient of the MacArthur Fellowship. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new reissue Duke Ellington: The Ellington Suites, which includes three orchestra suites Ellington wrote with and without Billy Strayhorn.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Biographer A. SCOTT BERG. He wrote the 1999 Pulitzer Prize winning biography of Charles Lindbergh. He has a new biography of our 28th president, Woodrow Wilson, who was elected in 1912, an idealistic man whose rise to power was mostly thru academia. He was previously president of Princeton. Before Wilson was elected president of the U.S. he was briefly governor of New Jersey. As President he initially resisted taking American into World War I. BERG also wrote biographies of editor Max Perkins, and Hollywood mogul Samuel Goldwyn. (2.) Rock historian KEN TUCKER reviews Another Self-Portrait (1969-1971): The Bootleg Series, Vol. 10 (Columbia Records) a collection of tracks culled from the recording sessions from the albums Self-Portrait, New Morning, and Nashville Skyline.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BART GELLMAN is a Pulitzer Prize winning journalist formerly with The Washington Post. He was one of three journalists who received classified documents from NSA leaker Edward Snowden in June. He's reported on what some of those documents reveal, in the Washington Post. GELLMAN is now contributing editor at large at Time magazine, a fellow at the Center on Law and Security and author of the bestselling Angler: The Cheney Vice Presidency. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Billie Jean King; Commentary on how dictionaries add new words. September 12, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462091].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former tennis champ and champion for gender equality BILLIE JEAN KING. She's the subject of a new PBS American Masters documentary (available online: http://www.pbs.org/wnet/americanmasters/episodes/billie-jean-king/film-billie-jean-king/2637/ This week she's celebrating the 40th anniversary of the exhibition match she played against Bobby Riggs known as the "Battle of the Sexes." She was 29 and Riggs was 55. The match took place on September 20, 1973 at the Houston Astrodome. She beat Riggs in three straight sets. Though she's most famous for this match, her accomplishments go much further. She helped turn tennis into a professional sport, championed the equal pay for women in tennis, and was instrumental in founding the Women's Tennis Association. She also won 20 Wimbledons. After retiring from tennis at the age of 40, KING formed the World Team Tennis league which promotes gender equality team playing. She's still associated with it. In 2009 she was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom. (2.) Linguist Geoff Nunberg considers how dictionaries add new words ? such as Twerk, mancave and selfie.
Interview with W. Kamau Bell; Interview with Mindy Kaling. September 13, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461705].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic W. KAMAU ("Cah-MOW" - like "now") BELL, host of the weekly FX channel's Totally Biased With W. Kamau Bell which is a comic take on politics from an African-American perspective. After premiering last year, the show began a new season last week as a daily show (11 PM on FXX). The show's executive producer is Chris Rock. BELL's critically acclaimed stand-up show is The W. Kamau Bell Curve: Ending Racism in About an Hour. His stand up album Face Full of Flour was voted one of the top best comedy albums of 2010. BELL lives in San Francisco. (REBROADCAST from 9.3.12) (2.) Actress, comedian and writer MINDY KALING (KAY-ling). She's best known for her work as a writer and cast member of NBC's The Office. She's the creator and star of the FOX TV show The Mindy Project which begins it's second season on Tuesday. KALING plays a single obstetrician/gynecologist whose personal life is a mess, and who struggles to do the right thing at work. She's also the author the bestselling book Is Everyone Hanging out Without Me? (Three Rivers Press). (REBROADCAST from 9.25.12)

Interview with Deborah Spar; Review of Carla Kaplan's book "Miss Anne in Harlem"; Review of Art Hodes' album "I Remember Bessie." September 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461709].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DEBORA SPAR is president of Barnard College and author of Wonder Women: Sex, Power and the Quest for Perfection. She was born in 1963, the second generation of women to come of age since the feminist movement. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new book 'Miss Anne in Harlem: The White Women of the Harlem Renaissance' by Carla Kaplan. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new Delmark reissue of 'I Remember Bessie,' by jazz pianist Art Hodes (HOE-dees)
Interview with Linda Ronstadt. September 17, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461750].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Pop singer LINDA RONSTADT. She has a new memoir called 'Simple Dreams: A Musical Memoir,' (Sept 17th, Simon and Schuster) and recently revealed that she's been diagnosed with Parkinson's. As a result of the disease, she says she's no longer able to sing. RONSTADT was one of pop music's biggest stars in the 70s and 80s, with chart topping albums like 'Heart Like a Wheel,' and 'Living in the U.S.A.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Jeff Guinn. September 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461747].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist JEFF GUINN is the author of a new book about Charles Manson, the Manson family cult leader and killer. It's called Manson: The Life and Times of Charles Manson (Simon & Schuster). GUINN is also the author of the books The Last Gunfight (the real story of the shoot out at OK corral) and Go Down Together (about Bonnie & Clyde) which was a finalist for the Edgar Award in 2010. GUINN is a former investigative reporter.

Interview with Evan Mandery; Review of Robbie Fulks' album "Gone Away Backward."

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Legal scholar EVAN MANDERY is the author of the new book A Wild Justice: The Death and Resurrection of Capital Punishment in America (W.W. Norton). It's about the short period of time during the mid 1970s when the death penalty appeared to have been abolished by the Supreme Court, but then four years later was reinstated. The two cases that bracket the time period are Furman v. Georgia in 1972 which struck down every death penalty statute in the nation as then practiced without outlawing the death penalty itself, And in 1976 Gregg v. Georgia in which the court decided on five new death penalty statues. MANDERY is a professor at the John Jay College of Criminal Justice. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Gone Away Backward the new album by Robbie Fulks.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director STEPHEN SODERBERGH. His HBO film, Behind The Candelabra stars Michael Douglas as Liberace the flamboyant, classically trained pianist and entertainer. Matt Damon plays Liberace's young boyfriend. The film has been nominated for 15 Emmys, including best actor awards for Douglas and Damon, and directing. (The Emmy Awards are Sunday night). Behind the Candelabra is also out on DVD. SODERBERGH and Damon previously worked on the Ocean films (11, 12, and 13) and on the film The Informant. SODERBERGH got his start with the cult indie hit Sex, lies and Videotape, which was nominated for an Academy Award. His other notable works include the Oscar nominated Erin Brockovich and the Oscar winner Traffic. (REBROADCAST from 5.21.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Enough Said the new comedy by writer-director Nicole Holofcener, and starring the late James Gandolfini in his second-to-last performance, and Julia Louis Drefus.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer, pianist, rock star ELTON JOHN. He's just released his first album in seven years, The Diving Board, produced by T. Bone Burnett. It's a stripped-down solo album, with song lyrics by his longtime writing partner, Bernie Taupin. He'll talk about his early career, how he was influenced by Liberace (he will play a tribute to Liberace at Sunday's Emmy Awards), his life and more. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Jesmyn Ward; Review of Lucy Schwartz's album "Timekeeper"; Reviews of television shows from the new Fall season. September 24, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461588].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Writer JESMYN WARD is the author of the new memoir Men We Reaped which is about five young men in her life who died young - a brother, her cousin and three friends. They died of suicide, drugs and accidents. WARD grew up in rural Mississippi. The book is in large part of what is like to be a poor black man in the modern American south. WARD is also author of the 2011 National Book award winning novel Salvage the Bones. She is a former Stegner fellow at Stanford University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic KEN TUCKER reviews Timekeeper, the new album by singer-songwriter Lucy Schwartz. Her songs have appeared in a number of TV shows like Arrested Development and Parenthood. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI considers the new Fall season.

Interview with Dexter Filkins. September 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461585].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist DEXTER FILKINS. He writes in the current edition of The New Yorker about Qassem Suleimani, an Iranian operative and leader of Iran's Quds force, which is like a combination of the CIA and the special forces. He is directing Assad's war in Syria. FILKINS article is The Shadow Commander. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Jonah Engle; Review of the album "Sophisticated Boom Boom September 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461459].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist JONAH ENGLE writes about the rise in home-cooked meth production, and the ways in which the pharmaceutical industry have blocked lawmakers from making pseudoephedrine - the key ingredient in meth found in over the counter decongestants - a prescription drug. The simpler way of cooking meth - known as "shake-and-bake" and "one-pot" method has led to an increase in clandestine meth sites. Since 2007 the number of such sites discovered by police has increased 63 percent nationwide. And lawmakers in 25 states have tried to make pseudoephedrine a prescription drug, but in all but two, Oregon and Mississippi, they have failed because the pharmaceuticals have lobbied hard against it. ENGLE’s article appears in MotherJones. http://www.motherjones.com/politics/2013/08/meth-pseudoephedrine-big-pharma-lobby (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD remembers record producer and songwriter George "Shadow" Morton. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS tells us what he thinks about the new Showtime series, Masters of Sex, about the Dr. William Masters and his colleague-then-wife Virginia Johnson who studied human sexual response in the 1960s.

Interview with Vijay Iyer; Interview with Jeremy Denk; Review of the film "Don Jon." September 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460960].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Jazz pianist and composer VIJAY IYER (‘VID-jay EYE-er’). This week he received the MacArthur fellowship - the so-called genius award. His music combines the many influences in his life - pop music, classical, jazz and also the music of South India, where his father immigrated from. IYER is also influenced by his academic work. He got his masters in physics. His albums include Historicity, which was album of the year in Village Voice Critics' Poll and the Jazz Times Critics' Poll. He also released a solo album which included a cover of Michael Jackson's Human Nature, several duke Ellington tunes, as well as original compositions. His latest album is Holding It Down: The Veterans Dream Project, (PI recordings) in collaboration with poet and librettist Mike Ladd explores the experiences of American veterans of color of the post-9/11 wars through the medium of their dreams. Iyer is a faculty member at New York University, The New School, and the School for Improvisational Music. (REBROADCAST FROM 10.14.10) (2.) Classical pianist JEREMY DENK. He also received a MacArthur Fellowship this week. His latest album is of Bach's Goldberg Variations (on Nonesuch). Terry talked with him on the occasion of the release of his solo album: Ligeti/Beethoven (on Nonesuch). DENK performed the pieces in a series of recitals that year. The New York Times said his reading of the works left "audience members grasping for superlatives at intermission." DENK's previous album of the music of Charles Ives made many Best of 2010 lists including those of the New York Times, Boston Globe, and the Washington Post.
(REBROADCAST from 5.23.12) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Don Jon the new film written, directed, and starring Joseph Gordon-Levitt.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Evolutionary biologist DANIEL LIEBERMAN is the Edwin M. Lerner II Professor of Biological Sciences at Harvard University. And he is author of the new book, The Story of the Human Body: Evolution, Health, and Disease. In the book he argues that many of the diseases prevalent today like osteoporosis and cancer are 'mismatch diseases' that stem from our bodies being inadequately adapted to the modern world. LIEBERMAN has also researched the biomechanics of foot strikes in their Skeletal Biology Lab and is a proponent of running barefoot or with minimal footwear. (2.) Rock Critic Ken Tucker reviews the new album 'Burden of Proof' by Austin based singer-songwriter Bob Schneider Interview with Chris Matthews; Review of Dave Holland's new album "Prism." October 1, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462244].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) CHRIS MATTHEWS, host of MSNBC's Hardball and author of the new book Tip and the Gipper: When Politics Worked. It's about how the house speaker Tip O'Neil and President Reagan managed to work together even though they disagreed on most issues, as well as on the role of government. Matthews was an aide to O'Neal, advising him on press communications. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Prism the new album by Dave Holland with a new quartet.
Interview with Jamie Moyer; Review of Haim's debut album "Days are gone." October 2, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462027].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league pitcher JAMIE MOYER. Last year he became the oldest pitcher ever to record a win in the majors, at the age of 49 years, 150 days. It was with the Colorado Rockies. His major league career started in 1986 with the Chicago Cubs who he was with for two years. He played ball the longest with the Seattle Mariners (1996-2006) and with the Philadelphia Phillies (2006-2010). MOYER is also well known for his charity work and The Moyer Foundation he and his wife founded to aid children in distress - children affected by addiction, disease or death. MOYER's new memoir is Just Tell Me I Can't: How Jamie Moyer Defeated the Radar Gun and Defied Time (written with writer Larry Platt). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Days Are Gone the debut album by the pop-rock group called Haim, composed of three sisters.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and supervising producer PETER GOULD, and writer, producer and director THOMAS SCHNAUZ from Breaking Bad. The series just finished its fifth and final season, leaving a legion of fans without new episodes to look forward to. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Thomas Maier; Review of the new George Benjamin opera "Written on skin;" Review of the film "Gravity." October 4, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462243].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) THOMAS MAIER (May-er) is the author of the biography: Masters of Sex: The Life and Times of William Masters and Virginia Johnson, the Couple Who Taught America How to Love. It's about the team
(and one time married couple) who pioneered the study of human sexuality. Their work continued for forty years, was sometimes controversial, and revolutionized the way Americans considered sexuality. The new Showtime series Masters of Sex recently premiered based on his book. (REBROADCAST FROM 7.30.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews Written on Skin, the new George Benjamin opera which made it's world premiere in France last year. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Gravity, starring Sandra Bullock and George Clooney and directed by Alfonso Cuaron.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TOM HANKS, the star of the new movie Captain Phillips, and the film's director PAUL GREENGRASS. 'Captain Phillips' is based on the true story of Richard Phillips, a container ship captain who was taken hostage after his ship was hijacked by Somali pirates. (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews Jhumpa Lahiri's new novel The Lowland - about two brothers in Calcutta.

Interview with Elizabeth Smart. October 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461539].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former kidnap victim ELIZABETH SMART. In 2002 at the age of 14 she was abducted at knife point from her home in Salt Lake City by a Brian David Mitchell a handyman and self-proclaimed preacher. SMART was held by him and his wife in the woods not far from her home for nine months. During that time she was raped, nearly starved, and enslaved. She was eventually rescued by police after an alert citizen spotted her. Her story was covered extensively in the media. She has a new memoir about her ordeal, My Story. And she has a new foundation dedicated to preventing predatory crimes against children. http://elizabethsmartfoundation.org/
Interview with Ryan Lizza; Review of Ahmad Jamal's new album "Saturday Morning." October 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884051].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA is Washington correspondent for The New Yorker. He recently wrote in the New Yorker (Sept 16th edition: The President and the Pipeline) about the Keystone XL pipeline, the seventeen-hundred mile pipeline which would carry oil from northern Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. Supporters of the project say it would reduce the United State's reliance on oil from other countries; it's critics say it contributes to the use of fossil fuels which in turn has an impact on global warming. The pipeline requires approval of the State Department and the President and a decision is expected in the coming months. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Jazz critic Kevin Whitehead reviews 'Saturday Morning,' the new album from pianist Ahmad Jamal.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor DANIEL RADCLIFFE. He's starred in 8 Harry Potter films and has surprised people with the diverse roles he's taken on: Starring in a Broadway musical and costarring with Jon Hamm in the TV series 'A Young Doctor's Notebook.' Now Radcliffe plays the young Allen Ginsberg in the new film Kill Your Darlings. (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews Jill Lepore's new biography of Benjamin Franklin's youngest sister 'Book of Ages.' (3.) Rock critic Ken Tucker reviews new albums from bluegrass musician James King and country star Alan Jackson.

Interview with Andrew Soloman; Review of the movie "Captain Phillips." October 11, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461643].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANDREW SOLOMON, his book Far From the Tree: Parents, Children and the Search for Identity is now out in paperback. Solomon's book explores what it's like for parents who have a child who is profoundly different, or likely to be stigmatized? a child who is born with down syndrome, autism or dwarfism, or a child who is conceived in rape. Solomon is also the author of The Noonday Demon: An Atlas of Depression, which won the 2001 National Book Award, was a finalist for the 2002 Pulitzer Prize, and was included in The Times of London's list of one hundred best books of the decade. (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Captain Phillips starring Tom Hanks.

Interview with Brad Stone; Review of the new album "The Blow." October 14, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461740].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BRAD STONE talks about his new book, 'The Everything Store.' It chronicles Amazon's evolution, from a website founded by Jeff Bezos (Bay-zose) to deliver books through the mail, into a technology powerhouse that has forever changed the way we shop and read. Brad Stone is a senior writer for Bloomberg Businessweek. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)
(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'The Blow.' It's the new album by the electronic music duo of the same name.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GRAHAM NASH of the folk rock super group Crosby, Stills and Nash. He's written a new memoir called 'Wild Tales.' NASH is a two-time Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee, with CSN and with his first band The Hollies. He's written songs like 'Carrie Anne,' 'On a Carousel,' 'Simple Man,' 'Our House,' 'Marakesh Express,' and 'Teach Your Children.' (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)
Interview with Stephen Kinzer; Review of the made-for-TV movie "Burton and Taylor." October 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461645].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN KINZER talks about his new book, 'The Brothers: John Foster Dulles, Allen Dulles, and Their Secret World War.' It's about how, in the 1950's, two brothers controlled the overt and covert sides of American foreign policy - John Foster Dulles was Secretary of State, Allen Dulles director of the CIA. Together they planned regime change in countries like Guatemala, Iran and the Congo. And they helped lead us into war in Vietnam. (2.) TV critic David Bianculli reviews a new made-for-TV movie about the lives of Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton titled 'Burton and Taylor.'

Interview with Billy Crystal; Review of the new Television miniseries "Dancing on the edge." October 17, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461640].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian BILLY CRYSTAL talks about his career in show business. Crystal turned 65 this year and has a new memoir called 'Still Foolin' 'Em: Where I've Been, Where I'm Going, and Where the Hell Are My Keys?' He's also bringing his Tony Awarding-winning one man show '700 Sundays,' back to Broadway. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new Stars channel miniseries 'Dancing on the Edge,' which premiers this weekend.

Interview with David Sedaris; Review of the film "All is Lost." October 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461880].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Humorist DAVID SEDARIS. His book of essays is Let's Explore Diabetes with Owls, and some of the stories are based on his journal writing which he began in 1977. This is his eighth book. His other books include When You Are Engulfed in Flames and the bestsellers Me Talk Pretty on Day, Dress your Family in Corduroy and Denim, Naked and Barrel Fever. Sedaris first became known for the Santaland Diaries, broadcast on NPR in the early 1990s. He is a frequent contributor to This American Life,
Esquire and The New Yorker. He lives in France and England with his partner, Hugh Hamrick. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'All is Lost' Interview with Reed Albergotti and Vanessa O'Connell; Review of Helen Fielding's novel "Bridget Jones October 21, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461614].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalists REED ALBERGOTTI and VANESSA O'CONNELL are reporters for the Wall Street Journals and authors of the new book Wheelmen: Lance Armstrong, The Tour de France and the Greatest Sports Conspiracy Ever. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 'Bridget Jones: Mad About the Boy,' by Helen Fielding ? it's the third novel featuring the protagonist Bridget Jones, who's now 51.

Interview with David Hoffman; Review of Linda Thompson's new album "Won't be long now." October 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461861].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID HOFFMAN. His new PBS Frontline documentary is called 'Hunting the Nightmare Bacteria.' It premiers on most PBS stations Tuesday October 22 at 10pm. In it, HOFFMAN investigates the rise of new anti-biotic resistant strains of bacteria that are appearing with greater frequency in hospitals and treatment facilities. He says this is mainly due to decades of overuse of anti-biotics. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Music critic KEN TUCKER reviews Won't Be Long Now the new album by Linda Thompson. This album features her along with her ex-husband Richard Thompson and their son Teddy Thompson.
Interview with Jonathan Martin; Commentary on electro-swing, a popular dance-club style in Europe. October 23, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461703].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Chiwetel Ejiofor and Steve McQueen; Interview with David Blight. October 24, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461859].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British film director STEVE MCQUEEN and British actor CHIWETEL EJIOFOR. (CHEW-e-tell EDGE-e-o-for). Their new film is 12 Years a Slave about a free black man in the north who is kidnapped into slavery. It's based on the true story of Solomon Northrup who was kidnapped in 1841. He wrote the memoir 12 Years a Slave in 1853 after he was released from slavery. MCQUEEN also directed Hunger about the 1981 Irish hunger strike, and Shame about a sex addict, both of which starred Michael Fassbender (who is also in 12 Years a Slave). EJIOFOR other films include Dirty Pretty Things, Children of Men, Talk to Me, and 2012. He's also starring in the BBC series Dancing on the Edge, playing a swing band leader. (2.) Historian DAVID BLIGHT is director of the Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolition at Yale. He is also the author of a number of books including A Slave No More: Two Men Who Escaped to Freedom, Including Their Narratives of Emancipation, and Race and Reunion: The Civil War in American Memory which received eight book awards, including the Bancroft Prize, the Abraham Lincoln Prize, and the Frederick Douglass Prize.
Interview with Anat Cohen; Review of "The blue is the warmest color." October 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462309].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Israeli musician ANAT COHEN is a jazz clarinetist, saxophonist and band leader. She has a new album Tightrope (Anzic records) with her brothers Yuval (soprano sax) & Avishai (trumpeter). The three have played together on other albums as well, including 3 Cohens Sextet and performed together at Carnegie Hall earlier this year. On her previous album Claroscuro (Anzic) she played a number of styles on songs from Edith Piaf's La Vie en Rose, to Antonio Carlos Jobim's Olha Maria, and Artie Shaw's classic Nightmare. It also included some original compositions. COHEN credits Louis Armstrong as an inspiration, and her influences include klezmer and latin music. She first fell in love with jazz in Israel, and came to the U.S. to study at the Berklee College of Music in Boston. She's been based in New York since 1999. And she's been the recipient of the clarinetist of the year award for six years in a row from the Jazz Journalists Association. Her website is: http://anatcohen.com/ (THIS INTERVIEW WILL CONTINUE INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 2.6.13) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews "Blue is the Warmest Color."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative reporter PHILIP SHENON (SHE-nun). He's a former reporter for the New York Times where he spent more than 20 years. In his new book A Cruel and Shocking Act: The Secret History of the Kennedy Assassination, he looks into the work of the Warren Commission which investigated the assassination of John F. Kennedy. SHENON spoke to many of its surviving staff attorneys and did original research and interviews about the case. He found that CIA and FBI officials destroyed some evidence and lied to the Commission. Though SHENON is not convinced that there was a conspiracy behind the assassination. SHENON also wrote an earlier book about the 911 Commission. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW).
Tribute to Lou Reed. October 29, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885326].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember Lou Reed who died Sunday at 71. We'll talk with BILL BENTLEY, who was Reed's longtime friend, worked as his publicist, and wrote liners notes to some of his recordings. We'll also hear some excerpts of interviews with people who worked with Reed, who were previous guests on Fresh Air. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Chris Hadfield. October 30, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885325].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Canadian astronaut Commander CHRIS HADFIELD. He recently returned from the International Space Station where he was in command. While in the space station he made a video of himself playing guitar and singing David Bowie's Space Oddity, while floating inside the space station. It became a YouTube sensation. His tweets and facebook posts also gained him thousands of followers. HADFIELD is now retired. He's been on three space flights and two space walks in his career. He's written the new memoir, An Astronaut's Guide to Life on Earth. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JARED LETO ("let" like "get"). He's currently starring as Rayon, a transgendered woman with AIDS in the new film Dallas Buyer's Club opposite Matthew McConaughey. His other films include Requiem for a Dream, Mr. Nobody, Fight Club, Prefontaine, and The Thin Red Line. He got his start in the TV teenage drama series My So-Called Life. He also is leader of the band 30 Seconds to Mars. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN
TUCKER reviews 12 Stories the debut album by singer-songer Brandy Clark who previously has made an impact in Nashville as a songwriter. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Goldfinch the new novel by Donna Tartt.

Obituary for Hal Needham; Interview with Tom Ungerer. November 1, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461628].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember Hollywood stuntman HAL NEEDHAM who died a week ago (Friday Oct 25th) at the age of 82. He was a Hollywood stuntman for 40 years, doubling for John Wayne, Dustin Hoffman, Jimmy Stewart and Burt Reynolds. He was also a stunt coordinator and director. His directing credits include the film Smokey and The Bandit. Later, Needham moved into race car driving and attempted to break the land speed record. NEEDHAM wrote the memoir Stuntman: a Car-Crashing, Plane-Jumping, Bone-Breaking, Death-Defying Hollywood Life. (REBROADCAST from 2.7.2011) (2.) Writer and artist TOMI UNGERER (Tommy Ung-rr-rr) is the subject of the documentary Far Out Isn't Far Enough by director Brad Bernstein. (now out on DVD) UNGERER is best known for his children's books in the 60s and 70s, books like No Kiss for Mother and Oh, That's Ridiculous. His admirer's included the cartoonist Jules Feiffer and children's book writer Maurice Sendak. But UNGERGER's children's books got banned in the U.S. for a while because of his other book Fornicon, a volume of erotic drawings. In 2008 his children's books were re-released by Phaidon Press. (REBROADCAST from 7.1.13)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Iranian-American journalist HOOMAN MAJD ("WHO-mahn Maaajd" ? 'a' like in 'cat"). He was born in Tehran to an upper-class diplomat family that fled during the Iranian Revolution. He's visited there many times since writing for Newsweek, The New Yorker, The New York Times, The New Republic, GQ, Salon, Foreign Policy and Reuters. Two years ago he returned to Iran with his wife and young son to live there for a year. His new memoir about that experience is The Ministry of Guidance Invites Interview with Steve Young and Sheldon Harnick and John Russell. November 5, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462088].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEVE YOUNG is the co-author of the new book Everything's Coming Up Profits : The Golden Age of Industrial Musicals. It's about the Broadway style musicals which companies commissioned and used at their conventions to motivate their sales people. They were musicals about bathroom fixtures, typewriters, tractors, insurance plans and more. YOUNG has also collected recordings of the songs and we'll hear some of them. We also hear from the great songwriter SHELDON HARNICK (who is now 89) who wrote these musicals before going on to write Fiddler on the Roof and JOHN RUSSELL who sang in over eighty industrials. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician, arranger, and bandleader VINCENZO GIORDANO (Gee-or-DAN-o). He and his band the Nighthawks can be heard and seen on HBO's Boardwalk Empire. They won a Grammy in 2012 for the first volume of their soundtrack from the series. GIORDANO has loved music from the 1920s and 30s since he was a child and is a big-band historian and collector with more than 60,000 scores in his collection. GIORDANO and his Nighthawks perform every Monday and Tuesday night at the Iguana in New York City.
Interview with Roy Choi; Review of Steven Watts's biography of Dale Carnegie; November 7, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461862].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Chef ROY CHOI. He grew up in L.A. after his family immigrated to the U.S. from South Korea when he was two. He still lives and cooks in L.A. CHOI is considered the godfather of the food truck revolution that brought culinary innovation and quality to mobile food trucks. He began it with his Kogi taco truck where he served his now famous Korean barbeque taco. CHOI graduated from the Culinary Institute of America and went to cook at the internationally acclaimed Le Bernardin. He owns a number of restaurants Chego!, A-Frame, and Sunny Spot. CHOI has a new memoir/cookbook, L.A. Son: My Life My City My Food. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Self-Help Messiah the new biography of Dale Carnegie by Steven Watts.

Interview with Margaret Talbot; Interview with Stephen Colbert. November 8, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461616].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARGARET TALBOT is a staff writer for The New Yorker. She grew up in Hollywood, the daughter of actor Lyle Talbot. Margaret Talbot's memoir (now out in paperback) is called The Entertainer: Movies, Magic and My Father's Twentieth Century. Her dad began his career as a magician's assistant, starred alongside Bogart in early talkies, and went on to TV at the birth of the medium, with a regular role on The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet. Margaret Talbot has been at The New Yorker since 2003. (REBROADCAST from 11.21.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) STEPHEN COLBERT, host of The Colbert Report. He was part of the 2011 three-night revival of Stephen Sondheim's hit Broadway show Company with the New York Philharmonic. That production will be shown tonight as part of PBS' Great Performances. (REBROADCAST from 6.14.11)
Interview with Roy Scranton and Jake Siegel; Review of Booker Ervin's album "The Book Cooks." November 11, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461857].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterans ROY SCRANTON who served in the U.S. Army in Iraq from 2003-2004, and JAKE SIEGEL who was deployed with the National Guard in Iraq in 2006-2007, and in Afghanistan in 2011-2012. The two have co-edited, and contributed to the new anthology of short fiction by Veterans: Fire and Forget. (Da Cappo Press). The two met at the NYU Veterans Writing Workshop. SCRANTON's writing has appeared in The New York Times, The Massachusetts Review, and New Letters. SIEGEL is editor of The Hero Project at The Daily Beast which features the stories of veterans. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic Kevin Whitehead reviews a reissue of saxophonist Booker Ervin's debut album 'The Book Cooks.'

Interview with Allie Brosh; Commentary on the use of the word plagiarism. November 12, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461706].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ALLIE BROSH {lcub}like "gosh"{rcub} talks about her autobiographical blog Hyperbole and a Half. She describes it as standup comedy with drawings. But her most popular posts were about the depression that left her emotionally numb. Brosh has a new book also called Hyperbole and a Half. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers how the word "plagiarism" has been used over time.

Interview with Adam Minter; Review of Ann Patchett's essay collection "This is the Story of a Happy Marriage." November 13, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461738].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist ADAM MINTER has covered the global recycling industry for more than a decade. He is author of the new book Junkyard Planet: Travels in the Billion-Dollar Trash Trade about what happens to our recycled items after they are shipped to other countries. MINTER's parents were owners of a junkyard.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BRUCE DERN. He's 77 and is starring in the new Alexander Payne film Nebraska, as an ex-alcoholic man with early dementia who goes on a quixotic road trip with his son. DERN's other films include Django Unchained, the sci-fi film Silent Running, They Shoot Horses Don't They, Coming Home and Alfred Hitchcock's Family Plot. He played in a lot of early TV series including Gunsmoke, The Big Valley, The Fugitive and others. He was part of Elia Kazan's actors studio. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Carol Burnett; Review of Nick Lowe's and Kelly Clarkson's Christmas albums "Quality Street" and "Wrapped in Red." November 15, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461744].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedienne CAROL BURNETT. She received the Mark Twain Prize for American humor last month; the ceremony - with tributes by fellow comics - will be broadcast Sunday, November 24th on PBS. BURNETT was the first woman to host her own variety show, The Carol Burnett Show which was popular for over a decade from 1967 to 1978. It won 22 Emmys. She's starred or appeared in a number of TV movies and specials. In 2003 BURNETT was also one of the Kenney center Honorees. BURNETT wrote the memoir One More Time. (REBROADCAST from 10.13.03) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews two new Christmas albums: Nick Lowe's "Quality Street," and Kelly Clarkson's "Wrapped in Red." Both are out now. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Alexander Payne's new film "Nebraska," starring Bruce Dern and Will Forte.

Interview with Ari Shavit; Obituary for Doris Lessing. November 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461742].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ARI SHAVIT (shah-VEET) discusses the state of Israel, and some of the challenges facing the country, both internally and externally. His new book "My Promised Land: The Triumph and Tragedy of Israel"(Spiegel & Grau Nov 19, 2013). SHAVIT is a senior correspondent at the Israeli newspaper Haaretz, and a member of its editorial board. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember novelist DORIS LESSING who died yesterday at the age of 94. She won the Nobel Prize in 2007. Her 1962 breakthrough novel and her most famous work The Golden Notebook, depicting the inner lives of women who chose to live life on their own terms, is still in print 50 years later. (REBROADCAST from 5.31.88 and 10.21.92)

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Actress ANJELICA HUSTON. Her movies include Prizzi's Honor, The Dead, Enemies: A Love Story, The Grifters, The Addams Family and The Royal Tenenbaums, as well as the TV show Smash. She won an Oscar for Best supporting actor in Prizzi's Honor in 1985 which was directed by her father John Huston. In her new memoir A Story Lately Told: Coming of Age in Ireland, London and New York, she writes about her formative years growing up in Ireland and England. Her mother was a prima ballerina who quit dancing to marry and raise a family. HUSTON's parents divorced when she was a child. Before becoming an actress full time, HUSTON was a model. HUSTON's grandfather was actor Walter Huston. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews two new foreign films about the road to excess and its consequences: The Great Beauty the new film by Paolo Sorrentino set in Rome, and the documentary Narco Cultura about the Mexican drug war by Shaul Schwarz.

Interview with Keegan-Michael Key and Jordan Peele. November 20, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461969].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) From the Comedy Central Sketch comedy show, Key & Peele: KEEGAN-MICHAEL KEY and JORDAN PEELE. The two are former members of MADtv. Much of their comedy comes from their point of view: both of them are biracial and grew up in a not quite post-racial world. Their comedy characters include gangsters, substitute teachers, nerds, frat brothers and French revolutionaries. They often satirize President Obama. One of their well known characters is Luther, President Obama's "anger translator" Key & Peele is on Comedy Central Wednesday night's at 10:30. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Lynn Paltrow, Jennifer Mason, and Dr. Barbara Levy. November 21, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461694].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Laws have been enacted in several states which punish a pregnant woman for behavior deemed to endanger their fetus. Women can be confined, or forced into treatment programs. We talk with LYNN PALTROW, executive director of the group National Advocates for Pregnant Women (NAPW). The group advocates for the rights and human dignity of pregnant and parenting women, particularly women who are low income, minority or drug-using. NAPW did a study recently which found there were 413 criminal and civil cases involving arrests, detentions and equivalent deprivations of pregnant women's physical liberty that occurred between 1973 and 2005. We'll talk with two other women about this issue later in the show. (2.) JENNIFER MASON is Communications Director for Personhood USA, a Christian organization which supports and advocates giving constitutional rights to the fetus. (3.) DR. BARBARA LEVY is Vice President for Health Policy, Advocacy Division for the American Congress of Obstetricians and Gynecologists.
Interview with Robert Dallek; Interview with Philip Shenon; Commentary on television coverage of the John F. Kennedy assassination. November 22, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461802].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ROBERT DALLEK is the author of the 2003 bestseller, An Unfinished Life: John F. Kennedy, 1917 - 1963 in which he disclosed revelations about JFK's health, based on previously unavailable medical files maintained by Kennedy's personal physician. His new book is Camelot's Court: Inside the Kennedy White House. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Investigative reporter PHILIP SHENON (SHE-nun). He's a former reporter for the New York Times where he spent more than 20 years. In his new book A Cruel and Shocking Act: The Secret History of the Kennedy Assassination, he looks into the work of the Warren Commission which investigated the assassination of John F. Kennedy. SHENON spoke to many of its surviving staff attorneys and did original research and interviews about the case. He found that CIA and FBI officials destroyed some evidence and lied to the Commission. Though SHENON is not convinced that there was a conspiracy behind the assassination. SHENON also wrote an earlier book about the 911 Commission. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 10.28.13) (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI tells us why he thinks the four days of non stop TV coverage surrounding President Kennedy's assassination was "the most important moment in TV history."

Interview with James Tobin; Review of Dave Van Ronk's album "Down in Washington Square." November 25, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461890].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES TOBIN is the author of the new book The Man He Became: How FDR Defied Polio to Win the Presidency. (Simon & Schuster). TOBIN says it's a common misconception today that the public didn't know then about FDR's polio. But he writes in his new book that in fact they did. FDR was a rising star in American politics when he contracted polio at the age of 39. TOBIN shows how FDR rose to the Presidency, challenging himself physically, overcoming public perception of his disability, and even turning it into a political advantage. TOBIN is an associate professor of journalism at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He is also the author of the Ernie Pyle's War, which won the National Book Critics Circle award. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO

Interview with Jack Bishop and Bridget Lancaster; Review of the James Levine and the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra's album "Live at Carnegie Hall"; Review of books to read over the Thanksgivukkah holiday. November 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461887].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JACK BISHOP & BRIDGET LANCASTER of Cook's Illustrated America's Test Kitchen. They will talk about cooking Thanksgiving dinner. The two have contributed to a new DIY (Do it Yourself) cookbook. BISHOP is the editorial director at America's Test Kitchen. He joined the staff of The Cook's Magazine in 1988 and helped with the launch of Cook's Illustrated in 1993. He has written dozens of articles for both magazines and established the tasting protocols used at America's Test Kitchen. LANCASTER is deputy editor of Cook's Country magazine, joined the Cook's team in 1998 and is responsible for all recipe testing and development in Cook's Country. She has worked on many of the company's cookbook projects and is also an on-screen test cook for America's Test Kitchen. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews Live at Carnegie Hall the new recording of the comeback of conductor James Levine last May leading the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN tells us about some books in the spirit of the season that she's thankful for: Molly's Pilgrim by Barbara Cohen; A History of Howard Johnson's by Anthony Mitchell Sammarco; Critical Mass by James Wolcott; Our Picnics in the Sun by Morag Joss; The Yellow Eyes of Crocodiles by Katerine Pancol; and Billy Lynn's Halftime Walk by Ben Fountain

Interview with Kevin Howlett. November 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461807].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KEVIN HOWLETT is the executive producer of The Beatles: On Air - Live at the BBC Volume 2 which has just been released and curated the new book The Beatles: The BBC Archives (1962-1970) which collects the surviving transcripts of the Beatles' appearances on BBC radio and TV. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pop singer LINDA RONSTADT. She has a new memoir called 'Simple Dreams: A Musical Memoir,' (Sept 17th, Simon and Schuster) and recently revealed that she's been diagnosed with Parkinson's. As a result of the disease, she says she's no longer able to sing. RONSTADT was one of pop music's biggest stars in the 70s and 80s, with chart topping albums like 'Heart Like a Wheel,' and 'Living in the U.S.A.' (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

---

Interview with Billy Crystal; Review of Spike Lee's film "Oldboy." November 29, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461805].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian BILLY CRYSTAL talks about his career in show business. Crystal turned 65 this year and has a new memoir called 'Still Foolin' 'Em: Where I've Been, Where I'm Going, and Where the Hell Are My Keys?' He's also brought his Tony Awarding-winning one man show '700 Sundays,' back to Broadway. (REBROADCAST from 10.17.13) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Oldboy directed by Spike Lee. It's a remake of the award-winning South Korean revenge film of the same name.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film maker ALEXANDER PAYNE. His new film Nebraska stars Bruce Dern and Saturday Night Live alum Will Forte. His other films include The Descendants, Sideways, and About Schmidt. He also directed and co-wrote the satirical films Citizen Ruth and Election. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Matthew Hart; Interview with Ben Bradlee Jr. December 3, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461633].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MATTHEW HART is the author of Gold: The Race for the World's Most Seductive Metal. HART has written for The Atlantic Monthly, Granta, and the London Times. He was a contributing editor of the New York trade magazine Rapaport Diamond Report, and is the author of the award-winning book Diamond. (2.) Journalist BEN BRADLEE JR. author of The Kid: The Immortal Life of Ted Williams about one of baseball's greatest hitters, who was known for his talent and rage. When he died in 2002 his head and body were cryonically frozen. BRADLEE is a reporter and editor at the Boston Globe. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with Mark Mulcahy and Ken Maiuri; Commentary on online photo sharing. December 4, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461545].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer-songwriter MARK MULCAHY is in the Fresh Air studio with his guitar and with guitarist KEN MAIURI. MULCAHY’s new album Dear Mark J. Mulcahy, I Love You (Fire records) is his first in eight years, and the first since his wife died suddenly, leaving him with two young daughters. In a Rolling Stone review critic Jon Dolan describes the songs on the album as “bright, wryly warbled folk-pop that can recall the Velvet Underground or Loudon Wainwright III or the post-REM college-rock Mulcahy made in Eighties band Miracle Legion.” MULCAHY will play some songs from the new album, as well as some other songs he's fond of. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Commentator ALEXIS MADRIGAL has some tips on how to navigate the world of online photo sharing.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DOUGLAS STARR writes in the current The New Yorker about the interrogation techniques used by law enforcement for decades that some scientists and legal experts say is based on outdated science and psychology, and can produce false confessions. STARR is co-director, Center for Science & Medical Journalism at Boston University. STARR is also the author of the book, The Killer of Little Shepherds: A True Crime Story & The Birth of Forensic Science (Knopf) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Wood Flute Songs (Aum Fidelity) the new 8 CD box set featuring bassist William Parker's Quartet, collecting recordings from 2006-2012. (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the traveling exhibit of Vermeer paintings at New York's Frick Collection.

Interview with Louise Story; Review of the DVD release of the film "Heaven's Gate." December 5, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462128].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter LOUISE STORY ? she's written a three-part series called 'United States of Subsidies,' about the tax breaks and incentives that large companies are demanding from local governments in return for the companies locating in their states and cities, creating a huge bill for tax payers. STORY is a reporter on the investigations desk of the New York Times. (2.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews a new Director's Cut on DVD and Blu-ray of the 1980 film Heaven's Gate (from Criterian).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new HBO documentary Six By Sondheim about the life and work of Stephen Sondheim. It highlights his experiences writing six signature songs Something's Coming, Opening Doors, Send in the Clowns, I'm Still Here, Being Alive and Sunday. It also includes interviews and material from Sondheim's personal archive and performances from a number of stars. Six By Sondheim debuts Monday, Dec 9. (2.) A rare interview with composer and lyricist STEPHEN SONDHEIM from 2010 after he turned 80. He learned his craft from Oscar Hammerstein, who was a neighbor and surrogate father to him. (REBROADCAST from 4.21.2010) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Coen Brothers film, Inside Llewyn Davis.

Interview with Delia Ephron; Review of two albums by Jonas Kaufmann. December 9, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461781].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Novelist and screenwriter DELIA EPHRON. In her new book of essays Sister, Mother, Husband Dog she writes in part about her older sister and writing partner Nora Ephron who died last year. DELIA and Nora wrote the play, Love, Loss and What I Wore. DELIA wrote or co-wrote the screenplays for You've Got Mail, The Sisterhood of the Traveling Pants, and Mixed Nuts. She is also the author of a number of novels. And her articles appear in The New York Times, Vogue, and The Wall Street Journal. (2.) Lloyd Schwartz reviews two opera recordings by German tenor Jonas Kaufmann [Yo-nas COWF-mahn] dedicated to Verdi and Wagner [VAHG-ner] celebrating the bicentennials of their birth.
Interview with Ed Pilkington; Review of The Beach Boys' box set "Made In California"; Review of the novel "Death of a Nightingale." December 10, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461785].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ED PILKINGTON, Chief Reporter for The Guardian U.S. about breaking the story of leaked documents about the secretive organization ALEC, The American Legislative Exchange Council. ALEC brings together state legislators with corporate representatives. Together they write model legislation that the legislators bring back to their states. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews Made In California, the eight-hour, six-disc retrospective of The Beach Boys. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews Death of a Nightingale the latest in a series of Danish mystery fiction featuring the heroine Nina Borg, a Red Cross nurse. The authors are Lene Kaaberbol and Agnete Friis.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Welsh actor MICHAEL SHEEN. He's currently starring as sexologist William Masters in the Showtime series Masters of Sex. He also played Britain's former prime minister Tony Blair in three films, including The Queen. And he played David Frost in the Frost/Nixon film. SHEEN had a guest role in 30 Rock as Liz Lemon's "future husband." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Complete Chick Webb & Ella Fitzgerald Decca Sessions (1934-1941) on the Mosaic label. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN on the best books of 2013.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, director, producer, environmentalist, and founder of the Sundance Film Festival ROBERT REDFORD. His solo performance in the new film All is Lost as a man alone and lost at sea is getting rave reviews. Early in his career, REDFORD had guest roles on many early TV shows, and was in the stage and film versions of Barefoot in the Park. His part as Sundance opposite Paul Newman in Butch Cassidy and the Sundance kid, made him a star. Since then he's starred in the films The Sting, The Way We Were, All the President's Men, Ordinary People, The Natural, and The Horse Whisperer. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember jazz guitarist JIM HALL. He died Tuesday at the age of 83, from a heart attack. In the 50s, Hall was part of the West Coast jazz scene. He's played with Chico Hamilton, Bill Evans, Ella Fitzgerald, Sonny Rollins, Paul Desmond and many others. In the 70s, Hall recorded with free-jazz player Ornette Coleman and made several albums with jazz's best bassists. (REBROADCAST from 12.22.89) (2.) We mark the centennial year of the birth of lyricist SAMMY CAHN. We'll listen back to our 1985 interview with him. His most successful partnerships were with composers Saul Chaplin, Jule Styne and Jimmy Van Heusen. He wrote the lyrics for many songs including Time After Time, High Hopes, Come Fly with Me, Guess I'll Hang my Tears Out to Dry, Let it Snow, Let it Snow, Let it Snow, My Kind of Town, and Call Me Irresponsible. (REBROADCAST from 1985) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews American Hustle.
Obituary for Peter O'Toole; Review of music for the holiday season; Obituary for Jimmy Amadie; Review of La La Brooks' album "All or Nothing." December 16, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461695].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember actor PETER O'TOOLE, he died Saturday at 81. O'TOOLE was best known for his performance as the title character in "Lawrence of Arabia" -- the epic film inspired by the British World War I officer, TE Lawrence. The film earned him his first of 8 Academy Award nominations. We'll listen back to Terry's interview with O'TOOLE, recorded in 1993. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD gives us three recommendations for seasonal holiday listening. (3.) We remember JIMMY AMADIE (AH-mah-day), a jazz pianist and educator, known for his contributions to improvisational theory. He died Dec 10 - he was 76. AMADIE toured with the Woody Herman Band and accompanied Mel Torme, and despite a devastating tendonitis condition later in life, became a leading jazz educator and recorded nine albums. Terry talks with Fresh Air's executive producer DANNY MILLER, one of AMADIE's students and a close friend, and listens back to a 1982 interview excerpt with AMADIE, when Fresh Air was a locally broadcast program. (4.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new solo album by La La Brooks, the former lead singer of the 60s group The Crystals, known for their hits "Da Doo Ron Ron" and "Then He Kissed Me."

Interview with the Coen brothers; Review of the ten best albums from 2013. December 17, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461748].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film makers JOEL & ETHAN COEN. Their new film is Inside Llewyn Davis, about a folksinger in Greenwich Village in 1961. Over the last two decades they written and directed the films Barton Fink, Miller's Crossing, Fargo, The Big Lebowski, O Brother, Where Art Thou, No Country for Old Men, Burn After Reading, and A Serious Man and True Grit. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic Ken Tucker delivers his list of 2013's best music.
Interview with James Carroll; Review of Michele Rosewoman's album "New Yor-Uba December 18, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461891].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN CARROLL talks about his New Yorker piece profiling Pope Francis' controversial first year. (Who Am I to Judge? in the current edition of the New Yorker) Carroll has a conflicted relationship with the church. He's a former priest, who welcomed the reforms of Vatican II, and left the priesthood after the church reverted to conservative positions. He's written extensively about the church. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the 2 CD set featuring pianist Michele Rosewoman & New Yor-uba: A Musical Celebration of Cuba in America (Advance Dance Disques)

Interview with Adam McKay and Will Ferrell; Commentary on the word "selfie." December 19, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461658].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Actor WILL FERRELL & director ADAM MCKAY, the two co-wrote the long awaited follow-up to Anchorman, Anchorman 2. It's set in the 1980s, when CNN made it's debut. This time Ron Burgundy is anchoring a new 24-hour news show. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG on the "word" of the year.

Interview with Jason Isbell; Obituary for Ray Price; Review of the film "Her." December 20, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461940].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer/songwriter/Guitarist JASON ISBELL (IS-BLE). He's formerly with the band the Drive-by Truckers. Since leaving the band he's played with others and released the solo album, Southeastern, of songs he wrote since he entered rehab and quit drinking. He'll be in the studio to perform songs from the album and to talk about his life. His album has appeared on many best of the year lists. (REBROADCAST from 7.17.13) (2.) We remember country music singer RAY PRICE. He died Monday at the age of 87. He was a close friend and former roommate of Hank Williams. PRICE's hits include "Talk to Your Heart,"
"Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes," "I'll be There," "Crazy Arms," "For the Good Times," and more. In 1996 he was inducted into the Country Music Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST from 1.19.99) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Her, the new Spike Jonze film.

Interview with Mark Olsen and Will Scheffer; Review of new DVD box sets; Commentary on how SAT exams measure vocabulary. December 23, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462162].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARK OLSEN & WILL SCHEFFER are the creators of the new HBO series Getting On which takes place in an extended care wing of a hospital. It stars Laurie Metcalf (who played Roseanne's sister in the sitcom Roseanne). The series is full of dark humor and the stories are inspired by many of the experiences OLSEN and SCHEFFER had taking care of their elderly mothers. Getting On is also modeled after the hit BBC series of the same name. OLSEN & SCHEFFER created the HBO series Big Love. (2.) TV Critic David Bianculli recommends some exciting DVD box sets. (3.) Linguist Geoff Nunberg considers how SAT's test students' vocabulary.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN delivers his list of 2013's best films. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI talks to Terry Gross about his 2013 'ten best' list. He'll also discuss the impact Netflix has had on television and look ahead to the future of TV.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GRAHAM NASH of the folk rock super group Crosby, Stills and Nash. He's written a new memoir called Wild Tales. NASH is a two-time Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee, with CSN and with his first band The Hollies. He's written songs like 'Carrie Anne,' 'On a Carousel,' 'Simple Man,' 'Our House,' 'Marakesh Express,' and 'Teach Your Children.' Crosby, Stills, and Nash begin a U.S. tour in March. (REBROADCAST from 10.15.13) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg; Interview with Chris Hadfield. December 26, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460379].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SETH ROGEN & EVAN GOLDBERG are the co-writers and directors of the new film This is the End, new judgment day comedy in which actors playing themselves are at a party held by James Franco when the apocalypse begins. It also stars, Jonah Hill, Danny McBride, Craig Robinson with cameos by Emma Watson, Mindy Kaling and Paul Rudd. ROGEN and GOLDBERG also co-wrote Superbad. (Original Broadcast Date: TUESDAY, 11 JUNE 2013) (2.) Canadian astronaut Commander CHRIS HADFIELD. He recently returned from the International Space Station where he was in command. While in the space station he made a video of himself playing guitar and singing David Bowie's Space Oddity, while floating inside the space station. It became a YouTube sensation. His tweets and facebook posts also gained him thousands of followers. HADFIELD is now retired. He's been on three space flights and two space walks in his career. He's written the new memoir, An Astronaut's Guide to Life on Earth. (Original Broadcast Date: WEDNESDAY, 30 OCT 2013)
Interview with Mel Brooks; Interview with Amy Schumer. December 27, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461753].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The great MEL BROOKS talks with TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI about his career. BROOKS is the subject of a new American Masters documentary on PBS Mel Brooks: Make a Noise, premiering Monday at 9 PM May 20th. It covers everything from his early career in live television with Sid Caesar on Your Show of Shows, the 2000 Year Old Man routine with Carl Reiner, to his films The Producers, Young Frankenstein, Blazing Saddles, High Anxiety, Spaceballs ? to the Broadway musical of The Producers. (Original Interview Date: MONDAY, 20 MAY 2013) 2.) Comedian AMY SCHUMER writes, directs and stars in Inside Amy Schumer on Comedy Central, which debuted April 30th. Prior to that she starred in the Comedy Central special Mostly Sex Stuff. She's also guest starred on Girls, Louie, Curb Your Enthusiasm and 30 Rock. She got her network debut in 2007 on NBC's Last Comic Standing (Original Interview Date: TUESDAY 25 JUNE 2013)

Interview with Steve Young, Sheldon Harnick, and John Russell; Interview with Vince Giordano. December 30, 2013. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461627].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEVE YOUNG is the co-author of the new book Everything’s Coming Up Profits : The Golden Age of Industrial Musicals. It's about the Broadway style musicals which companies commissioned and used at their conventions to motivate their sales people. They were musicals about bathroom fixtures, typewriters, tractors, insurance plans and more. YOUNG has also collected recordings of the songs and we'll hear some of them. We also hear from the great songwriter SHELDON HARNICK (who is now 89) who wrote these musicals before going on to write Fiddler on the Roof and JOHN RUSSELL who sang in over eighty industrials (Original Broadcast Date: TUESDAY, 5 NOV 2013) (2.) Musician, arranger, and bandleader VINCE GIORDANO (Gee-or-DAN-o). He and his band the Nighthawks can be heard and seen on HBO's Boardwalk Empire. They won a Grammy in 2012 for the first volume of their soundtrack from the series. GIORDANO has loved music from the 1920s and 30s since he was a child and is a big-band historian and collector with more than 60,000 scores in his collection. GIORDANO and his Nighthawks perform every Monday and Tuesday night at the Iguana in New York City. (Original Broadcast Date: WEDNESDAY, 6 NOV 2013)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The comic trio The Lonely Island: ANDY SAMBERG, AKIVA SCHAFFER and JORMA TACCON E. They recently released their third album, The Wack Album, which features guest stars Justin Timberlake, Lady Gaga and other singers. The trio previously worked together on Saturday Night Live, where SAMBERG was a cast member, and SCHAFFER and TACCONE writers, and where they performed their hiphop parodies, Dick in a Box (which they performed with Justin Timberlake), and Lazy Sunday. The three are originally from Berkeley, California where they’ve known each other since junior high school. (Original Broadcast Date: TUESDAY, 18 JUNE 2013) (2.) From the Comedy Central Sketch comedy show, Key & Peele: KEEGAN-MICHAEL KEY and JORDAN PEELE. The two are former members of MADtv. Much of their comedy comes from their point of view: both of them are biracial and grew up in a not quite post-racial world. Their comedy characters include gangsters, substitute teachers, nerds, frat brothers and French revolutionaries. They often satirize President Obama. One of their well known characters is Luther, President Obama's "anger translator" (Original Broadcast Date: WEDNESDAY, 20 NOV 2013)

Interview with Elton John; January 1, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461635].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer, pianist, rock star ELTON JOHN. He recently released his first album in seven years, The Diving Board, produced by T. Bone Burnett. It's a stripped-down solo album, with song lyrics by his longtime writing partner, Bernie Taupin. He'll talk about his early career, how he was influenced by Liberace, his life and more. (REBROADCAST from 23 SEPT 2013) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Lucy Lethbridge; Review of new Sam Philips' box set; Commentary on Netflix's "micro-genres." January 2, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461502].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LUCY LETHBRIDGE is the author of the new book Servants: A Downstairs History of Britain from the Nineteenth Century to Modern Times (W.W. Norton). Using the letters and diaries of the men and women who worked as servants, LETHBRIDGE brings their world to life. She also interviewed former and current servants. LETHBRIDGE found that servants were at almost every level except the very poorest. At the beginning of the 20th century domestic service was the largest single occupation in Great Britain. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews the new box set: "Sun Country Box: Country Music Recorded by Sam Phillips 1950-1959," from Bear Family Records. (3.) Tech contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL tells us how Netflix generates its "micro-genres" to better reflect its customers' movie preferences.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist LYNNE OLSON is the author of the book Those Angry Days: Roosevelt, Lindbergh, and America's Fight Over World War II, 1939-1941 (which comes out in paperback Jan 14th). The book is about the epic battle between interventionists and isolationists about whether the U.S. should intervene in World War II. It's the latest of a number of books she's written about World War II. OLSON's previous book Citizens of London: The Americans Who Stood with Britian in Its Darkest, Finest Hour was a bestseller. OLSON and her husband, Stanley Cloud, co-authored the book The Murrow Boys about Edward R. Murrow and his legendary band of CBS radio journalists who reported from the World War II front. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. Original Broadcast Date: TUESDAY MAR 26, 2013) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new book The Trip to Echo Spring, (Picador 12/24/13) by Olivia Laing.

Interview with Scott Stossel; Review of season premiere of television show "Downton Abbey." January 6, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461500].

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist essayist and satirist GARY SHTEYNGART. He has a new memoir Little Failure. He and his family emigrated from the Soviet Union in 1979 when he was seven, after Jews were allowed to leave. SHTEYNGART is also the author of the very funny satirical novels The Russian Debutante's Handbook and Absurdistan. SHTEYNGART has also written for The New Yorker, Slate, Granta, The New York Times and Travel & Leisure.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Russian journalist MASHA GESSEN is the author of the new book, Words Will Break Cement: The Passion of Pussy Riot. It's about the outlawed band in Russia. Two of the band members were just released from jail thru Putin's pre-Olympics amnesty. GESSEN recently left Russia for the U.S. after working there for years because of the anti-homosexual law. GESSEN is gay and she and her partner have children. GESSEN is also the author of the book The Man Without a Face: The Unlikely Rise of Vladimir. GESSEN was threatened and followed for her critical reporting of Putin. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new miniseries this week: The Spoils of Babylon, a soap-opera spoof on IFC, and True Detective, a new drama from HBO.

Interview with Emma Thompson; Commentary on musician Kenny Clarke; Review of Lynn Darling's memoir "Out of the Woods." January 9, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462026].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actress EMMA THOMPSON. She's co-starring with Tom Hanks in the new film Saving Mr. Banks. She plays P.L. Travers the creator of Mary Poppins. Hanks plays Walt Disney who convinces the reluctant Travers to let him make a movie version of her book. THOMPSON's other films include The Remains of the Day, In the Name of the Father, Sense & Sensibility, Much Ado About Nothing, Wit, and Nanny McPhee. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD tells us about drummer Kenny Clarke, one of the founders of the modern jazz style bebop. Today would have been Clarke's 100th birthday. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Out of the Woods, a new memoir by Lynn Darling, by a woman who leaves her New York apartment and moves into a small house in the Vermont woods when her her child leaves home for college.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JULIAN FELLOWES is the creator, writer and producer of the popular PBS series Downton Abbey which began a new season last Sunday. He also was associate producer and screenwriter of the film Gosford Park. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 1.7.2013) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Invisible Woman. (3.) We remember playwright, poet, critic and activist AMIRI BARAKA who died yesterday at the age of 79. He had been ill and in the hospital. He was one of the most prominent and controversial African American voices in the world of American letters. (REBROADCAST from 1986) (4.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Rosanne Cash's new album The River and the Thread. It's her first album since 2006.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Supreme Court Justice SONIA SOTOMAYOR talks about her life. Her bestselling memoir, 'My Beloved World,' is now out in paperback. The memoir begins with Sotomayor learning to sterilize needles and self inject insulin at the age 7 after being diagnosed with juvenile diabetes, and ends with her confirmation to the District Court for the Southern District of New York. In 2009 she became the first Hispanic and the 3rd woman to serve on the Supreme Court. (2.) Critic at large John Powers reviews the documentary film 'The Square,' about the Egyptian revolution.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) P.W. SINGER talks about personal and global cyber security. His new book is called Cybersecurity and Cyberwar, What Everyone Needs to Know. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)  (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews "On Such a Full Sea," the new novel by Chang-Rae Lee. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Bruce Springsteen's 18th studio album "High Hopes."

Interview with with Nicholas Confessore; Review of James Govan's album "Wanted January 15, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461569].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times correspondent NICHOLAS CONFESSORE (con-fes-SORE-ee) discusses how some states have become political monopolies, where one party controls both the state legislature and the governor's office, enabling that party to push through its political agenda. CONFESSORE says this is made possible in part by national special interest organizations who funnel millions and millions of dollars into local elections, often side-stepping campaign finance regulations. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us the story of singer James Govan who recorded at Fame Studios in Muscle Shoals; people said he was Otis Redding's natural successor.

Interview with Gabriel Sherman; Commentary on the effect of tech workers in San Francisco; January 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461888].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist GABRIEL SHERMAN. His new book about the powerful FOX news CEO Roger Ailes, is The Loudest Voice in the Room: How the Brilliant, Bombastic Roger Ailes Built Fox News - and Divided a Country. (Random House). SHERMAN is a contributing editor at New York Magazine. He's written for the New York Times, the Guardian, Slate, GQ, the Atlantic, Wired, Outside Magazine and National Geographic Adventure. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers how the influx of techies is changing San Francisco, and the term you use to call them: techies? Hackers? Software Americans? says something about your attitude towards them.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author DAVID CUNNINGHAM talks about his book 'Klansville U.S.A.: The Rise and Fall of the Civil Rights-Era Ku Klux Klan' (now out in paperback) During the 1960s, Klan activity drastically increased especially in North Carolina. CUNNINGHAM looks at the conditions that allowed the Klan to flourish in North Carolina, and the attempts to mainstream the Klan into everyday life. CUNNINGHAM is Associate Professor and Chair of Sociology and the Social Justice & Social Policy Program at Brandeis University. He's also author of 'There's Something Happening Here: The New Left, the Klan, and FBI Counterintelligence'(University of California Press). (REBROADCAST from 02.14.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit the new film based on Tom Clancy's most famous character CIA analyst Jack Ryan.

Interview with Todd Purdam; Review of Lafayette Gilchrist's album "The View From Here." January 20, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461804].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TODD PURDUM is the author of the forthcoming book, An Idea Whose Time Has Come: Two Presidents, Two Parties and the Battle for the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (it will be available April 1st). PURDUM is a contributing editor at Vanity Fair and a senior writer at Politico. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new solo CD The View from Here by pianist Lafayette Gilchrist.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOAQUIN PHOENIX. He's currently starring in Her, the new Spike Jonze film. He's received nominations for academy awards for the films Walk the Line, in which he played Johnny Cash, The Master, and for his role as a Roman emporer in the 2000 film Gladiator. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JESSICA LAMB-SHAPIRO is the author of the new memoir is Promise Land: My Journey Through America's Self-Help Culture. Her father was a child psychologist and the author of 40 self-help books. She examines the world of self-help in her new book. In the process she began to realize the unresolved issue of the mysterious death of her mother when she was a toddler, something she and her father never talked about. LAMP-SHAPIRO has written for The Believer, McSweeney's, Open City and Index magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANN PATCHETT is best known for her award winning and best-selling novels, State of Wonder and Bel Canto (which won the PEN/Faulkner Award, and was a finalist for the National Book Critics Circle award). PATCHETT's new book This is the Story of a Happy Marriage is a collection of her essays written over the years for various publications like Atlantic, Vogue, Granta and Gourmet. She's also the author of the memoir Truth & Beauty about her friendship with the late writer Lucy Grealy. PATCHETT also owns a the Parnassus Books store in Nashville. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new debut album by the new quintet Hard Working Americans, led by singer-songwriter Todd Snider. Their music concerns the working man/woman and the album features covers of songs by well-known songwriters.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor TOM HANKS and director PAUL GREENGRASS. Their film Captain Phillips has been nominated for an Academy Award for Best Picture. It's also out on DVD. The film is based on the true story of Richard Phillips, a container ship captain who was taken hostage after his ship was hijacked by Somali pirates. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 10.7.13) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Gloria the new film from Chile.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian DAVID KERTZER. His new book is The Pope and Mussolini: The Secret History of Pius XI and the Rise of Fascism in Europe. The book is based on groundbreaking research in Vatican and Fascist archives and brings a new understanding to the Vatican's role in the rise of Fascism in Europe. Both the Pope and dictator Benito Mussolini came to power in 1922. KERTZER shows how Pius XI played a crucial role in making Mussolini's dictatorship possible and helped keep him in power in exchange for Mussolini restoring many of the privileges the Church had lost. Mussolini also gave into the Pope's demands that the police enforce Catholic morality. KERTZER teaches at Brown University, where he is Dupee University Professor of Social Science; and Professor of Anthropology and of Italian Studies. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Empire of Necessity the new book about a revolt on a slave ship by Greg Grandin who is also the author of the book Fordlandia which was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember folk singer and songwriter PETE SEEGER. He died Monday at the age of 94. We'll listen back to his 1985 interview with Terry Gross. (2.) Journalist MCKENZIE FUNK is the author of the new book Windfall: The Booming Business of Global Warming. It's about the countries and businesses that stand to benefit financially from global warming. Opportunities can be found in access to new shipping lanes, and to gas, oil and mineral deposits. New technologies are being developed to protect homeowners from sea surges. In areas of drought, land owners can profit from water rights, and private fire companies can offer protection to homeowners threatened by wildfires. FUNK's work has appeared in Harper's, National Geographic, and The New York Times. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist KEN WARD JR. writes about energy and the environment for the Charleston Gazette. He's been covering the story about the chemical spill which contaminated the water around Charleston, West Virginia, affecting hundreds of thousands of residents. WARD also writes the blog Coal Tattoo. And he is a three-time winner of the Scripps Howard Foundation's Edward J. Meeman Award for Environmental Reporting. He also received the Livingston Award for Young Journalists, an Investigative Reporters and Editors medal. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER considers a new trend in music: "bro-country" and reviews new albums by Jason EAdy and Jon Pardi.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pro Football Hall of Fame writer and a football analyst RAY DIDINGER. He'll talk about the strategy and the history of the game, and the up coming Super Bowl. DIDINGER has won six Emmy Awards for his work as a writer and producer at NFL films. He was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1995. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Former pro-football quarterback RON JAWORSKI. He helped lead the Philadelphia Eagles to the Super Bowl in 1981 (where they lost to Oakland). JAWORSKI was with the NFL for 17 years. He's now an analyst for ESPN.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former tennis champ and champion for gender equality BILLIE JEAN KING. Last Fall she celebrating the 40th anniversary of the exhibition match she played against Bobby Riggs known as the "Battle of the Sexes." She was 29 and Riggs was 55. The match took place on September 20, 1973 at the Houston Astrodome. She beat Riggs in three straight sets. Though she's most famous for this match, her accomplishments go much further. She helped turn tennis into a professional sport, championed the equal pay for women in tennis, and was instrumental in founding the Women's Tennis Association. She also won 20 Wimbledons. After retiring from tennis at the age of 40, KING formed the World Team Tennis league which promotes gender equality team playing. She's still associated with it. In 2009 she was awarded the Presidential Medal of Freedom. She was the subject of a PBS American Masters documentary last Fall. (REBROADCAST from 9.12.13) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Sixteen Sunsets the new album by soprano saxophonist Jane Ira Bloom. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Flyover Lives the new memoir by Diane Johnson about growing up in a small-town in the Midwest before television.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember actor PHILIP SEYMOUR HOFFMAN who died yesterday of an apparent drug overdose. He was 46. We'll listen back to portions of our two interviews with him. One in 1999 and the other in 2008. He won a academy award for best actor playing Capote in the film Capote (2005). And he was nominated three times in supporting roles in the films Doubt, Charlie Wilson's War and The Master.
His other films include Synecdoche, New York, The Savages, The Talented Mr. Ripley, Magnolia, and Boogie Nights. (REBROADCAST FROM 11.30.99 and 12.10.08) (THESE INTERVIEW CONTINUE INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Jennifer Senior; Review of the Danish TV series "Borgen." February 4, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461822].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JENNIFER SENIOR is a contributing editor at New York magazine. She's the author of the new book All Joy and No Fun: The Paradox of Modern Parenthood. For the book she examines the current research on parenting, specifically how parenting has changed over the decades and what life is like for parents. She first wrote about this in an article for New York magazine in 2010 when she wrote about recent research showing that parents are no happier than nonparents and in some cases considerably less happy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.)
Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS recommends the Danish TV political series Borgen about Denmark's first woman prime minister. It's third and final season is now out on DVD. He says the show is remarkable for capturing the personal cost of political life.

Interview with Tim Gunn; Review of Rachel Pastan's novel "Alena" and Katherine Pancol's new www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461680].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fashion consultant TIM GUNN. He's an emmy-award winning co-host and mentor on Lifetime's Project Runway, which has been on the air 12 seasons. GUNN has a new show Project Runway: Under the Gun. GUNN is also an actor and has appeared on the shows Ugly Betty, and How I Met Your Mother.
He previously he was on the faculty of Parsons, the New School for Design. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews to new novels that she says are both "smart entertainments": Alena by Rachel Pastan, and The Yellow Eyes of Crocodiles by Katherine Pancol.

---

Interview with Susan Crawford; Review of Penny Penny's new hit CD "Shaka Bundu." February 6, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461828].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Telecommunications policy analyst SUSAN CRAWFORD talks about the battle over internet neutrality. She is a Fellow at the Roosevelt Institute where the leads the Institute's work on making high-speed Internet access a universal, affordable resource for all. She also served as Special Assistant to President Obama for Science, Technology, and Innovation Policy. CRAWFORD is the author of the 2013 book Captive Audience: The Telecom Industry and Monopoly Power in the New Gilded Age (Yale 2013) and regularly contributes to Bloomberg View and Wired. CRAWFORD is John A. Reilly Visiting Professor in Intellectual Property at the Harvard Law School (2014). And she is a professor at the Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law. (INTERVIEW WITH DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES tells us about Penny Penny a singer from South Africa whose music is in the style of Tsonga disco, from the Tsonga people of northern South Africa. His hit CD Shaka Bundu (on the Awesome Tapes From Africa label) is available in the U.S. for the first time.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We mark the 50th anniversary of the Beatles arrival in the U.S. and their first appearance on the Ed Sullivan Show. (Feb 7th and 9th respectively). We listen back to our interviews with RINGO STARR (from 6.14.95) and PAUL MCCARTNEY (from 4.30.01). First we listen to the interview with STARR in this half. (2.) PAUL MCCARTNEY talks with Terry Gross. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Monuments Men.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Iraq veterans KAYLA WILLIAMS and BRIAN MCGOUGH ("McGuff"). The two are married. WILLIAMS has written the new book Plenty of Time When We Get Home about how they got to know each other, fell in love, and eventually married. They became friends in Iraq but weren't romantically involved until both returned home. By then MCGOUGH had been injured from an IED and suffered traumatic brain injury. Both of them suffered from different degrees of PTSD. The book chronicles what it was like to get to know each other as they also dealt with symptoms of violent mood swings, insomnia, depression and more. WILLIAMS who was an Arab linguist, also chronicled her experience in Iraq in the 2005 book Love My Rifle More Than You. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Outsiders, the new album by Eric Church.

Interview with Dr. Kevin Fong; Review of Frank Wess' final album "Magic 201." February 11, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461826].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. KEVIN FONG is an anesthesiologist, intensive care expert, and NASA adviser. He is the author of the new book Extreme Medicine: How Exploration Transformed Medicine in the Twentieth Century. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Magic 201 the final album by saxophonist Frank Wess who died in October at the age of 91.
Interview with Elizabeth Kolbert; Review of Lake Street Dive's new album "Bad self portraits." February 12, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462062].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ELIZABETH KOLBERT is a staff writer for The New Yorker where she has written political profiles, commentary, and extensively on climate change. Her new book is The Sixth Extinction: An Unnatural History. She is also the author of the 2006 book Field Notes From a Catastrophe also about climate change. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Bad Self Portraits the new album by the quartet Lake Street Dive.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ERIC LIPTON is an investigative reporter for the New York Times. He covers lobbying. He's been writing about the latest ways corporations are attempting to influence Congress as well as public opinion. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews The Whole Gritty City, a two-hour special that's part of the CBS documentary series 48 Hours. It follows young student marching bands as they prepare for spots in the Mardi Gras parade in New Orleans. It airs Saturday.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor, director, producer, environmentalist, and founder of the Sundance Film Festival ROBERT REDFORD. His solo performance in the new film All is Lost as a man alone and lost at sea has gotten rave reviews. Early in his career, REDFORD had guest roles on many early TV shows, and was in the stage and film versions of Barefoot in the Park. His part as Sundance opposite Paul Newman in Butch Cassidy and the Sundance kid, made him a star. Since then he's starred in the films The Sting, The Way
We Were, All the President's Men, Ordinary People, The Natural, and The Horse Whisperer. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 12.12.13)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer prize winning author ROBERT CARO. He's written the fourth part of his biography of Lyndon Johnson. It's titled The Passage of Power and covers the years 1959 - 1964. In this period he goes from being the Senate majority leader to a vice president with little power, and then assuming the Presidency after the assassination of President Kennedy. It also details his War on Poverty, and his feud with Robert Kennedy. CARO's other books in the series include: The Path to Power, Means of Ascent, and Master of the Senate. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Adventures of Henry Thoreau by Michael Sims.

Interview with Meg Wolitzer; Review of Jimmy Fallon's debut as the new host of NBC's "Tonight Show." February 18, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461858].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist MEG WOLITZER ('WAHL-it-zer'). Her book The Interestings is now out in paperback., a novel which follows a group of talented and not so talented summer camp friends thru middle age. She is also the author of The Ten-Year Nap about a group of women who abandon their promising careers in favor of fulltime motherhood, and the affect of that decision ten years later. Her other books include The Wife, (which was a New York Times Notable Book) and The Positionabout a 1970s era couple who write a Joy of Sex style book, complete with illustrations of them making love; then their teenage children get a hold of it. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Jimmy Fallon's debut last night as the new host of NBC's Tonight Show.
Interview with Trevor Cox; Review of Claude Lanzmann's new documentary "The Last of the Unjust." February 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461708].

Description of show segment(s)

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director DAVID O. RUSSELL - his new film "American Hustle," has been nominated for 10 Academy Awards, including Best Picture and Best Director. His two previous films "The Fighter," and "Silver Linings Playbook," were also both nominated for the same awards. "American Hustle" stars Christian Bale, Amy Adams, Bradley Cooper, and Jennifer Lawrence. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director ALEXANDER PAYNE. His film Nebraska has been nominated for six Academy Awards, including Best Picture, Best Director and Best Actor for Bruce Dern who stars in it. Saturday Night Live alum Will Forte plays his son. PAYNE'S other films include The Descendants, Sideways, and About Schmidt. He also directed and co-wrote the satirical films Citizen Ruth and Election. (REBROADCAST from 12.12.13). (2.) Actor MATTHEW MCCONAUGHEY (Mah-con-ah-HAY). He's up for an academy award for his performance in the film Dallas Buyers Club. The film has received six total nominations. MCCONAUGHEY is also co-starring in the new HBO mini series True Detectives. Last year he also starred in the film Mud by director Jeff Nichols who also made Take Shelter and Shotgun Stories.

After starring in a number of romantic-comedies, MCCONAUGHEY has recently played darker more complicated roles: a former dancer and aging owner of a male strip club in Steven Soderbergh's Magic Mike; a sociopathic cop and part-time hit man in Killer Joe; and a closeted gay reporter with a death wish in the film The Paperboy. (REBROADCAST from 4.23.13) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Wind Rises by acclaimed Japanese animator Hayao Miyazaki. It's been nominated for an Academy Award for Best Animated Feature.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JULIA ANGWIN is the author of the new book Dragnet Nation: A Quest for Privacy, Security and Freedom in a World of Relentless Surveillance. In the book she attempts to protect her privacy while still using the internet and her cellphone. ANGWIN is currently an investigative journalist for the independent news organization ProPublica. Before that she wrote about privacy and technology for The Wall Street Journal. She is also the author of Stealing MySpace: The Battle to Control the Most Popular Website in America. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Daughter of Everything the debut album by the L.A. duo Vertical Scratchers.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist HOWARD BLUM (like "plum") is the author of the new book Dark Invasion: Germany's Secret War Against America. It's about the campaign of sabotage German agents began in the U.S. at the time of World War I, when the U.S. took a stance of neutrality. The story includes a number of colorful characters including a count and socialite ambassador who became a master spy; a former harvard professor who murdered his first wife, was on the lam, assumed a new identity, became a spy and made an assassination attempt on J.P. Morgan; and a squad of NYC police men recruited to uncover the plots. The book is the basis of an upcoming film. BLUM is a contributing editor for Vanity Fair, and a former investigative reporter for the New York Times. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember writer, director and actor HAROLD RAMIS who died yesterday at the age of 69. We listen back to an excerpt of our 2005 interview with him. (REBROADCAST from 11.21.05) (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD has an appreciation of Eric Dolphy's 1964 masterpiece Out to Lunch. It's 50 years old today.

Interview with Neil deGrasse Tyson; Obituary for Harold Ramis. February 27, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885394].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Astrophysicist NEIL deGRASSE TYSON. He is the host of the new 13-part series Cosmos: A Space-Time Odyssey (premiering Sunday, March 9th on FOX TV and Monday, March 10th on the National Geographic Channel) The series is a follow up to the popular Carl Sagan PBS series Cosmos: A Personal Voyage, and the executive producer is Sagan's widow Ann Druyan (who co-created the original). TYSON was part of a commission which advised President Bush on U.S. space exploration policy, and was appointed to NASA's Advisory Council. TYSON is the author of the New York Times bestseller Death by Black Hole and Other Cosmic Quandries. He has written ten books in all and is the director of the Hayden Planetarium. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has an appreciation of writer, director, actor Harold Ramis who died Monday.

Interview with Colm Toibin; Review of the movie "Non-Stop". February 28, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885393].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Irish novelist, essayist, and short-story writer COLM TOIBIN (CALL-um Toy-BEAN). He's the author of the bestseller Brooklyn, about a young girl's emigration from Ireland to the U.S. in the 1950s. His book The Testament of Mary is out in paperback. It imagines how Mary would remember her son Jesus, 20 years after his crucifixion. TOIBIN is the author of a number of novels including The Heather Blazing (1992) The Blackwater Lightship (1999), The Master (2004), the short story collection Mothers and Sons. Brooklyn and The Blackwater Lightship were both shortlisted for the prestigious Booker Prize. (REBROADCAST from 12.3.12) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE ENTIRE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Non-Stop the new thriller set on an airplane, starring Liam Neeson as a federal air marshall.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID KIRKPATRICK is Cairo bureau chief for The New York Times, and mideast correspondent. He'll talk about events in Egypt and about his investigation into the attack on the American mission in Benghazi. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Bark the new collection of short stories by Lorrie Moore.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRIGID SCHULTE is social issues reporter for The Washington Post, and is author of the new book about time pressure and American families is Overwhelmed, Work, Love and Play When No One Has the Time. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Burn Your Fire For No Witness the new album by Chicago-based singer-songwriter Angel Olsen.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARK HARRIS is the author of the new book Five Came Back: A Story of Hollywood and the Second World War. It's about five established film directors who volunteered for service during World War II, and put their lives at risk documenting the war. The directors are John Huston, Frank Capra, John Ford, William Wyler, and George Stevens. The book is about how they were affected by the war, and the impact of their films on America. HARRIS is also the author of Pictures at a Revolution: Five Movies and the Birth of the New Hollywood. And he is a columnist for Entertainment Weekly and Grantland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Free State Serenade the new solo album by Chuck Mead of the alternative-country band B-R five forty nine.

---

Interview with Kevin Young; Obituary for Justin Kaplan; Commentary on the driverless car. March 4, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462222].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Poet and teacher KEVIN YOUNG. He's written seven books of poetry. His latest is Book of Hours, and it includes poems about the death of his father, and the birth of his son. YOUNG has also written other books including, The Grey Album: On the Blackness of Blackness (Graywolf, 2012), which was... named a New York Times Notable Book for 2012 and was a finalist for the National Book Critics Award in criticism. YOUNG's writing has appeared in The New Yorker, The New York Times Book Review, Ploughshares, and Kenyon Review. He teaches creative writing at Emory University. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember editor and Pulitzer prize winning biographer JUSTIN KAPLAN who died Sunday at the age of 88. His biography of Mark Twain, Mr. Clemens and Mark Twain won the Pulitzer in 1967. He also wrote a biography of Walt Whitman, and edited Bartlett's Familiar Quotations. (REBROADCAST from 11.11.92) (3.) Tech contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL considers the driverless car.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TERRY GOLWAY. He's the author of the new book Machine Made: Tammany Hall and the Creation of Modern American Politics. GOLWAY was a journalist for thirty years for the New York Observer and the New York Times. He is now director of the Kean University Center for History, Politics, and Policy in New Jersey. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel Schmuck by Ross Klavan, about two famous radio sidekicks, loosely based on his father's radio career in NYC in the 50s and 60s.

Interview with Benjamin Wallace-Wells and Craig Haney; Review of Pharrell Williams' album "Girl." March 6, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461508].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BENJAMIN WALLACE-WELLS. He wrote in the New York Magazine about a hunger strike by 30,000 California inmates protesting the use of solitary confinement. One inmate was held in solitary for 23 years. His article is The Plot from Solitary. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). Psychologist CRAIG HANEY is a professor at the University of California, Santa Cruz. He has studied prisons for thirty years, and has interviewed thousands of inmates who are or have been held in solitary confinement. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews GIRL the new album by Pharrell Williams who performed his number one hit song Happy at the Academy Awards.

Interview with Chimamanda Ngozi Adichie; Obituary for Dr. Sherwin Nuland; Review of film "The Grand Budapest Hotel." March 7, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461387].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer CHIMAMANDA NGOZI ADICHIE. She grew up in Nigeria, and came to the U.S. as a student. Her novel is Americanah is now out in paperback. She is also author of the novels Purple Hibiscus (her debut), Half of a Yellow Moon (which is being made into a new film), and the short story collection That Thing Around Your Neck. Her work has been selected by the BBC Short Story Awards and has appeared in the literary publications, Zoetrope and The Iowa Review. (REBROADCAST FROM 6.27.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember DR. SHERWIN NULAND who died Monday at the age of 83 from prostate cancer. His 1994 book How We Die: Reflections on Life's Final Chapter, fueled a national conversation about end-of-life decisions. NULAND's book was an attempt to "demythologize" the process of dying and present death in its biological and clinical reality. Oliver Sacks wrote of the book, "A series of portraits or analyses, as powerful and sensitive, and unsparing and unsentimental, as anything I have ever read." NULAND was a surgeon, and he taught surgery and the history of medicine at Yale. (REBROADCAST from 2.14.94) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Wes Anderson's new film The Grand Budapest Hotel.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist WALTER KIRN is the author of the book Blood Will Out: A True Story of a Murder, A Mystery, and A Masquarade. It's about how he became friends with a man who claimed he was a Rockefeller, Clark Rockefeller, but turned out to be an imposter and a murderer.
Interview with Wes Anderson; Poetry reading by Lloyd Schwartz; Review of the Strata-East recordings of Clifford Jordan March 12, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461733].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director & writer WES ANDERSON. His new film is the comedy The Grand Budapest Hotel, set in the 1930s in an elegant hotel in a fictional east European city on the verge of war. It stars Ralph Fiennes, Tilda Swinton, Jude Law, F. Murray Abraham, and also includes Jeff Goldbum, Adrien Brody, Willem Dafoe, Harvey Keitel, and Edward Norton. ANDERSON's previous film Moonrise Kingdom, is about a romance between two 12-year olds. ANDERSON's other films include the stop-animated Fantastic Mr. Fox, based on the Roald Dahl children's book, and The Royal Tennenbaums, The Darjeeling Limited, Bottle Rocket and Rushmore. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reads a poem about a friend he's lost contact with. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Complete Clifford Jordan Strata-East Sessions on the Mosaic label.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANDREW SOLOMON. In the current edition of The New Yorker he writes about his conversations with Peter Lanza, the father of Adam Lanza, the Sandy Hook killer. This was the first time the father talked to anyone in the media, and he asked to speak with Solomon. SOLOMON is the author of the 2012 book, Far From the Tree: Parents, Children and the Search for Identity in which he explored what it's like for parents who have a child who is profoundly different, or likely to be stigmatized. SOLOMON is also the author of The Noonday Demon: An Atlas of Depression, which won the 2001 National Book Award.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARY ROACH is the author of the new book Gulp: Adventures on the Alimentary Canal (out in paperback on April 1, 2014) It's about the tube that runs from mouth to rear. As part of her research for the book, ROACH was given a colonoscopy without sedatives so that she could look at what her large and small intestines looked like. She writes in her book about everything from saliva to flatulence. ROACH is also the author of the best selling book Stiff. (REBROADCAST from 4.1.13) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews Crisis, the new NBC drama series about a kidnapping plot targeting children of influential parents.

Interview with Penelope Lively; Obituary for David Brenner. March 17, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461189].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist and Children's Book author PENELOPE LIVELY. She has a new memoir called "Dancing Fish and Ammonites," which she calls a view from old age - She's 81. In it, she describes what it feels like to have come to old age and looks back over her life as a writer, and a reader. She's best known for her books "Treasures of Time," "Nothing Missing but the Samovar," "The Road to Lichfield," "According to Mark," "The Ghost of Thomas Kempe," "A Stitch in Time," "Moon Tiger," and "Family Album." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember comedian DAVID BRENNER who died Saturday at the age of 78. The cause was cancer. We listen back to our 1990 interview with him. (REBROADCAST FROM 05.30.1990)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CARL HOFFMAN. He's investigated the 1961 disappearance of 23 year old Michael Rockefeller, who was last seen off the coast of New Guinea. The cause was thought to have been a drowning, but HOFFMAN found evidence that Rockefeller -- who was in the area to collect primitive art -- was captured, killed, and eaten by headhunters. HOFFMAN is the author of the book Savage Harvest: A Tale of Cannibals, Colonialism & Michael Rockefeller's Tragic Quest for Primitive Art. He is also contributing editor at National Geographic Traveler. And is the author of the previous book, The Lunatic Express: Discovering the World Via it's Most Dangerous Buses, Boats, Trains & Planes, which was named one of the 10 best books of 2010 by The Wall Street Journal. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Saxophonist and composer MARTY EHRLICH. His recent recording A Trumpet in the Morning (New World Records) is his first recording in 13 years devoted entirely to his large ensemble compositions. It features Ray Anderson, Uri Caine, Drew Gress, Matt Wilson and many others. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Heathen School a new book by historian John Demos about the early 19th century school in Cornwall, Connecticut designed to bring young men from Hawaii, China, India and the Native American nations to convert them to Christianity.

Interview with Dolora Zajick; Review of television program "Doll & Em." March 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461549].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Mezzo-soprano DOLORA ZAJICK. She's been with New York's Metropolitan Opera for 25 years. She's considered "a mezzo in a class by herself" (New York Times), and has performed on stages around the world and in Il Trovatore, Aida, Don Carlo, and Un Ballo in Maschera. Her appearances at the Metropolitan Opera in Il Trovatore, Aida, were both simulcast in HD to theatres around the world as part of the Met's Live in HD series. She also founded and is Director of The Institute for Young Dramatic Voices. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new HBO series Doll & Em, starring Emily Mortimer from HBO's The Newsroom, and British actress Dolly Wells. The two play an actress in Hollywood and her longtime friend hired to be her assistant. The series is imported from Britian and was created and co-written by Mortimer and Wells.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) From America's Test Kitchen: JULIA COLLIN DAVISON executive food editor for the book division of America's Test Kitchen and an on-screen test cook for America's Test Kitchen and Cook's Country from America's Test Kitchen and JACK BISHOP, editorial director of America's Test Kitchen. The two discuss the recipes in the Kitchen's new book The How Can It Be Gluten Free Cookbook. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Slow Me Down the new album by country singer Sara Evans, her first in three years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Criminologist and psychologist ADRIAN RAINE ("Rain") is the author of the book The Anatomy of Violence: The Biological Roots of Crime (now out in paperback). He's done pioneering research on the biological roots of crime and violence. He was the first researcher to scan the brains of murderers, finding in a significant number a lack of development in the pre-frontal area which controls impulse and emotion. His work is controversial, having implications for crime, punishment, and treatment. RAINE is the Richard Petty University Professor of Criminology, Psychiatry, and Psychology at the University of Pennsylvania. (REBROADCAST from 5.1.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Nymphomaniac by Danish filmmaker LarsVon Trier, starring Charlotte Gainsbourg.
Interview with Bob Mankoff; Review of album "Bud Powell March 24, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461555].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BOB MANKOFF is a cartoonist and long-time cartoon editor for The New Yorker. He's written the new memoir, How About Never -- Is Never Good For You? The title of the cartoon comes from his famous cartoon in which a businessman is on the telephone, dodging a lunch date. As cartoon editor MANKOFF looks at 500 cartoons a week. He also founded the online Cartoon Bank which licenses and sells the New Yorker cartoons. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews "Bud Powell: Birdland 1953" on the ESP label.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Political Science professor KIMBERLY MARTEN discusses the history of Russia, Ukraine, and Crimea. MARTEN a professor of political science at Barnard College, and Deputy Director of Development at Columbia's Harriman Institute for Russian Eurasian and East European studies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic Maureen Corrigan reviews "Every Day is for the Thief," by Teju (tae-zjou) Cole - his novel "Open City," was the winner of the Pen/Hemingway award.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KAREN RUSSELL, author of the New York Times bestseller Swamplandia talks about her new novella, Sleep Donation. It's set in the near future during an insomnia epidemic. Russell imagines an America where new insomniacs are forced to file for dream bankruptcy and wait to be approved for sleep donors. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW - INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Critic at Large JOHN POWERS reviews "Redeployment," a new collection of short stories about American soldiers in Iraq, written by Phil Klay, a Marine corps veteran who served in Iraq during the Surge.

Interview with Bryan Cranston. March 27, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461615].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BRYAN CRANSTON. He's best known for his role as Walter White on AMC's "Breaking Bad." He also played the father on the sitcom "Malcolm in the Middle," and has made many guest appearances on television shows like "Seinfeld," and "The X-Files," which is where he first worked with Vince Gilligan, the creator of "Breaking Bad." CRANSTON is currently playing LBJ in the Broadway show "All the Way." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Bruce Levind; Review of the most recent episode of television show "The Good Wife"; Review of film "Noah." March 28, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461704].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian BRUCE LEVINE (leh-VEEN). He is the author of the new book The Fall of the House of Dixie: The Civil War and the Social Revolution that Transformed the South (Random House). LEVINE is the J.G. Randall Distinguished Professor of History at the University of Illinois. His previous book Confederate Emancipation received the Peter Seaborg Award for Civil War Scholarship and was named one of the ten best nonfiction books of 2006 by The Washington Post. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW - Original Broadcast Date: 1/08/2013) (2.) TV Critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the most recent episode of the CBS series "The Good Wife," in which a major character was surprisingly killed off. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Noah by director Darren Aronofsky and starring Russell Crowe.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TONY DOKOUPIIL talks to Terry about his memoir 'The Last Pirate.' It's about discovering that his father was one of the biggest marijuana smugglers on the Eastern Seaboard in the 1970s and 80s. (2.) Critic MILO MILES reviews the release of a Grateful Dead concert recording that's been unreleased for 30 years - A concert he attended.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHAEL LEWIS discusses his new book "Flash Boys: A Wall Street Revolt." (W.W. Norton & Company). It's about how High Frequency Trading has "rigged" the stock market in favor of large investment banks and at the expense of small investors. It's also about how a small group of Wall Street insiders have been trying to fight against this kind of trading. It was just reported by the Wall Street Journal that the FBI, SEC and others have open investigations into whether High Frequency Traders are engaging in insider trading. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Maureen Corrigan reviews the new novel of MAGGIE SHIPSTEAD'S new novel "Astonish Me." Corrigan says Shipstead is "Edith Wharton with a millennial generation edge."

Interview with David Sanger; Review of Jon Langford's album "Here Be Monsters." April 2, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462218].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter DAVID SANGER discusses China and the US and the escalating tensions between the two countries over the use of cyber-attacks. SANGER recently reported that, as revealed in documents leaked by Edward Snowden, the NSA has tried to infiltrate and plant spyware on the network of the Chinese company Huawei, a giant telecommunications company. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) KEN TUCKER reviews the new folk-rock album by Jon Langford of the punk band The Mekons, it's called Here Be Monsters

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOLIE KERR who writes the advice column Ask a Clean Person talks about how to clean blood stains, mildew, armpit stains, red wine spills and more. Kerr is the author of the new book My Boyfriend Barfed In My Handbag ... And Other Things You Can't Ask Martha. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI weighs in on the new Mike Judge comedy Silicon Valley and the season returns of Veep and Game of Thrones.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TODD PURDUM tells the story of the political and legislative battle to pass the Civil Rights Act. Purdum is the author of the new book An Idea Whose Time Has Come. (REBROADCAST from 1.20.14) (2.) Rock Critic, Ken Tucker reviews Carlene Carter's new album of songs made famous by The Carter Family.

Interview with Bart Ehrman; Obituary for Peter Matthiessen. April 7, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461820].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Religious studies professor BART EHRMAN examines the history and evolution of how Christians came to see Jesus as a divine being. His new book is How Jesus Became God. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember naturalist, explorer and writer PETER MATTHIESSEN. He died Saturday at the age of 86 from leukemia. (REBROADCAST from 4.6.89)

Description of show segment(s)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ROBERT LOPEZ & KRISTEN ANDERSON LOPEZ are the husband and wife writing team behind the Oscar winning song Let it Go from the film Frozen. The soundtrack from the film is the first movie soundtrack since 2003 to sit at the top of the charts. ROBERT also co-created the musicals The Book of Mormon and Avenue Q. And he is one of only a dozen people to win an Emmy, Grammy, Oscar and Tony Award. Kristen is the co-creator of the Drama Desk Award winning, Broadway-bound musical In Transit.

Interview with David O. Russell; Commentary on Stephen Colbert hosting "The Late Show"; Review of the first episode of "Mad Men's" seventh season. April 11, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461648].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director DAVID O. RUSSELL - his film American Hustle is now out on DVD. It was nominated for 10 Academy Awards, including Best Picture and Best Director. His two previous films "The Fighter," and "Silver Linings Playbook," were also both nominated for the same awards. "American Hustle" stars
Christian Bale, Amy Adams, Bradley Cooper, and Jennifer Lawrence. (REBROADCAST from 2.20.14)

(2.) DAVID BIANCULLI discusses CBS's announcement that Stephen Colbert will replace David Letterman as host of "The Late Show." (3.) DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the return of AMC's Mad Men which starts it's 7th and final season on Sunday.

---

Interview with Martin Blaser. April 14, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461651].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) DR. MARTIN BLASER (blay-zer) talks about how antibiotics, caesarian sections and sanitizers are destroying the balance of the human microbiome ? the massive collection of micro-organisms that live in and on our bodies. BLASER speculates that changes in the microbiome may be contributing to obesity, asthma and allergies. He directs the Human Microbiome Program at NYU and is the author of the new book Missing Microbes, How the Overuse of Antibiotics is Fueling our Modern Plagues. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Carlotta Gall; Review of the television show "Fargo." April 15, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461168].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British journalist CARLOTTA GALL. For over a decade she's covered Afghanistan and Pakistan for The New York Times. In her new book The Wrong Enemy she writes that "Pakistan, not Afghanistan, has been the true enemy." She writes of how Pakistan government officials, political parties, and militant groups provided refuge and aid to the Taliban and other Afghan insurgents, and the impact that had on the U.S. effort in Afghanistan. GALL now covers North Africa for The New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Fargo, the new FX series based on the 1996 Coen Brothers film of the same name.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRYAN BURROUGH. He is a correspondent for Vanity Fair and is the lead author of an article in the May edition of the magazine on Edward Snowden, The Snowden Saga: A Shadowland of Secrets and Light. BURROUGH's books include Barbarians at the Gate: The Fall of RJR Nabisco and Public Enemies: America's Greatest Crime Wave and the Birth of the FBI, 1933?34. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews a release of noir novels from the 1960s by Giorgio Scerbanenco, the father of Italian noir. The first is A Private Venus, which is part of the trilogy known as The Milano Quartet.

Interview with Mike Judge; Review of two graphic novels set in New York; Review of The Both's self-titled album. April 17, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461987].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and producer MIKE JUDGE. His new series Silicon Valley on HBO lampoons computer geek culture, and especially the culture of get-rich startups. JUDGE is also the creator of the popular animated series Beavis and Butt-head and King of the Hill. His films include Office Space and Idiocracy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two graphic novels set in New York: A Bintel Brief: Love and Longing in Old New York by Liana Finck and The Harlem Hellfighters by Max Brooks, illustrated by Caanan White. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Both the new album by the duo formed by veteran singer-songwriters Aimee Mann and Ted Leo. It's the name of their album and the duo.
Interview with Amy Schumer; Review of the films "Under the Skin" and "Only Lovers Left Alive."
April 18, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461989].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian AMY SCHUMER writes, directs and stars in Inside Amy Schumer on Comedy Central. It recently began season two. Prior to that she starred in the Comedy Central special Mostly Sex Stuff. She's also guest starred on Girls, Louie, Curb Your Enthusiasm and 30 Rock. She made her network debut in 2007 on NBC's Last Comic Standing. (REBROADCAST from 6.25.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new arty genre films Under the Skin and Jim Jarmusch's Only Lovers Left Alive.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic HARI KONDABOLU ("Hurry KAHN-da BOE-loo") was a writer and correspondent on W. Kamau Bell's FX political comedy series Totally Biased. He started performing standup while working as an immigrant rights organizer in Seattle. He was part of John Oliver's New York Standup Show from 2010. And he now has a new comedy album Waiting for 2042 referring to the year the census bureau projects whites will be in the minority in the U.S. KONDABOLU's parents are from India. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Jo Becker. April 22, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461400].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times reporter JO BECKER talks about a legal battle in the fight for marriage equality. Becker is the author of the new book Forcing the Spring. It focuses on the challenge to California's Proposition 8, which brought together former opponents Ted Olson and David Boies, who argued on behalf of gay marriage in state appeals and in the Supreme Court.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SETH MEYERS is now the host of Late Night, replacing Jimmy Fallon who moved on to the Tonight Show. MEYERS left Saturday Night Live in February after thirteen years on the show. He was head writer for SNL, and co-anchor of their Weekend Update. Previously he was with the traveling troupe Boom Chicago Theatre. And he performed with Chicago's Improv Olympic. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Make My Head Sing, the new album by singer-guitarist Jessica Lea Mayfield.

Interview with Tyler Hicks. April 24, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461383].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Photojournalist TYLER HICKS is senior photographer for The New York Times. He was just awarded the Pulitzer Prize for Breaking News Photography for his coverage of the massacre at the Westgate Mall in Nairobi, Kenya. HICKS covered the war in Afghanistan from the beginning. In 2011 while covering the revolution in Libya, he and three other journalists were taken captive, and released six days later. And in 2012 in Syria, HICKS was with journalist Anthony Shadid, of The Times when Shadid apparently died from an asthma attack. HICKS carried his body across the border into Turkey. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Marie Howe; Interview Richard Blanco; Poetry reading by Lloyd Schwarz; Review of the film "Locke." April 25, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461731].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Poet MARIE HOWE. Her poem What the Living Do was included in The Penguin collection of 20th Century poems (2011). The poem comes from her 1998 collection of poems of the same name which was in large part an elegy to her brother who died of AIDS. HOWE's most recent book of poems is The Kingdom of Ordinary Time (2009). Her first book of poems The Good Thief (1988) was selected by Margaret Atwood for the 1987 National Poetry Series. HOWE teaches at Sarah Lawrence College. She is New York State Poet Laureate from 2012-2014. (REBROADCAST from 10.20.11) (2.) Poet RICHARD BLANCO. He was selected to write and read his poem One Today at President Obama's second inauguration. BLANCO immigrated to the U.S. with his family from Cuba when he was a baby. He is the fifth inaugural poet, and the youngest, as well as the first Latino and the first openly gay writer chosen. BLANCO's latest collection of poems is Looking for the Gulf Motel. (REBROADCAST from 2.18.13) (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reads a poem about a friend he's lost contact with. (REBROADCAST from 3.12.14). (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new British film Locke.

---

Interview with Alan Cumming. April 28, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461734].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor ALAN CUMMING. He's starring as the emcee in the new Roundabout Theatre Company revival of Cabaret (in New York City). It's his third time in the role - he won a Tony in the 1998 production. CUMMING also plays Eli Gold on the CBS show The Good Wife. CUMMING is from Scotland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

---

Interview with Dexter Filkins. April 29, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461190].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DEXTER FILKINS. He writes in the current edition of The New Yorker, about the upcoming parliamentary elections in Iraq, in which Prime Minister Nuri al-Maliki is seeking his third term. FILKINS recently returned to Iraq where he had been many times, covering the war. FILKINS' article is What We Left Behind: An increasingly authoritarian leader; a return of sectarian violence, and a nation worried for its future. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lyricist SHELDON HARNICK. This year marks the 50th anniversary of Fiddler on the Roof, the musical he collaborated on with Jerry Bock. HARNICK is also celebrating his 90th birthday. And a new double CD Hidden Treasures: 1949-2013 collects Harnick songs that have for the most part never been heard. They include a song written for Fiddler on the Roof that was never used in the musical. HARNICK and BOCK also collaborated on Fiorello (which won a Pulitzer Prize), She Loves Me, and The Rothschilds. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Matthew Weiner; Review of "The Mickie Most Years & More". May 1, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885250].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writer and producer MATTHEW WEINER (WHY-ner). He created the AMC series Mad Men, which is now into its seventh and final season. The show has won consecutive Golden Globes, and Outstanding Drama series Emmy awards. Set in 1960s New York, it's about the lives of Madison Avenue advertising execs. WEINER also wrote and produced for the HBO series The Sopranos, which garnered him both a Writer's Guild Award and an Emmy. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD looks back at the early years of the British invasion group the Animals. There's a new box set that collects their four classic albums.

Review of the film "Godzilla"; Interview with Steve Ryfle; Review of Billy Hart's "One Is The Other"; Obituary for Bob Hoskins; Review of the film "Ida". May 2, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461399].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The classic 1954 film Godzilla is 60 years old this year. A new digitally restored version of the film is being released. Our critic-at-large JOHN POWERS has an appreciation. (2.) We feature an interview with STEVE RYFLE who wrote the book Japan's Favorite Mon-Star: The Unauthorized Biography of The Big G'. RYFLE is a former reporter for the L.A. Times. (REBROADCAST from 5.26.04) (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews One is the Other the new CD by the Billy Hart Quartet, on the ECM label. (4.) We remember British actor BOB HOSKINS, who died Tuesday at the age of 71. He had pneumonia, and two years ago was diagnosed with Parkinson's disease. HOSKINS best known films include Mona Lisa, in which he played an ex-convict hired to act as a chauffeur and bodyguard for a high-priced call girl; and Who Framed Roger Rabbit, in which he shared the screen with life-size animated characters. (REBROADCAST from 6.22.88) (5.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Ida (pronounced "Eeda") by Polish-born director Pawel Pawlikowski.

Interview Todd Barry; Review of the album "Whokill" by tUnE-yArDs; Review of the book "Hotel Florida". May 5, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461397].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic TODD BARRY. His new online video, The Crowd Work Tour, follows him as he goes on stage without written jokes or notes, just interacting with the audience. It's produced by Louis CK and available thru Louis CK's site: https://buy.louisck.net/purchase/todd-barry-the-crowd-work-tour. BARRY will also appear in Louis CK's new season of Louie which begins May 5, and has appeared on The Flight of the Conchords. He has a few comedy albums as well, Super Crazy and From Heaven. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER REVIEWS Whokill the new album by the singer, songwriter, and multi-instrumentalist Tune-Yards. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Hotel Florida the biography of three couples who chronicled the Spanish Civil War, which took place from 1936-1939.

Interview with Sam Baker. May 5, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461510].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter, guitarist SAM BAKER. His fourth album is Say Grace. He's from Texas, and he writes about migrants, ditch diggers, a woman playing the slots at Reno and more. He was nearly killed in 1986 in Peru when the train he was riding exploded from a terrorist bomb, an event that profoundly affected him, and led him to begin writing songs. Rolling Stone called Say Grace one of the top 10 country albums of 2013. BAKER's other albums are Mercy, Cotton, and Pretty World. One reviewer writes of him "His songs are closely observed narratives of eccentric and marginalized people finding meaning in seemingly defeated lives--almost like Leonard Cohen's if Cohen had been a Baptist raised in West Texas." (Mark Eisen - The Daily Page). (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Colson Whitehead; Review of the new DVD box set of "Hill Street Blues". May 7, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461401].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author COLSON WHITEHEAD discusses his new book "The Noble Hustle" - it follows WHITEHEAD's entry into, and preparation for, the 2011 World Series of Poker. He was sent to the tournament to write about it for the magazine Grantland. WHITEHEAD has received a MacArthur fellowship, a PEN/Oakland Award, and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize and National Book Critics Circle Award. His previous book, the Zombie-novel "Zone One," was a New York Times bestseller. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES - CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) TV Critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new DVD box set of Hill Street Blues - the NBC police drama ran from 1981 to 1987. The box set is available from Shout Factory.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New Yorker cartoonist ROZ CHAST discusses her new memoir "Can't We Talk about Something More Pleasant?" It's about the final years of her parents' lives and the difficulty she had talking with them about end of life issues, and about how increasingly difficult and expensive it became to care for them. It's a graphic memoir, illustrated in a cartoon style. CHAST's illustrations have also appeared in Scientific American, the Harvard Business Review, Redbook, and Mother Jones. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF) (2.) Critic-at-Large JOHN POWERS reviews a new Criterion DVD and Blu-Ray release of the 1962 Italian film "Il Sorpasso."
Interview with Marc Maron; Review of God's pocket; Review of two television shows "Penny dreadful" and "Rosemary's baby". May 9, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461507].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Stand-up comic MARC MARON is host of the popular podcast "WTF with Marc Maron" (http://www.wtfpod.com/) in which he interviews his fellow comics and entertainers like Louis CK (also a friend), Conan O'Brien, Hank Azaria, Amy Poehler and others. He does the podcast from his garage attached to his home where he takes in feral cats. It was awarded the best comedy podcast by Comedy Central in 2012. His semi-autographical comedy show on IFC, "MARON," about a comic with a popular podcast, just began its second season. And his memoir, "Attempting Normal" was just released in paperback. He's been a standup comic for twenty years, and uses his relationships, his dysfunctions and addiction problems as fodder for his comedy. Original broadcast date: 4/29/2013 (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews "God's Pocket," the directing debut of John Slattery, who plays Roger Sterling on AMC's Mad Men. "God's Pocket" stars Phillip Seymour Hoffman in one of his final roles. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new television shows: Showtime's "Penny Dreadful," starring Timothy Dalton and NBC's mini-series remake of "Rosemary's Baby," starring Zoe Saldana.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Documentary film maker MICHAEL KIRK. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Former NSA analysts BILL BINNEY & KIRK WIEBE. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)
Interview with Dr. Barron Lerner; Review of Ray LaMontagne's new album "Supernova." May 13, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461396].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bioethicist and internist, Dr. Barron Lerner talks about his new memoir, The Good Doctor - A Father, a Son, and the Evolution of Medical Ethics. Lerner's father also was a doctor and came up in an era before advanced medical directives--when doctors often made end of life decisions without consulting the patient or family. The book compares the medical ethics and practices of the two generations. (2.) Rock Critic Ken Tucker reviews Supernova, the new album from Ray LaMontagne. It was produced by Dan Auerbach from The Black Keys.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist Glenn Greenwald talks about his new book called No Place to Hide: Edward Snowden, the NSA and the U.S. Surveillance State. Greenwald was the first journalist Edward Snowden contacted when he was ready to leak the classified documents he'd stolen from the NSA. Greenwald's book tells the story of how he traveled to Hong Kong in May of 2013 to meet Snowden, explains the journalistic decisions he's made since then, and analyzes what some of the leaked documents reveal.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHAEL MCFaul. In February he stepped down as the U.S. Ambassador to Russia after serving for two years. He is considered the architect of Obama's Russia policy. McFaul will talk about the crisis in Ukraine and his own interactions with the Putin government.
Interview with Mike Piazza; Review of Miles Davis' new 4 CD set "Miles at The Fillmore May 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461647].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league catcher MIKE PIAZZA. His memoir Long Shot (written with Lonnie Wheeler) is out in paperback. PIAZZA spent 16 years in the big leagues, beginning with the Dodgers, and went on to play with the Padres, the A's, the Marlins, and finally the Mets. He's considered one of the best hitting catchers in the game. Though his start with the Dodgers was less promising. He was drafted in 1988 in the 62nd round, and Tommy Lasorda, the manager of the team was a childhood friend of PIAZZA's father, stoking rumors of favoritism. PIAZZA went on to be selected for the All-star team twelve times. Many fans will remember his feud with pitcher Roger Clemens who hit him in the head with a fastball during the 2000 season. PIAZZA suffered a concussion. Later during the World Series that year, the bat he was using shattered on a pitch by Clemens. The barrel and a sharp edge of the broken bat flew toward Clemens on the mound. Clemens caught the barrel and in an apparent reflex, threw the barrel across the the first base line towards the Yankees' dugout and just past Piazza who was running down to first base. Words were spoken between the two, and the two dugouts emptied for a fight, but no punches were thrown. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) Originally aired 3.7.13 (2.) Jazz Critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new 4-CD set of Miles Davis recordings called Miles at the Fillmore Miles Davis 1970: The Bootleg Series Vol. 3 (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Godzilla film.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian LOUIS C.K. (lou-EE-sea-kay) talks about the 4th season of his FX series Louie. Louis C.K. created, writes, directs and stars in the series as a comic named Louie, who like Louis C.K., is a divorced father of 2 young girls, and shares custody with their mother. Louis C.K. had prominent roles in two films last year, Woody Allen's Blue Jasmine and David O. Russell's American Hustle. This year he hosted Saturday Night Live for the second time.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British novelist EDWARD ST. AUBYN. He's just been awarded the 2014 Wodehouse prize for comic fiction for his book Lost for Words, a satire of literary awards. AUBYN is also the author of a series of semi-autobiographical novels featuring Patrick Melrose, a young man raised in a monstrous aristocratic family, with an abusive Father and alcoholic Mother. One reviewer writes of these books, "The striking gap between, on the one hand, the elegant polish of the narration, the silver rustle of these exquisite sentences, the poised narrowness of the social satire and, on the other hand, the screaming pain of the family violence inflicted on Patrick makes these books some of the strangest of contemporary novels." (James Wood, in The New Yorker). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews The Maya Rudolph Show which premiered on NBC last night, a variety show, and he looks back at the old-school TV variety shows, and wonders who will be the right host to get it going again.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DANIEL SCHULMAN is the author of the new biography of the Koch family, which includes the billionaire brothers Charles and David Koch. It is Sons of Wichita: How the Koch Brothers Became America's Most Powerful and Private Dynasty. The brothers include the lesser known Frederick, the eldest and Bill, David's twin brother. The four have fought for control of Koch Industries, which began as an oil refining business by their father, who also co-founded the John Birch Society. SCHULMAN is senior editor at Mother Jones. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Lovers at the Chameleon Club, Paris 1932 by Francine Prose.
Interview with Jose Armenta; Obituary for Vincent Harding; Review of Nona Willis Aronowitz's novel "The essential Ellen Willis". May 22, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885420].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Marine dog handler JOSE ARMENTA. With his dog Zenit (ZEE-nit) he searched for IEDs in Afghanistan. During one mission ARMENTA was injured in an IED explosion and lost both legs above the knee. Zenit was unharmed and reassigned to another handler. While home and recovering from his injuries ARMENTA didn't feel right without his dog, and began the process to get Zenit back. Finally they were reunited. ARMENTA will tell his story. He is one of the military dog handlers featured in an upcoming edition of National Geographic magazine. (2.) We remember historian and Civil Rights activist VINCENT HARDING. He was an associate of Dr. King, and was the first director of the Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change in Atlanta. HARDING died Monday of an aneurysm. He was 82. (REBROADCAST from 1.18.88) (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Essential Ellen Willis by her daughter Nona Willis Aronowitz

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Cinematographer GORDON WILLIS. He created the look of many of the most influential films of the 1970s: Klute, The Godfather I and II, The Parallax View, All the President's Men, Annie Hall, and Manhattan. He shot eight Woody Allen films, as well as the films Pennies from Heaven and Presumed Innocent. He died Sunday at the age of 82, from metastatic cancer. (REBROADCAST from 9.12.02) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews HBO's adaptation of Larry Kramer's 1985 play The Normal Heart about the early years of the AIDS crisis. Kramer wrote the screenplay adaptation. It airs on Sunday night. (3.) Singer DONOVAN LEITCH. He's known best by his first name alone. Donovan's best known for his hits of the psychedelic era, such as "Mellow Yellow," "Sunshine Superman" and "Catch the Wind." Next month he'll be inducted into the Songwriters Hall of Fame. Donovan grew up in Glasgow, and was a big part of the groovy San Francisco scene in the late 1960s. He dropped out of the music business for most of the 1990s, although he recorded an album in 1994 produced by Rick Rubin. Donovan has been attributed with coining the phrase Flower Power, but he says he owes it all to beat poet Allan Ginsberg. (REBROADCAST from 9.13.04) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film The Immigrant.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARK HARRIS is the author of the new book Five Came Back: A Story of Hollywood and the Second World War. It's about five established film directors who volunteered for service during World War II, and put their lives at risk documenting the war. The directors are John Huston, Frank Capra, John Ford, William Wyler, and George Stevens. The book is about how they were affected by the war, and the impact of their films on America. HARRIS is also the author of Pictures at a Revolution: Five Movies and the Birth of the New Hollywood. And he is a columnist for Entertainment Weekly and Grantland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews a new collection of unreleased recordings of Hank William's 1950 radio broadcasts called the Garden Spot Program (sponsored by the Naughton Farms mail-order nursery) and rare TV performances of William on the new DVD You Are There: Classic Early Films of Legendary Performers 1952-54.

Interview with Howard French; Commentary on the word 'capital'; Obituary for Herb Jeffries. May 27, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462078].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist HOWARD FRENCH. He's the author of the new book China's Second Continent: How a Million Migrants are Building a New Empire in Africa. FRENCH teaches at the Columbia School of Journalism, and is a longtime former foreign correspondent for The New York Times where he was bureau chief in China, Japan, and West and Central Africa. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the word "capital" (3.) We remember singer HERB JEFFRIES known as the Bronze Buckaroo. He appeared in early westerns. He sang with the Duke Ellington orchestra and with Earl Hines band.

Interview with John Powers; Obituary for Maya Angelo. May 28, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885435].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Our critic and large JOHN POWERS was just at the Cannes Film Festival. He talks with Terry about what he saw there. (2.) We remember poet and memoirist MAYA ANGELO.

Interview with Chris O'Dowd; Review of the exhibit, "Degenerate Art May 29, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462377].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Irish actor CHRIS O'DOWD. His role as the jilted cop opposite Kristen Wiig in Bridesmaids, made him famous in America. He's currently starring on Broadway with James Franco in Of Mice and Men. And he created, writes and stars in the very funny semi-autobiographical Irish TV series Moone Boy which is available on Hulu. O'DOWD also had a recurring role in HBO's Girls. And he co-stars in Family Tree the satirical series by Christopher Guest on HBO. (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the exhibit Degenerate Art: The Attack on Modern Art in Nazi Germany, 1937, at New York's Neue [NOY-eh] Galerie.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOAQUIN PHOENIX. He's currently starring in the film The Immigrant. His film Her, directed by Spike Jonze is now out on DVD. PHOENIX has received nominations for academy awards for the films Walk the Line, in which he played Johnny Cash, The Master, and for his role as a Roman emperor

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor DENZEL WASHINGTON and actress LATANYA RICHARDSON JACKSON talk about co-starring on Broadway in the play A Raisin in the Sun. Richardson Jackon, who is married to Samuel L. Jackson, is nominated for a Tony for her performance. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock Critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album Songs from John Fullbright.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New Yorker correspondent EVAN OSNOS talks about his years in China observing the contradictions in a society committed to economic growth, technical innovation and authoritarian rule. His new book is Age of Ambition. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Fresh Air Tech Contributor Alexis Madrigal considers the conference call and how the way we communicate with coworkers is changing. (3.) Music Critic Milo Miles reviews the new album from the New York band Golem.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NELL BERNSTEIN shares stories of kids locked up in America's juvenile detention facilities. Her new book is Burning Down the House: The End of Juvenile Prison. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock Critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album from Miranda Lambert.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former thoroughbred jockey DONNA BARTON BROTHERS talks about her life at the horse track, her work as an analyst for NBC - and about her mom, who got into fights with male jockeys when she got into racing. She is the author of the book Inside Track: Insider's Guide to Horse Racing. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the first DVD release of the 1936 film of the musical Show Boat.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV Critic DAVID BIANCULLI recaps season one of the Netflix series Orange is the New Black and introduces season 2 which is available for streaming today. (2.) An archived interview with JENJI KOHAN (jen-gee-co-han) who created Orange is The New Black. (interview by Terry Gross) (original air date 8.13.13) (3.) An archived interview with PIPER KERMAN whose memoir about being locked up inspired Orange is the New Black. (interview by Terry Gross) (original air date 8.12.13) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Fault in Our Stars.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SHEP GORDAN & MIKE MYERS talk about the new documentary Supermensch: The Legend of Shep Gordon. After a chance encounter with Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix Shep Gordan became the manager for Alice Cooper, Blondie, Pink Floyd and other acts. He's influenced countless stars including Mike Myers who directs the documentary. Myers is a alum of Saturday Night Live and the star of the Austin Powers films. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN WATERS talks about his new book 'Carsick.' It's about the cross country hitchhiking trip he took. Part of the book is fiction, in which he imagines best case scenarios?like being picked up by his favorite porn star; and worst case scenarios?like getting a ride with killer who has it in for cult film directors, like Waters. Then he tells the story of what really happened. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel The Rise and Fall of Great Powers by Tom Rachman.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Brothers DAVE & PHIL ALVIN. The two former members of The Blasters have reunited for their new album Common Ground: Dave Alvin & Phil Alvin Play & Sing the Songs of Big Bill Broonzy. Broonzy was a country blues musician and singer in the 1920s and 30s, and he was an early influence on the Alvins. They brought their guitars to the Fresh Air studio and will perform some of the songs from their new album. (THIS INTERVIEW THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Senator, First Lady, and Secretary of State HILLARY RODHAM CLINTON. She has a new memoir about her four years as Secretary of State. It's titled Hard Choices. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SCOTT ANDERSON. His new book Lawrence in Arabia: War, Deceit, Imperial Folly, and the Making of The Modern Middle East is now out in paperback. Lawrence is of course, T.E. Lawrence, the man immortalized in the David Lean film Lawrence of Arabia. ANDERSON is a veteran war correspondent who has reported from Lebanon, Israel, Egypt, Chechnya, Sudan and Bosnia. He is a frequent contributor to The New York Times Magazine and has written for Vanity Fair, Esquire, and Outside. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 8.19.13) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Obvious Child a comedy about an unplanned pregnancy by director Gillian Robespierre, which got made in part thru a Kickstarter campaign.

Interview with Noah Hawley and Allison Tolman; Obituary for Jimmy Scott; Review of the talk show "The Graham Norton Show." June 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461816].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) From the new FX series Fargo, creator and writer NOAH HAWLEY, and actress ALLISON TOLMAN. The series is based on the popular Coen brothers film of the same name. TOLMAN plays deputy sheriff Molly Solverson, based on the Frances McDormand character. HAWLEY wrote for and produced the TV series Bones, and also created the series The Unusuals and My Generation. TOLMAN

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist JOSHUA FERRIS. His debut novel, Then We Came to the End, a satire set in an ad agency undergoing layoffs won the 2007 PEN/Hemingway Award, and was a national bestseller. FERRIS's new novel is To Rise Again at a Decent Hour, about a funny but depressive dentist who wishes he could have a faith but is only filled with doubt. FERRIS' work has appeared in The New Yorker, Granta, and Best American Short Stories. He's also the author of the novel The Unnamed. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Sunbathing Animal the third record by the band Parquet Courts.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) British writer GEOFF DYER is the author of a number of critically acclaimed novels and non-fiction books For his latest book he spent two weeks on the aircraft carrier, the USS George H.W. Bush in the Arabian gulf, arriving on the deck of the ship from a military plane, which was an experience in itself. His new book is Another Great Day at Sea: Life aboard the USS George H.W. Bush. Poet Billy Collins says Dyer does what he does best in the new book: "insert himself into an exotic and demanding environment (sometimes, his own flat, but here, the violent wonders of an aircraft carrier) and file a report that mixes empathetic appreciation with dips into brilliant comic deflation." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

(THE INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Tech contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL tells us about the latest in "digital medicine", in which a pill embedded with electronic components will allow your body's vital signs and responses to be tracked on a computer. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two albums from the 1980s of free-funk music by drummer Ronald Shannon Jackson and his Decoding Society, which are available as downloads: Man Dance, and Barbeque Dog.

---

Interview with John Oliver; Obituary for Horace Silver. June 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503715].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British comic and actor JOHN OLIVER. He's a former correspondent for The Daily Show, and was fill-in host for Jon Stewart last summer. OLIVER now has his own political satire show on HBO, Last Week Tonight, on Sunday nights at 9 PM. (THE INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Famed jazz pianist Horace Silver died yesterday. He spoke with Terry Gross in 1984.

---

Interview with David Gilbert; Appreciation of Horace Silver; Review of films "Jersey Boys," and "Venus in Fur"; Interview with Carole King. June 20, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972884049].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist DAVID GILBERT. His novel & Sons features an aging reclusive writer like J.D. Salinger whose most famous book is beloved by teenage readers. It is now out in paperback. A Booklist review describes & Sons as "intricately configured, shrewdly funny, and acidly critical." GILBERT's first novel is The Normals; he's also got a collection of short stories, Remote Feed. His short stories have appeared in The New Yorker, Harper's, GQ, and Bomb. (REBROADCAST from 7.23.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD has an appreciation of jazz pianist, bandleader and composer Horace Silver who died Wednesday at the age of 85. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Jersey Boys and Venus in Fur. (4.) An excerpt from Fresh Air's 2012 interview with CAROLE KING talking about her songwriting partner and former husband Gerry Goffin. Goffin died yesterday. (REBROADCAST from 4.11.12)

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STANLEY NELSON, the director of the new documentary Freedom Summer and CHARLES COBB, who helped organize the Freedom Summer event 50 years ago. Freedom Summer organized hundreds of mostly-white student volunteers from colleges across the country to register African American voters in Mississippi. Freedom Summer premieres on the PBS show American Experience on June 24th. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember Middle East expert and commentator FOUAD AJAMAI (foo-ODD ah-JAA-me). He died Sunday at 68 of cancer. He became well known after 9/11 for his vocal support of the invasion of Iraq. (Original Broadcast date 7/25/88)

---

Interview with Mary Gauthier. June 24, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461650].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Singer Songwriter MARY GAUTHIER (go-SHAY) discusses her new album "Trouble & Love." Her songs have been recorded by Jimmy Buffett, Tim McGraw, Blake Shelton and others - she was awarded "New Artist of the Year" in 2005 by the Americana Music Association. Her 2010 album "The Foundling," was named a best album of the year the LA Times. GAUTHIER brought her guitar in studio and performs songs as well. (INTERVIEW THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New Yorker reporter DEXTER FILKINS discusses Iraq and the extremist Sunni Islamist group ISIS that has taken control of a portion of the country. FILKINS is known for his coverage of the Iraq War for the New York Times, and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in 2002 for his reports from Afghanistan. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director and writer of the new film "Obvious Child," GILLIAN ROBESPIERRE ("GILL-ee-ann") and that film's star JENNY SLATE. SLATE plays Donna, a 27-year-old standup comic who gets pregnant after a night of casual sex and decides to get an abortion. ROBESPIERRE wanted to portray an empowered, funny, female lead character who decides to have a "safe, regrets-free, shame-free abortion." SLATE was also a cast-member on Saturday Night Live, and appears on "Bob's Burgers," "Kroll Show," and "Parks and Recreation." (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews "Ultraviolence" - the new album by "pop star" Lana Del Rey. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews "The Most Dangerous Book," by Kevin Birmingham - it tells the story of the censorship battles over James Joyce’s novel Ulysses.

Obituary for Eli Wallach; Interview with Tom Perotta; Review of films "Transformers June 27, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462221].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember ELI WALLACH (WALL-ack), the actor known for his roles in "The Magnificent Seven," "The Good, The Bad and The Ugly," and "The Misfits," died Tuesday at age 98. He had a prolific career lasting over 60 years and appeared on film, television and theater. (Original Broadcast date: 11/13/90) (2.) Novelist TOM PEROTTA. His novel The Leftovers, is about the people left behind after many others have instantly disappeared from a town, in what may or may not be the Rapture. The Novel has been adapted into an HBO series of the same name, which premieres Sunday. His previous novels Election and Little Children were both adapted to film. (original broadcast date 9/25/11) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews two new films: Michael Bay's "Transformers: Age of Extinction," and "Snowpiercer," by South Korean director Bong Joon-ho.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and comedian JOEL McHALE. McHALE hosts "The Soup," on the cable channel E!, and starred on NBC's "Community" for five seasons. McHALE appears in the new horror film "Deliver Us from Evil," which stars Eric Bana. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Paul Greenberg; Commentary on artificial intelligence. July 1, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461825].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer PAUL GREENBERG. He is the author of the new book American Catch: the Fight for our Local Seafood, where he writes about the fish we import and export. He writes that Alaska alone could supply enough fish for the U.S., but much of that fish is exported; and more than 85% of the fish we eat is imported. He'll discuss the implications for our health and the health of our economy and oceans. GREENBERG is also author of the bestseller Four Fish: The Future of the Last Wild Food, which was also a James Beard Award winner. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers computers, artificial intelligence, and the new field of "affective computing" aimed at getting machines to detect and express emotions.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ADAM LIPTAK is Supreme Court correspondent for the New York Times. He'll discuss the court's most recent session that just wrapped up, and the decisions made. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Friendship the new semi-autobiographical novel by Emily Gould, who made a name for herself as confessional blogger in her own Emily Magazine, and then was a reporter and editor for Gawker. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Heal the new album by Philadelphia based songwriter and musician Timothy Showalter who records under the name Strand of Oaks.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film maker STEVE JAMES and CHAZ EBERT, president of Ebert Productions. Chaz is the widow of film critic Roger Ebert who died last year after a decade long battle against cancer. JAMES and EBERT have collaborated on the new documentary Life Itself, based on Roger Ebert's best-selling memoir. They began filming him four months before his death. JAMES is best known for his 1994 documentary Hoop Dreams about two African-American high school students pursing their dream of becoming a professional basketball players. EBERT was one of the film's champions. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Begin Again, the new film by director John Carney, starring Keira Knightly and Mark Ruffalo. His previous movie is Once.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Brothers DAVE & PHIL ALVIN. The two former members of The Blasters have reunited for their new album Common Ground: Dave Alvin & Phil Alvin Play & Sing the Songs of Big Bill Broonzy. Broonzy was a country blues musician and singer in the 1920s and 30s, and he was an early influence on the Alvins. They brought their guitars to the Fresh Air studio and will perform some of the songs from their new album. (Original broadcast date: 6/11/2014)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember film director PAUL MAZURSKY who died June 30 at the age of 84. The cause of pulmonary cardiac arrest. His films include Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice, An Unmarried Woman, Harry and Tonto, Down and Out in Beverly Hills, Enemies, a Love Story, and Moscow on the Hudson. MAZURSKY wrote the memoir has written the new memoir Show Me the Magic: My Adventures in Life and Hollywood. (REBROADCAST FROM 2.18.91) (2.) We also remember MESHACH (ME-shack) TAYLOR who died June 29th at the age of 67. He had had colorectal cancer. He's best known for playing Anthony Bouvier on the T-V series Designing Women. He also played the flamboyant window dresser Hollywood Montrose in the 1987 film Mannequin. Recently TAYLOR appeared in a few episodes of Criminal Minds. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Wish The Children Would Come on Home: the Music of Wayne Horvitz by the brass quartet The Westerlies.
Interview with Brian Krebs; Review of the film "Violette." July 8, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461518].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRIAN KREBS is an expert on cyber crime and cyber security. He is a former Washington Post reporter and he writes the blog Krebsonsecurity. Because he has infiltrated cybercrime networks he has become a target for them. He broke the stories about the credit card breaches at Target and Nieman Marcus. (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new French film Violette, a fictionalized portrait of the trailblazing French novelist Violette Leduc. He says it's "strangely gripping."

Interview Laurence Packer; Review of the television shows "Extant" and "The Strain"; Review of Jim Lauderdale's new album "I'm a Song." July 9, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461897].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Biologist LAURENCE PACKER is a Melittologist (someone who studies wild bees) at York University in Toronto. He is the author of the book Keeping the Bees: Why All Bees are at Risk and What We Can Do to Save Them. A new edition of the book has been released. PACKER also heads the Packer Lab at York University. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new sci-fi shows premiering this week: Extant on CBS starring Halle Berry, and The Strain on FX co-created by film director Guillermo del Toro. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews I'm A Song the new album by Jim Lauderdale.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director RICHARD LINKLATER (link-LATER) discusses his new film "Boyhood." It's a coming of age story that LINKLATER shot over 12 years so that the characters and actors would actually age over the course of the film. It stars Ethan Hawke and Patricia Arquette as parents, and Ellar Coltrane and LINKLATER's daughter Lorelei as their children. LINKLATER's other films include "Slacker,"

Description of show segment(s)

1.) We remember soul singer BOBBY WOMACK, who died two weeks ago at age 70. He was discovered by Sam Cooke, who first recorded him. Womack later married Cooke's widow. Bobby Womack's hits included "Lookin' for a Love," which was covered by the J Geils Band, and "It's all Over Now," which the was covered by the Rolling Stones and became first international hit. (Original Broadcast date: 11/24/99) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews "Boyhood," the new film by Richard Linklater who shot the film over the course of 12 years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BETH MACY discusses her new book Factory Man: How One Furniture Maker Battled Offshoring, Stayed Local - and Helped Save an American Town. It's about how the Bassett Furniture Company, and the greater American furniture industry, collapsed as a result of competition with Chinese manufacturers, who produced cheaper, government subsidized products. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Mockingbird Next Door, the new book about Harper Lee, the reclusive writer of To Kill a Mockingbird, by Chicago Tribune reporter Marja Mills who got unique access to Lee and her sister. (3.) We remember South African Nobel prize-winning writer NADINE GORDIMER. She died Sunday at the age of 90. She was one of that country's best-known artists and one of the most vocal and effective opponents of apartheid. Gordimer's novels included A Sport of Nature,
July's People, Burger's Daughter and The Conservationist. Several of her books were banned under apartheid. GORDIMER was also a leading member of the African National Congress. (REBROADCAST from 5.24.89)

Interview with Angela Ricketts, Review of Cowboy Jack Clement's album "For Once and For All." July 15, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461362].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ANGELA RICKETTS is the author of No Man's War: Irreverent Confessions of an Infantry Wife. She's a former army brat who grew up to become an army wife. She and her husband have been married 22 years and have three children. Her husband, now a Colonel in Homeland Defense, did eight deployments, four each, in Iraq and Afghanistan. RICKETTS and her husband calculate that out of 22 years of marriage, he's been deployed for about six years of those. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews For Once and For All the last album by the late Cowboy Jack Clement, a prolific producer, songwriter and arranger. It's produced by T Bone Burnett.

Interview with Alex Perry; Review of a box set of Mahler recordings conducted by Otto Klemperer. July 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461789].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ALEX PERRY is contributing editor at Newsweek. He's written the magazine's cover story about the Boko Haram Islamist militants in Nigeria, the group that kidnapped 260 school girls in April. And he is the author of the new e-book The Hunt for Boko Haram, available thru Amazon. PERRY is former African bureau chief for Time. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a newly reissued box of Mahler recordings conducted by Otto Klemperer (on the EMI label).
Interview with Laura Erickson Schroth, Jennifer Finlay Boylan and Aiden Key. July 17, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461240].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We have three guests today: Editor of the new resource guide Trans Bodies Trans Selves, LAURA ERICKSON SCHROTH. She is currently at Columbia University Medical Center, where she has a fellowship in Public Psychiatry and LGBT Health. She's also a founding member of the Gender and Family Network of New York City. JENNIFER FINLAY BOYLAN is a male to female transsexual who was a professor of English at Colby College for many years and is now a writer in residence at Barnard College. She wrote the introduction to the new book. Her latest book is the memoir Stuck in the Middle with You: Parenthood in Three Genders. AIDEN KEY is a male to female transsexual, and is the founder of the family education and support organization Gender Diversity, and cofounded Seattle's Transgender Film Festival. He wrote the chapter about gender non-conforming children.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember jazz bassist CHARLIE HADEN who died July 11th at the age of 76. He grew up in music: his family sang country music on the radio and at the Grand Ole Opry. He sang from the age of 2 until 15. He took up bass as a teen and became an original member of Ornette Coleman's groundbreaking Quartet which revolutionized jazz and engendered controversy in and out of the jazz community. He later played in Keith Jarrett's trio and quartet. HADEN debuted as a leader with his Liberation Music Orchestra, later founded his Quartet West, playing the music of the 1940s. In between he played with all names of musicians: Hank Jones, Kenny Baron, Pat Metheny, Chet Baker and Billy Higgins. Late in his career he began singing again, and recorded his singing on a number of CDs. (INTERVIEW REBROADCASTS from 1983, 1992, 1996, 1999 and 2008). (INTERVIEWS CONTINUE THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and film maker CHRIS TOMLINSON is author of the new book Tomlinson Hill: Sons of Slaves, Sons of Shareholders. Tomlinson's great great grandfather owned slaves in Texas, and TOMLINSON wanted to find out about his family's history and what happened to those slaves, some of whom kept the name Tomlinson when they were freed. We also hear from one of the descendants of those slaves, LA VAR TOMLINSON. CHRIS TOMLINSON is also the producer of the documentary: Tomlinson Hill: Are We Equal Yet? and he is a columnist for the Houston Chronicle. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (LA VAR TOMLINSON won't join the interview until the second half of the show)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ARTHUR ALLEN has written the new book The Fantastic Laboratory of Doctor Weigl: How Two Brave Scientists Battled Typhus and Sabotaged the Nazis. It's about two immunologists in Poland, who were doing groundbreaking research on a typhus vaccine before the war, one of them Jewish, were forced to produce vaccines for the German army. In the course of their work they managed to surreptitiously give effective vaccines to the Jewish ghettos, and send out weakened ineffective vaccines to the German army. The book is also about Weigl's fascinating intricate work with infected lice who carry typhus. ALLEN has written for the New York Times Magazine, the Washington Post, The Atlantic and Slate. He is also the author of Vaccine: The Controversial Story of Medicine's Greatest Lifesaver. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Stage legend ELAINE STRITCH. She died Thursday at the age of 89. In a career spanning more than 60 years, she received acclaim for her work on stage, as well as on television and in motion pictures. She starred in the original 1961 Broadway production of Noel Coward's musical Sail Away. In 1970 she co-starred in the Sondheim musical Company, where she sang what became one of her signature songs, The Ladies Who Lunch. More recently she played Alec Baldwin's mother on the NBC show 30 Rock. (REBROADCAST FROM 11.3.99)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Veterinarian and behaviorist VINT VIRGA. He diagnoses and treats behavior problems in pets as well as zoo animals and consults with zoos on creating habitats for animals that make them happier and less stressed. His book is The Soul of All Living Creatures. VIRGA has appeared on PBS Nature, and National Geographic Explore. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

(2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the 50th anniversary restoration of the Beatles' A Hard Day's Night - being released in theatres and available on DVD and Blu-ray (from Criterion Collection).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LETTA TAYLER, Human Rights Watch senior researcher for terrorism and counterterrorism. She recently returned from Iraq where she documented human rights violations and atrocities by both the Maliki government and ISIS. Prior to her work with Human Rights Watch she was a journalist at Newsday and was one of the first reporters to detail allegations of prisoner abuse at Abu Ghraib. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Panic in a Suitcase, the funny debut novel by Yelena Akhitorskaya about two decades in the life of a Russian e?migre? family in Brooklyn.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fashion consultant TIM GUNN. He's an emmy-award winning co-host and mentor on Lifetime's Project Runway, which has been on the air 12 seasons (Season 13 begins this week). GUNN has a another show Project Runway: Under the Gun. GUNN is also an actor and has appeared on the shows Ugly Betty, and How I Met Your Mother. He previously was on the faculty of Parsons, the New School for Design. (REBROADCAST FROM 2.5.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film A Most Wanted Man, adapted from a John le Carre novel, starring Philip Seymour Hoffman in his last role.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor GEORGE TAKEI is best known for his role as Enterprise helmsmen Hikaru Sulu on Star Trek. He has a new documentary To Be Takei about his life and career. When he was five years old he and his family were sent to a Japanese-American internment camp in Arkansas where they were for about four years. After keeping his identity as a gay person a secret for most of his life, he came out when he was 68, and has been an outspoken advocate for LGBT rights. TAKEI is also the announcer on The Howard Stern Show. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album "The Voyager," by Jenny Lewis. It's her first solo album in six years.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist BOB TIMBERG discusses his new memoir "Blue Eyed Boy." It describes how in 1967, as a Marine lieutenant in Vietnam, TIMBERG suffered a landmine explosion that left his body and face covered in third-degree burns. TIMBERG was disfigured, and afraid of people's reaction to seeing him, but he overcame those fears and became a prominent journalist. TIMBERG's other books include: "The Nightingale's Song," and "John McCain: An American Odyssey." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES - CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Ride Around Shining the debut novel by Chris Leslie-Hynan, set in the world of pro basketball.

Interview with Don Flemons; Commentary on Pinterest. July 30, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462011].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician and singer DOM FLEMONS is a founding member of the Carolina Chocolate Drops, a band which revived traditional black string band and jug band music of the 1920s and 30s. DOM has gone solo since leaving the band, his new album, Prospect Hill, which includes folk, ragtime, early jazz and rock and roll and fife-and-drum music, as well as a couple of originals. FLEMONS will be in the studio and will sing and play music from his new album. (2.) Tech contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL considers the web site and app Pinterest.

Interview with Rukmini Callimachi; Review of the television show "The Honorable Woman." July 31, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461798].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RUKMINI CALLIMACHI. She is a foreign correspondent for The New York Times and covers al-Qaeda and Islamic extremism. She recently wrote about al-Qaeda's use of kidnapping and ransom as a way to raise money for it's operations worldwide. She writes that the terrorist organization and its affiliates have taken in at least {dollar}125 million in revenue since 2008. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews The Honorable Woman, a new eight-part miniseries on the Sundance channel starring Maggie Gyllenhaal as a woman caught up in the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer JAMES BROWN. He's the subject of the new film Get On Up. Brown is considered one of the most influential musicians of the 20th century, blending gospel, soul and funk. Brown's many hits include Please, Please Please, Cold Sweat, Get Up Offa That Thing, MOther Popcorn, Papa's Got a Brand New Bag, Super Bad, and I Got You. His other nicknames include Soul Brother No. 1, The Hardest Working Man in Show Business and Mr. Dynamite. He's received a Lifetime Achievement Grammy Award and was one of the first musicians inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame.(Original airdate: 2/2/05)

(2.) Writer BRUCE TUCKER. He was the ghostwriter for James Brown's autobiography, The Godfather of Soul. Tucker is a contributing editor for The Black Music Research Journal. (REBROADCAST from 9.4.90)

(3.) Musician MACEO PARKER is best known as the saxophonist who played with James Brown. His on again off again association with Brown began in 1964. He's got several albums of his own, as well as collaborations with others. (Rebroadcast from 10/2/90)

(4.) Musician WILLIAM "BOOTSY" COLLINS. He got his start with James Brown, where he "defined the finger-popping funk bass style" (Rolling Stone). He went on to work with George Clinton as part of the Parliment-Funkadelic tribe, before forming Bootsy's Rubber Band. On stage, he created alter egos, including Bootzilla, Boot- Tron, and King of the Geepies. He's put out more than 30 albums. (REBROADCAST from 10/10/94)

(5.) JAMES BROWN (reprise). We hear once more from the soul legend.

(6.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Guardians of the Galaxy the new film based on a comic book super hero starring Chris Pratt who is best known for his role on the TV show Parks & Recreation.

Interview with Allison Janney; Commentary on audience participation in early broadcast shows; Review of Spoon's album, "They Want My Soul." August 4, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461365].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress ALLISON JANNEY ("JAN-ee"). She's best known for her role as White House Press secretary C.J. Cregg on the TV series The West Wing. She currently can be seen in a recurring role on the Showtime series Masters of Sex, and on the TV sitcom Mom. JANNEY's films include Mr. Sunshine, Big Night, Drop Dead Gorgeous, 10 Things I Hate About You. She starred on stage in 9 to 5: The Musical, and the revival of Arthur Miller's A View from the Bridge. She got her start on the soap opera Guiding Light. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI takes a look back at some early radio and TV shows that relied on audience participation to pick a winner, or direct the outcome of a show. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews They Want My Soul the new album by the band Spoon

Interview with Rick Perlstein; Review of L. C. Cooke's complete recordings; August 5, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461790].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian RICK PERLSTEIN (Pearl-STEEN). His new book An Invisible Bridge: The Fall of Nixon & The Rise of Reagan continues his chronicling of the rise of American conservatism. This books takes place between the years 1973 and 1976. PERLSTEIN's previous books examining the same subject are: Before the Storm: Barry Goldwater and the Unmaking of the American Consensus and Nixonland: The Rise of a President and the Fracturing of America. PERLSTEIN is former online columnist for The New Republic and Rolling Stone and former chief national correspondent for the Village Voice, his journalism and essays have appeared in Newsweek, The Nation, the New York Times, and many other publications. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews The Complete SAR Records Recordings of L.C. Cooke - the younger brother of soul star Sam Cooke, which has just been released for the first time. The recordings were supposed to become L.C.’s debut album in 1964 but its release was postponed and then Sam Cooke was killed.

Interview with Sabrina Tavernise; Review of album the "Rise & Fall of Paramount Records Volume 1." August 6, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461791].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SABRINA TAVERNISE (Tavern-E-see) is a former foreign correspondent for The New York Times. She now covers public health issues. She was recently in Ukraine where she was one of the first reporters on the site of the downed Malaysian Airline 17. She'll talk about that and about the conflict in Ukraine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD reviews a new 800 song collection of recordings by early blues and jazz performers reissued on a USB drive. The recordings were first released on the Paramount label in 1917, started by a furniture company in Wisconsin which wanted to supply recordings for their new victrolas. And this is just the first of a two part package.

Interview with Jason Hamacher; Interview with Dave Douglas and Uri Caine; Review of television show "The Knick." August 7, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461366].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Drummer JASON HAMACHER. He played in several punk bands in the Washington DC area, including the group Frodus. But his new album is a collection of ancient Sufi and Christian chants from Syria - which he recorded in Syria before the civil war. It's called Nawa: Ancient Sufi Invocations and Forgotten Songs from Aleppo, and is the first in a series of recordings he brought back from Syria. (2.) Jazz trumpeter DAVE DOUGLAS and pianist URI "Ur" as in urgent CAINÉ. The two have collaborated on Present Joys an album of duets of music from the sacred harp songbook, a collection of songs notated for congregations and other gatherings of people who don't read music. This tradition, also known as a shape note singing, dates back to the early 1800's. The album also includes DOUGLAS' compositions inspired by this music. This album grew out of DOUGLAS' previous album Be Still, a collection of hymns, folksongs, and ballads. URI CAINÉ's latest new solo album is Callithump. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI The Knick, the new Cinemax cable series about a hospital in New York City at the start of the 20th century. It stars Clive Owen and the executive producer is Steven Soderbergh.

Interview with Jonathan Lethem; Review of album "Jaki Byard August 8, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462074].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JONATHAN LETHEM (LEE-thim). His novel Dissident Gardens (now out in paperback) and is loosely based on his life growing up with lefty radical parents. He is also the author of the semi-autobiographical novel, The Fortress of Solitude about a white kid growing up in an African-American and Latino neighborhood in New York. His novel, Motherless Brooklyn won the National Book Critics Circle Award for Fiction. LETHEM is a recipient of the MacArthur Fellowship. (REBROADCAST from 9.9.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Jaki Byard: The Late Show (Live at the Keystone Korner, vol. 3) on the High Note label. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film Calvary staring Irish actor Brendan Gleason.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ERIC SCHLOSSER is the author of the bestsellers Fast Food Nation and Reefer Madness. His most recent book Command and Control: Nuclear Weapons, the Damascus Accident, and the Illusion of Safety is about how close we came time and again during the Cold War to accidental or unintended nuclear explosions. In one incident in 1962 an atomic bomb fell from an B52 into the yard of a home in South Carolina. Luckily the bomb was not fully armed. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Long in the Tooth, the new album by country singer Billy Joe Shaver, his first new studio album in six years.

Obituary for Robin Williams; Review of Julie Schumacher's novel 'Dear Committee Members'. August 12, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462079].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember actor and comic ROBIN WILLIAMS who died yesterday of apparent suicide. He was 63. WILLIAMS began his career as a stand-up comic but first got wide attention in the 1970s as Mork in the sitcom 'Mork & Mindy.' His films include 'The World According to Garp,' 'Good Morning Vietnam,' 'Mrs. Doubtfire,' 'Good Will Hunting,' (for which he won an Academy Award) 'Dead Poets Society' and the thrillers 'Insomnia' and 'One Hour Photo.' (REBROADCAST from 8.3.06) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Dear Committee Members, a new funny novel about academia by Julie Schumacher.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JONATHAN WEISMAN covers Congress for The New York Times. He'll discuss this year's group which he describes as the least productive and most divisive, by all measures. He'll discuss the impact of the Tea party wing, the House's lawsuit against the president, Speaker John Boehner, Eric Cantor's defeat, and who is left in Congress who will reach across the aisle. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI considers the Poirot series of PBS mysteries, which is in its final season.

Interview with Jack Ariel, Michael Begler & Stanley Burns; Review of Melissa Aldana's Melissa Aldana & Crash Trio, and Joshua Redman's Joshua Redman Trios Live; Interview with Gil Yosipovitch; Review of the film August 14, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462077].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writers JACK AMIEL & MICHAEL BEGLER for the new Cinemax series The Knick about a New York City hospital circa 1900. Also medical historian STANLEY BURNS who is a consultant for the show. He has a collection of more than a million historic photographs of early medicine, known as The Burns Archive. The director and executive producer of The Knick is Steven Soderbergh, and Clive Owen stars in it. The Knick premiered on August 8th. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 2 new albums by two young saxophonists: Melissa Aldana's Melissa Aldana & Crash Trio, and Joshua Redman's Joshua Redman Trios Live. (3.) DR. GIL YOSIPOVITCH is Chair of the Department of Dermatology at Temple University's School of Medicine. He is the co-author of the guide Living with Itch: A Patient's Guide (John Hopkins press) (4.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews A Trip to Italy the follow-up the 2010 film The Trip starring British comedian Steve Coogan and fellow comic Rob Bryden.
Interview with Lauren Bacall; Interview with Jamie Moyer. August 15, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461611].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress LAUREN BACALL. She died Tuesday at the age of 89. She made her screen debut at the age of 19 in the 1944 Howard Hawks film To Have and Have Not, opposite Humphrey Bogart, whom she later married. BACALL's other films include The Big Sleep, Key Largo, How to Marry a Millionaire, and Murder on the Orient Express. She received an honorary Academy Award in 2009, and Tonys for her roles in two Broadway musicals, Applause and Woman of the Year. BACALL won the National Book Award in 1978 for her autobiography By Myself. (REBROADCAST from 10.18.94) (2.) Former major league pitcher JAMIE MOYER. Last year he became the oldest pitcher ever to record a win in the majors, at the age of 49 years, 150 days. It was with the Colorado Rockies. His major league career started in 1986 with the Chicago Cubs who he was with for two years. He played ball the longest with the Seattle Mariners (1996-2006) and with the Philadelphia Phillies (2006-2010). MOYER is also well known for his charity work and The Moyer Foundation he and his wife founded to aid children in distress - children affected by addiction, disease or death. MOYER's new memoir is Just Tell Me I Can't: How Jamie Moyer Defeated the Radar Gun and Defied Time (written with writer Larry Platt). (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (REBROADCAST from 10.2.13)

Interview with Stephan Eirik Clark; Interview with Adam Rogers; Review of Soul and Swagger August 18, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461761].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist STEPHAN EIRIK CLARK is the author of the Sweetness #9. It's about a flavor chemist in the 1970s who tests a sugar substitute that gets approved and then becomes hugely popular. But he begins to have doubts about how good it is for everyone's health. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) ADAM ROGERS is the author of the new book Proof: The Science of Booze. ADAM ROGERS is articles editor at Wired, where his feature story 'The Angels' Share' won the 2011 AAAS Kavli Science Journalism Award. (3.) Music historian ED WARD reviews Soul and Swagger: The Complete "5" Royales: 1951-1967.
Interview with Sandeep Jauhar; Review of Teodor Currentzis' new recording of "The Marriage of Figaro"; Obituary for James Jeffords; August 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461762].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Physician SANDEEP JAUHAR {lcub}San-DEEP JOE-har{rcub} is the author of the new book Doctored: The Disillusionment of an American Physician. It's the second book in which he takes a hard look at the practice of medicine in this country. His first book was the memoir Intern, which chronicled his residency at a New York City teaching hospital and questioned the way doctors are trained. JAUHAR is a cardiologist and the director of the Heart Failure Program at Long Island Jewish Medical Center. He also writes regularly for The New York Times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new recording of Mozart's The Marriage of Figaro led by the young Greek conductor Teodor Currentzis [TAY-o-dore coo-RENT-ziss] (3.) We remember former U.S. Senator JAMES JEFFORDS of Vermont. He died Monday at the age of 80 from complications of pneumonia. In 2001 he shocked his fellow Republicans when he defected from the party and became an Independent. Stating that he could no longer reconcile his beliefs with the party, he switched allegiances. In doing so he deprived the Republicans of their trifecta: control of the White House, the Senate and the House of Representatives. (REBROADCAST from 12.5.01).

Interview with the creator, the cast and the writers of the television series, 'The Simpsons'. August 20, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461894].

Description of show segment(s)

TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI has an appreciation of the animated TV series The Simpsons, created by Matt Groening. The show is the longest-running scripted entertainment series in TV history, with 25 seasons. All 552 episodes of The Simpsons will be broadcast in the longest single-series marathon in TV history beginning Thursday on the FXX cable network. We'll also feature interviews with the creator, the cast, and the writers in the rest of the show. (2.) Actress JULIE KAVNER does the voices of Marge, Selma, and Patty (REBROADCAST from 2.3.94) (3.) Actor HANK AZARIA who does the voices of Moe, Apu, and Chief Wiggum. (REBROADCAST from 12.06.04) (4.) Actress NANCY CARTWRIGHT who does the voice of Bart. (REBROADCAST from 7.26.07) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW. (5.) Writers AL JEAN & MIKE REISS (REBROADCAST from

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) President & CEO of the online international news site GlobalPost PHIL BALBONI. He'll discuss the murder of one of their journalists, James Foley, who had been held by ISIS extremists in Syria, and was recently beheaded. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the reissue of Sunday Walk, the 1967 album recorded by French jazz violinist Jean-Luc Ponty. It's available as a download only by the German label MPS. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the latest book by Jules Feiffer, Kill My Mother: A Graphic Novel.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews Herzog: The Collection, a new box set of the films of German film director Werner Herzog from 1970-1999. It includes Aguirre, Wrath of God, Fitzcarraldo, Nosferatu the Vampire and Little Dieter Needs to Fly: Escape from Laos. (2.) Filmmaker WERNER HERZOG. At the time of this interview he had just made the documentary, Little Dieter Needs to Fly: Escape from Laos the true story of Dieter Dengler, the only U.S. pilot to have successfully escaped from a North Vietnamese-controlled prison. He'll also discuss his film Aguirre, Wrath of God, and working with Klaus Kinsky, and about growing up in Germany. (REBROADCAST from 10.27.98) (3.) Filmmaker WERNER HERZOG (REBROADCAST from 4.20.11) (4.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut album by 25 year-old guitarist-singer-songwriter Benjamin Booker, called Benjamin Booker.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SETH MEYERS will be hosting the Emmy Awards Show on Monday, Aug 25th. He is now the host of Late Night, replacing Jimmy Fallon who moved on to the Tonight Show. MEYERS left Saturday Night Live in February after thirteen years on the show. He was head writer for SNL, and co-anchor of their Weekend Update. Previously he was with the traveling troupe Boom Chicago Theatre. And he performed with Chicago's Improv Olympic. (REBROADCAST from 4.23.14) (2.) Actress ALLISON JANNEY ("JAN-ee"). She's best known for her role as White House Press secretary C.J. Cregg on the TV series The West Wing. She currently can be seen in a recurring role on the Showtime series Masters of Sex, and on the TV sitcom Mom. Last week she won an Emmy in the 'Guest Actress in a Drama Series' category at the for her role on Masters of Sex. (This was at the Creative Arts Emmys which were presented Aug 17). JANNEY's up for another Emmy tonight in the "Supporting Actress in a Comedy Series" category for her role as Bonnie in Mom,. JANNEY’s films include Mr. Sunshine, Big Night, Drop Dead Gorgeous, 10 Things I Hate About You. She starred on stage in 9 to 5: The Musical, and the revival of Arthur Miller's A View from the Bridge. She got her start on the soap opera Guiding Light.

Interview with Bryan Cranston; Review of Elvin Bishop's new album 'Can't Even Do Wrong Right'. August 26, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885382].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BRYAN CRANSTON. He's just received his fourth Emmy for his portrayal of Walter White on AMC's "Breaking Bad." The show ended it's run last Fall. CRANSTON also played the father on the sitcom "Malcolm in the Middle," and has made many guest appearances on televisions shows like "Seinfeld," and "The X-Files," which is where he first worked with Vince Gilligan, the creator of "Breaking Bad." CRANSTON recently won a Tony for his portrayal of LBJ in the show "All the Way." HBO is adapting it for broadcast. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 3.27.14) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album by Elvin Bishop, the blues-rock guy whose best known for his1975 hit is Fooled Around and Fell in Love. His new album is Can't Even Do Wrong Right.
Interview with Aaron Paul; Interview with Louis C.K.; Interview with Sarah Silverman. August 27, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461760].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor AARON PAUL. He's just won his third Emmy for a supporting role, for his portrayal of Jesse Pinkman, a meth dealer in the AMC TV series Breaking Bad. Paul was also in the HBO series Big Love. (REBROADCAST from 9.19.11) (2.) Comedian LOUIS C.K. (lou-EE-sea-kay) talks about the 4th season of his FX series Louie. He just won an Emmy award for comedy writing for the episode So Did the Fat Lady. Louis C.K. created, writes, directs and stars in the series as a comic named Louie, who like Louis C.K., is a divorced father of 2 young girls, and shares custody with their mother. Louis C.K. had prominent roles in two films last year, Woody Allen's Blue Jasmine and David O. Russell's American Hustle. This year he hosted Saturday Night Live for the second time. (3.) Comedian and actress SARAH SILVERMAN. She won an Emmy this week for writing her HBO variety special, Sarah Silverman: We Are Miracles. (REBROADCAST from 11.9.05)

Interview with Edie Falco; Interview with John Hamm. August 28, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885383].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress EDIE FALCO (E-dee). She plays Jackie Payton an ER nurse with an addiction to pills on the Showtime series Nurse Jackie. The show returned for its sixth season in April, and has been renewed for a seventh. Before that FALCO played Carmela, mob boss Tony Soprano's wife on HBO's The Sopranos. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor JOHN HAMM. He's been nominated for an Emmy multiple times but has never won for his starring role as Don Draper, the high-powered advertising executive in the award winning AMC drama Mad Men. HAMM has also had guest appearances in 30 Rock. Previously HAMM co-starred in the NBC series Providence and he had roles in What About Brian, and The Unit. (REBROADCAST from 9.22.08 & 9.16.10).
Interview with John Waters; Interview with Carl Hiaasen. August 29, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461564].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN WATERS talks about his new book Carsick. It’s about the cross- country hitchhiking trip he took. Part of the book is fiction, in which he imagines best case scenarios?like being picked up by his favorite porn star; and worst case scenarios?like getting a ride with killer who has it in for cult film directors, like Waters. Then he tells the story of what really happened. (REBROADCAST from 6.10.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Novelist, columnist and Florida native CARL HIASEN. He's been writing for The Miami Herald for over 35 years, first as a reporter and then as a columnist. He received the Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Society of Newspaper Columnists. He’s best known for his numerous satirical novels that lampoon Florida characters, especially the powerful and the corrupt. His latest is Bad Monkey, now out in paperback. He's also written a number of young adult books (Chomp, Scat, Flush and Hoot), and the golf confessional The Downhill Lie. HIASSEN has also written for Sports Illustrated, Playboy, Time, Life, Esquire and Gourmet .(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 6.13.13)

Interview with Dom Flemons; Review of Little Feat's new box set "Rad Gumbo"; September 1, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462264].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician and singer DOM FLEMONS (like "lemons") is a founding member of the Carolina Chocolate Drops, a band which revived traditional black string band and jug band music of the 1920s and 30s. DOM has gone solo since leaving the band, his new album, Prospect Hill, which includes folk, ragtime, early jazz and rock and roll and fife-and-drum music, as well as a couple of originals. FLEMONS will be in the studio and will sing and play music from his new album. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF - REBROADCAST from 7/30/2014) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells the story of the 70s rock band Little Feat - there's a new boxset called "Rad Gumbo" that collects their Warner Brothers recordings from 1971 to 1990
Interview with Dana Goldstein; Commentary on the internet and restaurant reservations; September 2, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462172].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Education reporter DANA GOLDSTEIN (GOLD-steen). She's the author of the new book, The Teacher Wars: A History of America's Most Embattled Profession. She also covers criminal justice and the school-to-prison pipeline for The Marshall Project, a new non-profit online news site dedicated to covering America's criminal justice system and the need for reform (www.themarshallproject.org). GOLDSTEIN has also written for Slate and The Atlantic. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Tech contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL considers the way we make restaurant reservations now, thanks to the internet.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Political consultant NEIL OXMAN. He is one of the founders of The Campaign Group which designs political ads for candidates nationwide. He's been principal media architect of two Presidential primary campaigns and has elected dozens of candidates to federal and statewide office. OXMAN is also a caddie on the Pro Golf Tour which he's been doing since 1972, most recently for Tom Watson. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album by the Canadian-based rock band, the New Pornographers. It's called Brill Bruisers. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews 10:04 the new novel by Ben Lerner. She says it's a "mind-blowing book."
Interview with Charlie Savage; Review of Mark Turner's new album "Lathe of Heaven"; Review of TV show "The Chair". September 4, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462126].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist CHARLIE SAVAGE is Washington correspondent for The New York Times. He'll discuss his recent visits to Gitmo. It's been over 12 years since the first detainees were brought there. He'll discuss the conditions there, and why it's been so difficult to close it. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Lathe of Heaven the new album by tenor saxophonist Mark Turner's quartet. It's on the ECM label. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews The Chair, the new 10-part documentary series about the making of a movie on the Starz! Cable network. It's a competition in which two very different new film makers compete for prize money while making a movie using the same script.

Obituary for Joan Rivers; September 5, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462178].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember comic JOAN RIVERS. She died Thursday, September 4th at the age of 81. We will listen back to portions of our three interviews from her. (REBROADCAST from 11.8.91; 6.9.2010 and 6.11.2012). (THESE INTERVIEWS CONTINUE INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Maureen Corrigan; Review of the television program "Starred Up"; September 6, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462177].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fresh air's book critic, MAUREEN CORRIGAN, talks about her new book: 'So We Read On.' It's about the novel Corrigan loves more than any other - the novel she and many other critics consider the greatest American novel, The Great Gatsby. In writing about Gatsby, Corrigan also writes about herself as a reader and teacher. MAUREEN CORRIGAN teaches literature at Georgetown University. (2.) Film Critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the British prison drama 'Starred Up.'

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BOB GAUDIO, who played with The Four Seasons, and wrote or co-wrote their hit songs 'Sherry,' 'Big Girls Don't Cry,' 'Walk Like a Man' and others. He's one of the people behind the Broadway musical Jersey Boys. A new anthology collects his songs as performed by the four seasons, Frankie Valli, and others.

Interview with Tim Arango; Review of the documentary series 'The Roosevelts September 10, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461426].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TIM ARANGO is the Baghdad Bureau chief for the New York Times. He's been reporting from Iraq for five years now. ARANGO will discuss the rise of ISIS in Iraq, and a story he just reported of an Iraqi soldier who is believed to be the only survivor of a massacre by ISIS of hundreds of Shiite soldiers. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Ken Burns new documentary series on PBS, The Roosevelts: An Intimate History, about Theodore, Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt. He considers it Burns' best documentary yet.
Interview with Terence Winter; Review of David Mitchell's new novel "The Bone Clocks".

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Creator and executive producer TERENCE WINTER, of HBO's Boardwalk Empire. The show just began it's fifth and final season. Boardwalk Empire is set in Atlantic City at the beginning of Prohibition. As the series ends it's 1931 and the end of prohibition is in sight. Before working on Boardwalk Empire, WINTER won a Emmy for his writing for The Sopranos. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Bone Clocks, a fantasy fiction novel by David Mitchell.

Interview A. Scott Berg; Obituary for Gerald Wilson; Review of the film "The Drop"; September 12, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461423].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Biographer A. SCOTT BERG. He wrote the 1999 Pulitzer Prize winning biography of Charles Lindbergh. His new biography (now out in paperback) of our 28th president, Woodrow Wilson, who was elected in 1912, an idealistic man whose rise to power was mostly thru academia. He was previously president of Princeton. Before Wilson was elected president of the U.S. he was briefly governor of New Jersey. As President he initially resisted taking American into World War I. BERG also wrote biographies of editor Max Perkins, and Hollywood mogul Samuel Goldwyn. (REBROADCAST from 9.10.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember trumpeter, composer, and arranger GERALD WILSON who died Monday at the age of 96. WILSON grew up in Mississippi and got his start playing with Jimmy Lunceford's band in New York City. He later worked with Benny Carter's band and formed his own. As a composer-arranger he worked for the Count Basie and Dizzy Gillespie bands. And he accompanied Billie Holiday on her tour of the South in 1949. He's arranged music for Ella Fitzgerald, Ray Charles, Sarah Vaughan, Bobby Darin, and Carmen McRae. (REBROADCAST FROM 9.5.06) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews The Drop, the last movie James Gandolfini acted in before he died.
Interview with Josh Thomas; Review of Tennis's new album "Ritual in Repeat"; Obituary for Tony Auth. September 15, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461580].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOSH THOMAS is the creator and star of the Australian comedy series 'Please Like Me.' It's now on the U.S. cable network Pivot TV. Thomas started out doing standup comedy. 'Please Like Me' is a semi-autobiographical show. Thomas is gay, although he didn't come out until he was in his 20's. (2.) Critic MILO MILES reviews the new album 'Ritual in Repeat' by the indie rock band Tennis. (3.) We remember Pulitzer Prize winning, editorial cartoonist TONY AUTH. He died yesterday at age 72.

Interview with Lawrence Wright. September 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461316].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and author LAWRENCE WRIGHT. His new book is called "Thirteen Days in September: Carter, Begin and Sadat at Camp David," and is about the 1978 Camp David Accords in which President Carter brokered a peace deal between Egypt and Israel. WRIGHT is also the author of "The Looming Tower: Al-Qaeda and the Road to 9/11," which won a Pulitzer prize, and "Going Clear: Scientology, Hollywood and the Prison of Belief." WRIGHT is a staff writer for The New Yorker magazine. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author and musician JOHN DARNIELLE (dar-NEEL). DARNIELLE is the frontman and founder of the band The Mountain Goats, which began as a solo recording project but has grown into a fulltime band. He's also a writer, and has written the new novel "Wolf in White Van." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)
Interview with Zak Ebrahim; Review of Pere Ubu's new album "Carnival of Souls"; Review of the television show "Madame Secretary". September 18, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461578].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ZAK EBRAHIM ("IH-bra-heem) is the author of the new memoir The Terrorists's Son: A Story of Choice. EBRAHIM was seven when his father Egyptian born El-Sayyid Nosair murdered the extremist rabbi Meir Kahane. Three years later while in prison, his father helped mastermind the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center. EBRAHIM's mother was an American Catholic who converted to Islam. She divorced EBRAHIM's father and the family then moved twenty times trying to escape the legacy of his father. EBRAHIM writes, the killing of Kahane, 'tipped us into a life of death threats and media harassment, nomadic living and constant poverty, a thousand 'fresh starts' that almost always led to something worse.' EBRAHIM is now an advocate for peace and nonviolence. He also told his story as part of a nine minute TED talk. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Carnival of Souls, the new album by the band Pere Ubu. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two drama series on CBS this Sunday night, the new series Madam Secretary starring Tea Leoni as the new Secretary of State, and the returning series The Good Wife starring Julianna Margulies as a lawyer who's asked to run for State's Attorney of Illinois.

Interview with James Tobin; Review of the film "Walk Among The Tombstones". September 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461577].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JAMES TOBIN is the author of the book The Man He Became: How FDR Defied Polio to Win the Presidency. (now out in paperback). TOBIN says it's a common misconception today that the public didn't know then about FDR's polio. But he writes in his new book that in fact they did. FDR was a rising star in American politics when he contracted polio at the age of 39. TOBIN shows how FDR rose to the Presidency, challenging himself physically, overcoming public perception of his disability, and even turning it into a political advantage. TOBIN is an associate professor of journalism at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. He is also the author of the Ernie Pyle's War, which won the National Book Critics Circle award. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST from 11.5.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews A Walk Among the Tombstones.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor RON PERLMAN. He's probably best known for his roles as Clay Morrow on "Sons of Anarchy" and in the Hellboy films. He also co-starred in the 1987 TV series "Beauty and the Beast." PERLMAN has a new memoir about growing up in New York City's Washington Heights: Easy Street (the Hard Way): A Memoir. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the new Fall 2014 Broadcast television season. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album, "All Rise," an homage to Fatt Waller, by pianist Jason Moran

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Director and screenwriter JOHN RIDLEY & actor and musician ANDRE BENJAMIN discuss their new film "Jimi: All is By My Side," a biopic about Jimi Hendrix. JOHN RIDLEY wrote the screen play, and this is his directorial debut. RIDLEY won an Academy Award for writing the screenplay of "12 Years a Slave," which also won Best Picture. ANDRE BENJAMIN is best known as half of the rap group Outkast. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews "The Paying Guests," the new period novel by Sarah Waters, set in post World War I England.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times columnist and CNN commentator CHARLES BLOW discusses his new memoir "Fire Shut Up in My Bones." BLOW grew up in an impoverished, rural Louisiana town and was sexually abused by an older, male cousin. The abuse left him confused, angry and questioning his sexual identity. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New Yorker writer DEXTER FILKINS talks about his recent reporting trip Iraqi Kurdistan, where he spoke with commanders of the Kurdish fighters, the peshermerga, who have pushed back ISIS from some towns. FILKINS also interviewed Iraqi soldiers who deserted when they saw ISIS coming. FILKINS' has a piece called 'The Fight of Their Lives' in the September 29, 2014 issue of the New Yorker.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JOHN BRADSHAW is an anthrozoologist who studies human-animal interaction and author of the new book Cat Sense: Cat Sense: How the New Feline Science Can Make You a Better Friend to Your Pet. BRADSHAW is also the author of Dog Sense. BRADSHAW is the Waltham Director of the Anthrozoology Institute at the University of Bristol and founder of the Anthrozoology Institute at the University of Southampton. He lives in England. (REBROADCAST from 9.5.13) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film 'Pride.' (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new Amazon series 'Transparent.' It stars Jeffrey Tambor.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LENA DUNHAM, the creator and star of the HBO series "Girls" talks about her new collection of personal essays called 'Not That Kind of Girl.' DUNHAM also wrote and directed the 2010 independent film "Tiny Furniture," which got her noticed by Judd Apatow, who is now the executive producer of "Girls." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Matt Bai. September 30, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461597].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MATT BAI ("BY") is the author of the new book about the Gary Hart scandal and its impact on American politics and the media: All The Truth is Out: The Week Politics Went Tabloid. In 1987, Democratic senator Gary Hart's campaign for president ended abruptly when news broke of his relationship with a young woman. Lawrence Wright says of the book, "A passionate and unsparing book about a turning point in Modern America." BAI is national political columnist for Yahoo News. He also spent many years as a political correspondent for the New York Times Magazine. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music singer, songwriter, MARTY STUART. He's been a part of country music for over 40 years, since he was 13 when he played mandolin in Lester Flatt's band. He went on to work with Johnny Cash, Bill Monroe and Carl Perkins. His new double album with his band the Superlatives combines secular and sacred music, Saturday Night/Sunday Morning. He brought his guitar to the studio and he'll play some of the songs from the new album.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist RYAN LIZZA is Washington Correspondent for The New Yorker. He's written a profile of Kentucky Senator Rand Paul in the latest issue of the magazine, and considers whether Paul can make his libertarian views mainstream enough to get the GOP's nomination for President. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Heigh Ho the new album by guitarist and singer Blake Mills.

Interview with Jeff Guinn; Review of the season four premiere of "Homeland"; Review of film "Gone Girl." October 3, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461566].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JEFF GUINN ("GWINN") is the author of a book about Charles Manson, the Manson family cult leader and killer. It's called Manson: The Life and Times of Charles Manson (now out in paper). GUINN is also the author of the books The Last Gunfight (the real story of the shoot out at OK corral) and Go Down Together (about Bonnie & Clyde) which was a finalist for the Edgar Award in 2010. GUINN is a former investigative reporter. (REBROADCAST from 9.18.13) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the season opener of Showtime's Homeland. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Gone Girl.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) WALTER ISSACSON is the author of the new book The Innovators: How a Group of Hackers, Geniuses, and Geeks Created the Digital Revolution. He is also the author of the bestselling biographies of Steve Jobs, Albert Einstein, and Benjamin Franklin. ISSACSON is president and CEO of The Aspen Interview with Jonathan Eig; Review of John Coltrane's new posthumous release "Offering October 7, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461515].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JONATHAN EIG tells the story of how the birth control pill was invented. EIG is the author of the new book The Birth of Pill: How Four Crusaders Reinvented Sex and Launched a Revolution. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a newly released recording of a John Coltrane concert from 1966, eight months before Coltrane died of cancer.

Interview with Caitlin Doughty; Commentary on the "Bakersfield Sound"; Commentary on the use of the words "red" and "blue" in politics. October 8, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461823].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Mortician CAITLIN DOUGHTY (DOH-dee, like) talks about her new memoir 'Smoke Gets in Your Eyes: And Other Lessons from the Crematory.' DOUGHTY is trying to reform how we handle the deaths of loved ones, and prepare for our own. She is the founder of The Order of the Good Death, a group that includes funeral industry professionals, which focuses on rituals we perform with our dead and how we bury or cremate them. (2.) Rock historian ED WARD discusses the history of the Bakersfield sound. There are recent releases from the Bear-Family record label called "The Other Side of Bakersfield, Vols 1 &2" (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG discusses the use of "Red" and "Blue" in political language.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and author JAKE HALPERN discusses his new book Bad Paper: Chasing Debt from Wall Street to the Underworld. It's about the underworld of debt collection and the people that buy your debt for pennies on the dollar, looking to make a profit. It's a practice that's largely unregulated, and the collectors have no relationship to the original lending companies. HALPERN profiles several buyers and collectors, including a former Wall Street banker and an ex-con who set up his own debt buying operation. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews two new albums by Prince: Art Official Age, and Plectrumelectrum, which features the backing band "3rdeyegirl."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist essayist and satirist GARY SHTEYNGART. He has a new memoir Little Failure. He and his family emigrated from the Soviet Union in 1979 when he was seven, after Jews were allowed to leave. SHTEYNGART is also the author of the very funny satirical novels The Russian Debutante's Handbook and Absurdistan. SHTEYNGART has also written for The New Yorker, Slate, Granta, The New York Times and Travel & Leisure. (original broadcast date: 1/7/14) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new Showtime series "The Affair" (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews "Whiplash." It received a grand jury prize at this year's Sundance Film Festival.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor NEIL PATRICK HARRIS discusses his new memoir "Choose Your Own Autobiography," (Oct 14, Crown Archetype). HARRIS was famous as a child as star of the sitcom Doogie Howser, M.D. His career had a resurgence with appearances in the Harold & Kumar films, a starring role in the sitcom "How I Met Your Mother," and a starring role in Joss Whedon's web series "Dr. Horrible's Sing-a-long Blog." HARRIS has also had a successful Broadway career - having hosted the Tony Awards 4 times, and winning a Tony this year for playing the title role in "Hedwig and the Angry Inch." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW Interview with James Risen; Review of new live recording 'Charlie Haden-Jim Hall'; October 14, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461440].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer-prize winning New York Times journalist JAMES RISEN. In 2005 he and co-reporter Eric Lichtblau broke the story about the warrantless domestic wire tape program during the Bush administration. The story garnered them a Pulitzer. RISEN now could face prison time for his refusal to name the source of a story he wrote about a secret CIA operation in Iran. RISEN has written a new book about the war on terror: Pay Any Price: Greed, Power, and Endless War. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 'Charlie Haden-Jim Hall,' a previously unreleased live recording from the 1990 Montreal International Jazz Festival. Charlie Haden died earlier this year. Jim Hall passed away in late 2013.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist and author HANNA ROSIN (Hahn-uh Rose-in) talks about 'Why Kids Sext.' It's the title and subject of her article in the November edition of The Atlantic. ROSIN is National Correspondent for The Atlantic, and author of the book "The End of Men". She also co-founded DoubleX, the women's site on Slate. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album "Queen of the Clouds," by Swedish pop singer Tove Lo. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new short story collection "The Assassination of Margaret Thatcher," by two-time Man Booker Prize winner Hilary Mantel.

Interview with Justin Simien; Interview with Peter Mendelsund. October 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461480].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Filmmaker JUSTIN SIMIEN (simee-in) discusses his new film "Dear White People." SIMIEN wrote and directed the film, his first, and won a special jury award for Breakthrough Talent at this year's Sundance Film Festival. "Dear White People," is about a group of African American students attending an Ivy League college and dealing with race issues. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Graphic designer and author PETER MENDELSUND discusses how creates book jacket art. MENDELSUND has designed the covers for many books including "The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo," as well as his own new books: "What We See When We Read," which is about how we visualize what we read and "Cover," which is a collection of his book cover art. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)
Interview with Chris Hadfield; Review of the film "Birdman." October 17, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461479].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Canadian astronaut, Commander CHRIS HADFIELD. While in the International Space Station, which he formerly commanded, he made a video of himself playing guitar and singing David Bowie's "Space Oddity." It became a YouTube sensation. His tweets and facebook posts also gained him thousands of followers. HADFIELD is now retired. He's been on three space flights and two space walks in his career. He's written the memoir, "An Astronaut's Guide to Life on Earth," and has a new collection of photographs of Earth, taken from the ISS, titled "You Are Here." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW - Original Broadcast Date: 10/30/2014) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film "Birdman," starring Michael Keaton and Edward Norton.

Interview with Bryan Stevenson; Review of Ex Hex's album "Rips." October 20, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461441].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BRYAN STEVENSON is the author of Just Mercy: A Story of Justice and Redemption. It's about his work as lawyer and co-founder of Equal Justice Initiative, a legal practice dedicated to defending the poor, the wrongly condemned, and women and children trapped in the farthest reaches of our criminal justice system. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Rips the debut album by the new trio Ex Hex, a group of women who are a throwback to bands like the Ramones.
Interview with Edward Norton; Review of new DVD releases of old television series; October 21, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461664].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor EDWARD NORTON. He's co-starring with Michel Keaton in the new film Birdman. His other films include Moonrise Kingdom, Fight Club, American History X, Everyone Says I Love You, and Primal Fear. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews some new DVD releases of old television series.

Interview with Gerard Russell; Obituary for Ben Bradlee; October 22, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/973825826].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former diplomat GERARD RUSSELL is the author of the new book Heirs to Forgotten Kingdoms: Journeys into the Disappearing Religions of the Middle East. RUSSELL writes about seven such religions including the Yazidis who have been under attack by ISIS. RUSSELL is a Senior Fellow with the New America Foundation's International Security Program as well as a Senior Associate of the Foreign Policy Centre in London. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember former Washington Post editor BEN BRADLEE, who died Tuesday at the age of 93. We'll listen back to an excerpt of our 10.9.95 interview with him.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JACK BISHOP & BRIDGET LANCASTER of America's Test Kitchen. BISHOP is the editorial director and LANCASTER is executive food editor. The two have contributed to a new Cooks Illustrated Meat Book. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Immortal Evening by Stanley Plumly.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANN PATCHETT is best known for her award winning and best-selling novels, State of Wonder and Bel Canto (which won the PEN/Faulkner Award, and was a finalist for the National Book Critics Circle award). PATCHETT's book This is the Story of a Happy Marriage is a collection of her essays written over the years for various publications like Atlantic, Vogue, Granta and Gourmet. It's now out in paperback. She's also the author of the memoir Truth & Beauty about her friendship with the late writer Lucy Grealy. PATCHETT also co-owns the independent book store Parnassus Books in Nashville. (REBROADCAST from 1.23.14) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Citizenfour the new authorized documentary about Edward J. Snowden by Laura Poitras.

Interview with Jill Lepore; October 27, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461315].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian JILL LEPORE is the author of the new book: The Secret History of Wonder Woman. It's about the creator of the Wonder Woman comic book character, William Moulton Marston. Marston was a feminist, psychologist, inventor of the lie detector, and a secret polygamist. LEPORE is a professor of American History at Harvard, and is also a staff writer at The New Yorker. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Amy Poehler; Commentary on musician Arthur Conley; October 28, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460635].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actress AMY POEHLER ('POLE-her'). The former Saturday Night Live cast member went on to star in the NBC sitcom Parks and Recreation which will begin it's final season next year. POEHLER has also hosted the Golden Globes with her friend and former colleague Tina Fey. She has a new memoir, Yes, Please. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us the story of Arthur Conley, a protege of Otis Redding who had a number of hits before disappearing.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NICHOLAS CONFESSORE is National Correspondent for The New York Times and he writes about the intersection of money, influence and power. He'll discuss the midterm elections coming up next week. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new book Deep Down Dark: The Untold Stories of 33 Men Buried in a Chilean Mine, and the Miracle That Set Them Free by the Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Hector Tobar.

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and director JILL SOLOWAY created the new Amazon series, Transparent which stars Jeffrey Tambor as a 70 year old who comes out as transgender - as a woman - to his family. SOLOWAY formerly was a staff writer for HBO's Six Feet Under, and an executive producer on United States of Tara. (THIS ALBUM CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 1989, the fifth album by Taylor Swift, and her first pure pop album.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Horror writer STEPHEN KING, the author of the bestsellers Carrie, Green Mile, The Shining, The Stand, Pet Semetary and many other novels, and short stories. His latest novel Joyland is set in an amusement park. (REBROADCAST from 5.28.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews two movie versions of the operetta The Merry Widow, available on DVD now. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Olive Kitteridge the miniseries on HBO based on the interrelated collection of stories by Elizabeth Strout.

Interview with Aasif Mandvi; Commentary on passwords and internet security; November 3, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461716].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and comic ASIF MANDVI (AH-sif MAHN-dee) is senior Middle East Affairs Correspondent for The Daily Show where he's often pretends to be reporting from war zones and hot spots in the Middle East. MANDVI has a new memoir, No Man's Land. MANDVI was born in India, raised in Britian, and moved to the U.S. with his family when he was a teenager. (2.) Tech contributor ALEXIS MADRIGAL considers the security passwords we use on the internet. He is a visiting scholar at Berkeley's Center for Science, Technology, Medicine and Society - And is the Silicon Valley Bureau Chief for the Fusion cable and digital network.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember TOM MAGLIOZZI of Tom and Ray, aka Click and Clack of Car Talk. He died today (Nov 3) due to complications from Alzheimer's disease. He was 77. First we'll talk with their longtime producer DOUG BERMAN (this is a new interview). And then we'll listen back to Terry's interview with Tom and Ray. (REBROADCAST from 4.4.01).

---

Interview with Eric Lichtblau; review of the film "Interstellar"; November 5, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461948].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning journalist ERIC LICHTBLAU ("LISHT-blau") is the of the new book The Nazis Next Door: How America Became a Safe Haven for Hitler's Men. It's about the thousands of ex-Nazis who were admitted to the U.S. after World War 2. Many of them were scientists, spies, or informants invited in by the CIA and FBI and used to fight the Cold War. U.S. officials then protected them from prosecution for war crimes. LICHTBLAU is a New York Times investigative reporter.

(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Interstellar the new science-fiction film directed by Christopher Nolan, and starring Matthew McConaughey.

---

Interview with Helene Cooper; November 6, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461670].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist HELENE COOPER is Pentagon correspondent for The New York Times. She was in Liberia last month covering the ebola epidemic. She was raised in Liberia and still has family there. Her family experienced the horrors of the 14 year old civil war that ended in 2003. Her great-great-great-great grandfather was one of the founders of Liberia. She is also the author of the bestselling memoir 'The House at Sugar Beach: In Search of a Lost African Childhood' published in 2009. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress ANJELICA HUSTON. Her movies include Prizzi's Honor, The Dead, Enemies: A Love Story, The Grifters, The Addams Family and The Royal Tenenbaums, as well as the TV show Smash. She won a Oscar for Best supporting actor in Prizzi's Honor in 1985 which was directed by her father John Huston. In her memoir A Story Lately Told: Coming of Age in Ireland, London and New York, (now out in paperback) she writes about her formative years growing up in Ireland and England. Her mother was a prima ballerina who quit dancing to marry and raise a family. HUSTON's parents divorced when she was a child. Before becoming an actress full time, HUSTON was a model. HUSTON's grandfather was actor Walter Huston. Her new book Watch Me is a follow up to her first memoir, and covers her relationship with Jack Nicholson, and her rise as an actress. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST from 11.19.13) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Way I'm Livin' the new album by Lee Ann Womack, her first in six years.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Accordionist WILL HOLSHouser (HOLES-houser) is in the studio to play some songs and demonstrate how the accordion works and the instrument's expressive variety. He has a debut CD Musette Explosion with his group Musette Explosion, which features French waltz and dance tunes. (Musette Explosion includes HOLHOUSER, guitarist Matt Munisteri, and Marcus Rojos on tuba). HOLSHOUSER has also played with his own trio and recently recorded with Regina Carter on her album Southern Comfort. He's also played with Dutch drummer Han Bennick. (Musette Explosion can be ordered at http://www.willholshouser.com). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Richard Ford's new short story collection Let Me Be Frank With You.
Interview with David Wood; Review of Oliver Lake's new album "What I Heard"; November 11, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461669].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DAVID WOOD is senior military correspondent for The Huffington Post. In 2012 his series of articles on severely wounded veterans of the Iraq and Afghanistan wars won the Pulitzer Prize. WOOD has written a three part series for The Huffington Post on moral injury. He writes that it's the signature wound of this generation of veterans. WOOD was raised as a pacifist and in 1968 completed two years of civilian service in lieu of military duty. He has been reporting on the military for over 30 years. He was imbedded with troops in Iraq and Afghanistan. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE 2ND HALF) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album What I Heard by Oliver Lake's Organ Quartet.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Pulitzer-prize winning novelist RICHARD FORD. Let Me Be Frank With You is his fourth book featuring the character Richard Bascombe, a character FORD created nearly 30 years ago. This new book finds Bascombe, 68, retired and dealing with the aftermath of the storm Sandy, an aging body, and his ex-wife with Parkinsons who is living in an assisted living facility. Our book critic Maureen Corrigan, described the book as profound and hilarious. FORD's previous Bascombe books are The Sportswriter, Independence Day (for which he won the Pulitzer Prize), and The Lay of the Land. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD considers Bob Dylan's infamous Basement Tapes, on the occasion of the entire archive being released.
Interview with Jon Stewart; November 13, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461525].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) The Daily Show's JOHN STEWART. He wrote and directed the new film Rosewater, about Iranian-Canadian journalist Maziar Bahari who was imprisoned in Iran in 2009 while covering the Iranian elections. He was accused of being a spy. Part of the evidence used against him was a satirical sketch he appeared in on The Daily Show. Rosewater is adapted from Bahari's memoir. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Mark Olsen and Will Scheffer; Review of two new albums by Eric Hofbauer's jazz quintet; Review of the film "Foxcatcher." November 14, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503434].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARK OLSEN & WILL SCHEFFER are the creators of the HBO series Getting On which takes place in an extended care wing of a hospital. It stars Laurie Metcalf (who played Roseanne's sister in the sitcom Roseanne). The series is full of dark humor and the stories are inspired by many of the experiences OLSEN and SCHEFFER had taking care of their elderly mothers. Getting On is also modeled after the hit BBC series of the same name. Season 2 began Sunday. OLSEN & SCHEFFER created the HBO series Big Love. (REBROADCAST from 12.23.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two new CDS of 20th century classic music compositions reinterpreted by the Eric Hofbauer's jazz Quintet: They are The Rite of Spring, and Quintet for The End of Time. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Foxcatcher.

Interview with Shane Harris; Review of the DVD box set of the television program "Batman"; November 17, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461522].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SHANE HARRIS is a senior writer for Foreign Policy magazine where he covers intelligence, surveillance and cyber security. His new book is @ War: The Rise of the Military-Internet

Interview with Brian Krebs; Interview with Norman Lear; November 18, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461279].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRIAN KREBS is an expert on cyber crime and cyber security. He is a former Washington Post reporter and he writes the blog Krebsonsecurity. Because he has infiltrated cybercrime networks he has become a target for them. He broke the stories about the credit card breaches at Target and Nieman Marcus. His new book is Spam Nation: The Inside Story of Organized Cybercrime-from Global Epidemic to Your Front Door. (2.) Legendary TV producer and writer NORMAN LEAR. At the age of 93 he has a new memoir, Even This I Get to Experience. LEAR is best known for the show he co-created All in The Family, which premiered in 1971 and mixed comedy and social issues in a sitcom. His other shows include Sanford & Sons, The Jeffersons, Good Times, and One Day at a Time.

Interview with Jon Stewart; Interview with Bennett Miller; Review of the Bob Dylan-inspired compilation album "Lost on the River November 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/971503433].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Part two of our interview with JON STEWART of The Daily Show. He'll talk about his recent work on the Daily Show. (2.) Film director BENNETT MILLER. His new film is Foxcatcher, based on the true story of multimillionaire John DuPont who built a facility on his own estate to train Olympic wrestlers, and then murdered one of the coaches. MILLER also directed the films Capote and Moneyball. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER a new collection of Bob Dylan lyrics set to music by some contemporary musicians. It's called Lost on the River: The New Basement Tapes and features Elvis Costello, Marcus Mumford, Taylor Goldsmith from Dawes, and Rhiannon Giddens from the Carolina Chocolate Drops. It was produced by T. Bone Burnett. (There's also an upcoming Showtime documentary about the making of the album).

---

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ALEC MACGILLIS is the author of the new book about the soon to be Senate Majority Leader: The Cynic: The Political Education of Mitch McConnell. It traces McConnell's thirty year career and his transformation from a moderate to a conservative Republican. MACGILLIS is staff writer for the New Republic, and previously was with the Washington Post where he shared a Pulitzer Prize. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Critic at Large JOHN POWERS reviews Redeployment, a new collection of short stories about American soldiers in Iraq, written by Phil Klay (pronounced KLY”), a Marine corps veteran who served in Iraq during the Surge. It was awarded the National Book Award for fiction last night. (REBROADCAST from 3.26.14)

---

Interview with Alan Cumming; Obituary for Mike Nichols; November 21, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461524].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor ALAN CUMMING. He's starring as the emcee in the new Roundabout Theatre Company revival of Cabaret (in New York City). It's his third time in the role - he won a Tony in the 1998 production. CUMMING also plays Eli Gold on the CBS show The Good Wife. CUMMING is from Scotland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (REBROADCAST FROM 4.28.14) (2.) Film director MIKE NICHOLS. He died today yesterday at the age of 83. NICHOLS' films include 'The Graduate' (for which he won an Oscar for Best Director), 'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf,' 'Carnal Knowledge,' 'Silkwood,' 'Working Girl,' and 'Primary Colors.' Before he became a film director NICHOLS was known for his popular comedy improvisations with Elaine May. (REBROADCAST from 3.21.01 and 3.22.02)
Interview with Richard Zoglin; Commentary on Laurie Colwin's books; November 24, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461659].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RICHARD ZOGLIN is the author of a new biography of Bob Hope, the comic, singer, film star, beloved USO entertainer, and later an anachronism to a younger generation. Hope spanned vaudeville to television in the 1990s, and ZOGLIN argues that Hope was the most popular entertainer of the 20th century. His new biography is Hope. ZOGLIN is contributing editor and theatre critic for Time magazine. He is also author of Comedy at the Edge: How Stand Up in the 1970s Changed America. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews an ebook collection of books by the late Laurie Colwin on Open Road Media. It includes four of her novels, three short story collections, and a collection of cooking essays.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Marine, and Iraq vet PHIL KLAY ("KLY"). His first short story collection, Redeployment won the National Book Award for fiction last week. Journalist Dexter Filkins who covered the war, described the book this way: "hilarious, biting, whipsawing and sad... the best thing written so far on what the war did to people's souls." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the biopic The Imitation Game, about World War II code breaker Alan Turing. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews this year's batch of Christmas albums, including collections by Rufus Wainwright, the R&B group Earth Wind & Fire, the folk group the Living Sisters, and even a two-disc Christmas at Downton Abbey album.
Interview with Ray Davies; November 26, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461749].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lead singer and songwriter for The Kinks, RAY DAVIES. He started The Kinks in 1964 with his brother, Dave. They are said to be the pioneers of the rowdy garage band genre of rock music. Their many hits included: You Really Got Me, Lola, All Day and All of the Night, and Tired of Waiting for You. The band is celebrating its 50th anniversary with the new 5 CD box set anthology of their recordings from 1964 to 1971. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Country music singer, songwriter, MARTY STUART. He's been a part of country music for over 40 years, since he was 13 when he played mandolin in Lester Flatt's band. He went on to work with Johnny Cash, Bill Monroe and Carl Perkins. His new double album with his band the Superlatives combines secular and sacred music, Saturday Night/Sunday Morning. He brought his guitar to the studio and he'll play some of the songs from the new album. Original Broadcast Date: WEDNESDAY, 1 OCT 2014. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BOB GAUDIO, who played with The Four Seasons, and wrote or co-wrote their hit songs 'Sherry,' 'Big Girls Don't Cry,' 'Walk Like a Man' and others. He's one of the people behind the Broadway musical Jersey Boys. A new anthology collects his songs as performed by the four seasons, Frankie Valli, and others. (REBROADCAST from 9.9.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Jason Sokol; Obituary for P.D. James; December 1, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461844].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian JASON SOKOL is the author of All Eyes are Upon Us: Race and politics from Boston to Brooklyn. He studies 20th century American politics, race, and civil rights and teaches at the University of New Hampshire. SOKOL is also the author of the book There Goes My Everything: White Southerners in the Age of Civil Rights: 1945-1975. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) We remember British mystery novelist P.D. JAMES who died Thursday at the age of 94. She was known as the "Queen of Crime." She wrote 18 crime novels, seven of which were adapted for the PBS series Mystery. She was 42 when her first mystery novel, Cover Her Face was published. We excerpt two interviews with JAMES: one with Terry Gross and the other with Fresh Air book critic Maureen Corrigan. (REBROADCAST from 10.19.87 and 1.21.98)

Interview with Louise Greenspan and Julianna Deardoff; Commentary on NBC's television production of "Peter Pan"; December 2, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461952].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) LOUISE GREENSPAN & JULIANNA DEARDORFF are the authors of the new book The New Puberty: How to Navigate Early Development in Today's Girls.. Research shows that girls increasingly undergo puberty at an early age - as early as seven years old. They will talk about why this is happening and the consequences to the girls and their parents. They are also conducting a long term study on puberty in girls. GREENSPAN is endocrinologist who focuses on puberty and DEARDORFF is a clinical psychologist with a specialty in adolescence. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI thinks about earlier live productions of Peter Pan he's seen, as he anticipates NBC's latest production of it live on Thursday.
Interview with Jeffrey Toobin; Review of books about jazz; December 3, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461848].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JEFFREY TOOBIN is a staff writer for The New Yorker and senior legal analyst for CNN. He'll talk with Terry about President Obama and the courts, his appointment of federal appeals court judges, and how a key part of Obamacare may be overthrown by the Supreme Court. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews three books as possible holiday gifts for the jazz fans in your life: Jazz Child - A portrait of Sheila Jordan by Ellen Johnson, an autobiography by Herbie Hancock, and a 75th anniversary collection of album covers from Blue Note Records, titled Uncommon Expression.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor JOSH BROLIN. He's co-starring in the new Paul Thomas Anderson film Inherent Vice adapted from the Thomas Pynchon novel. There's been some Oscar buzz for his performance. BROLIN's other films include No Country for Old Men, Wall Street, W, and American Gangster. BROLIN is the son of actor James Brolin. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Something Rich and Strange: Selected Stories, a collection of the best short stories by writer Ron Rash.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember keyboardist IAN MCLAGAN. He died suddenly Wednesday at the age of 69, apparently after a stroke. MCLAGAN played with the first generation of British rockers, with the band Small Faces and Faces. The group Faces included vocalist Rod Stewart and guitarist Ron Wood who went Interview with Chris Rock; Review of reissues of music by Steve Lacy; Review of Goya Exhibition at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts; December 8, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461674].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Stand-up comic, actor, director, writer CHRIS ROCK. He wrote and directed and stars in the new film Take Five, about a comic and star of low-budget humor films who now wants people to take him seriously. ROCK has had a number of comedy specials, and was the executive producer of the TV show Everybody Hates Chris, and a season of Totally Biased with W. Kamau Bell and the documentary Good Hair. He's also co-starred in a number of films. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two reissues featuring the late soprano saxophonist Steve Lacy: Steve Lacy & Roswell Rudd: School Days; and Steve Lacy: Cycles (1976-80). (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews the new exhibition featuring the works of late 18th-early 19th century Spanish painter Francisco Goya at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. It's one of the largest Goya shows ever seen in this country.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MATTHIEU AIKINS. He's reported from Syria, Iraq, Afghanistan and Libya. He lives in Kabul, Afghanistan. He received the 2013 Polk Award for magazine reporting, the Medill Medal for Courage, and the Kurt Schork Award for his Rolling Stone article 'The A-Team Killings,' which uncovered evidence of war crimes in Afghanistan. AIKIN has written for Harper's Magazine, Rolling Interview with Jacqueline Woodson; Commentary on the phrase "God view"; December 10, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461673].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JACQUELINE WOODSON. Last month she was awarded the National Book Award for Young People's literature for her memoir in verse Brown Girl Dreaming. WOODSON is the author of a number of award-winning children's, middle school and young adult books. Her books After Tupac & D Foster, Feather, Show Way were awarded the Newbery Honor Medal. Her book Coming On Home Soon was awarded the Caldecott Honor, and she's won the Coretta Scott King award numerous times. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the "word" of the year.

Interview with Scott Saul; Review of three jazz box sets; December 11, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461671].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) SCOTT SAUL is the author of the new biography of Richard Pryor, Becoming Richard Pryor. Pryor died in 2005; Saul began writing the book in 2007. He looked at newspaper archives, public documents and criminal records to research Pryor's life, and details his early life and up until 1978, the peak of his comedy career. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews 3 new CD box sets: Trilogy by the Chick Corea Trio; Herbie Hancock's The Warner Brothers Years (1969-1972) ; and The Rosemary Clooney CBS Radio recordings 1955-1960
Interview with Richard Linklater; Interview with Jill Soloway; Review of film "Inherent Vice"; December 12, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461521].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Director RICHARD LINKLATER (link-LATER) discusses his film "Boyhood." The film was just nominated for two Golden Globes: Best Film drama and Best Director. It's a coming of age story that LINKLATER shot over 12 years so that the characters and actors would actually age over the course of the film. It stars Ethan Hawke and Patricia Arquette as parents, and Ellar Coltrane and LINKLATER's daughter Lorelei as their children. LINKLATER's other films include "Slacker," "Dazed and Confused," "Before Sunrise," and "Bernie." (REBROADCAST from 7.10.14) (2.) Writer and director JILL SOLOWAY created the new Amazon series, Transparent which stars Jeffrey Tambor as a 70 year old who comes out as transgender - as a woman - to his family. Transparent has been nominated for a Golden Globe under the category of best musical or comedy tv series. SOLOWAY formerly was a staff writer for HBO's Six Feet Under, and an executive producer on United States of Tara. (REBROADCAST from 10.30.14) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Inherent Vice the new Paul Thomas Anderson film.

Interview with Timothy Spall; Review of Maureen Corrigan's top 12 books of 2014; December 15, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461280].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British character TIMOTHY SPALL. He received the New York Film critic 's circle award and best actor at Cannes for his starring role in the new Mike Leigh film Turner, based on the real life painter J.M.W. Turner (b. 1775, d. 1851). SPALL has also worked with Leigh on the films Topsy Turvy and Secrets and Lies. He also had parts in several Harry Potter films and played Fagin in the BBC tv adaptation of Oliver Twist. SPALL grew up in working class London and attended the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts. (2.) Book Critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reveals her top 12 book of 2014
Interview with John Cleese; Review of Ken Tucker's favorite music of 2014; December 16, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461523].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British comedian and actor JOHN CLEESE. He's best known for his work with the comedy troupe Monty Python. In the mid-70s, CLEESE and his then-wife Connie Booth created the television show "Fawlty Towers." CLEESE also wrote and directed the films "A Fish Called Wanda," and "Fierce Creatures." CLEESE has a new memoir titled "So, Anyway." (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER gives us his list of the years best music.

Interview with Robert Beachy; Review of D'Angelo's album "Black Messiah"; December 17, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461281].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ROBERT BEACHY is the author of the new book Gay Berlin: Birthplace of A Modern Identity, about Berlin in the years after World War I until the rise of the Nazis when the city had a thriving gay subculture. BEACHY teaches history at Goucher College in New Jersey. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Black Messiah, the new album by singer-songwriter-multi-instrumentalist D'Angelo.

Tribute to Stephen Colbert; December 18, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461526].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) STEPHEN COLBERT, the host and creator of the satirical Colbert Report on Comedy Central. He will broadcast his final show as the fake blow-hard right-wing cable news show host on Thursday, December 18, after nine years. He will return to broadcasting next year when he takes over for David Letterman on The Late Show. We pay tribute to COLBERT and listen back to excerpts of our interviews Interview with Meryl Streep; Interview with J.K. Simmons; Review of film "Mr. Turner"; December 19, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461745].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actress MERYL STREEP. She's been nominated for a Golden Globe for her performance in the film version of Stephen Sondheim's Into the Woods. She's a three time Academy award winner (18 times nominated) for her performance as Margaret Thatcher in Iron Lady (2012); for a holocaust survivor in Sophie's Choice (1983) and an ex-wife in a nasty custody-battle in Kramer vs. Kramer (1980). She acting opposite Robert Di Niro in The Deer Hunter (1978). Woody Allen picked her to play his lesbian ex-wife in Manhatten. Her other films include The French Lieutenant's Woman, Out of Africa, Ironweed, Postcards from the Edge, Adaptation, The Hours, The Devil Wears Prada, and Julie & Julia. (REBROADCAST from 2.6.12) (2.) Actor J.K. SIMMONS. He's been nominated for a Golden Glove for his role in the new film Whiplash, as a cruel music teacher. SIMMONS is best known for his role in the HBO series OZ (1997-2003) the graphic and disturbing drama of life in a maximum security prison. SIMMONS played convict and neo-nazi Vernon Schillinger. He's also known for his role as Dr. Emil Skoda in Law & Order. (REBROADCAST from 7.30.98) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new Mike Leigh film Mr. Turner starring Timothy Spall.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter, guitarist NICK LOWE is in the Fresh Air studio to talk with Terry and to perform songs from his new album Quality Street, of holiday songs. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist SARAH KOENIG (KAY-nig) - she's the host and executive producer of the podcast "Serial." "Serial" examines the murder of a teenage girl in 1999, and reports the story over the course of 12 episodes. "Serial" is one of the most popular and successful podcasts, having been downloaded over 5 million times and parodied on Saturday Night Live and the website "Funny or Die."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film Critic DAVID EDELSTEIN goes over his list of the year's best movies. And he'll discuss Sony's decision to release Seth Rogen's film 'The Interview' in some theatres. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI talks about the year in television.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lead singer and songwriter for The Kinks, RAY DAVIES. He started The Kinks in 1964 with his brother, Dave. They are said to be the pioneers of the rowdy garage band genre of rock music. Their many hits included: You Really Got Me, Lola, All Day and All of the Night, and Tired of Waiting for You. The band is celebrating its 50th anniversary with the new 5 CD box set anthology of their recordings from 1964 to 1971. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). Rebroadcast from 11.26.14.
Interview with Sam Baker December 26, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462267].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer, songwriter, guitarist SAM BAKER. His fourth album is Say Grace. He's from Texas, and he writes about migrants, ditch diggers, a woman playing the slots at Reno and more. He was nearly killed in 1986 in Peru when the train he was riding exploded from a terrorist bomb, an event that profoundly affected him, and led him to begin writing songs. Rolling Stone called Say Grace one of the top 10 country albums of 2013. BAKER's other albums are Mercy, Cotton, and Pretty World. One reviewer writes of him "His songs are closely observed narratives of eccentric and marginalized people finding meaning in seemingly defeated lives--almost like Leonard Cohen's if Cohen had been a Baptist raised in West Texas." (Mark Eisen - The Daily Page). (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW) - Rebroadcast from 5.6.14

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Lyricist SHELDON HARNICK. 2014 marked the 50th anniversary of Fiddler on the Roof, the musical he collaborated on with Jerry Bock. HARNICK also celebrated his 90th birthday. And a new double CD Hidden Treasures: 1949-2013 collected Harnick songs that have for the most part never been heard. They include a song written for Fiddler on the Roof that was never used in the musical. HARNICK and BOCK also collaborated on Fiorello (which won a Pulitzer Prize), She Loves Me, and The Rothschilds. (REBROADCAST from 4.30.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) BOB MANKOFF is a cartoonist and long-time cartoon editor for The New Yorker. He wrote the memoir, How About Never -- Is Never Good For You? The title of the cartoon comes from his famous cartoon in which a businessman is on the telephone, dodging a lunch date. As cartoon editor MANKOFF looks at 500 cartoons a week. He also founded the online Cartoon Bank which licenses and sells the New Yorker cartoons. (REBROADCAST FROM 3.24.14)
Interview with Roz Chast; Interview with Louis C.K. December 30, 2014. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958462415].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New Yorker cartoonist ROZ CHAST discusses her memoir "Can't We Talk about Something More Pleasant?" It's about the final years of her parents' lives and the difficulty she had talking with them about end of life issues, and about how increasingly difficult and expensive it became to care for them. It's a graphic memoir, illustrated in a cartoon style. CHAST's illustrations have also appeared in Scientific American, the Harvard Business Review, Redbook, and Mother Jones. (REBROADCAST from 5.8.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Comedian LOUIS C.K. (lou-EE-sea-kay) talks about the 4th season of his FX series Louie. Louis C.K. created, writes, directs and stars in the series as a comic named Louie, who like Louis C.K., is a divorced father of 2 young girls, and shares custody with their mother. Louis C.K. had prominent roles in two films last year, Woody Allen's Blue Jasmine and David O. Russell's American Hustle. This year he hosted Saturday Night Live for the second time. (REBROADCAST from 5.19.14)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comic HARI KONDABOLU ("Hurry KAHN-da BOE-loo") was a writer and correspondent on W. Kamau Bell's FX political comedy series Totally Biased. He started performing standup while working as an immigrant rights organizer in Seattle. He was part of John Oliver's New York Standup Show from 2010. And he now has a new comedy album Waiting for 2042 referring to the year the census bureau projects whites will be in the minority in the U.S. KONDABOLU's parents are from India. (REBROADCAST from 4.21.14) (2.) British comic and actor JOHN OLIVER. He's a former correspondent for The Daily Show, and was fill-in host for Jon Stewart last summer. OLIVER now has his own political satire show on HBO, Last Week Tonight, on Sunday nights at 9 PM. (REBROADCAST from 6.19.14) (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Leonard S. Bernstein's first work of fiction, a collection of short stories about New York's Garment District, Death by Pastrami.
Interview with Neil Patrick Harris; January 1, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461453].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor NEIL PATRICK HARRIS discusses his memoir "Choose Your Own Autobiography." HARRIS was famous as a child as star of the sitcom Doogie Howser, M.D. His career had a resurgence with appearances in the Harold & Kumar films, a starring role in the sitcom "How I Met Your Mother," and a starring role in Joss Whedon's web series "Dr. Horrible's Sing-a-long Blog." HARRIS has also had a successful Broadway career - having hosted the Tony Awards 4 times, and winning a Tony in 2014 for playing the title role in "Hedwig and the Angry Inch." (Original Broadcast Date: Monday Oct 13, 2014)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRIGID SCHULTE is social issues reporter for The Washington Post, and is author of the recent book about time pressure and American families is Overwhelmed, Work, Love and Play When No One Has the Time. (ORIGINAL of 3.11.14) (2.) Film maker STEVE JAMES and CHAZ EBERT, president of Ebert Productions. Chaz is the widow of film critic Roger Ebert who died in 2013 after a decade long battle against cancer. JAMES and EBERT collaborated on the documentary Life Itself, based on Roger Ebert's best-selling memoir. They began filming him four months before his death. Life Itself will debut on CNN on Jan 4th. JAMES is best known for his 1994 documentary Hoop Dreams about two African-American high school students pursing their dream of becoming a professional basketball players. EBERT was one of the film's champions. (ORIGINAL BROADCAST 7.3.14).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist STEVE BRILL. His 2013 Time magazine cover story about the cost of health care Bitter Pill: Why Medical Bills Are Killing Us won a National Magazine award for public-interest journalism. Shortly after writing the story he discovered he had to have expensive heart surgery, and experienced first hand some of the things he had written about. That article has now been expanded into a new book: America's Bitter Pill: Money, Politics, Back-Room Deals, and the Fight to Fix Our Broken Healthcare System. BRILL is also a lawyer and the founder of CourtTV and American Lawyer magazine. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music historian EDWARD tells us about Barbara Lynn on the occasion of the release of her complete Atlantic Recordings collection.

Interview with George Pelecanos; Review of Horace Tapscott's album "The Giant is Awakened"; January 6, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461530].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and TV producer GEORGE PELECANOS. He's a crime writer, and has a new novella and collection of short stories, The Martini Shot. He's best known for his work as a writer and producer on The Wire, and Treme. He's written 18 crime novels set in and around Washington D.C, where he was raised, and has received the Raymond Chandler award in Italy, the Falcon award in Japan, and the Grand Prix Du Roman Noir in France. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews The Giant is Awakened, the reissue of the 1969 album by Los Angeles pianist Horace Tapscott.

Description of show segment(s)

WEDNESDAY, 7 JAN 2015(1.) Journalist ERNESTO LONDONO is an editorial writer with The New York Times. Prior to President Obama's announcement that the U.S. would normalize relations with Cuba, LONDONO had been writing a series of editorials urging him to do so. LONDONO is the WASHington Post's former Pentagon correspondent and Middle East foreign correspondent. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the season premiere of Episodes on Showtime (Sunday, Jan 11th), starring Matt LeBlanc, as an exaggerated version of himself, as ex-star of the sitcom Friends. BIANCULLI says it's one of the best comedies currently on TV.

Interview with Ava Duvernay; January 8, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461620].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director AVA DUVERNAY. Her new film is Selma, is about Martin Luther King, Jr. and the three marches he led in 1965 from Selma to Montgomery, which led to the passage of the Voting Rights Act. DUVERNAY made her debut with the critically acclaimed 2008 hip hop documentary This is the Life. At the 2012 Sundance Film Festival, DuVernay won the Best Director Prize for her second feature film Middle of Nowhere. She also made the documentaries Venus Vs for ESPN and My Mic Sounds Nice for BET. Before making films she founded an award winning film marketing company, DVA media. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Tony Dokoupil; Review of the film "Selma"; January 9, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461497].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TONY DOKOUPIL ("Do-KO-pill"). His memoir The Last Pirate: A Father, His Son and the Golden Age of Marijuana is about his father who was one of the biggest marijuana smugglers on the Eastern Seaboard in the 1970s and 80s. DOKOUPIL didn't find this out until he was an adult. DOKOUPIL is a senior writer for NBC News and a former senior reporter for Newsweek. The Last Pirate is now out in paperback. (REBROADCAST from 3.31.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Selma.

Interview with David Adam; Review of Ty Segall's new EP "Mr. Face"; January 12, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461702].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Journalist DAVID ADAM is the author of The Man Who Couldn't Stop which is part memoir and part science about his struggle with obsessive compulsive disorder, and intrusive thoughts. ADAM writes for Nature Magazine. He previously was an environment and a science correspondent for The Guardian. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new four-song EP Mr. Face by Ty Segall.

Interview with Patricia Arquette and Ethan Hawke; Review of the television show "Man Seeking Woman"; January 13, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461697].

Description of show segment(s)
(1.) Actors PATRICIA ARQUETTE and ETHAN HAWKE. The two co-star in the film Boyhood by director Richard Linklater. Boyhood received three Golden Globes this week for best film, best direction and best supporting actress (for Arquette). The film took 12 years to shoot. HAWKE has worked with Linklater before in the trilogy of films: Before Midnight, Before Sunset, and Before Sunrise. His other films include DayBreakers and Dead Poets Society. ARQUETTE starred in the TV series Medium, and has had a recurring role in HBO's Boardwalk Empire. Her films include True Romance and Ed Wood. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI tells us about the new comedy Man Seeking Woman on FXX, the latest from Lorne Michaels' Broadway Video. He's not sure he's a fan, but he's intrigued.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) ABBI JACOBSON and ILANA GLAZER the creators and stars of the Comedy Central series Broad City. The show began as a popular webseries, and was picked up by Comedy Central last year. Season two begins January 14th. The show is about two women in their 20s in NYC. But it's a new take on the genre. In a 2014 New Yorker story, Nick Paumgarten describes the series as "an unpretentious portrait of a friendship between women in which they don't undermine each other or fret over how they look or define themselves by whom they're sleeping with." (2.) We remember novelist ROBERT STONE who died Saturday at the age of 77 from chronic obstructive pulmonary disease. His novel Dog Soldiers set in Vietnam and California won the National Book Award in 1975. It was later adapted into the 1978 film Who'll Stop the Rain starring Nick Nolte, with a title song by Creedence Clearwater Revival. STONE also wrote the novel Outerbridge Reach, and the memoir Prime Green: Remembering the Sixties about his stint in the navy in the late 1950s, his work as a journalist in Vietnam and his counterculture years in the 1970s, taking hallucinogenic drugs, cross-country road trips, and hanging out with Ken Kesey and the Merry Pranksters. STONE wrote eight novels in all. (INTERVIEWS from 07.29.86 and 1.3.07).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MAJID NAWAZ is a former Islamist extremist. As a teen he joined the Islamist group Hizb ut Tahrir. After four years in an Egyptian prison, he left the Islamist group and its ideology. He co-founded the think-tank Quilliam, dedicated to countering extremist beliefs. NAWAZ is the author of the memoir, Radical: My Journey Out of Islamist Extremism. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Jessica Lamb-Shapiro; Review of the film "Still Alice"; January 16, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461700].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JESSICA LAMB-SHAPIRO is the author of the memoir is Promise Land: My Journey Through America's Self-Help Culture (now out in paperback). Her father was a child psychologist and the author of 40 self-help books. She examines the world of self-help in her new book. In the process she began to realize the unresolved issue of the mysterious death of her mother when she was a toddler, something she and her father never talked about. LAMP-SHAPIRO has written for The Believer, McSweeney's, Open City and Index magazine. (INTERVIEW FROM 1.22.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Still Alice, the new film starring Julianne Moore as a college professor with early onset Alzheimer's.

Interview with Eric Foner; January 19, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461699].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian ERIC FONER talks about his new book "Gateway to Freedom: The Hidden History of The Underground Railroad." It's based in part on a document few scholars were aware of until recently--a record of fugitive slaves that was written by Sydney Howard Gay, who was a key underground railroad operative from the mid 1840's until the eve of the civil war. Gay also was the editor of the weekly newspaper the National Anti Slavery Standard. Foner's book focuses on the city that Gay lived and work in, New York, which Foner says was a crucial way station in the northeast corridor through which fugitive slaves made their way from the upper south through Philadelphia and on to upstate New York, New England and Canada. Foner is a professor of history at Columbia, who has written several books about the civil war era and has won the Pulitzer Prize, the Bancroft Prize and the Lincoln Prize. His book Reconstruction: America's Unfinished Revolution has just been published with a new introduction. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE WHOLE SHOW).
Interview with David Morris; Review of the television program "The Nightly Show". January 20, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461942].

Description of show segment(s)

1.) DAVID MORRIS talks about his experience reporting on the war in Iraq. MORRIS was riding in a Humvee that was hit by an IED. It was one of the experiences in Iraq that led to his post-traumatic stress disorder. Morris has a new book called The Evil Hour. It tells the story of how PTSD has changed his life, and examines the science and philosophy behind different therapies. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) DAVID BIANCULLI reviews "The Nightly Show," Larry Wilmore's late night replacement for The Colbert Report.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor BENEDICT CUMBERBATCH talks about his Oscar-nominated performance in The Imitation Game. Cumberbatch plays a mathematician recruited to crack Nazi codes during World War Two. (interview by DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews two new movies about Russia: Red Army, a documentary about the Red Army hockey team of the 70s and 80s under visionary coach Anatoli Tarasov; and the film Leviathan, John says it's a classic story of a man fighting the system. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews No Cities To Love the new comeback album by Sleater-Kinney, the first album since they split up in 2006.

Interview with Al Michaels; Review of Tom Varner's new album "Nine Surprises"; January 22, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461421].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Long-time sportscaster AL MICHAELS. He's currently with Sunday Night Football, before that he spent 30 years with ABC doing play-by-plays. He'll be working his ninth Superbowl soon.
MICHAELS worked with Howard Cosell, and is best known for calling the 1980 Winter Olympic hockey game between the U.S. and the Soviet Union when he exclaimed "Do you believe in miracles? Yes!"

MICHAELS was inducted into the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association Hall of Fame in 1998. He has a new memoir, You Can't Make This Up. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Nine Surprises the new album by the Nonet led by composer and french horn player and Tom Varner.

---

Interview with Elizabeth Colbert; Review of the compilation album "Cracking The Cosimo Code

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist ELIZABETH KOLBERT (COLE-bert) is a staff writer for The New Yorker where she has written political profiles, commentary, and extensively on climate change. Her book The Sixth Extinction: An Unnatural History is a finalist for the Book Critic's Circle Award in nonfiction. It's also now out in paperback. KOLBERT is also the author of the 2006 book Field Notes From a Catastrophe about climate change. (REBROADCAST from 2.12.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us about the late Cosimo Matassa who owned the only recording studio in New Orleans in the 1960s.

---

Interview with Jill Leovy; review of Meghan Mayhew Bergman's short story collection "Almost Famous Women."

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JILL LEOVY (Lee-O-vee) is a staff writer and former crime reporter for the Los Angeles Times, the creator of the blog Homicide Report - in which she documented all the homicides in the city - not just the news worthy ones - for a year, to get to the horror of those murders on family and friends. For her new book Ghettoside: A True Story of Murder in America she embedded with a LAPD homicide unit working in South L.A, where the unsolved homicide rate among African Americans there is around 40 per square mile. LEOVY writes about the impact on the community besieged by crime and violence, the struggles of detectives trying to solve these murders, and argues for a criminal justice system that responds vigorously to the violence and crime in these neighborhoods. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the short story collection Almost Famous Women by Mehgan Mayhew Bergman.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) EVERGREEN REBROADCAST: KEVIN HOWLETT is the executive producer of The Beatles: On Air - Live at the BBC Volume 2 which collects recordings of early Beatles' appearances on the BBC in which they sang originals, covers, and chatted with BBC hosts. HOWLETT also curated the book The Beatles: The BBC Archives (1962-1970) which collects the surviving transcripts of the Beatles' appearances on BBC radio and TV. (REBROADCAST FROM 11.27.13) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Neurologist DR. FRANCES JENSEN ("YEN-SEN"), author of the new book The Teenage Brain. She's a professor and chair of the Department of Neurology at the University of Pennsylvania Perelman School of Medicine, and was formerly a Harvard professor and Director of Translational Neuroscience at Boston Children's Hospital. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS considers the unexpected success of the film American Sniper.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Religion scholar JACK MILES. He is the general editor of the new massive double volume The Norton Anthology of World Religions which collects ancient primary texts from Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism and Daoism. MILES is Distinguished Professor of English and Religious Studies at the University of California, Irvine. He is a former Jesuit Seminarian and author of the Pulitzer Prize winning book God: A Biography. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book Critic Maureen Corrigan reviews Outline, the new novel from Rachel Cusk about a divorced woman who travels to Greece to teach creative writing.

Interview with Jennifer Senior; Obituary for Joe Franklin; Review of the film "Timbuktu". January 30, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461846].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JENNIFER SENIOR is a contributing editor at New York magazine. She's the author of the book All Joy and No Fun: The Paradox of Modern Parenthood, which is now out in paperback. SENIOR examines the current research on parenting, specifically how parenting has changed over the decades and what life is like for parents. She first wrote about this in an article for New York magazine in 2010 when she wrote about recent research showing that parents are no happier than non-parents and in some cases considerably less happy. (REBROADCAST from 2.4.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) We remember television talk show host JOE FRANKLIN. He died on Saturday at the age of 88 from prostate cancer. Franklin was one of TV's most durable talk show hosts. The Joe Franklin Show was on television beginning in the 1951 until 1993, airing at first only in the New York market, but then it was carried on over two thousand cable stations. He was parodied by Billy Crystal on Saturday Night Live. (REBROADCAST from 11.17.88) (3.) Film critic David Edelstein reviews Timbuktu which is nominated for an Oscar for best foreign-language film.
Interview with Bradley Cooper. February 2, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461544].

Description of show segment(s)

1. Actor BRADLEY COOPER. He's been nominated for an Academy Award for his role as Navy SEAL Chris Kyle in the film American Sniper. The film is directed by Clint Eastwood; COOPER co-produced the film. COOPER was also nominated for an Oscar for his role in Silver Linings Playbook. His part in the film The Hangover helped make him a star. He subsequently starred in the films The Hangover II and Limitless. COOPER also could be seen in the TV show Alias, and in the film Wedding Crashers. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

1. Neurobiologist DAVID LINDEN is the author of the new book Touch: The Science of Hand, Heart & Mind. LINDEN is a professor of neuroscience at Johns Hopkins School of Medicine. And he also the author of the bestseller The Compass of Pleasure: How Our Brains Make Fatty Foods, Orgasm, Exercise, Marijuana, Generosity, Vodka, Learning and Gambling Feel so Good. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Shadows in the Night, Bob Dylan's new album of pop standards and songs from the Great American Songbook tradition, accompanied by a five-piece band.

Interview with Jason Cherkis; Review of Lennie Tristano's album "Chicago April 1951"; Review of the television show "Better Call Saul". February 4, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461503].

Description of show segment(s)

1. National investigative reporter JASON CHERKIS for the Huffington Post. His series Dying to Be Free is about the increase in heroin use and in overdose deaths. The CDC reports that heroin-related overdose deaths went up 39 percent nationwide between 2012 and 2013. He also writes about how most rehab programs are ignoring effective new treatments. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the 1951 Nightclub recording titled Chicago April 1951 by pianist Lennie Tristano's sextet. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews Better Call Saul on the AMC network starring Bob Odenkirk as the fast-talking lawyer who appeared on Breaking Bad.

Interview with Asali Solomon; Obituary for Charlie Sifford; February 5, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461548].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist ASALI (Ah-SOL-ee) SOLOMON is the author of the new book Disgruntled, a coming-of-age story of a young African American girl in Philadelphia in the 1980s. Her parents live an afro-centric life which puts her out of step with her peers. It's based on her own life. SOLOMON's first book Get Down, a collection of stories was a finalist for the Hurston/Wright Legacy Award. She was named one of the National Book Foundation's 5 Under 35. SOLOMON teaches English at Haverford College. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember pro golfer CHARLIE SIFFORD. He died Tuesday at the age of 92. He was the first black admitted to the PGA in 1960. Even so, he found that blacks were still not welcome in the game of golf. In 2004 he became the first black player to be inducted into the World Golf Hall of Fame. He talked with Terry Gross when his memoir Just Let Me Play was published. (REBROADCAST from 6.5.92) Interview with Bob Odenkirk; Review of the movie "$The SpongeBob Movie February 6, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461505].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and actor BOB ODENKIRK. He's starring as Saul Goodman a sleazy fast-talking lawyer in the AMC spinoff Better Call Saul. The character first appeared in Breaking Bad. ODENKIRK got his start in comedy writing. He wrote for Saturday Night Live for 13 seasons beginning in 1987, and went on to write for Chris Elliot's Get A Life, and then was hired to write and act in The Ben Stiller Show. He won Emmys for his writing for Saturday Night Live and The Ben Stiller Show. Then he played Larry's hyperactive agent Stevie Grant on The Larry Sanders Show. He and David Cross (a writer and stand-up comic) created the sketch-comedy HBO show Mr. Show with Bob and David which ran for four seasons beginning in 1995. He's also had many guest appearances on TV shows, including Curb Your Enthusiasm, Everybody Loves Raymond, and Weeds. (REBROADCAST FROM 8.6.13)(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Sponge Out of Water the new SpongeBob SquarePants film.

Interview with Michael Keaton; February 9, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461638].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor MICHAEL KEATON. He's been nominated for an Academy Award for his starring role in the new film Birdman. His other films include Batman, and Batman Returns, Clean & Sober, Beetlejuice, Mr. Mom and Night Shift. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with David Axelrod; Review of the television show "Schitt's Creek"; Review of Amanda Filipacchi's novel "The Unfortunate Importance of Beauty"; February 10, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461572].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Campaign strategist DAVID AXELROD. He helped Barack Obama win the presidency, and then became his top political advisor. He has a new book about his forty years in politics, managing 150 campaigns. It's called Believer: My 40 Years in Politics. AXELROD was a reporter before he became a campaign advisor. He also writes about his family. His daughter was born with severe epilepsy. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews a new series on the newly launched "Pop Network," formerly the TV Guide cable Channel. The series has the impossible-to-say-on-the-radio title of: "Schitt's Creek." (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new comic novel "The Unfortunate Importance of Beauty," by Amanda Filipacchi

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Photojournalist LYNSEY ADDARIO has a new memoir It's What I Do: A Photographer's Life of Love & War. ADDARIO has covered the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, and conflicts in Lebanon, Darfur, and the Congo. She was kidnapped twice: in Iraq (2004), and in Libya (2011- with colleagues Anthony Shadid, Stephen Farrell and Tyler Hicks). She's recently covered the plight of Syrian refugees, and the ISIS push into Iraq. When not doing breaking news, she focuses on humanitarian issues. She's photographed tuberculosis in India, maternal mortality in Sierra Leone, breast cancer in Uganda, and transsexual prostitutes in New York. Her work has been published in The New York Times, TIME magazine, National Geographic, Conde Naste, and more.

Interview with Pawel Pawlikoski; Obituary for Bob Simon; Review of the CD box set "The String Quartets of Joseph Haydn" by the Schneider Quartet. February 12, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461574].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Film director PAWEL PAWLIKOWSKI. (PAH-Vall Pahv-LEE-KOW-ski) His film Ida (pronounced "Ee-dah") has been nominated for an academy award for best foreign language film. Critics are also hailing it a "masterpiece" (David Denby, The New Yorker). The film is set in the 1962 in Poland, where a young woman who is about to take her vows to be a nun discovers that her parents were Jews who were killed during the holocaust. PAWLIKOWSKI was born in Poland, but has lived for years in England. His other films include My Summer of Love (2004) starring Emily Blunt, and The Woman in the Fifth (2012) with Ethan Hawke and Kristin Scott Thomas. (3.) We remember veteran CBS news correspondent BOB SIMON who was killed in a car accident in Manhattan yesterday. He was 73. In his nearly 50 year career he covered the war in Vietnam, was a Middle East Correspondent stationed in Tel Aviv, a National Correspondent in Washington D.C, and a correspondent for 60 Minutes. In what turned out to be his final segment for the show he interviewed Ava DuVernay the director of Selma. During the Persian Gulf war SIMON was taken prisoner and held for six weeks. He wrote about it in the book Forty Days. (REBROADCAST from 5.5.92, interview by Marty Moss-Coane) (3.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a collection of Haydn string quartets played by the Schneider Quartet recorded in the 1950s, released on CD for the first time. (on the Music & Arts label).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember journalist DAVID CARR who wrote about media and culture for The New York Times. He died last night at the age of 58. He wrote the Media Equation column which appeared in the Monday Business section. He was a respected and well-loved journalist there. The Times publisher and chairman Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, Jr. said of him, "David Carr was one of the most gifted journalists who has ever worked at The New York Times. . . An irreplaceable talent, he will be missed by everyone who works for The Times and everyone who reads it." We'll listen back to portions of two interviews with CARR. One with Terry Gross recorded after the release of the documentary Page One, about the NYT in which CARR was the "breakout character" (REBROADCAST from 10.27.11) And we'll listen to the interview Dave Davies recorded with CARR for his memoir Night of the Gun in which he reconstructs his former life as a crack addict and thug (REBROADCAST from 8.12.08). (THESE INTERVIEWS CONTINUE INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Fifty Shades of Grey.

Interview with Todd Purdum; Review of the box set "The Rise and Fall of Paramount Records, Volume Two"; February 16, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461571].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TODD PURDUM tells the story of the political and legislative battle to pass the Civil Rights Act. Purdum is the author of the new book An Idea Whose Time Has Come.(REBROADCAST from 1.20.14) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD with part two of his series on Paramount Records, the largest blues label in America in the 1920s.
Interview with Richard Price; February 17, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461573].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist & screenwriter RICHARD PRICE. His new novel (and his ninth) is The Whites about a veteran police detective in the NYPD. His previous best-selling novel Lush Life is about the repercussions of a shooting on Manhatten's Lower East side. PRICE has also written for HBO's 'The Wire.' PRICE’s other bestselling novels include, Clockers about life in the inner city world of drug dealing (which was made into a film); Freedomland which was inspired by the real life incident in which a woman alleged a black man carjacked her and took her two children; and Samaritan about a man who returns to the New Jersey town where he was raised and to teaching, and the bad consequences of his good intentions. PRICE also is a screenwriter with such notable films: "Sea of Love," "Ransom," and "The Color of Money." (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THRU SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Interview with David Remnick; Review of Robert Earl Keen's new album "Happy Prisoner"; February 18, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461575].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Editor of The New Yorker DAVID REMNICK. He's been editor since 1998, taking over after Tina Brown left. Before that REMNICK was a staff writer. REMNICK still writes for the magazine, along with editing, and selecting the cartoons for the issue. REMNICK is also a Pulitzer prize winning author of the book Lenin's Tomb: The Last Days of the Soviet Empire. He has also written books about Barack Obama and boxer Muhammed Ali. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Happy Prisoner the new album of bluegrass music covers by Robert Earl Keen.
Interview with Larry Wilmore; February 19, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461133].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Host of The Nightly Show, LARRY WILMORE. The Nightly Show is on Comedy Central and follows The Daily Show and it premiered last month. WILMORE is also former senior black correspondent on The Daily Show. WILMORE also was a writer for the sketch comedy show In Living Color, and he created and produced The Bernie Mac show.

Obituary for Philip Levine; Review of Ornette Coleman's new album "New Vocabulary"; Obituary for Lesley Gore; Review of the film "Wild Tales"; February 20, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461605].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember former U.S. Poet Laureate PHILIP levine ("Le-VEEN"). He died Saturday at the age of 87, from pancreatic cancer. He was best known for depicting the world of manual labor and factory work in his poems. He worked in factories as a young man in his hometown of Detroit. He received a Pulitzer Prize in 1995 for his collection The Simple Truth. For hears he taught English at California State University, Fresno. (INTERVIEW FROM 7.22.91) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews New Vocabulary the new album by the great saxophonist Ornette Coleman, which was the product of his jams with trumpeter Jordan McLean of the Brooklyn Afrofunk band Antibalas and others. (3.) We remember singer LESLEY GORE. She died Monday at the age of 68 from lung cancer. She recorded the crybaby hit It's My Party as a teenager. She also recorded the songs Judy's Turn to Cry and the hit You Don't Own Me. A demo of her voice came to the attention of producer Quincy Jones who was behind her hit It's My Party. She went on to perform in musical theatre, and on TV. In 2005 she came out publicly as gay. (REBROADCAST from 12.25.91) (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Wild Tales a film from Argentina by film maker Pedro Almodovar which has been nominated for Best Foreign Language Film.
Interview with David Treuer; Interview with Mark Woollen; Review of Daisy Hay's new biography "Mr. and Mrs. Disraeli February 23, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461470].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer DAVID TREUER ("TROY-er") is the author of the new novel Prudence. He is an Ojibwe ("oh-JIB-way") Indian from the Leech Lake Reservation in northern Minnesota. He was raised there. His father is an Austrian Jew and holocaust survivor (who arrived on the reservation to teach school) and his mother a tribal member who is a tribal court judge. TREUER's previous non fiction book is Rez Life. He is the recipient of a Pushcart Prize, and the Guggenheim Foundation. He teaches literature at the University of Southern California. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Movie trailer creator MARK WOOLLEN. He's been putting together trailers for 20 years, and creating them for the art house films, nonblockbuster films, considered more challenging to promote. He made the trailers for the Oscar winning, and/or nominated films Birdman, Boyhood, and The Theory of Everything. He's worked with directors David Fincher, Terrence Mallack and the Coen Brothers. He's created trailers for the films 12 Years a Slave, Nebraska, Her, Dallas Buyer's Club, Schindler's List, The Big Lebowski, Being John Malkovich, Traffic, The Royal Tenenbaums, Slumdog Millionaire, The Wrestler, The Social Network, The Girl with the Dragon Tattoo, Lincoln, and Beasts of the Southern Wild. He's received a number of Golden Trailer Awards. He owns his firm Mark Woollen & Associates. (TERRY GROSS INTERVIEW) (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new biography Mr. and Mrs. Disraeli: A Strange Romance by Daisy Hay.

Interview with Philip Connors; Review of television show "Foyle's War"; February 24, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461608].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PHILIP CONNORS has written a memoir about the loss of his younger brother to suicide, and the decade after in which he tried to make sense of it and his own life: All the Wrong Places: A Life Lost & Found. Reviewer Sam Lipsyte writes, 'Philip Connors possesses a quietly fierce and mesmerizing prose style, a skeptical and witty mind, a huge heart and a haunted soul. . . . The story of All the Wrong Places is a moving one, but it's Connors's artistry that makes it transcendent.' CONNORS is also the author of the critically acclaimed book, Fire Season: Field Notes from a Wilderness Look Out, about being a fire lookout in New Mexico's Gila National Forest. CONNORS essays and criticisms have been published in Harper's, Salon, The Nation, The Paris Review, and The London Review of Books. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS tells us why he's a fan of Foyle's War, the British TV series which just ended it's eighth and final season in the UK and is now available on disk and via streaming.

Interview with Marcus Stern; Review of the Mavericks' new album "Mono"; Commentary on Internet-connected appliances; February 25, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461759].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Investigative journalist MARCUS STERN reports on the increased risks of transporting oil in tanker cars along America's railroads. The risks include defective tracks, dangerous bridges, outdated cars, and a new kind of lighter oil much more volatile than traditional heavier crude oil. This newer oil - which comes from North Dakota -- can ignite leading to massive explosions with fireballs shooting hundreds of feet into the air. This was the kind of explosion that occurred in Quebec and in Lynchburg Va. STERN talks about the efforts and the obstacles to stave off more disasters. STERN is a reporter with The Investigativefund. His article (written with Sebastian Jones) is Boom: North America's Explosive Oil by Rail Problem can be found here: http://www.theinvestigativefund.org/investigations/envirohealth/2086/boom%21/ (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Mono the new album by the Mavericks. (3.) Tech correspondent ALEXIS MADRIGAL considers the household appliances that are being remade to connect to the Internet and work on their own including coffee makers, thermostats, washing machines, and even toilets.

Interview with Bill Gifford; Review of television show "Battle Creek"; February 26, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461610].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BILL GIFFORD is the author of the new book Spring Chicken: Stay Young Forever (or die trying). He writes about the history and the science of anti-aging, the so-called cures, and the ways we can grow older better. GIFFORD is contributing editor for Outside magazine and has written on science, sports, and fitness for numerous publications, including Wired, Businessweek, Men's Health, Men's Journal, Slate, and The New Republic. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews Battle Creek the new cop show on CBS brought to us by Vince Gilligan (writer-producer of Breaking Bad), and David Shore (producer of House).

Interview with Colson Whitehead; Obituary for Father Theodore Hesburgh; Review of the film
"Maps of the Stars"; February 27, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/
oclc/958461665].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author COLSON WHITEHEAD discusses his book The Noble Hustle (out March 3 in paperback)
- it follows WHITEHEAD's entry into, and preparation for, the 2011 World Series of Poker. He was sent to the tournament to write about it for the magazine Grantland. WHITEHEAD has received a MacArthur fellowship, a PEN/Oakland Award, and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize and National Book Critics Circle Award. His previous book, the Zombie-novel Zone One, was a New York Times bestseller. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES - CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST from 5.7.14) (2.) We remember FATHER THEODORE HESBURGH, the former president of the University of Notre Dame who died yesterday at the age of 97. He was known for standing up to the Vatican and the White House. (REBROADCAST from 11.26.90) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new David Cronenberg film Maps of the Stars.

Interview with Chris Offutt; Review of Chris Foreman's album "Now is the Time"; March 2, 2015.
[Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461471].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer CHRIS OFFUTT. He's the author of two memoirs, a novel, and a short story collection which include: The Same River Twice: A memoir; Out of the Woods: Stories; and No Heroes: A Memoir of Coming Home. He's also written for the TV shows Treme, Weeds, and True Blood. OFFUTT's forthcoming book is a memoir about his father who wrote porno beginning in the 1960s as a way to earn a living. His father wrote hundreds of pornography books in various genres and under 17 different pseudonyms. After his father's death OFFUTT went thru his father's office, finding 1,800 pounds of archives. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews "Now is the Time", the new album by Chicago jazz organist Chris Foreman.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) KEVIN CAREY is an expert on higher education and is author of the new book The End of College: Creating the Future of Learning & the University of Everywhere, about online education. He directs the Education Policy program at the non-profit, non-partisan public policy think tank, New America Foundation. His articles have appeared in The New York Times, Slate, The New Republic, Washington Monthly, The American Prospect, and The Chronicle of Higher Education. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews the new novel Welcome to Braggsville by T. Geronimo Johnson; she calls it a "tipsy" social satire about race in America. (3.) We remember jazz journalist and producer ORRIN KEEPNEWS. He died Sunday at the age of 91. He produced classic jazz albums by the likes of Thelonious Monk, Bill Evans, and Sonny Rollins. He was the founder of two important jazz labels, Riverside Records and Milestone Records. His collection The View From Within: Jazz Writings, 1947-87 was published by Oxford University press. (REBROADCAST from 3.15.88)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer, actor, comic LARRY DAVID. He wrote and stars in the new Broadway play, Fish in the Dark. Of course, he's best known for co-creating Seinfeld, and for creating and starring in Curb Your Enthusiasm. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Collective Portrait, the new album by Eddie Henderson on the Smoke Sessions label. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Buried Giant the novel by Kazuo Ishiguro, the author of The Remains of the Day.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Musician KIM GORDON co-founded the post punk band Sonic Youth, and was the band's bassist. She has a new memoir Girl in a Band. The band split up a few ago, and her marriage to co-founder Thurston Moore ended. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Wake the new album by singer songwriter Jane Struthers and her band The Party Line. (3.) KATJA (COT-ya) BLICHFELD & BEN SINCLAR are the co-creators, writers, directors and producers of the web series High Maintenance about a weed delivery guy and his customers. It debuted on line in 2013 and is now available thru Vimeo. BLICHFELD & SINCLAR are married; SINCLAR stars in it as the delivery guy. BLICHFELD used to be casting director for 30 Rock, for which she won an Emmy. (Interview by Fresh Air producer ANN MARIE BALDONADO) (4.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews two new shows: American Crime created by John Ridley and starring Felicity Huffman and Timothy Hutton premiering on ABC Thursday night; and Unbreakable Kimmy Schmidt the Netflix series produced by Tina Fey.

Interviews with J.L. Chestnut, Jr., John Lewis, and Ava Duvernay; Review of the film "'71." March 6, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/972885249].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Saturday, March 7th marks the 50th anniversary of the first voting rights march from Selma to Montgomery. On the show we'll feature interviews about the march. First, The late Civil rights activist and attorney J. L. CHESTNUT, Jr. He witnessed the police attacks on marchers during the Selma to Montgomery March. He wrote a moving autobiography called Black In Selma, about his life in the civil rights movement. CHESTNUT died in 2008 at the age of 77. (REBROADCAST from 8.9.90) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES IN THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Congressman JOHN LEWIS of Georgia. He became part of the civil rights movement while he was a teenager. From 1963 to 1966 he chaired the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. And he became a close associate of Martin Luther King. LEWIS has been a Congressman since 1987. (REBROADCAST from 1.19.09) (3.) Film director and writer AVA DUVERNAY, who moved from film marketing to film directing. Her film Selma about the Voting Rights March from Selma to Montgomery was nominated for an Academy Award for best film. She also directed the film Middle of Nowhere. Previously, she ran her own publicity company called DuVernay Agency where she represented films like Dreamgirls and Invictus. Her first produced feature was I Will Follow. She also made the documentary My Mic Sounds Nice: The Truth About Women in Hip-Hop (4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new film ’71 is about "the troubles" in Northern Ireland in 1971.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV writer PETER GOULD and actor JONATHAN BANKS of the new AMC series Better Call Saul. The show is a prequel to Breaking Bad and reprises the character of Saul, the sleazy lawyer, and Mike Ehrmantraut, the hit man slash fixer. GOULD was a writer on Breaking Bad and is co-creator and writer for Better Call Saul. BANKS plays Mike Ehrmantraut. He also used to co-star in the TV show Wiseguy. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews "Complicated Game," the new album by country music singer-songwriter James McMurtry Interview with Jack Bishop and Bridget Lancaster; Obituary for Albert Maysles. March 10, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461546].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JACK BISHOP & BRIDGET LANCASTER of America's Test Kitchen. JACK BISHOP is the Editorial Director of America's Test Kitchen, BRIDGET LANCASTER is the Executive Food Editor. They'll discuss Vegetarian recipes and cooking techniques. The new cookbook from America's Test Interview with George Hodgman; Review of The Hollies' album "The Hollies March 11, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461637].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GEORGE HODGMAN talks about his new memoir Bettyville. It's about Hodgman leaving his home in Manhattan to visit his 91 year old mother, in his small hometown in Missouri, and deciding to stay and take care of her. Hodgman's time with his mother leads to issues they'd never quite discussed with candor?like the fact that he's gay. Bettyville is the first book he's written, but he's edited many books. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us the story of The Hollies who had their 50th anniversary last year.

Interview with Fenton Johnson; Review of Abigail Thomas' and Helen Macdonald's memoirs "What Comes Next and How to Like It" and "H is for Hawk"; Interview with Lee Jackson; Commentary on the editing of Wikipedi March 12, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461322].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist and memoirist FENTON JOHNSON wrote the cover story for the April edition of Harper's Magazine. It's about his twenty years of, living alone, in solitude. In the article Opulence in Solitude: the Dignity & Challenge of Being Alone - he describes his experience of solitude as a secular approach to what he saw the Monks doing nearby when he was growing up. JOHNSON is the author of two novels and the memoirs Geography of the Heart: A Memoir, and Keeping Faith: A Skeptic's Journey among Christian & Buddist Monks. JOHNSON is on faculty at the creative writing program of the University of Arizona. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews two very different memoirs about grief: What Comes Next and How to Like It by Abigail Thomas, and H is for Hawk by Helen Macdonald which has been a best seller in Britian. (3.) British historian LEE JACKSON is the author of Dirty Old London: The Victorian Fight Against Filth. He is also the author of Walking Dicken's London. He talks with Fresh Air producer Sam Briger. (4.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the phrase "comprised of" and campaign against it by Wikipedia editor Bryan Henderson.

Interview with Barry Mann and Cynthia Weil; Interview with Hal Blaine; Review of the film "It Follows"; March 13, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461451].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Husband and wife song writing team, BARRY MANN and CYNTHIA WEIL, the duo behind such songs as 'You've Lost that Loving Feeling,' 'On Broadway,' 'We Gotta Get Out of This Place,' 'Here You Come Again,' 'Don't Know Much,' and more. The two met when they were both working in New York's Tin Pan Alley? MANN as a composer and WEIL as a lyricist. The two have been writing ever since. In edition to their many pop hits, MANN and WEIL have also written songs for films. WEILL has a debut novel I'm Glad I Did -- about a young woman in the music writing business in the 1960s - like Weill. (REBROADCAST from 7/18/00). (2.) Studio drummer HAL BLAINE. His distinctive sound could be heard on thousands of recordings from the late 1950s and on for 25 years. He was part of the studio session band, The Wrecking Crew. The band is the subject of a new documentary titled The Wrecking Crew. BLAINE played on the hit records, 'Be My Baby' by The Ronettes, 'Good Vibrations' by the Beach Boys, 'I Got You Babe,' by Sony & Cher, 'Mr. Tambourine Man,' by The Byrds, 'Monday, Monday' by the Mamas and the Papas, 'Strangers in the Night' by Frank Sinatra, and many many more. BLAINE was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST from 5/9/01) (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the indie horror film It Follows.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Congressman BARNEY FRANK. He has a new memoir about his life and thirty plus years as a Representative from Massachusetts, A Life In Politics: From the Great Society to Same-Sex Marriage. He came out as gay in 1987. He now teaches at the Harvard Kennedy School of Government. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock music critic KEN TUCKER reviews The Firewatchers Daughter the new album by singer-songwriter Brandi Carlile. He says it's her best.

Interview with Dan Torday; Review of Artur Schnabel's remastered recordings; Commentary of television binge watching. March 17, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461420].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Novelist DAN TORDAY is the author of the new book The Last Flight of Poxl West, inspired by fake memoirs, and the stories of his Jewish relatives in Hungary during World War 2. TORDAY's previous book, the novella, The Sensualist, won the 2012 National Jewish Book Award for debut fiction. TORDAY is Director of Creative Writing at Bryn Mawr College. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE NEXT HALF HOUR)(2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ tells us about recently remastered recordings of Austrian pianist Artur Schnabel on the French label Pristine Audio.(3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI applauds the demise of networks encouraging binge watching, and the return of watching TV shows on a schedule at the same time as everyone else.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist DANIEL GENIS. He spent ten years in prison for armed robbery (he was named the "sorry bandit" for the apologies he made to his victims while robbing them at the point of a pocket knife). He had been a heroin addict and owed his dealer money. Before going to prison he studied history and French at New York University, and had been an assistant to a literary agent. He got out of prison in 2014 and since then has been a journalist, writing often about prison life and issues. He's written for The New York Daily News, Newsweek, Paris Review, The Washington Post, and other publications. GENIS has an upcoming book about his years in prison, and the 1046 books he read while inside. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Scorpion Eater the new album by saxophonist Tony Malaby's quartet Tubacello.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Bluegrass musician and singer NORMAN BLAKE. The 77 year old is well known for his flatpicking. He plays guitar, mandolin, and dobro. For years he played with Johnny Cash, and he recorded on Bob Dylan's Nashville Skyline album. You may recognize his voice from You are My Sunshine which he sang on the soundtrack of O Brother Where Art Thou. BLAKE has a new album of original songs, Wood, Wires & Words. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU MOST OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new novel A Little Life by Hanya Yanagihara.

Obituary for Samuel Charters; Interview with Phil Klay; Review of documentary "Seymour March 20, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460988].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Blues historian SAMUEL CHARTERS. He died Wednesday at age 85. We'll listen to an interview Terry Gross recorded with CHARTERS in 1987 in which CHARTERS talks about tracking down musician Lightnin' Hopkins and helping Hopkins revive his career. (2.) PHIL KLAY talks about his collection of short stories about American Marines in Iraq, and veterans readjusting to life back home, called 'Redeployment.' The book was just awarded a national book critics circle award. (rebroadcast from 11.25.14) (3.) Critic at large JOHN POWERS reviews 'Seymour: An Introduction,' the new documentary about pianist Seymour Bernstein.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former senior orca trainer for the marine park SeaWorld, JOHN HARGROVE. He quit in 2012 after 14 years. Two marine park trainers were killed by whales, and he was nearly killed. He now believes whales should not be held in captivity. HARGROVE is featured in the documentary Blackfish, and is the author of the new book Beneath the Surface: Killer Whales, Seaworld, and the Truth Beyond Blackfish. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) We hear from two Seaworld representatives: CHUCK TOMPKINS, Corporate Curator of Zoological Operations, and CHRIS DOLD, Vice President of Veterinary Services. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES).

Interview with John Ridley and Benito Martinez; Review of the premier of the Late Late Show with James Corden. March 24, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461531].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Creator and executive producer of the new ABC TV series American Crime, JOHN RIDLEY, and actor BENITO MARTINEZ who co-stars in it. SCOTT wrote the screenplay for 12 Years A Slave, and produced the TV shows Third Watch, and Barbershop TV. He's written a number of novels. MARTINEZ plays Alonzo Guitierrez a widower trying to keep his teenage kids out of trouble. MARTINEZ formerly played Captain David Acevedo on the show The Shield, and appeared on House of Cards, and Sons of Anarchy. (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the premier of The Late Late Show with James Corden, the replacement for Craig Ferguson.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JEFFREY TOOBIN is a staff writer for The New Yorker and senior legal analyst for CNN. He'll talk with Terry about Senator Ted Cruz who just announced he will be running for president. TOOBIN'S profile of Cruz, The Absolutist, ran in the June 30, 2014 issue of the magazine. (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews American Ghost, a memoir by Hannah Nordhaus that delves into the life of her great-great-grandmother who is believed to be the "ghost" who haunts the mansion, now the La Posada hotel, in Santa Fe where she once lived.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Creator, and executive producer and writer of the FX series Justified, GRAHAM YOST. Justified is in it's sixth and final season. It's based on a novella by Elmore Leonard who was also an executive producer for the show, until his death in 2013. YOST is also a producer of the FX series The Americans. He wrote the screenplay for the film Speed. He wrote episodes of From the Earth to the Moon, Band of Brothers, and The Pacific, and created the NBC series Boomtown. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new, debut album by Australian singer-songwriter Courtney Barnett. It's called "Sometimes I Sit and Think, and Sometimes I Just Sit."

Interview with Siddhartha Mukherjee; Review of film "While We're Young." March 27, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461621].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Terry Gross interviews oncologist SIDDHARTHA MUKHERJEE (muk-er-gee ? rhymes with 'booker gee'). Dr. Mukherjee's book, Cancer: The Emperor of All Maladies, is the basis of the new PBS documentary series presented by Ken Burns. The series premieres Monday. (rebroadcast from 11.17.10) (2.) Film Critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Noah Baumbach's new film, While We're Young. It Stars Ben Stiller and Naomi Watts as married forty-somethings who befriend a couple about 20 years younger than them.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Author KEVIN KRUSE (cruise) talks about his new book 'One Nation Under God: How Corporate America Invented Christian America.' It tells the story of how money, religion and politics came together to create the idea that America is a Christian nation.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE Interview with Sue Bell Cobb and Billy Corriher; Review of Captain Beefheart's album "Sun, Zoom, Spark March 31, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461950].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former Chief Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court, SUE BELL COBB. COBB was narrowly elected in 2006, following a campaign in which both COBB and her opponent raised spent millions of dollars. She retired in 2011. She's written an article titled "I Was Alabama's Top Judge. I'm Ashamed By What I had to Do to Get There: How Money is Ruining America's Courts." In the article she describes the problems with Judges running for office and raising money for campaigns. The article appears in the latest edition of Politico Magazine. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) BILLY CORRIHER (KORRY-er), the director of research for legal progress at the Center for American Progress. He focuses on state courts. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (3.) Rock historian ED WARD has the story of the avant-garde musician Captain Beefheart.

Interview with Russell T. Davies; Review of the HBO documentary 'Sinatra April 1, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461594].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British TV producer RUSSELL T. DAVIES (pronounced "Davis") is the creator of two new British shows about two generations of LGBT characters, Cucumber and Banana. The shows will premiere in the U.S. in April on the Logo network. DAVIES also created the original BBC show Queer as Folk, and was behind the reboot of Dr. Who. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the HBO two-night four hour documentary Sinatra: All or Nothing At All marking the 100th anniversary of Frank Sinatra's birth. (on Sunday and Monday, April 5 & 6th) (3.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews a new entry in the ongoing series of Rough Guide music anthologies called Latin Rare Groove Volume 2, of mostly instrumental cuts of salsa, funk, soul and rock from vintage and new performers.

Interview with Bruce Eric Kaplan; Obituary for Cynthia Lennon. April 2, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461677].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New Yorker cartoonist, writer, and TV producer BRUCE ERIC KAPLAN. He has a new memoir about his childhood in New Jersey in the 60s and 70s, I was a Child. KAPLAN is also a writer and co-executive producer on HBO's Girls, and has written for Seinfeld and Six Feet Under. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember CYNTHIA LENNON, the first wife of John Lennon, and the first Beatles wife. She died Wednesday at the age of 75. The cause was cancer. She wrote two memoirs about her marriage. (REBROADCAST from 1985)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the new PBS mini-series Wolf Hall, adapted from the books by Hilary Mantel, Wolf Hall and the sequel Bringing Up the Bodies. He was a fan of both books. (2.) British novelist HILARY MANTEL is the author of the best selling and Booker Prize winning novels Wolf Hall, and Bringing Up The Bodies, about Thomas Cromwell, the ruthless advisor to King Henry the 8th. Mantel is the first British novelist and the first woman to win the prize twice. Both novels have been adapted by PBS into a new mini-series. (REBROADCAST from 11.26.12) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer PHILIP GLASS, one of the most influential composers of the late-20th century. When he first started playing his compositions in the 1970s it was so radical that audience threw things at him. But now his music is heard and appreciated worldwide. GLASS has a new memoir, Words without Music. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Masha Gessen; Tribute to Billie Holiday. April 7, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461427].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MASHA GESSEN discusses her new book "The Brothers: The Road to An American Tragedy." It's about Dzhokhar and Tamerlan Tsarnaev. Tamerlan was killed in the manhunt following the Boston Marathon Bombing. Dzhokhar was arrested and is currently on trial for the bombing. GESSEN's new book traces the history of the Chechen-immigrant brothers: their family's history as exiles, and the brothers' radicalization. Masha Gessen is a Russian immigrant and has also written books about Vladimir Putin and the activist band, Pussy Riot. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD pays tribute to Billie Holiday on the 100th anniversary of her birth.

Interview with Brooke Borel; Interview with Lucy Knisley; Review of the comedy TV series "Louie" and the mockumentary "The comedians." April 8, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958460637].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Science journalist BROOKE BOREL is the author of Infested: How the Bed Bug Infiltrated Our Bedrooms and Took over the World. She is contributing editor at Popular Science, and has written for Time, Nautilus, Bicycling, Discover and Cosmos. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Comic artist LUCY KNISLEY ("nicely") is the author of the graphic memoir Displacement about a disastrous cruise she took with her grandparents. Not until she was on the trip did she realize the extent of their health problems and how much help they needed. KNISELY is also the author of the previous graphic novels: Relish (about food), An Age of License (about going on a book tour to Europe), and French Milk (about a six week trip she took to Paris with her mother). (INTERVIEW BY PRODUCER SAM BRIGER). (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI previews the return of Lous C.K.'s comedy series Louie, and the premiere of the new mockumentary comedy series The Comedians, starring Billy Crystal and Josh Gad. Both shows are on the FX cable network Thursday night.

Interview with Adam Driver; Review of Kendrick Lamar's 'To Pimp A Butterfly'; April 9, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461499].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor ADAM DRIVER. He's best known for playing Adam Sackler, Hannah's boyfriend on the HBO series Girls. He's currently co-starring in the Noah Baumbach film While We're Young. He also had roles in the films Lincoln and Frances Ha. He can be seen in the upcoming films Silence (by Martin Scorsese) and Midnight Special. DRIVER is a former U.S. Marine and he graduated from Julliard. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews To Pimp A Butterfly the new album by Kendrick Lamar.

Interview with Dr. Kevin Fong; Review of the film 'Clouds of Sils Maria'. April 10, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461494].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Bryan Burrough; Obituary of Stanley Kutler. April 13, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461532].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist BRYAN BURROUGH is the author of the new book Days of Rage: America's Radical Underground, the FBI, and the Forgotten Age of Revolutionary Violence. It's about the late 60s and 70s when groups like the Weather Underground, The Symbionese Liberation Army, The Black Liberation Army, and other groups used violence to get their word out and to foment revolution. They bombed government buildings and corporations, targeted police officers, and used kidnapping as a means to their ends. BURROUGH is a special correspondent at Vanity Fair and is the author of a number of books including the best seller Barbarians at the Gate (which he co-authored). ”(THIS INTERVIEW WILL CONTINUE INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW.) (2.) We remember historian STANLEY KUTLER who died Tuesday at the age of 80. The cause was heart failure. In 1996 KUTLER sued the National Archives and the Nixon Estate for the release of 3000 hours of tapes. KUTLER edited 200 hours of that. His resulting book Abuse of Power: The New Nixon Tapes became the standard reference on Watergate. KUTLER is also the author of The Wars of Watergate, and historical advisor for the television documentary, Watergate.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) BEAU WILLIMON is the creator and writer of the Netflix series House of Cards, now in it's third season. The show features the ruthless and conniving Frank Underwood a South Carolina congressman - played by Kevin Spacey - who in this season has managed to become President. WILLIMON is also wrote the campaign-trail play, Farragut North. It was later adapted into the film The Ides of March. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Beat the Champ the new album by The Mountain Goats, a song cycle about pro wrestling. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews The Children's Crusade the new novel by Ann Packer.
Interview with Billy Crystal & Josh Gad; Review of the final episode of the FX cable show 'Justified'. April 15, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461323].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian and actor BILLY CRYSTAL and actor JOSH GAD. The two co-star as exaggerated versions of themselves in the FX series The Comedians, as an older famous comic unwillingly paired up with an up and coming comic on a sketch TV show. Crystal has starred in many films, comedy specials and is the author of memoir Still Foolin' ’Em: Where I’ve Been, Where I’m Going, and Where the Hell Are My Keys? He also starred in the Tony Awarding-winning one man show 700 Sundays, on Broadway. GAD was the character of Olaf in the Disney animated film Frozen, and he starred as Elder Cunningham in the hit Broadway musical Book of Mormon. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews last night's final episode of Justified on the FX cable. The show ended after six seasons.

Interview with Mark Ronson; Review of ten years of Youtube; April 16, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461452].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British musician and producer MARK RONSON. He produced the hit single Uptown Funk featuring Bruno Mars, from Ronson's album Uptown Special. RONSON also produced most of Back to Black the Grammy award winning album by Amy Winehouse, which included her hit song Rehab. RONSON also has produced recordings for Adele, Bruno Mars, Christina Aguilera, Paul McCartney, Robbie Williams and others. RONSON has several other albums of his own. He got his start as a DJ. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Tech correspondent ALEXIS MADRIGAL considers the 10th birthday of YouTube and how what was once a wild and largely amateur place has become professionalized.
Interview with Joel McHale; Review of the movie 'True Story'. April 17, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461324].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Actor and comedian JOEL McHALE. He stars in the TV show Community, which moved to Yahoo recently for its sixth season after being on NBC for five. McHALE also hosts The Soup, which satirizes reality TV on the cable channel E!. he was also the featured comic at the 2014 White House Correspondents Dinner. (REBROADCAST from 6.30.14) (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews True Story the new film starring Jonah Hill and James Franco based on the true story of a disgraced reporter who gets played by an accused murderer.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Pulitzer Prize winning novelist TONI MORRISON. Her new novel is God Help the Child. MORRISON is also the author of the novels The Bluest Eye, Sula, Song of Solomon and Beloved. MORRISON received the Nobel Prize, and the Presidential Medal of Freedom. MORRISON birth name is Chloe Wofford. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Steve Osborne; Review of Ross MacDonald's Four novels of 1950. April 21, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461634].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Retired NYPD police lieutenant STEVE OSBORNE. He retired after 20 years on the job. He has a new memoir, The Job: True Tales From the Life of a New York City Cop. During that time he made thousands of arrests, responded to thousands and thousands of incidents, but never fired his gun. Although he says he could have justly used deadly physical force a number of times, he was able to resolve the situation without it. OSBORNE is a born story teller, and has appeared on The Moth and The Moth Radio Hour. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN
CORRIGAN reviews the new Library of Congress collection Ross Macdonald: Four Novels of 1950s which reprints four mystery novels set in California by Ross McDonald. CORRIGAN says these novels offer readers "the thrill of watching a writer evolve."

Interview with Donald Palumbo; Interview with Will Forte; April 22, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461576].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Metropolitan Opera's chorus master DONALD PALUMBO. He directs the chorus, which can include 100 to 150 singers. PALUMBO has been conducting them since 2007 and is credited with bringing the chorus up to the standard of the orchestra. Last year he fell stepping off a backstage platform during a worldwide broadcast of Shostakovich's The Nose, broke his hip, and continued conducting the chorus. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actor and Saturday Night Live alum WILL FORTE (pronounced "FOR-tye"). He created and stars in the new FOX comedy series Last Man on Earth. He also co-starred in the film Nebraska. He was a cast member of Saturday Night Live from 2002-2010. (INTERVIEW BY FRESH AIR PRODUCER ANNMARIE BALDONADO)

Interview with Gregory Johnsen; Review of Dwight Yoakam's new album "Second Hand Heart". April 23, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461606].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) GREGORY JOHNSEN discusses the conflicts in Yemen. JOHNSEN is a writer for Buzzfeed and lives in Istanbul. He is also the author of the book The Last Refuge: Yemen, Al Qaeda & America's War in Arabia. He has lived in Yemen and was nearly kidnapped reporting from there. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Dwight Yoakam's new album "Second Hand Heart."
Interview with David Kertzer; Review of the movie 'About Elly'. April 24, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461416].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Historian DAVID KERTZER. His new book is The Pope and Mussolini: The Secret History of Pius XI and the Rise of Fascism in Europe. The book is based on groundbreaking research in Vatican and Fascist archives and brings a new understanding to the Vatican's role in the rise of Fascism in Europe. Both the Pope and dictator Benito Mussolini came to power in 1922. KERTZER shows how Pius XI played a crucial role in making Mussolini's dictatorship possible and helped keep him in power in exchange for Mussolini restoring many of the privileges the Church had lost. Mussolini also gave into the Pope's demands that the police enforce Catholic morality. KERTZER teaches at Brown University, where he is Dupee University Professor of Social Science; and Professor of Anthropology and of Italian Studies. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES - Original broadcast date: 1/27/2014). (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the Iranian film "About Elly," from director and screenwriter Asghar Farhadi who also directed the 2011 Oscar winning film "A Separation."

Interview with Pokey LaFarge; Review of Alabama Shakes' new album "Sound and Color"; Commentary on the tech buzzword 'disrupt'; April 27, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461602].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer Songwriter POKEY LaFARGE. He has a new album called "Something in the Water." LaFARGE is influenced by American music of the 20s, 30s and 40s and writes and records original songs in addition to covering the music of people like Jimmie Rodgers and Leroy Carr. (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the new album from the band Alabama Shakes. (3.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG considers the tech and business term 'disrupt.'
Interview with Louis C.K. April 28, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461599].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian LOUIS C.K. (louie-see-kay) returns to Fresh Air. His FX series 'Louie' is in its 5th season. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Interview with Amanda Berry, Gina DeJesus & Mary Jordan; Review of the string quartet, Brooklyn Riders', new CD the Almanac; Review of Karl Ove Knausgaard's novel My Struggle; April 29, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461414].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) AMANDA BERRY & GINA DEJESUS are two of the three women who were kidnapped as teenagers by Ariel Castro and held for a decade in his house in Cleveland, Ohio. The girls were beaten, raped, and BERRY gave birth to a daughter fathered by Castro. In 2013 they escaped making nationwide headlines. BERRY & DEJESUS have collaborated on a new book with Washington Post correspondent MARY JORDAN, Hope: A Memoir of Survival in Cleveland. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews Almanac the new CD by the string quartet Brooklyn Rider, a group that blurs the boundaries between classical and more popular kinds of chamber music. (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews My Struggle the autobiographical novel by 46-year old Norwegian Karl Ove Knausgaard.

Interview with Mark Arax; Reviews of two albums paying tribute to Billie Holiday; April 30, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461415].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist MARK ARAX discusses the California water wars and the politics and mechanics of how water is distributed and used in the state. He has a forthcoming book on the subject. ARAX is a native Californian and his family farmed in the San Joaquin Valley - an area where water access is in contention. ARAX is also the author of a memoir about his investigation into the murder of his father in 1972, in the bar he owned, In My Father's Name. ARAX was 15 when his father was murdered and the investigation helped turn him into a journalist. And he is the author of the collection of stories, West of the West: Dreamers, Believers, Builders & Killers in the Golden State. ARAX is a former reporter for the Los Angeles Times. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews two tribute albums to Billie Holiday: "Yesterday I Had the Blues," by Jose James and "Coming Forth By Day," by Cassandra Wilson.
Fresh Air With Terry Gross

Interview with Timothy Small; Review of Nellie McKay's album "My Weekly Reader"; Review of "The Avengers May 1, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461432].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British character TIMOTHY SPALL. He received the New York Film critic ‘s circle award and best actor at Cannes for his starring role in the new Mike Leigh film Turner, based on the real life painter J.M.W. Turner (b. 1775, d. 1851). SPALL has also worked with Leigh on the films Topsy Turvy and Secrets and Lies. He also had parts in several Harry Potter films and played Fagin in the BBC tv adaptation of Oliver Twist. SPALL grew up in working class London and attended the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts. (Original Broadcast Date: 12/15/2014) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews My Weekly Reader the new album of covers of songs from the 1960s by Nellie McKay. (3.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the film The Avengers: The Age of Ultron.

Interview with Mike Matheny; Review of "The Late Show with David Letterman." May 4, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461435].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former major league catcher, and former coach of youth baseball MIKE MATHENY. After his career as a major league catcher ended, he took up coaching a youth baseball team. He wrote a letter to parents with his demands for how he wanted parents to act during the game, among other things: no screaming, swearing, or even shouts of encouragement. His letter went viral and became known as the Matheny Manifesto. His approach to coaching relied on encouraging character and integrity in his players, and making the game fun, not stressful. His new book is The Matheny Manifesto: A young manager's old school views on success in sports and life. MATHENY now manages the St. Louis Cardinals.
(INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI has an appreciation of David Letterman who retires May 20th as host of the The Late Show. Tonight CBS presents a retrospective special about Letterman.

Description of show segment(s)

(2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews One of Us, the new book about the mass murders in Norway in 2011 by a lone gun-man who killed 69 people at a Labor Party Youth camp, after setting off a car bomb outside government buildings in Oslo, killing eight people. It's by journalist Asne Seierstad. She covered the trial of the gun man for Newsweek.

Interview with Robert and Michelle King; Review of Dafnis Prieto's album "Triangles and Circles"; Interview with Scott M. Gimple; May 6, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461486].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MICHELLE & ROBERT KING are the creators and executive producers of the CBS legal drama The Good Wife. The show is in it's sixth season. It stars Juliianne Marguiles, Christine Baranski, and Josh Charles. (INTERVIEW BY DAVID BIANCULLI) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Triangles and Circles the new CD by Cuban drummer Dafnis Prieto (pre-ET-o) with his three-horn sextet. He's a former winner of the Macarthur Fellowship. (3.) Executive producer SCOTT M. GIMPLE of the zombie apocalypse series The Walking Dead on AMC, which just completed season five. GIMPLE is also a cartoonist and created the animated TV show Fillmore! (INTERVIEW BY PRODUCER SAM BRIGER)

---

Interview with Matthew Weiner; Review of Ted Lewis' final novel "GBH"; May 7, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461411].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Creator and executive producer MATTHEW WEINER of AMC's Mad Men. The show is in it's seventh and final season, with just two new episodes left. The show about a Madison avenue ad agency began in 1960 and has moved thru the decade. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews GBH the final novel by British mystery writer Ted Lewis. POWERS says Lewis' mystery novels weren't the classic gentil British sort, but "gritty and propulsive."

---

Obituary for Ben E. King; Review of Ruth Rendell's books; Obituary for Ruth Rendell; Review of the movie "Maggie"; May 8, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461465].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Rhythm and Blues singer BEN E. KING. He died April 30th at the age of 76. He was a member of the Drifters in the late 50s. His smooth vocals graced such popular hits as There Goes My Baby and Save The Last Dance for Me. His solo career produced the hits I (Who Have Nothing), Spanish Harlem and, his best-known song, which enjoyed a revival, Stand By Me. (REBROADCAST FROM 9/2/88) (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has an appreciation of British mystery writer RUTH RENDELL (see below) (3.) British mystery writer RUTH RENDELL (REN-dul). She died Saturday at the age of 85. At three books every two years, she wrote over 60 novels and sold 20 million worldwide. She was best known for her more traditional Chief Inspector Reginald Wexford mysteries and for dark psychological thrillers. In 1997 she became Baroness Rendell of Babergh and sat in the House of Lords. (REBROADCAST from 10.10.89); Interview with RUTH RENDELL ( rebroadcast from 10.12.05)
(4.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Maggie starring Arnold Schwarzenegger and a bunch of zombies.

Interview with Chris Impey; Review of the "Apu Trilogy" films; May 11, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461466].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Astronomer and cosmologist CHRIS IMPEY. His new book is Beyond: Our Future in Space. IMPEY teaches at the University of Arizona and is the deputy head of the astronomy department. He's won 11 teach awards. His research interests include observational cosmology, quasars, and distant galaxies. IMPEY also spent time in the Himalayan Mountains teaching Tibetan monks about science. His book about that is Humble Before the Void: Western Science Meets Tibetan Buddhism. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). 2.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews a new 4k restoration of the so-called Apu Trilogy by Indian film director Satyajit Ray. It includes the films Pather Panchali, Aparajito and The World of Apu. POWERS says the new restoration is "spectacular" and that it "shines with a beauty" he never imagined.

Interview with Sally Mann. May 12, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461457].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Photographer SALLY MANN. She has a new memoir Hold Still. She lives and works on the farm where she was raised in Lexington, Virginia. She's probably best known for her controversial book of photographs, Immediate Family, published in 1992 and featuring photos of her nude children. MANN's other photograph projects include a series called Proud Flesh of her husband of 45 years, and the state of his body since the onset of muscular distrophy. She also has done a series of photographs taken at the forensic anthropology center at the University of Tennessee where the decomposition of human bodies is studied scientifically. MANN has been the recipient of a Guggenheim fellowship and awards by the National Endowment for the Arts. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).
Interview with Tom Brokaw; Review of The Ramsey Lewis Trio's single "The 'In' Crowd; Review of Andrew Ervin's debut novel"Burning Down George Orwell's House." May 13, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461598].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Former NBC news anchor TOM BROKAW. He was anchor from 1983 to 2005. He has a new memoir about his cancer diagnosis and treatment, A Lucky Life, Interrupted. BROKAW was diagnosed with multiple myeloma in 2013. He is now in remission. (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD looks at The Ramsey Lewis Trio's single "The 'In' Crowd," 50 years after it was recorded live in Washington DC. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews "Burning Down George Orwell's House," the debut novel by Andrew Ervin.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) RICHARD ROTHSTEIN, a research associate at the Economic Policy Institute, discusses how federal, state and local government policies have led to highly segregated areas like West Baltimore, and Ferguson, MO. ROTHSTEIN says the unrest in these areas is a legacy of these government policies. (2.) KEN TUCKER reviews the debut solo album from Chris Stapleton who has written hits for George Strait and Tim McGraw.

Obituary for B.B. King; Review of "Mad Max May 15, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461767].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember the man known as the King of the Blues, B.B. KING. He died Thursday, May 14th at the age of 89. He had been under hospice care. KING was born on a cotton plantation in Mississippi before moving to Memphis where he began his career. He had his first hit on the R&B charts in 1951 and then began a life on the road, touring in bigger and bigger venues. He won numerous awards, numerous Grammies, an MTV award, and a Presidential Medal of the Arts. He is also a member of the Rock-and-Roll Hall of Fame. (REBROADCAST from 10.22.96) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Mad Max: Fury Road.

---

Interview with Martin Ford; Review of Ramon Valle's album "Take Off"; Review of the "Mad Men" finale; May 18, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461377].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARTIN FORD, author of the new book "The Rise of the Robots: Technology and the Threat of a Jobless Future". FORD says that advances in computer software and robotics could have far-reaching social and economic impacts as even educated workers can't find employment, leading to lower wages and crashing consumer demand. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews the new album "Take Off" by Ramon Valle (VAH-yay). (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the finale of AMC's "Mad Men."

---

Interview with Rachel Dissell; Interview with Elizabeth Banks; May 19, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461380].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Reporter RACHEL DISSELL (dis-SELL) of the Cleveland newspaper "The Plain Dealer." While covering sex crimes in Cleveland, DISSELL discovered the existence of thousands of untested, backlogged rape kits that police had collected over about 20 years. Rape kits can include DNA evidence about the identities of possible sexual assault perpetrators. DISSELL's reporting helped lead to a new law in Ohio mandating that new and old rape kits be DNA tested. (2.) Actress ELIZABETH BANKS. BANKS directed the new hit comedy "Pitch Perfect 2". She's also appeared in "The 40-year old Virgin," and The Hunger Games film franchise and had a recurring role on the TV series 30 Rock. (INTERVIEW BY ANN MARIE BALDONADO)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) MARC MARON interviews TERRY GROSS about her life and work in front of a live audience at the Brooklyn Academy of Music. The Brooklyn academy of music, as part of their "RadioLoveFest" series which they presented in partnership with the public radio station WNYC. The interview was taped on May 6th, 2015. MARON is a standup comic, actor and host of the podcast "WTF with Marc Maron." He is also the creator and star of the IFC series "Maron." (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THROUGH THE END OF THE SHOW)

Review of Final Episode of "The Late Show with David Letterman May 21, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461379].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the final episode of "The Late Show with David Letterman" (2.) Former executive producer of "The Late Show with David Letterman," ROB BURNETT. BURNETT began working for Letterman in 1985, as an intern, and eventually became The Late Show's head writer and later executive producer. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW)

Interview with Maureen Corrigan; Review of the film "Tomorrowland"; May 22, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461418].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Fresh air's book critic, MAUREEN CORRIGAN, talks about her book: 'So We Read On,' which is now out in paperback. It's about the novel Corrigan loves more than any other - the novel she and many other critics consider the greatest American novel, The Great Gatsby. In writing about Gatsby, Corrigan also writes about herself as a reader and teacher. MAUREEN CORRIGAN teaches literature at

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Composer PHILIP GLASS, one of the most influential composers of the late-20th century. When he first started playing his compositions in the 1970s it was so radical that audience threw things at him. But now his music is heard and appreciated worldwide. GLASS has a new memoir, Words without Music. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW) (REBROADCAST FROM 4.6.15)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British neurosurgeon HENRY MARSH. He specializes in brain surgery and pioneered brain surgery under local anesthesia. His new book is Do No Harm: Stories of Life, Death & Brain Surgery. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Classical music critic LLOYD SCHWARTZ reviews a new 53-CD box set called The Decca Sound celebrating the early days of Hi-Fi.

Interview with John Powers; Interview with Maria Bello. May 27, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461774].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Our critic-at-large JOHN POWERS just attended the Cannes Film festival. He'll talk with Terry about the films and the scene there. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Actress MARIA BELLO. Her films include A History of Violence, Prisoners, Beautiful Boy, and Thank You For Smoking. She's also has recurring roles in several TV series including ER. In October 2013 she wrote an op-ed in the New York Times that went viral about falling in love with her best-friend, another woman. Her new collection is Whatever...Love is Love: Questioning the Labels we Give Ourselves. (INTERVIEW BY ANNA SALE, host of the WNYC podcast Death, Sex & Money.)

Interview with David Oyelowo; May 28, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461777].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actor DAVID OYELOWO ("Oh-YEL-LOW-oh). He was nominated for an academy award for his portrayal of Martin Luther King Jr in the film Selma. In The Butler he played a civil rights activist. He also had a part in Lincoln. He was born in England and spent a portion of his childhood in Nigeria, where his parents are from. OYELOWO is currently starring in the HBO movie Nightingale. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU END OF SHOW)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Irish actor CHRIS O'DOWD. His role as the jilted cop opposite Kristen Wiig in Bridesmaids, made him famous in America. He's also starred last year on Broadway with James Franco in Of Mice and Men. And he created, writes and stars in the very funny semi-autobiographical Irish TV series Moone Boy. The third season is streaming now on Hulu. O'DOWD also had a recurring role in HBO's Girls. And he co-starred in Family Tree the satirical series by Christopher Guest on HBO. (REBROADCAST from 5.29.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews Peanut Butter the new album by Joanna Gruesome a five-piece band from Wales. (3.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews recently released big DVD box sets: The Best of the Ed Sullivan Show, The Fugitive: The Complete Series, Parenthood, Cheers, and Frasier.
Interview with Michelle Goldberg; Review of the Apple Watch; June 1, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461433].

Description of show segment(s)

Interview with Carey Mulligan; Review of 2015 summer books; Review of the Gary Peacock Trio's album 'Now This.' June 2, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461431].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) British actress CAREY MULLIGAN. She's currently starring on Broadway in Skylight opposite Bill Nye and has been nominated for a Tony award for her performance. You can also see her starring (and singing) in the film Far from the Madding Crowd. Her other films include Shame, Inside Llewyn Davis, An Education, Never Let Me Go, and Pride & Prejudice. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN has some suggestions for early summer reading. (3.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Now This the new album by the Gary Peacock Trio.

Interview with Jamie Bartlett; Review of Bassekou Kouyate's new album 'Ba Power'. June 3, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461412].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) JAMIE BARTLETT is Director of Centre for the Analysis of Social Media and a tech blogger for @telegraph. He's the author of the new book The Dark Net: Inside the Digital Underworld. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Music critic MILO MILES reviews Ba Power the new album from veteran Mali bandleader Bassekou Kouyate [Ba-say-Koo Ko-YA-tay].

Interview with Andrew Solomon; Review of movie "Spy". June 4, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461413].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer ANDREW SOLOMON. He writes about expectant mothers and depression in the New York Times Magazine section (The Secret Sadness of Pregnancy With Depression - May 28, 2015). SOLOMON’s 2001 National Book award winner The Noonday Demon: An Atlas of Depression, has been republished with a new chapter on new treatments for depression. In his 2012 book Far From the Tree: Parents, Children and the Search for Identity he explored what it's like for parents who have a child who is profoundly different, or likely to be stigmatized.(THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE NEXT PART OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Spy starring Melissa McCarthy as an CIA spy, written and directed by Paul Feig.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Singer and Pianist MICHAEL FEINSTEIN (FINE-STINE). When he was 20, he got a job working with Ira Gershwin, one of his musical heroes, as an archivist and cataloger. He and Ira Gershwin became close friends and Feinstein worked with him for six years, until Gershwin's death at age 86. In his book, The Gershwins and Me: A Personal History in Twelve Songs, FEINSTEIN shares stories about the Gershwins through 12 chapters relating to 12 classic Gershwin songs. (REBROADCAST from 10.17.12)
Interview with Joel Bourne; Review of Jackie Moore's compilation album; Review of Kate Atkinson's novel "A God in Ruins"; June 8, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461467].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist JOEL BOURNE discusses the challenges caused by a quickly rising global population at a time when climate change could severely limit agricultural production. BOURNE's new book is The End of Plenty: The Race to Feed a Crowded World. BOURNE says that in the next 40 years, humanity will have to produce as much food as it has since the beginning of civilization to avoid catastrophe. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (2.) Rock historian ED WARD tells us the story of singer Jackie Moore, who he says didn't get the recognition she deserved. There's a new double-disc of her recordings for Atlantic Records. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews A God In Ruins by Kate Atkinson.

Interview with Nisid Hajari; Interview with Les Paul; June 9, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461410].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist NISID HAJARI ("Neh-said Hah-JAR-ee") is the author of the new book Midnight's Furies: The Deadly Legacy of India's Partition. HAJARI is Asia Editor for Bloomberg View, the editorial board of Bloomberg News. Previously Hajari spent 10 years as a top editor at Newsweek International and Newsweek magazine in New York. (2.) An excerpt from Fresh Air's 1992 interview with the late guitarist, and inventor LES PAUL who was born 100 years ago today.

Interview with Pete Docter; Interview with Kumail Nanjiani June 10, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461769].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) PETE DOCTER, directors [sic] of the new animated Disney / Pixar film 'Inside Out.' 'Inside Out' is all about what goes on inside the mind of a child, where joy, fear, anger, sadness and disgust are at the controls. Docter also directed the films 'Monsters Inc.' and 'UP.' (2.) Pakistani-American Actor and comedian KUMAIL NANJIANI (coo-MALE nahn-gee-AH-nee) - he plays a programmer in the HBO series "Silicon Valley." NANJIANI is also a standup comedian and has guest starred on many shows including "Veep," "Portlandia," "Inside Amy Schumer," and "Broad City." He also hosts several podcasts. (INTERVIEW BY ANNMARIE BALDONADO)

Interview with Patrick Healy; Commentary on modern spelling bees; Review of Shamir's debut album "Ratchet"; June 11, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461815].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) New York Times political correspondent PATRICK HEALY discusses Wisconsin governor Scott Walker, who is expected to declare his candidacy for president early next month. HEALY writes that Walker, more than any of his potential rivals is a product of a loose network of conservative donors, think tanks and talk radio hosts who have helped pave the way for his candidacy over the last several years. (2.) Linguist GEOFF NUNBERG discusses the modern Spelling Bee and says that it's really not about being good at spelling anymore. (3.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the debut album of Las Vegas singer-songwriter Shamir

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) We remember jazz alto saxophonist and revolutionary avant-garde composer ORNETTE COLEMAN. He died Thursday at age 85. (original broadcast date: 6/23/87) (2.) Bassist CHARLIE HADEN, who began playing with COLEMAN in the 50s, and played on the album "The Shape of Jazz to Come." (original broadcast date: 11/26/85) (3.) Trumpeter DON CHERRY, who also began playing in COLEMAN's band in the 50s. (original broadcast date: 9/12/1990) (4.) An interview with ORNETTE COLEMAN and his son, DENARDO COLEMAN, who is a jazz drummer (original broadcast date: 10/24/95) (5.) British actor CHRISTOPHER LEE - LEE died Sunday in London at age 93. LEE is best known recently for playing the villain Saruman in the Lord of the Rings films. He first gained wide recognition for playing Dracula in 1958. (original broadcast date: 7/30/90) (6.) Film Critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews the new documentary "The Wolfpack" - it won the Documentary Grand Jury prize at this year's Sundance Film Festival. (7.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews a new album featuring the music of Bill Frisell, performed by Michael Gibbs and the NDR band.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Journalist TIM WEINER (WINE-er) discusses his new book "One Man Against the World: The Tragedy of Richard Nixon." It's based on recently declassified documents and gives insights into the motivations and demons of Richard Nixon during his Presidency. WEINER is a New York Times reporter and author of "Legacy of Ashes: The History of the CIA," which won a National Book Award in nonfiction. He also won a pulitzer in 1988 for his reporting on the Pentagon and CIA. (INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews 'All Your Favorite Bands,' the new album from the band Dawes. (3.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews author Mia Alvar's debut short story collection, 'In the Country.'

Interview with Etgar Keret; June 16, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461378].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Israeli writer ETGAR KERET (ETT-gerr CARE-it). Keret's new collection of personal essays, The Seven Good Years, spans the time between the birth of his son and the death of his father. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES THRU THE END OF THE SHOW).

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Screenwriter, director and producer JUDD APATOW talks about the interviews he did in high school with Jerry Seinfeld and other comics for his school radio station. Apatow's interviews with comics are collected in his new book called Sick in the Head: Conversations About Life (and Comedy). (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) TV critic DAVID BIANCULLI reviews the new Sunday night lineup on HBO: the return of True Detective, and the debut of two new comedies: Ballers and The Brink.

Interview with Oren Moverman; June 18, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461419].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer and director OREN MOVERMAN. He co-wrote the screenplay for the new film Love & Mercy about Brian Wilson of the Beach Boys. Wilson was most responsible for the Beach Boys' unique sound that fused harmonious rock with the ethos of surfing. The film stars Paul Dano and John Cusack. MOVERMAN also co-wrote the screenplay and directed the films The Messenger and Rampart. And he co-wrote the screenplay for I'm Not There about Bob Dylan. He wrote and directed the upcoming film Time Out of Mind starring Richard Gere as a homeless man. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We listen back to a 1988 interview Terry did with BRIAN WILSON . Back then he had just released his first solo album, coming after Wilson's much-publicized 20-year struggle with drugs and emotional problems. (REBROADCAST FROM 8.24.88)

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer JACQUELINE WOODSON. On June 1 she began her two year tenure as Young People's Poet Laureate by the Poetry Foundation. Last year she was awarded the National Book Award for Young People's literature for her memoir in verse Brown Girl Dreaming. WOODSON is the author of a number of award-winning children's, middle school and young adult books. Her books After Tupac & D Foster, Feather, Show Way were awarded the Newbery Honor Medal. Her book Coming On Home Soon was awarded the Caldecott Honor, and she's won the Coretta Scott King award numerous times. (REBROADCAST from 12.10.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW) (2.) Film critic DAVID EDELSTEIN reviews Inside Out the new Disney Pixar film directed by Pete Doctor.

Interview with Marc Maron; Obituary for Gunther Schuller. June 22, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461776].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Comedian, actor and host of the podcast WTF, MARC MARON. He interviewed President Barak Obama in his garage where he always tapes his podcasts. Terry Gross will talk with MARON about it. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember composer, arranger, conductor GUNTHER SCHULLER. He died Sunday at the age of 89. The cause was complications of leukemia. One of the most ardent supporters of new music, Schuller was equally at home with the music of bebop and the big band era as with the 12-tone classical composers. He coined the phrase Third Stream music to describe classical and jazz hybrids. SCHULLER won the Pulitzer Prize in 1994 for his orchestral work Of Reminiscences and Reflections. He was the past head of the New England Conservatory of Music, where he founded the New England Conservatory's Ragtime Band. In the late 40s, when he first cultivated his eclectic approach to music, Schuller held jobs simultaneously with the Metropolitan Opera Orchestra and with Miles Davis' tuba band. He started his own record label GM recordings in 1981. (REBROADCAST from 6.3.88)
Interview with Noah Charney; Interview with Alphonso Gomez-Rejon; Review of Kamel Daoud's debut novel "The Meursault Investigation"; June 23, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461661].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Art historian NOAH CHARNEY. He is an expert on art forgery and is author of the new book The Art of Forgery. He is the founding director of ARCA, the Association for Research into Crimes against Art, a non-profit think tank and research group on issues in art crime (www.artcrime.info). He is also the author of the novel The Art Thief. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) TV & film director ALPHONSO GOMEZ-REJON ("Re-HONE). His new film Me and Earl and the Dying Girl, won the Audience Award and the Grand Jury Prize at this year's Sundance Film Festival. He also directed episodes of the TV shows Glee and American Horror Story (for which he was nominated for Outstanding Direction of a Mini series). (INTERVIEW BY ANNA SALE, host of the podcast Death Sex and Money @ WNYC) (3.) Critic-at-large JOHN POWERS reviews the debut novel The Meursault Investigation by Algerian journalist Kamel Daoud. It fleshes out an unnamed character from Albert Camus' classic existential novel The Stranger. POWERS says it also offers an illuminating, if controversial portrait of today's Algeria.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Two people: JORJA LEAP is a professor of Social Welfare at the UCLA Liskin School and her work has focused on gangs, youth development, juvenile and criminal justice. She is the author of the new book Project Fatherhood. It's about a project in Watts, Los Angeles where men are taught to be better fathers. Many of them are former gang members or have been in jail. MIKE CUMMINGS is a former gang-member, now a pastor and co-leader of the group. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES). (2.) Book critic MAUREEN CORRIGAN reviews Patience and Fortitude by reporter Scott Sherman about the crisis over the New York Public Library, pitting the board of trustees up against a small band of writers, scholars and historic preservationists. MAUREEN says the book is "gripping." The book springs from a series of cover stories Sherman wrote for The Nation starting in 2011.

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Environmental reporter for ProPublica ABRAHM ("AH-brahm") LUSTGARTEN. He has been reporting on water issues. His new series is about the Colorado River, the most important water source for nearly 40 million people in seven western states. The series is Killing the Colorado(https://projects.propublica.org/killing-the-colorado/story/navajo-generating-station-colorado-river-drought) (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Rock critic KEN TUCKER reviews the major label debut of Texas singer Leon Bridges: Coming Home.

Description of show segment(s)

1.) Journalist ARTHUR ALLEN is the author of the book The Fantastic Laboratory of Doctor Weigl: How Two Brave Scientists Battled Typhus and Sabotaged the Nazis. It's about two immunologists in Poland, who were doing groundbreaking research on a typhus vaccine before the war, one of them Jewish, were forced to produce vaccines for the German army. In the course of their work they managed to surreptitiously give effective vaccines to the Jewish ghettos, and send out weakened ineffective vaccines to the German army. The book is also about Weigl's fascinating intricate work with infected lice who carry typhus. ALLEN has written for the New York Times Magazine, the Washington Post, The Atlantic and Slate. He is also the author of Vaccine: The Controversial Story of Medicine's Greatest Lifesaver. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES)(REBROADCAST from 7.22.14) (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) We remember country music fiddle player JOHNNY GIMBLE known as the "King of the Swing fiddle". He died May 9th at the age of 88. He performed for over six decades. He played fiddle and mandolin with Bob Wills and the Texas Playboys in the 1940's and 50s, and he later became a studio musician in Nashville, recording with Marty Robbins, Merle Haggard, Dolly Parton, Chet Atkins and others. He went on to tour with Willie Nelson, and was in the house band for the TV show Hee-Haw. He's recorded ten solo albums and was awarded the...
Country Music Association's Instrumentalist of the Year five times. (INTERVIEW BY DAVE DAVIES) (REBROADCAST FROM 4.8.10)

Interview with Mat Johnson; Review of Terrell Stafford's album "Brotherly Love"; June 29, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461609].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer MAT JOHNSON. His new novel Loving Day, is a book of comedy and pathos based on growing up biracial in the racially diverse neighborhood of Germantown, Philadelphia. JOHNSON's mother was African-American, his father Irish-American. JOHNSON says he looks white and says he's always had to explain himself to others. JOHNSON is also the author of the novels Pym, and Drop, the comic books incognegro and Dark Rain. He is a Professor at the University of Houston's Creative Writing Program. (THIS INTERVIEW CONTINUES INTO THE SECOND HALF OF THE SHOW). (2.) Jazz critic KEVIN WHITEHEAD reviews Brotherlee Love the new album by trumpeter Terrell Stafford.

Interview with Vendela Vida; Interview with Jerry Douglas; June 30, 2015. [Link to record with audio file http://www.worldcat.org/oclc/958461607].

Description of show segment(s)

(1.) Writer VENDELA VIDA Vida, cofounder of the literary magazine The Believer. Her new novel - a literary thriller - The Diver's Clothes Lie Empty, is on our book critic Maureen Corrigan's summer reading list. VIDA's previous novels Let The Northern Lights Erase Your Name and The Lovers were both New York Times Notable books. (2.) Bluegrass musician JERRY DOUGLAS. He's considered one of the greatest instrumentalists to come out of the music. He plays the dobro. DOUGLAS has been the Country Music Association's Musician of the Year three times. He's a featured musician in Alison Kraus' band. And he has a new album The Earls of Lecister which is a tribute to the influential bluegrass band the Foggy Mountain Boys led by Lester Flatt and Earl Scruggs. (INTERVIEW BY SAM BRIGER)