Biography/History

Founded in 1862 as a patriotic society to support the Union and the policies of President Abraham Lincoln, the Union League of Philadelphia laid the philosophical foundation of other Union Leagues across a nation torn by Civil War. From its founding to the present, the League has been a leading civic organization and has played an important role in the history of our country and the City of Philadelphia. Over the past 150 years, this service has ranged from raising troops during the Civil War and lobbying for enforcement of the “freedom” amendments during Reconstruction, to feeding the hungry during the Great Depression, to finding jobs for returning veterans after World War II. The Union League has hosted U.S. presidents, heads of state, industrialists, entertainers and visiting dignitaries from around the globe. It has also given loyal support to the American military in each conflict since the Civil War, and continues to be driven by its founding motto, "Love of Country Leads."

The classic French Renaissance-styled League building, with its brick and brownstone façade and dramatic twin circular staircases leading to the main entrance on Broad Street, dates to 1865. Additions to the building in the Beaux Arts style, designed by Philadelphia architects Horace Trumbauer and Julian Abele and completed in 1910 and 1911, expanded the building to occupy an entire city block. The building was listed on the National Register of Historic Places in 1979.

Inside, the traditional décor is accented in rich leather, patinated wood and polished marble. Adorning the walls and hallways is the League’s distinguished collection of art and artifacts. The collection is a rich, historical chronicle of Philadelphia’s unique imprint upon the American landscape from the 19th century to today and is recognized by historians and art experts as valuable components of our shared American history.

Biographical note taken entirely from the websites of the Union League of Philadelphia (http://www.unionleague.org/history-philanthropy.php) and the Heritage Center of the Union League of Philadelphia (http://www.ulheritagecenter.org/)

Scope and Contents

The Union League of Philadelphia archives houses a wide variety of records related to the general administration of the Union League, its mission, building and history. Additionally, researchers will find a small sampling of papers more generally related to the Civil War, including a few letters written by Abraham Lincoln. Dating from 1833 to 2010, the collection holds architectural drawings; broadsides, circulars and other ephemera; clippings; correspondence; meeting minutes; photographs and drawings; and annual reports.
For the most complete documentation of the history of the Union League, researchers should first consult the Architectural Drawings, Minutes and Records series. In architectural drawings, there is a collection of drawings evidencing the various systems within the Union League's Broad Street building as well as several renovation projects. The Records series houses the meeting minutes of the Board of Directors and the annual reports of the Union League, among other records. The Minutes series houses the minutes of the House Committee.

For the most part, the collection is arranged alphabetically by record type, though researchers should note that there is significant overlap among the record groups. For example, the Documents, Files, Letters, Minutes and Records series contain similar materials. Likewise, the Broadsides, Circulars, Ephemera and Pamphlet series all contain ephemera. Many of the series house a small number of items, while others, like the Clippings or Records series are significantly more robust.

Scope and Contents note

Bencker prepared plans for a number of proposed alterations throughout the Union League building in 1945. Eventually the projects were divided into an A and B list, with only A, kitchen renovation, being approved by the members.

Scope and Contents note

Bencker provided plans for Union League building alterations, an arrangement that was formalized by a 1953 agreement with the House Committee. The agreement ended in 1960.

The kitchen renovation involved pantries and elevators on the First and Second Floors. Drawings dated 1945 are for projects not built or possibly built later; 1946 drawings are for kitchen renovations.

This series is for the kitchen renovation. Additional drawings may be found in subsequent series.

Note: Bincken drew certain floor plans on heavy paper, titled "Water Lines," and transferred them to linen with dates, scale, and initials added. The linens were copied with "Hot" and "Cold" added to the titles. However, few of the drawings actually show any of the water lines. Binckin's linens (all in drawer 5) and any drawings and duplicates showing actual water lines were retained.

I.6. Annual Reports, 1863-present.

Scope and Contents note

Annual Report series include the transcript of the annual meeting held in December of that year. The annual meeting business consists primarily of pro forma approval of previous the previous year's minutes, the annual reports of the Treasurer and Auditors, expressions of appreciation to retiring Officers and Directors. New business consists of consideration of proposed amendments to By-Laws and the report of the Tellers in the election of Officers and Directors. The annual meeting concludes with remarks by the outgoing and incoming Presidents.
The series also has the minutes of any special meetings of the members that may have been called during the year to consider By-Law amendments or major capital improvements. From 1947 to transcripts of the nomination meeting held in November are printed but are not cataloged.
The annual report itself, identified in these records as Secretary's Report gives a summary of activity of the Board for the year from the December annual meeting through November. It begins with the organization meeting and the appointment of various standing and special committees. There is a tabulation of members on various rolls. Resolutions passed during the year are reported, included memorials on the deaths of former Directors and other members who have served in special capacities. In election years the activities of the League in support of the Republican candidates is described. With initiation of new member receptions in 1946, the formation of the Committee on Boys' Work program in 1947 and the employees Twenty-five Year Club in 1948, these three activities are reported on by the Secretary. Mention is made of the annual reports of the Standing Committees that are printed fully later. The changes in the membership list deceased, resigned, and transferred members. Treasurer and Auditors' Reports follow.

The House Committee annual report is usually the fullest. It reports on most addresses, concerts, and other events held at the League. The records do not include the routine events of the New Year's day receptions, poll and billiard exhibitions, and recreational tournaments. Improvements to the building and grounds, new furniture, restaurant supplies, and changes in operations in the dining and beverage services are given, but only significant changes are noted in this catalog. Changes in staff and employment policies are noted, again with only major events cataloged. Information on, and donations of, art, sculpture, artifacts, archives, are provided.

The Guest Committee usually reiterates the events reported by the House Committee. Only when it's report is fuller or adds to the House report is it mentioned in the catalog. Annual reports from to 1942 included transcripts of the major addresses of guest speakers. Some later addresses, although printed for distribution, were not included in the annual report.

Finance Committee report give an overview of the year's finance. This committee's information in cataloged only when there has been some unusual activity.

The Library reports list donors to the Library and give a summary of its activities that include Library Hours held. These too are mentioned in the catalog only in special cases.

Scope and Contents note
